J. A. O'Brien appeared for the accused, who pleaded not guilty. Bail was fixed at $2,000 and the trial was set for next Friday morning.

Provincial Constables D. Silvester and Wm. Farrell made the excursoin to Faiers' abode. Following a lengthy search, the liquor was unearthed from beneath the floor of the hen coop on Faiers' property.

Faiers denied all knowledge of the cache, according to police, declaring that it must have been hidden there by someone. He didn't even have a liquor permit, he told police.

In making a left hand turn off Charlotte street south onto Monaghan road, last night, Wm. Johns, of Deseronto, drove his car into a bad collision with a car driven east off the Port Hope highway by Hector Clark, this city. John was charged with reckless driving today and pleaded guilty. Chief Newhall told the court that Johns had been drinking. Sentence was adjourned for a week, to give Johns time to make a settlement for damages with Clark. Both cars were badly wrecked.

Bluenose Fails To Finish Within Time Limit

OPENING RACE BE RESAILED NEXT MONDAY

TIME LIMIT 6 HOURS.

(By Andrew Merkel, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

C.G.S. LADY LAURIER, By Radio, Oct. 17.—Bluenose, Canadian defender of the International Fishermen's trophy proved her superiority in all points of sailing over Gertrude L. Thebaud, her American challenger under conditions of wind and sea prevailing to-day, but she was unable to finish the first race of the series within the time limit of six hours and the opener will be resailed Monday.

After sailing a remarkable race throughout and continually widening the distance between his rival, Captain Angus Walters was compelled to call it a day with the finish line in sight just uncrossed.

The Thebaud was approximately four miles behind.

Bluenose crossed the line thirty seconds after nine o'clock, half a length better than Thebaud at one minute and eight seconds after nine.

The sailing committee signalled fifteen minutes before the start that course No. 4 had been chosen for the race. This meant a close reach of six miles to the inner automatic buoy at the mouth of the harbor, a broad reach of eleven miles to the eastward to Shut-in Island buoy, a dead beat to windward of nine miles to the outer automatic buoy of the mouth of Halifax Harbor, close haul of six miles to the inner automatic and a reach to the finish line six miles away providing the wind holds.

Three minutes before the start both boats were making for the line with Thebaud in the weather position, but astern of the defender. Bluenose caught a puff just before the line was reached and was outpointing the challenger as the gun fired. Bluenose crossed the line a scant boat length ahead, but to leeward of the American.

Bluenose Takes Lead

Ten minutes after the start Bluenose had opened up a lead of three boat lengths, but Thebaud was pointing slightly higher and apparently trying to get the weather. Both boats shaved the bell buoy off Point Pleasant Park at the southern tip of the Halifax Peninsula. The wind was freshening as the schooners left the harbor and headed out to sea.

The schooners were given a cheer by passengers and crew of the Scandinavian liner Frederick VIII, homeward bound from New York as the

KIWANIS FAIR CLOSES TONIGHT

Draw For Two Cars Will Take Place in Armouries To-night.

PLAN BIG PROGRAM.

A great program is planned for the Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition at the armouries this evening. The big show closes to-night and it is expected that a large crowd will not miss the final opportunity to see the attraction and support the work of the Kiwanis Club in giving undernourished children of the city needed days at the Jackson Park fresh air camp.

The draw for the two cars, for which tickets have been sold throughout the district, will take place at the armouries to-night and the winning tickets announced. Pat Rafferty and Charlie Jeeves entertainers of the Original Dumbell's Company, have planned something special in the way of entertainment for their final appearance to-night.

Welsh Bros. Rodeo which has been thrilling crowds at the Brock street arena all week also gives its final breath-taking performance this evening. Several of the cowboys have been battered up when thrown for big losses by the wild broncs and steers, and the rodeo lacks nothing in the way of thrills.

Lad Falls in Tub; Scalds Are Fatal

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 17 (C.P.)—Kenneth Clare Trudgeon, age 2, 255 MacNab street, Dundas, was fatally scalded this morning when he fell into a tub of boiling water. The child's mother, Mrs. Russell Trudgeon, had been preparing a bath for the infant and had gone into another room to get something when she heard shrieks. Returning, she found the little tot lying in the boiling water. The child died before medical aid had arrived.

While Runners-up in First Division Scottish League, Celtic, Also Lose Out.

MANY SURPRISES.

Everton Smashes Sheffield Wednesday in Heavy Scoring Bee.

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 17. (C. P. Cable).—A perfect glut of goals marked the meeting between Everton and Sheffield Wednesday in English League, First Division, soccer fixtures to-day. Everton won, putting Everton on the top of the championship table with West Bromwich Albion, erstwhile undefeated leaders, who lost at home to Liverpool. Huddersfield Town, who won a mid-week game, triumphed again to-day, beating Sheffield United, and improved their position in the table. Aston Villa, who have played fewer games than the other leaders are in a very strong position. They won to-day at Portsmouth. Arsenal, league champions, could only draw with Bolton Wanderers.

In the second division Stoke City pace-setters, lost and vacate their position at the head of the table Bury assuming leadership again. Bury to-day crushed Preston North End.

By a weird reversal of form Rangers, who last Saturday beat Queen's Park in the Glasgow Cup final, to-day lost to the amateurs in a Scottish First Division match. Celtic were unable to make the grade at Dundee and dropped a

STRIFE CLOUDS DARKEN HORIZON OVER EUROPE

Spanish Turmoil Succeeds German Riots—Guard Watches Irish Dail.

LEAGUE ON CHINESE CASE.

France Preparing Drastic Economics to Meet Unbalanced Budget.

(Copyright 1931, by the Canadian Press.

LONDON, Oct. 17.— (By George Hambleton, C. P. Staff Correspondent, who contributes the fifth of a series of weekly cable reviews of the European economic situation):

Clouds of strife darken the horizon as another week closes. With the world disarmament conference only four months away the Council of the League of Nations grapples with threats of war in Manchuria. Turmoil in Germany is succeeded by new turmoil in Spain. The Irish Dail assembles under the protection of armed guards. "There is a widespread conspiracy to overthrow the Government by force of arms," exclaims President Cosgrave as he seeks new powers to combat disorder, "and they are prepared to use murder to attain their ends." Hundreds of British platforms ring with the electoral battle.

More Hopeful View.

Yet the world picture presents another, more hopeful view. Nations everywhere are struggling, each in their own way, to bring order out of chaos. The French members of the Franco-German Economic Commisson — a commission representative of commerce, industry, agriculture, finance and the trade unions—opened their sittings in the French Ministry of the Interior. Premie. Laval is confident that in the coming conversations with President Hoover some method will be found for meeting the present difficulties, grave as they are.

And in their groping through the troubled seas the nations are following varying courses of internal development and rigid economy. Britain has temporarily halted development while under the budget of national sacrifice she endeavors to restore order to her battered finances. The latest unemployment figures show a reduction of 33,000, but with local authorities cutting their schemes of work there is misgiving as to what the coming winter will bring. Railway statistics

JAPANESE ARMY IS OPPOSED TO ALL OUTSIDE INTERFERENCE

Officials Will Face Serious Situation if League Orders Troops Moved.

MAY DEFY RULING.

TOKYO, Oct. 17.—(A.P.)—Japan was undecided to-day as to whether Nations in the event the latter refer it would defy the League of fuses to reconsider Tokyo's contentions in the League Council's discussions of the Sino-Japanese dispute over Manchuria.

If the League decides unconditionally that Japanese troops must vacate Manchurian territory outside the Japanese controlled South Manchurian railway zone, the Tokyo administration likely will have to face a serious situation.

The army's stands opposed to the interference of any outside agency in adjustment of the main problem.

A spokesman for the Foreign Office said:

"Tokyo still ahs very grave doubts as to the propriety or strict correctness of the League's decision —that is, the question of whether the United States' observer rightly or wrongly is entitled to sit in Council sessions. Therefore the Government has every hope that some sensible way will be found eventually to satisfy all parties."

As viewed in Government circles, Japa nwill continue to adhere to its contention that the Kellogg Pact was not violated when Japan occupied certain Chinese territory "in self defense" and questions whether the League will be able to prove anything to the contrary if Tokyo's case is given careful consideration."

Dollar Investment Nets $69 Profit

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 17.—(C.P.).—A one dollar "art" investment has yielded J. Polowin, of Ottawa, a profit of $69. This week he bought a picture at a local auction room, and upon getting it home he found the frame was loose. He opened the frame and found $70 in $10 bills which it is believed were placed there 40 years ago.

At the auction room it was stated the picture had been sent in for auction a short time ago by an Ottawa family.

Chinese In Canada To Raise Battalion

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct 17.—Leaders of the Chinese colony here state that Chinese Nationals throughout Canada numbering some 25,000, are prepared to organize a volunteer battalion of infantry and raise money for an aviation corps should developments in Manchuria justify it.

The local leaders state that while such centres as Windsor, Ontario Toronto, and some organizations in Vancouver are urging the Nationalist Government to declare war against Japan, the majority of the colonies are adopting a waiting policy to see if the League of Nations will settle the dispute.

Bluenose Takes Early Lead

With the finish line in sight, Captain Angus Walters, skipper of the Canadian schooner Bluenose (above), was forced to call it a day in the opening race for the fishing fleet supremacy of the North Atlantic. The Thebaud, American challenger for the honors, was four miles behind at the close of the six-hour limit.

TRANSIENTS GET CHICKEN DINNER

IN POLICE STATION.

Eight transient lodgers at the police station last night feasted on a surplus of chicken, left over from the city's banquet to the plowmen. T. H. Hooper sent around enough food for about fifteen men, and after midnight one of the police staff went into the cells and called out "Time for lunch, boys. All up."

"You don't throw in the eats, do you" said one of the men; "you wouldn't be kidding us."

"Take a look" the constable replied and set down in the midst of the temporary guests a pile of chicken, white meat, drum sticks and all the rest of it, with various trimmings from the banquet table.

"You don't hand this out every night, do you?" asked one of the men between bites at a fat and well-cooked leg.

"It's usually chicken" said the Constable. "Of course some nights we don't have any visitors, so we don't put in any orders at all. All we ask is that you clean up everything."

"Leave that to us" was the assurance from another of the group, but finally they called the constable back and protested that they could not eat it all, chicken or no chicken. In fact they had just about reached the stage where they were no longer interested in roast chicken, dill pickles, cheese, and so on.

"Do you fellows mean to say you want us to throw out chicken?" the Constable urged them. "It will be the first time it ever happened around here, and we simply can't have it wasted."

"Give us another chance, Chief", said one of the men applying the title to the policeman. "We'll kinda make another start at it."

When morning came, and lodgers were to be shuffled along their way the chicken had disappeared, and all the plates were swept clean. If the plowmen remember Peterborough's banquet, it will also linger pleasantly in the memories of those eight stragglers, who probably are still unaware of the reason and the source of the manna the police showered on them.

PUBLIC SAFETY BILL PASSES.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Oct. 17.—(C.P.) — The Senate passed the new Public Safety Bill on final reading to-day and the Free State Executive Council was authorized to put it into effect immediately. The measure establishes military courts to try persons charged with sedition.

Police Dog Aids In Thief's Arrest

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Oct. 17.—(C.P.).—Aided by a police dog, police last night found Ernest McDonald, 42, of Wallaceburg, hiding between two boards at the rear of Moore's coal office, into which it is alleged, he had broken short time previously. McDonald is also accused of burglarizing offices of city mills and with theft of motor cars from Talbot Street, the same evening. He declares he cannot remember anything about Friday evening.

BOMBER VICTIM OF OWN MISSILE

Blast Burns Owner and Hurls Theatre Audience Into Panic.

16TH CASE OF KIND.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 17—Chicago's sixteenth theatre bomb seriously burned the man, police said, who caused it to explode.

Peter Mooney, who was released four years ago from Joliet Prison, was injured about the face, body and legs when the sulphur machine ignited beneath his coat during the climax of a motion picture at the Colony Theatre, on the south-west side, last night.

Police said the bomb was intended to terrorize the audience of 800. Two women, Mrs. Margaret Kane and Mrs. Bella McClure, sitting in back of Mooney were burned, but little property damage was done.

Three others, who extinguished the fire in Mooney's garment, suffered burns about the hands.

The audience, alarmed by the flash of bluish flame and the sharp odor of burning sulphur, was thrown into momentary panic. It was quickly calmed, however, and the motion picture continued after Mooney was carried into the lobby.

Mooney, before lapsing into unconsciousness, declared the bomb had been hurled from the balcony. Police said this was impossible, since he was sitting on the first floor at the rear, many feet back of the balcony ledge.

Lieut. Walter Storms, Acting Deputy Detective Chief, questioned Mooney early to-day, but the man refused to talk.

ACCLAMATION TOTAL 67.

LONDON, Oct. 17 (C.P. Cable).—The total of members elected to the new House of Commons without opposition was swelled to 67 today when Oxford University returned its two former members by acclamation.

TWO CHAMPIONS FOUGHT IT OUT FOR FROST CUP

Each Had Won Trophy Twice and Third Win Made it Permanent.

RAIN AND MUD.

W. O. Grenzeback, Woodstock, Defeated J. R. Hargreaves of Beachville.

Former International champions in sod plowing, working in a final splash of rain Friday afternoon, wrested with their teams and plows for permanent possession of the Frost Fence Challenge Cup, given by the Frost Steel and Wire Co., Ltd., of Hamilton, and valued at $100.

In four years since it was received, this trophy had been won twice by two men, and their contest here Friday was one of the personal high lights of the week's wonderful plowing.

It was won in 1927 and again in 1930 by W. O. Grenzeback, of Woodstock, R.R. 7, and in 1928 and 1929 it rested with John R. Hargreaves of Beachville R.R. 1. According to the terms of its gift, it had to be won three times, not necessarily in succession, before becoming the property of one plowman.

W. O. Grenzebach captured it yesterday for his permanent possession when he defeated his rival John R. Hargreaves, who finished second, in the tenth and last class of the match, using jointed plows in sod, shares not less than eight inches, and open to the world.

A Thrill to Plowing

To most people there is positively no thrill in a plowing match, because the element of competition is not sharply defined and flashed into the foreground, and the action is too slowly paced. But, no one realizing the prize and the honors at stake in that tenth class contest would fail to respond to the tension under which Grenzebach and Hargreaves turned over their furrows.

Every aspect of the match would have appealed to sportsmen apart from farmers who more thoroughly appreciate the fine points of plowing. Naturally, these two men had been sitting on the sidelines waiting for that class, and pitted against them were other experts who have many victories to their credit, some of them freshly won this week. The competition was so keen, and the quality of the work of such excellence, that a Peterborough County plowman who had watched it, in spite of the rain, stated that a judge could almost close his eyes and make a selection from at least six of the plowed sections.

It is surely remarkable that in five years the Frost French trophy passed out of competition, and that it had been monopolized during that time by two plowmen. As in every other sphere of human endeavor, competition gets keener as it nears the top.

Friday's rain almost ruined the final day. It took all the pleasure out of the big demonstration for everybody, left the headquarters field a smear of mud, thoroughly drenched the plowmen and many of the spectators, and left a memorable mark on the Peterborough match.

D. A. McIntyre of Alvinston, president of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, said to The Examiner: "Peterborough has the distinction of passing the five hundred total of contestants for the first time. That is a new record, and a splendid one, and it sums up the whloe success of the match; and I suppose we shall also remember those three days of rain."

BEAR AND TWO CUBS SEEN.

J. A. Sexsmith, Ex-M.P., Sees Bear and Two Cubs on His Farm in Belmont.

T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., Havelock, told The Examiner that a bear and two cubs wandered on to the farm of John A. Sexsmith, ex-M.P., Belmont, this week. Mr. Sexsmith heard a noise near the house and thought it was made by pigs. On going out he saw the bear family which took themselves off into the woods. Mr. Sexsmith's farm is north of the Kings Highway No. 7 and about three miles east of Havelock.

DIVORCE RULING PASSED IN SPAIN

GROUNDS NOT SPECIFIED.

MADRID, Oct. 17 (A.P.)—A provision permitting the granting of divorce to either men or women for "just cause" was incorporated in the new Spanish constitution today.

The National Assembly, by a vote of 169 to 153 thus overthrew laws against divorce which had been in effect for centuries and placed women on an equal footing with men in the regulation of marital relations. The grounds for a decree were not specified further.

Catholic Deputies, who had boycotted the Assembly because of anti-religious legislation, described the measure as "another indication of the attempt of Leftists to revolutionize Spanish life entirely."

Papal Nuncio Federico Tedeschini said the status of the church was "the gravest in the history of the Republic," but predicted no immediate rupture in the relations between the Vatican and Spain.

Foreign Minister Alejandro Lerroux was advanced by the leader of the Radical Republican party as its candidate to oppose President Manuel Azanar in presidential election, which are expected to follow the enactment of the complete constitution.

CAPONE'S CASE READY FOR JURY

Judge's Instructions to Climax Volumes of Evidence, 3 Years' Probing.

LEGAL BATTLE.

By Victor Hackler

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 17.—Three years investigation, months of intensive preparation, volumes of evidence and torrents of oratory simmered down today to a question for 12 men to decide—is Al Capone guilty of violating the income tax laws?

Only a brief summation of the Government's case by United States District Attorney George E. O Johnson—the first court argument he has made since taking office — and the instructions of Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson remained before the case became a matter for the jury to decide.

Claims of Victory

The usual elaborate claims of victory were flaunted before the jurors. There was "not one scintilla of evidence to support the charges." And on the other hand "there could be no possible doubt of his guilt."

The husky Capone, the world's most notorious gangster at the age of 32, faced the men who must decide the case and watched them eagerly during the final moves of this important legal battle.

"Maybe he's the worst man who ever lived," said Albert Fink, one of the defense lawyers. "Maybe he's everything the newspapers say about him. But you have no evidence of that. And a man can't be convicted except on evidence."

Finis Is Written To Greatest Match In Board's History

More Than 700 of Ontario's Foremost Plowmen Together With Executive of Association and Many Agricultural Leaders Guests of Council at Big Banquet.

Ringing down the curtain on the greatest plowing match in the world, the International Plowing Match held this week just west of Peterborough, more than 750 of Ontario's foremost plowmen together with the executive of the Ontario Plowmen's Association and many agricultural leaders were last evening guests of the City of Peterborough at the largest banquet in the history of the city.

With four days of the keenest competition, which was admitted by officials to have brought out the finest plowing in the history of the association, behind them, the plowmen forgot the trials, sorrows, joys and successes of the match, and joined in a great fellowship, enjoyed to the full the hospitality of the city

The banquet was held in the market hall and the great hall rang with their laughter, outbursts of goodfellowship, and congratulations to the winners, who were presented with the trophies and prizes which their skill had won. The trophies were arrayed on shelves behind the head table; great cups shields tea services, trays and other prized articles scintillating in their metallic brightness. Between $5,000 and $6,000 were distributed in prizes

Prizes Well Scattered.

The prize winners represented every section of the province and they had proved their ability in a match in which 753 plowmen competed, 66 more than at Stratford last year, setting an all-time record in the history of international plowing.

Outstanding speakers who addressed the gathering were: Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture; D. A. McIntyre president of the Ontario Plowmen's Association; J. J. Tierney, director and past president of the association; F. A. Peck, M.P.; J. F. Strickland, K.C., M.P.P.; T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P.; Mayor Roland Denne; Warden Charles Tanner; Frank P. O'Connor of Toronto; J. Lockie Wilson, general manager of the match; J. W. Purcell representative of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, and others.

Silent Tribute to Deceased

In the midst of light-hearted fraternizing and celebrating, the plowmen did not forget to do fitting honor to a comrade. Thomas Chambers, of eBthany, who passed away in his sleep Thursday evening following his participation in the match. The whole gathering rose and paid silent tribute to Mr. Chamber's memory.

Alderman Mel Turner, chairman of the Reception Committee of the City Council, was chairman during the banquet, later turning its con-

Big Rodeo Show To-Night, Brock St.

Program is Much Appreciated By Visitors Who Have Attended.

So far this week there have been more out-of-town than local spectators at Welsh Bros. Rodeo in Brock Street Rink, and everyone attending has been delighted with the show put on by these popular Westerners. The Rink has proven an ideal spot for this attraction and the fullest kind of a program has been on each evening. To-night everything they have will be given, and a good crowd is expected. The show is under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club and is the first time a high-class attraction of this kind has been put on indoors. If you attend to-night you will be pleased with the show.

HIT-RUN DRIVER SOUGHT.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 17.—Police are looking for a hit-and-run motorist who ran into Eric Reid, 22. Miss Norma Johnston who were walking on Hartzell road arm in arm, last night. Reid was severely injured about the head and his recovery is doubtful. His companion, who was hurled into the ditch, escaped with minor injuries.

Virtual Dictatorship Rules Germany

BRUENING LEFT HOLDING SWAY UNTIL FEBRUARY

USE MONEY FOR POOR.

Chancellor to Take Holiday Before Facing Critical Winter's Work.

BERLIN, Oct. 17—(AP)—The German government reverted to a virtual dictatorship today as members of the Reichstag went home until next February.

After a series of motions that entrenched Chancellor Bruening stronger than ever, the Reichstag voted last night to adjourn and leave the Chancellor and President von Hindenburg to manage the country unhampered by parliamentary restrictions.

Herr Bruening planned to take a short vacation before plunging into the job of putting Germany through a winter which is expected to produce many additional problems of an economic nature and possibly necessitate the issuance of additional emergency decrees.

The Communists and Social Democrats fired a parting shot by jamming through a resolution asking the Government to suspend construction on "vestpocket" battleships and use the money saved to feed th poor. The motion passed 211 to 181, due to the absence of the Nationalist forces, but since it is merely advisory the Government may ignore it.

The Reichstag was in session only four days during which it upheld Chancellor Bruening's ministry on three votes of confidence and witnessed the National Socialist and Nationalist deputies walk out for the second time to express their antagonism toward moderate government.

COLBORNE MAN TAKES OWN LIFE

CONDUCTED RESTAURANT.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 17 (By Examner Staff Correspondent). — One time prominent business man of Campbellford and well-known in social circles, Leslie Elliott died by his own hand at his home in Colborne late Thursday when he cut his throat with a butcher knife. Melancholy is given as the cause of his action.

Mr. Elliott was the proprietor of a confectionery store and restaurant in Campbellford for some time, and was well-known as a public entertainer and showman. After leaving Campbellford he was in business at Hastings and Norwood, later settling at Colborne, where he died. He was about forty-eight years of age.

Doctors And Nurse Face Court Trial

LUEBECK, Germany, Oct. 17—(AP)—Three physicians and a nurse were on trial today charged with negligence in the administration of anti-tuberculosis serum in the death of 76 babies in the spring of 1930.

More than 80 other infants were taken ill after they had been inoculated with tuberculosis germs taken from cattle, a method which was said to be in common use up to that time. The trial is expected to last four weeks.

POLITICAL WEB EASES IN WEST

Brownlee Discounts Union Gov't Proposal—Manitoba Election Undecided.

SASKATCTHEWAN MUM.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 17 (C.P.) — Tangled skeins of the political web on the prairies are partially unraveled to-day as a result of declarations from the Premiers of two provinces.

Premier John Bracken of Manitoba last night announced no decision had been reached for a fall election, and in Alberta Premier J. E. Brownlee discounted a union government proposal and rejected a plea for a special session.

"When we decide an election should be held, we will notify you five weeks before its date, as provided by law," said Premier Bracken in a speech following an all-day caucus of Progressive members. His comment dissipated persistent rumors, strongly supported in Conservative quarters, that he planned a general ballot for late November.

Criticism of Col. F. G. Taylor, Conservative leader, for his unqualified rejection of a Government proposal for a coalition administration came from Premier Bracken. He said that Col. Taylor's comment on Manitoba's financial condition had endangered the Province's credit, and claimed that the coalition refusal had cost the Government $500,000 in possible Dominion Government grants.

Date Depends On Probe.

The date for calling the Alberta Legislature will depend on financial investigation now being conducted by the Government and members of the Civil Service, said Premier Brownlee. Later, he announced that Alberta civil servants will co-operate in assisting the Province to meet its present financial difficulties by voluntary salary contributions on a graduated scale to the jobless relief fund.

Possibility that the Legislature may be summoned before Christmas was mentioned by Mr. Brownlee, "if we conclude any good purpose can be served in convening the Legislature earlier than usual." In answer to the proposal by W. M. Davidson, veteran Alberta editor, that a union government be established, the Premier suggested that a coalition administration could do nothing that a party government cannot do.

Meanwhile, no developments have occurred in Saskatchewan in connection with the "100 per cent. co-operative government" proposal advanced by Jacob Benson, Progressive supporter of Conservative Premier J. T. M. Anderson's co-operative administration. Neither Premier Anderson nor J. G. Gardiner, Liberal leader of the Opposition, has commented on the plan.

ROSENEATH FAIR LAST OF SEASON HAS BIG ENTRY

Gate Receipts Show Increase Over Last Year Despite Counter Attractions.

LIVESTOCK INCREASE.

ROSENEATH, Oct. 17 (By Staff Reporter).—With a record number of exhibits approximating some twenty-seven hundred, and with an attendance outclassing that of the previous year, Roseneath Agricultural Society Exhibition drew to a successful conclusion last evening with a largely attended dance at the Orange Hall and a concert staged in the main exhibition building.

The gate money for the day was in the neighbourhood of $1,250 or an increase of $150 over the gate receipts last year, and all this despite the fact that a large counter-attraction in the form of the International Plowing Match was being held in another part of the district; that the Norwood Fair date which normally comes immediately before Roseneath Fair, was altered; and that the weather was in fickle mood.

This old-established fair the last on the district circuit for the season, has at its head a live president in the person of F. J. Slade, and a secretary who knows his job in C. W. Varcoe.

During the past summer the horse racing track has undergone decided improvement, while the poultry barn has also been extended and re-painted, and extension which even now seems to be inadequate in view of the large poultry entries that were received this year—some 600 in all.

Considerable increase in the livestock sections, including horses, cattle, swine and sheep was also quite apparent, and the judges were loud in their praise of the general high quality of these exhibits.

In the main building also were housed as fine a collection of exhibits as it would ever be possible to find, including handicrafts, made up of wicker-ware, paintings, ceiling-wax work, cushions quilts and elderdowns—the painstaking work of deft fingers. Another section of the building was devoted to art exhibits featuring oil paintings, pen and ink sketches of exceptional merit.

The cooking exhibit was as toothsome-looking as such exhibits ever are, with big crusty loaves, thin delicious cookies, fat buns, rich fruit cake, layer and iced-cakes, monster pies, candies and gateaux. There were also jellies and other dainties calculated to tempt the most fastidious appetites.

On another bench in the main hall, was a collection of apples—fruits of the heavy laden orchards of this section of the province—vieing for supremacy with the products of the garden, apiary, dairy and field.

Potted plants and foliages were also fully represented along with a fine little flower show. Despite the lateness of the season there were salvias, snapdragons phlox, petunias, Stocks Pansies, Asters, etc., neatly arrayed in baskets and vases.

Outside in the grounds the Cobourg Kilties Band was in attend-

FREIGHTER LOST WITH 50 CREW

FINDS DECK LOAD OF LOGS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. Oct. 17. (CP) — The Japanese freighter Yonan Maru, with its crew of between forty and fifty men, was given up for lost to-day, the only trace of the vessel found by three searching ships in mid-Pacific was part of its deck-load of logs.

The liner rPesident Jefferson, on which Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh are returning from the Orient to the United States, reached the scene of the Yonan Maru's distress shortly before noon yesterday in response to a series of frantic calls for help, but could not find the ship. The President Jefferson radioed:

"Found deck-load, but nothing else. Cruised vicinity three hours in company with Ayaha Maru and Taigen Maru, but no ships found trace of anything except Yonan Maru deck-load."

After cruising in the vicinity all day, the three vessels resumed their courses deeming the search for life-boats or wreckage as hopeless. Poor visibility, caused by rain and heavy seas, hampered the search.

The Yonan Maru, under command of Captain C. Matsumoto, left Astoria, Ore., Oct. 1, for the Orient, with 1,000,000 feet of logs and 8,100 tons of wheat. The ship was of 7,154 gross tons.

WOLVES SURPRISED EATING DEER, KENAWAY MAN BAGS ONE OF PACK

F. J. Carew Puts New Proposition on Skating Rink Up to Lindsay.

PRISONER SENTENCED.

(Examiner Correspondence)

LINDSAY, Oct. 17.—Charles Holbrook, of Kenaway, Haliburton County, had quite an experience this week when he came across five wolves. The pack had attacked a large buck, killed and devoured it, after it had made a heroic effort to reach the lake. Mr. Holbrook shot one of the wolves, a large gray specimen, and a second wolf escaped with his snare. Two other wolves were reported killed in the same section. Mr. Holbrook also shot a huge black bear the same day.

Master Russell Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lane of Woodville, fell from a tree in his father's orchard on Wednesday. He sustained a fractured wrist and severe body bruises.

Little Miss Joyce Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wright, Wellington, was the victim of a painful accident while her parents were visiting in Peterborough. She was playing on top of a hay stack when she tumbled off, breaking her collar bone—the second fracture of the member.

Lindsay citizens are about to be offered a new proposition regarding the erection of a skating rink, and which will come before the Citizens' Relief Committee. It is understood that Mr. F. J. Carew has stated his willingness to proceed with the erection of the new structure if the towncouncil will honor the debenture bonds. If the work could be proceeded with (as in Midland) as a municipal venture, the government, it is thought, would give substantial assistance if the rink was built under the unemployment scheme. The labor would probably cost over $7,000.

Ronald J. Brown, of Toronto, an escaped prisoner, was sentenced to five years in Kingston Penitentiary at Cannington on Thursday by Police Magistrate Bick. He was charged with breaking, entering and stealing from the C. N. R. stations at Uxbridge and Cannington. From Cannington station, in company with another escaped prisoner, he stole a revolver and some cash; at Uxbridge, two express parcels and money orders valued at $12.50; at Goodwood he cashed a money order for $40.00 stolen from Mt. Albert station and was given three years, to run concurrent with the other sentence. At Mt. Albert he stole 39 express orders, cashing them in Toronto and vicinity. Each netted from $30 to $50. On October 14 he was sentenced at Toronto to three years in Kingston on 16 charges of fraud.

Sherwood Located On Honeymoon Trip

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Oct. 17 (A.P.)—Russell T. Sherwood, personal accountant to Mayor Walker of New York City, who has been sought for questioning by the Seabury Legislative committee, has been located here on his honeymoon.

Interviewed at his hotel, he said the public would not be interested in his personal activities and refused to discuss his affairs or his plans. He said his stay would be indefinite but intimated he might go to Guernavaca if he were molested further.

RESCUE WORK DELAYED

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 17. (A.P.)—Stormy weather from Kotzebue Sound north along the coast yesterday delayed further rescue work by airplanes which had removed a group of passengers from the ice-locked steamer Baychimo.

Two cabin ships, with seven passengers aboard, arrived at Motzebue Thursday night from the ship. A message received here said, but no flights were possible yesterday.

CHINESE FORCES IN FULL RETREAT AFTER CLASH

Map shows the China-Japan situation as summed up in recent dispatches. Marshal Chang's headquarters at Chinchow have been bombed by Japanese aircraft, as also Chinese troop trains at Tahushan. Four Japanese destroyers, loaded with marines, have arrived at Tsingtao. Japanese civilians in Chengtu and Chungkin are evacuating to Hankow and women and children are also leaving Chihfen, on Inner Mongolian border, for Peiping. At Shanhaikwan, where Chinese marines have been increased, defensive trenches are being dug. All Japanese have also evacuated Tsitsihar in Manchuria.

STORE ROBBED AT BONARLAW

Donald Bell Has Goods Stolen for Third Time in Two Years.

ENTER WINDOW.

BONARLAW, Oct. 17.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—On Wednesday evening of this week or early Thursday morning burglars entered the residence of Donald Bell, general merchant, and while Mr. and Mrs. Bell slept they helped themselves to a lunch, warmed themselves by the fire, and made away with a sweater, a watch, a pair of glasses and other articles of value. They apparently entered through a window which had a screen in it. Mr. Bell notified Provincial Police, Percy Grey of Marmora, the next morning, and he was soon on the scene. It will be very difficult, however, to get any clue as to who the thief or thieves can be.

This is the third time Mr. Bell has been the victim of a robbery during the last year or two. On two previous occasions the store of Bell & Barlow was entered and various articles taken.

COUNCIL APPROVES OF HAYES TENDER

For Removal of Snow From Claraday and Brownton District—Other By-laws Passed.

The north Monaghan Council held its monthly meeting at the Court House on Tuesday, October 13, with all the members of the council present.

A communication was read from the Peterborough Utilities Commission, asking permission to lay a three inch gas main on High street, one hundred feet north of Cottesmore avenue, to the new houses erected by John E. Hayes. This request was granted.

The council met at 1 p.m. on Park Street, and inspected the proposed sidewalk. By-law No. 978 was introduced, read and finally passed to provide for licensing, regulating and governing public dance halls in the township of North Monaghan, the annual license fee being $20.

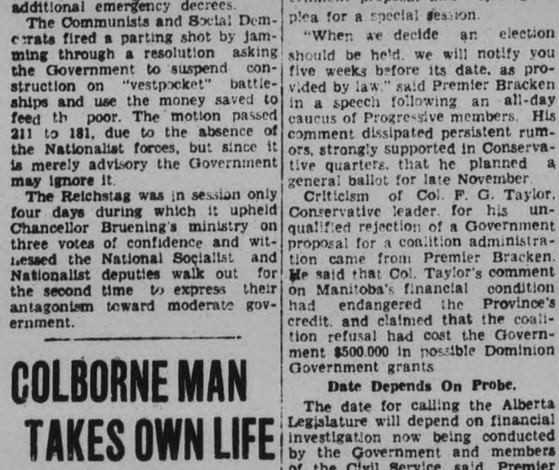
By-law No. 979 was introduced, read and finally passed to levy school rates in the township for the year 1931. By-law No. 980 was also regularly read and passed, to levy county rate, the township rate and road rates in the township, for the year 1931.

Wesley Hayes tendered for snow plowing of sidewalks in Claraday and Brownton district at $75 for each district, the township to provide the snow plows.

A resolution was passed that the tender of Wesley Hays for the removal of snow and slush from the sidewalks for the two districts be accepted, and that the clerk prepare an agreement for the contract.

The following accounts were passed for payment: T. J. Hunter and Son, provisions, charity, $2.10; A. Cheyne, milk, charity, $2.10; A. Comstock & Sons, one grave and opening two graves, $30; Robert Byers, 11 loads earth, township park, $13.75.

The meeting then adjourned until the call of the Reeve.



"FATIGUE? I just postpone it!"

"No, I don't have 'nerves.' You can't have them, and hold this sort of position. My head used to throb around three o'clock, and certain days, of course, were worse than others.

"Then I learned to rely on Aspirin."

The sure cure for any headache is rest. But sometimes we must postpone it. That's when Aspirin saves the day. Two tablets, and the nagging pain is gone until you are home. And once you are comfortable the pain seldom returns!

Keep Aspirin handy. Don't put it away, or put off taking it. Fighting a headache to finish the day may be heroic, but it is also a little foolish. So is sacrificing a night's sleep because you've an annoying cold, or irritated throat, or grumbling tooth, neuralgia, neuritis. These tablets always relieve. They don't depress the heart, and may be taken freely. That is medical opinion. It is a fact established by the last twenty years of medical practise.

The only caution to be observed is when you are buying Aspirin. Don't take a substitute because it will not act the same. Aspirin is made in Canada.

In a Dark Little Antique Shop

FIVE hundred years ago, an artist in Burma fashioned a little figure, sturdy, yet graceful, from a slightly translucent fawn-colored stone, and bedizened the draped costume with a trifle too much gold and vermilion. Now she stands on a Queen Anne oaken bureau, her finery faded and rubbed to a mellow patina, shading to rust about the hips, with gold glowing on a brighter vermilion in the heavy swathes of the drapery; the features, too, are finely worn, with but a delicate suggestion of their former bold complacency. Her adventures led her eventually to be offered for sale in a dark little antique shop of an English country town. Now her journey is ended (for the time being, at least) on a strip of old Italian brocade, on which vine leaves and pomegranates in gold thread volute profusely over a background of somber, plummy red.

It would not be easy to guess the age of the American Indian peace-pipe hanging on the wall, with its skillfully wrought decorations and hanging tassel of hide and threaded beads; it would be easier to picture it in use at a pow-wow, its owner surrounded by impassive bronze faces, crowned with fantastic feathered headdresses silhouetted by leaping flame against the blue-black sky. Toying with the minutely carved Chinese ivory group of mice (of incredible and microscopic grace), one wonders what manner of lady may first have played with it. A plum blossom-silk robed lady, surely, with massive black coiffure piled above a pale, oval face—her tiny feet tucked under her as she sat, many, many years ago, to unpack the charming toy from its first wrappings. Near by is a tiny box that holds postage stamps, and, although it was a kind of stamp that it was originally intended to hold, it was one of a different character and purpose. The "stamps" it contained were tiny and black, sometimes round, or heart or half-moon shaped — patches, in fact; the coquettish means for making an eighteenth century belle's eyes look brighter, her cheeks pinker and fairer than even art or nature had already contrived. This fragile trifle, with its wistful, cracked mirror in the lid, is of midnight blue Battersea enamel, with a garlanded motto decorating the outside.

Perhaps the chief treasure of the group is the seventeenth century Florentine mirror which hangs above the bureau. Its sprightly arabesques of carven wood are mellow with gold that has deepened to bronze in places, worn through to ivory-toned wood in others. After reflecting scenes and faces for four hundred years, it now reflects, against a background of flickering firelight, a vase of flowers, looking in the mirror's oval frame like a flower study by some Dutch master. The late autumn blooms are arranged in varied profusions; late crimson and golden roses bend graciously before the imperious rods of "Good-by Summer," and an exotic carmine-hearted peony gazes droopingly at the reflection on the polished table top of its first petals tumbled prophetically there. The gorgeous shades and mature forms of the flowers seem to harmonize with and typify the fragile, but more slowly passing, beauty of the things about the desk. Shades of vermillion in a gallardia call to and echo the color in the Burman's skirt; the opulence of the peony challenges the memory of the brocade's early richness.

From Far Away and Long Ago they came, to charm the artist with the subtlety of their gay yet somber beauty of form and color; to awaken thoughts upon their permanence or fragility, their evanescent or abiding beauty.

The Children's Corner

THE LITTLE CHURCH'S LIONS.
(Found on Fact)

VERY long ago a little English church was given a new reading desk. At the foot of it were three baby lions looking at each other, and at the top of it was a beautiful eagle—and they were all made of brass.

Feeling very proud of them, the church called the eagle "Most-Majestic-and-Wise," and the animals "First," "Second" and "Third" (because it couldn't think of any suitable names for church baby lions). They stayed there for more than a hundred years and then the story began.

One evening the church said, "I've something sad to tell you all. England, very stupidly, has begun to quarrel with herself in a civil war."

"Really!" they said, not knowing a bit what that was.

"And to-day," went on the church, "I heard that you are to be taken away and hidden, so that no one shall run off with you."

Most-Majestic-and-Wise was sorry, and the baby lions tried to look sorry, too. "But it will be a change," they whispered to each other.

About a week later, men came for them.

"Good-by, dear church!" they called. "Thank you for having us, and some day we'll come back."

"Good-by," answered the church. "I'll learn a new tune on my bells, so that I shan't miss you too much."

Soon Most-Majestic-and-Wise, and First, Second and Third were hidden in a river, and the men who put them there forgot about marking the place till it was too late. "Oh, well," they thought, "we don't suppose it matters much!"

When the civil war came to an end, however, the village people wanted to put the reading-desk back, but they simply couldn't find it. They were very sorry at first, but soon forgot, and only the church remembered that the lions and the eagle had ever been there.

But it was different with First, Second and Third, who, after sitting in the mud at the bottom of the river for a very long time, began to get exceedingly tired of it.

"Please, Most-Majestic-and-Wise," they said, "may we learn to swim?"

"Yes," answered the eagle, "only don't worry me to do the same."

Then he burrowed further into the mud, hoping to keep his wings dry.

For about 200 years, First, Second and Third were as good as possible, swimming about during the day, and coming home at supper time. But at last First said: "I'm tired of this. Now I'm going to swim round and round the world —good-by."

He hurried off, leaving the others so surprised that they swallowed part of the river.

There was rather a fuss that night. "I simply don't know what the church will say," declared Most-Majestic-and-Wise.

"P'raps we'll never get back to it," said Second and Third.

But about 50 years later someone remembered having heard of them, and the river was searched till they found Most-Majestic-and-Wise (very much in the mud now), and the two little lions. And when the church saw them she was delighted.

As First was still swimming round the world, the village people made another lion to take his place, and Second and Third thought him just like themselves. But when they were all polished the church said, "Dear me—he's much duller—it's a pity—still, it can't be helped."

"I'm so sorry—do you think I ought to go home?" asked the little bronze lion apologetically.

"Oh, no, I like you," answered the church.

So he promised to stay till the other First got tired of swimming round the world.

But that has not happened yet.

Discrimination

TRUMPETER Tyler proved that day not only my guide but a philosopher, and when night came on, a friend. He was very young, and came from Virginia, as his slow lazy voice showed; and he had played, in his twenty-three years, the many parts of photographer, compositor, barber, cook, musician and soldier. He talked of these different callings as we walked our horses over the prairie, and, out of deference to myself and my errand, of writing. He was a somewhat general reader, and volunteered his opinion of the works of Rudyard Kipling, Laura Jean Libbey, Captain Charles King, and others with confident familiarity. He recognized no distinction in literature; they had all written a book, therefore they were, in consequence, in exactly the same class.

Of Mr. Kipling he said, with an appreciative shake of the head, that "he knew the private soldier from way back;" of Captain Charles King, that he wrote for the officers; and of Laura Jean Libbey, that she was an authoress whose books he read "when there really wasn't anything else to do." I doubt if one of Mr. Kipling's own heroes could have made as able criticisms.—From "The West From a Car-Window," by Richard Harding Davis.

Butterfly Thoughts

THE remembered how, crossing the Persian desert with Henry, their cart had been escorted by flocks of butterflies, white and yellow, which danced on either side and overhead and all around them, now flying ahead in a concerted movement, now returning to accompany them, amused as it were to restrain their swift frivolity to a flitting round this lumbering conveyance, but still unable to suit their pace to such sobriety; so, to relieve their impatience, soaring up into the air or dipping between the very axles, coming out on the other side before the horses had had time to put down another hoof; making, all the while, little smuts of shadow on the sand, like little black anchors dropped, tethering them by invisible cables to earth, but dragged about with the same capricious swiftness, obliged to follow; and she remembered thinking, lulled by the monotonous progression that trailed after the sun from dawn to dusk, like a plough that should pursue the sun in one straight, slow furrow round and round the world—she remembered thinking that this was something like her own life, following Henry Holland like the sun, but every now and then moving into a cloud of butterflies which were her own irreverent, irrelevant thoughts, darting and dancing, but altering the pace of the progression not by one tittle; never brushing the carriage with their wings; flickering always, and evading; sometimes rushing on ahead, but returning again to tease and to show off, darting between the axles; having an independent and a lovely life; a flock of ragamuffins skimming above the surface of the desert and around the trundling wagon. — V. Sackville-West, in "All Passion Spent."

London Shopping

EVERYTHING you can name is made in London—somewhere. And yet it is not as a manufacturing town that it figures in the imagination. It is the greatest port in the world, and yet one might come and go without even noticing the shipping. The most obvious occupation of London is buying and selling, from highest finance down to street hawking. Many visitors come here merely to "shop."

Men of the same trade still follow to a certain extent the medieval plan of congregating together. At first thought this seems a bad arrangement, since a person "shopping" often needs a variety of goods in a short allowance of space and time. On the other hand, it has some clear advantages. . . .

I once went to Fortnum and Mason's and asked to see the head of the foreign department. He was out to lunch, which sounded human: I feel sure that such a thing would never occur in a general store. "Oh, all right," said I, "I'll go to a matinee and come in later."

When I confided to him that I wanted a hamper for a son in Tanganyika, he was at once "on the spot," and told me, with a good deal of incidental fun, exactly what would "do," what would travel well through the Tropics, what the exile would eagerly welcome, and a few surprises that he could stick in sideways as it were. He seemed to have been there himself. I left that shop feeling that a real friend was going to put it through for me.

This friendly spirit is not confined to any one type of shop or region of the town. The other day I went into a city typewriter shop for some spare part, and the man broke out with, "I'm in such a bother. I've lost a safe." "Gracious!" said I, "why, the place seems full of safes." "Ah, yes," said he, "but this is a special one and has a green top." So we both grovelled on the floor to hunt for it, and eventually I spied it, to his great relief.

But my greatest surprise was in a little grocer's shop in Portobello Lane—a rather low district of Notting Hill. Before I could demand my packet of candles the harassed woman looked up at me and said, "Oh, do tell me what I can have for dinner! I have had steak and haddock so often that my husband is getting unpleasant about it."—M. V. Hughes, in "London at Home."

It is sacrifice that changes living into life, that makes all deeds effective.—Jowett.

The Auld Brig o' Don

THE Aberdeen that most people know is the home of the Scotch joke, a city where every man goes about with one hand on his sporran, and where the air is occasionally shaken by the resounding bang of a sixpence. Strangely enough, the Aberdonians seem almost as proud of this Aberdeen as of their modern granite city, grey, bleak and with cobbled streets over which fish wagons rattle with appalling din; a port with a great fish market and miles of berths for trawlers, perfumed with fish and the reek of cod-liver barrels.

And there is a third Aberdeen, the original one, to be seen if you walk northward up the long beach and past the golf course to the mouth of the River Don which gave the place its name. Here steamers and trawlers are left behind, and you see only the fishermen's rowboats with their immensely high prows that split the breakers of the bar as they go out; and, when the tide is out, the boats lie high on the mud of the small estuary, while gulls and sandpipers search the shallows around them.

The south bank of the Don is high and fairly steep, but there is a path that winds through gold-flowering gorse and, following it, you put up the red-billed oystercatchers from the waters edge. Then, unexpectedly, in rounding a bend of the bank, you see before you a little grey village where the two sides of the river are connected by a high bridge, a single, pointed arch of grey stone, reflected in the still water This is the "auld toun" of Aberdeen, and the bridge is the auld brig o' Don, Balgounies brig.

Legend has it that the auld brig was built in the day of Robert Bruce, and indeed it has the marks of age in its arched roadway and magnificently solid structure. But there is a beauty about it that excites a feeling about it that excites a feeling beyond any respect for age or utility. Byron felt respect for age or utility. Byron felt it and counted it among his principal memories of Scotland:

"But I am half a Scot by birth, and bred
A whole one, and my heart flies to my head,
As Auld Lang Syne brings Scotland, one and all,
Scotch plaids, Scotch snoods, the blue hills and clear streams,
The Dee, the Don, Balgounie brig's black wall,
All my boy feelings, all my gentler dreams—"

"Brig o' Balgounie, black's your wa'.
Wi' a wife's ae son, and a mear's ae foal,
Doun ye sall fa'."

But alas! even in Scotland the old traditions are dying and, regardless of the peril of an only son and his horse, a sceptical town council has forbidden the bridge to charabancs.

Be more cheerful; do not worry:
There is time enough to do
Every day the daily duties
That your Father sendeth you,
And to find some little moments,
For heart music fresh and new.

GOOD-BYE, DEPRESSION!

Hon. T. L. Kennedy's address to the Kiwanis Club yesterday was as good as a tonic.

Ontario's Minister of Agriculture, who is a farmer himself and therefore closely in touch with agricultural problems, declared emphatically that wheat would be back to normal prices within two years, and with the increase in the price of wheat, cattle prices would also jump, and it would be "Good-bye, depression!"

Mr. Kennedy may not be batting 1.000 as a prophet in that prediction, but be that as it may, his speech was a cheerful message, of a type all too seldom heard at this time.

Everybody is so ready to cry blue ruin and hard times that it was a treat to hear from somebody who could see the silver lining to the cloud, and was not afraid to predict that the sunshine of prosperity would soon be streaming down over Canada once again.

The Minister of Agriculture may be wrong about a speedy return to pre-slump wheat prices, but at all events he must be given credit for a courageous, cheery message that left everybody who heard it or read it feeling just that much better.

FIRST OVER THE LINE.

Whether it means a great deal or not Premier Ramsay MacDonald and his National Government have won the first round in the British election.

There were 64 acclamations as a result of the official nominations yesterday, and no fewer than 58 of these went to the Government, 46 Conservatives and 12 National Liberals being returned without a contest, the former including the Conservative leader, Mr. Baldwin.

Labor captured only six seats by acclamation, instead of the score that previous British despatches had predicted for the opposition.

As a result, the National Government has the advantage of 52 majority over its opponents as it enters the final stage of this brief but involved and tumultous political campaign.

The nomination day showing would ordinarily be enough to justify the statement that everything looks rosy for the MacDonald administration were it not for the demonstrations in many parts of Great Britain against the slash in the dole and the reduction of the wages of civil servants.

The National Government has at least made a start that will give its members encouragement to press on for complete victory, for the number of acclamations was unusually large and a much greater percentage than usual was captured by the followers of Mr. MacDonald.

AN ARTISTIC SUCCESS.

Although a three days' rain almost completely ruined the attendance, the 1931 International Plowing Matches have scored an artistic success that must be gratifying to J. J. Duffus, J. B. Nelson and the other local enthusiasts who worked so energetically to secure this big event for the Peterborough district, and whose untiring efforts and wise planning facilitated the smooth running off of the competitions.

With favorable weather there is little doubt that huge crowds of visitors would have been in attendance.

So far as competition went new records were established, the number of entries reaching the grand total of 503, which was 66 higher than the mark set at Stratford a year ago.

The plowing throughout was of a very high standard, the judges being decidedly complimentary in their references to the performances of the leading contestants throughout the events of the four days.

The large entry list and the quality of the work accomplished was undoubtedly a source of great satisfaction to the local committees, justifying as it did their insistence that the international matches should come to Peterborough County this year.

Those who labored so faithfully to accomplish such worth-while results are deserving of most hearty congratulations.

THE POTATO SITUATION.

The campaign of the Ontario Marketing Board to interest Ontario municipalities in the immediate buying of Ontario potatoes is worthy of the consideration of the local civic government.

The potato market is at present demoralized as W. B. Somerset, chairman of the Marketing Board, points out in his letter to Ontario's mayor, not because there is a particularly large surplus in Ontario, but because of general conditions, an urge for cash and panic reports.

To meet this situation the Marketing Board has decided on the following program:

(1) To urge all growers to grade their stock carefully and to offer for sale only first-class market potatoes, the remainder to be kept for stock feeding purposes.

(2) To ask the co-operation of the trade and consumers in using Ontario's crop before importing this year.

(3) To suggest to those who may estimate their requirements to purchase now at harvest time and take advantage of prevailing prices.

Municipalities are being asked as part of this plan to purchase their supply of potatoes for relief purposes at once, the board pointing out that this source of healthful food may be purchased at sacrifice prices and thus the cost of relief would be reduced.

At the same time citizens generally would benefit in perhaps a less direct but nevertheless a very definite way—that is, by assisting the farmer and increasing his buying power.

THE PASSION PLAY.

In another column on this page there is printed a letter protesting against the presentation of the "Passion Play" in Stratford. The claim is advanced that the closing hours of the Saviour's life are too sacred for human reproduction, and the inference is that the affair is being made the means of producing revenue.

Elsewhere we have heard similar views, and those holding them are entitled to respect. There is no intention on the part of this paper to create anything but the kindliest feeling for those who have certain scruples which unconsciously revolt at the presentation of the Passion Play.

It is well, though, before reaching a conclusion, to look at the situation carefully. We must admit that there are few of us who understand the mind of the peasantry in Germany where such plays originated. There are several places where the Passion Play is presented, and it was primarily only the outward expression of a religious feeling that sought an outlet. It is well not to judge too hastily after having applied our own standards without a clear understanding of the nature of the people and the humble surroundings in which this, and similar plays had their origin.

It is just possible to-day that our Christian population is in need of something realistic to shock it into a sense of more vivid actuality regarding those last days in the life of Christ. As a rule our Easter season is not productive of that sensation of suffering preceding the day of triumph which the events actually warrant. It may be that such a spectacle as the Passion Play will bring into existence such a portrayal of those fateful hours as cause us to feel the awfulness of the tragedy which culminated at Calvary. We find it difficult to believe that the presentation is wrong, and in that finding we see no reason to treat with anything but respect and the kindliest consideration the feelings of those who see differently.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

SOME WORDS OF GOOD CHEER.

Faint-hearted Canadians ought to read and study the words of Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, and of Mr. Beaudry Leman, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, one given in Montreal and the other the same day in Vancouver. These men are behind the scenes, they know as few do the actual situation in this country, they do not minimize the difficulties of the moment, and they are not dismayed. On the contrary, they are distinctly optimistic.

The danger is passed, said Mr. Leman. Canada will produce this year gold worth about $50,000,000; her banking system is sound and has stood up under stress; even unfavorable exchange on the Canadian dollar has had a beneficial effect in stimulating production of Canadian goods and the employment of Canadian labor; we are learning by adversity to lean on our own resources. These are good points, on which Mr. Leman based his conclusion:

"If the stock exchange, as it is sometimes described, is a barometer, it may be affected by passing showers. But the life of the country is not the stock exchange. The production, distribution, circulation of wealth is of far greater moment and importance, and that is going steadily on, regularly on, business is being done. We need food, and we are getting food. We need clothing and we are getting clothing. We need shelter and we are getting shelter.

"Those are the vital elements upon which the economic fabric rests."

Sir Henry Thornton's testimony is no less emphatic:

"We all have an abiding and unbounded faith in our country. Fundamentally we are perfectly sound and solvent. We are better off than many other countries. We will return to normality quicker than other nations. The great natural resources of Canada are the same as they were three years ago. We have the same courageous, conscientious and law-abiding people."

We are sound and solvent and the time of danger has passed. Reassurance to this effect from two of those in Canada best qualified to speak with authority on conditions should not pass unheeded.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

With 58 members elected by acclamation, the National Government is off to a flying start in the British elections.

What this country needs just now is more optimistic speeches of the kind given by Hon. T. L. Kennedy yesterday. They are much more helpful than calamity howling.

Mr. Baldwin is the only British leader who has not got any worrying to do about his own constituency. The Conservative chieftain has been returned without a contest.

The broadcasting of an American murder trial has been stopped so that Eddie Cantor and other radio wits will have to continue to supply the humor for the ether programs.

The Plowmen's Association will find it impossible to credit the fact that this has been an unusually dry season.

The Produced-in-Canada Exhibition terminates to-night. The final evening should see a record-breaking crowd in attendance.

All things happen in the course of time, it is said, so sooner or later some politician will charge that he was "misquoted by the microphone."—Rocky Mountain News.

The Canadian National is getting snooty, indeed, when local trains cut out long-established stops on the main line.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

THE AIR PAGEANT

To The Editor of The Examiner:

Sir: The air-pageant to be staged by the Toronto District Association and the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce at the local airport on the highway is intended to show the perfection to which the plane has been brought.

It is probable that thirty planes will take part in the manoeuvres and demonstration on that day and I would suggest, if I might, that free ascents be offered to the people. Perhaps they intend to do so. It would be highly exciting to see half of Peterborough enjoying itself in mid-air.

This morning's papers give the inauguration of a new regular air mail service from Toronto to all points west and south. It leaves Toronto daily at 6 p.m.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO Oct. 17. —Broadening of export business in North American wheat lifted grain values yesterday anew. It was estimated that 1,500,000 bushels of Canadian and United States wheat had been bought yesterday for shipment overseas, and that total foreign takings in the last week were 6,000,000 bushels or more. Indications pointed to a better milling demand in Europe, and with Canadian stocks of wheat greatly reduced as compared with a year ago, much damp and sprouted wheat was reported as being marketed in Canada.

Wheat closed firm, ⅜-⅝c higher, corn ¼c-½c up, oats unchanged to ¼c-⅜c advance, and provisions unchanged to 15c off.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Trade on the local butter market this week was a little more active, due to a demand from outside points including United States centres. Local brokers handled considerable supplies from both Ontario and Western creameries and prices were steady at 20c to 20¼c for No. 1 solids, and 19c to 19¼c for No. 2. Local buyers were not taking any large quantities, but there was some movement, and the undertone of the market was stronger than last week and previously.

Cream prices were unchanged at the close of the week, local buyers offering 20c to 21c for specials, 19c to 20c for No. 1, and 16c to 17c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points.

Cheese

There was very little demand for new cheese, and prices were steady until yesterday, when there was a ¼c reduction. Brokers offered new makes at 11¾c for large, 12c for twins, and 12¼c for triplets and retailes were quoted new large at 13c, twins at 13¼c, and triplets at 13½c.

Eggs

Prices to country shippers for fresh eggs were advanced another 3c per dozen on the better grades yesterday, which made a gain for the week of 6c, or 11c increase in two weeks. There were few shipments, however, and it seemed that new-laid eggs could not be secured at any price in sufficient quantities to meet the demand. Wholesalers were able to move large lots of storage eggs, and during the week the price was increased 2c per dozen. There was no movement of storage supplies by brokers as local dealers had sufficient to meet immediate requirements.

Prices

Country shippers were quoted 39c fo. extras, 34c for firsts, and 18c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Retailers were offered extras in cartons at 47c extras loose at 45c, firsts loose at 40c, and seconds loose at 20c to 22c. Brokers were moving graded eggs in free cases, at 41c for extras, 37c for firsts, and 20c for seconds.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—Egg prices advanced and cheese quotations were lower, while butter and potato prices held unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

On the egg market, fresh Ontario or Prairie extras, in carlots, gained our cents at 40 to 44 cents and firsts were up three cents at 32 to 35 cents, and seconds advanced two cents at 18 to 21 cents a dozen. Quotations to retailers were unchanged and receipts were 1,380 cases.

Ontario and Quebec cheese both lost an eighth of a cent at 11¾ cents and 11¼ to 11⅝ cents a pound, respectively. Receipts were 1,304 boxes.

Eastern townships No. 1 pasteurized butter, in carlots, were unchanged at 19½ to 19¾ cents a pound. To retailers, solids at 21 to 22 cents and prints at 22 to 23 cents a pound were both unchanged. Receipts were 525 boxes.

Montreal potatoes were steady at 30 to 40 cents per 80-pound bag and New Brunswick cobblers were 45 to 50 cents, and New Brunswick Green Mountains were 50 to 55 cents per 80-poud bag.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 17.—Wheat prices changed their course of the past two days on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday, and the close advances of from ¾c to 1¼c were shown in the different months. October at 55⅞c showed the greatest gain of 1¼c. November was up 1⅛c at 56¼c; December ¾c to ⅞c at 55¼c, and May ¾c at 59c.

The price advancements, which followed reports of a strong Liverpool market, and spasmodic buying in the pit by houses with seaboard connections, practically regained the ground lost during the past couple of sessions. Hedging at various times was offset by ready purchases.

Buyers Easily Found.

With almost 3,000,000 bushels of wheat being taken in at country points daily for the past week or so, the market has been called upon to absorb a large volume of wheat, and its action in the process of finding buyers for this has been surprisingly good.

There was good demand for top grades of cash wheat, but offerings were light, and only odd small lots changed hands.

Cash interest in coarse grains was confined entirely to the various grades of oats, presumably for export, but offerings here also were light, and no sales were confirmed.

Pit trade in all coarse grains was fairly brisk at times, and with the exception of flax, values generally were higher in sympathy with wheat.

Fighting Chaplain Loses Last Battle

CAIRO, N.Y., Oct. 17.—The Rev. Francis A. Kelley, whose valor with New York's 27th Division during the World War won him the name of the "Fighting Chaplain" and many decorations, died at his home here shortly after midnight.

Although he had been fighting tuberculosis since he returned from France after the war, Father Kelley had been seriously ill only about a week before he died. No details accompanied the announcement of his death.

Father Kelley was decorated by General John J. Pershing at Montford, France, on January 21, 1918, and also received decorations from the Allied Governments. After the war, he aided relatives to the burial places of their soldier dead.

COBOURG M. O. FACES CHARGE

Dr. George H. Field in Argument With Duck Shooters at Rice Lake.

RIBS FRACTURED.

PORT HOPE, Oct. 17. — Facing two charges, the result of an argument over duck shooting rights at Rice Lake, Dr. George H. Field, Cobourg's medical health officer, is in the hospital with two fractured ribs. He appeared before Magistrate W. H. Floyd on a charge of assaulting Douglas MacDonald, and of unlawful possession of weapons, and was remanded until Oct. 16. Bail was refused by Crown Attorney F. D. Boggs, but the accused was permitted to go to the hospital for X-ray and treatment of the fractured ribs.

The trouble arose, it is stated, when Dr. Field and Mrs. Field contested the right of another party of duck hunters to shoot at a section of Margaret Island, Rice Lake. By virtue of an agreement between William Field and Fred Field, the former of Cobourg, and the latter from Cleveland, William Field has shooting rights on the island when the latter is not in residence on Margaret Island. Bearing a letter, said to be authority from Fred Field to shoot on the island, the doctor sought to restrain William Field and his party from duck hunting on Sunday and Monday last.

Brandishing the letter, the doctor it is stated, entered into an argument over the matter, supported by his wife. The debate over the question grew warmer until the doctor engaged in a scuffle with party. The affair reached a climax, it is said, whe nthe doctor left the scene and returned with a shotgun to lend emphasis to his words. With the appearance of the M.O.H. thus armed, William Field and his entire party left the island hurriedly for a healthier location, leaving the doctor and his wife in undisputed possession of the island. The doctor was subsequently arrested, and lodged in jail.

Dr. Field, who now faces a charge of unlawful use of a weapon, was fined last year in connection with a shooting affair. On that occasion the doctor, during the course of an argument with his wife, punctuated his remarks with a revolver, a stray bullet striking Alice Earl, a Cobourg girl. This year he was placed on $2,000 bond to keep the peace, following a domestic altercation with his wife.

LEADING MINES ARE IN DEMAND

Lower Sections Disturbed By Withdrawal of Minimum Price Restrictions.

OILS SLIGHTLY HIGHER.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 17 (C.P.)—Brisk demand for higher-priced and interlisted stocks marked today's short session on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market. Lower-priced sections of the list were disturbed by withdrawal of the minimum price restrictions on all stocks selling at or under 25 cents, but the major portion of changes on end took the form of gains.

Noranda made the best showing, price advancing nearly $1 under evident accumulation. International Nickel also closed up 35 but other base metals were quiet.

Among the high-priced golds Dome moved up 60 to above $10, Lake Shore gained 50, McIntyre 25, Teck-Hughes 20, Wright-Hargreaves 15 and Hollinger 5.

McLeod River and Bidgood, from which the price ban was lifted, dipped 9 and 3, respectively, under price readjustment. Majority of cheaper stocks were firm, however, with Kirkland Townsite, Brownlee, Moss and Castle slightly higher.

LEADING STOCKS SHOW ADVANCES

Issues Finish Slightly Above Saturday's Close Despite Early Softness.

ON MONTREAL MARKET.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 17.—(CP)—Optimism ruled at the close of the short session on the Montreal Stock Exchange today, the trading week ending with a moderate upward revision of popular issues.

The local list opened firmly, but a little softness crept into later trading. Just before the close confidence was restored and leading issues finished slightly above yesterday's closing prices.

The better feeling this morning brought out a relatively wide range of issues, though volume was not very heavy. Brazilian was the feature of the session, and moved strongly, closing at 10⅜, up ⅜ on the day. Canadian Pacific Railway shares also were higher, advancing early in the session to 16 for a gain of ½ over yesterday's close, and holding at that figure till the close.

Nickel moved within a fractional range, closing to finishing at 10 unchanged from yesterday.

Pacific-type locomotives recently tested in France, ran from Paris to Bordeau in five hours, 48 minutes, an average speed, including stops, of 62 miles an hour.

TORONTO LIST MUCH STRONGER

Noranda is Outstanding Issue on Side of Advance, Rising Point to $14.60.

DOMINION STORES FIRMER.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 17.—(C.P.)—Stocks were stronger again to-day on Toronto exchange. There was no increase in volume but issues met with good support at current levels.

Noranda was an outstanding issue on the side of the advance this morning, rising a point to $14.60 where it closed strong. International Nickel sold at 10 or better and Brazilian Traction was firm at 10½. Dominion Stores, off slightly Friday, was firmer at 10½. Massey-Harris, which has been under liquidation the greater part of the week, firmed at 1 7-8 at which price buying orders more than counterbalanced selling orders.

NEW YORK LIST TURNS SOFT IN LATER TRADING

Week-end Profit-taking Imparts Heavy Tone in More Prominent Shares.

BOND PRESSURE LIFTED.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 17.—(C.P.)—Securities markets were quiet and fairly stable in today's short session.

Shares worked a little higher for a time, but week-end profit taking imparted a somewhat heavy tone in the final dealing some of the prominent shares registered losses of from fractions to about a point.

A feature of the bond market was the lifting of pressure against the U.S. Government issues, which had declined sharply in the previous session, in response to higher money rates.

Both markets were dull. The turnover in stocks was only moderate above half a million shares for the two-hour session.

Shares closing a point or so lower included American Telephone New York Central, Allied Chemical, and Southern Pacific. U. S. Steel, General Motors, and American Can however, closed with negligible changes.

LORD TRENCHARD OPENS NEW HALL

GIVEN MEMBERSHIP CARD.

KITCHENER, Ont., Oct. 17.—(C.P.)—While ex-service men and citizens looked on, Lord Trenchard, newly-appointed commissioner of Metropolitan Police, London, Eng., last night opened the new hall of the Kitchener branch of the Canadian Legion. The distinguished visitor was given an enthusiastic reception.

He was presented with a membership card by Lt.-Col. J. F. Picking, president of the Ontario Provincial Command, after asking if he could belong to the branch.

OPENING RACE

liner, entering port, passed the racers. The Thebaud's sails did not seem to set as well as they had in previous trials. The Bluenose appeared to be just holding her lead as she passed Lighthouse Bank, two miles from the starting line. The schooners were encountering much heavier swells as they proceeded out to sea. They were frequently hailed down in the trough.

Half way to the first mark the wind headed both schooners and it became apparent they could not fetch it without taking another hitch. As Thebaud came by the weather of the Lady Laurier, serving as press boat and carrying also about two hundred Halifax guests, a cheer went up for the American challenger. It was responded to heartily by the Gloucesterman's crew and Captain Ben Pine tooted an acknowledgement with three blasts of Thebaud's fog horn. Captain Ben had taken over the challenger's wheel and she appeared to be going better. Bluenose, while holding her lead, was no longer drawing away from Thebaud.

Thebaud was the first to come about, coming over the port tack at 9:52. Captain Angus Walters brought Bluenose about almost immediately intending to keep the challenger covered. It was apparent they could not make the mark and another hitch would be necessary, the breeze to the south giving the schooners unexpected windward work and slow going because of the heavy swell that was running.

Destroyers On Hand

The U. S. destroyer Williamson and the H.M.C.S. destroyer Champlain, bearing the official committee, were among the fleet that followed the schooners ready to order off the course any vessel offering interference.

Thebaud came back to the starboard tack at 10:06 followed by Bluenose. Captain Angus was giving Captain Ben no opportunity to shake off the big Lunenburg salt banker. The wind was freshening slightly and it appeared the schooners would fetch the mark without taking another hitch.

Bluenose passed first buoy at nineteen minutes and thirty seconds after ten o'clock, unofficial time. Thebaud, behind from the start, passed this buoy twenty-four minutes and thirty-eight seconds after ten.

Bluenose came about on the port tack at 11:55 shortly after rounding Shut-in Island buoy. She started a nine-mile beat to windward to the southwest automatic buoy, 21 miles from the finish line.

On the eleven-mile led down to Shut-in Island buoy, Bluenose increased her lead by approximately six minutes, beating Thebaud around this mark by about eleven minutes. Unofficial time for this mark was: Bluenose 11:47:50; Thebaud, 11:59. As the next leg began Captain Angus took a short hitch, apparently intending to keep the Gloucester boat covered.

As the boats buckled down to the long stretch to windward it was clear they could not possibly finish within the time limit of six hours. Aboard the Laurier Captain Robinson stated Bluenose would require at least two and one half hours to make the south east automatic twelve miles from the finish. It looked as though Bluenose was opening her lead of eleven minutes at the second mark in the light wind but heavy going.

J. A. Feir, 88 Aylmer street, representing the Lakeside Milling Company, Toronto, donated to the plowing match a 98-pound bag of first patent flour, and a bag of Masters' Red Head Laying Mash, a special poultry feed. These donations were to be given as special prizes, and were gratefully acknowledged by the directors.

Firmer Tone Shown On London Exchange

LONDON, Oct. 17 (C.P.). — The London Stock Exchange exhibited a generally good tone to-day on the basis of more confident feeling in regard to the coming election. Leading British funds improved and the war loan five per cents were quoted at £97.

Home Rails were better and Anglo American Specialties were higher on the strength of Wall Street improvement. German bonds further improved as the result of the vote of confidence in the Reichstag.

Sterling was little changed. The pound was listed at $3.86 on New York and 98.5 francs on Paris.

TIGHTENING OF MONEY RATES FEATURES WALL STREET TRADE

Confidence Returns to Market as Result of National Credit Corporation Activities.

NEWS FAVORABLE.

(By John L. Cooley, Associated Press Financial Writer.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 17. — Heavy shipments of gold, a tightening of money rates and completion of the machinery which is to operate the National Credit Corporation occupied the attention of the financial world this week.

Banking circles felt there had been considerable improvement in confidence as a result of activities toward a loosening of frozen credit. The large New York City banks have been urged by the Federal Reserve to extend the fullest measure of co-operation to their interior correspondents and are said to have already done much work in that direction.

The week's business news contained certain favorable elements. There were, however, numerous small bank suspensions throughout the country, while the bond market, at least early in the week, plainly indicated that banks were liquifying their positions, partly because of currency hoarding. The circulation increase was less rapid, amounting to $42,000,000 compared with a rise of $185,000,000 in the previous week, but the total is nearly a billion dollars larger than a year ago.

The stock market, on the whole, behaved well. By losing half of its early October gains, it completed what is technically called a secondary reaction, and then met support, which was encouraging to those who had feared further liquidation. It was apparent to some that the market needed fresh incentives to rally, but these were supplied in reports from Washington concerning the probability of early action to help the railroads.

Scottish herring girls have gone on strike at Yarmouth against reductions in pay. The returning officers in the general elections received reduced fees. A prisoner at the Old Bailey, "for reasons of economy" was indicted on only one count, although there were 23 against him.

Italy's Plans

Italy, on the other hand, has drawn up a scheme of public works under which 300 million lire will be spent. The Italian authorities have collected large quantities of wheat and other commodities, as well as articles of clothing, for distribution to the poor. Twenty thousand of New Zealand's former unemployed are engaged on road work, but are to be diverted to work on the land. "We cannot afford to become a nation of navvies," says Rt. Hon. J. G. Coates, her Minister of Employment.

France, until now the economic phenomenon of the world, is preparing drastic economies to meet an unbalanced budget.

Britain's temporary abandonment of the gold standard, with its stimulus to her export trade, continues to excite reactions abroad. The Union of South Africa, like Canada, remains on the gold standard. But both Northern and Southern Rhodesia have followed sterling. The purposes is to permit Rhodesian producers of all primary products to secure the full benefit of the increased prices in the British market. The Federation of German Cotton Weavers attributes the sudden drop in September business to the drop in sterling. "Weavers are disquieted," the federation says, "by the artificial stimulus which the fall in sterling has given to the competion of the English industry, not only in the German but in world markets where opportunities for German cotton fabrics will be more restricted." Finland has suspended the gold standard. Latvia is drastically restricting imports by a series of quotas.

What the war meant to Britain financially is revealed by the latest statement of her national debt. On March 31, it stood at 7,413,000,000 pounds, more than 11 times the total of the national debt just before the outbreak of the war. Yet despite the depression Britain in the last twelve months reduced this debt by nearly 56,000,000 pounds.

Whittington Death Shocks Directorate

Directors of the Ontario Plowmen's Association were deeply shocked by the death on Friday of William Whittington of North Monaghan whose farm was used for some of the classes in Thursday's schedule of the plowing match. A resolution of condolence was passed this morning, and flowers sent to the bereaved home. In the rush of business on Friday, news of Mr. Whittington's sudden death did not reach the directors in time for reference at the concluding banquet. This fact was keenly felt by the directors this morning, and J. J. Duffus was requested to arrange for representation at the funeral by local members of the Association. Mr. Whittington had attended the match early in the week, and had met some of the visiting directors, including J. Lockie Willson managing director.

Wooler

(Examiner Correspondence)

WOOLER, Oct. 17.—The annual Thanksgiving anniversary service of the United church was one of the best this year. Dr. Bishop of Albert College, Belleville, gave very strong inspirational messages in the morning and evening on Sunday. The congregations were exceptionally large. The choir with the additional young voices rendered excellent anthems. In the evening, Miss Conley of Stirling assisted the choir and she was much appreciated.

The autumn weather on Monday (Thanksgiving Day) was all that could be desired and at 5 p. m. cars were driving in on the church lawn, ready for the dinner to be served.

Returning to the auditorium after the dinner an excellent program was ably given by out of town talent. Rev. A. Poulter, chairman for this evening called on musical numbers by the Misses Dracup of Stirling and Mr. Stillman of Belleville. Readings by Mrs. Mott and Mrs. Denton of Belleville. These numbers were highly appreciated.

On Tuesday a dinner was served especially for the school children and adults were welcome too, and it was very gratifying to have over one hundred present adding more to the treasury. The proceeds of Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were gratefully received by the board.

Miss Hazel Thompson sponsored the program at the Young People's meeting on Tuesday night in the United Church parlors. A large number was present and enjoyed the meeting. Rev. A. Poulter taking an active part in the Bible talks.

EDISON'S DEATH CASE OF HOURS

Doctor for First Time Spends Night at Aged Inventor's Bedside.

FAMILY ALL PRESENT.

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 17.—The life of Thomas A. Edison was ebbing perceptibly today. The end was regarded as a matter of hours.

For the first time since Mr. Edison suffered his present collapse on October 2, Dr. Hubert S. Howe spent the night at Gemont, the 84-year old inventor's house. He did this, partly to sooth Mrs. Edison, who has kept constant vigil at the bedside of her husband.

The note of optimism came in the bulletin issued last night by Dr. Howe, who said, "as far as can be told there would be no emergency for many hours.

Although Charles Edison said Dr. Howe's presence in their home was "as much for mother as for any emergency that might arise from Mr. Edison's condition, he expressed the opinion that father can't last much longer."

The inventor is suffering from a complication of diseases, described as gastric ulcers, diabetes, and uremic poisoning. His nourishment for the past ten days has consisted of six spoonfuls of stewed pears.

Dr. Howe said Mr. Edison's heart was now weakening.

SMALL CHILD IS VICTIM OF MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 17 (CP)—Victim of a mysterious shooting or explosion, six-year-old Carl Steinberg to-day carries on the back of his body, legs and the left arm some 15 or 20 small but deep cuts, the origin of which is unknown. Doctors have been unable to ascertain if the wounds were caused by shotgun slugs, though it is known several boys have been in the habit of shooting in a vacant lot near where the child was injured.

Earl has been unable to explain and police are investigating to-day.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Oct. 17 (C.P. Cable).—England defeated Ireland in an international soccer match here to-day by six goals to two.

Dunne was the only player on the Irish side who made any impression on the opposition, but he got no support. Finally just before half-time he banged the ball into the net from a free kick, Hibbs having no chance.

WHEAT HIGHER FOR THE WEEK

United States is Holding All Excess Surplus Wheat at Present Time

PRODUCTION DECREASES.

(By John P. Boughan, Associated Press Market Editor)

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 17. Leading Chicago grain authorities assert that the United States at the present time hold practically all of the excess surplus wheat in the world. In this connection an increasing tendency of traders to regard to ignore the large stock of wheat in this country, and to look toward the future of the world's wheat supply, with production seeming definitely on the downgrade after two years' fall of prices.

Compared with a week ago, wheat this morning was 1½ cents higher, corn ⅛ to ⅞ up, oats ⅛ to ½ advanced, and provisions showing 2 cents to 25 cents gain.

The latest official returns on the European wheat crop this season put the yield at 1,360,000,000 bushels, compared with 1,372,000,000 last year, and with 1,444,000,000 in 1929. Russia excluded added to this seasons shortage in trans-Atlantic wheat yield is a reduction of 140,000,000 bushels in the outturn of rye as well as fewer potatoes, so that the amount of breadstuffs actually available on Europe is now estimated as below normal without making any allowance for unmerchantable grain. Meanwhile wheat exports from Russia are currently figured as not likely to exceed 75,000,000 bushels, compared with 97,000,000 [illegible]

Baker Studio Has Fine Art Exhibit

One of the attractive exhibits at the Produced-in-Canada fair is that of the Baker Studio showing fine work in photography. The color scheme is a black background trimmed with gold and is highly effective. There is a large assortment of lovely photographs including a group of children's pictures. A striking feature of this work is the lack of posing or "stiffness." Positions and expressions are pleasing and natural.

Quick Relief for Women

Women need not endure periodic pains and headaches. They can spare themselves this suffering by taking ZUTOO TABLETS. Mrs. Allen Wright, of Fulford, who was relieved in 30 minutes of severe pain and headache, wrote saying: "Every woman in the land should know about ZUTOO TABLETS and what they will do." Just try the tablets and know for yourself how quickly they stop the pain.

TWO CHAMPIONS

Minister of Agriculture, spent more than an hour on the farms Friday afternoon, and went out to the farthest fields to see the teams and tractors in the open classes, the climax of superlative plowing. Many prominent men from various parts of the province were present, but the rain ultimately drove them to the ample shelter of the headquarters tent. In so far as the weather flattened out the expectations of all those who had labored toward the successful issue of the international match, it was one of the deepest disappointments this community and district have ever experienced. Bright skies would have made a vast difference in the attendance of spectators, and the concluding afternoon was the wettest of the week.

Horse Show a Feature

Shortly after four o'clock the rain-trailed off for the horse show finale in which nearly forty teams were entered. First prize went to R. J. McKnight and Son of Cavan township, whose team also won first ribbons at the Peterborough Exhibition. Mr. McKnight is well known as a breeder of horses, and has been a judge at exhibitions throughout the province for eighteen years.

A similar competition for Peterborough County teams was won by Walter Bowles of North Monaghan. In the three-furrow tractor class three district men stood out in the prize awards: V. R. Hunter and Ralph Staples of Cavan being second and fifth respectively, and Frank Graystock of Otonabee, third.

The Lillico Estate

While the big match is still fresh in memory, it is recalled that the headquarters property has been in the Lillico family for five generations since it was purchased from the Crown more than a century ago. This ownership is around 120 years, and it is understood that the farm is the only one on the highway between Peterborough and Scott's Corners that has remained in the one family from the days of the pioneers. It was bought by Richard Lillico, was passed on to Archibald Lillico, then to Richard Lillico, and is now owned by R. T. Lillico, who has two young sons representing the fifth generation.

Friday's winners were as follows, all in sod:—

Inter-county Competition

Open to one team of three plowboys from each county who have not reached their 20th birthdays on October 1st, 1931. The Bank of Montreal trophy is awarded to the team making the highest score, and each member of the winning team receives a silver miniature of the trophy as his personal property; the large trophy must be competed for annually until it has been won three times by one county, not necessarily in successive years. It was won in 1929 by Waterloo county team and in 1930 by York County team.

This trophy was won Friday by the York county plowboys for the second year in succession. The individual prizes in this competition were awarded as follows:

1—Russell Jarvis Milliken, Bank of Montreal trophy, $50

2—Marshall Deans, Paris, James McLean trophy and cash $30.

ROSENEATH FAIR

ance under the conductorship of J H. Goldring, while the grandstand was equipped with amplifying equipment for the convenience of the contestants in the public speaking contests and singing competition. The winners of the speaking contests were: Osler Burrison, Lillian McCleary, Rosella Taylor. The singing contest results were as follows: girls under 15, Margaret Atkinson, Dartford; Luella Timlin Roseneath. Girls under 10 years, Marion Brookes, Coldsprings; Clarice Atkinson and Gwendolyn Varcoe tied for second place. Comic song by girl: Marion Brooks. Comic by boys: Ambrose Atkinson Jimmy McCleary.

The usual variety of sideshows and booths without which no fair is complete were in strong evidence, and there was plenty in the way of good clean fun to appeal to the individual taste. Quite a thrill was provided for the large crowd, when in the interval between the horse races Bert Johnson drove a car blindfolded round the race track. He had with him three passengers and completed a mile in 2.13.

The Oldest Visitor

Bearing his 92 years remarkably well James Clark of Bracebridge was the oldest visitor at the fair yesterday. He has been a regular attendant, he informed The Examiner, at Roseneath Fair for the past four or five years. Other visitors included the president and secretary of Brighton Agricultural Society and Fred J. McArthur, of Cobourg.

Indians from Alderville Reserve were among the exhibitors at the fair and some wonderful specimens of birch bark and quill work were on show, the first prize being awarded to John Lake. This exhibitor also took second prize with a pair of hand made axe handles, and was second also with a large bottle-shaped basket. Alf. Simpson took two firsts with a brace of wild black ducks and a brace of wild bluebill ducks.

Judged by Frank Macklin the dog and cat show were features of the exhibition which for completeness of the variety of competitions would be hard to equal. The winners in the shows were:

Dog Show

Collie—1, J. C. Nelson; 2 D. J. Varcoe; 3, J. T. Drope.

Cat Show

Persian cat—Mrs. Davey.

Trent River

A number of the members of the Women's Institute met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs George Brooks to finish a quilt to be packed with other necessities for a needy family who recently suffered a loss through fire.

Mr. Thomas Wight moved his household effects Thursday to the Mack farm, which he recently leased.

Mr Ernest Bennett of Toronto was at "Killarney" over Wednesday night.

Mr and Mrs. C Alley and family have moved to the Armour house.

Miss Lillian Hallowell of Toronto spent over the holiday with her mother at their cottage.

Miss Gladys Hallowell of Toronto is at the Hallowell cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sedgwick, Mr D. Walterhouse and Thos. Wight attended Roseneath Fair Friday.

Messrs. Thos. J. Brown and Joseph McNeely attended the International Plowing Match at Peterborough Friday.

DECISION ON CAMPBELLFORD PLAN ASSESSMENT DEFERRED

Revision Court to Further Consider Power Company's Appeal.

ASSSSMENTS HEARD.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 17. — A very heavy list of assessment appeals was heard before the Campbellford Court of Revision which convened last evening in the Public Library with His Worship Mayor J. M. Bygott in the chair. Reeve J N. Stone, Deputy Reeve N. A. MacColl and Councillor H. N. Carr with the chairman comprised the court, Assessor R. Lowrey and Tax Collector J. D. Cummings with the town solicitor, D. J. Lynch also being present.

An appeal for the reduction of the 1931 assessment for the Quinte and Trent Valley Power Company was made by J. G. G. Kerry on the grounds that under the present trade conditions this was too high.

Mr. Kerry thought that the assessment should not be made on cost but on a reasonable earning value pointing out that the Assessment Act granted relief in cases where business is not carried on the whole year and that on this basis an appeal could be made from the judgment of the court. "The Power Company had been started to aid the Canadian Paperboard Company" he stated "and the two reasons why this concern was not operating were that business along this line had been on the decrease during the year and that the Brighton-Campbellford highway was still unfinished, a great factor in the transportation program of the company." He also pointed out that the assessment was based on the water rate, saying that the water had been used by the Hydro Commission during the year for the public good without any compensation to the company. Mr. Kerry stated that he himself had no financial interest in the company, but that he wanted to get the bond holders interested for the good of the town asking for the same reduction as was granted last year.

The assessment for 1931 on this property is $78,750, an increase of five per cent over last year with the exception that certain concessions were granted last year making the total amount of taxes paid $1,733.26.

Decision Deferred

The court felt that the matter should be given some consideration before any action was taken, certain clauses of the act needing legal interpretation with the result that on motion the decision of the court was deferred until an adjourned meeting to be held on October 23.

An appeal from the Campbellford Cloth Company on their assessment was turned down the court ruling that the assessment stand as it is, which is $142,700, a business tax of $53,500 being included in this figure. In making the appeal the company stated that the assessment on the mill property was too high, this making it impossible for them to meet competition with their goods on the market. They thought that $50.00 would be a high figure, but acceptable.

Reeve Stone voiced the feeling of the court in the matter declaring that the council had already intimated that if the company would fulfill certain conditions regarding employment some agreement might be reached concerning a fixed assessment but that up to the present these requirements had not been met. Speaking on the subject the superintendent of the mill Mr. Cunningham, stated that he thought the company could not continue running unless it got some help from the town in the matter of taxes.

Representing the Canadian National Railway, R. Keith of Montreal appealed for a readjustment of the railway assessment in Campbellford based on and in accordance with the surrounding property assessments. By figures submitted by him to the court this adjustment would bring the assessment down from $15,500 to $12,540. On motion this was referred to the adjourned court for decision the assessor being requested to bring in a report on the matter.

Col. R. S. Levescount appealed the assessment on lots belonging to the Levescount Estate, all of which he claimed were rated too high in value. The total assessment of all property was $2,300. Four lots on Rannie street were strongly appealed against by him these having been assessed in the past in a block. On motion of Deput Reeve MacColl, seconded by Reeve Stone the lots were separated and the assessment decreased by $500. The total assessment of these lots is $700, being made up of $300, $200, $100, $100. In regard to six lots on Centre and Elmore streets the assessment was ruled to stand as it is.

An appeal against assessment by Miss Marion Clark was made by H. Dunk. This was for property on Margaret street which was a back lot with no road outlet Assessed value $400. On motion $.00 was deducted from the assessment.

S. J. More brought an appeal against property he claimed was sold but which he was assessed for. As this seemed to be a case of establishing of property ownership for tax purposes it was ruled that if registered in Mr. More's name the assessment should stand.

No action was taken and the assessment stands in the following cases: Appeal by L. A. Denike against assessment of two lots and house on Beaver Hill Road total assessment $22,000. A reduction of $200 was asked.

Canadian Paperboard Company Total assessment $47,250 Reduction of $1,000

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass
No envy sour the mind.
But each shall seek the common weal
The good of all mankind

MILLBROOK

Discussing the matter of lemonade for serving when the boys and girls have a few friends in the home for an evening, one mother gave her recipe at an Institute gathering, declaring that using one-fourth teaspoon of cream of tartar, three lemons, and two quarts of water was a good plan the tartar saving the use of several lemons. Also dissolving the sugar in a little boiling water, allowing to cool, and then adding to the lemonade will sweeten the mixture more quickly, save on the amount of sugar required, and prevent it sinking to the bottom of the container, as it often does.

In reply to a question on the subject of preventing meringue from falling, an experienced homemaker told of her plan which included, after the whites of eggs had been thoroughly beaten, dusting lightly with powdered sugar, and then shaking over the whole a little cornstarch, beating quickly again, spreading on the pie, and placing in the oven to brown—rather slowly. "Prepared in this way, there is little chance of the meringue falling."

Another member had a different plan, which was to add a pinch of baking powder to the stiffly-beaten whites, then the sugar, and giving a final beating before topping the pie, and browning in the oven.

The advent of unexpected company is always more or less a problem to the housewife, and at the W.I. meeting mentioned this matter came up, in an informal way, for 'hints and helps.' Pie being required on such an occasion in one home, and time being limited, ingenuity suggested an idea that proved workable and worth trying again and again. "I simply took a hot lid from the stove, my oven not being hot enough, and put it on the grate in the oven; then I put the pie on the lid and it was baked before the lower part of the oven was hot. I have done cookies, and biscuits, the same way since."

Another had still a fresh suggestion for a "quick apple pie for company": peel and slice apples in the bottom of a pie tin. Sweeten, and season with sugar, nutmeg and cinnamon, adding small lumps of butter. Then make a thin, rich biscuit crust and spread over the apples about one-fourth inch deep; when baked turn out, upside down on plate, and serve with sweetened cream, or whipped cream. This is delicious."

And if you want apples 'de luxe' try this one—it was the president's contribution: pare and core well-shaped apples; fill the centres with marshmallows, chopped nuts and raisins, and bake until tender. Put in a saucepan one-quarter cup of sugar, and the same of boiling water, stir until melted and cook five minutes. Cover the apples with this sauce, roll in shredded cocoanut, and serve surrounded with grape juice; top with marshmallows, and candied rose leaves or cherries; you may use whipped cream in serving if you wish but it is not necessary."

Since dumplings are a favorite in so many homes now the cold weather is coming, many housewives will be glad to know of a plan to keep them from falling—the Institute worker said to prepare after any tried recipe, and have the chicken stock at boiling point on the top of the stove; drop by spoonfuls into the broth and let cook a few minutes; then set the pan in the oven and let a hot oven finish the cooking. "Made in this way they may be left any time, in case of a delayed meal, and still remain light and fluffy."

RURAL WOMEN OF NOVA SCOTIA SET UP THRIVING INDUSTRY

OLD PATTERNS VALUABLE

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 17 (By George C. Murray, Canadian Press Staff Writer)—Woven into the history of Nova Scotia—which, by the way, has never been adequately recorded in book form—is a story of courage, ingenuity and handicraft of pioneer women.

While brawny arms of men hewed villages out of the dense forests, feminine fingers were busy fashioning clothes and household necessities, and so expert did they become that later generations inherited characteristics and skill for which "Bluenose" women have long been famous. And to-day, an occupation which was first engaged in to supply necessities of life and later to beautify homes is fast establishing a thriving industry.

Hooked rugs of original design are in demand all over the continent, and in Nova Scotia, American buyers have literally found a gold mine. This year one firm alone bought about 50,000 mats in Nova Scotia. A fleet of cars combed the rural districts of the province during the summer, and tourists, as usual, took away with them a large number.

Clever Work.

The average price paid to the women who makes the rugs is $2.50, but some bring much higher prices. Recently a mat, measuring 12 feet by 12 feet, was purchased from Miss Galison of Jeddore. It was over thirty years old had never been on a floor, and was of such attractive design that it brought $160. The dealer said it was the prettiest mat he had seen and that if he were offered $500 for it he would refuse to sell.

This dealer declares that mats made by Nova Scotia women are so much in vogue in the New England states that others are attempting to copy them and sell their mats as a Nova Scotia product.

Visitors to Nova Scotia from Virginia have introduced mat hooking in their home state, and although a goodly number of Virginia-hooked mats are now offered on the New England market they are not meeting with so ready sale as the Nova Scotia product. Nova Scotia hooked mats are the best and most liked in the eastern states, according to dealers.

The history of mat making in Nova Scotia is a story in itself. In counties inhabited chiefly by descendants of Scottish pioneers the women are particularly clever with mat hooks, and their quilting and matting bees of other days have inspired poet and author. For many years the women enjoyed their skill in a quiet way and satisfaction was derived from seeing products of their hands beautifying their homes. With the revival of exhibitions in the province after the war, however, special prizes were offered for hand-made mats, and all the grandeur of carefully chosen colors and original designs brought these exhibits into the limelight.

Then came the tourists, in greater numbers each year. They usually arrived with little luggage and departed with their cars laden with antiques and interesting things picked up in their travels through the province.

Quilting Bee Held By Roseneath W.A.

(Examiner Correspondent)

ROSENEATH, Oct. 17.—The Women's Auxiliary of St. James' Church held tehir meeting on Thursday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. William Houghtailing and was well attended by the members and several visitors. The president, Mrs. James Timlin, conducted the meeting and opened with the singing of a hymn, "Just as I am Thine Own to be," followed by the W. A. Prayer. Rev. Francis Battersby was present and gave the Bible lesson and also a talk on the lesson read which was found in Ephesians 7th chapter. Favorable reports were read from the secretary and treasurer. Communications were read from Mrs. A. V. Lucas, of the W. A. House, Toronto, requesting clothing for needy families in the west. A letter of thanks for fruit was read from members.

On motion of Mrs. Ernest Timlin and Mrs. H. McCracken, that Mrs. F. C. Brown and Mrs. R. B. Nichol be a committee to look after packing of bale to send to Western Canada.

During the afternoon a beautiful comforter was quilted which was on order. Mrs. Houghtailing has been an ideal saleslady for the society, having sold a number of quilts and put in orders for several more to be made before the end of the year.

As the quilt finished completion a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the hostess for her kind hospitality and the meeting was brought to a close with prayers by the rector, Rev. Battersby.

Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Houghtailing and a congenial half hour was spent talking over the future business of the W. A.

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause—

Does your baby have nights when he fusses, tosses and seems unable to go quickly, quietly to sleep? Look for one common cause, doctors say. A constipated condition.

To get rid quickly of accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, nothing is better than genuine time-proven Castoria.

Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics of any kind.

It is mild and gentle enough to relieve a young infant's colic pains, yet is an effective regulator for children of school age.

When your baby is upset and unable to sleep, or has a little cold or fever, it is a wise precaution to give him the gentle but sure regulative help of Castoria. With regulation come relaxed comfort and restful sleep.

Keep a bottle always on hand. Children like the taste of real Castoria—which always has the name, Chas. H. Fletcher, on the package.

REV. C. V. McLEAN GUEST SPEAKER

Thanksgiving Subject of Address at Friday Night Supper Club.

NEW OFFICERS.

The Rev Charles V. McLean was the guest speaker at the Friday Night Supper Club last evening in the spacious dining hall of the new "Y" and the boys were treated to an excellent address on one of the great holidays—Thanksgiving.

The speaker pointed out that the Government was really making an experiment in setting the holiday in October but it was felt that when Thanksgiving and Armistice came together, that the spirit of Thanksgiving was often forgotten. Mr. McLean went on to show that the root of the holiday extended back at least six thousand years when the people would feast on seeing a new moon in the heavens. This took place twelve times during the year.

Then in European countries a thousand years ago the barons would invite vast throngs of people to eat at their mansions where a "baron of beef" and mince pie would be served.

In 1578 some Englishmen arrived in Canada and on the shores of Newfoundland held their first Thanksgiving services in the month of May.

In the eastern states Governor Bradford said that the holiday should be in Deceber and it was at this time that turkey took the place of the 'baron of beef.'

Then it came into Canada with the United Empire Loyalists who retain this holiday and give thanks for the harvest.

Mr. McLean then asked the question, "What should we do with the holiday, neglect it or not?"

The day has been re-established on our calendar and just as Christmas is for the young, Thanksgiving should be for the older folks—"to those who gave unsparingly to us in the days of our youth."

The speaker concluded by remarking that the fate of the day really was in the hands of the youth of the country and the day should be set aside to thank the Almighty for blessings received and for the harvest and to give us a real spiritual uplifting.

The thanks of the club was extended to Mr. McLean by Alf. McKee.

"Bub" Killaly thanked the boys on behalf of the incoming executive, for their election and hoped that this year would be one of the biggest in the history of the club.

Chairman—Mr. Salmonsen.
Vice chairman—"Bub" Killaly.
Secretary-Treasurer — Arthur Waddell.
Publicity committee—Howie Macdonald, Hugh Waddell.
Speakers committee—Bub. Killaly, Terry Hall, Ed. Higgins.
Music committee—Graham Eastwood, Gord. Dobbin, Jerry Duffus, Bob Allin.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

To increase closet room it is possible to convert portions of narrow halls into clothes presses without interfering with their use as passageways.

These halls when on the ground floor are for coats and wraps. Those on the upper floors are for frocks or whatever one would hang in a regulation closet off a chamber.

It is surprising the number of halls that can be given this use when once the homemaker considers such transformation. These connecting halls are found more frequently in old houses than modern ones.

Since the old dwellings are apt to be poorly supplied with closets, especially those in chambers, passageway closets are particularly welcome.

Not infrequently a small corridor leads to a bathroom and one or two doors in the hall open into bedrooms. Each room can have its quota of space allotted for the garment hanger with a small floor area which shoes can occupy.

The jog behind a door in some downstairs hall can form a coat closet, not walled in, but equally convenient and if coats are hung evenly they look as well as on a coat tree.

Passageway closets are simply constructed. All that is needed is to have rods run across them high enough up to escape the top of the head of even the tallest person.

• • • • • • •

Sometimes this means having them extend from moldings firmly screwed in position. Better than this, however, is to have cleats on which rods rest, or to which they are fastened.

• • • • • • •

As these rods are at right angles to the side walls, the coat hangers on them will be parallel with the wall. Wire coat hangers or modern wooden one are so slender that from three to six can be suspended on a single rod.

• • • • • • •

Even with frocks on them, they will take up very little room. The space between rods should be a little more than the width of a coat hanger, thus allowing sufficient room between for hangers on one rod not to interfere with those on the next rods.

• • • • • • •

The capacity of passageway closets is determined by the width of hallways as well as by their length. Long corridors permit of many rods. Wide halls permit of more hangers on one or both sides of the space which must be left free down the passageway for persons to have easy access to rooms opening off it.

GOOD FOOD FROM CORRECT COOKING

Absolutely Necessary for Success of All Social Entertainments.

"Women will talk."

The kindest neighbors and the warmest friends will "discuss" the luncheon or tea and there was never a hostess but sighed with relief when things "went right" or sighed with dread when things "went wrong." There is always the verbal "post-mortem" to follow every effort at social entertainment.

Miss Clarke Andree of the De Both Home Makers' Schools who is soon to appear in Peterborough under the auspices of The Examiner admits the talent for staging a perfect luncheon, tea, bridge party can be brought to a more perfect stage by some women than by others, but she also is firm in her belief that as far as food preparation and serving methods go, any woman can be the equal of any other woman. Charm of individuality is not taught—it is born or acquired by personal effort.

A good deal of Miss Andree's time is given to telling prospective hostesses how to prepare and serve luncheons that will not permit of such a finding, but will, rather, bring that most sincere of all household compliments, "My dear, HOW do you make it?"

Before going into details, however, Miss Andree emphasizes two facts. Luncheons need not be too costly to be delicious and luncheons require no upsetting of the household, long hours, complicated effort and strange and unusual food stuffs. Therein lies the basic principle on which Jessie Marie De Both established her cooking school ormen by helping them reduce their labors through more careful planning. Miss De Both and her coworkers have for years been assembling a wide field of dishes. Dishes designed for certain occasions, dishes for groups of varying sizes, to fit the most deft way of serving, dishes that will bring the involuntary "Oh" of pleased eyes, and the "Ah" of a pleased palate, and above all things dishes that will not bring that dreaded aftermath of "I shouldn't have eaten that so-and-so even if it was delicious.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

THE ENEMA IS HELPFUL

One of the household remedies that seems to be going out of use is the old fashioned enema or 'injection' as it is sometimes called.

Not that there are not a number of specially constructed instruments that are being sold for the purpose, some of which are very helpful. Also the long tube being used to irrigate or wash out the large intestine—colonic irrigation—is of great help in ridding the bowel of wastes and products from infected teeth, tonsils, and gall bladder, which often lie there for a long time after the teeth, tonsils and gall bladder have been removed.

Why did the use of the enema go out of use to a considerable extent?

Because it was found, that its overuse took away some of the natural strength of the muscles of the large intestine and these muscles became flaccid and lost their tone.

However if enemas are not used too often they can be of real help in ridding the individual of wastes which even if not as poisonous as was formerly thought, nevertheless by pressure on nerve endings of the intestine give rise to depression and lack of energy.

The best method of using an injection is putting about a tablespoon of salt to two quarts of warm water. As you know this is the solution that is used to replace blood when more fluid is needed in the blood vessels.

Dr. Walter Alvarez tells us that an enema is a logical remedy for constipation because it cleans out the last two or three feet of the large intestine (colon) where all the stagnation takes place, and it does not upset the twenty-two feet of small bowel, where stagnation practically never takes place.

Now there are times when purgatives, calomel, epsom salts, castor oil may be needed. Many individuals find the daily use of simple paraffin oil all that is necessary to keep the intestine actively healthy.

However it is well to know that the salt and water enema can be used safely once a week, or three times in two weeks as needed.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs due to colds. It takes but a moment to prepare, costs little, and saves money, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make 16 ounces of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

INDIA IS ABLY DESCRIBED IN MISSION TALK

Rev. A. J. Vining Speaks Under Auspices of St. Paul's W.M.S.

SPLENDID ADDRESS.

From a wealth of personal information, India, with its many complexities, was presented in a most vivid word picture to the interested audience gathered in St. Paul's Presbyterian church on Friday evening. Rev. A. J. Vining of Toronto, associate secretary of the Social Service Council of Canada was the noted speaker on this occasion, brought to this city through the efforts of St. Paul's Women's Missionary Society.

H. B. Cowan presided as chairman and introduced as soloist, H. Coulson, whose splendid vocal number "Goin' Home" formed an appropriate prelude for the service. Fred Chenhall Jr., acted as accompanist for the evening's music.

The speaker was introduced by the chairman, who spoke of the comment that had been aroused by the boo. "Mother India" and of the interest which is centered in this country in our modern days.

In delivering his famous lecture, "India at the Cross Roads", Rev. Vining gripped the attention of his hearers from his initial word, both by his own absorbing interest in his subject and by his powerful art of description.

The speaker told of his early interest in India, when as a child he had listened to the stories related by his parents of the pioneer missionary endeavours there. P boyhood ambition was to carry the gospel message to this field, but this desire was later replaced by the zeal to work in Canada for India. As Superintendent of Missions in the Canadian West this ambition was realized to a large extent.

Rev. Vining mentioned the circumstances which led to his trip to India in 1928 and told many interesting incidents of his ocean voyage. Various missionaries met a: their different stations and without exception were exceedingly kind and generous. In their company, the distinguished traveller, visited many of the fields, where the work was chiefly among the outcasts. Out of his fund of experiences, Rev. Vining drew many personal and intimate revelations of the great missionary enterprise being carried on among these people. "I love them" said one missionary, and that, the speaker affirmed was the secret of his success among these poor dispised class.

Study Its Problems

The purpose of this tour of India was to see the country, study its many problems, religious, political and social, to gain first hand information of the mission work and of the caste system which is such a barrier to it.

"The country is rich in historical interest", stated the lecturer, citing such examples as Cawnpore and Lucknow and dwelling upon the beauty of Taj Mahal, at Agra.

But India is too vast and too complex for any one to really understand. It is enough to know that she is sin sick—that is the divine diagnosis and the divine remedy is the only effective one. Ever since setting foot in India and seeing the marvellous spread of Christianity and the native students who are carrying out Christian influence I have not ceased to give thanks to God for those who have heard the call of the stricken land" declared the speaker.

Superstition touches everything —from earliest childhood the native is tormented by his fear of the evil spirit, which leads him into many dreadful practices, particularly in connection with the dead. Illiteracy is rife especially among the women, ninety-eight per cent being uneducated. Where there are missionaries this has been reduced to ninety-five per cent.

Curse of the Caste

Worse than all these is the caste system which works such havoc, misery and sorrow. The deep, wide gulf between castes can be bridged only by the timbers of the Cross and by no other power on earth.

In spite of all their vices and superstitions the people of India are the most religious in the world. Their sacrifices to the gods, put our sacrifices to shame. The pathos of it is that those seeking peace never find it—they are longing for a vision of glory but see only horrors.

Some of the horrible experiences to which these people subject themselves in an effort to appease their gods, show the depths of their earnestness. It is not to be wondered at that there is a passion in the souls of the missionaries for these men and women.

In passing, the mission work in China was also referred to by the speaker who told of his visit to Canton during the days of the rebellion. To the mission workers there as well as to those in Japan and in India, a high tribute was paid, while it was noted that there are many outstanding Christian native workers too. Here, too, stories rich in human interests, graphically illustrated this point.

India is at the cross roads politically, with many changes in the last few years. Any progress that has been made, India owes entirely to England and she is not yet ready for home rule.

That India is at the cross roads religiously is a cause for great thankfulness. Thousands who are not public followers are secret disciples of Jesus Christ and are making their influence felt in a quiet way. One of the most significant happenings on his tour of India was the disregard shown by some boys of a sacred bull, which twenty-five years before no one would have dared molest. Christian schools are doing much to bring about the disintegration of the caste system.

In closing Rev. Vining spoke of watching the dawn from the top of a tower in India. On the day before the sky had been cloudy, but on this particular morning the color scheme of changing tints in a clear sky was beyond description. Yesterday India was obscured by the clouds and mists of superstition, but today, there is breaking through the vision of Him, whom in days to come, millions will acknowledge as Lords of Hosts.

Deep appreciation for this heart-stirring and inspiring lecture was expressed by Messrs H. T. McKeown and H. Morgan and was tendered the speaker by the chairman.

Earnest prayer for the work, was offered by Rev. Mr. Vining in conclusion.

Caledonians Enjoy Jolly Theatre Party

Through the courtesy of the management of the Capitol Theatre, the Caledonian Club, accompanied by the Caledonian Pipe Band, were able to enjoy a theatre party at the Capitol last evening.

"Roamin' in the Gloamin'," a short film in which Harry Lauder sang twice, was put on specially for the guests, and was greatly enjoyed. About eighty members of the Club attended and occupied the body of the theatre. The band members were enthusiastically cheered when they appeared on the platform and played "The 79th's Farewell to Gibraltar."

The Club members afterwards repaired to the Woodmen of the World Hall, where they were again entertained to other selections by the band. A social hour was afterwards spent, which included dancing and refreshments. R. Gilmour supplied the music for the dancing.

A. D. Clark, vice-president, was in charge of arrangements.

Next Friday the members are looking forward to "Ayrshire Night," when they may bring a friend. A splendid program is being arranged by "Ayrshire folks" for this occasion.

Police Court

Charged with the theft of two local cars during the month of August, Art King was arraigned before Police Magistrate Langley this morning. King pleaded not guilty and was remanded for a week.

Police have been on the outlook for King for some months.

Exports of bay rum from the Vergin Islands in the first six months of this year broke all records.

SOUR stomach

IF fear of what will follow overshadows the enjoyment of your meals, your system may be too acid.

Those pangs of indigestion right after eating and that lump you feel in your stomach for hours after, the flatulence and sourness, are the symptoms of over-acidity. Take an anti-acid and neutralize the excess acid. You won't be comfortable until you do.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia will always check that condition of over-acidity. It acts pleasantly but promptly, and most effectively. It supplies needed alkali to neutralize excess acids of the stomach and bowels. Headaches, flatulence and nausea are promptly relieved. Your digestion will speedily improve. Your appetite will be sharpened. Constipation quickly yields to the gentle laxative effect of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Many make a practice of taking a spoonful or two before meals one or two days weekly. It is a delightful way to keep the system always sweet, and to keep the bowels from growing sluggish; also to guard against autointoxication.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia will check a cold in a hurry. Just take a spoonful at three-hour intervals until that weak, achy, feverish condition is gone and your head is all clear.

Get a bottle to-day; read the directions and learn Phillips' Milk of Magnesia's many important uses. For you and the whole family. 50c bottles at drug stores everywhere in the Dominion. (Made in Canada.)

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE

A Column in the Interests of the Young People of Peterboro and issued under the auspices of the KIWANIS CLUB

RETAILING OF MEN'S WEAR AS A VOCATION

The vocation of retailing Men's Wear, embraces a number of activities and it provides a field of excellent possibilities for the young man who will make a real study of it and be prepared to work hard.

Like all other forms of business—retailing Men's Wear embraces buying, selling, display, advertising and accounting—and while in large commercial enterprises there are men who specialize in each of these fields—in the smaller retail shops—the more one knows of all of these branches of business, the better he will be equipped to make a success.

A good education is therefore very essential for the modern merchant and along with this, must be the willingness and desire to continue to study.

Unfortunately there are as yet no schools where methods of retailing can be studied—but the young man who wants to enter this field if he has a background of the necessary education, a real desire to make this his vocation and not a matter of immediate cash returns—let him approach the leading men's wear retailers in his community and tell them frankly that he wants to learn this business—and if the young man is of the right type, he usually can get a start—but that is only a start—from there on he must continue to study.

If the particular shop he contacts with sells clothing—study the origin and construction of fabrics, how clothes are made, why some are better than others, etc.

The same with all other lines—in shirts, study the various qualities of cottons and linens—how they are made, and dyed and patterned, etc. Ties—study the origin of the silk fabrics. As you become proficient in these things, you become a better and more intelligent salesman and which leads to the responsibilities of buyer.

Then study market conditions—anticipating the rise and fall of prices, sense the demand for your goods and the best sources of supply.

Under the heading of selling comes the important item of window display, etc. as so much of the selling depends on appeal to the eye and not alone to the ear.

Advertising is to-day a most powerful factor in business and while this is a profession in itself, an elementary study of advertising in its various forms is not only beneficial but essential.

There is no surety of success in any vocation—but where a person chooses a vocation that appeals to him—where he feels he is to some extent innately adopted to it, added to that—common sense and honest sincere effort to master his task, will be as close a road to success and happiness in life as any other.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY EXAMINER

Phil Edwards Breaks 19-Year Old Track Mark

New Canadian Horseshoe Pitching Mark Set

MOUNT DENNIS 'SHOE TOSSER SETS RECORD

THROWS 56 RINGERS.

Mrs. D. G. Jackson Defeats Mrs. D Napier 121 to 51 in Ladies' Events.

A new Canadian record was hung up at the Peterborough Plowing Match horseshoe tournament yesterday when Joe Golden, of Mount Dennis, won the Open Singles for the Dominion Powmen's Association championship with the great score of 209 points, including 56 ringers, throwing 100 shoes. He proved to be a real "mud horse," finishing up after a heavy downpour of rain that caused the withdrawal from the tourney of all his opponents. A huge crowd watched the new champion making history in Canadian horseshoe pitching circles.

The mark of 56 ringers out of 100 shoes is thought to be a Dominion record also, and nothing like such throwing has ever been seen around here. His nearest rival, D. A. Tiffin of Islington, made just 190 points, ordinarily a very good score. Golden, who is an employee of the Neilson Company, Toronto, has been pitching shoes for some years, but has only been in tournament play the past three years, always finishing in the money. He hopes to meet the 1930 singles champion at the Windsor Fair championship tournament in November.

Ladies' Events

Only two entries took part in the Ladies' Open Singles, Mrs. D. G. Jackson of Toronto, defeating Mrs. D. Napier, also of the Queen City, 121 points to 51. The latter pitcher was somewhat off-form, as both ladies are stars, having yet to meet defeat in doubles competition. Mrs. Jackson, a silver-haired smiling player, has had seven successive ringers to her credit, and Mrs. Napier has had five in Dominion tourneys. The bad weather kept the entry list away down in yesterday's play. Both ladies were presented with silver-plated sets of Diamond Calk Horse Shoes by Art Moffat.

Outside of J. Golden, none of the fourteen entries in the Men's Open Singles participated, an almost continuous downpour of rain discouraging them, although a few started. Four of the players pitched the previous afternoon, all of them having good scores. The entries who did not take part were returned their fees, and it appeared as if the prizes would go to two of the previous-day pitchers. But Joe Golden refused to withdraw, and some time after four o'clock when the rain had let up, he took the court. As he began encircling the stake with almost every throw, a big crowd gathered and remained until the finish.

Has Good Control

He was using a grip taught him by George Wilwin, of Janetville, last year's singles champion at the Winter Fair. Every throw had the shoe turning once and a quarter in the air, and ringer after ringer was counted. Twice the shoes got out of control owing to the slippery conditions, but as he neared his hundredth shoe, the crowd sensed that his score was a mighty one. He was heartily congratulated when the final results were made known.

The four tossers who turned in their scores the day before were G. Wiley and H. Brady of Fenwick, and A. Steel and D. A. Tiffin of Islington. The latter player won second prize with his mark of 190, and H. Brady followed with 182. A. Steel had 165 points and G. Wiley could only make 150. Just two prizes were given: two silver-plated sets of Diamond Calk Horse Shoes.

The entries who withdrew because of the rain were: C. Whitney and W. Whitney of Oshawa; G. Lloyd, C. Brooks, H. Doran and C. Endicott of Omemee; J. Twomey and D. Hickson of Ennismore; and W. Fairbairn of Lakefield.

Varsity-McGill Game Heard Over CKGW

Fans who are unable to witness the college classic between Varsity and McGill at Molson Stadium, Montreal, on Saturday, will, this year, have a chance to hear it. David Dunkelman, president of Tip Top Tailors, has agreed to give the sporting audience the play-by-play story of the traditional struggle between Canada's two largest universities. With Bill Sims announcing, the game will come from Station CKGW, Toronto, (690 kilocycles), starting at 2.30 p.m.

TRIBUTE PAID HOCKEY MOGUL

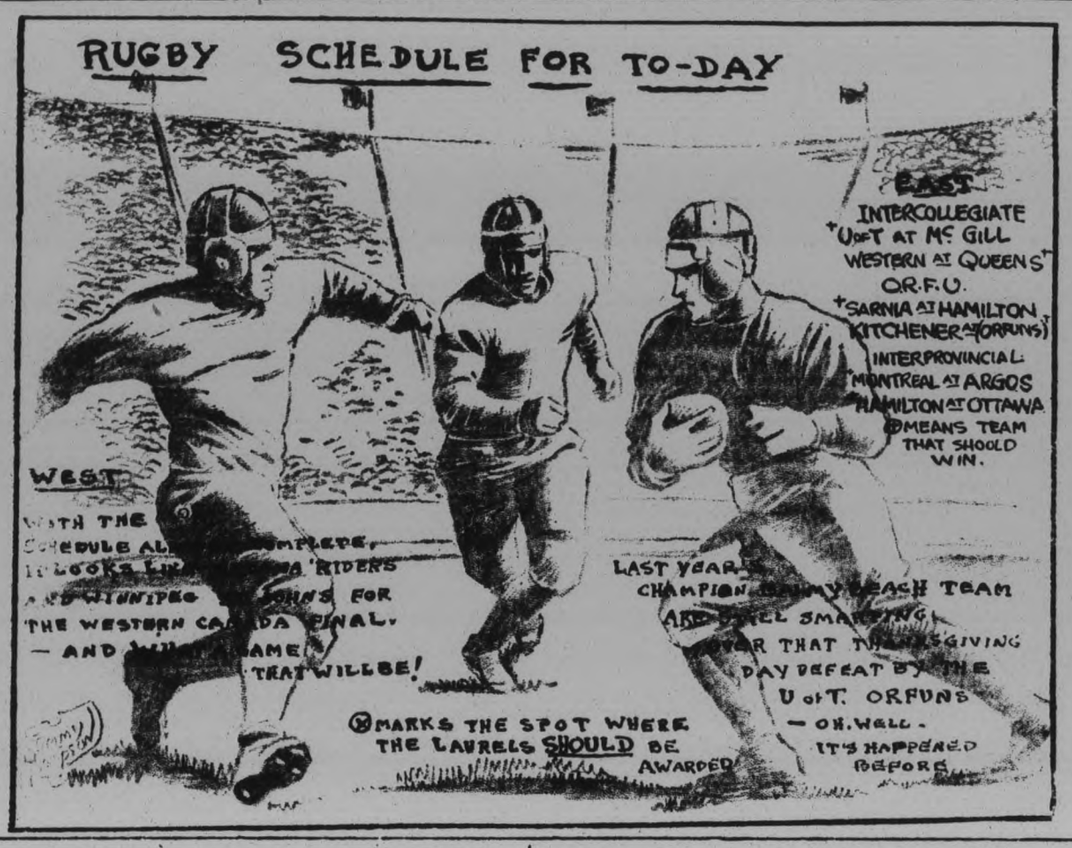
Sheriff Plaxton, Treasurer of O.H.A. and Bobby Pearce Honored.

AT OSHAWA GATHERING.

OSHAWA, Oct. 17.—One of the most representative gatherings of sportsmen ever assembled in Canada met at the Genosha Hotel here last evening at a dinner jointly tendered by the Ontario Hockey Association and the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association in honor of Sheriff Paxton, Treasurer of the O.H.A. for many years, who this week celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday and who is leaving in the near future for Montreal.

Frank Hyde, President of the O.H.A., presided over the gathering, which included delegates from all the Western Provinces on their way to the annual convention of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association at Montreal as well as prominent sportsmen of the Province of Ontario. Not only did the gathering do honor to Sheriff Paxton, but it also honored Bobby Pearce, world's champion amateur sculler, who was present and received the unreserved plaudits of the audience.

All of the speakers on a lengthy program made eulogistic references to the contribution made by Sheriff Paxton, referred to as the grand old man of the O.H.A., to the cause of amateur hockey in Canada and the climax was reached when W. A. Hewitt, Secretary of the O.H.A., presented two magnificent pieces of silver plate to the Sheriff as a token of the esteem and affection of the members of the association. W. A. Fry of Dunnville on behalf of himself, W. A. Hewitt and P. J. Mulqueen, President of the Sportsmen's Patriotic Association, also presented a gift to Sheriff Paxton, who made a modest but fitting reply, expressing his gratitude for the kindness of his friends.



Inside Sportin' Dope--By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, there seems to be some doubt as to who was the goat of the world's serious. Most of the customers is trying to pin the title unto me, owing to me up and saying the A's was going to take the Cards like the Canucks took Vimy Ridge, but personally my ticket is for Mister Graham McNamee, who talked more errors during the 7-game clash than any ball player ever made in the history of the classick. Mister McNamee can use more words and put them in the wrong place oftener than anybody I ever heard, and he was at his best in the Philadelphia-St. Louis tangle.

Anyway, Mac, I got the satisfaction of knowing that they had to wait until the very last ball of the last game to see whether I was wrong or not. If that there last drive by Mister Max Bishop had of found an opening in the outfield or Mister Martin had of obligingly dropped it, the A's would likely have been crowned champs for the 3rd time in a row. It was just that close, and only the fact that this here Pepper Martin went crazy in the 1st five games put the Cards in there. He was the only 1 of Mister Gabby Street's regulars to bat .300 for the serious, and his cluster of safeties and his ignoring of the speed limit on the bases was what give the Cards what little edge they had on the serious. I got a lotta satisfaction outa the fact, Mac, that Mister Lefty Grove come back in his 3rd start against the Cards and shot them down on the wing with his fast ball. Most of the fans around here had Mister Grove through for the serious, but I couldn't figger out how a bird that had copped 59 ball games in 2 seasons could be written off as a failure.

Our Collegiate football teams, Mac, has been going great guns, both seniors and intermediates coming through by big scores last Sat. They's a lotta apple sauce being wrote in the Toronto papers these days about the ineffectiveness of the forward pass, etc. Some of the birds guilty of that stuff should take a Sat. off and come down this way to watch the P.C.I. seniors tossing forwards for big gains. The play is a real threat and a real thrill, Mac, and it is to be hoped the rule-makers don't make the mistake of taking it out of the code again.

Well, old-timer, they ain't nothing much stirring up the country but the plowing match, and I ain't going to try to pick no winner in that league.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

KEENDALE 1ST IN 2.18 CLASS AT ROSENEATH

Princess Audrey and Peter V Are Also Winners in 2.12 and 2.25 Classes.

OVER STONG FIELD.

Prize Money Divided Between Silver King and Harry C in 2.30 Race.

ROSENEATH, Oct. 17 (Staff Reporter).—A strong card of 23 horses faced the wire here yesterday at the harness-horse races held under Canadian National Association rules in connection with Roseneath Agricultural Society Exhibition, and provided the fans with a good run for their money, despite the fact that the track was somewhat heavy.

In the 2.12 race Princess Audrey, owned by Dick Scott of Toronto, captured first money with first place in each of three heats. A similar performance was shown by C. Fife's Keendale, who left a strong field in the rear to romp home in first money in the 2.18 class. Not to be outdone, Peter V. won each heat of the 2.25 race.

Roseneath probably boasts one of the best tracks on the rural fairs circuit now, with the alterations that have been carried into effect by an enterprising fair board during the past summer. Where the track used to take an abrupt turn on the inner side of the horse stables, it now takes a wide sweep around them.

The race officials comprised: Messrs. A. Phillips and J. Thomas of Colborne, judges; P. A. Morgan of Campbellford, clerk of the course; C. Armstrong of Havelock, timekeeper; George Cauldwell, Port Hope, starter. The winners of the four races which were as follows, shared in a total purse of $365.

2.12 Class

Princess Audrey	1	1	1
Bud Winger	2	2	2
Lou Gratton	3	4	3
Elaine	4	3	4

Time—2.14, 2.12¼, 2.11.

2.18 Class

Keenedale	1	1	1
Peter Greatworth	2	2	3
Esther Mary Gee	6	6	2
Black Mack	3	4	4

Also ran, Minnie Patcham, Murray Direct, and Furie Mildred.

Time: 2.15, 2.15½, 2.16½.

2.25 Class

Peter V.	1	1	1
Tod Gratton	2	2	2
Betty Winger	3	3	3
Bert Abdale	4	4	4

Also ran, Tilly the Great, Armadale and Frisco Maid were scratched following the end of the second heat. St. Charles started on the final heat, but withdrew before the conclusion of the race.

Time—2.17, 2.16, 2.16.

2.30 Class

The prize money was divided between Silver King and Harry C. Four horses started, but H. B. Todd, who came third in the first heat was afterwards scratched. Great McKinnon, the fourth horse, had a first and two seconds to his credit out of three heats, and in the final heat was withdrawn because of a broken wheel as the horses crossed the starting line.

Time—2.17, 2.16½, 2.16.

BALL USED IN 1901 TITLE GAME FOUND

When Local Team Won the Ontario Intermediate Rugby Championship.

An interesting link with Peterborough's sport past has been discovered by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner, principal of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational school in the form of a rugby ball used in one of the games in which the Peterborough Rugby club won the Ontario Intermediate title in 1901.

The ball was presented to Mr. Kenner who was one of the most prominent supporters of the game in those days and is inscribed with the names of the players of the champions of thirty years ago, among whom were Dr. A. W. McPherson, Dr. Andy Scott, now of London, Hal Burnham, Harold Armstrong, Jack Deannard, Chris Graham, Bert Meagher, Bruce Rickey, Norm Bell, the late Joe Picard, Art Noble, Ed Dillon and other stars of yester year.

In 1901 the Peterborough team, not only won the Ontario title, but also won the Dominion championship by beating Quebec, the champions of that province in a sudden-death game at Montreal.

MONTREAL UNIVERSITY TEAM WINS THE INTER-COLLEGIATE TRACK-FIELD CHAMPIONSHIP

British Guianan Shatters Campbell's Mile Record by 2-5 Second.

WINS TWO EVENTS.

McGill Earns 44 Points Against U. of T's 22 in Eight Track Events.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—With Phil Edwards, the former Canadian Olympic runner, now at McGill, lowering the Canadian intercollegiate mile record by two-fifths of a second, McGill University retained the intercollegiate track and field championship here yesterday before a crowd of 2,000 that watched the fourteen events between heavy showers of rain. Another Canadian intercollegiate record was broken when R. G. Sampson of McGill clipped four-fifths of a second from the 880-yard mark.

The strong Red and White team amassed a total of 64 points and repulsed the University of Toronto squad, which gained 52 points, and the Queen's University contingent which gathered 10 points.

The track was where the locals showed their superiority in the meet and twenty-ninth renewal of the intercollegiate competition. The McGill team earned 44 points in the eight track events to U. of T.'s 22, while it was the reverse on the field, where Toronto outscored McGill by 30 to 22 points. Queen's gained 6 points on the track and 4 on the field.

Edward's Double Win

Edwards and John Hutchins each took two first places for McGill in the track events. Edwards, the British Guianian who ran for Canada in the last Olympics, and who is United States national and intercollegiate ½ mile record-holder, smashed the 19-year-old mile mark set by E. H. Campbell of Toronto in 1912. Edwards covered the distance in 4 minutes and 31 seconds. He won easily and beat R. C. J. Goode of McGill by 50 yards. He raced to a narrow victory in the quarter-mile dash over H. T. Hart, his team-mate, and ran the 440 in 51 3-5 seconds. His time was 1 1-5 seconds slower than his best efforts at the distance. The rain-drenched track and his performance in the mile combined to hold him in check.

Hutchins took both the hurdle events. Despite the slow track, his times were both only one-fifth of a second behind the existing standards. He won the 120-yard high hurdles from Charlie Drew, former Amherst star, now at McGill, in the fast time of 16 seconds. Hickey of Toronto was third, a step behind Drew. In the 220-yard low hurdles Hutchins ran a brilliant race to beat Connolly of Toronto to the tape by only a yard. The "T" runner made a strong challenge in the final strides but Hutchins stove him off. Bourne of McGill was third, two yards behind Connolly.

Adams Captures Sprints

Ralph Adams of Toronto member of the Canadian Olympic team in 1928, took both the 100 and 220 yard dashes without being extended. He was the only one of the eight champions who defended their titles in eleven events to hang onto his laurels. He won easily over Scott of Queen's and Dore of Toronto in the century. In the 220 Adams finished four yards ahead of Scott of Queen's, who was severely pressed by Brown, of McGill.

Racing with a long even stride, R. G. Simpson, of McGill, scored an easy win in the 880 yards event in which he broke the Intercollegiate record by four-fifths of a second. The former Loyola College star ran the distance in 1 minute and 58 3-5 seconds, as compared with the former record of 1 minute and 59 2-5 seconds, jointly held by R.E. Legge of McGill and R. M. Mitchell of Toronto. Sampson took the lead at the start and was closely followed by Bourne of McGill, last year's winner. They raced this way until 250 yards from the finish line when Sampson opened up and gradually increased his margin to win by 25 feet. Stewart of Toronto, was third, just a yard behind Bourne.

Wrestling Last Night.

Kentucky J. Stakes At Latonia To-Day

LATONIA, Ky., Oct. 17.—(CP)—One of the greatest two-year-old fields that ever went to the post at Latonia accepted the challenge today for the rich Kentucky Jockey club stakes, good for nearly 25,000 to the winner.

Eleven starters were named for the one mile dash with all of them down for 122 pounds with the exception of Kakapoo, the lone filly in the field. Her impost was 119 pounds.

It was the 12th running of the stakes, but the first time the event was carded at Latonia. It was transferred here when the fall meeting at Churchill Downs, Louisville, was called off.

YORK COUNTY WINS FOR SECOND TIME

Brant County Close Second in Intercounty Contest.

York County's team of three plowboys won the Ontario Farmer's trophy and the Bank of Montreal trophy by winning first place in the Inter-County plowing competition. It is the second successive victory for York County, having won last year at Stratford. In 1929 Waterloo County's team earned the championship.

Brant County was a close second to the leaders with 256½ points. Victoria County was third with 253¾ points and Peterborough County was fourth with 249½ points.

Fourteen teams competed and the contest proved to be one of the keenest in the whole match.

Results.

1 York—261 points.
2 Brant—256¾ points.
3 Victoria—253¾ points.
4 Peterboro—249½ points.
5 Haltan and Perth (tied)—247¾ points.

Hockey Club Sponsor Johnston Road Show

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 17 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Under the auspices of the Campbellford Hockey Club, Bert Johnston's big magic and fun show will run at the Regent Theatre, Campbellford, for three nights, commencing Thursday, October 22. This is one of the premier road shows of the country and will feature a complete change of program each evening of its engagement in Campbellford.

LINGFIELD, Eng., Oct. 17 (A.P.)—A. L. Macomber's Nitakrit at 7 to 1 to-day won the Lingfield Handicap, over 1½ miles, by two lengths from T. W. Blenkiron's Cheery Lad and thirteen others. The race was worth $2,000.

MILEAGE FACTOR DRAWBACK IN WINNIPEG'S A.A. ENTRY

St. Paul's Status as Member of A.A.B.L. for Next Year Remains Uncertain.

MAY SELL FRANCHISE.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 17 (C.P.)—St. Paul's status as a member of the American Association Baseball League for next year was uncertain to-day, with two Winnipeg residents reported bidding for the franchise for that city.

R. J. Connery, owner of the Saints since 1925, professed not to have heard officially that two Winnipeg sportsmen were prepared to make him a good offer for the local club. Connery said, however, he would be glad to discuss a sale with the men should they get in touch with him.

Connery said to-day that any such change in the circuit would have to be approved by the association's board of directors. Winnipeg is 470 miles north of the Twin Cities and while that town several times has been mentioned as a possible member of the league, the mileage factor has been a drawback.

Should St. Paul's interests be transferred to the Manitoba city, it would mean that one of the charter members would leave its ranks. The same cities are represented now as when the circuit was formed in 1902.

Sports Briefs

Those who braved the inclement weather and stayed around after most of the horseshoe pitchers had withdrawn at the Plowing Match yesterday afternoon were richly rewarded by seeing a new national record made by Joe Golden of Mount Dennis. Joe now becomes singles champion of the Dominion Plowmen's Association, and we'll bet he becomes Canadian champ when he enters the Winter Fair tournament.

Joe scored 209 points out of a possible 300, getting 56 ringers out of 100 shoes. If that isn't record shoe tossing, then we'll eat our straw hat, which is out of date anyway. Golden came all the way down from Toronto with Carl Swanstrom, manager of the Diamond Calk Horseshoe Company Friday morning, because he felt "hot," so he said. Well, he sure must have been "hot," the way he twirled those irons.

It's too bad the weather was so miserable, as it forced most of the entries to withdraw. Of course, none of them could have touched Golden's score, but the players would have enjoyed pitching and the spectators wanted to see more of it. The ladies' singles were very disappointing, only the two Toronto entries appearing.

Both Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Napier, who are prominent horseshoe pitchers throughout the province, that a keen interest in this sport, and are trying to promote it among women in Ontario. Art Moffat, in presenting the prizes yesterday, intimated that a local ladies' tourney would be held here next summer so the women could appreciate the game.

All in all, these tournaments at the Plowing Match have been quite successful despite the weather. Some of the best pitchers in the country have participated, the prizes and arrangements have been good, and to cap it all, we have had a Canadian pitching record made here on the last day.

TO SEEK TRUE BILLS

TORONTO, Ont, Oct. 17. (CP)—On Monday, R. H. Greer, K.C., special prosecutor for the Ontario Government, will seek true bills against as yet unnamed officials who figured in the Royal Commission inquiry into an alleged combine in the motion picture industry. Peter White, K.C., of Toronto, conducted the investigation.

Detroit Contracts Are Unacceptable

OTAWA, Ont., Oct. 17 (C.P.)—Unless more acceptable terms are offered, Alex Connell, Alex Smith, and Hec Kilrea, former members of the Ottawa Senators allotted to the Detroit Cougars following the withdrawal of the Capital's team from the National Hockey League, will not report at the Motor City.

The goalie, defenceman and front line player received contracts from the Detroit club to-day carrying a ten per cent. cuti n salaries. The players declare it would be practically impossible for them to play and pay their way in Detroit at the salaries mentioned in the contracts, and unless more attractive terms are offered they will not leave Ottawa. They are due to report in Detroit on Monday.

Six other Ottawa boys who are members of the Cougars team and subject to the salary cuts, are expected to report in Detroit next week, having accepted the new contracts.

TOWNSEND WINS POPULAR FAVOR

FIGHT WELL RECEIVED.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 17. (CP) A "natural" looms on the fistic horizon. Already Manhattan's faithful are visualizing a torried bout between two of Vancouver's native sons, blonde "Billy Townsend and the uncrowned king of the welterweights, Jimmy McLarnin.

While dynamite laden gloves of McLarnin have carried him straight to the hearts of thousands of fight fans Townsend is just making the grade.

Last night the blonde slugger won" his second start in Madison Square Garden. Officially his bout went into the records as a draw with elusive Paulie Walker, Trenton, N.J., but to the 9,000 fans and most ringside critics Townsend won by a clear cut margin.

The crowd, however, gave their opinion by booing the announcer, Joe Humphreys from the ring when he attempted to announce the decision.

Townsend was given the greatest ovation any newcomer has ever received here as he stepped down from the ring to his dressing room.

Billy started the bout by hammering Walker viciously with straight smashes to the head and body. He earned a decisive margin in the first three rounds. Walker's great boxing skill enabled him to take the fourth fifth and sixth by slight margins but thereafter he was smothered under an avalanche of leather. Townsend rocked his opponent badly in the seventh with a wicked right hook to the body which forced Walker to double and almost take the count.

Walker outweighed Townsend, 147¾ to 143.

Commenting on the fight to-day the New York Times says: 'Townsend deserved the full fruits of victory for, the official decision to the contrary, he won seven of the ten rounds in a demonstration of fighting fury which carried the crowd off its feet."

FORMER CUBS OWNER DIES

63 YEARS OF AGE.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 17 (C.P.)—Charles Webb Murphy, former owner of the Chicago Cubs, who boasted he had "run a shoestring into a million," is dead.

Murphy died at his home here late yesterday, the victim of a stroke of apoplexy suffered last June. He was 63 years old.

Starting his career as a sports writer in Cincinnati, Murphy resigned in 1904 to become publicity director for the New York Giants. While affiliated with the Giants, he learned the Cubs could be purchased, and induced the late Charles P. Taft, former Cincinnati publisher, to advance him $105,000 to buy the club. In 1913, Murphy sold his interests after a storm of protest, which followed his dismissal of Frank L. Chance, the "Peerless Leader," as manager, and later the firing of Johnny Evers, who had succeeded Chance. He engaged Hank O'Day, veteran umpire, to replace Evers.

Murphy was reported to have sold out for the sum of $750,000.

CASUAL COMMENT

The Men's Softball League banquet will be held next Thursday evening at the Empress Hotel, with members of the winning team, the runners-up, the officers and executive of the loop, and a number of guests present. Presentations and speeches will follow the important business of stowing away victuals.

• • • • • •

The Girls' Softball League will probably throw a spread soon, also, after they've held their fall meeting which will be shortly. This loop finished their first year in good style with a nice balance on hand for next year, which is something to brag about these days.

• • • • • •

The Percy Bond Trophy for the Girls' League, won by the Keene damsels, is now on display in The Examiner window. Any team winning it three years becomes the owner. This same cup was used in the former girls' league but no team won it permanently.

• • • • • •

Word from Charles Hallat, Toronto, is that he has signed two pro boxers and is gunning for a number of others, and if successful over the week-end, will put on another fight card here to take place at the Brock next Friday evening.

• • • • • •

At a meeting of All Saints' Athletic Club last night, it was decided to run a smoker in about three weeks' time, with a number of local amateur boxing bouts and other entertainments on the card. The date and the spot for the show will be made known a little later.

• • • • • •

Ted Barry, physical instructor of the Saints' Club, has some twelve or fourteen boys of various weights training regularly and expects to have them ready to go in about two weeks, with other local boxers being used, if necessary.

LOCAL STORE FIRST IN DISTRICT SALES

Tip Top Tailors Well Up in Dominion-wide Contest of Firm.

Unquestionable proof that business conditions in Peterborough and district are as good if not better than those existing anywhere else in Canada, is contained in the fact that the local branch of the Tip Top Tailors came first in a sales contest staged by the firms in Canada for the months of June, July and August.

The Peterborough store was grouped with Belleville, Bloor street Toronto, Fort William, Chatham, Three Rivers, Quebec, Delta Branch, Hamilton, Saskatoon, Guelph, Brandon, College Street, Toronto, and Sault Ste. Marie.

Salesmen at the local store were successful in totalling sales which placed the Peterborough branch in first position in the contest which embraced the whole Dominion.

Referring to the store's success in the competition which closed in August, Ken Sloane, manager of local branch said: "The fact that our sales reached such a high total reflects the excellent business conditions prevailing in Peterborough and district. We had very stiff competition in the contest and it required real work to place our store out in front.

"The people of Peterborough and surrounding points appreciate the value and quality in clothes offered by Tip Top Tailors and sales prove the business is picking up."

ST. PAUL FRANCHISE IS ON THE MARKET

Understood Two Winnipeg Sportsmen Will Take Over American Association Club.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 17.—St. Paul last night faced possibility of being without an American Association baseball team next season after having one yearly since the league was organized in 1902.

To word from Chicago that two wealthy Winnipeg sportsmen, identity as yet undisclosed, would make an offer for St. Paul's franchise, President R. J. Connery replied: "I'll meet them at the station with a band."

Failure of townspeople to support the club at the gate is the reason for Connery's willingness to sell, associates said. This year, with a team that won the Association championship by a wide margin, the club finished with a profit only because it sold six players to major league clubs for delivery next season.

"Little World Series" games also played here failed to attract the attendance club officials expected. The total of the four games here was 22,068.

LESSONS AND PLAY

Lessons and play, Lessons and play
A little of each is the need of each day.
Old Mother Nature

I suspect that they are being watched the family of Mountain Sheep took a sun bath and dozed on a fairly level spot not far from where Farmer Brown's Boy lay hidden. Now and then Bighorn would lift his head for a careful look in all directions. The two lambs fell asleep almost at once, for they were very tired. Mrs. Bighorn dozed. They were so near Farmer Brown's Boy that he could study them to his heart's content.

In general they looked like sheep but never had he seen a ram with such great massive curved horns as those Bighorn wore, and never had he seen sheep without woolly coats. These coats were not of wool at all but of hair. It was not long hair such as Billy Sure-foot the Mountain Goat wore but more like the hair of Lightfoot the Deer.

After a good nap the lambs awoke and began to gambol and play much as he had seen lambs at home do. They would butt each other and push each other about. They would make funny little jumps. One leaped over his thfaer. Once Talons the Eagle sailed for a few minutes high overhead. The lambs saw him and crowded close to their mother.

"There is nothing to fear from him now, my dears, said she. "You have grown so fast that you are too big now for him to attack, but when you were little I had to keep you hidden when he was about. Talons is very fond of tender young lamb. It is a great relief not to have to worry for fear he will get one of you. So go back to your play and don t pay any attention to him.

The lambs went back to play, but presently one came to her again. "If Talons is no longer to be feared who is there to be afraid of? he demanded.

"No one up here, she replied. "That is, no one but a two-legged creature called Man, and then only if he carries a fire-stick. He doesn t appear very often, she added.

"Then there isn t any one for us to really fear?" said the lamb.

"Only Man up here, my dear," replied his mother, "but down below are several who would like a dinner of tender young lamb."

"Who? demanded the lamb.

"Tufty and Lynx and his cousin Yowler the Bobcat and Puma the Panther and Howler the Wolf and Bears," replied Mother Bighorn promptly. "But they do not come up here and even if they did they could not follow us or surprise us on these bare rocks. It is only when we go down where they live that we have to fear any of them."

"Then what do we go down there for?' demanded the lamb. "It seems to me foolish to go down there at all."

"You have much to learn yet, my dear," replied his mother. "We never would go down from our beloved mountain heights if we didn't have to. You have known only summer, but by and by winter will come and bring with it deep snows that will bury all the food up here, and you know we cannot live without food. So we will have to go down among the trees and sometimes way down to the very bottom of the valleys to find enough to eat and protection from the storms. It is then that we will have to watch out every minute of every day and constantly use eyes and ears and noses to keep from being surprised by these enemies who hunt by night and day, for it is the hungry season for them as well as for us. Your father and I have been down there every winter, but we always have come back up here just as soon as we could. -We are mountain people and never happy anywhere else."

Just then his sister rushed up and butted the lamb aside and he promptly butter her in return. Then they kicked up their heels in the funniest way, happy in their play. But one at least had learned lessons that he would never forget and later as they rested side by side he told his sister all that his mother had told him, and they wondered what winter would be like and how it would seem to be always afraid.

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 17th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:45 a.m. to 10 a.m., from noon to 3 p.m., from 5:10 p.m. to 7:15 p.m., and from 9:05 p.m. to 11 p.m. The only danger period is from 3:10 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The morning of October 17th will be, according to the signs, favorable for all honest effort, although nothing will be gained by speculation. There will be experienced an urge to do and to accomplish something worth while, and the necessary opportunity will not be lacking. In the afternoon, there will be sensed a desire for recreation and relaxation. An excellent day for marriage.

Imagination will play an important part in the lives of children born on this October 17th. In early years, they will always be picturing themselves in unexpected and thrilling situations. In later years, the desire to fill important roles will serve as an incentive to egg them on to accomplishment. Their horoscopes denote success, unless handicapped by too early marriage.

You, if born on October 17th, are rather reserved in manner, and do not easily make friends. Your ambition to rise in the world—both socially and financially—is very strong, and, as you have great perseverance, as well as a logical mind, the chances of success are all in your favor. No back seat will ever suit you. Leadership in whatever you attempt, independence of thought, and liberty of action is essential to bring out the best that is in you.

Your nature is a devotional one and you hold original views about religion. You do not at heart subscribe to the tenets or beliefs of any sect or creed. Although determined to prosper as an individual, you are conscious of the difficulties and sufferings of others, and do your utmost to ease and alleviate them. You are very prone to champion the cause of the minority and to espouse the claims of the underdog. Such an attitude does not make you popular with the general public.

Like all those whose thinking is not done for them, and who are courageous enough to hold and express opinions contrary to those professed by the masses, you, at times, feel lonely and isolated. You, also, chafing at hypocrisy or indifference, become suspicious and melancholy. It will be very difficult for you to find an "understanding mate.

"Libra"—October 18.

If October 18th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:45 a.m. to 2 p.m., and from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. The danger hours are from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 9:15 p.m. to 11 p.m.

If impulse is curbed, and kind—rather than unkind—thoughts engendered, this Sunday (October 18th) will be full of contentment and peace, according to the astrological signs. There will be a danger of flying off at a tangent. There will be a desire to say smart things—which smart! These tendencies must be fought and overcome, if harmony is to prevail "at home.

Children born on this October 18th will have idealistic natures, and be very much misunderstood by so-called practical people. They will be stirred by ambition to right a wrong, but never by a desire to benefit themselves; their natures, quickly aroused by injustice, will be gentle and kind. Their horoscope denotes spiritual, but not much material, success.

If born on October 18th, you are intensely emotional, and this is the keynote of your nature in all its phases. In the little things of life—those worries that do not amount to a row of pins—you lose self-control and become, at times, almost unmanageable. In sudden emergencies of a serious nature, you are cool and resolute in action. A real crisis always shows you at your very best.

In a general way, you are a child of Fate. You are destined to suffer curious reverses of fortune, or to be musjudged and calumniated by others. You are more of a mental, that a physical, fighter. Your diplomacy and tact are powerful assets. You can generally succeed in placating an enemy—if you think it is worth your trouble to do so—and are adept in settling disputes between others that they cannot settle themselves.

You are not only respected, but loved, by those who know you well, and your home life is especially happy. Your horoscope denotes, during early years, more than the average amount of illness. You are destined to go through a great deal of trouble, difficulty, and possibly, privation. These obstacles to success will increase your will power, and sooner or later you will "come into your own."

Rink At Espanola Wiped Out By Fire

SUDBURY, Ont. Oct. 17. (CP) The skating and curling rink at Espanola was destroyed by flames early yesterday morning in one of the most spectacular fires ever seen in that town. So intense were the flames that the big building was a total loss within half an hour after discovery of the blaze. The building, which housed the skating area and two curling rinks, was valued at $25,000. The origin of the fire has not yet been determined. Flying sparks endangered the public school, located opposite, and although the hose was kept playing steadily on the school, several large holes were burned in the roof, and classrooms were damaged by water.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE — NO. 6 — By Edgar Rice Burroughs

(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

"I am Tarzan of the Apes," said the prisoner. "I have no quarrel with the Bagegos." One of the guardsmen laughed derisively. "That may be your name," he said. "You men of the Lost Tribe have strange names. Perhaps you have no quarrel with the Bagegos, but the Bagegos have a quarrel with you," and still laughing he left the hut, followed by his companion.

The youth Lukedi remained, apparently fascinated by the prisoner at whom he stood staring as he might have stared at a deity. Tarzan reached for the gourd and drank the milk it contained, and never once did Lukedi take his eyes from him. "What is your name?" asked Tarzan. "Lukedi," replied the youth. "And you have never heard of Tarzan of the Apes?" "No," he replied.

"Who do you think I am," demanded the apeman. "We know that you belong to the Lost Tribe," said Lukedi, "but you do not wear clothes like the members of the Lost Tribe." "What will they do with me?" Tarzan asked. "There is no doubt that you will be burned alive so your spirit cannot haunt us," said the boy. "We do not want you to come back to us in the form of a snake or a lion."

As darkness settled upon the village, Tarzan stretched himself upon the dirt floor of the hut, going immediately to sleep rather than fretting at impending danger. From childhood he had shared with the beasts, among whom he had been raised, the ability to awaken quickly and in full command of his faculties. He awoke now, immediately conscious the noise that had aroused him came from the roof.

500 EXPECTED TO BE PRESENT AT CONVENTION

Baptist Convention for Ontario and Quebec Opens on Monday.

350 DELEGATES.

All Sessions Will Be Held in Murray Street Church.

Five hundred ministers and church workers, it is estimated, will attend the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec to be held in Murray Street Baptist Church throughout next week. It is expected that there will be 350 permanent delegates billeted here during the whole week, and more than 150 visitors from day to day.

The convention will begin Monday morning with a ministers' conference, but the opening session of the convention proper is scheduled for Monday evening. At this meeting a formal welcome will be voiced to the delegates by a representative of the city. The same evening Professor A. L. McCrimmon, LL.D., of McMaster University, Hamilton, president of the convention, will deliver the presidential address.

Outstanding speakers and members of the Baptist Church will speak during the week, bringing inspirational messages of great value.

Rev. H. H. Bingham, D.D., of Toronto, will close the convention with an address, "The Call of Canada." Special stress throughout the convention will be laid on the churches' work during the present depression and the call to great service.

CHARLES STEVENS

Charles Stevens, of Milwaukee formerly of Napanee, Ontario, father of George Stevens, of Ashburnham passed away in Milwaukee to-day from injuries received when struck by a motor car.

Mr. Stevens was one of the oldest dealers in hardwood ashes in America, having been a dealer in Napanee for many years. Another son, Charles, resides in Milwaukee. The funeral will take place Monday in Napanee.

IN MEMORIAM.

WILDMAN—In loving memory of Mrs. John Wildman, who died October 18, 1929.
We are lonesome without you dear Mother,
And sad the weary way;
Our life doesn't seem the same to us,
Since you were called away.

Sleep on, dear Mother, your pain is ended,
Rest in peace, your work is done;
You have gone where those who love you,
Will meet you one by one.
—Always remembered by Husband and Family.

IN MEMORIAM.

SCULLY—In loving memory of Mr. W. E. Scully, who departed this life October 14, 1920
As time rolls on, we miss him more
A loving husband and father kind.
Forever in our hearts enshrined;
Passed beyond all grief and pain
Death for thee is truest gain

For our loss we must not weep
Nor our loved one long to keep
From the home of rest and peace
Where all sin and sorrow cease.

Safely, safely gathered in
No more sorrow, no more sin
God has called thee from our side
Within his keeping to abide.

Waiting for us, up above
Resting in the Saviour's love;
We'll meet again on the golden shore
A united family forever more.

IN MEMORIAM.

DARLING—In loving memory of Raphael Clifford Darling who departed this life one year ago tomorrow Oct. 18 1930
Deep in our hearts lies the picture,
Of a loved one laid to rest
In memory's frame we will keep it
Because he was one of the best —Sadly missed by Father, Brothers and Sister.

IN MEMORIAM.

BOLTON—In loving memory of our dear Mother Mrs Fred Bolton, who passed away on October 17th 1930
We are thinking today of you dear Mother
Thinking of the past,
Picturing you in memory,
Just as we saw you last.

You left behind some aching hearts
Who loved you most sincere
Who never did or never will Forget you, Mother dear
—Sadly missed by daughter, son-in-law and grandchild (Mr and Mrs. Eric Jones).

IN MEMORIAM

DARLING—In memory of a friend Ray Darling, who died Oct. 18, 1930.
To-day I am thinking of some one
Who was honest, kind and true,
Whose smile was as bright as the sunshine—
That some one, Ray, is you.

October will always bring memories of a friend laid to rest;
He will always be in the memory of those who loved him best.
—Inserted by Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. Curry and Mr. Robert Schwab

IN MEMORIAM

BOLTON—In loving memory of Elizabeth Mae Bolton, Lakefield, a dear wife and mother who passed away October 17th 1930.
You left behind some aching hearts
That loved you most sincere.
That never did and never will
Forget you mother dear.

It's not the tears at the moment shed
That tells how a heart is torn.
But the unseen tears of the after years
And the remembrance silently borne.

Our lips cannot speak how we loved you,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say;
God alone knows we all miss you
In the home that is lonesome today.

In our home you are ever remembered,
Fond memories cling to your name;
We who loved you in life dearly
Still love you in death the same.
—Sadly missed by husband and family.

THE LAST NIGHT OF THE BIG KIWANIS EXHIBITION AT THE ARMOURIES
AT 10.30 TO-NIGHT THE DRAW WILL BE MADE FOR THE DE LUXE DODGE SEDAN AND THE FORD COUPE.
Tickets purchased at the last minute have the same chance of drawing either car as those bought a month ago. It's a lucky number draw with no guessing on mileage.
Mose Yokum will be at the piano and the Dumbells pair will surpass themselves this last night. St. Peter's High School Orchestra will also assist in the entertainment and fill the Armouries with stirring music.
The exhibits will remain in place until the show is over. The big hall is filled with them, amusing, attractive, instructive. Don't miss them!
The best prizes of the week will be given out at the games. You will have fun and merriment and many a chance to win.
It's the last night of the Big Fair. Don't miss it!
The proceeds go to a worthy cause.

CANUCK BOAT CROSSES LINE WELL IN LEAD

Travels 36-Mile Course in Five Hours and Fifty-three Minutes.

IDEAL CONDITIONS.

(By A. D. Merkel, C.P. Staff Writer)

C.G.S. LADY LAURIER, By Radio Phone to Halifax, N.S., Oct. 19—The schooner Bluenose of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, defending champion of the North Atlantic fishing fleets, today gave the schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud of Gloucester, Mass., the United States challenger, a sound thrashing in the first complete race of their title contest. Captain Angus Walters, Bluenose's fiery little skipper, drove his big salt-banker around the 36-mile ocean course in five hour 53 minutes, finishing at 2.53.29, Atlantic time, with Thebaud far astern. Only during the first half of the course, sailed almost directly before the wind, did jovial Captain Ben Pine's Gloucester boat seriously challenge the 10-year-old ocean queen. Captain Ben had the advantage at the start, an advantage disputed over the first 6 miles, but after that the Thebaud followed in the Bluenose's wake.

The Thebaud, a small vessel, did not appear hopelessly outclassed off the wind, but once the schooners started back against a brisk northerly breeze, Blunose forced steadily ahead of the contender from Gloucester.

Ideal Conditions.

Conditions to-day were, even her warmest supporters agreed, what Thebaud wanted—a smooth sea and a good sailing breeze, but Bluenose, with all her canvas full, and glinting in the sun, seemed like a thing imbued with life. Thebaud, too heavily ballasted, labored through the sea not at all like the sprightly vessel she should be at less than two years, while Bluenose, the stately matron, glided over the dancing white-flecked waves gracefully as a water sprite.

HASTINGS MAN WINS DODGE CAR

J. Gatfield, King Street, is Winner of Kiwanis' Ford Coupe.

FAIR CLOSES.

Thanking the citizens of Peterborough for their generous support of the Kiwanis' Produced-in-Canada Exhibition that concluded at the Armories Saturday night, Carl S. Browne, chairman of the general committee, stated that a substantial sum would be realized to carry on the under-privileged child work.

Probably the largest crowd of any night during the whole of last week gathered on the closing night, and after the entertainers had concluded a splendid program, the draw took place for the two automobiles and other prizes.

The Dodge De Luxe sedan was won by J. H. Edwards of Hastings, with ticket number 12230; and the Ford standard coupe was won by J. Gatfield, 463 King street, Peterborough, with ticket number 11,493.

After the prize ticket stubs had been thoroughly mixed up in a large churn, the draw was made by a small girl in the presence of two members of the City Police force, President John I. Allan, Carl S. Browne, and Ivor Lillico, members of the Kiwanis Club. A flashlight photograph of the event was taken.

Other prize winners were: Satin Hardwood flooring donated by the Satin Hardwood Flooring Company through the Peterborough Lumber Company or the McDonald Lumber Company, local agents, number 632. One ton of coal donated by W. E. Taylor & Son, ticket number 892. Electric clock, donated by the Kiwanis Club, ticket number 401. Fruit donated by A. Comstock and Son, 6,064. 12 pound ham donated by Canadian Packing Company, ticket number 4,336. 10-pound side of bacon donated by Canadian Packing Company, ticket number 12,009.

World-Famous Inventor Dead

famed the world over as an inventor, died ysterday at his home after a long illness. Mr. Edison, known throughout the entire world, for his invention of the talking machine and the incandescent lamp has been working on a scheme to extract rubber from plants. Thousands of inventions have been credited to this great inventive genius and his passing removes one of the most active minds in the world. Edison was born at Milan Ohio, in 1847.

Farmer is Killed Over Boy's Prank

EDMONTON, Alta., Oct. 19—A childish prank sent E. Lanieau, 63, farmer near Legal, to his death on Friday. The boy told police he had left the hide on the road with the idea of scaring other children.

SATURDAY IS SET FOR AIR PAGEANT

Big Air Meet Will Be Held at Highway Airport on Saturday.

HONOR TO MILLAR.

Arrangements have now been completed for the holding of Peterborough's first air pageant here on Saturday next which is being put on with the co-operation of the Canadian Flying Clubs Association, with headquarters at Ottawa; Toronto Flying Club and under the sponsorship of Peterborough Chamber of Commerce.

This big air meet is to be staged on the proposed airport on the Port Hope Highway, the field having already been approved by Lieut.-Colonel D. J. Joy, district inspector of aviation who flew to this city on a recent occasion with J. F. Crang, secretary of Toronto Flying Club, for the express purpose of looking over the location. A few changes to the field were recommended and these are being voluntarily made by farmers.

The primary object of this air pageant is to give the citizens of Peterborough unusual entertainment of an educational nature. Planes embodying the latest advancements in aircraft design will be at the meet, including planes from the DeHaviland Works at Toronto and the Fleet Aircraft Company of Fort Erie.

$300 IN PRIZE MONEY.

Each Contestant Was Required to Plow One-third of Acre of Land.

The first regional plowing match at Peterborough was held on Wednesday, November 5, 1890, on the farms of James Howden and Alexander Donelly, near the Exhibition Park. And in the class for younger boys that day, Joseph Duffus won third prize in stubble and his brother Michael Duffus fourth.

This match was held under the auspices of the Agriculture and Arts Association of Ontario, and the county of Peterborough, for agricultural divisions 4, 5 and 6, comprising Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Prince Edward, Northumberland, Durham, Victoria, Haliburton, Ontario, York Peel Cardwell and the city of Toronto

The Examiner was reminded of this event by Mr. A. B. Cutting of the staff of "Farm and Dairy," who, some years ago, had prepared an article reviewing the course of plowing in this country for one hundred years. This sketch was published in the weekly "Mail and Empire" of which Mr Cutting was then in charge.

Two other sectional plowing matches were held that autumn one for western Ontario at Hamilton, and the other at Barrie was for the northern counties. In 1891 matches were again held at these three centres.

According to The Examiner's report of that plowing match forty-one years ago, each contestant was required to plow one-third of an acre within 5½ hours. The prize money amounted to $300. In the open class Thomas McLean of York county won first honors, George Marquis of Sunderland second, F Waldron of Lakefield third and William Milliken of Hagerman's Corners fourth. James McNeil of Tyrone was the only other competitor.

The reporter of that day chides the farmers of this district for their lack of confidence and courage in allowing the visitors almost a clear field; apparently the local plowmen were too diffident, about entering the class which was open to all eastern Ontario.

Class two was restricted to those who had not participated in a

CAPONE GUILTY ON FIVE COUNTS TO ASK RETRIAL

Judgment Will Be Given on Tuesday—Maximum is 17 Years.

JAIL IS FAR OFF.

Appeals by Attorneys Can Delay Entrance to Prison for Two Years.

CHICAGO, Ill., October 19 (CP by Ray Brennan).—The next move in Al Capone's fight to keep out of the penitentiary as an income tax violator is up to the gang chief himself, and his attorneys have indicated it will be a motion for a new trial.

The law-harrassed gangster, convicted in Federal Court on Saturday night had a day of grace today—an interlude between his conviction and his day of judgment. To-morrow he will go back to the Federal Court to face Judge James H. Wilkerson, who has indicated he will pass sentence immediately.

The maximum sentence for the scar-faced gangster, who has bossed Chicago's underworld for 12 years, is 17 years' imprisonment, and fines totalling $50 000. The highest sentence ever given out in the so-called gangster-income tax cases, however, is five years against Jack Guzik, Capone's No. 1 helper.

Good Appeal Grounds.

The jury found Capone guilty on five of the 23 counts in two indictments charging him with income tax evasion. Defence attorneys said that in the jury's selection of the guilty counts are unusually good grounds for appeal.

The jurors found Capone guilty of evasion of taxes during 1925 1926 and 1927, and also convicted him of failure to fine tax returns in 1928 and 1929. The charges in the first three years constitute felonies and in the later years misdemeanors.

Legal authorities said that if Capone's attorneys desire to take the case into the higher courts they could delay his entrance into prison for two years, even if in the end the verdict is sustained. Such delay has occurred in income tax cases against other gangsters including Capone's older brother Ralph, they pointed out.

Capone appeared not to be displeased with the verdict. He rushed from his headquarters at the Lexington Hotel to the court room when informed the jury had reached a verdict, and appeared to find enjoyment in the attorney's arguments immediately after it was returned.

GREAT INVENTOR LIES IN STATE

FUNERAL PLANS ARRANGED

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 19—Surrounded by the well worn familiar objects of his daily use, the body of Thomas A. Edison lay in state to-day in the small and unpretentious workroom where for many years he read and thought and made experiments.

Some test tubes, bits of plants he had been using in his search for a formula for the manufacture of rubber, an old desk, many notebooks, and a blue-covered couch where he used to take his rest—these were the background. And over his casket was shed the soft radiance of what the world regards as his greatest invention, the incandescent lamp.

For an hour this morning workmen from his factory passed slowly through the little building just off Main street. They call it the lab. The inventor's son, Charles, was there to receive them. Later the public was admitted and a long line of men and women and children began moving through the quiet room.

The body will lie in state until Tuesday evening. There will be a private funeral service Wednesday in the Edison home, in Llewellyn Park, after which, according to a change of plans announced to-day, all that is mortal of the great in-

Fire Damp Blast Traps 67 Miners; Many Are Dead

HERNE, Wastphalia, Germany, Oct. 19 (A.P.)—Almost the entire shift of 67 miners was temporarily entombed this morning at the Mont Cenis Colliery near here by what was believed to have been an explosion of fire damp.

Although definite information of the number of deaths was unavailable, one report said that 9 dead and 27 injured had been brought out of the mine by noon. Many of the miners, however, were known to have escaped unharmed. Several of the injured were suffering from severe burns.

All available physicians from neighboring territory were called and all rescue squads in the Ruhr Valley were summoned to render first aid.

HIGHWAY CAMPS MAY BE ERECTED IN TWEED AREA

RELIEF PROGRAM.

No Definite Announcement Made, But Route Has Been Chosen.

Construction of twenty-five miles of Highway No. 7 in the Tweed-Kaladar district as part of Ontario's relief program is under consideration by the Department of Highways with the intention, if it is adopted, of giving employment in the southern section of the province instead of concentrating proposed work entirely in the north.

No definite announcement has been made by the Department, but there are reasons for the opinion that this plan may be put into effect. Reports of the goverment's deliberations on various relief schemes have at times suggested road building operations in other parts of the province similar to the trans-Canada highway, but on a smaller scale. Again, the controverted route of Highway No. 7 in the Tweed district has been finally agreed upon. A few days ago it was definitely decided that the road would pass through Actinolite, Kaladar and Perth, and thence easterly to Ottawa. That means the sectional demands and difficulties have been smoothed out, and no community objections remain to retard construction whenever the Department is ready to proceed with it.

25 Mile Stretch

From T. P. Lancaster M.P.P., it was learned to-day that the Government has been discussing a proposal to begin work on approximately twenty-five miles of Highway No. 7 during the present sea-

JAPAN DISLIKES PEACE SCHEMES BY LEAGUE BODY

Claims Evacuation Has Nothing to Do With Negotiations With Chinese.

Deny Army Out of Control.

Briand Will Present New Plan for Solution at Closed Session.

TOKYO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Official circles to-day described as quite unacceptable recommendations of the League of Nations that Japan give assurances that the evacuation of Manchuria will be completed within three weeks and that China and Japan begin direct negotiations toward a solution of the Sino-Japanese controversy beforehand.

It is unfortunate the League still considers the withdrawal of Japanese troops from Manchuria a simple matter. It is the crux of the whole situation, as Japan occupied Chinese territory as a means of self-defense and cannot evacuate in view of the absence of Chinese Government authority which can guarantee Japanese lives and property.

It was also said the League's provision that the proposed negotiations be held in the presence of neutral observations was not acceptable to Japan. Nine other suggestions also were received unfavorable by the Tokyo Kovernment.

Terms Cabled

The Council's terms were cabled to Tokyo by Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japan's spokesman before the League. Inasmuch as Geneva's stand had been anticipated here and Yoshizawa had been informed previously that any such conditions would not be considered, it was not believed that fresh instructions would be sent immediately to the Japanese representative. The Cabinet, however, met to consider the suggestions this morning.

Commenting on reports, the question of evacuating Manchuria was complicated because of the determination of the Japanese army to direct its own affairs, the Foreign Office spokesman said it was not correct to say the army is out of control of Tokyo.

Briand Has Plan

GENEVA, Oct. 19 (A.P.)—The difficulties of Japan and China in Manchuria were in the lap of Aristide Briand, veteran French Foreign Minister and peacemaker, today following rejection last night by the League Council of Japan's reiterated objections to the participation of the United States in the parleys here.

M. Briand announced last night that he had a plan for a solution which he wanted to present to a closed council session to-day, and at the last minute previous arrangements for a public session were discarded.

HOME MAKERS' SCHOOL TO OPEN IN GRAND OPERA HOUSE TUESDAY

Ladies of City and District Cordially Invited to Attend.

SPONSORED BY EXAMINER.

The DeBoth Home Makers' School which is visiting Peterborough this week under the auspices of The Examiner, opens its first school of the series at the Grand Opera House to-morrow afternoon at 2.15 o'clock sharp. It is the foremost school of its kind in America, and the lecturer and demonstrator, Miss Claire Andree, is one of the ablest on the staff. Miss Andree is coming to Peterborough from Winnipeg, where she has just concluded a school for a Winnipeg paper.

The ladies of the city and surrounding district are cordially invited to attend every lecture. The only invitation that is issued is through the columns of The Examiner and there is no admission charge or collection of any kind. Every lady should endeavor to attend all the sessions. The doors will be open at 1.30 and the demonstration starts sharp at 2.15.

Welsh Bros. Rodeo To Stay Three Days

Feel Their Program Warrants Several Good Audiences Before Leaving—Admission Reduced to 25c.

Welsh Bros. Rodeo, which has been showing at Brock Street Rink during the past week, have decided to put on three more shows, tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and hope there will be a good attendance. They believe their show warrants good houses, and as very few Peterborough people saw the show last week, they believe that with the admission price reduced to 25c for any seat and 15c for children, that there will be a good crowd. Few people know that the jumping pony that performs nightly holds the world's record for its class.

Bootlegger Guilty Of Operating Still In North Country

A Two Year Battle of Wits Ended in Police Court When Bruce Freeburn of Bobcaygeon Pleaded Guilty to Operating a Still in Harvey Township.

WILY MOONSHINER HAS TIME AFTER TIME STEPPED OUT OF TRAPS CAREFULLY LAID FOR HIM BY POLICE

Sergeant Zaneth Told Magistrate Langley Government Had Spent $50,000 in an Effort to Catch Freeburn, Who Boasted He Would Never be Caught.

A two-year battle of wits between Bruce Freeburn, of Bobcaygeon, kingpin of Ontario's back-country moonshiners, and Detective-Sergeant Zaneth, ace sleuth of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, ended in Peterborough police court today when Freeburn pleaded guilty to operating a still contrary to the provisions of the Excise Act.

Freeburn, whose wide activities in the moonshining business in the lake district of Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton counties has made him a power to be reckoned with, was caught red-handed Saturday morning by Sergeant Zaneth and a detachment of mounties in a swamp just east of Pigeon Lake in Harvey township as he was engaged in distilling liquor from a big still.

Eluded Traps Laid For Him

For two years and more the R.C.M.P. and the Federal Government agents have sought the conviction of Freeburn for his illicit liquor activities. The R.C.M.P. and Sergeant Zaneth especially had come to consider it almost a matter of honor to convict Freeburn.

Time and time again detachments of mounties, often disguised as tourists, have entered Freeburn's domain, but each time the wily moonshiner had stepped out of the traps so carefully laid for him. Sergeant Zaneth told Magistrate Langley this morning that the Federal Government has spent $50,000 in the effort to catch Freeburn, who often has been heard to boast that "the revenuers will never catch me."

A year ago Freeburn with his two sons and 17-year-old nephew, Sammy Hill, was arrested and charged with selling moonshine. A detachment of mounties under Sergeant Zaneth spent several weeks around Negie's Creek at that time spinning a web of evidence about Freeburn. But Freeburn beat the case although his helpers, including Sammy Hill, were convicted.

BRAND IS GIVEN ONE YEAR TERM

LATER SOLD IT.

Pleading guilty to theft of a car, Fred Brand, this city, was sentenced to one year in the Ontario Reformatory this morning by Police Magistrate Langley.

Brand stole the car from Walter Gosling, of Lindsay, here on October 12, and a few days later sold it to a local barber.

Among the full docket that passed before the Magistrate were three drunks. "We thought it was a funeral coming down George street," stated Chief Newhall, in telling the details of one case. The man had become intoxicated and then proceeded to drive his horse and buggy through the traffic of a busy Saturday night. "Everything was held up proper," commented the Chief.

He along with the other two was fined the minimum $10 and costs.

Reformatory Term

A confessed dope addict, who had been before the court many times previously, pleaded to be sent up north away from the city and out with men. However, the Magistrate decided that the best place for the man's own good was the reformatory for six months. "Thanks," said the prisoner, as he was led away.

Charged with passing a bogus cheque, Leonard W. Priest, of Toronto, pleaded guilty, but explained that he was drunk when he did it. However, the Magistrate was dubious, and at the request of the Crown Attorney, Priest was remanded for one week.

JOHN PENMAN DIES IN PARIS

Was Noted Canadian Manufacturer and Philanthropist—Ill Only Week.

FRIEND OF Y.M.C.A.

PARIS, Ont., Oct. 19—John Penman, noted Canadian manufacturer, philanthropist and layman leader in the Presbyterian Church in Canada, died at his home in Paris shortly after five o'clock this morning following an illness of a week.

He was at one time one of the largest manufacturers of textiles in the Dominion. The deceased came to Paris in 1865.

The late John Penman was born of Scottish parents in New York State, coming to Woodstock, Ont., in 1855, where he remained for three years. When in 1868 his father, Daniel Penman, came to Paris, John went into partnership with W. E. Adams of the Adams Hackin Knitting Co. Two years later Mr. Penman became the sole owner.

In religion Mr. Penman was a Presbyterian and despite his many business activities played no small part in the development of Presbyterianism in Canada. Also when in advanced years, he fought for the retention of the Presbyterian Church of Canada. For a long period he had been an elder, and by his death the church in Canada has lost one of its outstanding laymen. For a number of years he was a Senator of Knox College and on its management committee.

The Y.M.C.A. also found Mr. Penman a great friend. The Paris building, since deeded as a community centre, was erected by him while farther afield in Hong Chow China a Y.M.C.A. was erected the gift entirely of Mr. Penman.

Death Arrives In Deep Sleep, World Mourns

Body of 84 Year Old Wizard Lies in State in Library of His Laboratory Where Many of His 1,300-odd Inventions Were Made.

Burial To Be Made at Milan, Ohio, Near Birthplace After Private Funeral Wednesday in West Orange

Companion for 45 Years. Mrs. Edison Holds Husband's Hand as Curtain Falls Early Sunday Morning, Ending 11 Weeks' Illness.

WEST ORANGE, N.J., October 19 (C.P., by Theodore F. Koop). — Thomas A. Edison in death received to-day the homage of the millions for whom he had made life more comfortable.

The 84-year-old inventor, who died at 3.24 a.m. on Sunday, lay in state in the library of his laboratory. After a private funeral servie Wednesday at Glenmont estate here, Mr. Edison's body will be taken to Milan, Ohio, for burial near his birthplace.

President Hoover hoped to come from Washington on Wednesday to stand at Mr. Edison's bier both as a personal friend and as head of a sorrowing nation.

Mr .Edison slipped quietly from a deep coma into a lasting sleep on Sunday morning. Holding his hand was Mrs. Edison, for 45 years his constant companion. At the bedside were six children.

Had No Desire to Live.

After his death, Dr Hubert S. Howe disclosed that Mr. Edison on learning recovery was improbable, did not desire to live. His life's work done, he did not wish to place an invalid's burden on his family, he said.

His body was carried to the Edison library, scene of his triumphs of invention. It had been many months since he was there, because of his illness. There to-day among the books and test tubes that were so much his life, the body lay in state, where friends and strangers alike might pass by, paying their respects.

Arrangements were made for the library to remain open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. to-day and Tuesday, the bier to be surrounded day and night by a guard of honor, composed of four of Mr. Edison's employees. The personnel was to be charged every fifteen minutes.

The 5,000 employees of the Edison plant and their families were privileged to enter the room an hour earlier than the general public.

Treasure House.

The building, standing only a few blocks from the Edison Llewellyn Park estate, is a treasure house of the inventor's most intimate possessions — a duplicate of his first phonograph model, a bronze bust of Herbert Hoover, a picture of Mr. Edison with Mr. Ford, and similar mementoes. A double balcony almost sags with thousands of scientific and philosophical volumes.

The funeral Wednesday will be on the fifty-second anniversary of Mr. Edison's perfection of the incandescent light. Although his famous Menlo Park demonstration did not take place until December 31, 1879.

His electrical inventions were considered by the snowy-haired genius as the greatest of his 1,300-odd patents, whose value to mankind has been set at $15,000,000,000.

Mr. Edison's death ended an eleven week's illness, which began with a sudden collapse August 1. Saturday afternoon his children, grandchildren, and the servants filed through his room. Silently each looked for a moment at the figure sleeping peacefully on a white bed, at the head of which was Mrs. Edison.

Family Maintains Vigil

Throughout the evening and into the morning's early hours, Dr. Howe and the family maintained their vigil.

The news of the inventor's passing was carried to the reporters by Arthur L. Walsh, Vice President of Thomas A. Edison Industries, Inc.

"Mr. Edison is dead," he said simply. He appeared pale and visibly shaken. Then he read Dr. Howe's formal bulletin: "Thomas Alva Edison quietly passed away at 24 minutes after 3 a.m., Oct. 18, 1931."

Three Are Remanded In Assault Charge

DRUMHELLER, Alta., October 19 (C.P.). — P. Makowick, Oscar Lech, and Nick Kotsinuik, of Wayne, were remanded for trial here on Saturday on a charge of assaulting and causing grievous bodily harm to Al Lievers, of Wayne, on July 26. The trio is alleged to have attacked Lievers when he attempted to organize an independent Miners' Union. Lievers was in hospital several weeks.

WALTER OLSEN IS FINED $300

HAS LONG RECORD

LINDSAY, October 19 (Special to The Examiner). — At a session of the Police Court on Saturday, Walter Olsen, a resident of Coboconk, was found guilty of a breach of the Excise Act by Police Magistrate Jordan, and was fined $300.00, and costs, or seven months in jail. Last week Preventive Officer O'Connell and Provincial Constable Nelson visited the Olsen homestead and found a bottle of "swamp whisky." At the time of the visit Olsen was talking to a couple of men near his home, one of them breaking a bottle, which, the officers believed, also contained liquor. The police had been watching activities around the Olsen home for some time. He has had quite a string of convictions registered against him during the past several years on one occasion during the O.T.A. days being rounded up in Lindsay with a quantity of moonshine in a new car, the machine being confiscated by the authorities.

That the County of Haliburton promises to become world-famed as a radium centre is the opinion of J. S. McKay, an old Victoria County boy but now a resident of Toronto. Mr. McKay formerly lived in Woodville, and is connected with the International Radium and Resources, Limited, which is developing a claim two miles east of Wilberforce. It is believed that actual milling will be under way before the New Year.

Candidate Opens Campaign In Jail

MANCHESTER, England, October 19 (C.P. Cable). — One candidate in the British general elections has opened his campaign in prison. Yesterday several thousand of his supporters carried out a perfectly orderly demonstration outside the prison walls, demanding Flanagan's release.

ELECTION FIGHT GROWS WILDER AS FINISH NEARS

Mosley is Battered Up and Loses Prize Fighter Guard at Birmingham.

SNOWDEN RAPS LABORITES

Thomas and Beaverbrook Both Howled Down at Separate Meetings.

LONDON, Oct. 19 (C. and A.P. Cable)—Great Britain to-day swung into the final week of a general election campaign, marked by increasing turbulence.

Football players and prize fighters were in demand as assistants for beleaguered candidates as political meetings all over the country produced bitter heckling and in some cases fisticuffs.

Sir Oswald Mosley, wealthy young Socialist who heads the new party, took a bodyguard of gridsters and pugilists, including Ted Kid Lewis, one of his candidates, when he addressed a meeting of 15,000 persons in the Birmingham Rag Market last night. But he emerged without his guard and with several bruises and lacerations. Chairs and bottles flew, and police finally prevailed upon the speaker to accept an escort of two policemen away from the place.

Thomas Howled Down.

Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions and Colonies, had an experience at Liverpool similar to that which Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald encountered at Seaham last week. Mr. Thomas was howled down by hecklers shouting traitor and twister, as he attempted to make a speech in behalf of Derwent Hall Caine, son of the late novelist. Mr. Hall Caine is a National-Labor candidate.

Lord Beaverbrook, the Canadian-born newspaper magnate, was unable to make himself heard at a rally at Govan, Scotland. The Clydesiders in fact outdid themselves in making it hot for candidates who did not capture their liking. The meeting of a Labor candidate at Shettleston Cross, Glasgow, was broken up by Communists, police escorting the candidate to the safety of a bus. Miss Catherine Gavin, a Conservative candidate, who carries a troop of stewards to maintain order at her meetings, lost one of them to a hospital in a fray at Cambuslang. At Grangemouth a Labor speaker was interrupted so often he finally stepped down from the platform and himself tossed a heckler out. Two groups of Communists engaged in a verbal battle in Glasgow and threatened to bash each other on the jaw.

Snowden Widens Gap

Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer who is retiring from Parliament, still further widened the gap between himself and his erstwhile colleagues of the Labor party when in a radio address Saturday night he declared the Labor party's platform was the most fantastic and impracticable ever put before the electors.

Polling takes place on Oct. 27, for 548 seats out of the 615 in the House of Commons. Sixty-seven members have already been elected by acclamation—61 supporters of the National Government and six Labor opposition members.

BALKAN POWERS SEEKING PEACE

EXPECT 150 DELEGATES.

ISTANBUL, Oct. 19 (AP)—A second Balkan peace conference is to meet here to-morrow with the avowed purpose of transforming the Balkan powder keg into a peninsula of amity.

The character of the meeting will be unofficial and advisory, like that of the first conference which met in Athens in October last year. There will be about 150 delegates, from Greece, Bulgaria, Yugo-Slavia, Albania, Rumania and Turkey. The sessions will be held in the Dolma Bagthice palace, the dwelling place of the last of the Caliphs.

The chief problem will be that of minority populations in the post-war Balkan geography, although the conference will also discuss the formation of a Balkan customs union, transportation, communications, co-operative agriculture and sanitation problems.

Boats owned by the government now outnumber private craft in Poland.

RIOTS CLIMAX FIERY SESSION OF HITLERITES

One Killed, Many Injured, in Bloody Clashes Over Week-end.

PREDICT REPUBLIC'S FALL.

Over 100,000 Followers Take Part on Field Day—Have People's Support

BRUNSWICK, Germany, Oct. 19.—(AP)—More than 100,000 brown-shirted followers of Adolph Hitler, fiery young prophet of German Fascism, went home from here to-day after a field day, their ears ringing with Hitler's prediction that German republic is soon to fall.

A series of bloody clashes in which one man was killed and more than a score injured marked the week-end demonstration.

The Nazi chief attacked the Government of Chancellor Heinrich Bruening in an address that climaxed a parade in which he uniformed thousands marched, exchanging the Fascist salute, and requiring nearly seven hours to pass the reviewing stand. August Wilhelm, son of the former Kaiser was on the platform.

Although Chancellor Bruening was given a vote of confidence by the Reichstag last week over National Socialist and Nationalist opposition, and left with virtually dictatorial powers by the legislature's adjournment until next February, Hitler declared today:

We have the people behind us. We need no emergency decrees. We do not need the police or the Reichstag.

Twenty-four new Nazi Swastika flags were dedicated during the exercises and Hitler predicted that these would last until our final victory.

Joseph Goebbels, Berlin Nazi leader, predicted that Chancellor Bruening's government would fall within six weeks. If elections were held now, he said, we could capture 200 seats in the Reichstag.

Linton Shillinglaw Is Honored By Staff

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 19.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — After ten years' service as operator at the Healey Falls Hydro-Electric Power Commission's plant and upon his removal to Chats Falls, near Ottawa, where he has been promoted to shift chief operator, Linton G. Shillinglaw and Mrs. Shillinglaw were the recipients of the gift of an occasional chair from the Campbellford district Hydro employees as an expression of their regret at the departure of one of their staff and his family and in token of the esteem in which they are held.

Mr. Shillinglaw is a returned man, having served in France with the 31st Edmonton, Alta., Batt., in which unit he enlisted. After the war he was employed for some time with the Massey-Harris concern in Toronto, joining the Hydro staff in 1921.

SMALL BOY DROWNED

SHELBURNE, N.S. October 19 (C.P.). — Spencer Bower, nine-year-old son of James Bower, of Upper Ohio, was drowned when his canoe upset in a lake shortly before noon to-day.

Lake Erie Fishing Will Be Improved

ALBANY, N.Y., Oct. 19 (CP)—Lake Erie fishing will be improved as a result of the conference recently held by Canada, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Ohio Conservation Commissioner Henry Morgenthau, Jr., believes.

Mr. Morgenthau said to-day the conference proved the poor fishing of recent years was due almost entirely to excessive and unwise commercial fishing.

The chief offender, he said, had been the bull net 25 feet deep, with which fishermen covered large areas from top to bottom.

Murders His Father, Killer Gets 10 Years

SPRINGHILL, N.S., Oct. 19 (CP) Alfred Rose, who caused the death of his father Alex Rose of Springhill, by striking him over the head with a chair in the course of a family quarrel, will serve ten years in Dorchester penitentiary. He was convicted of manslaughter in Supreme Court last week and sentenced by Mr. Justice Paton on Saturday.

Beat This One!

TRENT RIVER, October 19 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mr. John Thompson found a mangel while digging in his garden one day recently, the weight of which tipped the scales at 23 pounds, and it measured 36 inches in length.

First Snow Falls At Campbellford

CAMPBELFORD, Oct. 19. — (By Examiner Staff Corespondence).—The first snow of the season fell in Campbellford on Saturday afternoon, bringing with it a foretaste of approaching winter. Although falling all afternoon one settled on the ground despite the fact that a severe drop in the temperature in the morning heralded the commencement of the skating season.

Handicraft Museums Suggested To Gov't

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 19. (CP) The establishment of a medium in which to house a permanent exhibition of Canadian handicrafts was suggested by Dr. Victor Morin, president of the Antiquarian and Numismatic Society of Montreal, at the formal opening of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild annual exhibition, at the art gallery, here over the week-end. The construction of the museum should be undertaken by the Government said Dr. Morin. It was his opinion that such an institution would be not only a source of interest and education to the public, but an encouragement to the development of home arts throughout the country.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

Special Services Are Being Conducted at Indian River.

INDIAN RIVER, Oct. 19.—Special evangelistic services are being held in the Baptist church here each evening at 8 p.m. The Gospel message is being preached by the Misses Dorman and Edwards.

Couldn't Work On Account of Pains

"I used to have such pains in my back," writes Mrs. M. Thompson, Warden Junction, Stettler, Alta. "I could hardly do any work. The worst was when I did my washing and had to bend over the tub. I had no ambition for anything. I tried three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and I found them wonderful. I am doing all my own work now."

To be assured of good health the kidneys must be kept in good working order all the time. Dodd's Kidney Pills strengthen weak kidneys. 200

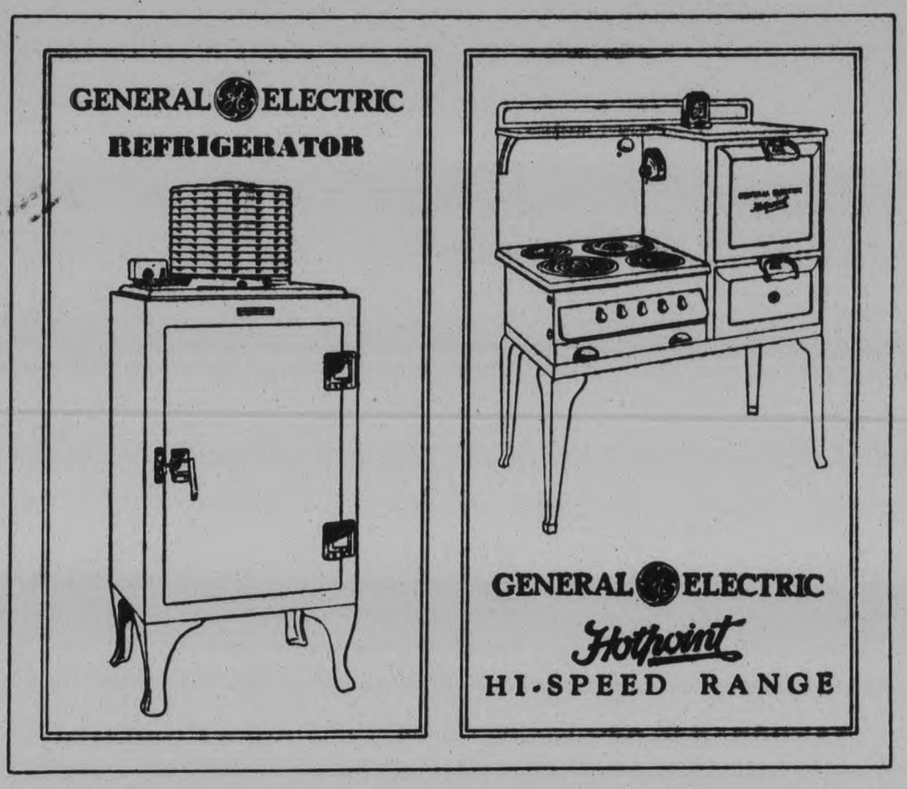
Police Investigate Attempted Robbery

LINDSAY, October 19 (Special to The Examiner). — Provincial Constable Nelson was called to Coboconk on Saturday to investigate an attempted robbery at the branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in that village. The caretaker of the bank when reporting for duty in the morning, discovered that the rear door of the bank had been jimmied and access gained to a hall. Entrance to the bank proper was then made through a side door from the hall. The two handles on the large safe had been broken off, and efforts had been directed towards smashing the hinges.

The robbers became alarmed at something and beat a retreat. Whatever tools or instruments used in the attempted robbery were carried off, so the police have no substantial clues to work upon. Nothing is missing from the bank.

See the Demonstrations of GENERAL ELECTRIC PRODUCTS



NOTE the time and place below and make arrangements to come with your friends to see the practical demonstrations of the General Electric Hotpoint Range and the General Electric Refrigerator.

With the aid of this modern Range and Refrigerator, a noted home economist will show you how simple it is to prepare deliciously-cooked meals — varied by cakes and pies, frozen desserts and sherbets that are the pride of any home-maker.

You will be particularly interested in the time-saving convenience of Hi-Speed Elements, Super-Automatic Control and other exclusive features of the General Electric Hotpoint Range. And you will appreciate such important advantages as Sliding Shelves, the sanitary Super-Freezer and the money-saving Monitor Top of the General Electric Refrigerator — the refrigerator that actually pays for itself out of your savings in food bills.

Be sure to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to become better acquainted with General Electric servants for the home.

PALE AND SICK, BUT DIDN'T KNOW WHY

So she went from bad to worse. But Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (tonic) brought her back to health.

"A FEW years ago, before I was married," writes Mrs. Fred McClelland, Desbarats, Ontario, "I was ailing for over a year. I really didn't know what was wrong with me, because parents, at that time, thought young people should never be sick. I had no blood, and was so pale! If I went upstairs I would have to sit down when I reached the top. Finally a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills . . . I took them, and had the color come back to my cheeks, and I looked myself again."

"I looked myself again." (Sgd.) Mrs. Fred McClelland.

There is a scientific explanation for the remarkable results brought about by Dr. Williams' Pink Pill (tonic). The iron and other elements in the pills increase the amount of haemoglobin or oxygen-carrying agent in the blood. This has been proven by official hospital tests.

The increased oxygen re-vitalizes the tissues just as a draft of air kindles a fire. The result is renewed health—better appearance—greater happiness.

Go to a drug store today and get a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Don't put off this wise decision. Be sure to say "Dr. Williams'" so that the druggist will know exactly what you want. 50 cents a package. 24

A WORLD LOSS.

With the passing of Thomas A. Edison yesterday the world lost one of its great citizens and brightest minds.

Edison's name, a household one in all quarters of the globe, was peculiarly well known in our own city because it was associated for many years with our largest industry; by many an old-timer, indeed, the Canadian General Electric Company's plant is still thought of as the "Edison" works.

To his creative genius and scientific mind modern civilization owes an enormous debt.

Because Edison lived we can, by merely turning a button, illuminate our homes more brightly than the sun at noon day can accomplish the feat.

Because Edison lived living conditions have enormously improved and laborous operations have become merely a matter of moving a switch.

No inventor in the world's history, in short, has ever touched the lives of human beings at so many points and with so much benefit as did this hard working, persistent genius whose career was a series of triumphs, each of them reacting to the advantage of the world at large.

THE HOME-MAKERS' SCHOOL.

The Examiner's Home-makers' School, which opens to-morrow afternoon in the Grand Opera House, has been arranged by this paper as a community service in line with The Examiner's general policy of seeking to work for the welfare of the city and district it serves.

Its object is to aid its women readers, upon whose shoulders the responsibility of managing household affairs falls, to tackle their duties with the assurance that comes with scientific knowledge of culinary and other household problems.

It is not a money-making scheme in any sense of the words—there will be no admission charge or special invitation, but the school is open to every woman who cares to attend, and The Examiner would be delighted to see the Opera House crowded during the four afternoons.

Miss Claire Andree, who will be in charge, is recognized as an expert who out of her vast store of knowledge is certain to leave with the housewives of this district a large number of helpful suggestions that will add to the comfort of the home and contribute to the well-being of the whole family.

The women of the city and district are most cordially welcome, and they are asked to note that the only invitation is through the columns of The Examiner.

THE FUR BUSINESS.

Although residents of Ontario know that the fur trade is a most important industry, they may be surprised to learn that this Province, according to a report just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, is responsible for nearly one-quarter of the total fur production of the Dominion.

Among the Provinces, Ontario occupied first place in order of value of raw production in 1929-30, its output being valued at $2,880,039. Quebec is second is importance with a total of $1,658,381, followed by the Northwest Territories with $1,632,446, Saskatchewan with $1,328,545 and Alberta with $1,174,163.

The following percentages show the relationship which each Province bears to the total value of raw fur production in Canada in 1929-30: Ontario, 23.69; Quebec, 13.64; the Northwest Territories, 13.43; Saskatchewan, 10.93; Alberta, 9.66; British Columbia, 6.98; Manitoba, 6.66; Prince Edward Island, 5.32; Nova Scotia, 4.37; New Brunswick, 2.89, and the Yukon Territory, 2.43.

In Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan the muskrat is of chief importance as a fur producer, while in the Maritimes, in Quebec and Alberta the silver fox ranks highest in the total value of pelts. In British Columbia the beaver is first; in the Northwest Territories, the white fox, and in the Yukon Territory, the martin.

It will be seen, therefore, that the somewhat humble muskrat, trapped so plentifully in our own district, is responsible for putting Ontario at the top of the ladder as a fur producer.

As a matter of fact, during the year reviewed Ontario produced 643.99 muskrat pelts at a total value of $759,919.

Just in passing it may be mentioned that the far from sweet smelling little animal, the skunk, contributed appreciably to the fur wealth of Ontario during 1929-30, for the bureau reports 72,667 pelts, valued at $92,287.

HIGHWAY PROBLEMS.

It is reported that the Ontario Government intends to attempt to bridge the gap between its expenditures and revenues by making a flat raise of $5 in the cost of all automobile licenses.

Most people will regard this as a step in the wrong direction.

If additional revenues are to be secured from automobile owners—and they would seem to be contributing very generously now—these revenues should be proportionate to the use made of the highways by the owners.

In other words, the gas tax, and not the license fee, should be the instrument used.

According to the Citizens' Research Institute, the current expenditures, including debt charges on highway debentures of all Provinces for highway purposes, amounted in 1927-30 to $51,871,962, while revenues collected from motorists totalled $40,072,799.

The time is rapidly approaching, it would seem, when the automobile owner will be contributing more revenue than is being expended for highway maintenance and debt charges, which raises the interesting question of whether, when this point is reached, the excess should be used for general purposes or applied only toward capital expenditure for highway purposes.

Another important angle, of course, is whether or not the stage has been reached when highway improvement ceases to be a benefit and becomes a burden, when the economic benefit brought about by improved accessability is less than the taxes caused by highway improvements.

TOO MUCH SPEED.

Two German fliers plunged to death in the mud banks of Cobiquid Bay, Nova Scotia, this week in a vain attempt to establish a new record of transoceanic mail delivery. With them went 1,000 pieces of mail, the value of which probably never will be determined.

Catapulted from a German liner in mid-ocean, these fliers landed on Nova Scotia soil refueled their machine and slid away in the inky darkness of midnight with New York as their destination. Something happened, and for the last day or two passing ships have been picking up parts of the wrecked plane.

Just where this speed craze is going to end is a question that might warrant some honest thinking. Almost daily lives are being sacrificed on the altar of speed and for what purpose? One country builds a fast aeroplane and mechanical experts in another country go into a huddle to devise ways and means of making something faster. One vessel clips a few minutes off the record of another in a trans-Atlantic crossing and other nations are not satisfied until they have spent millions of dollars to regain a record that doesn't amount to a hill of beans.

No, we don't want to return to the days of the ox-cart. The modern and safe modes of transportation have played their part in shortening distances. There is no need to return to the days of the ox-cart and the tallow candle to find happiness and contentment. Just keep the accelerator from continually touching the floor board. Take time to look around and see if you can do a good turn. It's more soothing to the nerves and satisfying to the conscience.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

AN ONTARIO PROBLEM.

Norfolk, Elgin and Oxford tobacco growers have this year produced the largest and finest crop in the history of their comparatively new industry. They worked hard, mortgaged their futures, gambled with the weather and won. But that was only half the battle. They are losing in the second round, which has to do with price.

Naturally there is indignation among the growers. They think it a shame that they should be so badly treated by the buyers representing the great tobacco manufacturing companies. We sympathise with them. We think it is a shame, but how can anything else be expected? The farmers can grow tobacco, but they have nothing to do with the marketing. And the marketing, as the present situation shows, is every bit as important as the growing.

Several years ago strenuous efforts were made to form a tobacco growers' marketing pool in this Province. These efforts were a dismal failure. Politics, suspicion, distrust, the antagonism of the buyers and other factors entered in. The pool got nowhere. Today the growers are wishing that it had lived and was operating in their interests now.

We notice that the tobacco men are looking to Ottawa to assist them, and we know that Mr. Bennett will do his best. One of their suggestions is for a lowering of the excise on Canadian cigarettes in order to encourage consumption and discourage importation, legal and otherwise, of foreign-made cigarettes. That is a good idea. The Star has advocated it for years. Another suggestion is for drastically increasing the duty on unmanufactured tobacco from the United States. The present duty is 40 cents a pound for the unstemmed and 60 cents for stemmed, coming in. Make the rate sky-high, the growers say, and keep this American tobacco out, for the sake of the Canadian growers.

This thought occurs to us: If Canadian tobacco manufacturers can afford to buy American tobacco and then pay a duty of 40 or 60 cents a pound on it, how is it that they cannot afford to pay Canadian growers a price for the Canadian product that will give the Canadians a chance to get out on top and even to make a reasonable profit? And another question, why is it necessary to import any tobacco of the same varieties that we grow so successfully in Canada? There may be good answers to both these questions; we should like to hear them.—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Still that Varsity defeat at McGill Saturday cannot be marked against Rev. Canon Cody. He doesn't take office until next year.

Canadian apples are in demand in the British market—a condition that means a great deal to many fruit growers in Ontario.

From what he has said so far on his political tour, it is suspected that Mr. Hepburn is not satisfied with the Henry Government.

The British elections resemble a sprint rather than a marathon. And in a short dash a good deal depends upon the start.

Those 503 entries at the matches here last week have at all events sold Eastern Ontario to the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

COUNTY RATE INCREASE.

To the Editor of The Peterborough Examiner.

Sir,—In the Havelock Standard there appeared a reference to the rates for 1931 for Belmont and Methuen Townships, citing 60 6-10 mills being a raise from 1930 due to county raises in 1931.

There are raises in county rates and reading in the ordinary way, it would be inferred that such raises are due to county legislation, when such is not the proper inference to draw.

The increases appear in county rates as a result of obligations set out in the various Acts of the Legislature, increases as follows:

Levy for school purposes, 1930, $25,236.58; Levy for school purposes 1931, $30,283.08; increase $5,046.50.

Levy for administration of justice for 1930, $19,000.00; Levy for administration of justice, 1931, $20,000.00; increase $1,000.00.

Levy for Old-age Pensions, Mothers' Allowances, Indigents, 1930, $17,665.00; Levy for Old-age Pensions, Mothers' Allowances, Indigents, 1931, $20,188.16; increase $2,523.16.

Yours respectfully,

ED. M. ELLIOTT, Treasurer.

UNEMPLOYMENT BEING PROVIDED FOR.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Expenditure that would be desirable and essential and relieve the municiaplities for some years in so far as those roads are concerned. Work could be proceeded with under the County Road Commission and continue up to at least the New Year. Probably longer, and could be started immediately and such work could be carried out by day labor. Road construction as follows:

From Gannon's through Ennismore to Fowler's Corners, 15 miles	$ 75,000.00
From Lakefield to McCracken's Landing through Douro and Dummer, 15 miles	75,000.00
From Lakefield to Burleigh Falls through Douro and Smith, 11 miles	55,000.00
From 6th Line Douro to Warsaw, 5 miles	25,000.00
From Havelock north through Belmont (new road) 6 miles	30,000.00
From Keene, through Otonabee and Asphodel to Hastings village, 12 miles	60,000.00
From Bobcaygeon, running alongside of Galway and Harvey to Kinmount (that is the north 9 miles)	27,000.00
	$347,000.00

When provision is being made at other places to perform work with Government and other assistance, Peterborough County might well endorse and solicit such.

It might not be deemed advisable to carry out all of said expenditures but the most important and immediately necessary are the road through Ennismore; the road from Hastings to Keene through Asphodel and Otonabee; part of the road from Lakefield to McCracken's Landing requires extra expenditure, also Galway road to Kinmount and the newly assumed road in Belmont.

The present annual rate will take years to come to bring those roads equal to their traffic, but unemployment would be provided for and as stated the above would be necessary outlay and be beneficial to the whole county having filled in such gap.

A County Rataepayer's Suggestion.

A THOUGHT.

TRIFLES

The great Italian sculptor, Michael Angelo, was once visited by an acquaintance, who remarked, on entering the studio, "Why, you have done nothing to that figure since I was here last." "Yes," was the reply, "I have softened this expression, touched off that projection, and made other improvements. "Oh," said the visitor, "those are mere trifles." "True," answered Michael Angelo, "but remember that trifles make perfection; and perfection is no trifle." In like manner, the highest form of devotion to Christ consists in fidelity to apparent trifles.

DAIRY BOARDS ....

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 19.—(Special)—At Saturday's meeting of the Belleville Cheese Board, 1,535 boxes of white cheese were boarded, and all sold at 11 1-16c.

PRODUCE GRAIN, CATTLE,

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—Receipts in Montreal showed a drop last week as compared with the previous week in butter, eggs and cheese. The figures are: Eggs, 6,265, compared with 9,248 a week ago; butter, 10,781, against 11,971, and cheese, 23,556, against 30,998.

The egg market scored substantial advances during the week, while butter and cheese eased fractionally. Potatoes were unchanged.

Eggs to retailers were advanced 4c to 6c per dozen on top grades of fresh and 2c per dozen on top grades of storage. Seconds held about the same. Another advance is to be made tomorrow morning, announcement being made Saturday that top fresh eggs will be 2c higher, while storage will be 1c to 2c up.

Scarcity of Offerings

Carlot prices of fresh eggs moved upward owing to the scarcity of offerings. Arrivals were quickly snapped up and at the end of the week it was difficult to locate any large lot of fresh eggs. The general Montreal carlot market was 43c to 45c; for extras, 34c to 36c for firsts and around 20c for seconds at the close of the week.

The butter market was mostly 19½c to 19¾c for carlots of Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized, while small lots to retailers were 21c to 22c for solids and 22c to 23c for prints.

The cheese market ended the week mostly 11¾c for Ontarios and 11¼c to 11¾c for Quebecs.

The potato market ruled steady, quotations per 30-lb. bags of No. 1 stocking being 30c to 40c for Quebecs; 45c to 50c for New Brunswick Cobblers, and 50c to 55c for New Brunswick Green Mountains.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Every grain on the list went higher in price Saturday, wheat to the topmost point reached in several weeks. A big export call for wheat from North America chaperoned the advance. Particular attention was also given to reports suggesting a heavy decrease of domestic winter wheat acreage for the 1932 crop.

Wheat closed firm, ⅞c-1¾c up; corn and oats both ½c-⅞c advanced, and provisions varying from 2c decline to an aqual gain.

Closing prices in wheat were as follows: October ⅝c higher at 56½c. November ⅝c higher at 56¾c December ⅞c to 1c higher at 56½c, May ⅝c higher at 59⅝c.

Persistent, if not aggressive purchases by traders with direct Continental connections accounted for the strong market. Moreover, hedging pressure was not quite as heavy as on previous days, though a fair volume of wheat was offered in the pit. Steady accumulation of supplies by large export houses appeared to be continuing.

Final quotations at Liverpool, rising in sympathy with Canadian and Argentine markets, were ¼d to ½d higher per 100 pounds. Buenos Aires, however, closed ⅞c to 1c lower per bushel. Broomhall confirmed the sale of several dull cargoes in the Orient from Vancouver.

Top grade demand in cash wheat continued good, and spreads were generally unchanged to better, with No. 3 Northern leading. Offerings confined mostly to odd lots, were light, but durums were in good demand, though sales were restricted due to light offerings.

FENELON FALLS RELIEF.

LINDSAY, Oct. 17.—As a result of a visit from members of the local municipal council to J. A. Ellis at Toronto a short time ago, the sum of $2,500 has been granted from the deypartment for unemployment relelef work at Fenelon Falls during the winter.

A switch tower with all iron parts welded together has just been completed in the Stendal, Germany, railway station, and is said to resist practically all vibration.

"SHIP-BY-RAIL" ASSOCIATIONS

The suggestion made by President Mosher in the July Bulletin and the July issue of the Monthly, with regard to the formation of "Ship-by-Rail Associations" has met with a splendid response all over Canada. Action had already been taken at London, Stratford and some other Ontario points but when the idea was made more generally known, it was recognized by railway employees in other provinces as a medium for efefctive co-operation.

Reports have been received from Truro, N.S., that a "Ship-by-Rail" campaign is under way, and considerable publicity has been obtained. At Moncton, N.B., the representatives of other railway Labor organiaztions were fonud to be heartily in accord with the "Ship-by-Rail" plan, and it is expected that good work will be done in that important centre.

Several Divisions at Toronto have discussed the proposal, and while conditions there are somewhat different from those in other cities, a speial effort is being made to bring the railway organizations together so that they may use their united strength in such a manner as will regain and retain traffic for the railways.

Division No. 119, Allandale, has done exceptionally good work in promoting the establishment of an association there. At the organization meeting, there was a good attendance from the various railway unions, as well as five railway officers, and a representative committee was elected.

At Ottawa, a committee has been appointed by "Progress" Division No. 110, to arrange for a meting with representatives of other organizations, and to co-operate in the formation of an association at that point.

A committee was also appointed by "Queen of the West" Division of the local situation is being made. No. 43, Regina, and a serious study with a view to carrying on a strong campaign in favor of the railway service.

CHEESE FACTORY BURNS.

LINDSAY, Oct. 17.—A mysterious fire destroyed the factory of the East Emily Dairy Comapny, formerly known as the East Emily Cheese Factory. The flames started in the east side of the frame structure and quickly swept through it. A frame stable also was burned.

MUSKEG DELAYS ROAD BUILDERS

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS.

HAVELOCK, Oct. 19 (Examiner Correspondence) — Workmen engaged in construction of the new highway No. 7, are encountering unforseen delay in the work about four miles west of Marmora. Immediately to the west of the large rock cut near Boyd's Hill a large area of the right-of-way is undermined by muskeg, the greatest barrier to road building. Although great quantles of rock have been used as filling, the roadbed is still considerably below the required level, and continues to sink.

Large trees to the north of the right-of-way have been forced out of position by the muskeg heaving up beyond the fill. There is a great deal of work to be done at this point as large quantities of rock have to be blasted immediately to the east of the soft spot. All the turns in the road are being eliminated, and when this highway is completed it will be a really scenic drive, as a large part of it is through hardwood bush, which at this time of year is in the full glory of Autumn tints.

Following are the new books recently purchased by the Library Board and now available to readers:—The Blue Window, Temple Bailey; Greatheart, Ethel M. Dell; Belle Mere, Kathleen Norris; Silver Maple, Marion Keith; Tarzan the Terrible, Edgar Rice Burroughs. Bitter Heritage, Margaret Pedlar. Now It Can Be Told, Sir Philip Gibbs; The White Prophet, Hall Caine; The Runner, Ralph Connor; The Three Just Men, Edgar Wallace; Indian Knights, Isabel Ecclestone Mackay; Wild Geese, Martha Ostesso; With Lawrence in Arabia, Lowell Thomas; That Printer of Udell's, Harold Bell Wright; Adventures in Arabia, W. B. Seabrooke; The Sea Devil, Lowell Thomas; The Door of Death, Estevan; Lo Michael, Grace Livingstone Hill; Duskin, Grace Livingstone Hill.

The library fee for the balance of the current year has been set at 25 cents to give those who have not yet patronized the library a chance to do so at small cost.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 19. —(C P)—Stocks made narrow fluctuations in a dull market today and closed with nominal changes, mostly higher. Copper shares were bid up for a time in the afternoon, helping other groups moderately, and enabling the rails to overcome early heaviness. American Telephone, Du Pont, American Smelting, Kennecott, Anaconda, Rock Island and Continental Can rose a point or so net and Howe Sound 2 points. U. S. Steel and American Can showed fractional advances. Transactions were well under 1,000,000 shares.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19.—The establishment of October 18 as a National Holiday in memory of Thomas A. Edison was proposed today by the Chicago Board of Trade Post of the American Legion.

SIR RONALD BACK TO WORK.

NEW YORK, N.Y., October 19 (C P.). — Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador to the United States, returned to-day from Great Britain where he passed his annual 60-day leave of absence.

He declined to discuss economic or political conditions in Great Britain beyond saying there was apparently no increase in unemployment.

He said he would leave to-day for Washington.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, ILlls., Oct. 19 (C.P.) —Wheat prices underwent an early setback to-day after a show of firmness at the start. Word of increased stocks of wheat at Liverpool was a handicap to bulls. Opening unchanged to ¾ cent up; wheat later declined all around to below Saturday's finish. Corn started a shade lower to ¼ higher, and subsequently sagged.

EXCHANGE RATES.

TORONTNO, Ont., October 19 (C. P.). — To-day exchange rates on the British pound sterling and the Canadian dollar were quoted as follows:

The pound sterling at Montreal 4.36.

The Canadian dollar at New York 89 5-16.

Wallace's Campaign is Growing Warmer

BLACKPOOL, England, Oct. 19. —(C. P. Cable.)— Edgar Wallace, who is Liberal candidate for Blackpool in the present general electino campaign, is displaying emphatic resentment not only against tariffs but against his Conservative opponent's allusions to his activities as a writer of novels. With Sir Walter De Frece, formr Conservative member, retired, the contest is a straight fight between Mr. Wallace and Captain Erskine Bolat, Conservative.

Captain Bolat has not told us just what he does except he is a retired army officer, Mr Wallace said to-day. That doesn't sound very active. If I have more imagination than he why should he reproach me?

PARIS BOURSE FIRMER.

ART EXHIBITION TERMED RACKET

Seven Artists Open Gallery in New York in Opposition to French.

BECOME BIG BUSINESS.

(By Lorena A. Hickok)

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 19—Seven artists, who charge that the exhibition and distribution of art both in Europe and in the United States has become largely a racket in the hands of French dealers, opened their own gallery in New York to-day.

They have taken a five-year-lease on a small gallery in a mid-town hotel, and there they will show their own work and the work of the fellow out in Texas, or Montana, or Ohio, who, they explain, finds it almost impossible to get a showing in New York.

"The trouble with the situation at present," said Anatol Shulkin, a member of the executive committee, "is that it is controlled almost entirely by the French.

"Art has become big business in France—somebody referred to it recently as 'France's great oil industry.' It is a $200,000,000-a-year business, as a matter of fact..

Styles in Same Quandry

"It is the same as it is with styles. We think it must come from France to be any good. I personally know of a United States style designer who has had to send his stuff to Paris, to get the Paris trademark on it, before he could dispose of it in this country."

"We have no quarrel with French Art or French artists. As a matter of fact, French artists do not benefit by this situation. They are hopelessly exploited by the French dealers. The practice is for the dealer to buy pictures from the artist at from $10 to $50 apiece, 'rear' them for a few years—which means that he sticks them out in a rear room without showing them—and finally, after he gets most of the artist's work, to build him up and sell the pictures at high prices. The artist, having sold his canvases outright, never gets anything out of it.

FLEEING POLICE FATAL FOR TWO

Officer Clinging to Careening Car Fires Death Shots as Machine Crashes

TWO WOMEN ESCAPE.

BOSTON, Mass., October 19 (C. P.). — Two men were shot and fatally wounded last night as they attempted to force a policeman from the running board of their car. The policeman was in a hospital to-day with a bruised hand, several broken ribs, and possible internal injuries.

The dead were: Arthur McCarthy, 28, of Revere, and William Donovan, 26, of the Charlestown District of Boston. The officer was Patrolman Edward Crickard.

Crickard attempted to question the two men, who were parked in an automobile with another man and two women. At Crickard's first question, the driver slammed the door on Crickard's hand and started the car down an incline. The two women leaped from the machine and fled.

Careening crazily, the car raced up Tremont Street, jumped the sidewalk and smashed into a department store window just as Crickard worked his gun free and fired two shots at the two men in the front seat.

Textile Strikers Refuse To Work

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 19.—Lawrence's striking textile workers, who left their places two weeks ago in protest against 10 per cent. wage reductions, to-day refused the invitation of three manufacturers to return to work. Only one arrest marred the morning.

Whistles that normally call tens of thousands of workers to employment in the great factories of the American Woollen Mills, the Arlington Mill and the Pacific Mills, to-day were greeted with a roar of derision from long, marching lines of pickets. A straggling few who entered the mills drew shouts of ridicule and the cry of scab from their former strikers.

Sees Cancellation

The announcement in London of Sir Norman Angell (above), well known British economist, that he believed all war debts will be cancelled, has attracted international attention. Sir Norman stated he doubts that payments on the debts, suspended by the Hoover moratorium last June, will ever be resumed.

Baptist Convention Opens In Peterboro

To-day's morning and afternoon sessions of the 43rd annual meeting of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec held at Murray street Church were devoted to the registration of delegates and a minister's conference.

The opening session of the convention proper commences with a song service at 7.30 this evening, to be followed by the church's welcome and devotional conducted by the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, pastor of the church. Addresses will later be given by the Rev. B. W. Merrill, B.A., B.Th., vice- president and by Prof. A. L. McCrimmon, LL.D., Hamilton, president.

By noon to-day it was estimated that some 200 delegates had already registered. It is thought probable that 500 ministers and church workers will attend the convention which does not conclude until Friday night of this week.

Ample arrangements for the accommodation of visiting delegates have been effected by a general committee of workers from Murray street church under the chairmanship of the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe. There are also sub-committees for the reception of delegates, a billeting committee and publicity committee, etc.

Postal and telephone accommodation for the convenience of delegates has been installed in the Sunday School Rooms, and also an information bureau and rest rooms.

Hampshire Faces Wreckless Driving

Two cars and a motorcycle figured in a bad collision on Highway 28, just south of Kendry on Sunday evening and as a result W. H Hampshire, of Montreal, on information of Highway Patrol Officer Ted Hornick, was charged in police court this morning with reckless driving.

Hampshire was driving toward Peterborough. For some unexplained reason, he jammed on his brakes, skidding 71 feet on to the left side of the road directly into the path of a car driven south by Kenneth Budd, of Toronto. Following behind Budd was a motorcycle ridden by Garnet Roberts, of Whitby. With no chance of escape, Roberts crashed into the Hampshire car and was shot clear over his handlebars on to the pavement.

Budd's car was hurled into the ditch. Both cars were badly smashed, but miraculously no one was injured .

PLEADS CAUSE OF MACDONALD

Wife of Lord Passfield Sends Letter to Ladies of Seaham Constituency.

SURPRISED AT ACTION.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(C.P. Cable.) —Mrs. Sidney Webb, brilliant wife of Lord Passfield, has addressed a long letter to the women of Seaham constituency urging them to respect the bid of Prime Minister MacDonald for re-election there.

Lord Passfield was Labor member for Seaham from 1922 to 1929 and was secretary for the Colonies in the old Labor Government. He dropped out of active politics when the Labor Government fell last August and is apparently not participating in the present contest.

Mrs. Sidney Webb, however, declares there can be no misunderstanding regarding the actions of Mr. MacDonald in recent months. She spoke of the tragic and surprising result of the crisis, which led to a Labor Prime Minister becoming the Prime Minister of a coalition, pledged not only to defeat but actually to smash the Labor party.

CONDITIONS ARE

A tribute was paid by Rev. Dr. Oliver to those unknown inventors of many things now accepted as common place. He often thought, he said of the man who first invented fire, the man who invented buttons, the individual who first discovered the art of cooking meat, the person who invented ploughing, and the wheel.

The romance of the adventure carried near Peterborough by David Fife in the production of Fife wheat, its consequent development into Marquis wheat and the tremendous effect of these discoveries upon the Canadian west were eloquently pictured by Rev. Dr. Oliver.

One adventurer to whom the world owed a great deal was he who first thought of following the sun and started the westward movement that saw democracy leave behind in the east, the caste system. A great adventure, the speaker maintained was the grossing of the North Sea by the Teutons, an adventure that first established the principles upon which Anglo-Saxon civilization is founded, namely liberty of the individual combined with national unity.

Rev. Dr. Oliver called attention to a new adventure, that now going on in Russia which he declared suffered from the fundamental weakness that liberty of the individual was not considered. He had no love, he said, for the Russian experiment, but there was something to be learned from it, namely that it had a definite plan.

Here was a challenge, he said, to Canadians to work out a solution for the great problem of today, to throw their wit and wisdom and genius into the bringing about of better conditions. In the west, where he lived there was suffering because of excessive dry weather, yet coming down to Ontario there were bountiful crops. Here too, was the paradox of privation in the cities and plenty in the country and these conditions presented a problem that challenged the genius of the Canadian people. It was not enough to approach the question in a Pollyanna spirit. Rev. Dr. Oliver submitted, but a solution demanded the best thought of the people of this country, when found, he declared the benefactions represented by Thomas A. Edison would have to take second place.

HIGHWAY CAMPS

son, but he emphatically stated that he had no exact information, nor could he venture an opinion as to whether this undertaking would be begun. It is understood that, if this road is started, twenty-five percent of the number of men engaged would be drawn from the neighboring district and the rest from the province generally. Presumably it would require the establishment of camps for the men, along the lines that have been followed on the trans-Canada highway in northern Ontario, and in its complete scope would be a substantial contribution in the reducing of unemployment.

Solution of the disputed route claims around Tweed was accomplished by the Department's agreement to construct a highway from Number 2 at Actinolite through Tweed to Belleville, and another road is proposed from Kaladar to Pembroke forming a junction with the trans-Canada road. This program when completed will afford obvious advantages to Tweed as the result of highways to Pembroke, Ottawa and Belleville.

In the meantime the government is spending $10,000, on the Bancroft road removing "Hole-in-the wall" hill and making other improvements that have been urged for some time. This expenditure will be a material help to residents in that section of Hastings county.

Tiger Fans Fancy Royal Arms Crest

OTTAWA, Ont., October 19 (C.P.). — Placed on the Vice-regal box at Lansdowne Park on Saturday, the Royal Arms, weighing some 50 pounds, were sought as a unique souvenir by some jubilant Hamilton Tiger followers following the victory over the Ottawa Rough Riders.

The heraldic bearings would have been in Hamilton to-day but for the watchful eyes of workmen at the football field who notified police, who soon traced the ardent souvenir hunters and recovered the arms in an automobile parked on a downtown street a short time after the game.

The 50-pound insignia was soon returned to its permanent home at the Coliseum, and the hunters warned against future desires for Royal Arms.

GREAT INVENTOR

ventor will be laid to rest in Rosedale Cemetery, in Orange.

Some Triumphs

Some of Thomas A. Edison's inventions:—

The incandescent lamp, which bathed the globe in a new brilliance. It was given to the world in 1879.

The phonograph, 1877, Edison's favorite invention.

The carbon telephone transmitter, 1873, which made telephony a commercial art.

Motion picture, 1894, which have revolutionized the entertainment industry.

An alkaline storage battery.

Machines for quadruplex and sextuplex telegraphic transmission, 1870-1876. They saved the investment of millions in wires.

Many appliances and improvements for the transmission of electric light, heat and power.

The electric pen, mimeograph and elescribe.

He designed, built and operated several chemical plants as the result of the Great War emergency.

Canadian National Exhibition. The promoters of the pageant have already received assurances from Colonel C. Ackerman that Millar, who is at present on an air prospecting trip to the north country will be in this city for the air meet here.

Besides providing the populace of this district with an opportunity of witnessing thrilling exhibitions of stunt flying, it is hoped that the pageant and air meet will bring home a realilisation to the citizens of the existing need of an airport and the subsequent formation of a flying club here, which if formed would entitle the city to two government planes and the services of a qualified instructor.

CHINESE REBELS ATTEND PARLEY

Leaders Confident Outcome Will be End of Breach— Unite Nation.

FINAL MEET IN NANKING.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 19.— (A.P.) — Delegates of the Nationalist and Southern Insurgent Governments converged upon Shanghai to-day to open conferences which leaders of both factions are confident will heal a six months' breach and unite the nation to face Japan in Manchuria.

Chiang Kai-Shek, president, and General Issimo of the Nationalist Government, was to greet the Southern delegates Tuesday. Chiang will be supported by Hu Han-Min, Chang-Chi, and other Nanking mainstays.

Government leaders here interpreted the fact that nearly all the highest leaders of the Canton regime are included in the delegation as meaning that the Southerners have virtually reached an agreement.

Speculation was aroused by the inclusion of Eugene Chen in the delegation. There were some who believed he would be returned to his post of Foreign Minister if negotiations are successful.

The Sino-Japanese crisis in Manchuria was largely responsible for the approaching conferences.

CANADIAN BOAT

By A. D. Merkel, C. P. Staff Writer

C. G. S. Lady Laurier by Radio Phone to Halifax, Oct. 19.—Clear skies and a light northwest wind greeted the champion Bluenose and the United States challenger Gertrude L. Thebaud as they went to the line for a fresh start in the international series of races being held off Halifax for possession of the International Fishermen's trophy. The pilot boat off the mouth of the harbor reported the breeze freshening and there was every prospect of a finish race. Smoother seas than prevailed Saturday, gave Thebaud, a shorter vessel, conditions more to her liking.

At 8:30 o'clock the sailing committee signalled that No. 1 course had been chosen for today's race. This meant a broad reach to Sambro lightship, 16½ miles from the starting line, leaving the inner automatic buoy at the mouth of Halifax Harbor on the starboard enroute. Rounding the lightship to port the schooners would face a broad reach of seven miles to the southeast automatic buoy before they began their windward work of six miles to the inner automatic with long and short hitches up the harbor to the finish line, a course of 36 nautical miles.

Crosses Line First

Captain Ben Pine out-foxxed Captain Angus Walters at the start, going over the line in the weather berth, ending a length ahead. As they bore down on the line, the challenger having the right of way forced Bluenose to give away. They ran down the line close hauled and crossed it with started sheets a few seconds after the gun. Immediately after the start Angus began a battle for the weather position and the schooners were headed for the western shore of the harbor. Angus had yet to set the staysail. Thebaud was carrying everything. Five minutes after the start Angus was forging through Pine's weather position. The wind had freshened to ten knots.

The schooners staged a battle along the eastern shore and swept past Sandwich Point within a stone's throw of the rocks. Angus had Thebaud blanketed but Pine held his own. Finally Walters lead over followed by Pine. The operation was repeated by the challenger but Angus finally won the tilt, coming through the weather position abeam of Thebaud. Half an hour after the start they were on even terms with the Bluenose in the preferred weather position as the leg was almost a urn before the wind, this advantage might not prove of great importance.

At 9:35 Angus set and stablized his staysail. He was two schooner lengths in the lead, both vessels had all sails set racing for the Sambro lightship by way of the inner automatic.

At 9.45 Bluenose jibed and headed for the inner automatic which she must pass to starboard.

Bluenose lead Thebaud by about 40 seconds at the first six-mile mark. The next leg of about 11 miles was a continuation of the run before the wind. The schooners used nearly an hour to negotiate the first six miles but their poor time was largely due to jockeying off the wind by the rival skippers, more intent upon keeping the lead than in covering the course. Part of the time one or the other was sailing wing and wing.

Bluenose Retains Lead

The official time at the first mark was: Bluenose 9.55.30; Thebaud 9.54.35, the Nova Scotian leading her American rival by 1 minute and 5 seconds. The Thebaud seemed to be holding her own on the run down to the lightship. The schooners were logging about 7 knots. The wind, if anything, had freshened.

At 10.12 the wind hauled more westerly and the Bluenose getting the shift first tightened her sheet. She was followed by the Thebaud an eighth of a mile astern. From the Lady Laurier it looked as though an attempt was being made to launch a dory. At this stage the schooners were approximately seven miles from the lightship, the second mark in to-day's course.

At 10.30 Bluenose had increased her lead perceptibly and seemed to be drawing away from Thebaud. She appeared to be getting more wind. Both schooners were headed dead on the lightship. The wind had increased to 12 knots, the sea was smoother than on Saturday.

At 10.45 with the lightship in sight and the wind dead astern, the schooners were having trouble with their staysails. The two masthead men on both vessels were working overtime, shifting the sails from one side to the other. The Bluenose continued to increase her lead.

Bluenose Takes Lead

Two hours after the start the Bluenose was leading by half a mile. The lightship was two miles away. The wind was holding at 12 knots.

As the schooners approached the Sambro lightship at 11.25, the wind had hauled due north, greatly reducing the windward work on the next leg to the outer automatic buoy. Providing the wind held from the north the schooners would fetch the next mark on a long and short hitch with a close jaul to the inner automatic and a dead beat of six miles to the finish line.

At noon the Bluenose was a full mile ahead of the challenger. She was headed for the outer automatic, and it was apparent both vessels would make it without a hitch.

At 12.15 the Bluenose was within two miles of the outer automatic buoy. Thebaud was dropping steadily astern with at least a mile and a half of water separating the rival schooners. The win was holding at 12 knots.

The Bluenose was due south and abeam of the outer automatic at 12.20. At 12.26 she came about and stood on the port tack for the inner automatic six miles away. The wind had freshened to 14 knots and had backed to north by best. At 12.30 Angus came about on the starboard tack covering Thebaud two miles to Leeward. With the wind holding its present position it would be a long and short hitch to the next mark.

Bluenose came about on the port tack at 12.56 and stood well to weather of the inner automatic buoy three miles away. Thebaud was about as far to leeward. The wind had backed to north northwest. Thebaud came about at 12.59.

At 1 o'clock the wire pennant in the Bluenose's jib topsail or balooner parted and men were sent forward to repair the damage. The sail did not appear to be torn and the indications were it would be again set.

At 1.13 the damaged jib topsail sheet had been repaired and the kite was again set. The trouble in no wise hazarded Bluenose's chances as the Thebaud was still two miles astern.

At 1.30 the Bluenose was under the cliffs of Chibucto Head, well to weather of the inner automatic buoy. The indications were the champion would cross the finish line between 2.15 and 2.30. At 1.33 the Bluenose came about and stood up at the harbor.

At 2.30 the wind in the harbor had dropped to seven knots and it was touch and go whether the Bluenose with upwards of a mile of dead to windward work facing her, would finish within the time limit.

Bootlegger Guilty In Police Court

Zaneth actively renewed the work to convict Freeburn. Three mounties were detailed to the task under the detective sergeant. Two motor boats were hired to get into the district without Freeburn being tipped-off by his many scouts that the mounties were in the neighborhood.

Several days ago a still, surrounded by a swamp, was located in Harvey township. All Friday night the mounties lay in wait for Freeburn. Early Saturday morning Freeburn with Sammy Hill visited the still and was engaged in distilling off moonshine when the officers stepped out from the bushes and placed the pair under arrest.

"You've got me dead-to-rights this time, boys," Freeburn exclaimed. "I'm going to have to plead guilty and take it."

Smiling broadly, Freeburn, garbed in a big sweater, sat in the police court docket this morning. When arraigned he simply said: "Guilty" and then looked at Sergeant Zaneth.

Sammy Hill, charged with the same offence, also pleaded guilty.

In addressing the Magistrate, Sergeant Zaneth emphasized the amount of trouble that Freeburn has been and the huge amount of money expended in his capture. "Not only that, Your Worship, but consider the case of this boy," stated Sergeant Zaneth. "Twice he has been convicted and he has spent two years in Burwash. Freeburn had not lifted a finger to help him although he is responsible for getting him into this business."

Sentence was withheld for a week to allow the Magistrate time to study the provisions of the Act.

Norman "Nigger" Young, claimed by police to be a "runner" for Freeburn, was arrested by Provincial Constable Silvester in Lindsay on Saturday as he stepped out of jail. He was charged with selling illicit liquor in Smith Township on October 9. He pleaded not guilty.

WESTERN PROVINCES' DISTRESS IS ABLY OUTLINED BY SPEAKER

Rev. Dr. E. H. Oliver, United Church Moderator, Speaks in Trinity Church.

SPLENDID ADDRESS.

The problems of the stricken areas of the Canadian West were graphically presented to the large congregation gathered in Trinity United Church on Sunday evening, The Very Rev. Dr. E. H. Oliver, General Moderator of the United Church of Canada, was the distinguished guest speaker whose challenging message made a deep appeal to his hearers.

Rev. David Wren, M.A., B.D., pastor of the church, conducted the opening devotions, and introduced the Moderator, whose name, he said, "is a household word throughout Canada, where he has been engaged in a sixteen weeks' itinerary in behalf of the sufferers in the Prairie Province.

Dr. Oliver prefaced his address with a scripture lesson which was very applicable, chosen from the eighth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, dwelling particularly upon "the desert way" as depicted in the 26th verse: "And the Angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, 'Arise and go toward the South, unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert.'

"We have many epithets," stated the speaker, descriptive of Western Canada, such as 'progressive' or 'dynamic,' but I should like you to think of it to-night as "grateful.' A surge of feeling has swept over Ontario that we should share some of the Father's bounty 'in fruit and vegetables' with our brothers of the plains."

Verifying their gratitude, Dr. Oliver read a letter from the pastor of a little church in Bethune, Saskatchewan, where they had received the first relief carload from Winona, Ontario. This was distributed among 250 families, most of whom had come from Ontario. Tides of memory must have carried them back to old home and old faces.

This sharing with the West has bound heart to heart, and soul to soul, making of the United Church a real union.

"What is the cause of the terrible need, especially in Southern Saskatchewan? It is not that the land is unfertile, neither is it for the lack of industry on the part of the people. It is just this 'It did not rain.' For three years most of the area has had no rain, for four years large sections have had no rain, and for five years certain patches have had no rain."

Ontario people bemoan the lack of rain for six weeks, yet the last time it rained in Regina was in 1928, and the moisture sank but two inches into the ground. It takes three things to make rain: moisture, wind and atmospheric pressure. Statistics tell us that it requires thirty tons of rain to produce one bushel of wheat, yet they have had no rain at all, and we see the dire result.

Added to this disaster, the wind has swept over the area like a devastating monster, destroying railways and bridges. This spring, when the ploughing was done the wind literally lifted the earth so that the air was filled with dust and noonday was like midnight. The soil drifted like snow in huge piles twelve feet wide and six to seven feet high. Over thousands of acres there was not a blade of grass to be seen, not even a weed or a thistle. In such a storm the sand seeps in everywhere. In one little schoolhouse, two hundred and ten pounds of sand was swept up. This windstorm blew for three months with seemingly few intermissions.

On the sixth of July, Dr. Oliver travelled 123 miles before seeing the first green field. This in a country which raises in normal years more wheat, barley and oats than all the rest of Canada put together.

Cattle Destroyed

Hundreds of head of cattle must be shipped daily north to get pasture, and many are put to death because of lack of fodder.

Stating a specific incident, the Moderator told of a little family of five near Moose Jaw, who owned a half section of land with no growth upon it.

They hauled water four and a half miles and paid six cents a pail for drinking water. They were living chiefly on the milk of one cow and longing and praying for rain. One night that prayer seemed to be answered. A little thunder shower came up but the lightning struck and killed their cow.

They tried to borrow from the bank money to buy another cow but were refused. Finally it was the United Church missionary who supplied the funds when his own salary amounted to only ten dollars per month. This fifty dollars had been sent to the missionary from a Young People's Society at Islington.

In spite of all the calamities endured the typical spirit of the West is optimistic and they talk of the fine crops they expect next year.

Greater Need for Church

There is still greater need for the church there and the ministers will stay with their people for they can give more than the physical relief offered by Bennett and Anderson.

In spiritual relief the people obtain release from their troubles. In urging the ministering missionaries to remain Dr. Oliver had promised the support of the United Church of Canada and he appealed to the people of Peterborough to stand behind him in this pledge.

It is easier to preach to these afflicted people than to almost any one else, for God has become to them a very present help in trouble. He is teaching them the great lesson that they cannot exist without His mercy.

The provincial treasurer of Saskatchewan speaks of the situation as a national problem and calamity, but in Dr. Oliver's phraseology it is "God's opportunity and the Church's chance."

The call has gone out to the ministers of the United Church that in addition to all given last year, each give a tenth of his salary. An exception to this call were the retired ministers, the veterans of the church yet they met in Toronto and 166 men voted $2,000 to the cause.

Returning to his text, the speaker told of the unpromising commission given to Philip when he was sent along the desert road which became transformed by God to highway of opportunity, service victory and the building up of the church.

The same transforming power of God is seen on the desert road of Gaza in the famine at Antioch and in the Cross of Calvary. In the mind of God these troublous days are not confusion and chaos. They are the labour pangs and birth throes of a new day in which there will be a better Canada, a nobler and more Christ-like church. Out of the darkness will come the dawn of this new day if we but allow Him to work through, and in, and for us with the sacrificial spirit of the Cross of Jesus Christ.

In close sympathy with the theme of the evening was the splendid musical program provided by the choir under the direction of Miss Mabel Clarry as follows: The anthem, "The Lord Is My Light" (Fletcher); solo, "The Lord is My Shepherd" (Adams) Mr. M. H. Park.

LUEBECK, Germany, October 19 (C.P.). — Professor Dycke, one of a group of physicians who are being tried here on a charge of responsibility for the death of 76 infants last year after administration of anti-tuberculosis serum, to-day assumed dramatically the sole responsibility for the babies' deaths.

He said he administered the anti-tubercular serum believing that it would be beneficial. I know from subsequent experiments, he added, that I made a scientific error. I have tried for years to help the sick and I begged court to find me alone guilty.

Turning to the court room, which was filled with parents whose babies died, he pleaded:

"I hope the parents, with whom I deeply sympathize, will take this under consideration."

BRITAIN'S INDUSTRIAL SYSTEM BEING ADJUSTED TO NEW WORLD

Tradition Saturating England, Fighting Itself, as Well as World Now Changing.

AIM AT CHEAP MARKET.

By EDWARD STANLEY

LONDON, Oct. 19 (A.P.)—Great Britain has been making stupendous efforts to re-gear her industrial system to fit a new world—a world that wants one thing one day and something quite different the next.

"That was all right when we had things our own way, but it won't do now," is a sentence from an official report on one sick industry, and it might be set out as the keynote of the whole reorganization movement.

It took a long time for things to get underway. England is saturated with tradition. English industry was a highly individualized affair, following old ways. It fought itself as well as the world. That is all changing now.

Much of the rationalization—which actually means amalgamation—was prompted by the government. Even the Bank of England foresook its nonchalance and become actively interested in industry.

Up in Lancashire the textile industry is undergoing a vast reorganization. Plans have been presented by groups within the industry and all call for closer co-operation if not actual consolidation. At least one great combination has been effected and others may follow.

New Machinery

Old-fashioned, uneconomical mills are being closed in these mergers. Modern machinery is being installed. Negotiations are being conducted with the unions to permit greater output per worker through machinery. A cheap market is aimed at.

The banks are the chief power behind this movement. Cotton, among other things, was a boom-finance victim just after the war, and the banks have a big stake in making it fit again.

Coal already is under a certain measure of government direction, and a commission, studying the problem, has issued an interim report proposing concentration of production in six great fields, closing down many pits, consolidations and a general wholesale housecleaning.

Exporters are working toward consolidation of sales forces.

A great electrification scheme is facing England.

A healthy "light industry" has grown up in South England. The home market is catered to as never before. It has become important and accounts in part for the tariff demands. Foreign-made articles are required to bear tags showing their origin. There is a steady campaign to "buy British."

To all this pointed energy, one must add the vitality of the race. English workmen are trained, and their industrial tradition is very old. If they are properly equipped, England will regain the world's industrial leadership.

MACHINE GUNNERS START TRAINING ON WEDNESDAY

Five Officers Have Qualified for Higher Rank During Past Season

In consequence of a further period of Militia training that has been authorized by the Government, the members of C. Company, 4th Battalion Canadian Machine Gun Corps will parade on Wednesday night of this week at the Armouries for the commencement of an 8-day period of training and the issue of uniforms. There are vacancies for a few recruits.

The unit under the command of Major J. Dewart, M.C., has during the past season had five officers qualify for higher ranks than those they hold at present, and 17 N.C.O.'s who have similarly qualified. There are also at present one officer and four N.C.O.'s attending the Royal School of Machine Gunners at Stanley Barracks, Toronto.

MIDLAND BROKER FACES CHARGES

ACCUSED OF THEFT.

MIDLAND, Oct. 19.—Nattily attired and acting entirely on his own initiative, William D. Duncan, the Midland broker who vanished suddenly on June 30 of last year, leaving behind him alleged claims of clients for $67,000, surrendered to Provincial Constable Harry Wright in Magistrate Cook's court Saturday.

Duncan walked into court with his counsel, William J. Hanley of Toronto, and formerly of Orillia, and announced that he was ready to answer any charges the Crown had preferred against him. He was told that there were four charges of conversion of clients' funds, and to these he entered a plea of not guilty. After he had agreed to the waiving of the taking of testimony he was committed for trial before the County Judge. Duncan was then remanded without bail to the Barrie jail to await his trial.

The Provincial Police in Toronto had confidential information early Saturday morning that Duncan would surrender. It was known that he was recently in Buffalo, and had arranged to come back and stand his trial.

Wife Confident of Return

During the fifteen months that Dancan has been away from Midland his wife has remained here confident that her husband would return and answer the charges that had been laid against him. In his absence the Provincial Police kept up an active search just as they did in the case of Tom Brown, Mayor of Stratford, whose death in Mexico took place under tragic circumstances.

Duncan was mayor of Midland and was highly regarded. That he still has numerous friends among his former clients was indicated here Saturday by the presence in court of many citizens of this district, who had heard of his return from the United States

Friends stated here today that Duncan could not stand any longer the terrible strain of being hunted from place to place by police officers and being separated from his wife and two little boys, who are still here. He was one of Midland's most prominent citizens and a patron of all sports, but principally hockey.

Mrs. Bok Purchases Wagner Documents

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 19.—The Curtis Institute of Music, through its official publication, Overtones, announces its founder, Mrs. Mary Louise Curtis Bok, had purchased the famous Burrell collection of Wagner documents, letters and biographical material.

Included in the collection, which will be brought to this country by Mrs. Bok, are the only copy of an overture in D minor, one of Wagner's early compositions; the prose version, musical short score and orchestral parts of Wagner's early opera "Die Feen," and a unique copy of Wagner's tragedy, "Leubald und Adelaide."

The collection was offered for sale after its unearthing a few years ago for $1,250,000, but no purchasers appeared. Mrs. Bok, Oevtrones said, bought it last October, but withheld announcement pending granting of permission to republish a portion of the works. This was recently given by the Wagner heirs.

Men in Paris are wearing, with evening dress, handkerchiefs which, from a distance, look like flowers.

REV. E. H. OLIVER GUEST SPEAKER

Delivers Splendid Address to Congregation of George Street United Church.

ON SUNDAY MORNING.

Rev. Edmund H. Oliver, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, preached a very impressive sermon yesterday morning to an immense congregation at George St. United Church. He described conditions throughout the West, particularly in southern Saskatchewan so graphically and brought the terrible plight of the people so forcibly before the congregation that all were intensely moved.

Rev. Oliver took as a text the 26 verse of the 8th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles "And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip—'Arise and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert."

At both services the choir rendered very beautiful anthems and at the evening service Miss Dorothy Sager delighted the congregation with her solo "Lead Kindly Light."

HIT BY CAR, LAD DIES

BRANTFORD, Ont., Oct. 19 — Walking on No. 24 highway, a quarter of a mile north of the Brant-Norfolk line at 10 o'clock last night, John Velden, 16-year-old immigrant lad, was struck by an auto driven by F. Scott, Waterford, and died of his injuries shortly afterwards.

Simon Uses Radio To Greet His Mother

LONDON, Oct. 19 (C.P. Cable).—A novel and graceful method of conveying greetings to his mother on her 85th birthday anniversary was adopted by Sir John Simon, eminent Liberal, yesterday.

Sir John was making an address on the radio and knew his mother was eagerly listening. In the course of his speech he said:

"The recovery of British credit depends on all of us—from the young man entering upon life and usuing the franchise for the first time, to an old lady celebrating her 85th birthday as she sits in her chair by the fire.

RICHARD HALL Limited

FIRST REGIONAL PLOWING MATCH

plowing match from 1875. There were eight entries, as follows: 1st prize, John Henderson of Ling; 2nd, D. D. Henderson of Lang; 3rd John Freize of Peterborough; 4 Job Wheeler of Warsaw; and the others were Wm. Renwick and Walter McKee of Lakehurst; John Chastie of Lakefield and James Forsyth of Trenton.

There were no entries for the boys' class of 18 and under, but four plowed in stubble in the class for boys under seventeen and the results were: 1st, John Marquis of Sunderland, whose work was especially commended; 2nd, Frank Buck of Otonabee; 3rd, Jos. Duffus of Otonabee, who won $12; and 4th, M. Duffus, whose prize was $8.

List of Officials.

The judges were: James Cameron of Roseneath; Adam Bell of Campbellford; and Joshua Smithson of Otonabee. The personnel of the committee of management was: R. Vance of Ida; H. Humphries of Hastings; J. C. Snell of Edmonton and P. R. Palmer of Belleville, with Wm. Rutherford of Peterborough section chairman and William Collins, chairman. John J. Turner kindly loaned a tent for the secretary's use during the day and the attendance was about 1,000.

The facetious reporter interpolated this wise-crack into his report, ascribing it to an anonymous spectator: "In what respect did the plowed field resemble the countenance of a man with a large family and a small salary?—Because it was furrowed with care." And even in that particular the passing years have left but few material changes. If the plowing matches are bigger and better, the facial furrows may be deeper, although families have been steadily shrinking almost to the minimum with a resultant inflation of juvenile self-importance, an unwelcome product of the modern phenomenon of excess domestic leisure and its obvious causes.

A Glimpse of 40 Years Ago.

Turning over the adjacent pages of The Examiner during that fall of 1890 their weekly chronicle of events has a familiar ring. Time flows on and bears all her sons away, but men go about their affairs which they somehow manage to endow with an atmosphere of importance. Even the names are the same in many instances. Look over the reports of the two plowing matches separated by forty-one years and the names of McLean of York, Marquis of Sunderland, Duffus of Otonabee, Humories and others recur with striking repetition.

As for the news of the day readers of middle age may recall that the autumn of 1891 was stirred by the trial at Woodstock of Reginald Birchall who was found guilty of the murder of Frederick Cornwallis Benwell near Brenheim, Ont., on February 17 of that year. The Examiner printed fourteen columns of the report of that trial, using a fine type that would be equivalent to perhaps twenty columns today. Three of the most prominent members of the Canadian bar were engaged in that trial, such names as Blackstock, Osler and Helmuth. The presiding judge was Mr. Justice MacMahon.

The Edison By-law.

Peterborough's ratepayers were pondering the Edison by-law which they approved and from which the C.G.E. plant has grown. James Stevenson was Mayor, and John McNaughton was a member of the council with a penchant for writing to the press. Around the end of October, E. H. D. Hall contributed a letter to the current discussion of the Edison by-law in which he gently reproved Councillor McNaughton, and explained exactly the issue before the property owners. And in expectation of the city's industrial growth T. Hurley, real estate agent, was advertising various lots which he believed would soon be occupied when the Edison company started production.

Centreville Fair.

South Monaghan's agricultural fair was held at Centreville that fall and was attended by reporters from the Peterborough papers. The Examiner man turned in an exceedingly interesting story of the press party's trip by carriage with some friend who had lived in that vicinity. Possibly it was the late Robert Fair, although that is a mere guess. This companion pointed out the fields near Scott's corners, "where in the good old days there was steeple-chasing and hurdle-racing." At one fence his horse had fallen bruising its shoulder badly and throwing the rider so heavily that he was somewhat painfully shaken up. Other points of interest were the old buildings along the way that once served as staging houses, the sites of the toll gates, the hill near Springville where the schoolmaster, the night after his marriage to a girl in town was found hanging dead to the limb of a tree, cut down at once so it should not repeat the tragedy to the terror of timorous nocturnal wayfarers; the long swamp where footpads in the early days lightened the pockets of farmers returning from Port Hope whither they drew their wheat in consideration of getting a York shilling (12½c) a bushel more for it.

The newspaper men arrived at Centreville and were warmly welcomed by South Monaghan directors. Harry Winch was starter of the horse races. Martin Connor's "Mattie B" won the first race; Talbot Evans' "Little Fred" was second; G. Mitchell's "Livery Maid" was third and R. Croft's "Billy C" also ran. In the Farmers' Trot the winning horse was W. Barnard's "Billy K" with Dr. Fisher's "Flora S" second; H. Nesbitt's "Bailieboro Boy" third, and W. Barnard's "Grey Johnny" fourth.

Some of the exhibitors were: Thos. Wood, W. H. Hutchinson, Wm. Lang, Wm. Rutherford, Geo. L. Fair, Wm. Manly, W. Morrison and J. C. Barnard in carriage horses.

Durhams were the only class of cattle except grades, and most of the prizes went to John Mounsey and Wm. Rutherford. On the domestic side, Mrs. W. H. Hutchinson won first prize for ten pounds of butter and Miss Tisha Barnard was second. The Otonabee fair at Keene was also in its prime that year.

W. H. Wrighton's local prices were: fall wheat, 98c to $1.00; oats, 38c to 39c; barley, 46c to 54c; rye, 55c; hogs, $5.25 to $5.75; lamb, 8c to 12c a pound; butter, 18c to 20c; eggs, 14c to 18c; potatoes, a bag, 50 to 60c; apples, a bag, 50c to 90c; turkeys, each, 75c to $1.25; chickens, a pair, 40 to 50c; wool, per lb., 18c to 20c.

A Political Meeting

That fall Richard Cartwright, then in Opposition in the Federal House, but a powerful debater who was to become Finance Minister under Sir Wilfrid Laurier and also receive Knighthood, visited Norwood where he addressed the East Peterborough Liberals. He and J. R. Stratton, J. B. McWilliams, John Lang, M.P., Thos. Blezard, M.P.P., were guests at the home of W. E. Roxburgh. Cartwright's address was chiefly a plea for broader trade relations with the United States. Aspects of the tariff were discussed at length, and evidently the McKinley tariff then coming into effect was as disturbing to Canadian trade as more recent enactments have been. The Cartwright address indicates that the two major parties in this country have not strayed far from their tenets during forty years. The speaker alleged that Sir John A. Macdonald was in the hands of a clique of manufacturers who had supplied the Conservative party with the funds for the elections of 1882 and 1887. We still have the tariff with us, still experimenting with it. Tariff walls are sprouting up in every direction in both the old and new worlds, and in the midst of a universal trade storm we are assured that trade will soon begin to zoom over these barriers.

On the front page of The Examiner of November 6, 1841 appeared the genre poem by James Whitcomb Riley, "When the frost is on the pumpkin and the corn is in the shock", homely verses that will endure by the truth of their sentiment. Captain Reynolds advertized the Steamer Cruiser for charter by hunting parties planning to go to the Stoney Lake shores. The Sun Life Insurance advertisement bore the name of Wm. Hill, district manager. George Matthews was the owner of the packing plant on George street now under the management of his grandson, Gordon S. Matthews. Thomas Kelly, father of Rev. P. J. Kelly of Hastings, was a leading drygoods merchants, and Gough Brothers carried on a flourishing men's wear business.

These names have gone from Peterborough's mart of trade and the old Ontario Agricultural and Arts Association that once took the plowmen under its wing is almost forgotten in its modern counterpart the extensive Department of Agriculture which lends a paternal interest to the Ontario Plowmen's Association and other enterprises directly concerned with the progress of the farmers of this province.

WASH DAY IS EASY WHEN RINSO USED

Washing Compound to be Demonstrated as One Feature of School.

Information that Rinso will be shown and demonstrated in the Cooking School being featured in the Grand Opera House, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week will be of interest to housewives of Peterborough and district.

Rinso is a giant baby in the washing compound field. Comparatively a newcomer in the homes of Canada it has won its way to the top with a surprising burst of speed.

Tiny globules of pure soap, which are instantly dissolved in warm water and which form a rich, heavy suds, last for hours, is the basis of its success.

So penetrating are the Rinso suds that they may be relied upon to cleanse clothes without rubbing or scrubbing and thus it is literally possible to "soak clothes clean" with the use of Rinso.

A recent survey of hundreds of homes, made with a view to checking up or providing for any improvement in Rinso brought forth the fact that Rinso is "just right" and suits the Canadian housewife as no other similar compound has ever done.

"Rinso washes clothes so white that even old yellowed linens look almost new again."

"Rinso is easy on the clothes; it saves scrubbing or boiling. It is the only soap I need on wash-day. With Rinso I do not require bar soaps, chips, powder or water softeners."

PILES ALL GONE

Without Salves or Cutting

Itching, bleeding, protruding piles go quickly and don't come back if you remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the hemorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby, almost dead. Salves and cutting fail because only an internal medicine can actually correct the cause of piles. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1,000 patients with success in 960 cases he named it HEM-ROID. McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile misery or money back.

EFFICIENCY LEAGUE

Trent River Young People Plan Hallowe'en Party Oct. 30.

TRENT RIVERñ Oct. 19 (Examiner Correspondence).—The meeting opened by the President, George Armstrong, with hymn, "The Whole World Was Lost in the Darkness of sin"; prayer led by Mr. L. Lawson; scripture reading, led by the president.

The secretary's report was heard and the only business on hand was the meeting for Friday night, October 23, it being Citizenship Night, and the discussion was to hold the league meeting at the public school instead of the church, as the teacher, R. W. Umphrey is holding an oratorical contest with his pupils that night; also it was arranged to hold a Hallowe'en party on Friday, October 30, in the dining hall, Mrs. Thomas Doupe was appointed to arrange the program of contests and games suitable to the occasion.

Milton Hawley gave a report of the afternoon session of the league convention held last week at Bethany; a report of the same convention was also heard from George Armstrong, after which Tom Haywood took over the following program; and he also read the topics, choosing the word "Respectability." recitation by Ralph Alley; recitation, Alton Doupe; vocal number by Messrs. Milton Hawley, Tom Haywood, Gerald Buchanan, George Armstrong; violin selection, Mr. I. Lawson, with organ accompaniment; vocal duet, Messrs. Gerald Chaplin and Tom Haywood; Tom Haywood had charge of the contest "Jumbled Words," the Red and Khaki side tied for first place. A collection was taken up and $1.41 was placed on the plate. There was an attendance of 44. Closing hymn "Whosoever Heareth," and repeating of Mizpah Benediction.

NO DRUDGERY WITH HOT POINT RANGE

No Flame to Blacken Pots and Pans, No Smoke to Mar Clean Kitchen.

There is probably no truer saying than the good old English proverb: "the proof of the pudding is in the eating." It is this old truism that will occur to you after eating a dinner cooked in a General Electric Hotpoint Range oven, which, in these times of science and repeated changes, represents in the modern home the ultimate in electric cooking. The new General Electric Hotpoint automatic electric range is almost an automaton. The housewife has only to put her dinner in the oven, set oven and time control, and her worries are over until it is time to take the dinner out and serve it. The automatic electric timer turns the current on at whatever time she wants the cooking to start, and turns it off when the meal is done. The automatic temperature control keeps the heat at the proper temperature by turning the current on and off as required during the cooking process.

Chief among the advantages of electric cooking, outside of the fact itself that better cooking is achieved by the electric method, is the matter of cleanliness. There is no flame to blacken pots and pans, no smoke to mar a spic and span kitchen, no dirt to soil kitchen curtains.

Hotpoint cookery is cool, for all the heat is utilized. It is not given off into the air of the kitchen, and wasted. It is economical for that same reason,—to a greater extent, in fact, than is the case with any other range.

Hotpoint cookery is the answer to every woman's wish for release from the drudgery of preparing meals in an old-fashioned kitchen.

What is their "Lovely Hands" Secret?

Her lovely hands play the piano at parties, yet this wife of a young salesman does all her own work.

Proud of her hands when she entertains, yet, as the wife of a bank clerk, she cannot afford maids.

This wife of a clever mechanic keeps house, yet her smooth, well-cared-for hands never show it.

As she reads her club paper, her hands give no hint of housework, yet this doctor's wife has no maid.

EVERYWHERE—clever wives doing all their own work . . . yet having hands as lovely as women with maids!

How do they do it? Again and again they tell us—"Our secret is Lux in the dishpan . . . Lux for other soap and water tasks, too" . . . Do try this "lovely hands" secret yourself! So many soaps dry and harshen the skin—but the delicate Lux suds soothe and caress busy hands—keeping them velvety smooth, and so daintily, prettily white. Costs less than 1c. a day!

Rushed to you like a "FRESH FOOD"

Coffee insured against staleness . . . an actual aid to digestion

Scientists have discovered that coffee, like milk or butter, is a food subject to rancidity. In each pound of coffee there is about half a cup of oil. Fresh, this oil carries the delicate flavor and aroma you love. Stale, it is rancid —toxic—often the cause of indigestion, headaches, sleeplessness.

So Chase & Sanborn, to protect the superlative flavor of their coffee, now rush it to your grocer by the same Dominion-wide delivery system that brings him Fleischmann's Yeast fresh daily. Every tin of Chase & Sanborn's is dated with the day of delivery. Every tin brings you this fine coffee at the peak of its marvelous flavor and aroma.

You can't buy a tin of dated Chase & Sanborn's Coffee which has been on your grocer's shelves more than ten days.

Here is your guarantee against loss of flavor and dangerous staleness. Buy a pound or half-pound tin of Chase & Sanborn's—DATED—today, and enjoy the flavor and aroma that have made it Canada's favorite coffee for over 50 years.

ALL COFFEE contains a delicate oil, which makes it perishable—like milk or butter. And it is this oil which carries, when fresh, the delicious flavor and aroma we love. Fresh, coffee also is an actual aid to digestion.

TO GUARANTEE FRESHNESS, EVERY TIN OF CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE IS DATED THE DAY YOUR GROCER RECEIVES IT

BLOOD PRESSURE AND ITS CAUSES

A chief cause of blood pressure is acidosis from eating acid-forming foods. To counteract, use alkali-forming foods. The only alkali-forming foods are fruits, vegetables, milk, almonds, egg yolks and Roman Meal (the only alkaline grain food known). At fifty my pressure was 215, heart threatening to stop each beat. By exercising in bed, overcoming tension, eating alkaline Roman Meal, fruits, etc., my pressure at seventy-three is 130—heart—I can run five miles in forty-seven minutes, run up four flights of stairs two steps at a time, work ninety hours a week and never tire. Alkaline Roman Meal, fruits, etc., are remarkable vitalizers for sick or well, when used properly. Just Between Us Women

Perfume and sachet dolls are the latest fad in boudoir dolls.

• • • • • • •

The cork of a perfume bottle is whittled down to fit inside a china or bisque doll's head and is glued securely in place. For a sachet doll use the top of a cheap doll severing the legs from the body and sewing a sachet bag in their place.

• • • • • • •

This bag should be made with a round pasteboard covered bottom with a length of material slightly gathered around it. The top of this length is sewed to the doll's body after the bag is well filled with cotton and lavishly sprinkled with any preferred sachet powder.

• • • • • • •

The doll will stand firmly and the bottle forms the entire body for the perfume bottle doll.

• • • • • • •

Any bits of material, silk, ribbon, lace or embroidery can be thriftily used for costuming either doll. A smart Spanish costume is well suited to both.

• • • • • • •

Make a flounced skirt, preferably of black silk, and gather it around the neck of the bottle if it is for the perfume bottle doll. Make a red or any gay colored shawl from a square or triangle of silk.

• • • • • • •

Embroider it in Spanish shawl style and fringe the edges with the straight sides. Fasten the shawl around the neck of the doll's head and it will be separate from the bottle portion so that when the stopper is taken out the bottle remains skirted only.

• • • • • • •

If the costume is for the sachet doll, make a pointed close-fitting blouse and over this arrange the Spanish shawl. Both blouse and shawl can be sewed to the doll.

• • • • • • •

The flounced skirt is sewed around the doll's waist. One leg of the doll, severed at the knee, can be sewed to the sachet bag so that the slippered foot peeps out beneath the full skirt.

• • • • • • •

These perfume and sachet dolls are just the things to give for Christmas gifts. They are novelties expensive to buy but not to make and the work is easy and dainty.

• • • • • • •

They are the last word in boudoir dolls and smart accessories for the dressing table.

FASHION SERVICE

Here's a chic day dress that adopts the one-sided rever treatment. The wrap-over bodice is youthfully slimming. The button trim emphasizes the smooth fit through the hips and a tailored finish. The tab cuffed sleeves are smart.

The skirt is straight and slender given graceful flare through inverted plaits at either side of the center-front, creating a box-plait effect.

Style No. 3334 may be had in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust.

Size 16 requires 2¾ yards 54-inch.

Black crepe satin is excellent for this model with self-fabric belt and the rever of eggshell crepe satin.

MODERN WIFE CAN COOK WELL

Cookery of To-day Better Than Mother's Used to be, Says Lecturer.

FOOD COMBINATIONS.

"As good as mother used to make."

Man has grown to believe that remark to be as profound and rich in fact as many another "good-old-days" mis-statement, accepted as universal truth. Not that mother's cooking is a thing open to attack—it was pretty good cooking only don't forget in mother's day there was a leisure free from bridge parties, automobile drives, the movies, club work, civic activities and all the other interests that, far from doing harm, are keeping our generation of wives young and happy.

The point that is being made is, cookery of to-day can be, and often is, even better than mother's used to be. What is missing is that wonderful sauce of appetite, the great and grand hunger of growing youth, that as manhood comes on no longer can pleasantly mix doughnuts, baked beans pie, cookies, maple syrup and hot breads.

The man of to-day who sits in an office from nine to five, the workman who goes through set motions in an enclosed area is not the boy who went whooping and dashing through the air of out-of-doors and to whom constant and violent activity was a joy forever. Palate and stomach have had a change of heart, if one may so mix anatomy.

Miss Claire Andree of the De Both Home Makers' Schools, who is to appear in Peterborough under the auspices of The Examiner sensed the cause behind the rueful remark of the bride. "John is always telling me how good his mother made this dish or that."

"The modern housewife can make it just as good, just as appealing, perhaps more so, than mother," said Miss Andrew. "It's tricky memories she has to contest with not the cookery of two or more decades ago."

She can win the contest, avers Miss Andree—and the experiments and experience of the De Both lecturers throughout the years backs up her claim—by seeing to it that the right sort of food combinations accompany any dish of yesterday. Most of those happy palate memories of yesterday were very simple dishes, easily made right and easily made palatable. The man of forty who has been dining at quick-lunches, hot-dog stands and one-arm-grab-it-yourself places would have a dire time if he dropped back into boyhood's days and ate half a hot apple pie, several slices of new hot bread decorated with sugar, a plate of baked beans and a piece of chocolate cake. He could and probably did eat just such combinations in his wildly hungry boyhood days.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

GOOD POSTURE—GOOD BODY MECHANICS

It is gratifying to see the interest that is now being shown in the proper carriage or posture of the body. Just as there are organizations for the prevention of heart disease, anti-tuberculosis organizations, and noise abatement organizations, there are now also what are known as pasture leagues or posture clinics, where the proper position of the body is studied.

Some school teachers at the beginning of the term, show on the blackboard the four types of posture or position of the body, namely (a) excellent, (b) good, (c) poor and (d) bad. Each youngster in the class stands facing the class and then sideways and the rest of the class stands facing the class and then sideways and the rest of the class decide just what type he or she is. The teacher during the term shows the youngsters how to stand, sit, and walk properly, giving exercises to give and maintain a good posture. At the end of the term each youngster again stands before the class and is given the standing or type to which he or she now belongs.

What is the proper position or posture?

The head is held erect, with chin drawn in until the point is nearly over the notch in upper part of breast bone.

The breast bone becomes that part of the body farthest forward.

The lower end of the upper leg bone, and the upper end of the lower leg bone where they meet the knee, support the weight of the body easily.

The weight of the body is on the balls and outer edges of the feet.

Dr. R. B. Osgood, Boston, whose certain ailments, tells us that failure of yougsters to gain weight, and ideas well represent the American stand that poor posture brings on digestive disturbances although the diet is perfect, are frequently due to poor posture or poor body mechanics.

Similarly vomiting and so called bilious or toxic attacks have stopped when proper posture has been maintained.

Increase in alertness, vigor, and endurance is usually noted with improvement in body mechanics. In early childhood parents should be instructed as to proper positions of holding infants. From 2 to 6, games and exercises to prevent round shoulders should be given. From 6 to 12, further exercises, and active corrective apparatus should be used if necessary. From 12 to young manhood, athletic games and instilling the idea of attractiveness of an upright body, are big factors in obtaining good posture.

P.C.I. Cops Double Victories Over Week-End

SENIORS PRACTICALLY CINCH TITLE BY DEFEATING OSHAWA IN MOTOR CITY STADIUM 10-6

P. C. I. Plays Much Superior Game in Forward Passing Department.

GOOD COMBINATION.

Showing marked superiority over their rivals in the finer points of the game and coupled with a thorough knowledge of the forward pass, the Peterborough Collegiate senior rugby team practically cinched their group when they defeated the Oshawa Collegiate team by a 10-6 score at Alexander Park Saturday afternoon.

The P.C.I. squad had the edge throughout the entire tussle but made the home team look particularly bad in the forward passing department, completing no less than six out of eight attempts and on each attempt the homsters showed the lack of a competent defence against the play.

Coach Legon's entire squad worked together in fine style and the absence of several of the stalwarts who are out of the game with injuries, didn't seem to bother the boys in the least. Jack Gardiner looked exceptionally good and handled the kicking assignment to perfection and Hugh Waddell, Arnold Reynolds, Jack Gardiner and Harry Marsh were the pick of the line men with Waddell carrying the heavy portion of the plunging burden.

Outstanding Players

Richardson and Young on the half line were the two outstanding players on the field and kept the homesters guessing every time they got the ball. Young caught everything Conant had to offer in faultless fashion and together with his partner, ran the backfield for lengthy gains. Doug. Fraser had a busy day at quarter and showed nice judgment in leading his team.

For the homesters Conant the tall kicking 'Ace' looked good and even when hard pressed, managed to get his spirals away. Kashul, Shelenkoff, Henley and Hicks carried the brunt of the attack with Conant, and although slightly outclassed by their lighter rivals, they gave a courageous exhibition.

P.C.I. took the wind in the first quarter and before the period was five minutes old, the team manoeuvered in front of the posts to allow Gordie Young to kick from placement for three points. This was followed a minute later by Gardiner's kick to the deadline for a single. Then the 'Petes' lost yards on an offside but soon recovered on a pretty forward to Marsh which was followed shortly by the same play again for another gain, as the quarter closed.

Scores First Marker

Oshawa took possession on a Peterborough fumble and Conant, kicking with the wind, booted one on the first down for their first marker. P.C.I. then tossed another forward, this time to Gardiner, who ran to center field and then by coaxing Oshawa offside on a last down, ran an end run to Oshawa's forty yard line. By consistent kicking, Oshawa drove the 'Petes' back to their 35-yard line but Young relieved the pressure by running the end for a big gain and then Reynolds caught a forward pass for the second successive gain for yards. Just at the half, Conant kicked and on a beautiful criss-cross from Young to Richardson, the latter carried the ball to the homester's 15-yard line leaving the half-time count 4-1 for Peterborough.

The P.C.I. boys appeared a bit shaky in the third quarter but settled down nicely before any damage resulted. Gardiner opened the session with a speedy run but Greene's fumble followed by a P.C.I. offside gave Oshawa a first down at centre field. After an exchange of kicks, Sloane fumbled to give the homesters the ball but Young caught Conant's punt and ran it to the opposition 40-yard line. A placement was tried but the ball was wide and Conant ran it out. The Motor City boys then showed their most determined attack of the day and Hicks, Henley, Crothers and Shelenkoff made big gains through the Garnet and Grey line. However, Richardson picked up a fumble to give his team the ball and Greene and Lord ploughed through for gains. Gardiner then kicked to Shelenkoff behind his own line and the little quarter fumbled to allow Kirkwood to fall on it for the first major score of the day. A forward pass to Gardiner for the convert gave P.C.I. the lead 10-1.

Play is Close

In the final quarter, Kirkwood, Gardiner and Clayton gained yards and Gardiner's kick was run back to the Peterborough 25-yard line. A forward pass failed and Oshawa's attempt at a placement hit the bar, P.C.I. recovering. Another forward pass to Gardiner worked but a fumble on the end run gave Guiltman the chance to pick up the ball and race the remaining few yards for the Homester's only try which was unconverted.

With their chances dwindling rapidly, Oshawa tried several forward passes which were knocked down and the fray ended with Richardson snaring an Oshawa pass out of the air, giving P.C.I. the game 10-6.

INTERMEDIATES' 16 TO 6 VICTORY OVER PORT HOPE SCHOOL SQUAD FEATURED BY SEVERAL FUMBLES

Though Local Gridders Superior to Visitors in Every Department of Game.

POOR CROWD SEES GAME.

Don White, "Doc" Wood and Chesler Are Star Players for P.C.I.

With a cold, drizzling rain turning the field into a slippery mud patch that made the going hard for both teams, the P.C.I. Intermediates romped through with a 16 to 6 victory over Port Hope in the rugby game here Saturday afternoon. The game was marked with fumbles and falls owing to the slippery condition of the pigskin and the grass and dirt underfoot. Only a small crowd of fans braved the inclement weather to see the classy second team from the Collegiate beat the visitors in every department of the game.

There was little difference in the two outfits during the first half, P.C.I. leading 6 to 5 at the end of the quarter, and 8 to 6 at the finish of the half. But they were much the better team the rest of the game, leading at the three-quarter mark by 13 to 6, and holding their opponents scoreless again in the last quarter they continued to count.

Don White, "Doc" Wood and Chesler all turned in a great game for the local gridders, the former tearing off half a dozen big runs. Wood played a bangup contest, blocking and tackling well and also booting one for his side. Chesler worked hard, being dangerous on line plunges, and scoring one touchdown for P.C.I. Tranter got the other one on a neat bit of running in the first quarter before the Port Hope boys were rightly started.

Scores Final Points

Westbye's booting in the last period accounted for the final three Collegiate points. All the home squad turned in a good performance, the line working well and the backfield playing up to their usual standard. Glover and Dearborn went nice on several tricky plays.

Port Hope missed the only forward pass attempted. They used the lateral pass fairly frequently, but there was considerable fumbling. The Petes had a big edge on booting, both Westbye and White shooting the ball over long distances, while the visitors were slower in getting them away. The homesters were also better on line plunging and end runs, but their interference was weak at times.

Early in the first quarter, White took the ball 30 yards around end, and Tranter snaked his way across the line for a touchdown. They failed to convert it. The play was up and down for a space, and the P.C.I. boys began marking yardage on fake passes and end runs. On the losers' 30-yard line, White booted the ball across, right over the grandstand into the river. With the Hopers held on the P.C.I. 30-yard line, they kicked back of the posts and Emmett, coming in fast, recovered a fumbled ball for a touchdown.

Play was quite even in the second, neither team making much headway, although White made gains with a 50-yard and a 15-yard run half-way through. He kicked for a point, to be followed a few minutes later by Wood's kick. Harvey, of the visitors, kicked a long one after line plunges had taken them well into Peterborough territory late in the period.

Chesler Gets Touchdown

Early in the third, P.C.I. got the ball on downs, holding the Port Hopers in their tracks by deadly tackling. Westbye sent a long kick close to their line, Dearborn took it six yards around end, a line plunge failed and they lost the pigskin one yard out. A fumbled ball back of the Hopers' goal was pounched upon by Chesler for a touchdown. The kick was blocked. White tore off a gain of 30 yards a minute later, when the visitors lost the ball on downs. Wood went through the middle, netting four more yards as the quarter ended.

The last opened slowly, the losers showing nice on interference, but being slow on the getaway. Chesler showed to advantage on plunging, then Westbye booted 30 yards for a point. Play was pretty much all in Port Hope territory now. Glover fell on a loose ball, and the homesters were held for two downs, but Westbye kicked another. Port Hope failed on a forward pass, and lost on downs on their 30-yard line. After two downs, Westbye tallied the final point on a nice boot. Port Hope tried gamely, resorting to kicks, but they were short. Play was around the 50-yard line at the whistle.

The teams:—

Port Hope.—Flying wing, Leonard; halves, Harvey, Symons, Emmett; quarter, Southby; snap Mercer; inside, Cancilla, Austin; middles, Ryan, Murphy; outside, Meldrum, Elliott; subs, H. Long, K. Long, Ferguson, Kelly, Somerville and Sylvester.

P.C.I. — Flying wing, Glover; halves, Tranter, White, Wainman; quarter, Dearborn; snap, Duncan; sides, Chesler, Wood; middles, Sedgewick, Johnston; outsides, Mackey, Waddell; subs, McKone, Yeates, Weddell, Parnell, Darcy, Hewitt and Westbye.

Summary

1st Quarter:—
P.C.I.—5 (Tranter; 1 (White).
Port Hope—5 (Emmett).
2nd Quarter:—
P.C.I.—1 (Wood); 1 (White).
Port Hope—1 (Harvey).
3rd Quarter:—
P.C.I.—5 (Chesler).
4th Quarter:—
P.C.I.—3 (Westbye).

Ottawa City Teams Lost Star Players

OTTAWA, Ont., October 19 (C. P.). — Ottawa district profits little from the transfers granted at the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association in Montreal over the week-end. The Capital district has always been an exporter of hockey talent rather than an importer.

Edgar Murphy and Frank Quinn, transferred here from Moncton, returned to the Capital after having spent a year in the New Brunswick city. And A. Dick, moved to Renfrew from Sussex, has also returned after a year in the Maritimes. Little is known here of Thomson, who goes to Cardinal from Oshawa.

The Capital's loss is principally in Gordie Peterkin, left wing and star of last year's Ottawa Rideaus, Eastern Canadian finalists, who has gone to Niagara Falls. Peterkin is considered a real prospect locally.

"Kick" McCann, goalie, and Bill Walker, a defenceman, were with Shamrocks in the local City League last year. Arnie Butterworth, a centre, who was with Rideau Juniors and Frank Graham, defenceman, was with Ottawa New Edinburghs. All four have left for Dalhousie, N.B.

STIRLING WILL ENTER T.V.H.L.

"Home" Material Will Practically Composed All of This Year's Team.

CLUB RE-ORGANIZED.

STIRLING, October 19. — At the annual meeting of the Stirling Hockey Club, held last week, it was decided to enter a team in the Trent Valley Hockey League this year. The team will be composed of practically all "home" material, including Earl Fox, Harry Ingram, Earl Wallace, J. Ackers, with the other players from the village or community. It is reported that the other teams in the league will have no imported players on the roster this year. If this is the case the contests this year will no doubt have a more personal touch and the glory for the winning of the league championship will go to the home-towners on the successful team in place of a "foreigner." No doubt the league contests will be keen and friendly.

The following are the newly-elected officers:

President—R. W. Meiklejohn.

First vice-president—Hugh Morton.

Second vice-president—James E. Lagrow.

Third vice-president — Henry Tulloch.

Fourth vice-president—Mel Fitzgerald.

A new Management Committee was appointed and its duties are to look after all entertainment, to help raise money, and to see that hockey is a success in Stirling this winter. This committee is as follows: W. H. Maise, chairman; J. G. Butler, C. R. Bastedo, A. S. Murduff, E. J. Prear, Mel Fitzgerald, Rev. E. W. Rowland, Rev. H. A. Farrell, James E. Lagrow, W. H. Whitty, Henry Tulloch, Walter Wright, the president, and A. E. Dobbie.

W. J. Whitty, R. W. Meiklejohn, and Thomas W. Solmes were appointed delegates to the Trent Valley League meeting.

Finance Committee — A. S. Murduff, chairman, Thomas W. Solmes, and W. H. Moise.

Messrs. H. C. Martin and C. R. Bastedo were appointed to take charge of the plan for the reserved seat tickets.

VARSITY'S DEFEAT SURPRISE OF INTERCOLLEGIATE RUGBY

U. of T. Loses 8-6 on Mud-covered Field—"Orfuns" Also Lose.

TIGERS EXTENDED.

By JOHN W. STEWART

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—(Special to The Examiner).—With Saturday's games in the various senior leagues of the Eastern Canada Rugby Union, the atmosphere became somewhat clearer, although there were a few surprises.

The biggest upset of the day was the defeat of the University of Toronto by the boys of old McGill, 8-6. The Varsity squad went down to Montreal two to one favorites to trim Shag's team, but despite the stellar booing of Jack Sinclair, they emerged on the short end. It was a tough break for the Toronto lads, who man for man are undoubtedly a better team than McGill, but seem to lack the necessary fighting spirit. Perhaps, after all, there is something in the rumor that there is trouble in U. of T.'s rugby circles. The defeat about eliminates any chance they had of winning the Intercollegiate title.

Queen's Lead Intercollegiate.

Queen's jumped into undisputed lead in the College league with an 8-5 victory over Western, conquerors of McGill last week. The Mustangs gave Harry Batstone's Presbyterians a merry old battle particularly in the dying moments of the game, but they couldn't overcome that seven-point score that Queen's piled up in the second quarter. On a dry field, Western might have had a chance for their whole game is centred around line plays which went amiss in the heavy going. Gilmore and Carter were outstanding for Queen's, while Paterson despite his disastrous muff in the second quarter which paved the way for the only touchdown of the game, played a fine game, and did some nice kicking.

In the Big Four Interprovincial, Montreal swamped M A A A 27-10. It was as expected but not by such a big score. Argos got off to a bad start right at the start when a fumble gave the Winged Wheelers a touch. But the Toronto boys fought right back and at the end of the first quarter, with the stiff wind against them, they led Montreal 8-7, and looked as though they were on their way to a win. But their many years spell over the Wheelers broke in the second quarter, and Montreal led by Stevens, Perry and Jotkus pushed over another lucky touch to lead at the rest period by 13-9. From then on it was just a route, Perry and Stevens combining for some of their famous forward passes to pile up the score.

Argos like Varsity are becoming a one-man team. The Blue Line depends entirely on Sinclair for its points, and the Oarsmen have of late depended on Turville. Now there is no better player in big company than Frank Turville, when he is right. But this year he has been far from right. Yesterday, he was so much off color that he was taken out in the last quarter in favor of Bell, last year's star with Varsity. It was too late. Turville's misplays cost Argos nearly ten points—no difference to the final outcome, but lowering to the morale of the team. It is to be hoped he comes back before the next game with Ottawa.

Tigers had a great deal more difficulty in subduing the Ottawa Senators than the Winged Wheelers did last week. Where the Montreal team rang up a score of 32 points, Hamilton could only make 9, against 5 for the Capital team. It looks bad for Tigers next week, particularly as the Winged Wheelers have had a run on the Hamilton team for the past two years.

Another Surprise.

After defeating the champion Balmy Beachers on the Holiday last week, Varsity Orfuns were considered top-heavy favorites over Kitchener, despite the return of Alex Peters to the Panthers' backfield. True it was a freak touch that beat them 13-11, but it all counts in the records. The Red Tribe were without the services of Arnup who, it was felt was needed more warming a bench with the Intercollegiates. He could have served a more useful purpose at home.

Another big surprise was the tie game in which Hamilton Tiger Cubs held the strong Sarnia Imperials to a 6 all score. Last week, the Cubs absorbed a terrific lacing from the Windsor Greyhounds who had previously been defeated by Sarnia. What a muddle that O.R.F.U is getting into. Sarnia is the only team left undefeated, and they had to split points.

But after all is said and done it looks more and more like Montreal Winged Wheelers for the championship of the East. They should take Hamilton on Saturday, although it's going to be a titanic battle—a battle of brains, brawn, backfields and forward passes. These are he only two teams who seem to be able to use the new play to advantage.

PACKERS BEAT SCOTS ELEVEN IN SEMI-FINAL

FINAL COUNT 4-1.

In spite of the inclemency of the weather on Saturday afternoon the Canadian Packing and Caledonians battled the semi-final of the Gordon Trophy, before a slim attendance of spectators. The Packers beat the Scots four to one and now meet the Canadien General in the final.

The Packers instituted a barrage of shots in the early stages to keep the Caledonian custodian on the alert. After the Packers had carried the attack into the goal area they found scrimmages their only result. The Scots took the upper hand in the argument with close passing tactics, in which the right wing tested Frick at close range. Hakin, the C.P.C. full back was faultless in every attempted onslaught. He checked closely to feed his forwards well up into the full backs' positions. Archie McPhate occupied the solo position of full defence.

Ross Nets Two Goals

Scots Reduce Lead.

Within two minutes on resuming Rankin broke through the defence and slipped the ball over to McCracken, who picked the inside of the upright as Frick sprawled all over the ground, a second late. They continued to harass the Packers' full backs, who replied with stubborn defence to nullify the Scots' movements as they tore in on Fricks' charge. Throughout this bombardment Nicholls covered a lot of ground frustrating any effort by the Scots' forwards. Later he slipped the ball ahead to Downer, who deceived Griffin as he came out of his goal to clear, a few yards from the net. Towards the close, A. Downer added to the total. Canadian Packing 4, Caledonians 1.

Caledonians — C. Griffin, goal; G. Blowers back; J. Reid, W. Robb and I. McPhate, halves; A. Graham, W. McCracken, W. Rankin A. McPhate, and W. Grant, forwards.

Canadian Packing — A. Frick, goal; H. Hotson and E. Hakin backs; A. Roberts, F. Nicholls and A. Bromley, halves. N. Downer, J. Ross, A. Downer, J. Mayette, and T. Foster, forwards.

CASUAL COMMENTS

Saturday was a bad day for the P.C.I. Intermediates' game with Port Hope here, that is as far as the weather was concerned. It rained continuously, a cold, "well, what are you out for?" sort of rain that sure dampened the ardour of the handful of fans who stayed gamely to the end. But they saw the local boys gallop—or should we say skid?—through to a nice win.

• • • • • • •

There was plenty of fumbles and many a slip on both sides, but the P.C.I. players didn't let wet grass, sticky mud or a slippery ball keep them from outclassing the Port Hopers all the way through, especially in the last half. They were faster, more accurate and much better at booting the pigskin.

• • • • • • •

Don White lifted the ball clean over the grandstand from the thirty-yard line once, and a new one had to be produced. Westbye also contributed some nice kicking, while Wood, Chesler and the other gridders all shared equally in the fine victory. Too bad a larger crowd couldn't have seen the game.

• • • • • • •

Down in Oshawa, the senior squad was winning again over the Motor City huskies, 10 to 6. The P.C.I. first team was speedier and trickier, while their forward passing had their opponents going around in a circle. The latter players seemed lost against the aerial attacks, and their own attempts in this department met with failure.

• • • • • • •

The win practically cinches the group championship for Coach Ernie Legon's crew. They have looked classy in every game despite the lack of weight that has marked most of the Collegiate senior teams for some years. The P.C.I. squads emphasize speed and the finer points of the game, and have met with success for the most part.

Some strikeout records are being hung up in the Lakefield Softball League these evenings. The fact that the games are indoors and some of the batters are just so-so, coupled with electric lighting that isn't perfect, gives the pitchers a big edge on the stickers. And the speedball twirlers are having the time of their lives every game.

• • • • • • •

Len Forsythe, who tossed them in for Westclox during the summer, and is now hurling for Bridgenorth in the Intermediate Section, has fanned sixty-nine batters in the first four games up there—each contest going just seven innings. That's sixty-nine out of eighty-four, which has all the earmarks of a record.

• • • • • • •

Twelve players whiffed in the first game, twenty—believe it or not!—succumbed in the second, nineteen struck out in the third contest, while eighteen batters bit the dust in the fourth struggle. Jeff Hardill and "Lefty" Connors also play with the Bridgenorth outfit which is well out in front as the schedule reaches the halfway mark.

Following Canada's decision to participate in the U. S. THREE TEAMS END 1ST HALF IN TIE FOR TOP POSITION

Bridgenorth Leads Intermediate Section of Lakefield Indoor Softball League

TUESDAY'S GAMES.

LAKEFIELD, October 19 (Examiner Correspondence). — A record crowd was at the rink on Friday night for the last games of the first section of the softball schedule, and though the City Service team was present to a man, only two of Deck's team appeared. As the City Service boys were all set for a game a team was picked up to play four innings, and City Service ran up a 7-3 score, which provided a real game although short. E. Briant at plate and B. Blewett at the bases umpired the game. The line-up was as follows:

Score by innings:

Pick-up	0102—3
City Service	2032—7

The Pick-up was made up of Bridgenorth, Selwyn, and Cubs, and in a straight seven innings fixture would have given City Service a run.

An Easy Victory.

The second game, Bridgenorth vs. Business Men, was a plain walkover for the former team and was alost a whitewash, as the score was 19-1. The team was unable to withstand Forsythe's pitching, and with a number of their strong players absent Bridgenorth won an easy victory. Donald Jopling, Ralph Jopling, and Ernie Connors each turned in a home run. E. Briant and R. C. Chittick were the umpires. The line-up was as follows:

Score by innings:

Business Men	00100— 1
Bridgenorth	51544—19

Selwyn Wins 23-13

The third and last game was a play-off of the tie between Selwyn and Warsaw which gave the former the big end of a 23-13 count. Hamblin in the fourth got the only home run of the fixture for his team, while Jim McConkey scored one in the sixth. Briant, Forsythe, and Wannamaker were the umpires. The line-up was:

Selwyn — FitzGerald, p; J. McConkey, c; F. McConkey, 1b; Spearer, 2b; Darling, 3b; Wilson and Over, ss; Blewett, rf; Nicholls, lf.

Score by innings:

Selwyn	465125x—23
Warsaw	1233211—13

Tuesday evening's program at the rink will be a full one as a horseshoe tournament has been arranged in the Curling Rink, the draw being made at 7 p.m., and he second half of the softball schedule opens with three good games, City Service, Sugar Bowl, and Canucks are tied for first place in the senior section of the first half, while Bridgenorth leads the intermediate section with Selwyn the runner-up. The schedule is as follows:

7 p.m.—Cubs vs. Business Men.

8 p.m.—Sugar Bowl vs. City Service.

9 p.m.—Decks vs. Dominion Woollens.

NEW RULING TO CURB TOURISTS

C.A.H.A. Changes Residence Date to Jan. 1 for Province-to-province Transfer.

TRANSFERS SANCTIONED.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 19.—By the Canadian Press.)—After practically a whole week-end of discussion the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association yesterday amended the controversial residence rule.

In future an amateur desiring to move from one province to another will have to drop active competition for one year to make the change. He will have to be in residence in his new home on January 1 in order to be eligible to lace skates. The following autumn Before now the date for moving to the new scene of operations was May 15. The change does not affect the season which is about to open but will apply to the season of 1932-33 and any players who wish to move from their present province for that season will have to be in residenc in the new city before January 1 next.

The Association yesterday provisionally sanctioned 51 branch-to-branch transfers. Provided the player's application complies with the rules and is approved by the club and branches; all documentary evidence is in order and the application is accompanied by a sworn affidvait, then the transfers will be permitted.

The transfers for the coming season were all provisionally allowed except two. Hanrahan of Halifax and Auje of Bathurst failing to secure approval of the Association as they had not complied with the residence rule.

THOMPSON-BROUILLARD BATTLE HEADS BOXING BILL FOR WEEK

San Francisco Negro Defending Welterweight Title at Boston.

SEVERAL 'HEAVY' BOUTS.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 19.—(CP)—On three different sectors of the fistic battlefront tonight heavyweights will get the national boxing program off to a running start.

Heading all the rest will be Tommy Loughran's duel with the Cleveland veteran, Johnny Risko, at Philadelphia. Risko has faded somewhat since 1928 when he was one of the leading contenders for the title shot at Gene Tunney that Tom Heeney finally received but the Cleveland baker boy still can slap and cuff with any of them. He probably will annoy Loughran but that's about all.

The outstanding clash of the week will pit Young Jack Thompson, San Francisco Negro, against Lou Brouillard of Worcester, Mass. In a 15 round bout at the Boston Garden Friday night with Thompson's welterweight championship at stake. Thompson lost a decision to Brouillard in a recent non-title engagement but the title-holder will rule the favorite on Friday despite Boston's jinx in championship.

Other outstanding battles of the week will send Max Baer, Oakland heavyweight, against Jose Santa, Portugal, at Oakland Wednesday night; Midget Wolgast, Philadelphia, against Chato Laredo, Los Angeles, at Sacramento Thursday in a non-title go, and George Manley, Denver light heavyweight, against George Courtney, Oklahoma City, at Denver, Friday.

M.A.A.A. Team Gets 3 Western Players

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 19.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Montreal Amateur Athletic Association is the only team in Montreal to benefit from the 50-odd transfers sanctioned, subject to confirmation, by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

The Winged Wheelers, Allan Cup holders of 1930, obtain W. R. Mackenzie and Massey from the Winnipeg Elmwoods and J. Kelly from Melville, Sask.

BOWMANVILLE BEATS OSHAWA

Victory Places Rubber Town Crew at Top of Intermediate Group.

MEET LOCALS NEXT.

In a scheduled C.O.S.S.A. Intermediate game played at Alexander Park Saturday afternoon, the clever Bowmanville team ran rough shod over the Oshawa Collegiate Intermediates, taking a 21-3 decision from the Motor City team.

The win gave the Bowmanville outfit undisputed possession of first place, with Peterborough as the only remaining team to battle with for district honours. The visiting Bowmanville boys were far too heavy and fast for the homesters and at half time were leading 10-0. It was in the second half that they added heavily to their total and at no time did the Oshawa squad have a chance for victory. Trewin, however, managed to boot three singles for the only tallies of the losers, and showed nice form on the back field.

Play Nice Game

The winners had a nice assortment of plays and with Wright, Williams, Adams, Plumber, and Colmer making big holes in the opposition line, the boys had little difficulty moving the yard sticks Bagnall and Ingram make up a classy back field that troubled their opponents to no little extent and these boys travelled fast all the way.

For the losers, Allan, Collis, Andison, Trewin and Backageorge were the best and tried hard to ward off the defeat but were outclassed as well as outweighed.

Neither squad featured the forward pass to any extent and the few that were attempted were not completed. The Bowmanville team however, plunged and ran the ends almost at will and will be a hard outfit to beat for the honors.

Bowmanville play their next two games with the Peterborough entry and one win for them will give them the group as the Petes have suffered one defeat already and have to win both to land on the top.

The teams:

Bowmanville Collegiate — Centre, Hackney; Insides, Plumber, Veal; middles, Wright, Williams; outsides, P. Adams, G. Adams; flying w, Colmer, Hunt; halves, Ingrem, W. Bagnall, Bagnell; quarter, Williams.

Oshawa Collegiate—Centre, Bell; insides, Backageorge, Hern; middles, Allan, Cornish; outsides, G. Backageorge, Collis; flying w, Maundrill Bradd; halves, Trewin, McKenzie; quarter, Andison; spares, Pollard, Hodgson, Chappell.

Referee—Jamieson of Oshawa.

Umpire—Bond of Oshawa.

NATIONAL HERO OF THE MOMENT

THE BIG SENSATION OF THE RECENT WORLD SERIES.

OUTSHINES EVEN AN "ALGER" CHARACTER

The almost exclusive topic of conversation in baseball circles is Johnny Martin, the most glamorous world series hero since the classic began. Others, in the drifted years, have flashed brilliantly for one or two games or have placed some spectacular play upon the records so that their memories live for this year or that. But Martin has been the mighty man in every game played. The strangest feature of it all, in the baseball career of Martin, is that he had to "steal" his way into the big league. The Cards, who picked him up in 1924, thought so little of him that when they ordered him to report to their 1925 training camp, somebody forgot to send him a ticket or money. Martin was suffering from a bit of depression at the time and so, to get to camp, he had to ride freights or the brake beams of passenger trains—without permission of the railroads. His arriving wadrobe consisted of the clothes he was wearing. Thus the saga of Johnny Martin not merely rivals, but it eclipses any story ever penned by the immortal Horatio Alger. Connie Mack paid this tribute to the hero of the series after his team had lost the fifth game of the series: "It looks as if we would have to kidnap Pepper Martin. He has hammered our every pitcher. They have tried to fool him with everything they have. But it has made no difference. He has hit everything. I never have seen such a world series player who you absolutely could not stop."

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

THE CHALLENGE.

Who knows his strength and feels his might
For what he believes is his will fight
Bugler the Elk

Farmer Brown's Boy stopped abruptly on the wooded slope of the mountain he was climbing this clear, crisp morning in early autumn. His face wore a look of surprise, wonder and perplexity. "Now, who can be out in these woods with a bugle?" he muttered. "There must be others climbing this old mountain, and one has a bugle to signal in case they get separated."

Again he heard that clear, bugle-like note, and this time there was something in it that aroused a doubt in his mind. There was a quality in it that he never had heard in a bugle call, a wild, challenging note. He felt his pulse beat faster at the sound. Somehow it seemed to have something to do with that wilderness, to be something entirely apart from man. There was in it the very spirit of the wild, as if it were the voice of the mountain itself.

"It isn't at all like the scream of King Eagle, yet somehow it reminds me of it," thought Farmer Brown's Boy. "What I mean is that there is in it something wild, untamed, challenging. I wish I might hear it again."

He didn't have to wait long. Again that clear, wild note rang out and sent a thrill through him. It seemed to come from above and off to one side of him. He at once began to make his way in that direction, moving cautiously, and stopping every few steps to look and listen. He wanted to see that unknown bugler before the latter saw him or even suspected his presence. There were periods when it was so long between those bugle calls that he feared the bugler had moved on. Then he would hear the call again and continue his climb.

So at last he came to the edge of a little opening among the trees on the mountain side and never will he forget the moment when he first peered out on that scene. Standing beside a lone stub of a dead tree was the most magnificent member of the Deer family he ever had seen. Compared with him Lightfoot the Deer, whom he had so often admired, seemed small. His coat was yellowish gray, his legs brown, his head and neck reddish brown, and on the latter the hair was much longer, making a sort of mane. His tail was very short. It didn't compare with the tail of Lightfoot or of Forkhorn the Mule Deer. Indeed, it was hardly worth calling a tail. It was straw-colored, and around it was a large patch of the same color.

But the crowning glory were the antlers, a crown indeed. They were wide-spreading, with many long, smooth tines sharp-pointed. It was almost as if he wore a young tree stripped of leaves on his head. From some of the points or tines hung tattered bits which fluttered in the light breeze, but there were but two or three of these, and as Farmer Brown's Boy watched the great antlers were rubbed vigorously against the stub until the last tatters were removed.

"It is Bugler the Elk!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy under his breath, and he is rubbing off the last of the velvet."

The velvet is, you know, a velvety skin that covers the antlers when they are growing, and is rubbed off when the latter have become hard. Like all other members of the Deer family, the Elk sheds his antlers every year and grows a new pair.

For a few minutes Bugler polished the points of his antlers against that stub. Then for a moment or two he stood looking off in the distance, head held high, a noble sight. Slowly he lowered his head from its proud pose, stretched it forward until his antlers almost rested on his shoulders and startled Farmer Brown's Boy by that wild bugle call. At once he threw his head up into its former proud pose and stood listening intently.

"It is a challenge," thought Farmer Brown's Boy. "He is challenging any others within hearing to come and fight. Mrs. Elk must be somewhere about."

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 19th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:10 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., from 1:45 p.m. to 3:35 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 10:50 a.m. to 1 p.m., and from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

October 19th, according to astrological aspects, promises to be rather favorable, especially for monetary transactions, if you show initiative and have the ability to grasp the opportunities that will present themselves. Mild friendships between unattached couples will develop, and these will lead to eventual betrothal and marriage. Travel is not advised.

A child born on this October 19th will be nervous, quick-tempered and will jump at conclusions hastily. If it is to have any sort of a show, it must be taught, in early years, to restrain impetuosity and curb impulsiveness. Its affections will be very strong, and it will be liable to violent infatuations.

You, if born on October 19th, love and crave excitement of all kinds. You will never be satisfied with a humdrum existence, and will all the time be looking for adventure and seeking new thrills. You are not suited for country life, and if you cannot travel you will find in the bustle and excitement of a big city, some measure of satisfaction. Even this, after a time, will pall. Quietness numbs you. Noise and not knowing what is going to happen next stimulates and brings out the best that is in you.

You are both alert and ingenious. You adapt yourself very readily to conditions, and are cool and collected in a jam. Your horoscope denotes, whether you are man or woman, that you will find yourself in many tight corners. But by time wiggling you will invariably come out on top.

Your emotions are hard to stir. Without being cruel, you are callous, and never take the sufferings of others, or your own, seriously. If you could concentrate and stick at one thing your success would be assured, as you possess talents beyond the average. Marriage should not be contemplated by you till you have acquired some settled and steady-going ideas.

CAR IS DITCHED TWO INJURED

F. Barnard and L. Jemison Severely Cut About Legs in Smash-up.

NEAR BAILIEBORO.

BAILIEBORO, Oct. 19.—While motoring on the road east of the village on Monday evening, F. Barnard and L. Jewison narrowly escaped death when the car they were driving struck a stretch of freshly gravelled road and turned over on top of the two young men.

Their car was proceeding west about three miles east of the village and fortunately they were travelling at a slow rate of speed when the front wheels hit the gravel they turned and locked, causing the car to swerve, and turn turtle.

Both were able to crawl from beneath the wreck and make their way to H. Beebe's home, where they secured help to right the car and a passing motorist towed the wrecked machine home.

Both victims received severe cuts about the legs and were badly shook up and bruised.

The top of the car was considerably damaged, the windshield being completely shattered, while the radiator was bent back to the engine.

IS GOUT HEREDITARY?

"If Father Suffered, Must I?"

Kruschen as a Precaution

Many a man has misgivings about gout merely because his father suffered from it. Such men can take heart from the experiences of others. One son of a gouty father admits that he is not a total abstainer, yet he has already reached the age of 51 without a sign of gout. He thanks a regular daily dose of Kruschen for his freedom: "My father suffered years with gout, and to keep myself free from the terrible complaint I now always take Kruschen Salts every morning and never miss. In fact, it is a part of my breakfast. I am now 51 years of age, and I have never had a touch of rheumatics, or signs of same. I am not a teetotaler, taking a glass of ale and a drop of whisky."—C. E.

Here is a rather different case. This man was subject to constipation, and he saw signs that gout was in his system. But he used Kruschen with equal success:—

"For several years I suffered from constipation, with constantly recurring attacks of biliousness attended by diarrhœa and sickness. I was also liable to attacks of gouty rheumatism, this being a peculiar affliction from which practically every one of my forebears on the paternal side suffered. Two years ago I commenced taking Kruschen—not in great quantities, but one dose prescribed, each day. I have now had a perfect freedom from constipation for more than twelve months. Although there is a predilection towards gout, I have been able to ward it off so far. Judging by my finger-joints, I should have been having very severe attacks, but there is no sign of any so far as my personal health is concerned."—W. A. H.

Gout is typical of dozens of complaints which science has proved are caused by impure blood. And impurities in the blood-stream are caused by insufficient elimination of waste matter; in a word—constipation, whether slight or serious. Kruschen Salts, by preventing constipation, is the one sure remedy for its consequences.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

TEACHERS TURN TO MINISTERS

Asks Sermons in Chicago Pulpits be Given on Financial Plight

NO MONEY SINCE APRIL.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19.—Chicago's unpaid school teachers had turned to the ministry for aid.

North Side instructors, meeting yesterday, decided to ask the city's ministers to devote a part of their sermons tomorrow to the financial plight of the teachers. They have received no money for their services since last April. Instead they have been paid in scrip, acceptable at some stores for merchandise. Yesterday, however, the teachers, who are fighting for cash, won a temporary injunction from circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan restraining the school board from issuing scrip in lieu of pay checks.

W. R. Horschecker, a teacher who acted as temporary chairman of the meeting, said:

"In all my forty-one years of teaching in Chicago, this is the first time I have been hungry."

A tax muddle is blamed for the school board's lack of funds to pay the city's 14,000 teachers.

FALL PROVES FATAL

SUDBURY, Ont., Oct 19.—(CP)—Edward Johnson, 45, died in hospital here this morning from injuries received when he fell down the stairs leading to the poolroom in the basement of a local hotel. It is believed death was due to a fractured skull.

Johnson had been working as an engineer for the Canadian National railways. He is survived by his mother who lives in Sweden.

Three Styles:
BAKER'S SOUTHERN STYLE—moist—packed in tins—slightly-sweetened—deliciously fresh.
BAKER'S PREMIUM SHRED—in the familiar triple-sealed, stay-fresh carton.
BY THE POUND—the same fresh, full-flavoured coconut in bulk.

"ALL the many tasty dishes that can be made with coconut," say prominent restaurateurs, "take first place in the menu among our men customers." Yet why should your husband have to get his favourite desserts away from home? Such home-made desserts are so much more appetizing.

You'll find extra praise for such tasty dishes if they are made with Baker's coconut. It's always so lusciously-fresh, full-flavoured and handy. Made in Canada. A1-31

Prof. Edwin Cannan Says Declining Population Will Not Remove Unemployment Problem.

MODERN THEORIES.

LONDON, Oct. 19 (By The Canadian Press).—Declaring statisticians were agreed that the increase in population of England and Wales would end at an early date, Emeritus Professor Edwin Cannan, in his presidential address to the economic science section of the British Association for the Advancement of Science to-day, stressed that a stationary or declining population would not remove the trouble of unemployment. "It will provide more rather than less reason for promoting mobility of labor in place and occupation and we shall have to take more care, rather than less, than at present to secure that arrangement which seem superficially desirable do not hinder that mobility," he said.

"It is inevitable, I suppose, that the question will be asked, whether cessation of the growth of the population is to be regarded as a good or an evil turn in human history," Professor Cannan said. "But the limitations of economics and perhaps of human nature prevent any straight answer being given. Nationalists in each nation want their own nation to increase in comparison with others; if they think of the others' interest at all, they say and believe that it will be promoted by the predominance of their own nation. We can get no further that way, since the pretension of each is contradicted by the pretensions of the others. If we try to avoid this obstacle by saying that we will ignore national and racial differences, and assume either that somehow the generally fittest will grow at the expense of the others, or that each as well as the whole will have stationary numbers, we still have to face the fact that our conception of the distinction between economic welfare and welfare of other kinds is nebulous in the extreme, and that if it was clearer, we should not know — I think we never can know — how much of the one should be regarded as equal to a given quantity of the other."

Professor Cannan discussed the old theories that increases in population would endanger the world's food supply and stressed how wrong these had been proven. "Modern science has changed our outlook. We set no bounds to the possibilities of improvement. We expect to make unwholesome areas healthy, and to modify vegetable as well as animal products so that they will better serve our needs.

The need which former economists had felt to strongly, for insisting on the due restriction of population, has completely disappeared in the Western countries, Professor Cannan declared. "Economists do not now require to talk as if the first duty of men and women was to refrain from propagating their race, and the need for insisting on the desirability of saving has become less pressing. A rapidly increasing population requires a rapidly increasing number of tools, machines, ships, houses, and other articles of material equipment in order merely to maintain without improving its economic condition, while at the same time the maintenance of a larger proportion of children renders it more difficult to make the required additions. To a stationary population saving will still be desirable for the improvement of conditions, but it need no longer be insisted on as necessary for the mere maintenance of the existing standard.

"Though there were eminent dissentients only a few years ago, statisticians are now agreed that in the absence of some great and unexpected change, the increase of population in England and Wales will come to an end at a very early date. Even the lay public has been to some extent enlightened and rather shocked by the recent census announcements that the population of Scotland has actually decreased in the 10 years, and that of England and Wales has increased only 2,061,000, as against 3,543,000 in the 10 years from 1901-11, though the emigrants have been 324,000 less.

"The same change is observable in some degree in other Western European countries and our own oversea offshoots. The cause of it — birth control — will doubtless in time affect the rest of the world, so that while we may expect considerable increase — even an increase much more rapid than at present owing to decrease of huge infant mortality — to take place among the more backward peoples for another half-century at least."

Snubbed

WHAT'S IN A WINK?

Beatrice Lillie, Lady Peel in private life, was in Chicago court during the Al Capone hearing. She asked to be introduced to the gang chief. Capone, who had had a hard day, snubbed her but later turned in his chair and winked at her. Lady Peel winked back.

(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

Tarzan recognized immediately that it was an animal who was trying to force its way into the hut, but the acrid fumes of the village cook fires so filled the air that he was unable to catch the scent of the creature on the roof. Presently he saw a little ray of moonlight. A hole had been forced through the roof. Tarzan saw a dark thing silhouetted against the sky.

As the figure became clear, a broad smile illuminated the face of the ape-man. Now he saw strong little fingers working at the twigs that were fastened across the rafters, and presently the opening was enclosed by a furry little body that wriggled through and dropped to the floor beside the prisoner. "How did you find me, little Nkima?" whispered Tarzan.

Nkima spoke in the language of the apes. He had been sitting high in the branches of a tree all day waiting for darkness to come. Now he proposed to go back and brink Murivo and the Waziri warriors to the rescue. "They could not get here in time," said Tarzan. "Go back and wait. I will join you." At that moment, one of the sentries, hearing voices, crawled into the hut.

"Whom are you talking to?" demanded the sentry. He heard a scampering and saw something dark go through the roof. "That," said Tarzan, "was the ghost of your grandfather. He came to tell you, your wives and children would take sick and die if anything happened to me." The terrified sentry returned to his post, and Tarzan could hear him telling of the ghostly prophesy

Obituary

LINDSAY, Oct. 19.—(Special to Examiner.)—The death took place on Sunday evening of Charles Collins, a well known resident of this town, and a son of a pioneer resident of Ops township. The deceased is survived by his wife and one son, Rev. Father John Collins, C.S.S.R., who is at present in British Columbia. Two brothers Rev. Father Timothy Collins, who was at one time curate at St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, and Rev. Father John Collins, a member of the Basilian Order, and who was stationed for a number of years at St. Anne's church, Detroit, died several years ago. One brother, Cornelius Collins, of Lindsay, survives.

MARY BELL.

The funeral of Mary Bell, who passed away on Friday last, was held this afternoon from the family residence, River Road, Auburn, to Little Lake Cemetery. The Rev. G. J. Bousfield of St. Luke's Church, of which the late Mrs. Bell was a member, officiated at the services. She leaves two sons, Arthur of this city and William of Denver, Colorado, and two daughters, Mrs. W. Mowry and Mrs. G. Lush, both of this city. Her husband predeceased her in May, 1917. The deceased, who was 84 years of age, was born in Percy Township.

LINDSAY COURT TACKS ON FINES OF $1,000 EACH

Otto and Charles Weaver Apprehended After Selling Liquor to Officers

HUNT ON FOR STILL.

Two Other Brothers Plead Guilty to Similar Charge in Local Court.

(Examiner Correspondence)

LINDSAY, Oct. 20. — Otto Weaver and Charles Weaver, both of Coboconk, were brought before Magistrate Jordan today and each fined $1,000 and 12 months in jail, and in default of payment an additional 12 months in jail. They pleaded guilty to having for sale, and selling illicit liquor.

Clarence Weaver and Hector Weaver, also of Coboconk, have also been apprehended on a similar charge and will come up for sentence.

The Weavers were caught selling on the roadside. Two of the officers have been buying from the Weavers for some months past. Monday three officers were treated to a drink and each one purchased a gallon, at $7.00 per gallon.

Could Get No Work

In their defence the Weavers stated that they could not get work to do and had to resort to making "moonshine" rather than starve.

Magistrate Jordan replied: "No one has got to starve in this country. You both have been before me and convicted several times before and your promises are no good."

Inspector Zaneth and his men are returning to Coboconk vicinity to find the still and the rest of the liquor, but the Weavers state that "they'll never find it." Charles Weaver, who is said to be shielding the others stated that he would not "squeal" on them, no matter what happened.

ULTIMATUM FOR MILK PEDDLERS

Must Clean Delivery Vehicle or Have Licenses Cancelled, States Board.

TIGHTENING REGULATIONS.

Steps were instituted by the Board of Health this morning to tighten up the regulations applying to the distribution of milk in the city. All milk peddlers will be called to meet the Board in the Council Chambers next Monday evening at which the Board will deliver an ultimatum to the peddlers to either clean up their rigs or have their licenses cancelled.

It was declared that certain milk rigs are so dirty and poorly equipped that they are a disgrace to the city. Some milk is being peddled in buggies without any top covering, and other peddlers are using dirty trucks, it was stated.

A bylaw will be sought from the City Council by the Board of Health giving the Board further powers over the milk peddler's rigs. The Board may also seek a bylaw increasing the license fee of milk peddlers to $20 a year. The fee is now one dollar, and it is not considered sufficient by the Board. An increased fee will make the peddlers more responsible in their business, it is believed.

The health of the city was reported as very good by Dr. T. W. H. Young, M.O.H., with very few cases of contagious disease.

WORSHIP NEEDED MORE THAN EVER IN PRESENT DAY

Baptist Convention Hears Eloquent Sermon By Chatham Minister.

REPORTS SUBMITTED.

Short But Impressive Memorial Address is Delivered.

The importance and value of worship, which he described as the need of the presen age, was ably and eloquently presented in the convention sermon at the closing of the morning session of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec to-day, by the Rev. Joseph Janes, M.A., of Chatham.

Deliberations of the convention were largely occupied throughout the morning in the presentation and adoption of reports, and this afternoon important matters concerning the Home Mission Board and the Western Mission Board were before the meeting.

The session this morning opened, under the Presidency of Professor A. L. McCrimmon. "God is Holy, and the sense of God's Holiness has brought to us a sense of sin," said the speaker. "If there is any one of us complacent in sin, or who thinks of God speaking soothingly to us, and looking indulgently upon us in sinfulness there is something wrong without God."

Becomes Inspiration.

But he continued if the thought of God's holiness had brought a sense of sin it also brought a sense of comfort and became an inspiration. Referring to man's relationship with God, the preacher said, "we are perhaps thinking disproportionately of our God; thinking more of his transcendancy than of his nearness to us. In the life of Jesus we find the Holiness of God in all its majesty, and also the nearness of the Divine."

"You who feel defeated in sin and in the struggle against evil habits think of God that He is Holy. That thought, he believed, "ought to send us into the fray with confidence and with a song in our hearts."

CAPONE'S TROUBLES JUST BEGUN GOV'T MOVES TO SEIZE PROPERTY

Back Taxes of $215,000 Unless Paid May be Embarrassment Rest of Life.

WATCH WINTER HOME.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 20.—Al Capone's troubles were just beginning it was indicated to-day as the Government moved to seize whatever property he might own, adding financial worries to his already numerous legal woes.

The Government estimated the scar-faced gangster owed at least $215,000 in delinquent taxes, in connection with which he was convicted of income tax law violations facing possible maximum penalty of 17 years' prison sentence. They would be seized to satisfy the claim, government officials said. Already under Federal scrutiny was his $40,000 winter home at Palm Sound, Fla., on which he made thousands of dollars of improvements, and real estate in Chicago, alleged owned by him but deeded to others.

A constant source of embarrassment to the gang leader, if the sum decided by the Government were not paid might result legal authorities said, because the Government might attempt to seize anything Capone might own for the rest of his life.

GOLD STANDARD TO COME BACK SAYS LAWRENCE

Will Likely be on Lower Basis Than Old Parity of $4.86 to Pound.

NOT FAR OFF.

Blames Britain's Mistake of Living Beyond Means on All Parties.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 20 (C.P.).—The crisis through which Great Britain is at present passing, is only of a temporary nature, and the nation will return to the gold standard "at no distant date," according to Sir Alexander Lawrence, former Chief Assistant Solicitor of the British Treasury. He was addressing members of the English-speaking union at a luncheon given in his honor Sir Francis Goodenough, president of the British Sales Managers' Association, also was a guest.

"It is certain that we shall presently go back to a gold standard," Sir Alexander predicted, "though it may likely be on a lower basis than the old parity of $4.86 to the pound. Fluctuations in the value of sterling currency in the meantime must have a bad effect on English and other international trade by bringing in a new element of uncertainty. But the fall in its value should have a stimulating effect on production at home. It will operate in the same way as a protective tariff; it will cost more to bring things from abroad and people will be forced to use more of the goods produced at home."

"We must have in mind," Sir Alexander said, "the courage, nerve and the rather silent patriotism that has come to the front in past times when Englishmen have had to face a big crisis."

Britain's mistake in living beyond her means, must be blamed on all three political parties, Sir Francis Goodenough declared. The corrective, he said, were world-wide free trade and "an honest examination of the facts." Great Britain and the United States must co-operate. "You cannot have a one-way trade," he warned. "If you want to export goods you must import the goods to accept the services of your customer nations."

Fails to Lift Fishermen's Trophy

Fishing schooner Gertrude A. Thebaud, pride of Gloucester, Mass., fishing fleet, and her skipper (inset), Captain Ben Pine, who lost both races for the International Fishermen's Trophy to the Canadian champion Bluenose. The Thebaud put up a great fight, but the sailing contest proved conclusively that the schooner that will beat the Bluenose has not been launched yet.

CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP IN HOME URGED BY PROFESSOR McCRIMMON IN OPENING BAPTIST CONVENTION

MARKED ENTHUSIASM.

Murray Street Church Filled Majority of Congregation Being Delegates.

Stressing the need for the highest possible type of leadership for the children of the land, and urging his hearers to a realization of the importance of Christian influence in the home life, Professor A. I. McCrimmon delivered a stirring presidential address to the delegates and visitors at the 43rd annual meeting of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec which opened at Murray Street Baptist Church last evening.

The church was well filled with people, the majority of them being attending delegates, to whom a welcome was extended by the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, pastor of Murray Street Church, by the Rev. Dr. C. V. McLean representing Peterborough Ministerial Association, and by His Worship Mayor Denne on behalf of the city.

Great enthusiasm marked the opening of the convention, which is proceeding through the week and which concludes on Friday night with an address by the Rev. H. H. Bingham, D.D. of Toronto, on "The Call of Canada."

In the interim there are several prominent speakers listed, and many items of important business on the agenda.

The session opened last evening with a song service led by the Rev. L. M. Houlding, M.A., of Ottawa.

It is worthy of note that the previous convention of this body in

Speculation Rife As to Liberal Head

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 20. (CP) Speculation was rife to-day among delegates to the Ontario Liberal Association's annual meeting on the question of a successor to Senator A. C. Hardy of Brockville who will retire to-morrow as president. Four names were bandied about to-day, Albert Matthews of Toronto, a brother of R. C. Matthews who represents one of the Toronto ridings as a Conservative member of parliament; Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C. of Peterborough; Col. W. H. Mulock of Toronto, a grandson of Sir William Mulock, Chief Justice of Ontario and W. H. Moore, M.P., for Ontario and former chairman of the Tariff Advisory Board. The selection of a president will be made to-morrow.

WORK FOR 1,500 IN EXTENSION OF HIGHWAY NO. 7

Government Announces Construction of 70 Miles of Highway.

MADOC TO PERTH.

Connecting Link From Highway No. 2 at Belleville to Also be Built.

TORONTO, Oct. 20. (Special to The Examiner). Construction of 70 miles of highway on King's Highway No. 7 between Madoc and Perth was announced yesterday by Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Minister of Highways.

Mr. Macaulay's announcement was forecasted yesterday in the news columns of The Examiner. Everything outlined in the news story is contained in the minister's announcement.

The 70 miles of highway will be built as a new unemployment relief program and the entire cost, approximately $1,000,000, will be borne by Dominion and Ontario Government. It is estimated that 1,500 men will be employed in the highway building throughout the winter.

This new unit in the highway will provide a through road from Sarnia to Ottawa, and will shorten the distance between Toronto and the Capital by some 45 miles.

Calling For Tenders

Tenders for that portion of the route between Actinolite and Maberly, which will provide winter work, such as rock-cutting and right-of-way clearing, are being called today by the Highways Department. Work will be under way, Mr. Macaulay predicts, by the middle of November.

Announcement was also made by Mr. Macaulay that the department proposes to connect Belleville with the new through highway at the village of Actinolite by way of Tweed. This connection will facilitate traffic from Highway No. 2. This connecting link will be designated as a King's highway at the same time as the projected Madoc-Perth division, but, unlike the latter, will be contributed to by the municipalities benefiting.

Sportsman's Paradise

The Madoc-Perth stretch of highway will open up a holiday and sportsman's paradise to the tourist. It follows in many places an old Grand Trunk Railway survey. All of the new road borders around lakes and through rockey country. The Counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Frontenac and Lanark are affected.

The places from which the labor battalions for this road construction were not named definitely by Mr. Macaulay. "As the work," he said, "is close to the centres of population, where it is most severely felt, we propose to rotate the workmen so as to stretch out the work to the greatest extent possible."

WALL STREET CLOSE

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 20 (CP)—Stocks rallied smartly in a broad market to-day and closed with a strong tone, although there was a little profit-taking in the late trading. Gains in active issues ranged from 2 to 5 points. New York Central, American Telephone, Allied Chemical and Case advanced about 4, while Westinghouse, Baltimore and Ohio, Consolidated Gas, U. S. Steel, American Can and North American were up 2 to 3. Union Pacific rose 5. Sales approximated 2,500,000 shares.

Canuck Pair Hold Bike Contest Lead

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 20 (C.P.).—Still with the advantage of their furious sprint of last night, Henri Lepage and Torchy Peden, the all-Canadian team, held the lead at noon to-day in the six-day bicycle race in progress at the Forum here.

At noon the winners had covered 631 miles and one lap for a total of 105 points. Van Kempene and Audy were one lap behind, followed closely by Stubecke and Meyer, yesterday's leaders, and Horder and Zack.

THEBAUD BATTLES BLUENOSE ON EVEN TERMS FOR OVER HALF OF THIRTY-SIX MILE COURSE

Captain Angus Walters Pilots Grand Banks Veteran to Victory in 5 Hours, 6 Minutes and 12 Seconds.

ABOARD C.G.S. LADY LAURIER, By Radiophone to Halifax, N.S., by A. D. Merkel, C.P. Staff Writer, October 20. — Bluenose, Captain Angus Walter's doughty schooner, which has for ten years worn the crown as Queen of the North Atlantic fishing fleet, to-day retained her sailing supremacy by administering to the Gertrude L. Thebaud of Gloucester, Mass., United States challenger, the second beating in as many days. Blunose finished at 2.36.12, her lapsed time being 5.06.12. Thebaud was a mile astern.

Thebaud, fought a valiant but hopeless battle. It was not a question of whether Canada or the United States send better sailormen to sea, for there was no room for criticism of the seamanship of either. The title contest proved conclusively that the sailing vessel that can beat Bluenose is yet to be launched. The start went to the invader and that is proof of ability to handle a sailing vessel. Captain John Matheson, substituting for Captain Ben Pine, who was snatched from Thebaud's wheel by illness, carried his charge down half the open ocean course of thirty-six miles on even terms with the defender. But as soon as the windward work began, it became apparent that Bluenose, veteran of the Grand Banks had in her hull or spars something that no one can name no one can describe, and no naval architect, not even her designer, Bill Roue, can thoroughly understand. They called her an accident. But vessels have been built to whip her, and more may yet be launched. But she came home to-day so far ahead of Gertrude that all who saw the contest were ready to admit she deserved to hold the International Fishermen's Trophy.

Close'y Contested.

Captain Angus Walters, who was at Bluenose's wheel, sailed a race that would make a yachting skipper envious. He had to, for Captain John Matheson overlooked nothing in his struggle to bring the International Trophy back to United States registry.

Thebaud finished at 2.48.13. Her elapsed time was 5 hours 18 minutes 13 seconds. She was 12 minutes 1 second behind the Bluenose.

TWO PROVINCES LOSE STRUGGLE FOR REVENUES

BEFORE SEPT. 1, 1905.

LONDON, October 20 C.P. Cable).—The Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta lose their fight to have the Dominion account to them for lands alienated by the Dominion before September 1, 1905, when the Provinces came into being.

The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council to-day dismissed with costs, the appeal of the Province of Saskatchewan from a ruling of the Supreme Court of Canada of February 3 last, when the Supreme Court favored the Dominion. The Province of Alberta was associated with Saskatchewan in the appeal to the highest tribunal.

Natural Resources.

The case arose out of negotiations for the return of the natural resources to the Province of Saskatchewan. A series of questions were referred to the Supreme Court, which concurred in the Dominion Government's claim it had to account to the Province only for any of the natural resources sold or otherwise alienated since the Province was formed in 1905. The Province argued the accounting should cover all the time from 1870 when Prince Rupert's Land and the North-West Territories became part of the Dominion.

The Province contended that although the Dominion was given the jurisdiction and control of the North-West Territories and Prince Rupert's Land in 1870 the revenues therefrom should not have accrued to the Dominion as a whole but that the Dominion was virtually in the position of a trustee for the Provinces later formed. The Dominion replied there was no obligation on its part to administer the lands and appropriate the revenues for the benefit of any Province subsequently set up.

There was no disagreement as to the question of revenues from natural resources received after the formation of the Provinces in 1905.

OPEN BALLOT TURNED DOWN

Liberal Officers to be Placed in Nomination by Select Committee.

RALLY AT LONDON.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 20. (By J. F. Sanderson, C. P. Staff Writer)—Officers and members of the management committee of the Ontario Liberal Association will be placed in nomination by a select committee and not by open nomination from the convention floor.

This decision was reached today at the first business session of the annual association's meeting and only after a heated discussion. Delegates from Toronto especially favored the open system of nomination, charging "hole in the corner" methods and that a nomination committee possessed "altogether too much power."

Kenneth Christie, President of the Toronto Men's Liberal Association, supported by two other Toronto delegates, Bert McCreath and George Urquhart presented an amendment, which would introduce open nominations from the convention floor.

On a standing vote, Senator A. C. Hardy, the President of the Association, declared the amendment carried but when this ruling was challenged and a recorded vote taken, the decision was reversed. One hundred and forty delegates favored the appointment of a

WORK OF FIRE PREVENTION IS ROTARY THEME

H. W. Crosby of Trenton Inspectorate Tells of System Used by Fire Fighters.

AT CAMPBELLFORD.

N. A. MacColl Makes Plea for Proper Observance of Remembrance Day.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 20 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — Fire fighting and prevention was the general theme of the guest speaker, H. W. Crosby, district forester of the Provincial Department of Forestry, Trenton district, speaking before the Campbellford Rotary Club yesterday at their regular luncheon, giving some interesting details of the work of the department in the reduction of forest fires and fire hazards and the organization of the force used for this purpose.

Fire protection is an economic necessity in this day and generation, the speaker pointed out, saying that Ontario forests are not indestructable as was often thought.

He believed, he said, that the most intelligent protection was necessary on the part of the government and the people, for timber was one of the greatest natural resources of Ontario. The idea of fighting fires started away back in 1855, Mr. Crosby said, but it was not until 1878 that the first protective measures came into force with the birth of the Provincial Preventative League. In 1885 fire rangers were first established, 79 in all, as compared with over 1,200 to-day.

Ben Hur Sulky Is Found At Pompeii

NAPLES, Italy, October 20 (C.P.) — The world may have to revise its picture of the chariot, according to archaeologists here who commented on the discovery of what is said to be the first complete "Ben Hur sulky" of the Imperial era ever retrieved from Roman ruins.

The chariot was excavated out of the ruins of a house at Pompeii. It is excellently preserved. Up to this time, the archaeologists said, not one of chariots have been formed from written descriptions or fresco decorations. This specimen, when freed from the earth that covers it is to be placed in the National Museum here.

THREE OFFICERS SHOT IN BATTLE

TWO OTHERS ESCAPE.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 20—Three detectives were operated on to-day for bullet wounds, a gangster was dead, and police throughout the State were hunting for two men who escaped from a West 78th Street apartment during a pistol battle.

A traffic policeman, who thought he recognized one of three men, who murdered Patrolman Jeremiah Bresnan three years ago, summoned the three detectives to the Brownstone house. They triad to force their way into a room where the gunmen were staying, but were met by a shower of bullets.

The detective trio, Edward Willi, Guido Pessagno and James de Farraro, were wounded. One of their bullets killed Enrico Battaglio, who according to police records, had been a suspect in the Bresnan murder.

The two other men in the room clambered out of a window and made their escape. Police think a woman was with them, and to-day, Police Commissioner Mulrooney sent detectives to check several addresses found in a little notebook in that room.

Much Damage Done New Zealand Storm

DUNEDIN, New Zealand, October 20 (C.P. Cable via Reuters) —Enormous damage was caused in this city to-day by a violent hurricane which raged from daybreak until late in the afternoon. No casualties were reported, however.

All the plate glass in the city was smashed. The roof of the hospital was carried 200 yards away and the race course grand stand was blown down. An oil tanker was swept from her moorings at the wharf, tearing part of the wharf away with her. Many trees were uprooted.

TRUNK REVEALS 2 SLAIN WOMEN, DRAGNET SPREAD

TWO MEN ARRESTED.

Victims Identified as From Pheonix—Both Been Shot.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 20.—The Los Angeles Police Department was advised this morning by the Southern Pacific Railroad that two of its special agents had a woman in custody aboard a Phoenix bound train believed to be Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, sought in connection with the finding of the bodies of two women in trunks in a railroad depot here last night.

The woman in custody, police were told, did not disclose her identity. She was dressed in a nurse's uniform.

Two Arrested

Two sinister looking trunks, opened by the police here last night, yielded the bodies of two young women and led to the quick detention of two men and an intense hunt for a woman suspect, but failed to clear up much of the hystery veiling the slayings.

The victims were tentatively identified as Mrs. Agnes Leroi, X-ray technician of a clinic in Phoenix, Ariz., and Miss Hedvig Samuelson, her roommate. The woman hunted was Mrs. Ruth Judd, a secretary at the clinic and supposed friend of Mrs. Leroi and Miss Samuelson, who had been missing since last Friday.

Police soon located B. J. Kinnell, Mrs. Judd's brother, and her husband, Dr. W. C. Judd and questioned them while other officers hunted for Mrs. Judd herself. The latter was believed to be fleeing by train from Los Angeles to Phoenix.

Brother Went to Station

Police said Kinnell admitted having gone with his sister to the railway station to claim the trunks which had been sent here from Phoenix, presumably by Mrs. Judd. Kinnell denied knowledge of whether his sister had killed the women, but said "if she did it she must have been insane," Dr. Judd insisted he knew nothing of the case.

Letters and photographs in the trunks led to the search for Mrs. Judd and her husband, and to the police assumption as to identity of the victims, each of whom apparently had been shot.

After discovery of the bodies, one of which was dismembered, police found a suitcase in a restroom containing a portion of one of the torsos.

Officers here were informed that Mrs. Judd had lived with the two women or had been associated with them in Phoenix.

Arthur V. Anderson, District Baggage Agent for the Southern Pacific System, said he ordered the trunk held after employees noted blood was seeping from one.

A man and woman, later identified by police as Mrs. Judd and Kinnell, presented the claim checks several hours later. Anderson asked the woman what the trunks contained and she unhesitatingly replied they were filled with clothing.

Had No Keys

To Anderson's suggestion that the trunks be opened and examined, the woman said she did not have the keys in her possession, but would telephone her husband to bring them. She made a telephone call but received no answer, whereupon she announced she would go after the keys herself.

The man and woman went away, Anderson said. After waiting four hours for them to return, an employee called the police. The larger trunk contained the body of one of the women and the head and limbs of the other. The small trunk yielded a portion of torso, and the suitcase, found later in the rest room, bore the remainder of the gruesome consignment.

In the larger trunk was a photograph labelled as having been taken by Otto H. Hartness of Portland, Ore., and bearing the pencilled notation, "Hugh Angle, Christmas, 1923, 20 years old!!" There were several other photographs, an envelope filled with letters, a long broad knife, bent but not bloodstained, and a woman's purse con-

Two Cars Collide On Eldorado Road

MADOC, Oct. 20. (Examiner Correspondence). Two cars were badly damaged as a result of a collision which took place about noon on Sunday, near Wm. Stewart's on the Eldorado road. An American, driving a large sedan, crashed into Bill Bateman's coupe. After hitting the Bateman car, the other machine left the road and ran into the rail fence and was badly damaged. Upon investigation by Police Constable Hill it was found that the American car was taking more than half of the road and the driver therefore responsible for the accident. There were no serious injuries, but Mr. Bateman suffered from being thrown against the front of his car.

Jury Claims Youth Strangled In Stunt

WINNIPEG, Man. Oct. 20.— (C.P.)— The nine day mystery surrounding Milton Koser's strange death stood officially solved to-day, as coroner's jury decided last night the 13 year old boy died "from the effects of strangulation brought about through personal expeimentation from misadventure."

Expert evidence showed the boy had himself looped a cord over the top of the door in his bedroom and hanged himself with it. It was the unanimous opinion of police officials, however, that Koser's action was done as a stunt and not with the deliberate intention of suicide. One juryman dissented from the finding.

Koser's body was found on October 10 by his sister and Albert Ford, a friend, on the floor of his bedroom. A cord was wound tightly around the neck.

CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP IN HOME URGED BY PROFESSOR McCRIMMON

Peterborough was held in the year 1913 shortly after Murray Street Church had been completed and when the Rev. J. R. Webb was the pastor. Mr. Webb is at the present convention, having come here from Kitchener, where he is still laboring in the Baptist ministry.

Another former member of the Baptist congregation in this city was also present last evening and was renewing friendships. He was Judge Joseph Wearing, now of London, Ontario.

Welcome.

The Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, B.D., the pastor of Murray Street Baptist Church, in welcoming delegates to the convention, made an announcement of special interest to the men, that the Y.M.C.A. was at their disposal. "We are very happy you have come. We have been anticipating your arrival here for some time," he said.

Referring to the barricade at the intersection of Murray Street and George Street, Mr. Sutcliffe remarked that although the entrance to the church was blocked it was not with the intention of keeping them out. "It is rather a sign," he said, "that we look after our unemployed."

"The Love of God" was the theme of Mr. Sutcliffe's topic.

Some men had the knowledge of God, said the speaker, but they did not know Him completely. To do so one must know something of love. "Jesus did not only speak of love. He lived a life of love."

"Love gave; love sent His Son into the world; love gave of His best. Love is for every person in all the world. Then if God is love He gives His best to everybody in Jesus Christ."

He said that the one thing that would dominate the convention would be Christ and His Kingdom. There are two forces at work in the world, force and love. "Which," he asked, "is to prevail?"

Arrangements Complete.

President McCrimmon, commenting on the welcoming remarks of pastor of Murray Street Church, spoke highly of the complete arrangements that had been made for the reception of the delegates. He thought that the theme of the address on the love of God were most appropriate to the opening of the convention. He afterwards declared the convention open to business.

The first item of business was the appointment of scrutineers, as follows: Revs. J. D. McLachlan, Harold Lang, George Simmons, P. C. Reeds, T. E. Richards, William Howard, and Messrs. W. G. Robertson, S. L. Squire, and A. E. Weatherby; this was followed by the appointment of the nominating committee, who were to bring in their report this morning. The committee is as follows: Mr. Hugh Robertson, Rev. W. S. Buckberrough, Rev. W. Raithby, Rev. A. E. Masse, Mr. H. S. Robertson, Rev. R. J. McLaren, Rev. W. J. Wismer, Rev. E. J. Whan, Mr. C. E. Vail, Rev. G. A. Brown, Rev. A. Carr, Rev. G. N. Simmons, Mrs. E. E. Wood, Rev. G. A. Leichliter, Rev. W. L. Palfreyman, Rev. W. Arthurs and Rev. T. B. Best.

The annual printed reports of all the boards were presented and tabled for discussion.

Words of welcome were extended to newly ordained ministers and ministers from other conventions by the Rev. B. W. Merrill, B.A., B.Th., vice-president of the convention, and assistant pastor of Walmer Road Church, Toronto.

Ministers from other conventions: H. E. Murphy of Kinmore from the West; H. R. Nobley of Windsor, from the West; B. Owen of Montreal from Ohio; Ralph Willson of Houghton Churches from Illinois; W. M. Donally of Galt, from U.S.; E. C. Smith of Aurora from Great Britain; and W. S. Edgar of Chesley from U.S.

The Rev. George A. Brown, replied on behalf of the ministers. It was wonderful, he thought, to feel that they were received into the fellowship of the church, and that they had the confidence of the congregations. "Our desire," he said, "is to serve Christ and His Kingdom."

On behalf of Peterborough Ministerial Association, a welcome was extended to the delegates to the convention by Dr. C. V. McLean, pastor of St. Andrew's United Church.

Passing of Edison

He referred fittingly to the passing of Thomas A. Edison, and of his great contribution to the world of science. "There are great forces to-day working for the Kingdom of God which we hope may be turned into light," he remarked, in drawing a parallel between the discovery of electric light and the propogation of the World of God throughout the world.

A formal welcome was also voiced by Mayor Roland Denne on behalf of the City and Corporation. He spoke of Peterborough's churches and ministers; the city's school system, and the number of her industries, and in hoping that the delegates would enjoy their stay here, he also expressed a wish to see them back here at some future date.

A sacred solo was rendered by Miss Trucie Pearson, following which the offering was taken.

The President's Message

"Some of the outstanding Characteristics of the Baptist Faith," was the theme of the presidential address, delivered by Professor A. L. McCrimmon, of Hamilton.

The address was characterised by a remarkable depth of thought and contained an undertone of challenge to the ministry. The speaker had the happy knack of using droll phrases in stressing points in his arguments.

"The Baptist faith is not reactionary" he said. "It accepts the truth of God wherever it is found." It was a modern faith, he averred, equal to all vicissitudes of life. It was furthermore a conservative faith which had not changed in its fundamental principals, and it had a certain satisfaction in noting that science was not so cocksure. It was a faith that believed in a personal living God.

"The Baptist faith is a teaching faith. You see war dominating the thoughts of mankind and the preparation armaments. You see labour and capital at variance. In our homes, said the speaker, we have boys and girls growing up, but do we realize that these questions must be faced and solved by these citizens of to-morrow, in the very near future?"

"What about your homes?" Do you teach your faith in your home or are you spineless, vertebrae-less specimens of humanity?" he demanded. "The home tells the story of the nation and of the work of the church here upon earth."

Christian Influence in Home

He continued to stress the importance of christian influence in the home and spoke of the need for denominational literature of a high standard.

The speaker also spoke of probable enlargements to McMaster University, and in this connection mentioned that the supply for the Baptist pulpits on the whole must come from the bosoms of the homes. He did not wish to cast reflection on those who had come here to minister from abroad, and who were performing yeoman service, but he did wish to stress the need for the highest type of leadership for the children of the land.

In making use of one of his droll phrases, the speaker said "We are out to fight atheism whether it comes red-eyed from Petrograd or red-mouthed from Kansas."

WORK OF FIRE PREVENTION

as efficient as possible. During the past two years, the speaker said many changes have occurred with the use of new and better equipment and the scientific qualifications demanded of all the employees.

Of the Trenton inspectorate, which came into being in 1922, Mr. Crosby said that it comprised three and a quarter million acres of forest. There are three distinct features of the work, he stated: the detection of fire, the communication of the information, and the actual work of fighting it. For detection, there are seventeen steel towers used in this district, each eighty feet high surmounted with an eight-windowed cabin and linked up with each other and the other members of the district by phone. On days when visibility is bad, airplanes are also used for detection, the speaker said. From the look-out towers, fires are detected a long way off on clear days, and the exact location determined by intersection readings of the towers surrounding the fire. Rangers are then notified and if the fire is serious, men collected from surrounding country to fight the blaze. There is no exact system used in doing this, as every fire calls for different methods, but earth and ground fires are combatted by digging fire guards and removing all inflammable material from their paths.

Effective System

Of the effectiveness of the system used by Mr. Crosby stated that many fires had been located and handled which the public never knew of. Educating the public in the taking of precautions had done much to eliminate forest fires, he said, but the wonderful road systems now prevalent and the common use of cars had taken more people into the backwoods, and so fire hazards had increased. In the Trenton district in 1929, he stated, that 202 fires had been checked with a loss of 70¼ acres of commercial timber, 400 acres of restocking, and 396 acres of young growth. In 1930 190 fires had been fought with a loss of 3,955 acres of timber, and this year 200 fires registered with a 2,000 acreage loss. These fires mostly originated from the carelessness of campers, he stated, especially during the past three years when the fire hazard had been abnormally high owing to the scarceness of water.

The work of the forestry department was not in fighting first but in preventing them, Mr. Crosby said, and in reducing the fire hazards in the districts.

He also paid a high tribuet to the settlers in these parts of the province who render splendid assistance to the department in the work of co-operation, many of the men being honorary fire wardens. Even among the boys preventative education was being carried on, many of them being junior fire wardens, and receive literature from the department concerning the subject and are privileged to wear a badge.

G. A. Kingston moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, which was conveyed to him by Vice-President H. N. Carr, who occupied the chair.

An appeal was made to the club by N. Alex MacColl, urging that November 11 be properly kept as Remembrance Day. He said that there were threatened difficulties in the way of this observance, mostly from manufacturers and big stores. It had been declared a statutory holiday and the Governor General of the Dominion was being urged to issue a proclamation in connection with it. Concluding his appeal, Mr. MacColl stated, "I trust it will be the day we remember those who fell for their country, and what we have gained by their sacrifice."

PRODUCE GRAIN, CATTLE,

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—There was a great demand for strictly fresh eggs on the local market yesterday, but there were not sufficient receipts of this kind to satisfy. Wholesalers were moving storage supplies in considerable quantities, and at prices steady with last week's advance, but were not in the market for any storage offsprings from jobbers, their own supplies being adequate. Brokers were able to obtain 1 cent better per dozen for fresh extras, but were not receiving enough for the demand and moved short held eggs at lower levels. Retailers were quoted fresh eggs at prices steady with last week's increases, with the exception of seconds, which were up another 2 cents per dozen.

Egg Prices

Country shippers were quoted 39c for extras, 35c for firsts, and 19c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Retailers were offered extras in cartons at 47c, extras loose at 45c, firsts loose at 40c, and seconds loose at 24c per dozen. Brokers sold fresh supplies at 41c to 42c for extras, 37c for firsts, and 22c for seconds, graded and in free cases.

Butter

Receipts of butter were heavy for this period of the year, and trade was slow, buyers taking supplies of sufficient volume to meet requirements. Brokers were moving some lots to outside points, but local trade was quiet, with 20c to 20¼c, governing transactions in No. 1, creamery solids and 19c to 19¼c in No. 2.

Cheese

Trade in cheese was dull and the ¼c decline of last week was still in effect on new makes. Brokers offered new large at 11⅜c, new twins at 12c and new triplets at 12¾c. Wholesalers offered the trade new makes at the steady prices of 13c for large, 13¼c for twins and 13½c for triplets.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—Butter and egg prices here were higher, while cheese and potato quotations held unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesteday.

Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized butter in carlots, gained ¼c at 19¾c to 20c a pound. Three cars of butter shipped last week from Montreal to New York and the prospects of more being shipped this week exerted a slight firmi influence on the market. To retailers solids at 21c to 22c and prints at 22c to 23c. a pound were unchanged. Receipts were 111 boxes.

Owing to lack of offerings carlot prices of fresh eggs were uncertain, but there was a better tone. Extras were quoted around 45c, firsts around 35c and seconds at approximately 20c a dozen. To retailers prices of fresh eggs in carlots were generally higher. Fresh specials gained 2c at 50c to 52c and extras were up 1c at 46c to 47c. Firsts were unchanged at 40c and seconds jumped up 2c at 25c to 27c a dozen. Storage eggs were unchanged, extras being quoted at 35c, firsts at 32c and seconds at 28c a dozen. Receipts were 333 cases.

Ontario cheese was unchanged at 11¾c, while Quebec cheese held steady at 11¼c to 11⅝c a pound. Receipts were 5,887 boxes.

The potato market was unchanged, quotations per 80-pound bags of No. 1 stock being 30c to 40c for Quebecs, 45c to 50c for New Brunswick Cobblers and 50c to 55c for New Brunswick Green Mountains.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Ont. Oct. 20. (CP)—Cattle receipts 5166. Cattle recipts were mostly westerns and native stores. A few good butchers sold steady at the opening at $5.75 to $6.. Weighty steers were dull with few sales. Butcher cows sold at a top of $3.50 with canners mostly $1.25. Choice fed calves brought $8.00 to $9. Store cattle trade was slow at the opening. Steers up to 1,050 lbs., good and choice, $5.75 to $6.25; medium, $4.75 to $5.50; common, $3 to $4.50; steers over 1,050 lbs., good and choice, $5.50 to $6; medium $4.75 to $5.25; common, $4 to $4.75; heifers, good and choice $5.75 to $6; medium $4.75 to $5.50; common, $3 to $4.50; fed calves, good and choice, $8.25 to $9; medium $6.50 to $8; cows, good, $3 to $3.50; medium, $2.50 to $3; common $2 to $2.50; canners and cutters, $1 to $2.50; bulls, good, $3 to $3.50; common $1.75 to $2.50; stocker and feeder steers, good $4.50 to $4.75; common $3 to $4.25; stock cows and heifers, good —; milkers and springers, $30 to $70.

Calf receipts, 814. Calves were steady at $8 to $9 for good and choice vealers with grassers downward to $6 good and choice veal $8 to $10; grassers, $3 to $3.75.

Hog receipts, 710. Hogs were unsettled with bids steady at $4.75 f.o.b. for bacon or $5.35 weighed off car.

Sheep receipts 2799. No lamb sales were made up to 11 o'clock. Good lambs were expected to sell at $11 cwt. No sheep were sold. Good ewe and wether lambs $7; medium $6.25 to $7.50; bucks $5; culls $4.75 to $5.25; good light sheep, $3 to $3.50; heavies, $2 to $3.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Breadstuffs went briskly upward yesterday, wheat and rye both outdoing previous top quotations for the season. There was aggressive speculative buying, simultaneous with assertions that France would negotiate for the purchase of 50,000,000 bushels of United States Government sponsored wheat holdings. Other stimulating factors were 2,670,000 bushels decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total and late rumors of Japanese troop movements in Manchuria.

Wheat closed strong at the day's highest figures, 1⅝ to 1⅞ cents advance; corn ⅞ to 1⅛ cents up; oats, ¼ to ⅜ cents higher, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 15 cents.

..... TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Oct. 20. (CP)— The United Farmers Co-operative Co. to-day supplied the Canadian Press with the following quotations on produce delivered at Toronto:

Eggs, extras, doz. 39c; eggs, firsts doz. 34c; cream, churning, No. 1, lb., 16c to 20c; potatoes, No. 1, in bags, 35c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, October 20. — Prices bounded upward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday, and the close saw all months with appreciable advances, ranging from 1½c to 1⅞c. October was 1⅞c higher at 58¾c, November 1¾c to 1⅞c at 58½c to 58⅝c, December 1⅝c at 57¾c, and May 1½c at 61½c.

Despite large deliveries in the country, hedging pressure was less severe and it appeared as though forced selling by farmers was not past the worst and growers were now beginning to store large proportions of their grain.

Pit trade at times was quite heavy and the slow, steady advance continued throughout the morning, with the peaks being reached just before the close.

Liverpool and Buenos Aires both were stronger and held gains at the finish of the day. Foreign news also was encouraging.

Demand for the first five grades of cash grain during the morning was good and spreads generally were unchanged to a little better.

Pit trade in all coarse grains commodities was at times quite active, with good purchases, but, with the exception of a small export business in No. 3 C.W. oats, actual sales of coarse grains were indifferent.

Growing Deaf With Head Noises? Try This.

If you are growing hard of hearing, and fear catarrhal deafness, or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmint (double strength) and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy, and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to take. Anyone who is threatened with catarrhal deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

RESCUE WORK CONTINUES

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 20 (A.P.)—Following a terrific three-day blizzard two airplanes yesterday resumed transferring passengers and baggage marooned on the steamship Baychimo in the ice pack north of here to Kotzebue. The last trip will be made to-day if the weather continues fair. The planes then will commence transporting the passengers to Nome in time to meet the last outgoing vessel.

Obituary

MRS. JOHN T. VOSPER.

CAMPBELLFORD, October 20 (Examiner Staff Correspondence)—A one-time resident of Campbellford and well known throughout this part of the country, Mrs. John T. Vosper, widow of John Vosper died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Overton Roblin, at Ottawa late on Sunday. She was in her eighties.

Mrs. Vosper, who before her marriage was Miss Charlotte E. McKim of Selby, Ontario, was a resident of town for many years, the late Mr Vosper being originator and editor of the Campbellford Weekly Herald, coming from Cobourg to Campbellford. Two children survive, one daughter, Mrs. O. Roblin of Ottawa and one son, Dr. L. L. Vosper of Kingston.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday, the remains coming from Ottawa via C.P.R. to Havelock. Interment will be made in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

HARRY CUNNISKEY

The death occurred suddenly yesterday morning in Nicholls Hospital of little Harry, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cunniskey of Westwood, after a short illness. Besides his sorrowing parents, he leaves two sisters, Jean and Martha, and three brothers James, Stewart and Chrisie, all of Westwood. The funeral took place from the family residence this afternoon at 3.30 o'clock to Cameron's Cemetery. The Reverend H. J. Bell of Hastings, officiated.

In spite of the building boom in Malmo, Sweden, rents threaten to advance.

POLICE ARREST THREE ROBBERS

LOOTED THREE STORES.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 20 (Examiner Correspondence)—Reeve P. Stinson received a telephone message from Provincial Police W. Carey on Monday morning that three men, arrested in Belleville on Sunday, are apparently those implicated in the Millbrook robbery last Tuesday night when three local stores were entered and a quantity of goods taken. The men were taken in custody by Belleville police and identified by the goods found in their possession, the description of the stolen articles tallying with those looted from local stores, police within the entire district having been furnished with a list and full description of the missing merchandize.

It is thought the three men arrested robbed a store at Frankfort the night following the burglary here when P. I. Bentley's hardware store was entered from the rear and a quantity of goods including flashlights, carving sets and ammunition was stolen; Burnham Bros. grocery was evidently the next place visited, and allegedly the large augur by which a hole, six inches square was bored in the rear door allowing the marauders to reach in and lift the iron bar placed across each night, was obtained from Bentley's stock; tobaccos, chocolates, flannelette sheets and some shirts were taken from Burnhams', an inner door giving access to Harold Nattress' barber shop where the tobacco stock was practically cleaned out of the silent salesman, and the vault opened and over sixty dollars in cash stolen.

The safe in Burnham Bros.' store was tampered with but the thieves did not succeed in forcing an entrance, rather their interference with the combination only locked the door more securely.

HOME TOWNERS

TIDBITS INTERESTING AND HUMOROUS FROM CAMPBELLFORD

Miss Leah Watering, R. N., of Hamilton is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Watering for two weeks before taking over a staff position in Toronto.

Mrs. (Dr.) F. deF. Free and daughter Elizabeth returned from Toronto on Saturday after a brief visit to that city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mason were called to Toronto on Monday by the death of Mr. Harry Young, brother-in-law to Mrs. Mason who died suddenly that morning. Mr. Young, who was 52 years of age was well known in town being a frequent visitor here. He is survived by his widow and two daughters.

Mr. T. E. Hall was a visitor to Toronto on Sunday.

Mr. James L. Irwin, Dominion cheese graded, was a visitor to town on Sunday.

taining pistol cartridges and exploded shells. Clothing had been packed around the bodies.

Special Instructions

The tag on the small trunk bore a note saying: "Don't deliver until you see me personally."

The letters were addressed to "Hedvig Samuelson, 529 Portland street, Phoenix, Ariz. One of the trunks also contained a photograph of an attractive brunette. On the back of the photograph was pencilled "Hedvig Samuelson, Landa, N.D., a diploma bearing the same name and issued July 24, 1925, from the North Dakota State Normal School also was found.

There also were several cancelled cheques made out to Dr. L. R. Packard, Whitehall, Mont., and several prescription blanks with Dr. Packard's name printed on them.

The younger woman, presumably Miss Samuelson, had been shot three times—in the breast, shoulder and temple. The other had a bullet wound in the temple only.

WELCOME!

Peterborough citizens are glad to welcome the some five hundred delegates to the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec who are gathered here for the important business of their annual assembly.

It is always a pleasure to our citizens to show hospitality to their convention visitors, and the presence here of so many leading members of one of Canada's great churches is appreciated by the community.

The civic greeting accorded the delegates last evening is echoed by the citizens generally, and in their behalf The Examiner extends to the visiting Baptists best wishes for a most successful, harmonious and profitable convention, coupled with the hope that there may be time in the intervals between their deliberations for our visitors to see something of the charms of this city.

We may say to them that our people are not a little proud of the appearance of Peterborough, of its fine stores, its clean streets, its neatly kept gardens and its air of comfort and well-being, and they would like to feel that this week's delegates will not go away without having seen a little of these things for themselves.

THIS IS GOOD NEWS.

The intimation that a twenty-five-mile section of King's Highway No. 7 may be constructed by the Ontario Government under the same conditions as those prevailing in the building of the Northern Ontario sections of the trans-Canada highway, will be welcome news to the people of this part of the Province.

It has been contended that in some of the sparsely settled districts through which this new Sarnia-Ottawa trunk highway will run the conditions justified the Government placing the work on the same basis as that adopted in New Ontario.

In addition to this claim, there is the obvious fact that the work already projected in the North will not begin to take care of all the single unemployed, and that the opening up of additional road-building operations in other sections of the Province was required.

If the Tweed-Kaladar section of No. 7 highway is added to the Government's relief program it will provide work for many unemployed residents of the district affected, and in addition, will absorb other workless men from other sections.

It is to be hoped that the news will be confirmed officially in the near future and construction work will be soon under way.

WILFUL NEGLIGENCE.

It is complained by a contemporary that the present law in regard to charges of criminal negligence arising out of motor accidents is almost impossible to enforce, because in 99 cases out of 100 there is no evidence of wilful neglect on the part of the defendants.

True it may be accepted as reasonable that people who are involved in motor accidents have no intent to injure anybody, and to that extent the element of wilfulness is absent.

But surely a motorist who drives at a furious rate where conditions render excessive speed dangerous is guilty of wilful negligence; he may not want to injure others, but if his driving is such that others are likely to be injured as a result his conduct cannot be viewed as anything else but wilful neglect.

Similarly, a driver who passes on hills or curves or outs in regardless of traffic approaching from the other direction may be absolved of any desire to inflict injury upon other persons, but is at the same time guilty of wilful negligence, because he should know that what he is doing is apt to cause an accident.

All that is needed in regard to enforcement of traffic laws is the application of common sense to their consideration; to go on regarding everything that happens on the highways as purely accidental is to merely fill our cemeteries much more quickly than they need to be filled.

LOOKS LIKE DISCRIMINATION.

Additional relief works planned in Oshawa to take care of that city's unemployed have been approved by the Ontario Government, with the result that a program amounting to $400,000 has been officially authorized.

In addition, several hundred Oshawa men have been or will be sent to the road camps in Northern Ontario, thus relieving the Oshawa authorities of their care during the winter months.

Admittedly, conditions in the Motor City as regards unemployment are decidedly worse than those encountered here, and there would be no quarrel over extra assistance being accorded to Oshawa were it not for the fact that the granting of four times as much relief to that city as has been allowed Peterborough seems to be discrimination.

While Oshawa's relief program has been expanded with the approval of the Government, Peterborough has had to accept a slash of $30,000 from its already somewhat meagre unemployment appropriation.

The result of that reduction is found in the notices that have been issued to the men already employed under the relief scheme here, that the work cannot be carried on during the winter, and that those who have now been given jobs should endeavor to make provision for the cold weather months by purchasing what supplies they can out of their present wages, which incidentally would seem to present a very nice little problem in economics.

Obviously the matter cannot be allowed to rest there.

There will have to be further assistance for Peterborough—or the municipality will be faced with the alternative of paying for additional work at its own expense or providing direct relief for those who will be unemployed when the present program comes to an end.

AS BETWEEN TITIPU AND MOSCOW.

When Ko-Ko sought Pooh-Bah's advice on how much money to spend in celebrating the former's marriage to Yum-Yum, the result was a triumph of well-balanced counsel. Pooh-Bah, as first lord of the treasury, urged Ko-Ko to go ahead and spend as much of the government's money as he pleased, were it not that Pooh-Bah, as leader of the Opposition, was bound to fight such an appropriation tooth and nail. Pooh-Bah, as government auditor, could easily cook the accounts were it not that as prosecutor general he would be obliged to send himself to jail.

More and more the Pooh-Bahian antithesis is coming to characterize the usual traveler's impressions of a visit to Soviet Russia. The visitor cannot but praise the energy with which the Russian people is at work were he not compelled to mention that the Russian people is working under the crack of the whip. He is glad to report that there is no unemployment in Russia, but is bound to take note of the fact that it takes five Russians to do one man's job. The majority of Russians when interviewed express their contentment with the Government, but in Soviet Russia freedom of speech is utterly unknown.

In the Gilbert and ullivan play it will be recalled that Ko-Ko invites Pooh-Bah, the government auditor, to come with him into a corner where Pooh-Bah, the prosecutor general, cannot hear them.—New York Times.

DRIVING BRITAIN FROM FREE TRADE.

What is imperilling the position of Great Britain, even more than the task of balancing her budget, not taken by itself of overwhelming difficulty, is the growing disparity between the import and export sides of the national ledger. That disparity has always existed, but gave little concern when the difference was much more than compensated by what were known as the "invisible exports," the interest on British loans abroad, the earnings of the vast carrier trade and the profits derived from the foreign ramifications of British trade and industry. This huge total, ultimately settled by imported goods, accounted for the excess and produced the anomaly of a nation with an immense adverse balance of trade, continually accumulating more wealth. But the magnitude and world-wide extent of the present depression has entirely changed the older happy condition. It has been brought home to the responsible authorities that Great Britain is now reduced to living on its past accumulation of capital, and that unless this dangerous practice can be corrected the situation will proceed with greater or less rapidity from bad to worse.

Germany is to-day facing the identical problem, from different but equally cogent causes. There, too, it has become imperative to stimulate exports and restrict imports, and even more drastic measures than are contemplated in Britain have already been adopted to establish a surplus of exports. For the only method by which Germany can meet its reparation payments is from the profits of its export trade. Definite curbs upon imports have been instituted and have at least proved temporarily successful, so much so that for August the German authorities were able to report a favorable trade balance of nearly $77,000,000, a figure higher than that of any other month since the war. That is an object lesson for Britain and one of the reasons why so many old-time Free-traders are turning to tariff duties as the best and readiest means of reducing the volume of imports and increasing the demand for the product of British industries in the domestic market. That is why other exporting nations that have long enjoyed the free competition permitted in Britain are dreading the erection of new tariff barriers by the only country that is still, professedly, open to business on that basis. This is the direct result of the general insistence by all nations on the principle of selling as much and buying as little as they can.

That is one and, at present, the main effect of the economic crisis in Great Britain as it has developed. It has brought, indeed compelled, a definite turn toward the imposition of duties for the purpose of restricting imports and thus lessening the obligations to foreign countries. The arguments in its support have won over many Free-traders, who remain convinced that the principle in which they have so long believed is still the ideal world condition. Sir John Simon is an outstanding example of a life-long Liberal and Free-trader who finds himself compelled, by force of circumstances, to avow a complete change of heart. Nor is he content to support a tariff for revenue as a means of balancing the budget. He wants a tariff to correct Britain's unfavorable balance of trade in the belief that emergency measures are demanded by the existing stringency and that the system of free imports must perforce be thrown into the discard. This is the end of the ambitious campaign initiated by the United States, with the determination and expectation at one and at the same time to erect a Chinese wall against foreign goods, to increase its own foreign sales and to collect its war debt. Nothing is left of that alluring dream but a bitter memory of failure.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Examiner's Home Makers School is under way, and remember, women readers, you are all invited.

Mr. Hepburn may not have a seat in the Legislature, but he is to have one at a big banquet in Toronto this month.

Ontario border Liberals favor the sale of beer by the glass. It is a policy that runs foul of the main current of public opinion in the Province, however.

The gold country in Northern Ontario is booming, which means that some of the prosperity up there will eventually spill over, for the benefit of the whole Province.

According to a prohibition advocate, the Provinces are spending equal amounts on liquor and on education. There is this difference, however, that you don't have to buy liquor if you don't want to, but you have to pay for education whether you want it or not.

Up in the northern part of the country the realization is beginning to sink in that the Mounties always get their man.

Trip to Porto Rico

Described by J. Alex Edmison, B.A.

J. Alex Edminson, B.A., son of the late Dr. J. H. Edmison and Mrs. Edmison who was formerly Miss Lily Fitzgerald, of Peterborough. Alex is now in his final year at McGill Law school, Montreal, and is Lecturer in Public Speaking and Captain of the Debating Team of McGill University which beat the debating team of the University of Porto Rico in San Juan. Mr. Edmison writes as follows on his return from Porto Rico:

"Northward bound once more — but what memories we carry with us from our sojourn on the Island of Porto Rico!

There is so much to tell that I hardly know where to start. We landed early Monday morning. (I got up at 5 and saw the sun rise over the Island—and 'Majestic' is the only word to describe it). We were met by an army of reporters, photographers and University officials. Four government cars were on hand to convey us. We were then taken to the Governor's Palace — where we were officially welcomed by the Acting Governor. (Governor Roosevelt is in the States). The Palace is an old Spanish castle, heavily fortified — where the Spanish governors lived from 1550 onwards. It is filled with antiques. We were taken away underground and were shown the old treasure vault where the Spaniards used to store their gold taken from South America. Here it was kept, awaiting transport to Spain. There is a tunnel connecting the Palace with Morro Castle—the main fort of the Island, situated a mile and a half or so away. We then proceeded to the magnificent Condado Hotel where the Royal Bank of Canada, the Sun Life, the Canadian Power interests together, gave us a sumptuous breakfast. There the City Manager of San Juan (a picturesque walled city of 125,000) read us an address of welcome and gave us the freedom of the city. (Yesterday we were given official documents, sealed, to the effect that by special motion of the City Council we had been made Honorary Citizens of San Juan.) You will see a photo of this affair in a magazine I have sent Helen under separate cover. Afterwards we were taken to the Canadian places of business—mentioned above—where we were given a warm welcome.

Fine Institution

Next point of call was the University of Porto Rico—a fine institution—situated among palm trees, excellent buildings, 1800 students, located in Rio Piedras, a suburb of San Juan. The students gave us a tumultuous welcome. The Chancellor read us a fine address. McGill colours and Canadian flags were on all sides. I spoke in humorous vein and introduced my confreres. We then gave out newspaper interviews and sent several wireless messages. (I hope my one to you in Peterborough arrived.) By this time we had all bought tropical suits—as the heat made wearing our ordinary clothes absolutely out of the question. Lunch was then served at the magnificent women's lunch room at the University. We then started on a 3½-4 hour motor drive to Ponce—(the second city of the Island—70,000 population—old-fashioned, conservative, Spanish customs, opposed to 'Americanisms' such as are in vogue in San Juan). The drive was over a fine paved highway, built by the Spanish military forces before the American war. It was up hill and down dale. The scenery in the Porto Rican mountains was wonderful. We passed sugar plantations, tobacco farms, fruit farms. We saw bananas growing all along the road. The native huts were there by the thousand—an' I wish I could give them adequate description. (Picture a rough shack of two 'rooms'—often just one—no more than 15 feet wide and 18 feet in depth — raised up on sticks about 5 feet above the ground. There the natives live—at least 8 people in a hut and perhaps more frequently 10 or 12. They sleep on the floor or in hammocks. And think of this—every single one of these huts is boarded up at night, sealed like a preserve jar. How the natives breathe is beyond me. I took a drive one night, saw easily a thousand of these huts, and not one had an open door or window. And to make it worse, there is no glass whatsoever, so the window and door spaces are covered with boards nailed closely together. The natives—Spanish, Indians or a mixture of these two and Spanish—live solely on rice, coffee and fruit. Their faces have no expression whatsoever. They do not wear shoes. They are largely illiterate and work when they can get it, for from 30 to 70 cents a day. The women smoke cigars and chew tobacco! This 'native problem' is a very acute one, and the government is working hard to alleviate the malaria, hookworm, malnutrition and illiteracy conditions.

Mosquito Defense

On our arrival in Ponce we were lodged in an old Spanish hotel. (All hotel beds are covered with a fine netting as a mosquito defense.) We had dinner in the garden—and you've heard in song and story what Spanish gardens are like! We then went around town and observed many of the ancient buildings, some nearly 400 years old. The hospitality, of course, was unexcelled on every hand. No one seemed to want to take our money. A druggist recognized me from my picture in the paper and would not take pay for an ice cream soda. Similarly a merchant insisted that the cuff links I wanted be a gift and not a purchase.

That evening (Monday) three social organizations in Ponce staged a grand ball in our honor at the spacious country club. The British colony were all there also. A negro orchestra supplied the music. A huge Canadian flag was in the centre of the hall. All the society folks attended — and the dresses were most attractive. Chaperones came with every young lady—"an old Spanish custom." (Even if engaged, a couple cannot walk home unattended. These conventions are most rigid among the Spanish people, those in Ponce, especially.) Seeing this army of chaperones lining the dance floor was a spectacle at once amusing and impressive.

On Tuesday morning around 10 we left Ponce for Mayaguez, the third City of the Island — three hours' drive away. On leaving we passed the market place and saw hundreds of natives, with stands, carts, horses, selling their fruits, trinkets, drinks, wood. (How their thin, bony, tiny horses can stand up, even without a load, is more than I can imagine.) I took the wheel and in short order became accustomed to the winding road (one curve to every 200 yards at least). I had to press on to Mayaguez where a function had been arranged for one o'clock. This was a banquet given us by the City Council, held in the Town Hall, with girls from the High School serving. (In my speech of thanks, I said that having seen the pretty girls, I now understood why the Porto Rican immigration form asked the question, "Are you a polygamist?") The Mayor of the city (population 50,000) presided and gave us the "freedom" of Mayaguez. We were then driven to the home of Mr. Jose Ronaquera, where we stayed until the next morning. It was a beautiful Spanish home, very high ceilings, old paintings, large rock garden. The hospitality was generous and a servant would appear every once in a while with orange juice or cigars. We worked on our speeches for a couple of hours that afternoon and then journeyed to the outskirts of the city where the Phi Eta Mu Fraternity of the College of Agriculture gave a tea-dance for us. Before the start of this I saw a group of 40 boys in a standard blue uniform march in our direction. When they came up I found they constituted the brass band of the Porto Rican Reform School. They stopped in front of us and played "God Save the King" in our honor. I was much impressed, and they seemed tickled when I told them that their rendering was much better than I often heard in Canada. After the very pleasing tea-dance, we journeyed back, and Mr. Ronaquera found that his native servant had got drunk and that dinner was not ready. It was finally prepared and the local manager of the Royal Bank was there as a guest also. That night we held our first debate. It was in the largest theatre in the city and it was decorated up with British flags in our honor. There was a large crowd and so efficient were the police in handling the traffic that they would not allow our car to come within a block of the theatre, and we had to walk. The old Spanish architecture gave a colorful background. The affair opened with the playing of the British and American National Anthems. The debate was an exhibition one, and, of course, there was no decision rendered. It went off very well, indeed. We were given an excellent hearing. I got them in good humor at the start by saying that my companions were so impressed with Porto Rico that they purposed spending all their honeymoons there! After the debate, Carl and Fred went to bed, but I went on a long drive out in the country, where I passed the rows of silent, boarded-up huts and where we twice had to proceed over a flooded road. The crowd sang Spanish folk songs, and I would hate to tell you the precise hour of my arrival back! Mr Ronaquera got up, however, as becomes a Spanish host, and insisted that I have something to eat. With great regret I had to give over the next three or four hours to sleep!

Interesting Country.

Came the dawn of Wednesday—and at about 10 a.m. we started on our long 4½ to 5 hour drive back to San Juan, having dinner en route. Again we passed through interesting territory, saw them working in the tobacco and sugar fields, drove through long avenues of palm trees, threw some pennies to some native youngsters, and almost caused a riot; bought all the bananas five of us could eat, for 5 cents. (You can buy 100 oranges for 30 cents and 100 grapefruit for 40 cents.) We observed convict gangs working on the roads, saw a couple of crude native funerals (the corpse being on a pushcart), noticed a sick native being carried on a sheet between poles, bought some cocoanuts and drank the milk inside, saw hundreds of oxen (either ploughing or drawing wagons on the highway), passed through small villages where we were beseiged by children begging. ("Reech Americano—some munee, please!") On arriving in San Juan we were given rooms overlooking the sea in the luxurious million-dollar Condado Hotel, with its huge swimming pool, etc. (Dangerous to swim in the sea because of the sharks. An American school teacher lost his life in this manner not long ago.) Later in the afternoon we were taken to a delightful tea at the British Consulate. Mr. Noble, who has been the British Consul for over twenty years, is a charming gentleman. The whole British colony were present, and we certainly received hearty greetings on all sides. We came out from the tea just at sundown when the servant was hauling down the Union Jack. Somehow the sight of it gave me a genuine thrill. (By the way, the British are very popular in the West Indies. Great respect is shown them in Porto Rico.)

The big debate was held in San Juan on Wednesday evening in the fashionable Municipal Theatre. I wish I could describe the scene—large crowds outside, heavy police patrol, an atmosphere of excitement and expectation. Nothing remotely like it could be staged re a Canadian debate in either Toronto or Montreal). The theatre was sold out. People in dress clothes filled the 45 boxes! British flags were again prominent. The acting Governor of the Island was in the chair and he read us a flattering welcome. I opened the debate and received a very heartening reception. (You remember the subject, "Resolved, that Democracy Has Failed.") The speaking was of a high order—and all the addresses were punctuated with applause and even cheers. There was great tension while the ballots were being collected. I forget the actual figures—save that McGill got the decision by over 80 votes. The result was received most enthusiastically. (The chairman said, "During the war the Canadian won battles to save Democracy. To-night they have won once against it." There was great interest displayed as we left the theatre—and we received congratulations on all sides.

Immediately following the debate we went back to the hotel to change our collars. (The heat had made rags of the ones were were wearing. Can you imagine wearing tuxedos with the temperature over 100°?)

Then came the Grand Party—held by the Phi Eta Mu Fraternity of the University of Porto Rico—in the most luxurious home in San Juan. It was strictly a "society" event and only the "elect" attended. Can you imagine a garden about the size of our Kawartha lot . . . . lit by manifold colored bulbs. . dotted with huge waving palm trees. . . . fountains . . . . with two large marble circles that easily accommodated the one hundred dancing couples . . . . . the garden was separated from the Atlantic by only a stone wall against which the waves could be heard beating . . . . and over all a magnificent tropical full moon! It was the sort of party that one reads about or sometimes sees in the movies. Never will I forget this gorgeous affair. I am looking forward to seeing the pictures taken during the evening. (Here, again, of course, the Spanish girls all came with chaperones and went home with them. Spanish girls of this set do not smoke or drink). The party broke up around 3 a.m.—and I can assure you that the "guests of honor" were more than ready to meet the "cool kindliness of sheets" . . . .

Thursday, the day of our departure. At 9 a.m. we were served breakfast by the Eta Gamma Delta Sorority of the University of Porto Rico. Their tables were arranged with rare taste in a stone alcove of the Condado Hotel—looking out over the Atlantic and not 15 yards away from it. The twenty-five or more girls were charming and I did not meet one unable to speak fair English. They presented me with their sorority crest. I hope before long to show you a picture of this engaging group. This was a very well-managed affair.

These young ladies looked after us for the rest of the morning. Three of them took me in a car around the city. We went past houses that have been in use for nearly 400 years. We examined the ancient walls of the city. We spent considerable time going through Morro Castle—truly the "Gibraltar of the West Indies"—once the pride of Spain—a fortress that repelled every enemy attack for hundreds of years.

Thursday noon we were given a dinner in the hotel, presided over by Mr. Barault, the Porto Rican debating coach.

The boat sailed at 3 p.m.—and a good crowd of students and officials were on hand to cheer us good-bye. The same courtesy continued right up until our departure—the Porto Rican authorities waived the right to search our bags—the boat purser changed our cabins to better ones on the outside. (As the boat pulled out we threw money to native boys swimming around in the water; they diving to any depth for a penny).

And now we are leaving Porto Rico behind. (Many people on board have congratulated us on the debate. Several of the crew, including my room steward were there to hear it!) . . . There are many many things I could tell you about this entrancing island—but I will leave them for some quiet evening at home. It must be evident to you that this whole experience has been one of the most thrilling and profitable ones of my life. . . . "It ne'er forgot shall be" . . . . I glance southward now and say a heartfelt "Farewell" to Porto Rico. . . . Truly, "The Song is ended—but the melody will linger on!"

IN DAYS GONE BY

OCTOBER 20, 1921.

A coroner's jury last night brought in a verdict of accidental death in the inquest into the death of Henry Harvey at the C.G.E. last week. . . . E. Gus Porter was the unanimous choice of the West Hastings Conservatives at their convention in Stirling yesterday. . . . Apples in the district are selling for anywhere from $4.50 to $8.00 a barrel. . . . James M'Caig, a former member of the Collegiate staff here, died last week in Edmonton . . . . Dr. V. J. Hayes is not expected to recover from serious injuries received last night when his automobile collided with a street car on George street just below King.

OCTOBER 20, 1911.

Local business men have strong objections to an election at this time with the Christmas rush coming. . . With Peterborough's population officially given as 18,312, it is the seventh largest city in Ontario . . . . A native of Russia informed The Examiner this morning that conditions under the Czar were intolerable, the people being little better than slaves. . . . The Council decided last night on the corner of Brock and Water streets as the site for the new City Hall. . . . ANNIVERSARY OF BETHANY CHURCH

Rev. Mr Wallace, B.A., B.D., of Newtonville, is Special Speaker.

BETHANY, Oct. 20 (Examiner Correspondence)—Anniversary services of the United Church were held on Sunday with the Rev. Mr. Wallace, B.A., B.D., of Newtonville, as special speaker.

Mr. Owens of Toronto, sang two beautiful solos in a pleasing voice while the choir of 30 voices contributed numbers at both services.

At the evening service, Rev. Mr. Wallace took the lesson from Acts 8:26 and the sermon was taken from the text Acts 8:35, "Then Philip opened his mouth and began at the same scripture and preached unto him Jesus."

Large congregations were present at both services.

Fowl Supper.

On Friday, October 23, the members of the Ladies' Association are providing a fowl supper and entertainment and every effort is being put forth to make this event a success.

A THOUGHT.

DISCONTENT

The discontented is ever restless and uneasy, dissatisfied with his station in life, his connections and almost every circumstance that happens to him. He is continually peevish and fretful, impatient of every injury he receives and unduly impressed with every disappointment he suffers. He considers most other persons as happier than himself and enjoys hardly any of the blessings of Providence with a calm and grateful mind. He forms to himself a thousand distressing fears concerning futurity, and makes his present condition unhappy, by anticipating the misery he may endure in years to come.—Stennett.

Lakefield

Mr. and Mrs. John Blewett have returned from Burleigh Falls where they spent the summer.

Mrs. E. R. Tate and Miss Nancy Tate are visiting friends in Oakville.

Miss M. E. Lawrie of Cobourg is the guest of her cousin, Miss Dauphuz.

Mr. Kenneth Junkin is in Toronto spending a few weeks.

SMALL DINOSAURS STOLE

Scientists find evidence that in the age when dinosaurs roamed the earth some of the smaller dinosaurs had the habit of stealing eggs of the bigger dinosaurs and eating them.

MUSHROOM 15 LBS.

A giant mushroom that weighed twelve pounds was discovered recently in the Great Smoky Mountains; and while it was not poisonous, it was too tough for a table delicacy.

MARKET CLOSING ON EXCHANGES

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 20 (C.P.)—As on Monday, Toronto Stock Exchange to-day started out with a higher scale of prices and continued to advance throughout the day, leaving off at the top.

The advance included practically all the interlisted issues with the exception of Brazilian Traction and Noranda. Brazilian closed unchanged but at times it sold under last night, profit-taking following yesterday's sharp rise accounting for the action of the shares to-day. Noranda made a gain of a few cents in the early trading but as buying support was withdrawn the price went back slowly to around 15, where it was ½ point under last night.

International Utilities was one of the strongest spots on the list, rising a couple of points during the day. Ford of Canada and International Nickel gained approximately ¾ of a point each, and Massey-Harris, Union Natural Gas small amounts. Massey-Harris, in the final hour shoved upward through 2.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 20 (C.P.)—Almost general gains among higher-priced gold stocks on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange Market was the re-action to-day to announcement of an embargo on gold exports from Canada. Balance of the list showed some irregularity with an easier tone in evidence towards the close.

Whether the strength was partially artificial or not was not ascertained during the session, but higher-priced golds remained in good demand throughout. Lake Shore moved above 28 for a net gain of 65, McIntyre advanced 50, Hollinger and Dome 15 each, and Wright-Hargreaves 5. Teck-Hughes failed to respond, price remaining 5 below last night all day.

Among the cheaper stocks, Eldorado, Ventures and Vipond regained a couple each, and Dominion Explorers, Siscoe and Sylvanite were a cent or so higher.

Senator A. C. Hardy Will Not Run Again

LONDON, Ont., October 20 (C.P.). — Senator Arthur C. Hardy, of Brockville, president of the Ontario Liberal Association, will not be a candidate for re-election, it was learned to-day. He has headed the office for 12 years, and will announce to-morrow at the meeting of the Association his intention of retiring. There was considerable conjecture to-day among the delegates to the annual meeting on the probable choice of a successor to Senator Hardy. The selection will be made to-morrow. Senator Hardy is a former Speaker of the Upper House.

PASHA OPENS BALKAN PARLEY

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 20 (A.P.)—Premier Ismet Pasha opened the second Balkan conference today, with six Balkan States represented.

U.S. IS ADVISED TO DROP POLICY

Help Form Economic League of Nations British Minister Urges.

PROSPERITY LONG WAY OFF

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—A Britonon who has served his 17 years of Methodist ministry either in war or industrial despair believes the United States should not only drop its policy of isolation but help form an economic League of Nations to lead the world out of its present depression.

The Rev. Reginald J. Barker from the steam coal mining Midrhondda Valley, South Wales, who is attending the Ecumenical Methodist Conference here, says France and the United States hold the key to the international economic situation.

"You Americans who expect an early return of prosperity, I am afraid, will be disappointed," he said. "The world is now passing through a period that tends to break down the present economic order and unemployment is increasing.

"This is not a depression like a passing fancy. All the world is effected and it must be dealt with on a world-wide basis. The solution lies with France and the United States. They hold the gold and the world needs more money."

In his own valley, Mr. Barker said, seventy per cent of the people, coal miners, are out of work. Many of them have not been employed in from three to five years. He said the "dole" had done a great deal of good there.

RETURNING FROM CHURCH BURGLAR FOUND IN HOME

Makes Escape With Fair Amount of Money.

Returning from church Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Linton, 580 Gilmour street, found a burglar upstairs in their home. The burglar escaped carrying with him small amounts of money in a boy's purse and a mission bank, and clothing including a new suit and several shirts.

The burglar gained his entrance to the home through an upstairs window at the rear of the house, first breaking the glass. A large police dog, owned by the family, was in the kitchen and began to bark when the burglar entered the house, but his alarm failed to frighten the thief away.

GLOUCESTER BOAT MAKES STRONG BID

between Bluenose, defending champion, and Gertrude L. Thebaud, of Gloucester, was postponed for half an hour owing to the shifting wind which had hauled to the north. The original starting time had been set for 9 a.m. Atlantic standard time. The sailing committee signalled that number one course, the same as that sailed yesterday, had been selected.

This would give the schooners a reach to the Sambro lightship by way of the inner automatic, another reach seven miles to outer automatic, a beat six miles back to the inner automatic and long and short hitches up the harbor.

Bluenose Crosses Line

The starting gun found Thebaud with Captain John Matheson at the wheel in the weather position slightly astern of the Bluenose, they crossed the line with Bluenose slightly ahead, gut being outfooted by the challenger. It was Matheson's start.

The conditions following the start were identical with those obtaining yesterday when Captain Angus essayed a luffing match with Thebaud and lost valuable minutes in the operation. But he was not to be caught napping to-day and five minutes after the start was bearing away apparently in an endeavour to sail through Thebaud's lee, which still held a slight lead.

At 9:55 the Bluenose, with "scandalized" staysail, had opened up a lead of two lengths. The schooners were three vessel length apart, headed for the Sambro light ship thirteen miles away. They would have to pass the inner automatic buoy at the mouth of the harbor to starboard.

A half an hour after the start the rivals for the blue ribbon of the North Atlantic fishing fleet were running before the wind on even terms, beam to beam and about a hundred yards apart. Long John Matheson appeared to be doing something with Thebaud for her canvas was setting better than yesterday.

The schooners passed the inner automatic practically on even terms and squared away for the lightship. Thebaud was making a much better race of it. Angus masthead his staysail and the kite seemed to draw better. The wind was holding north-west and gradually increasing.

Angus had but a bare second on Thebaud at the first mark, the official times being:
Bluenose 10:17:15.
Thebaud 10:17:15.

At 10.40 with Sambro light abeam, the schooners were running wing and wing for the outer mark, with Bluenose maintaining a lead of a vessel's length. The wind continued to hold true at fifteen knots. The vessels were surging along with a collar of white above their bows. They were making much better time than yesterday in the fresher breeze. At 10.45 Thebaud seemed to be gaining slightly on her rival.

At eleven o'clock Thebaud had drawn up abeam of the Bluenose. Thebaud's staysail continued to draw better than the Nova Scotian's. Five minutes later it looked as though the Gloucesterman was leading the defender.

Offical times:
Bluenose: 11.29.10.
Thebaud: 11.29.39.

At noon, two and one-half hours after the start on the long thresh to windward, the Gloucester boat was still holding on. They were both on the port track, and Bluenose appeared to be leading Thebaud but not decisively. The Stars and Stripes were still fluttering bravely from the peak of Gertrude's mainsail, and no one supporting the American invader was ready to strike her colors and concede victory to the Canadian champion.

At 12.25 Bluenose had increased her lead to half a mile. She was abeam but three-quarters of a mile to leeward of the south-east automatic, the third mark in to-day's race. Thebaud was half a mile to leeward and astern. At 12.30 Bluenose came about and stood to weather of the mark. The wind had freshed to eighteen knots.

At 12.35 Bluenose again tacked ship. The Thebaud came about on the starboard tack. When Bluenose came over on the other tack it was at once apparent that the defender was leading the challenger by more than a mile.

At 1.10 both schooners were still on the starboard tack, headed in for the cliff of Chebucto Head at the mouth of Halifax Harbor. Bluenose had increased her lead to a mile and a half. The wind held at eighteen knots.

The Furness Withy liner Nerissa, outward bound for New York, saluted the Bluenose with three blasts of her whistle, as she crossed the champion's bow off the mouth of Halifax Harbor. The Bluenose came about under Chebucto Head at 1.17 p.m. and stood up the harbor on the port tack. The challenger was still a mile and a half astern.

New Rose Creation Available in 1933

ROCHESTER, N.Y., October 20 (C.P.). — You can have a new rose in your garden in 1933 — something very new in roses, sort of a gold and copper combination blending into orange.

The new bloom, grown by J. H. Nichols, and named the "Rochester Rose," will have its coming-out party in the rose bowl here next summer. Its seed will be available to the public the following year.

Nichols has been made a Knight of the Legion of Honor for his work in horticulture.

Bandits Loot Bank; Thug, Banker Die

MENOMONIE, Wis., Oct. 20 (C.P.).—An assistant cashier and a robber were killed to-day as four machine gun raiders looted the Kraft State Bank of an undetermined amount of money to-day.

EXECUTIVE PLANS FINANCE CAMPAIGN

Much Business Discussed by Y.W.C.A. Board of Directors.

The regular meeting of the Y.W.C.A. board of directors was held Monday afternoon. Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner, vice-president taking the chair in the absence of the president.

Letters from the National Y.W.C.A. were read in connection with the Disarmament Conference and the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. Week of Prayer and World Fellowship. A letter was also received notifying the Association of a bequest of $1,000 left by the late Miss Martha Dickson, a charter and lifelong member of the Y.W.C.A., having served for years as president and on various committees. This will be added to the association endowment funds. It is hoped to build up a fund from bequests and special donations which will in time sufficiently supplement the income.

The committees for the year were then read with the following as convenors: Finance, Mrs. W. D. Scott; Residence, Mrs. R. Neill; Physical, Miss A. Wood; Swimming, Miss E. Mogrow; Camp, Miss M. Hamilton; Social, Mrs. L. J. LeClair; Religious, Mrs. H. M. Yelland; Program and Entertainment, Mrs. E. G. Porter; Educational, Miss E. McVannell; Membership, Mrs. D. Drummond; Girls' Work, Mrs. F. D. Kerr; Maintenance and Repairs, Mrs. E. G. Porter.

The educational committee reported in connection with the lecture to be given by Dr. George Locke, chief librarian of Toronto. The lecture will be held in the Collegiate Auditorium, Monday October 26, at 8.15 p.m. Tickets were distributed to the board members and the chairman emphasized the importance of all making a special endeavor to sell as many tickets as possible. Doctor Locke is well known to Peterborough audiences and his lecture, "The Menace of the Soviet," is a topic of world interest.

The financial reports were read by Miss E. Morrow and the question of the annual financial campaign discussed. It was decided to try and complete the canvas in two or three weeks and several new ideas were given for promoting the campaign. The financial committee, Mrs. W. D. Scott, Mrs. George Macdonald, Mrs. R. Turner, Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner, Mrs. N. D. Buchanan, Miss M. Hamilton, Mrs. Scotcheran, with the following added, Mrs. R. H. Parsons, Mrs. D. F. Drummond, Miss A Wood and Mrs. H. Wightman, will arrange the details of the campaign which starts October 28. The necessity of added emphasis in connection with finances was mentioned. New fire escape and equipment has been ordered as well as other repairs to furnace and building have had to be done. The point was also emphasized that association revenue from class fees may be reduced but in times of unemployment that the association must make even a greater effort to serve the girls of Peterborough.

The appreciation of the board was expressed to all who helped in connection with the rally high tea. The sum of $100 being realized.

The physical director's report outlined the summer's activities, many having learned to swim; the classes being sponsored by the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs. A number of children were also promoted into life saving classes. An exhibition will be given in November. The pool will be kept open as long as sufficient number show interest.

Gymnasium classes are again bringing in many girls. A special gymnasium feature this month will be the five cent night for fun and frolic, to be held this Thursday evening. Visits have been made by general secretary and physical director to the various factories and stores, inviting the girls to enjoy Y.W.C.A. classes and clubs this winter. The "Y" program also includes: Elocution, conversational French, Better English, a Reading Club, Basketry, Wood Carving, Leather Work, Red Cross Home Nursing, St. John Ambulance First Aid, Travel Club, Current Events, and Junior Cooking Class.

The general secretary's report included the summer camp which was most successful and provided a delightful holiday for 175 girls. Camp was mentioned as being one of the best departments for all-round character building. The C.G.I.T. Conference Week at camp, provided training and leadership. The Outdoor club provided weekly outings for many girls of the city. The general secretary reported on a few days spent at the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. training school at Lake Couchiching and the physical director reported on the physical directors' conference, held at St. Catharines. Reports were also given of a day at the National Recreation Congress held a week ago in Toronto, and attended by general secretary and physical director.

Mrs. E. Morrison reported the residence department is quite comfortably filled and many transients accommodated. During the summer 1,500 quarts of fruit and pickles have been done up and $250 worth of linens made ready for fall and winter use. A number of the rooms have been redecorated and other repairs made.

Tea was served and the meeting was closed with prayer.

WORSHIP NEEDED MORE THAN EVER

"It may be that we face the world and see its evil to-day, than if we can see that God is Holy we shall sing unto the Lord and give thanks for his remembrance."

At the conclusion of his sermon, the preacher led the assembly in prayer, after which the report of the executive committee was presented by C. E. MacLeod, the secretary, and adopted.

Among some of the more important reports presented by the committee was that, which stated, "that in accord with the action of the last convention regarding Baptist Missionary enterprises in the whole Dominion, and the possibility of closer co-operation between the operating conventions and Unions, such a committee was appointed, consisting of Dr. Schutt, Dr. Albert Matthews and Dr. Geo. T. Webb, and that overtures were made to the East and West for the appointment of representatives who would meet with the appointees for a conference on the whole matter. A meeting was held on May 7, 1931 and the following action was recommended::

(1) That an all Canada Committee should be created by the appointment of four representatives from the Maritime Convention, four from the Maritime Convention, four from the Ontario and Quebec Convention and two from the Union of Western Canada. This Committee is asked to meet in October 1931.

(2) That the Committee be established and entrusted with the task of endeavoring to devise ways and means of developing a national Baptist consciousness in the confident hope that such an attitude upon the part of our Baptist people generally would lead to closer co-operation in the work of the different Conventions, and with the mutual understanding resulting therefrom would develop a spirit of unity and breadth of outlook which would give a great impetus to Canadian Baptist work.

The Executive upon motion appointed a smaller group, consisting of the officers, the General Secretaries, the Educational Secretary and the Treasurer of the Boards, to deal with matters that might arise between meetings of the Executive.

A sub-Committee was also appointed, with Rev. B. W. Merrill as Chairman, to promote a campaign among the churches for evangelism and for a special Easter Offering. The amount received from the offering was divided amongst the Boards on the percentage basis.

On motion the churches of Point St. Charles, Quebec and Pembroke were restored to membership in the convention.

Reporting the sources of funds for the convention, the secretary stated that the total income was $3,900. The churches made provision for $2,400 of this amount; contributions from the Board, $1,250, advertising $50, etc. The approximate total expenditures were $3,950.

Committee On Arrangements

An interim report was then received from the nominating committee. The committee of arrangements was appointed as follows. The president and secretary of the convention, Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, convenor; Rev. J. L. Horton, pastor of Park street Church; Rev. R. D. Wright, Gilmour Memorial Church.

Committee On Resolutions

The committee on resolutions was appointed as follows: Rev. E. Allen of Aylmer; Rev. G. W. Brooker of Vittoria; Rev. Dr. Gordon of Montreal; Rev. Dr. Webb of Toronto, and Mr. J. Kerr of Hamilton.

A motion brought forward by the Rev. D. T. Newton "that when the period for which members on the various boards had elapsed, they be not eligible for re-election to the Boards until the lapse of another year", was supported by the Rev. G. A. Leichliter, M. A. of Toronto.

There was considerable discussion as a result of the motion led by Howard P. Whidden, Chancellor of McMaster University, after which Mr. Newton intimated that he would withdraw the motion. The Rev. H. McDiarmid moved an amendment that the resolution be tabled for a year, to be taken up for discussion at the next convention. The amendment was seconded by the Rev. C. D. Duncan, secretary of McMaster University and carried.

Ministerial Superannuation Board

The Rev. O. C. Elliott, secretary of the Ministerial Superannuation Board presented the sixty-sixth annual report. In moving adoption of the report he called attention to certain details of the group annuity plan, making comparisons between the proposals for the scheme as it was in operation in the Anglican communion, the civil service and among school teachers, etc.

In the report of the Board it was stated in part: "In accordance with the request of the Convention, considerable thought and effort has been given to the matter of group insurance to include every minister in the convention. While desirable for the benefit of the ministers it is, in the judgment of the Board impracticable for the present. The disparity in the ages of the pastors making it difficult to obtain a low rate."

"We are of the opinion that our Retiring Pension Plan offers to our younger men the most effective means for providing an income for themselves and their dependants in their declining years. The men who are too old to take advantage of the annuity plan will find the gratuity better provision that they could make in any other way."

F. S. Hoskins, Dr. W. C. Smith and J. C. Graham were elected to the Ministerial Superannuation Board to fulfill the vacancies caused by the retirement this year of Dr. W. C. Smith, J. H. C. Graham and W. H. Chapman.

R. D. Warren, general secretary of the Board, presented a report of the Superannuation Fund, which showed a bank balance as at October 1, 1930, of $5,244.68, with total receipts for the year ending September 30, 1931, of $54,814.34. He stated that the sum of $33,142.28 had been received during the year in legacies, the largest amount ever received from this source.

Total disbursements for the year amounted to $50,295.40, leaving a bank balance of $4,518.94.

In seconding the adoption of the report, the Rev. H. E. Allan of Aylmer said the "members of the Board are trying to do their duty with the use of good commonsense." He also analysed the report of the financial statement at some length.

In the report of the Memorial Committee, which was presented by the chairman, T. E. Meldrum, the names of 145 members of the Church of all ranks were mentioned, including nine ministers and two former professors, also 65 women—ministers' wives and others. Among the names of departed ministers were those of the Rev. Ira Smith of Oshawa and Rev. J. B. Moore, D.D., of Waterford, who both served for a period of sixty years or more in the Baptist ministry. The name of Thomas Urquhart, an ex-Mayor of Toronto, was also included in the list.

Following the reading of the Memorial Committee's report, the Rev. W. F. Spidell of Caledonia delivered a short but impressive memorial address.

It was fitting, he observed, that a period should be devoted to those who fell out of the ranks of the convention in the past year. He referred to those who were mentioned in the memorial list, as "towers of strength in their respective churches."

There must be delegates here who experienced a sense of loss to the Church in the passing of these noble men and noble women.

"We thank God for their service," he said, "and for the instinct that moved them to sacrificial toil."

We should not feel too keenly for those who have entered upon the larger life. They are still serving the Master though in a different capacity.

He thought we had a noble duty in taking up the task which the departed had laid down.

"To honor these brethren and sisters as we are trying to do to-day," he said, "is comely."

Rev. Joseph Janes, M.A., of Chatham, took his text from the last chapter of Revelations, verse 9, his theme being "Worship of God."

"The fundamental element in true religion," he said, "is obedience to the divine will of God." He thought that in the present day there was a lamentable lack of reverence for God, adding: "We are inclined to criticize the stern theology of our forefathers and yet we must admit that it created strong characters."

Regarding different interpretations of the Bible, the speaker thought that controversy was more desirable than that the Bible should not be studied at all. And he concluded by stating that one of the most urgent needs of the present day was that people should accept the principal of stewardship as laid down by Jesus Christ.

LINDSAY COURT

Sergeant Zaneth's activities in the northern end of the county against Bruce Freeburn's large ring of moonshiners and bootleggers, two more men appeared before Police Magistrate Langley this morning and pleaded guilty to selling moonshine.

The men were: Charles Weaver, aged 20, of Coboconk and Hector Weaver 30, of Burleigh Falls. They are brothers and two more brothers were in Lindsay court to-day on a similar charge.

They sold the moonshine, they admitted, in Harvey township on September 23. They were remanded for sentence until Friday.

This makes a total of seven who have been arrested and convicted as a result of the recent work of the R.C.M.P. detective.

Fergus Mongraw, this city pleaded guilty to stealing a car owned by Walter Terrace from behind the Duffus garage on August 8. He was remanded for sentence.

A magazine salesman pleaded guilty to vagrancy and was fined $5 and costs. Chief eNwhall said he offended a girl in a private home yesterday afternoon with his attentions.

nomination committee and 106 voted for the open system.

New Form of Organization.

In challenging the committee form of appointing officers, Mr. Christie forecast "some new form of organization" which he said would result from resolutions which would come before the meeting at some later late. The striking committee suggested by Mr. Plant, he said, was not representative of the province; it did not mention one officer of the Toronto Men's Liberal Association, for instance.

When Geoerge Urquhart charged there had been "a deliberate leaving out of Toronto Liberals,' one delegate shouted: "There are more places in Ontario than Toronto," and another asked "How many Liberal members does Toronto elect?"

After the original motion, establishing the striking committee, had been passed, Mr. Plant added the name of Kenneth Christie as a representative of Toronto Liberals. It finally passed.

A committee to report on resolutions was also set up.

The province of Quebec produced more than 4,7000,000 pounds of maple sugar in the spring of 1931.

Increasing use of natural gas for fuel in the United States has led to the development of new internal combustion engines specially designed for industrial uses.

UNITED CHURCH CONGREGATIONS HEAR REV. DR. E. H. OLIVER SPEAK

Special Musical Program Rendered Before Service in Knox Church.

UNDER AUSPICES OF L.A.

A large and representative audience of the United churches of Peterborough gathered at Knox Church last night to hear their Moderator, Rev. E. H. Oliver M.A., D.D. This rally meeting was held under the auspices of the Laymen's Association of the Peterborough Presbytery, with the president Dr J. E. Middleton, presiding. A spirit of praise and prayer was introduced by the service of song led by Rev. C. D. Daniel. An exceptionally fine musical program preceded the address and was contributed by a representative choir chosen from the various United churches, with William R. Potter, leader and organist.

A special feature was the presence of the boy soloists of St. John's Anglican Church, under the direction of Frederick G. Mann, L.Mus. The soloists, who are both gold medalists, won the hearts of the audience with their delightful contributions: "Hear My Prayer" and "O for the Wings of a Dove" (Mendelssohn). Victor Coleman; "Come, Holy Spirit" (Jerome). V. Coleman and Roy Pitchford; "He Shall Feed His Flock," "Come Unto Me," "The Promise" from Maunder's "Song of Thanksgiving."

Guest Speaker.

On behalf of the Peterborough Presbytery Rev J. E. J. Milliyard welcomed the Moderator in kindly words of greeting. "No more encouraging evidence of advancement," said Dr. Oliver, "can be found than in the lay forces rising to marshal strength for the church. No discovery we can ever make is greater than that God acts according to His own wisdom. The Apostle Paul fought and protested against the Cross. It was a stumbling block to the Jews—but after a while the thing which was their greatest problem became under God the sole means of saving the world. What they thought foolishness was wise strategy. Paul's ambition was to capture the Empire for Jesus Christ, but when he came to Rome, it was as a prisoner in fetters, and because of this he wrote his wonderful letters to the Ephesians, the Colossians, and Philippians. God prevented him from gaining an empire that he might win the world. So, in the same way we look upon our present distress and difficulties, but they have been sent to us that we may make a better world and a more effective church. This is not the first time people have been bewildered. We find another instance in the disciples as they travelled along the road to Emmaus, confused and unhappy on account of the crucifixion until the Stranger joins them. Still another case is seen in Paul on the road to Damascus who was led into the city by the young rabbi after he had seen a vision dispelling the doubts from his mind. In the first case, revelation came through fellowship and in the second fellowship came through revelation. Always the way to victory is through sacrifice which was exemplified on the cross.

"The purpose of the cross is to save men from sin and to leave them free to glorify God and enjoy Him for ever, and not the popular idea of making life easier and more comfortable. The chief interpretation of life itself is that we should enjoy the fellowship of His sufferings. We are to-day beset with difficulties, which are a national problem for no man can live to himself. Thus, we are linked up with the distress in Western Canada some instances of which were cited from excerpts of personal letters read by the Moderator. Surely we can somehow bring the bounty of one area into that which is in want. Already relief supplies have gone from dozens of towns, cities, and churches in almost every county in the Province as well as gifts from Hamilton, Bermuda. All this is a mark of the affection of one people for another in linking up our strength with their temporary weakness.

Dr. Oliver told of a young man who at a large gathering received such spiritual inspiration that he decided to go home and lay his farm out in the form of a cross. This in turn inspired a young missionary to lay his congregation out in the form of a cross. That year the missionary offering increased more than double. That He leads us to the cross is no accident. The New Testament speaks of this sacrificial spirit. It is only through this spirit that we can reach our financial problems in increasing the Missionary and Maintenance Fund this year. The results of the challenges sent out along the line are so far most encouraging.

In closing his heart-searching address Dr. Oliver appealed to the members of this Presbytery to lay out their lives in the form of a cross, that the great task undertaken might be accomplished. The singing of the Doxology and the benediction pronounced by Rev. D Wren brought this inspiring service to a conclusion.

Laval Has Two Plans To Discuss In U.S.

S.S. ISLE DE FRANCE, enroute to New York, Oct. 20. (AP)—Premier Pierre Laval of France had in his pocket to-day two plans for discussion with President Hoover when he reached Washington.

Although he would not discuss them it was learned they were prepared in collaboration with his experts and that they are outlined in such a way as to embrace both minimum and maximum possibilities for Franco-American action.

Western Premiers Seek Gas Price Probe

CALGARY, Alta., Oct. 20 (CP)—Definite steps towards an investigation of gasoline prices under the Combines Act, as well as extensive study of western economic problems and unemployment, were taken by four Western premiers and their Cabinet aides at a conference here yesterday. Necessity of curtailing expenditures was emphasized by all representatives if increased taxations is to be avoided.

Unable to deal with all topics on the agenda, the session will resume to-day to deal with debtor and creditor grievances in the Prairie provinces and details connected with the guarantee of the wheat-pool operations. Another conference will take place in November, when matters referred for further provincial study will be reported and action taken.

SNOWDEN PLAYS IMPORTANT ROLE

Seeks Henderson's Scalp

By Thomas T. Champion, C. P. Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(C. P. Cable)—"The star turn of the election on the Conservative side," is Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer who is retiring, according to Walter Citrine, secretary of the General Council of the Trades Union Congress. Mr. Citrine added yet another to the recriminatory speeches passing between Mr. Snowden and his former colleagues of the Labor Party.

Tribute to Mr. Snowden's important part in the campaign is also paid by the Liberal Manchester Guardian, which devoted its main editorial to him today. His recent speeches, the Guardian said, raised the questions of fairness and decency in political discussion. The newspaper recalled that when Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson and others joined the Coalition Government during the war they were assailed with invective by Mr. Snowden. They were told they were "office seekers" and accused of being ready for whatever "dirty work their Tory masters bid them do," the Guardian said.

"One can only gasp," the Guardian continued, "at the audacity of a political leader who can denounce as 'fantastic and impracticable,' 'Bolshevism run mad,' a policy which he helped to draw up."

Mr. Snowden seemingly has no intention of leaving the centre of the stage. "It does not in the least surprise me," he said last night, "that Mr. Henderson and his friends are smarting under the exposure of their record made in my broadcast of Saturday. Before the end of the election I shall have opportunities of dealing further with these matters."

FIREBUG TRIO CAUGHT IN ACT

TAKEN IN FALLS HOME.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Oct 20—Police last night expressed the belief that the arrest of three men had broken up an international arson ring which not only operated on both sides of the Niagara frontier but extended to Olean, Jamestown, Dunkirk, and other Western New York cities and villages. The trio was caught, according to police, in the act of setting fire to a Niagara Falls house, the interior of which had been well saturated with gasoline. The arrests were made only after a scuffle in which several shots were fired.

The Fire Marshal of the Niagara district of Ontario came here tonight to confer with police. He and other Canadian police and fire authorities said the methods used in the Falls' job are similar to those employed in several incendiary fires across the border recently. W. J. Cullen, Buffalo, investigator for the Fire Underwriters' Association, announced after an investigation, he was convinced that a gang of paid firebugs had been operating throughout West New York and nearby Canada.

The prisoners have been held in $10,000 bail each. Police say they have obtained statements from the three in which they said they were hired to burn the house in which they were captured.

TROUBLE EASES OVER MANCHURIA

South China Leader Informs Tokyo He Favors Direct Negotiations.

PREDICT CHIANG'S FALL.

TOKYO, Oct. 20.—(A.P.) —With all misunderstandings relative to United States' participation in the Manchurian dispute before the League of Nations apparently cleared, Tokyo divided its attention to-day between events at Geneva and Shanghai.

Preliminary meeting intended to bring about political re-unification of China will begin in Shanghai soon.

High government sources said Tokyo had been informed by Eugene Chen, a leader of the South China in ent, that he would favor direct negotiations between China and Japan concerning the Manchurian controversy in the event he should regain his post as Chinese Foreign Minister.

China has resisted suggestions in that direction, having placed its case before the League of Nations, while Japan has protested equally forcefully against any outside intervention.

Chen was en route to Shanghai with other insurgent Canton leaders for the conferences. His despatch to Tokyo was said in some circles to indicate a friendly, though unofficial relationships still exists between Tokyo and some of the South China's leaders.

Reports were circulated here that the approaching Shanghai peace conferences would see the downfall of Chang Kai-Shek, president of the Nationalist Chinese Government, who has hinted at military action against Japan if the League of Nations fails to find a solution of the Manchurian problem.

Chiang Kai was said in well informed circles here to have yielded to demands of the Cantonese that he retire.

SOCIETY HEARS EDUCATION TALK

Local Women's Liberal-Conservative Association Holds Regular Meeting.

GOOD PROGRAM.

The regular meeting of the Women's Liberal Conservative Association was held in the Paragon Hall yesterday afternoon. The program was in charge of the C's group with Mrs. R. G. Cottrell as convenor.

The speaker was Mrs. Kate Morris of the Board of Education, who gave an instructive and interesting talk on Vocational Education. In referring to Vocational Education she said: "Ten years ago the average person had not begun to think of vacational education and now the idea is so often limited to the type of education of those who use their hands. In our school we have to make a distinction between academic and vocational work but we should not make a distinction between vocation and culture.

In this country for many years we did lack facilities for educating the boys and girls who could not take up academic work leading to a university course or those who preferred to take up an education through work with their hands. The early pioneers established public school and later grammar schools and universities, but it was found that 80% of students who entered the universities were misfits and never concluded their course. In Ontario a very small part of the cost of educating a boy or girl is paid by the student and is not fair or just to provide training for a small number and leave the great majority without technical training.

About sixteen years ago many prominent educators felt that children after passing the entrance should be given greater variety in their choice of work and two things this type of education does, it keeps them under discipline at a very trying age and it gives them an idea of what they would like to do. The first year in the Vocational School, 50% of the time is spent on academic work. Second year less academic work and more shop work and third year 25% academic and 75% some particular branch of work.

In conclusion she spoke of the work being done in training adults at the night classes and of the assistance given to children of limited ability who here have a chance to be self supporting. She referred feelingly to the great work done by the late Mrs. Groves in Toronto in establishing a school for girls where they were taught to sew, draw, paint, and design patterns of beautiful colors.

A hearty vote of thanks was voiced by Mrs. Mills and seconded by Miss Peck being extended to the speaker by Mrs. Stinson.

Mrs. Criorand contributed a humorous reading. Mrs. J. Mills was empowered to purchase a wreath to be placed on the cenotaph on Armistice Day.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

Investment Program

WHAT makes a good investment program? The London Life program has stood the test of time. Here is how its investments are divided:

65% —First Mortgages on improved real estate—so well selected that at the end of 1930 the interest arrears were only one-fifteenth of one per cent.

22½% —High-Grade Bonds and Debentures—9-10 of which are government and municipal.

10% —Policy Loans and Liens, the security for which consists of the Company's own policies.

The average rate of interest earned in 1930 on the entire invested assets was 6.46%.

A most important factor underlying the popularity of the London Life is the splendid condition of its investments. People realize, when they buy London Life policies, they are virtually buying a cross-section of the Company's investments.

CONFIDENCE IS EXPRESSED IN MODERN YOUTH

R. J. Goring Addresses Father and Son Banquet in St. Paul's Church.

EVERY FAITH IN BOYS.

Unless Man Believed in God He Must Surely Fail Declares Speaker.

Full confidence in the youth of to-day was expressed last evening by R. J. Goring, manager of the Robert Fair store, in addressing a father and son's banquet in St. Paul's Church sponsored by the Men's Association of St. Paul's.

"I do not share in the criticism of our youth," Mr. Goring declared "He is better-equipped, keener and has wider views than his father had at the same age. I have every faith in our boys."

Health Essential.

Sounding a note of advice to his youthful listeners, Mr. Goring said that one of the first requisites of a successful life was health. To gain and maintain bodily vigor the boys should participate in sport. In middle age a hobby was necessary for recreation. "Men of today are going crazy over golf because they failed to play as boys," commented the speaker.

He stated that the only worry a man under thirty should have was his progress in the search for knowledge. Between thirty and forty was fixed as the time to plan and utilize the knowledge gained in the early years and build up for the declining years. Emphasize the need to specialize, Mr. Goring said that no man over forty should consider changing his vocation. "Such changes always lead to failures," he commented.

Friends are needed if a man's life is to be complete, he stated, and gave as the formula for making friends, "be friendly with those about." He related the story of a wealthy old Scotsman who always travelled second class on his many trips about the world because, ah he said, "I always find the most interesting people travelling second class."

"Unless a man believes in God, he must surely fail," declared Mr. Goring, earnestly. He stated that no matter what sins were committed if that belief in God remained there was constant hope. He prophesied complete failure for the Soviet Five-Year Plan because Russia had turned from its belief in God.

In conclusion, Mr. Goring pointed out the need for adults to maintain the church-going habit because of its inestimable influence for good upon the children. He declared that the memory as a boy, of seeing the older people regularly in their church pews had left a deep impression for good upon himself.

H. Dodds, president of the Men's Association, was chairman and toastmaster at the dinner. Jack Clayton proposed the toast to the fathers, which was replied to by Dr. D. W. Clark, while the toast to the sons was given by James Dutton with Adam Sands responding.

Splendid musical entertainment was supplied by Herb McCannan, mouth-organ; Frank Clark, banjo, and Martin Chenhall, Sr., piano. Harold Snelgrove led the singing. The fine dinner was served by the Ladies Aid, who were given a vote of thanks for their appreciated effort by G. W. Craw.

Couple Presented With China Cabinet

BONARLAW, Oct. 20 (Examiner Correspondence)—On Friday evening of last week a large number of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. McComb, gathered at their home and presented them with a beautiful china cabinet.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McComb replied, thanking their friends for the gift and inviting them to come again. Clifford McInroy, one of the committee, in a short speech mentioned the popularity of the young couple among the young folks of the community and voiced the opinion of all that they are held in the highest estimation and all wish them ever happiness.

All sang, "For they are jolly good fellows," and gave them three hearty cheers.

Dancing, both square and round was then indulged in, also step dancing by both young and old. Solos were also rendered by Messrs. Orrie Andrews, and Kenneth Bain. Mr. Bain also gave a Scotch dance, the sword dance which he did very well indeed.

A tasty and liberal lunch was provided by the ladies. The music was provided by Ed. Anderson and John Wellman.

District Churches

MARMORA

MARMORA, Oct. 20 (Examiner Correspondence)—Marmora United Church anniversary services on Sunday drew large congregations. The preacher for the day was the Rev. W. H. Clarke of Shannonville, a former highly esteemed pastor. The church was prettily decorated with flowers and autumn leaves.

The singing of the day was led by a men's choir for which Mr. A. V. Yates acted as organist. The sermon in the morning conveyed an inspiring message to the hearers from the text, "Love is the fulfilling of the law." In the evening the pastor delivered a very earnest address, choosing as his text "The rock that is higher than I," Psalm 61, 2. The preacher spoke of the two formative ideas which came from the passage of scripture showing that though they led to two different trains of thought, they were not contradictory. He outlined both separately and then as related to each other. The ideas were "Religion as a challenge appealing to youth, calling for sacrifice and leading to choice" and "Religion as a refuge."

Sunday was duly observed at St. Paul's as Children's Day. At 10.45 a.m. the Sunday school assembled for the marking of register and the scholars and teachers remained with the rest of the congregation for morning prayer at 11 a.m. Appropriate prayers and hymns were used and the rector discoursed on "The secret of winsomeness" using as his text, "The love of Christ constraineth us." A liberal offering was taken for the work of the General Board of Religious Education.

REFRIGERATOR NOW NECESSITY

Every Up-to-date and Conscientious Manager Wants One.

MADE IN CANADA.

Not every housewife has an electrical refrigerator today, but, according to electrical engineers, it won't be long before every modern home is equipped with one. Every up-to-date and conscientious household manager wants one. Most women are convinced of its economy, cleanliness, and ready dollar-and-cent saving in food costs. They long for the dainty ice cubes, the luscious frozen desserts, and the additional aid it offers in preparing every-day meals.

With their minds made up to this extent, only one problem remains—what make of refrigerator shall they buy?

There are certain common sense questions that one asks about any piece of domestic mechanical equipment. What is the initial cost? How much does it cost to operate? To keep in order? What is the reputation of the maker? What is the guarantee? What points has this refrigerator that the other has not? How do these points tally with my requirements? What have been the experiences of my friends with this refrigerator?

In answering these questions for the General Electric refrigerator, it is pointed out that when a housewife buys it, she buys it with the same sense of assurance and power with which she might buy a Rolls-Royce motor car. She knows, and her friends know, that she has made a fine purchase.

In regard to cost of operation—General Electric refrigerator uses singularly little current. The mechanical perfection of the motor is one reason for this; the other is the placing of the mechanism on top of the refrigerator. Every motor manufactures some heat and heat always rises. In addition, the motor is the primary means of removing the heat within the cabinet. It is unsound mechanical construction, therefore, for the heat to be imprisoned under and circulating around the very place in which the motor is working to chill. In short, it is like a man on a hot day running to stir up a breeze to keep himself cool.

For 15 years engineers worked in the great General Electric Research laboratories before they were content to place this refrigerator on the market. Now the complete unit is manufactured in Canada and the long-standing reputation of General Electric is guarantee of record performance, but, in addition, an unqualified three-year guarantee goes with the sale of every model, and hundreds of thousands of owners testify to the fact that never has a cent been paid for service.

Regarding the refrigerator itself, the smallest model has 7 1-3 square feet of shelf area. The fact that the mechanism is on top as well as the special design of the freezing chamber and the shelves accounts for this roominess. The monitor top, as it is termed, is hermetically-sealed in a sheath of steel together with its permanent supply of oil. It leads a life of complete seclusion and efficiency, removed from dust, dirt, moisture and rust. The temperature control regulator is there on top, too, convenient to hand. The cabinet is all steel—welded. Inside cabinet the corners are rounded so no food can find a hiding place in them. Legs raise the cabinet high enough above the floor to make sweeping easy. The latches and hinges are marvels of trouble-free durability.

HOOVER PICTURES YORKTOWN ONE OF FEW DECISIVE BATTLES

Claims Americans Held Grateful Memories of France's Aid for 15 Years.

PAID DEBT IN LAST WAR.

YORKTOWN, Va., Oct. 19 (By Ken Clark, C.P. Staff Writer)—The long span of history will interpret the American war for independence — more in the light of a struggle amongst English-speaking people for the establishment in government of an extension of a common philosophy of human rights begun at Runnymede. Thus in the year 1931, President Herbert Hoover of the United States spoke in celebration of the victory of General George Washington's army over the British forces at Yorktown, Virginia, and the end of the American revolution in the year 1781.

The President said: We assemble here to celebrate a victory for our own independence, but not essentially a victory over the British — the principles and ideas for which American contended had many adherents and much sympathy in England at the time. The victory of the Americans gave impulse to the new order through the world; and while the sovereignties of America and England definitely diverged at Yorktown, yet the march of the ideal for which the Americans fought also went forward and triumphed in England itself.

Century of Peace.

The common acceptance of many of these principles had aligned the English speaking people side by side for a century of peace, concord sympathy, and devotion to a liberty defined and assured under a reign of law. The triumph of these new ideas in America strengthened the impulses for liberty in France.

The President said that for the co-operation furnished by France at the Battle of Yorktown the American people had held for 150 years a grateful remembrance.

That sentiment finally flowered in the cooperation which the United States gave France in their defense against an overwhelming enemy. The presence of Marshal Petain and General Pershing at Yorktown symbolized this second comradeship in arms, so magnificently begun at Degrasse, Lafayette and Rochambeau.

Earlier he had described the battle of Yorktown as one of the few decisive battles in the history of the world, asserting that had it not been won the whole course of history would have been altered.

The primary national consequence of the independence we finally won here, Mr. Hoover said, was the release of our national minds from all hampering restraints put upon us by subjection to another nation and another civilization. Here America became free to be America.

It's great to FEEL FIT!

TODAY'S the day of outdoor life! Men and women retain their youth — their joy in a healthful, vigorous body.

A daily enemy of health is constipation. Intestinal sluggishness often leads to headaches, backaches, lack of pep, premature aging, loss of good looks.

It is unwise to fight constipation with habit-forming pills and drugs. They often do more harm than good.

The wise and healthful way is to correct the diet. Your system needs "bulk" and Vitamin B in generous quantities to keep it healthfully regular.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, a delicious ready-to-eat cereal, gives you both of these things. It furnishes "bulk," which gently exercises the intestines. And Vitamin B, which tones them up.

Start now to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly — either as a cereal or in cooked foods. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient to prevent and to relieve most cases of constipation. (See your doctor, however, if you suffer from intestinal trouble not relieved this way.)

Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

TRENT RIVER RESIDENT EARNED $10 PER MONTH IN WOOD SHANTY

Henry H. Pollock Has Lived in Village for Fifty-six Years.

RECALLS OLD TIMES.

TRENT RIVER, Oct. 20. (Examiner Correspondence).—Interesting reminiscences of the "good old days" were recently narrated to The Examiner by Henry H. Pollock, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of this village who settled here fifty-six years ago. Born a short distance east of Cobourg on November 7 1858, Mr. Pollock can recall the time when he worked in a north country shanty for $10 a month, and when a dollar from this salary was deducted if an employee insisted on tea to drink. In those days butter sold for 12 cents a pound, eggs at five cents a dozen and brown sugar 2 pounds for 25 cents.

Mr. Pollock came to Trent River at about the time the last spike was driven in the big bridge, from the home of his father, who taught school near the John R. Clark farm, east of Cobourg. The contract for the bridge building was handled by William Sargent. The money for this project came from four or five sources, namely the Government, Peterborough and Northumberland Counties Councils and from the townships of Belmont and Seymour.

First Store in Village

The first store in the village of Trent River was kept by George Laidley. He disposed of the store to a Mr. Waller who in turn sold to A. V. Fuller and later Mr. Waller again took over the business, which subsequently came into the hands of Mr. Pollock.

Frank Lee kept the first post office on the property now owned by Thomas J. brown. It was afterwards moved to the hotel, now known as the Sedgewick House. Mr. Lee had to drive every Saturday to Campbellford for the mail. When the post office was subsequently taken over by McFadden Brothers, it was moved to the brick store, now occupied by W. C. Inkster, and built by Mr. Lee. From here the office was kept in John Water's house for a few months, when Mr. Pollock made application and was appointed post master, moving the office to his store.

On a change of government the office was later changed and moved back to the brick store where Caleb Coon received the appointment. George Chiles, who managed a general grocery store succeeded Coons as post master, and later sold out to James Moir. Finally the office was given over to the late Frank Pollock who held the office up to the time of his death in May of this year.

The religious life of the community was served by the Rev. B. O. Crossley who conducted services in a little church situated near the corner of Fred Cook's property. A Wesleyan church at the Orange Hall near Polmont was used for worship.

Mr. Pollock's father taught school at Polmont receiving a salary of between three and four hundred dollars a year. The first hotel was built by a Mr. Mann, where the Sedgewick House now stands. Stewart Wannamaker and Georg T. Cummings succeeded as hotel keepers, afterwards George Brown took possession.

Wheat $2 per Bushel

In those early days of the village history wheat sold for $2 a bushel, and the people existed principally on corn meal and fish. Iron ore was obtained at Blairton Mines and was transported by railway to Trent River, landed at the wharf and then taken by river on the steamer "Isaac Butts" to Cobourg and thence by rail to Sandusky, Ohio to be smelted.

Wood sold for $2 a cord, and Mr. Pollock remembers having drawn 100 cords of good hard wood to Campbellford for which he received this price.

The Old Saw Mill

There was a saw mill situated near where Windermere Cottage now stands, owned by Messrs. Comers and Jarrat. Mr. Waller, now resident at Tweed, also operated a saw mill in the back channel near where the old pier can still be seen.

The first fall of Mr. Pollock's residence at Trent River, he recalls a drift wood jam at the head of Cedar Isle. The jam was solid and extended as far as the old dock.

When Healy Falls dam was out the water was so low that one could ford the back channel. At one time also there was an old Indian dam, ark-shaped and which extended from the point where Bon Alexander cottage stands, across the Windermere Cottage. The Indians had a crossing place on the south side. The river was once a rapids and considerable dredging had to be undertaken for navigation.

The following are names of residents of Trent River over fifty years ago: Connors and Garratt, Loughlin, Roland Scriver (on James Carruthers farm) Bryant Scriver (near the Kennedy cottage). William Sargent (on the Thomas Doupe farm), Frank Lee (on Thos. J. Brown farm), George Dermot, Finlay Waite, storekeeper, Jack Scriver, Daniel Scriver, a Mr. Tollock, John Garneau, Sr.

Mr. Pollock has been twice married and with his first wife Jane McNeely raised a family of two daughters and four sons, three of the sons of whom served in the Great War. Mr. Pollock re-married and is still a resident of the village. He is of an active nature and is engaged most of his time building boats and undertaking boat repairs. He is keen on daily motorboat trips, and is also an ardent fisherman.

MILLBROOK W.M.A. PREPARING BALE

Mesdames J. McKnight and E. J. Thornton Give Talks on "Challenge of Youth."

MILLBROOK, Oct. 20.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Mrs. Milton Challice extended the hospitality of her home for the October meeting of the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary of St. Andrew's church, the gathering being on Wednesday afternoon with a large attendance, and the vice-president, Mrs. (Dr.) L. H. Rae, in the chair. The president, Mrs. (Rev.) W. W. Jones, was absent owing to a severe cold.

Business items discussed included the supplies for the bale the Auxiliary is preparing to send to the west for relief work, clothing, warm quilts, etc., being required; it is hoped to pack the bale next week, and all contributions were asked to be sent in at the earliest possible date.

The recitation in unison of the Master's missionary commission, Mathew 28: 19-20, was a new feature introduced in the worship period, and the fall thankoffering envelopes were distributed by the group leaders, same to be placed on the offering plate at either the November or December meetings. A letter from Mrs. Waite of Colborne, Presbyterial supply secretary, advising the members of the safe arrival of their annual bale and extending thanks for co-operation in this matter, was read by the corresponding secretary.

Miss Mary Widdis, convenor of Group G, took charge of the formal program, reading the devotional leaflet on "James, the Apostle of Silence", succeeding speakers being Mrs. E. J. Thornton and Mrs. J. McKnight, each of whom gave a helpful paper on "The Challenge of Youth", the material having been presented at the recent Presbyterial Rally, and prepared by Mrs. Gray of Garden Hill.

Miss Estelle Hetherington took up the first chapter of the new study book, "Korea, the Land of Dawn," using maps to illustrate her talk, and advancing interesting and instructive facts regarding natural position and advantages, and history of the land and people.

A solo, "He Watches Me", by Mrs. S. W. Cawker was much enjoyed, and also a piano solo, "Hymn of Devotion," by Miss Hetherington.

The talk by Miss Mamie Fisher on her recent trip abroad which was to have been given at the close of the session was unavoidably postponed. Mrs. H. E. Smith and Mrs. O. Williamson sponsored the vote of thanks to the hostess, and the group, for the hospitality extended and the excellent program provided, all present endorsing it with a hearty clap of the hands.

HEAVY SNOWFALL IN APSLEY AREA

Apsley District Was Covered With Snow on Saturday.

APSLEY, Oct. 20.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Snow which fell all day Saturday was a grim reminder that winter is fast approaching, although the white mantle soon disappeared. The fall was the equivalent of two and a half inches.

Harvest Thanksgiving services were held at St. Andrew's church, Owenbrook, and St. Paul's, Lasswade, on Sunday, and were marked by large congregations, that at St. Andrew's taxing the capacity of the church. The offerings of fruit and vegetables were bountiful, the latter especially being remarkable, both in size and quality. The juvenile choir of St. George's, Apsley, attended at St. Andrew's and assisted in the singing.

The Rev. C. A. G. Spence went to Toronto last week to attend the Mission Board meeting of the Synod. While in the city Mr. Spence visited the Department of Public Welfare, and had interviews with the heads of the Mothers' Allowances Commission and Old Age Pensions Commission, on matter affecting the interests of applicants from these townships. He also had an interview with General Williams, the Commissioner of Provincial Police.

The many friends of Rev. W. H. Taylor will be glad to know that he is making a gradual recovery from his recent illness and it is hoped that he will soon be able to resume his ministerial duties.

2-SPEED CLEANER TO LEAD MARKET

Miss Claire Andree Stresses Advantages of Two-Speed Vacuum Cleaner.

Miss Claire Andree, home economics expert, of the De Both Home Makers' Schools, is enthusiastic about the numerous advantages of the Northern Electric Two-Speed Vacuum Cleaner. She points out that there is a world of difference in the substance, form and construction of rugs in the home today; and that this quickly reveals the limitations of the single action cleaner. The latter may perform satisfactorily on one kind of rug but fall down on another of different texture.

The Northern Electric Two-Speed Vacuum Cleaner, on the contrary, sucessfully overcomes this difficulty. At normal suction speed it cleans light rugs of average depth. At "high" speed it takes up all the embedded grit and dust from heavy pile rugs thoroughly and without injury to the rug itself.

Miss Andree predicts that the Two-Speed Vacuum Cleaner will soon entirely replace the old style single action cleaner.

BELMONT W.I.

Ladies Arrange for Dance—Enjoy Program of Music.

BELMONT, Oct. 20 (Examiner Correspondence)—The regular meeting of Belmont Women's Institute was held at the township hall on Thursday afternoon last and was well attended. The president, Mrs. Will Smith occupied the chair.

The roll call, "Pioneer Relics," proved a very popular one, and there was a splendid exhibit of antiques. The oldest exhibit was a mirror two hundred years old, which had belonged to Mrs. Will Smith's grandmother.

The chief business in hand was making arrangements for a dance, which it was decided should be held on Friday next. This is to be a real old fashioned "shin-dig," for which the admission fee is only twenty-five cents, and is sure to attract a large number of young and old. Committees were appointed to see about the music, and arrange for tickets etc. The matter of appointing a delegate to the convention of Women's Institutes to be held in Toronto the latter part of November was left over until the next meeting. After the business had been disposed of a short program was enjoyed beginning with community singing. Miss H. Scott gave an instrumental solo, and Mrs. Will Smith a reading, both of which were very much enjoyed. A paper "Pioneer Days" given by Mrs. J. A. Sexsmith proved most interesting, and a song "When you hair has turned to silver," by Mrs. Will Anderson was greatly enjoyed. The meeting concluded with the National Anthem, and afterwards a social half hour was spent over a light lunch and a delicious cup of tea. Hostesses for the day were, Mesdames Binstead, W. Smith and Miss Lily Anderson.

WIDE AWAKE CLUB

Four New Members Accepted By Millbrook C.G.I.T. Club.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 20 (Examiner Correspondence). — The weekly meeting of the Wide Awakes C.G.I.T. group was held at the leader's home on Wednesday evening, with fifteen girls present and the president, Miss Marian O'Brian, in the chair. Four new members were received by definite allegiance to the C.G.I.T. purpose, and enrolled, bringing the total membership to date to twenty-three.

A new motto was chosen, the group having only re-organized last week, and the executive was appointed a program committee to arrange for the public meeting in November when it is hoped to add to the group funds.

The current event for the next meeting will be given by Bernice Thornton, and Charlotte McMahon will furnish the special musical number. The subject of continuing the first aid classes during the current year was discussed and further action will be taken; new books were supplied the recently-elected secretary and treasurer, Mary Burnham and Madeline McDowell, and the new Herald, Bryar Edmunds, took over the duties of her office for the initial time, the president supplying the new password.

The special subject for study, during the devotional period, in addition to these scripture verses, was "The Challenge of Prayer", the reading being from Acts 12: 1-19. The next meeting will be on Thursday evening, October 22, intervening events preventing the use of the regular night, Tuesday of each week. A pleasant social hour was enjoyed at the close.

THOMAS CHAMBERS

BETHANY, October 20 (Examiner Corespondence).—The funeral of the late Thomas Chambers was held from St. Paul's Church, Bethany, on Sunday at one o'clock and burial was made at St. Mary's Cemetery, Lifford.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Pierheller, rector of St. Paul's Church.

Motion Pictures Of "Y.W." Swim Classes

A pleasant surprise awaited Junior Y.W.C.A. members Saturday morning when it was learned moving pictures were to be taken of gymnasium and swimming pool classes for the Peterborough film.

The hundred kiddies will have great tales to tell of their first appearance in movies. Babies and juniors were included in a short gymnasium drill along with the Intermediate dancing class.

Pictures were also taken of a group in the swimming pool, some pretty dives being recorded.

HAMILTON BY-PRODUCT COKE

Thrifty Women!

THE shrewdest purchasers of household needs today are the women. They want to save money—but they refuse to accept inferior quality.

That is why so many women are urging their husbands to buy Hamilton By-Product Coke. They know it will cut their winter fuel costs by one-third without losing any of the heat-producing values of more expensive imported fuels.

When women have to be the "furnace man," they appreciate this Canadian coke because it is so clean and so light on the shovel. And when it's the husband's turn to take out the ashes, he finds his labor reduced by a half or more.

Today — try a ton of this domestic coke!

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Selkirk, 581 Aylmer Street, in the form of a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Olive Drain, whose marriage to Mr. David Tucker takes place this week. The evening was spent in playing cards and music, after which a mock wedding was staged, which caused much amusement. To the strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Lareta Sedgwick, the bride, Mr. John Cowx, entered and was given in marriage by Mr. J. S. Selkirk, with Mr. Norman Moore acting as groom, Miss Jean Munro as ring bearer and Mr. Cecil Wasson as parson. Many pretty and useful gifts were received by the young couple, after which Mr. Tucker made a suitable acknowledgment of the gifts. Dainty refreshments were served, bringing a pleasant evening to a close. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Munro, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Selkirk, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baptie, Mr. and Mrs. D. Morrison, Mrs. S. Wildman, Mrs. E. Cowx, Mrs. F. Reynolds, the Misses Olive Drain, Jean Munro, Lily Shearer, Lareta Sedgwick, and Messrs. SOCIETY PLANNING CHINESE PROGRAM

George Street United Church Twilight Mission Circle Hold Supper Meeting.

The girls of the Twilight Mission Circle of George Street United Church held their supper meeting last evening in the Sunday School auditorium at 6.30. At the meeting, which followed, the president, Miss Helen Burns, presided, and the meeting opened by repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. The Scripture lesson, 123rd Psalm, was read by Miss Ethel Mills.

Plans were discussed for the November meeting. It was decided that it take the form of a Chinese entertainment, as one of the series of "The Trip Round the World," which had been arranged for Y.W.A.'s and Circles of the United Churches of the city. Announcement was made that the thankoffering envelopes should be in by next meeting. Papers on Korea were read by Margaret Taylor, Eileen Wiman and Ethel Mills.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Calendar Reform Centres On Easter

GENEVA, Oct. 20.—(A.P.) — Except for possible stabilization of the date of Easter, world calendar reform was deferred again to-day after the adjournment of the International calendar reform conference.

The conference adopted a declaration favoring fixing the Easter date, but decided to postpone a general simplification of the calendar. The Sunday after the second Saturady in April was preferred by most of the delegates for the fixed Easter and the League of Nations was asked to transmit the recommendation to the Christian churches.

The Council was asked to reply by April 10, 1933, on the churchs' attitude.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Among the many ways of cooking chicken, there is one which cleverly contrives to give the flavor of Southern fried chicken without the process of sauteing in fat with its accompanying odor of cookery.

• • • • • • • •

It was used recently by a cook, one who was cleverly termed "a chef-cook" by another, not so skilled in culinary arts.

• • • • • • • •

This lady was from the southland and far from home, but she brought with her the subtleties of the southern style to combine with the direct methods of northern cooks.

• • • • • • • •

In her oven-fried chicken she unites the two ways with great success.

• • • • • • • •

The chicken was cut in four pieces, after being split up the back. It was placed in a large saucepan with just a little boiling water, salted a trifle and having one onion cut in four pieces put in also.

• • • • • • • •

The chicken (or might be other fowl) was then gently simmered until fairly tender. From time to time more boiling water was added. This is necessary for at no time must there be more than a little water in the pan.

• • • • • • • •

When the chicken was nearly tender enough to serve, it was taken from the saucepan and put into a baking pan. Each piece was generously brushed with melted butter, well sprinkled with flour which the butter held in place.

• • • • • • • •

Then the pieces were dusted with salt and pepper and the pan was placed in a hot oven. As the chicken finished cooking it acquired a delicate brown and a savory coating, rich and tasty.

• • • • • • • •

The water in which the chicken was steamed formed the basis for a sauce-like gravy in which the onion pieces were allowed to remain. The fat from the chicken enriched the gravy, to which was added a little cream.

• • • • • • • •

The chicken was served like fried chicken on a platter garnished with crisp parsley. The rich cream gravy was passed in its boat. With the chicken was served mashed potatoes beaten until light as feathers, new buttered beets and fresh string beans.

• • • • • • • •

Pickled watermelon rind took the place of the more usual cranberry sauce. A cucumber peeled, and thinly sliced and kept whole was passed for each person to dress with a vinagrette dressing of his own making from the ingredients also passed.

• • • • • • • •

Then the next morning, the chicken liver, cut in pieces and fried with bacon, was served with scrambled eggs which formed the centre of the dish.

Plans Completed For Locke Lecture

The Educational Committee of the Y.W.C.A. met on Friday afternoon to complete arrangements for the lecture by Dr. George H. Locke, chief librarian, Toronto, on the "Menace of the Soviet." The lecture will be given in the Collegiate Institute Hall on Monday, October 26, at 8.15 p.m.

Dr. Locke will be remembered for his very interesting lecture on Italy given at the Canadian Club last winter. Realizing how much this lecture was enjoyed the Y.W.C.A. made plans to again bring Dr. Locke to Peterborough to speak on Russia but because of illness this lecture had to be postponed. Now Board members are glad to announce this lecture which is on a subject of interest to the world today and feel that Peterborough citizens will appreciate the opportunity of hearing Dr. Locke again.

USE DAINTY SOAP IN LIGHT WASHING

Good Care of Silks and Delicate Fabrics Means Longer Life.

Just what the housewives would do without these dainty diamond-like flakes of the purest soap is hard to imagine. In the present days when budgets for clothes need close attention, when that silk slip or that sheer pair of stockings must be made to give longer service if possible, Lux indeed comes indirectly as a money-saver.

A great foe to silks, and indeed to all fine wearables, is perspiration. It is strongly acid in character, and therefore injurious to delicate tissues and fabrics. A cure for the "perspiration" menace is frequent washing—but not with any soap, for common harsh soaps would merely hasten the breakdown of the fabric of the garments.

Harsh soaps are strong in alkali, and not only injure the clothes, but are harmful to the hands. The safe soap to use is Lux.

Dorothy Dix, the well-known newspaper correspondent, has included some very interesting messages about Lux to her vast army of women readers. She says that no girl needs to feel an inferiority complex—she can feel charming, she can be charming, if she will see that her clothing, and especially her underclothing, is kept fresh and colorful through the use of Lux. Clothes make the woman," says Dorothy Dix, "and a feeling of dainty feminity, of attractiveness is readily achieved through the use of—"not only good Soap"—but through the dainty Lux flakes in washing every article of clothing which is washable—in other words which will come to no harm in pure water itself."

Miss Claire Andree will have something to say about Lux in her Home Maker School—be sure and get her experience.

Rush Point

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fowler and Mr. Ted Graham of Pontypool were visitors at Rush Point on Sunday.

The Misses Myrtle and Mae Seeney of Toronto and Mr. Harold Seeney of Hamilton spent last week-end with their parents at Round Lake.

The evangelical meetings held at Rush Point School for the past three weeks are drawing quite large crowds each evening. This week completes the series of meetings.

The moss gangs from the north country are breaking camp this week as the season for that activity is about over for this year.

Messrs. Gordon Newton, Walter Davis and William McQuigge were in Toronto this week on a business trip.

An accident which might have resulted in serious damage happened recently on Nicholson's Hill. Mr. H. Spinks coming out from the plains with about half a hundred bales of moss on his truck stalled on the hill and went back down the steep grade about forty miles an hour. The truck turned completely over backwards and an explosion followed. However only slight damage resulted and with the aid of Mr. Les Carrol's team the truck was righted and soon on its way again.

It is to be regretted that so few Rush Point farmers took advantage of the privileges offered them at the Plowing Match this week. Those who were fortunate enough to attend were well pleased.

A good crowd of young people gathered at the White Church for the usual Thursday night league meeting. Mr. Carl Barton had charge of the program.

The scripture reading and thanksgiving topic were taken by Mr. H. Hoard.

A comic reading by Miss Viola Newton and a comic recitation by Mr. Archie McMillan received hearty applause. Several musical numbers had to be omitted owing to the absence of some of the young people participating.

3339

Its simple line gives it such a trim look. It has the new sleeve cut. The use of bows, that accent the slimming diagonal line of the bodice, give it a feminine touch.

And it's as easy as falling off a log to make it.

Style No. 3339 may be had in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust.

Size 36 requires 2¼ yards 54-inch.

Be sure to fill in the size of the pattern. Send stamps or coin (coin preferred). Price of pattern 15 cents.

That Body of Yours

GUARDING YOUR EYESIGHT

Perhaps you wonder sometimes just where or to whom you should go to see about your eyes. You know there is the oculist, the optometrist, and also the optician.

The oculist is a graduate in medicine and surgery, who, however, gives his entire time to eye conditions, that is diseases of the eyes, and also to prescribing glasses where the eyesight is defective.

The optometrist is not a graduate in medicine and surgery, but has spent considerable time in studying the eyesight itself-long sight-short sight, astigmatism and so forth. The properly qualified optometrist gets his name from the fact that he measures the eyesight of the patient and prescribes glasses that will enable him to get the best possible use of his eyes, and prevent strain.

An optician gets the prescription from the oculist or optometrist as to what is needed, and grinds the glasses according to this prescription.

Now to whom should you go to have your eyes examined?

Generally speaking it is considered wise to consult the oculist if your eyes are bothering you, as it may not be a matter of eyesight but some other condition in the body that is causing the eye trouble.

The oculist is in a better position to locate the cause of the trouble than the optometrist or optician, who of course are concerned with the vision only. And if it is the vision that is defective the oculist can prescribe the necessary glasses.

However if you are having no trouble with the eyes, but naturally would like to know if your eyes should be having any help owing to the nature of your work, or if you have no pain but think your eyesight is failing, you can quite properly consult the optometrist. He can measure the needs of your eyes, and fit you just as well as the oculist. He is absolutely safe as most states and provinces require an examination in this work before he can call himself an optometrist.

What you should not do is walk into a store and fit glasses to your eyes and take a pair that you think suits you. Nor should you buy glasses from any vendor or salesman that calls at your home.

Your eyes are worth very much to you, and you should take no chances with them.

FASHION HINT

"How to make my old short skirts conform to the new length was a problem to me until I hit on this plan. I dropped the hems; and as the part that had been turned under was darker than the rest, I re-dyed the entire dress, after having bleached the goods, following directions in the Diamond Dyes package.

"I used Diamond Dyes for the re-dyeing, of course. I have dyed many things with these wonderful colors. They have saved me many dollars and have never failed to give perfect results—smooth, even colors—fast to wear and washing. Friends think my things are new when I re-dye or tint them with Diamond Dyes. They do give the most gorgeous colors!"

McMaster Alumnae Is Planning Dinner

Elaborate preparations for the reception of some five hundred ministers and church workers who it is estimated will attend the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec now in session at Murray street church, and which concludes on Friday, have been made by an energetic general committee under the chairmanship of the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe.

In addition to enquiry desks, check rooms and registration office, there is a billeting committee at work providing for the accommodation of visiting delegates, while in the basement a large staff of women church workers are busily employed providing meals. Dining room provision has been made for 150 people at one sitting, while the Baraca Class Room has been converted into a committee luncheon room, where committeemen may transact business while attending to the needs of the inner man.

There is a mass of important business on the agenda and with sessions commencing at 9.30 each morning and concluding late at night all this week, there is little time for delegates to go far afield. It is probably this realization that was responsible for the establishment of postal facilities at the church, and the installation of telephones.

For Wednesday evening of this week a McMaster Alumnae Dinner has been planed to be held in the Paragon Tea Rooms at 6 p.m.

N.H.L. Bans Players Of Non-Affiliated Leagues

LOWERY SOLD TO CHIHAWKS

Only One Player Deal Completed at N.H.L. Meeting—Reinstatement Refused A. H. L. Men.

MINOR RULE CHANGES.

TORONTO, Oct. 20. — Although they held morning and afternoon sessions and did not adjourn until well after 6 o'clock last evening, the National Hockey League moguls, meeting here at the Royal York Hotel yesterday, accomplished very little, judging from the news that was given out.

Ratification of the season's schedule which will not be released for publication until next week, one or two minor changes in the rules, the consideration of applications from three players now in the American Hockey League for reinstatement to organized hockey ranks, and a discussion of the play-offs for the coming season evidently occupied the whole time of the meeting.

The only player transaction involved a former Maple Leaf, Jerry Lowrey, who was purchased outright from the Pittsburgh club by the Chicago Black Hawks for a price said to be $6,500. Lowrey was one of the Philadelphia players secured from the non-operating Pittsburg club, but, instead of being on loan, he now becomes the outright property of the Hawks.

Refuse Reinstatement

Sid Acaster, Paddy Byrne and Stanley Fuller, American Hockey League players, who applied for reinstatement to organized hockey so that they could secure tryouts with National League clubs, were turned down. They will be barred permanently from organized hockey until such time as the American League becomes affiliated with the N.H.L. or agrees to the N.H.L. draft. Acaster and Fuller played with St. Louis last season, but it is understood their were desirous of signing with teams in the International or some other minor league affiliated with the N.H.L. Paddy Bryne's case is somewhat different. He was offered a trial with the Montreal Maroons. He will now have to return to the Kansas City club of the American Hockey League, although Owner Grant of that club was quite agreeable to him going to the Maroons.

The N.H.L. further went on record with a resolution that players now under contract or on option to clubs in organized hockey who play in any outlaw organization will be barred permanently from organized hockey. This is expected to deter players from jumping to outlaw clubs now affiliated with or in the N.H.L.

Minor Rule Changes

No drastic changes were made in the rules. The minor changes were not, of any great importance. In future, when a goal is scored from a penalty face-off in front of the net, and one of the defending players breaks out of line before the puck is propped, the goal will count.

During a Toronto-Boston game in Boston last winter, the Bruins scored from such a face-off, but when King Clancy drew the referee's attention to the fact that he had broken from the line before the puck was dropped, the goal was disallowed. It is to prevent such occurrences in future that this new rule was made.

It was also decided that a penalty face-off be given against the side of any player who falls on the puck within ten feet of his goal. Goalkeepers are excepted.

Another new rule is that if a player takes up a position to interefere with or impede the movement or the vision of a goal-keeper, play will be called and a face-off held five feet outside the nearest blue line. This is aimed to prevent the scoring of goals while an attacking player is close enough to the net to prevent the goalkeeper seeing the shot.

His Heart's Still In The Game

ONCE CANADA'S GREATEST RUGBY COACH

Years ago Rev. Father Stanton of Ottawa University was hailed as the greatest football coach in Canada. This was back in 1907 when he produced a team that won for his college, the Intercollegiate title. For years after, too, he produced teams which were a credit to any city. But not only to football did he confine his coaching abilities. He coached almost every line of sport, hockey, track, basketball, and swimming. Father Stanton's creed in all his coaching was: "You're never licked until you give up," and "Be a crab or be a man." It was this spirit that he infused into all his teams. For the past few years Father Stanton has been in United States doing mission work, but last week returned to Canada to see a Canadian football game in which the forward pass was being used. His heart is still in the old game that he helped to make famous.

HUGHES CONFIDENT REACH AGREEMENT

Kilrea, Connell and Smith Will Play for Falcons This Year.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 20.—(AP)—Charles A. Hughes, president of the Detroit Hockey Club, said today he expected Hec Kilrea, Alex Connell and Alex Smith, the three Ottawa hockey players awarded to Detroit when Ottawa suspended activities, here within the next few days to discuss terms of their contracts.

Hughes said the three National Hockey League players had informed him their contracts were unacceptable claiming living costs and other expenses called for more remuneration than their contracts offered. Hughes stated that he had asked them to come here for a conference and expressed the belief they would accept their contracts.

The contract date for the arrival of all players both for the Detroit Falcons of the National Hockey League and Detroit Olympics of the International Hockey League has been set for October 22. Practice opens on that date.

Hec Kilrea performed brilliantly on the left wing for Ottawa in past seasons of the N.H.L. campaign while Alex Connel is considered one of the best goal tenders in the game. Alex Smith has been playing defense for the last few seasons though he had been used in utility roles prior to that.

MUSTANGS MAY GIVE VARSITY MUCH TROUBLE

Joe Breen's Crew in Toronto on Saturday Next Formidable Outfit.

ARNUPS MOVES UP.

By LOU GOLDEN

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—(Special to The Examiner. Copyright, 1931)—The Mustangs will paw the turf at the Varsity Stadium next Saturday. Joe Breen's University of Western Ontario machine will invade the home of the University of Toronto football and the Breenites expect a victory. The Western line seems as strong as ever and if their first game of the season is any criterion of what they can do they will be one of the teams that will have to be carefully watched in the hunt of the Yates' cup, the emblem of the intercollegiate title.

Varsity has played some really fighting football and Dr. Harry Hobbs, the coach, seems to be on the way into turning his charges into a gang of scrappers. The opening game of the season showed, and others will continue to show that the Blue Shirts have developed a fighting streak. If that sort of football is continued the host of followers of the bluemen will be quite satisfied. If there has been one thing that the undergraduates, the alumni and the city followers of the teams have been waiting for it has been a courageous spirit. This seems to be the year of their reward. The first team has shown fighting finish, the Orphans have shown that they are no children to be played around with, while the juniors amply demonstrated that they also can come from behind.

Western Needs Backfielders.

The Joe Breen team will be hard outfit to send under. He has once more a line that is probably the best in college company. It was easily the best last year and there seems to be no weakening this autumn. The backfield is weak, while Varsity has a strong rearguard. It should be a win for the University of Toronto; but stranger things have hapened than that of a favorite team being knocked off the perch.

The Orphans get a bye next week. The week after that they meet the Balmy Beach club in the second game between these two teams. The Beaches are disappointed at their showing against the Orphans on Thanksgiving morning. It ought to again be a great battle all the way and if the Orphans are not riddled by the pulling of men to the first team the Harry Bales' men ought to give a good account of themselves.

Harold Arnup seems to be on the way to the big time. He has always shown that he has had ability and with the juniors last year proved himself a fine little kicker. On Monday last he again demonstrated that he could run through the broken field. The result is that he was in Montreal Saturday and showed his wares against the McGill men before a tremendous re-union crowd that packed the Molsom bowl.

Good Orphan Line.

Every year there are a few lads who make the grade from the Orphans to the firsts and this season it is likely that several more than usual will make the trip up the line. The O.R.F.U. line is a strong one and it is likely that some of the front rank men will make their way to the big team.

This week is a big one for track and field, golf, intermediate tennis, rugger and soccer. These minor sporting events do not attract a great deal of attention, but they are important cogs in athletic wheels of he various universities. These are of course not playing sports, but the college union considers them for all intents and purposes as being in the same class the ones that draw the big gates.

Toronto Leafs Leave For Training Camp

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 20.—(By the Canadian Press).—Members of the Toronto Maple Leafs, local entry in the National Hockey League, left for St. Catharines last night to start their training for the 1931-32 campaign. Sixteen players are on hand and will make the trip.

Harvey Jackson, left wing member of the famous "kid" forward line will acompany his teammates. Jackson was injured in an automobile accident yesterday, but to-day stated he was not seriously hurt and would be able to leave with the other players.

All of last year's squad will be at the training camp besides the newcomers to the team, Frank Finigan, erstwhile Ottawa star and Howe of Philadelphia team. Darrah of Boston will also join the group.

CUTTER IS SET FOR SPEED TEST

Adversus Passed Through City on Way From Orillia to Montreal.

FOR CUSTOMS SERVICE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—(Special to The Examiner).—Painted sea-green, the trim little craft Adversus, latest addition to the Customs preventive service which left Peterborough last week on her way from Orillia to Montreal and Sydney sailed from Montreal today after a twelve hours' stay at the Victoria basin here, to undergo her speed trials at Sorel further down the St. Lawrence.

The Adversus will return to Montreal early next week when she will be joined by her regular crew and will take on supplies and radio equipment in readiness for her departure to Sydney which will be her base.

Captain E. L. Croft, her regular commander, will then take over the vessel, relieving Engineer-Commander Charles Stephen, chief engineer and technical adviser to the Department of National Revenue, who was in temporary command while the vessel was in Peterborough and her way to this port.

Comment was general here as to the resemblance of the vessel's wheel-house and bridge to a submarine conning tower.

After the speed trials, Captain Croft will hoist the Government flag replacing that of the builders which is still in place indicating that the ship is not yet the property of the Government.

According to H. Ditchburn, of Ditchburn Boats, Limited, Orillia, the builders of the Adversus, the new cruiser is the first of a fleet which will eventually displace the older, slower and more obsolete vessels which are at present in use by the service.

He was not disposed to make any predictions as to the speed the Adversus will exhibit on her trials, contenting himself with the statement that she will be very fast for her class and that he has no fear of the outcome of the test at Sorel.

Incidentally, newspapermen here seem to be under the impression that Peterborough is a suburb of Orillia or vice-versa. Over a dispatch concerning the new cruiser on Monday, which related the fact of its construction in Orillia, an enterprising headline writer on an afternoon daily here placed the words "Vessel Built in Peterborough to Reach Sea via Montreal."

TRADER HORN HERE SATURDAY

GOOD CARD PROMISED.

The next combined boxing and wrestling show will be staged at the Brock street rink next Saturday night, October 24, when it is intended to stage something out of the ordinary in the way of grappling and scrapping. Frank Hart, the most popular wrestler ever to display his wares here, will be featured in the main wrestling bout and he will have as an opponent one considered to be in the very front rank of the world's light heavyweight grapplers, Trader Horn.

Hailing from Washington, D.C., Horn has been a sensation in wrestling circles and recently created quite a furore when he held Joe Banasaki, world's cruiser weight champion, to a draw after a hectic bout. Only the fact that titles do not change hands on draw decisions saved Banaski his crown and the $5,000 gold and diamond belt recently presented to him by the Mid-West Wrestling Association.

Of the swashbuckling type, Trader Horn is a wonderful grappler, one who has never failed to please. His style will be something new to local sports enthusiasts as he adopts holds and moves that no other wrestler has yet shown here and there has been plenty of variety to the grappling matches here. This event will be of the popular finish variety, best two falls out of three, with a two hours limit.

Second Bout

There will be another wrestling match between two outstanding wrestlers. Then there will be two boxing bouts and it is intended to show a scrapper here of whom Peterborough fans have often read. However, that announcement will not be forthcoming until the match is closed.

This will be the best wrestling and boxing show staged here yet and as it has been some time since the last affair, next Saturday night's show should prove very attractive. Further announcements are being looked forward to eagerly.

The University of the Philippines is to add a school of fine arts, a conservatory of music, and a school of hygiene and public health.

Italians Are Firm Believers Woman's Place Is By The Home And Fireside

ROME, Oct. 20—(AP)—There will be no women's athletic meet at Naples on November 1 because the Italian Olympic committee has cancelled it on the principle that in Italy at any rate woman's place is still in the home.

Sports for women, the committee ruled, must be limited to educational gymnastics for young women, and sports may be indulged in for pleasure only when the participant is fully developed physically.

The meet which was scheduled for November 1, and all others of the kind, the committee's announcement said, are not within the comprehension of Italian women, and competitive contests as practiced in other countries of different mentality and habits do not accord with the character of the Italian people who are determined to defend family unity and who do not wish excessive liberty to be given to girls and women.

Legal Action Taken To Settle Sow Sale

KINGSTON, Oct. 20 (Special to The Examiner)—In Prince Edward among articles seized by Court orders was a brood sow which was left at the farm pending sale by auction. But before the time set for the sale there was an increase of six in the family. The former owner of the sow was advised that they were his property and acting on this advice, went and got the pigs, then four weeks old ,and left them with a third party under an argeement for sale. The court took action in an endeavour to recover the pigs and a charge of theft was laid against the former owner of the sow. Police Magistrate Calnan straightened the matter and ordered the defendant to make restitution or return the pigs as agreed on between the two parties, and to pay the costs of the action.

Duluth Club Sold To Former Player

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 20.—Johnny Mitchell, veteran member of the Duluth Hornets hockey team, and his brother-in-law Rod Titus have purchased the Hornets and the club's franchise in the American League. Mitchell, former Selkirk, Man., and Winnipeg star, and his partner are believed to have paid between $10,000 and $15,000 for the club. The sale was made by Gordon Hegardt, former president of the Hornets.

Mitchell played with the 61st Battalion team of Winnipeg, Allan Cup winners in 1916.

ELEVENTH WIN FOR LOUGHRAN

Quaker Heavyweight Jabs Way to Third Victory Over Risko.

MAY MEET SHARKEY.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 20.—(CP)—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia heavyweight bachelor, left jabbed his way to his third victory over Johnny Risko, Cleveland spoiler of near-companions last night in the ten-round feature of the Arena card. It was Tommy's eleventh straight win and placed him in line for a battle with Jack Sharkey for the right to meet Herr Max Schmeling.

Spotting his opponent to 13½ pounds, Loughran peppered a slightly injured left into Risko's jaw, time and again snapping his head back. Only in the seventh did the Cleveland rubber man win a round, and then by sliping across a few blows in addition to body punches he swung throughout the battle. Risko sought infighting, Loughran long-range work.

Loughran weighed 185, Risko, 198¼.

3 Titles At Stake In Canzoneri Bout

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 20—(CP)—Three titles may be at stake when Tony Canzoneri and "Kid" Chocolate clash in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden, November 20.

Canzoneri's lightweight and junior welterweight championships are certain to be on the block and if Tony should make 130 pounds, Chocolate will be defending the junior lightweight crown he won from Benny Bass. Canzoneri should have no difficulty making the 130-pound limit for he rarely scales more than 131 or 132.

Tony, who won the lightweight championship by knocking out Al Singer here last winter, added the junior welterweight title to his list when he knocked out Jack (Kid) Berg at Chicago in his first lightweight championship defense. He defended both titles against Berg here several months ago and again trounced the Englishman.

CENTRAL SQUAD LOSES OUT 3-1 TO KING GEORGE

Clever Combiantion by King Edward Forwards Accounts for Win.

LEAD SCHOOL LEAGUE.

Favored to Meet King George Eleven in Final for Alex Kay Cup.

Excellent combination by the King Edward forwards of the soccer team outclassed the Queen Mary boys, in the return league game yesterday afternoon, when the cup holders won by three clear goals. They were far superior in shooting which brought out the brilliant qualities of Vic Smith, the Queen Mary goalie, who prevented a larger score being registered. The winners now lead the league and in all probability will meet the King George eleven in the final of the Alexander Kay Cup. The East City boys defeated Central 3 to 1 yesterday afternoon on Nicholls Oval.

From the kick-off the King Edward boys opened up a steady bombardment upon the Queen Mary goal, Smith, the custodian, being the star performer in every attack. He picked up the ball in many scrimmages, pounced upon it as the opposition tried to pick the inside of the upright. Three times the upright saved his charge from smart efforts of Heal and Post. Occasional raids by the West-end boys kept the backs on the move to save their citadel. Midfield play held sway with the half-backs checking and placing the ball to the eager forwards that failed to bring any scoring.

Play Clever Game.

On resuming the second moiety, the south-end team confined their methods to placing and perfect combination, in which the wing f Heal and Conner proved dangerous on every visit. From an opening by the former, Mowry beat Smith to close range. Two minutes later, he repeated the same performance from the centre of Post on the wing. At this stage the winners confined the play to the Queen Mary half and registered the third tally through Heal on an individual effort. Superior combination along with clever half-back tactics resulted in the score being King Edward 3, Queen Mary 0.

Queen Mary — Smith, goal; D. White and S. Nimon, backs; S. LeClair, A. Millard, and G. Whitehead, halves; J. Leith, D. Mortimer, G. Clark, M. Chesher, and R. Harding, forwards.

King Edward — G. Grose, goal; F. Vennet and J. Fife, backs; H. Deitor, J. Field, and J. Jobe, halves; J. Connor, R. Heal, D. Mowry, L. Grose, and V. Post, forwards.

Referee—T. Westwood. Linesmen—Messrs. Walker and Harrington.

CASUAL COMMENT

The first amateur all-boxing show of the season will be two weeks later, on November 6th, with the Foster Athletic Club staging a smoker with some eight bouts, both local boxers and out-of-towners performing.

• • • • • • •

Jerry Coughlin, who has been training the boys three weeks already, expects to have a swell card with some of the old H.N.S. and P.A.A.A. scrappers in there again. He has several lined up now that look to be in the pink, some of them that used to pack Victoria Hall a few years back. Their names and their opponents will be announced in a few days.

• • • • • • •

Doug Loomis has had a number of entries for the Y.M.C.A. relay races, both junior and senior. The junior age limit is eighteen, and All Saints, the P.C.I. and Shocky Mein's Athletics are all expected in this class. Fosters and the Saints will have senior teams, and a couple others are likely to come in also.

• • • • • • •

It would be nice to see four relay ttams in both classes, and any other club thinking of joining should get in touch with Doug Loomis, soon, so that final arrangements for the big runs could be completed. Each member of the winning teams will receive prizes.

• • • • • • •

There are two champion teams in the Provincial Women's Softball Association this year, Ottawa Gladstones winning the Eastern Ontario district and Toronto Barker's Bread leading the teams in the western part of the province. They met twice, each team winning once, but now lateness of the season and low finances combine to make long trips unfair to the finalists. So they'll let it go at that this year.

• • • • • • •

Next year, the Association will arrange schedules and play-off dates differently so as to have all titles settled much earlier, as this month is no weather for softball. Two sets of medals will be given the winning teams in the Interfnediate division.

• • • • • • •

Perhaps the local girls' softball league may join the P.W.S.A. next year for the sake of the Ontario playoffs. They were hardly ready during the past year so they operated as an independent loop. But with the class of softball displayed by the finalists here this summer, we think they could give a good account of themselves with any girls' team next year.

• • • • • • •

A number of bowling leagues are opening up these nights at the Duffus Bowling Alleys, and the place is beginning to take on a mid-winter appearance, both on the girls' alleys and the men's. In another month all the bowling alleys in the city will be going strong as the bowlers start their long winter schedules.

• • • • • • •

The hockey moguls aren't idle these days, either. Several of the more foresighted of the managers are lining up their teams already, although there'll be no ice for some time yet. Still, with a flock of players affixing their John Hancocks to the dotted lines, it won't be long before they're beginning their gymnasium exercises.

• • • • • • •

A big Lindsay athletic club is in the making in the town on the Scugog, one that will embrace running, boxing, basketball and hockey. That town has been rather quiet in sports for some time, but should stage a comeback this winter. They always turned out good hockey teams there.

BOWLING PRIZES PRESENTED AT CLUB BANQUET

ACTIVITIES REVIEWED.

Mrs. Graham's Rink is Winner of Mayor Denne Trophy—Plan Membership Increase.

The Ladies' Section of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club held their annual banquet at the Paragon Hall on October 15th at which prizes for the year were presented. A large gathering was present with Mrs. Darcy acting as Chairman of the Ladies' Committee. The Board of Directors of the club were represented by President J. D. Fitzpatrick, vice-president M. Bredin, treasurer J. T. Braund and secretary E. R. Disney.

Following the banquet, short addresses were made by Messrs. Fitzpatrick, Bredin, Braund and Disney, outlining the ladies' activities and congratulating them on the fine success they have had during the past year. The prize-winners were then presented with their trophies. The winning rink received, in addition to other tokens, the Mayor Denne Cup.

The first prize went to Mrs. Graham's rink composed of Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Zeihr and Mrs. Wemp. Second was Mrs. Greenslade's rink with Mrs. Sackville, Mrs. Ashbury and Miss M. Grant. The third prize-winner was Mrs. French's quartette of Mrs. Cheverill Mrs. Grant and Miss Murphy. Mrs. Hepburn's rink composed of Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Dyer and Mrs. Devey was fourth.

Three prizes were presented the leading three doubles' teams, with Mrs. Hendry and Mrs. Campbell taking first, Mrs. Yeotes and Mrs. Wemp finishing second, and Mrs. Seymour and Mrs. Kirkwood taking third place.

A strong note of optimism marked the festivities, the ladies feeling that 1932 would be a bigger and better year than ever. Last year they were very successful, having a fifty-per cent increase in membership and some fine bowling. At the conclusion of the presentations, the men guests withdrew while the ladies held their regular business meeting to conclude the lawn bowling season.

Seattle Withdraws From Coast League

Will Sell Players to Other Clubs—Red Stuart Seeks Manager's Berth.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 20.— For sale — All players of the Seattle Hockey Club of the Pacific Coast League.

Lloyd Turner, manager of the team, announced yesterday that all the Seattle Eskimos will be sold in wwholesale lots starting to-morrow. He said he was conferring with Hugh Caldwell, president, over prices and terms for the puck chasers.

Caldwell announced last Friday that unless Frank Patrick, Vancouver, would step out as president of the league, he would withdraw from the circuit.

Turner said Captain "Red" Stuart, and the veteran Jack Walker, forwards, will seek jobs as managers in minor Canadian circuits. The other players are to be sold with Gordon Savidge and Johnny Houbregs, defence stars, and Davie Kemp, gaolie, likely to go to the big leagues.

1ST (ST. JOHN'S) TROOP

At 7.15 Friday night, the 1st Peterborough Troop came to order and the meeting started with Flag Break, after which followed inspection. The troop was then dismissed to their respective corners for patrol instruction.

At 8.00 the troop was called and proceeded downstairs to partake in a weiner roast. Due to the inclement weather the roast had to be held indoors. The Wolf Cubs of the 1st St. John's Troops were invited to partake and after a joyous hour of fun and games, the Scouts were called to order and dismissed. The troop wishes to express its thanks to Mrs. Ford for her work in making the weiner roast a success.

At next week's meeting the Troop is asked to be present and in uniform, also to bring along their slips with the names on for the distribution of the magazines relating to the church.

1ST (ST. JOHN'S) WOLF CUB PACK

The first meeting of the 1st Peterborough (St. John's) Wolf Cub Pack was held on Friday night, October 16. A number of games were played and all the boys learned the Cub Law and Cub Promise. Philip Turner demonstrated the Cub Howl and also showed the boys the Cub Salute.

Later in the evening the Boy Scouts invited the Cubs to a weiner roast held in the St. John's Parish Hall. The boys all enjoyed themselves and promised a full turnout next week.

Any boy in the city between the ages of 8 and 11 inclusive, who would like to join the Wolf Cubs are invited to attend the meeting next Friday night, October 23, at 6.30. Bruce Shane is acting as Cubmaster and Harold Dawson is the Assistant Cubmaster.

PECK CUP DRAW IN LOCAL SOCCER

Gordon Cup Final on Saturday Between C.G.E. and C.P.C

The only business of importance transacted at the meeting of the P. and D.F.A. last night, was the draw for the Peck cup, which follows: Canadian General versus Caledonians on Oct. 31st; Canadian Packing versus Brinton Athletic on November 7th. J. C. Russell will be the referee on the 31st and A. McKinley on Nov. 7th.

To rectify a technicality the following motion was passed: "That the Brinton Athletic grounds be recognized as a city ground under the jurisdiction of the local board."

Canadian Packing meets Canadian General in G. N. Gordon final on King Edward Park. Kick-off at 2.30 prompt. Referee T. Bartley. Linesmen, W. Harrington and D. McGregor.

A unanimous decision was passed: "That the outstanding league games be awarded to the opposing teams so as to complete the schedule, owing to the Deloro encounters not being fulfilled."

Former Texas Ranger Committed For Trial

QUESNEL, B.C., Oct. 20. (CP) Wade Starleigh, former Texas ranger, was committed for trial following preliminary hearing in police court here Monday on a charge of murdering Jack Frey.

The killing took place on a bar on the Fraser River above Quesnel several days ago where the two were placer mining. Starleigh stated he had shot Frey after the latter had threatened his life and picked up a gun. After the shooting Starleigh walked into town and related the incident.

It is expected Starleigh will be tried at the May assizes at Prince George.

MOSLEY FACES SUMMONS.

BIRMINGHAM, England, October 20 (C.P.). — A summons charging assault has been issued against Sir Oswald Mosley, head of the new party, as an outgrowth of a disturbance at a campaign meeting on Sunday night, during which some of Sir Oswald's men, including Kid Lewis, the prize fighter, battled a crowd which tried to break up the meeting.

American Loop May Adopt National Ball

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 20. (CP)— When the 1931 major league season rolls around the American league may be using the style of baseball adopted by the National league last season.

President William Harridge is collecting opinions and comment and at the annual meeting of the league next month, may recommend a change to the sphere with the embossed seams and thicker hide. The junior circuit last year changed from the old rabbit ball to one with raised seams, but with the same cover.

The National league club owners, for the most part, were well satisfied with the new ball and the subsequent increase in pitching strength and decrease in number of cheap home runs.

Plant In Stratford Damaged By Fire

STRATFORD, Ont., Oct. 20.—Fire of an undetermined origin early this morning caused considerable damage to supplies of the Citrus Products, Ltd. ,and threatened the old General Electric building on Downie street. Early discovery of the blaze by the manager, C. W. Stillman, was the chief factor in the blaze not reaching dangerous proportions.

The Fire Department was called and one water line was laid. Considerable loss was caused by the water damaging goods of the company.

The estimated loss has not yet been figured.

Canadiens Start On Training Grind

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 20. (CP) Starting off on the long campaign which may lead to their third successive world's championship, Montreal Canadiens have gathered for conditioning practice.

Yesterday a band of a dozen of the players reported at the Nationale gym for light calisthenics preparatory to getting on the ice in about 10 days.

At the same time members of the Maroon hockey club assembled at the Forum to hear a talk by Major Long, prominent physical culture expert, who will look after the pre-season training.

Manager Cecil Hart reports that the champions all weighed in yesterday at higher figures than they did at the same time last year.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

THE CHALLENGE IS ACCEPTED.

When rings a challenge full and clear
The coward turns and runs in fear.
—Bugler the Elk.

It seemed to Farmer Brown's Boy that never in his life had he seen such a splendid sight as Bugler the Elk standing in a little opening on a high shoulder of the mountain bugling a challenge to all the Great World. He was magnificent. He was in splendid condition and knew it. He was proud of his strength, proud of the great fighting weapons, his antlers, eager to prove his might and courage. It showed in the way he stood and it rang in his bugled challenge. Now and then he pawed the ground with an impatient hoof. He wanted all the Great World to know that he was lord of the mountain, or felt that he was.

Farmer Brown's Boy was inclined to agree with him, but there was at least one other who was not, for suddenly there sounded from a ridge not far away another bugle call, and this one was equally clear, deep and challenging. The heart of Farmer Brown's Boy almost missed a beat. Such an answer could come only from another Elk quite as big and proud and strong as Bugler and quite as ready to prove it. Again Bugler challenged, and again came the reply, this time louder. It was plain that Bugler's challenge had been accepted and that the other bull Elk was coming.

Bugler pawed the ground in growing rage and excitement, and his eyes fairly blazed. He challenged again, and it began with almost a roar. It ended, however, in the clear, deep-ringing notes of confidence and fearlessness and eagerness. Anyone hearing it could not fail to know instantly that the owner of that voice was eager to fight, afraid of no one and confident of his strength. There was a threat in those notes that even Farmer Brown's Boy, who until this morning never had heard the bugle call of an Elk, was aware of.

"If I were another Elk and heard that challenge I would want to be pretty sure of myself before I answered it," thought he.

Evidently the unseen stranger was sure of himself, for he was drawing nearer and his replies to the bugled challenge were just as eager, just as confident, just as threatening. There was increasing anger now in both challenge and reply. It was if Bugler was saying:

"This is my mountain and I dare anyone to deny it!"

Anyway, this is the way it sounded to Farmer Brown's Boy, and the reply sounded like:

"I deny it. It is my mountain as I will soon show you. You'd better go while the going is good, for my strength is great and my antlers are sharp and what I want I take. You are a boaster, but your boasting does not scare me. You may be big, but I am bigger. You may be strong, but I am stronger. If a fight is what you want a fight you shall have, for I fear no one and nothing."

A slight movement among the trees on one side of the opening caught the attention of Farmer Brown's Boy, and presently he made out in the shadows the form of another great animal, an Elk, but without antlers. He knew at once that this must be Mrs. Bugler. She was watching her lord and master admiringly, but whenever there was a reply to that defiant challenge she turned her head that way and listened with apparent interest.

Farmer Brown's Boy knew now that Bugler's willingness to fight was more than the desire to use his strength for the mere love of fighting. He was ready to fight for his own. There was jealousy, jealous anger to spur him on. He was working himself into a rage by this time. He pawed the ground. He shook his head and rattled his great antlers against the tree stub on which he had polished them. He walked over to the edge of the woods and threshed the bushes with them.

And in the midst of this another great bull Elk stepped out into the opening, from the far side. He had come to accept the challenge.

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 20th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., from 5 p.m to 7 p.m., and from 9:45 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger hours are from 7:45 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., and from 2:10 p.m. to 4:56 p.m.

The Signs of October 20th denote an unlucky day for business operations, and are especially unpropitious for anything that concerns officials and officialdom. An exciting time is promised for young people.

Attachments and engagements will be broken off to be replaced almost immediately by new ones. Married folks will be wise to reject the "butting-in" efforts of relatives and friends.

Children born on this October 20th will be serious, inteilectual, quick-witted and diligent. They will not be much on sports. Their preference will be for reading. They will achieve considerable critical ability. Their friends will be many. They will be sincere, clean-minded and absolutely loyal to kith and kin.

You, if born on October 20th, are quiet and reserved, and resent the interference of any outsider with your affairs. You do not ask advice, but are content to paddle your own canoe and abide by the consequences. You are never an alibi creator. You are rather resentful of those in power about you, as it is your belief that you should exercise this power yourself. This attitude serves as your incentive and feeds your ambition. You are not partial to giving advice, and rarely do so. You think that all men and women should be capable of managing their own affairs, without the intervention of others.

Your nature is a very affectionate one, and you love to be loved. Herein lies your weakness, as a too-ready-yielding to the call of affection may divert your thoughts from the object in life you pursue. Defeat in any of your plans is not accepted gracefully and leads to lack of self-confidence. It takes you a long time to recover lost ground. You are not resilient.

You, although stoutly denying it to others, are a believer in the mysterious and are superstitious. This, however, does not affect your "onward march, although it very frequently influences your actions.

FALSE TEETH ARE A GREAT INVENTION BUT KEEP YOUR OWN AS LONG AS YOU CAN

No one can afford to pay this price of NEGLECT

False teeth often follow pyorrhea, which comes to four people out of five past the age of 40

An insidious disease of the gums, pyorrhea, comes to four people out of five past the age of forty. Hence, it's 4 to 1 you'll lose if you gamble with this infection.

Start, in time, the use of Forhan's

Watch out for those first danger warnings of pyorrhea, tender or bleeding gums. At their first intimations see your dentist at once, and start the daily use of Forhan's. And, even if pyorrhea has not claimed you for a victim, it is a wise precaution to use Forhan's regularly.

Make no mistake in your choice of a dentifrice

Your teeth deserve the protection which only a dentifrice as fine as Forhan's can give. Forhan's cleans with amazing efficiency, yet it contains no harmful abrasives to damage the enamel. It restores the natural beauty and whiteness of your teeth as well as protecting your health by keeping dangerous infections from your mouth. It keeps the tissues in vigorous condition, reduces, or prevents, inflammation—tones up the health of your entire mouth. Also it causes loose teeth to tighten by its astringent action on spongy tissue.

Start using Forhan's today, morning and night. It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S., who for 26 years specialized in the treatment of pyorrhea. It contains Forhan's Astringent, an ethical preparation widely used by dentists in the treatment of this dread disease. Forhan's Limited, Montreal.

MINISTERS HOLD SPECIAL SESSION AT CONVENTION

Rev. George N. Simmons is Elected to the Presidential Chair.

GROUP INSURANCE

According to long-established custom the morning and afternoon sessions of the first day of the 43rd Annual Meeting of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec and which is now in session at Murray Street Church, were devoted to the minister's conference.

The Rev. George N. Simmons was elected to the presidential chair, while the retiring president, Rev. J. D. McLachlan delivered a stirring address. Other ministers also spoke, and provided messages of great inspirational value.

The devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. T. E. Meldrum in which attention was called to the present need for prayer. Special and definite prayers were offered for the problems facing the age; international, economical, social, missionary and church.

The business of the morning session was presided over by the president, Rev. J. D. McLachlan.

The secretary-treasurer, Rev. A. W. Small read the minutes of the last meeting, gave his report.

Upon motion, the secretary was instructed to send a message of loving greetings to Rev. E. T. Newton, B.A., whose absence was greatly regretted on account of illness.

Nominating Committee

The nominating committee appointed consisted of the Rev. Gordon M. Holmes, E. J. Whan, H. E. Allen, J. Marshall, G. W. Booker.

The auditors named were Revs. George N. Simmons and T. E. Meldrum.

The President's Address

"A Modern Movement in the Religious World," was presented by Mr. McLachlan in his presidential address.

The Barthian Theological Movement in Germany in which Protestanism is said to have had its rebirth, is a deeply spiritual movement, he said. Carl Barth emphasises the Transcendance of God. God is unknowable except by His own self-revelation. Reverence is the proper attitude of man to God. Man is separated from God by sin —the revolt of man against God. Humanity is broken and irreparable by himself. God has revealed Himself to man through the Scriptures, and especially through Jesus Christ.

Afternoon Session

The Rev. W. H. Long opened the afternoon session with a helpful period of devotions. "Family Worship" was the subject presented by the Rev. A. W. Small—a subject that grew out of the Rev. E. T. Newton's experience in the matter of family worship, and was a presentation of Mr. Newton's suggestions.

It was an intensely interesting discussion, and the speaker offered numerous suggestions for the promotion of worship in the home.

A motion was unanimously adopted to refer the matter to the executive committee of the conference with a view to promting family worship in the homes of the people.

Group insurance was presented by the secretary and discussed. There is a possibility of co-operation along this line between the Home Mission Board, the Superannuation Board and the Minister's Conference. Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe and Rev. J. D. McLachlan were appointed to co-operate with representatives of the two boards to work out a scheme of group insurance. Dr. C. H. Schutt gave valuable information regarding the plan at present being worked out by the Home Mission Board. Rev. O. C. Elliott at some length made an earnest appeal for a consideration of the retiring pension plan.

The nominating committee reported as follows:—

Honorary President, Rev. J. D. McLachlan; President, Rev. George N. Simmons; Vice-President, Rev. G. W. Brooks.

The treasurer's report showing a balance of $66.00 on hand together with the auditors' report was presented.

"A Minister's Reading" was the subject of a challenging paper presented by the Rev. S. Ivison.

"Recent Revival Experiences" were also cited by the Rev. McLachlan from the revival at St. Catharines. As a result of dissatisfaction with the spiritual conditions which prevailed in a church a longing for revival began to possess the people. The Rev. Mr. Stephens was invited to conduct special services with the church. A month of intensive preparation was followed by a few weeks under Mr. Stephen's ministry. From the first there was evidence of the Lord's presence. Christians consecrated themselves to God and began doing personal work. The meetings were calm, yet there were dramatic scenes. Fifty-five candidates were baptised during the two months following the services. The effect of these meetings, which were held last Easter-tide are felt to the present in all departments.

Dr. A. L. McCrimmon spoke to the ministers on "The Pastor and the Present Age." The minister, his environment, and his responsibility, were the three divisions of Dr. McCrimmon's splendid address.

"The minister must have a conception of God as a personal and approachable being," he stated. "The redemptive work of God is essential to hold. The Kingdom of God is composed of regenerated men and women."

"Amid present surroundings the pastor must live his life and exercise his service, and must relate himself to people in all walks of life. Let the pastor examine carefully his theory of psychology and science in his work. The immediate Baptist pastor's responsibilities are clear. He holds firmly his views on regeneration, individual freedom and responsibility. He is responsible to his brother ministers. He should lead his people to think sympathetically and give largely to all denominational work. The pastor's opportunities and responsibilities are indeed great," he concluded.

Murderer Of Three Pays For His Crime

CHESTER, Ill., Oct. 20.— Murley James Johnson, 25, who said "I thank you," when Circuit Judge George W. Bristow of Mattoon sentenced him to death for the murder of Mrs. Carrie Bowers, with whom he lived, and her two small sons, was executed in the electric chair of Southern Illinois penitentiary early to-day.

Johnson showed no emotion. "So long boys," he said, as he was brought into the death chamber. "So long, boys," he repeated just before the current was turned on.

Johnson said he killed Mrs. Bowers and her two children "because she begged me to."

(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

The following morning Lukedi came to the hut with another gourd of milk. He pointed to the low doorway of the hut. "Look," he said "from here you can see them placing the stake to which you are to be bound, and the boys are in the forest gathering fagots." "Go to your chief," said Tarzan, "and tell him I am not from the Lost Tribe. He must treat me as a friend."

As the youth reached the doorway of the hut, there suddenly arose a great commotion in the village. Tarzan heard men issuing orders. He heard children crying and the pounding of many naked feet upon the hard ground. Then the war drums boomed and he heard the clashing of weapons and loud shouting. The guards who were at the doorway sprang to their feet.

Within the hut, Lukedi shrank back with a cry of terror. "They come! They come!" he cried. Tarzan saw the guards disappear and run off to join the other warriors. Lukedi, trembling all over, ran to the far side of the hut where he crouched in gibbering fear. "Who come?" Tarzan asked. "The warriors of the Lost Tribe!" Lukedi shrieked.

Tarzan looked out of the hut upon a milling mass of brown bodies, waving spears, and terrified women and children. He saw the Bagegos fleeing in all direction. Strange figures passed before his eyes in pursuit. For a time there was silence, only a hurrying of feet, an occasional command, and wild scream of terror.

FIGHT PEPS UP OVER ENGLAND

Premier Includes Question of Trade Agreements With Dominions in Platform.

LLOYD GEORGE PLANS TRIP

LONDON, Oct. 20 (C.P. Cable).—Speakers on a thousand platform redoubled their efforts to-day. The swiftest, yet most complicated of British general election campaigns ends with the electors going to the polls just a week hence.

And as turbulence reigns from the South of England to the Clyde, an outstanding impression is the bitter opposition Labor voters are showing to the National-Laborites, those ministers or candidates who have forsaken the Labor party to aid the National Government.

Even against Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer who is retiring from the House of Commons, a barrage of strongly-worded attacks have been directed following his radio address in which he castigated the Labor party. Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Conservative and Minister of Health, does not agree with Mr. Snowdens' interpretation of the National Government's attitude on tariffs. Sir Stafford Cripps, former Solicitor-General, who is campaigning with Labor, described Mr. Snowden's speech as a tissue of falsehoods. Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Labor Leader, says the Government is "stooping to the lowest depths."

New Angle

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has returned to the fray in his own riding of Seaham, and the Prime Minister has, for probably the first time, included the question of trade agreements with the Dominions as a necessary part of attempts to redress Britain's adverse balance of trade.

Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, veteran Liberal Leader, convinced the election will result in a party victory for the Tories, is leaving the scene shortly, taking a trip to the Mediterranean to restore his health. Mr. Lloyd George revealed yesterday that although he had expressed willingness to join Mr. MacDonald and Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative Leader, in a joint effort to restore stability without an election, the election was called by the Prime Minister the evening after he had talked with Mr. Lloyd George.

Up in Glasgow, Sir Oswald Mosley, wealthy Socialist who heads his own "New Party," succeeded last night in getting something like an orderly hearing, after unfruitful attempts earlier. True, the police locked more people outside than were admitted to hear him, but Sir Oswald had little difficulty stating his case for transforming Parliament from a "Paradise for windbags" into a workshop. He had the familiar experience of a police escort to his hotel afterwards.

Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born newspaper magnate, who is aiding the Conservatives, had a fine hearing at a monster meeting in London.

STONE CRASHES DOWN ON ROOF OF AUTOMOBILE

Believed Attempt Was Made To Knock Out Wilfred Curtin

Wilfred Curtain, of Maniece street, believes that some one tried to knock him out as he drove across the canal bridge Sunday evening. Curtin was driving a party of four ladies over the bridge when a large stone crashed down on the top of the car. Having crossed the bridge, he examined the stone and found it to be bound up with grass and paper. The stone appeared to have been thrown from the girders of the bridge.

THRONGS PASS EDISON'S BIER

Public Demand for National Tribute to Inventor's Memory Sweeps Country.

LIGHTS OUT MINUTE.

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 20—The body of Thomas Alva Edison lay in state to-day, while thousands—the great and the unknown—paid homage and tribute.

He rested in the library of his laboratory, in the little room where, with test tube or pencil, so many of his wizardries of Science took shape.

More than 10,000 persons—school children, Edison plant employees, relatives and the curious—had waited in a long queue throughout the mellow day yesterday to file into the little room.

The inventor will be buried in West Orange tomorrow. Final arrangements have not been announced, but it is thought that the Rev. Arthur H. Brown, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Orange, would officiate. Final services will be at the grave in Rosedale Cemetery, here. The funeral service hour is 2.30 p.m.

President Hoover was still undecided to-day on his plan to attend the funeral. It was indicated by the White House secretariat that Mr. Hoover would reach a decision by to-night.

Meanwhile a public demand for a national tribute to Mr. Edison's memory has swept the country.

Acting Governor Wolber of New Jersey proclaimed that all electric lights in the State—in homes, streets or factories—be extinguished at 7 p.m. for one minute tomorrow as a reminder of what life would have been without Mr. Edison's invention of the incandescent bulb.

Several railroads and industrial concerns have announced they will suspend operations for one minute in honor of the inventor.

In New York and in many other cities, flags were ordered at half mast.

GEN. SIR R. HART TAKEN BY DEATH

Was Oldest Holder of Victoria Cross Awarded in Afghan War 1879.

HELD HIGH ORDERS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 20 (C.P.)—A special cable from London to The New York Times to-day announces the death in Bouremouth yesterday of General Sir Reginald Hart, aged 83.

Sir Reginald was the oldest holder of the Victoria Cross, which was awarded him in the Afghan War of 1879, when he ran 1,200 yards under heavy fire to rescue a wounded private soldier.

Born at Scarif, in County Clare, Ireland, on June 11, 1848, Sir Reginald received his education at Marlborough and Cheltenham Colleges and at the Royal Military Academy at Woolwich. He passed the staff college requirements and was commissioned a Lieutenant in the Royal Engineer in 1869. In 1872 he married Miss Charlotte Augusta Synott, a daughter of Mark Seton Synott of County Armagh and they had three sons and a daughter.

In 1886 Sir Reginald was made a Colonel and thereafter rose steadily to the highest ranking positions in the army. He was promoted to a Major General's rank in 1902; he was made a Lieutenant General in 1908, and became a General at the outbreak of the European War in 1914.

Sir Reginald was a Knight Commander of the Bath, and a Knight Commander of the Victorian Order.

FRANCE PLANS NO SACRIFICES

Ready to Cut Armaments in Exchange for Agreement for Help in Case of War.

WANTS REPARATIONS.

PARIS, Oct. 20—The correspondent of the Havas Agency on the liner Ile de France said, in a radio message received this morning, that Premier Laval is determined to sacrifice nothing to national security in discussions of disarmament, but that the position of France is unchanged and that the policy adopted is that she is ready to reduce armaments further in exchange for agreements for mutual assistance in case of a war of aggression.

France, the message said, sees no link between national security and debts and reparations and the Premier will support any proposal which safeguards, at least partially, what France considers her right to reparations payments. It was pointed out, however, that these might be paid in kind, thus helping to reduce unemployment in Germany and France by making possible the extensive public construction programs recently approved by the French Government.

"By these means," it said, "short term credits now frozen in Germany could be repatriated more easily. France and the United States, it concluded, will study for the defense of the gold standard "which is indispensable for a sane monetary system."

MILL INDUSTRY HUMMING AGAIN

Sudden Pick-up is Attributed to Suspension of Gold Standard.

DROP IN POUND HELPS.

MANCHESTER, Eng., Oct. 20 (A.P.)—Increased activity is reported in many Lancashire and Yorkshire cotton mills as a result of an influx of orders since the gold standard was suspended.

Mills in which the spindles had long been silent are now humming with activity executing rush orders, while the nearby Yorkshire district cotton doubling mills are working overtime.

One large mill at Rochdale has started a night shift to fill its orders and at Haslingden another cotton mill will operate on a 55-hour week instead of the usual 48 hours.

Trade union officials have objected to the overtime work, but the workers are said generally to be glad to earn the extra money.

The sudden business pickup is attributed to suspension of the gold standard, inasmuch as the drop in the value of the pound sterling against other world currencies amounts virtually to a reduction in the price of manufactured goods, making Great Britain a good country in which to buy.

PUPILS PRESENT VOCAL CONCERT

Delightful Program Given by Mrs. Grete Schoeni and Miss Dorothy Sager.

IN CONSERVATORY HALL.

(By Jeanette)

Two pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Allan Park gave a very interesting recital of songs last night, in the hall of the Conservatory of Music. They were Mrs. Grete Schoeni of Toronto and Miss Dorothy Sager of Tweed.

Against an attractive setting of dark hangings garnished with autumn leaves and palms, ferns and lighted floor lamps, the two charmingly-gowned singers gave a fine program of songs, assisted by Mrs. Agnes Logan Green at the piano, as accompanist and also in a trio of instrumental selections.

Both soloists possess exceptionally attractive soprano voices. Mrs. Schoeni's delicate bird-like tones were especially effective in the love songs which featured her program while the promise of Miss Sager's pure, clear soprano, with its soaring dramatic timbre, is as strong as ever in this youthful singer whose vocal career is looked forward to by her friends.

Mrs. Green, all too seldom heard in solo piano work, played with that graceful, spiritual quality which has always distinguished her art. Her selections included the soft, rippling music of a Brahms-Grainger "Lullaby" and one of Chopin's Ballades, also Debussy's La Soiree daus Grenade."

Beautiful Numbers

Outstanding in Miss Sager's songs were the dramatic music of "Gretchen at the Spinning Wheel" (Schubert); the graceful Italian vocalization of Handel's "Care Selve", and the superb, vibrant low tones of Mendelssohn's "Hear Ye Israel" from the oratorio, "Elijah."

Mrs. Schoenic sang with extraordinary beauty the German setting of Dvorak's lovely composition 'Songs My Mother Taught Me" and with dainty vigor Mallenson's "Sing! Break into Song!" Another interesting number that rang the changes on one word was Mozart's "Allelula!" and two dainty songs were "Snowflakes!" and "Elf and Fairy".

Other numbers by Miss Sager were "Caro mio ben" (Giordani); Handel's "Wey ro More"; Tschaikowski's "None but the Weary Heart"; Dvorak's "Turn Thee to Me"; Gutav Holn's beautiful prayer song "The Heart Worship"; Ernest MacMillan's "A Sonet"; Goring Thomas "Wind in the Trees", and Mallinson's "The Message and the Song."

Mrs. Schoeni's program included "A Pastoral"; Cowen's "A Birthday,"; Arensky's gay song of the little fish "Fischlein's Lied"; Schubert's Du bist die Ruh" also sung in German, Cesar Franck's "Les Mariage des Roses" and the brilliant waltz song from the opera, "Tom Jones."

Both singers received pretty flowers.

Juveniles Appear In Police Court

Charged with doing wilful damage to the Brock street rink, six young boys appeared in Juvenile Court before Magistrate Langley this morning. Chief Newhall states that the boys damaged the roof of the rink, broke windows and threw stones through the windows, breaking several lights. The boys pleaded guilty, but will not be sentenced for a week.

Harry Salmons, aged 74, recently married Mrs. Eliza Kelsall, 84, at Denaby, England.

TWO MORE FIRES ADD TO TERROR IN WENTWORTH

TENTH IN FEW DAYS.

Farmer Fires Two Shots at Man Running From Barn —One Arrest.

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 21. (CP) For the tenth time within a few days, the fire fiend dealt terror in Wentworth County. Early this morning, while crowds were leaving the scene of the blaze which levelled the barn of Thomas Surerus, Greensville, another torch was kindled at Westover where buildings owned by John Berta were devoured by flames.

Berta's property is located five or six miles from the scene of the blaze earlier in the evening. Alarmed by the menacing series of barn fires in his area, Berta and his wife had remained up to watch their property and had armed themselves with shotguns. Shortly after eight o'clock the terrific glare from Surerus' barn was to be seen in the sky and added to the anxiety of the watchers. The farmer and his wife remained up till 12.30 and then retired to bed, tired with their vigil.

Shoots at Skulker

About one o'clock, they were awakened by a crackling sound and rushed out to find their barn in flames. Berta carried his shotgun with him, and saw a man running from the doomed building. He fired instantly and saw the fugitive falter as he dived for a fence. Berta fired again and missed, and the fugitive vanished over the fence into the darkness. He rushed across a field and sounds indicated he fell against a wire fence. Berta then turned to save his animals and implements. The flames had gained too great headway, however, and in a short time the barn, the season's crops, implements, and 300 chickens and ducks were destroyed.

The wind was blowing towards the house, and the roof caught fire, Berta and his son, Joe, climbed up, carrying buckets of water and succeeded in extinguishing the flames. In the excitement the lad slipped and fell from the roof, breaking his wrist.

Constable J. E. McDonogh of Beverly township arrived on the scene and a search was made for the fugitive, but no trade could be found.

Woe to Prowlers

This morning, the officer stated that farmers in Beverly district had reached such a pitch of nervousness that the lives of any night prowlers would not be safe. The terrified land owners were at a point where they would take the law into their own hands if they found any suspicious person loitering around their buildings.

Provincial police have been summoned to inquire into this latest outrage. They are already holding Jim McConnell, hired man employed by Johnston Tew, whose barn was destroyed two nights ago. McConnell is being questions as to the Surerus fire, which he discovered also.

Final Rodeo Show To Be Seen To-Night

Brock Street Rink—Canadian Cowboys Will Give Fare-Well Program.

The fifteen Canadian cowboys comprising Welsh Bros. Rodeo will give their final performance at Brock Street Rink to-night. These boys are a fine type of Westerner and are giving the public the finest Rodeo show that has ever been presented in the city, and to-night the program will be complete in every respect. Those in the city who have not attended should do so to-night. The boys are leaving tomorrow for a week's engagement at Ottawa and would like to see a good house. Admission is only 25c; children, 15c.

Old Dobbin Entered In Charity 'Stakes

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 21—(CP)—Old Dobbin, who has been hauling those heavy wagons around the stockyards all these years, gets his chance to win some cheers on a real race track tomorrow.

As a feature of the Hawthorne charity card, a stockyards derby has been arranged with the field limited only to the "hosses" that work in the stockyards. There will be no mutuels but many wagers were in sight on the side for the three-eights of a mile dash.

More than 15,000 spectators are expected to attend the charity day program, the proceeds of which will be turned over to the state unemployment fund.

15 AIRPLANES ARE EXPECTED FOR AIR PAGEANT

Marshal Foss Manager of Trans-Canada Air Pageant Visits City.

ONE STUNT FLIER.

Pageant Will Last Two Days With Show Starting Each Day at 2 P.M.

At least fifteen planes will be here Saturday afternoon for the big two-day air pageant, according to Marshall Foss, manager of the Trans-Canada Air Pageant, who arrived in Peterborough yesterday. Puss-Moths, Gypsy-Moths, Tiger-Moths, Fleets, Aeroncas and Curtis-Reid Ramblers will be some of the types seen, and two or more Government planes will be present.

Mr. Foss and Frank Stinson, of the Chamber of Commerce, are in Toronto to-day making final arrangemets for the many prominent visitors who will be flying here, among whom will be Bill Drury, the St. Catharines aviator who finished second to Norbert Millar in the 1931 Tip Top Aerial Derby at the C.N.E.

A number of the unemployed of the city have been put to work this week getting the flying field in shape, and making preparations for parking the hundreds of cars that will be there Saturday and Sunday afternoons. In order to facilitate matters in handling the expected crowds from throughout the district, an advance ticket sale by the

DISTINCT NOTE OF PESSIMISM FOUND IN GENEVA

Reports of Parleys at Washington Rouse Fears States Playing Lone Hand.

MOSCOW WATCHING.

Japan Refuses to Move Troops Till China Assures Citizens Protection.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—There was a distinct note of pessimism this evening among persons in a position to know the trend of debate regarding Manchuria in the League of Nations Council, and the belief was widespread that the United States, represented by Prentiss B. Gilbert, was not backing up the League's program of pacification.

Reports of conversations at Washington between Secretary of State Stimson and Katsuji Debuchi, the Japanese Ambassador appeared to have aroused fears that the United States was playing a lone hand and short-circuiting the Councils efforts to induce withdrawal of Japanese troops from Manchuria.

Japan Remains Firm.

At the same time Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japan's representative on the Council, remained adamant in his refusal to promise recall of Japanese troops without certain guarantees which it is believed China is unwilling to undertake.

Lord Reading of Great Britain said there probably would be an open meeting of the full Council to-morrow.

It was during to-day's session that the Japanese distributed to the press an other long memorandum setting forth their position.

"Something will have to be done," the memorandum concluded, "to re-establish an atmosphere of relative security in order that living conditions in Manchuria may get back to normal.

"Japan considers it essential that China give assurance that she wishes to put an end to illegal, hostile acts by the military and civil authorities towards the Japanese population, and that China guarantee that Japanese in Manchuria may continue occupation of their businesses without molestation."

Athletic Ambitions Of Prison Inmate Not To Be Realized, According To Bench

KERROBERT, Sask., Oct. 21. —(CP)— Sporting dreams of William Killick, 29, bandit, are shattered today by one concise utterance of a judge, Mr. Justice H. Y. Macdonald.

Up in court yesterday for sentence on two charges of armed robbery, Killick, already sentenced to 11 years and five lashes, announced that he hoped some day to break the world's high-jump record. He asked that he be given a chance to practice at the prison.

"You will be too old when you come out of prison to break any sort of world's record," said his lordship, in refusing the request.

Killick drew one year on each count, the terms to run concurrently with previous sentences for holdups and attempted murder.

WOMAN HUNTED IN DUAL MURDER ELUDES POLICE

Officials in Quandry as to Motive Believe it Case of Deranged Mind.

SUICIDE IS EXPECTED.

Husband and Brother Held as Witnesses Released After Questioning.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 21.—Winnie Ruth Judd, 26, slender blonde wife of a physician and daughter of a minister, remained at large to-day despite the efforts of thousands of officers seeking her as the perpetrator of the Phoenix trunk murders.

The motive behind the slayings still was almost as much of a mystery as it was Monday night, when the bodies of the victims, Mrs. Agnes Leroi, 32, and Miss Hedvig Samuelson, 24, were taken from trunks which Mrs. Judd had shipped here from Phoenix.

"It must be a case of deranged mind—that's as much as we can say at present," said Detective Inspector D. A. Davidson, in charge of the homicide squad.

Search to-day was being concentrated in the vicinity of Laguna Beach, artists' colony, 60 miles south of here, following a report given by a motorist that a woman hitchhiker corresponding to Mrs. Judd's description had been given a ride to that point.

"We hardly expect to find Mrs. Judd alive," declared Inspector Davidson. It is my opinion she will be found a suicide.

Husband Questioned

Officers again subjected her husband, Dr. W. C. Judd, and her brother, Burton J. McKinnell, to a thorough questioning. Both men had been held as material witnesses but were released from custody last night.

In the meantime word was awaited by the coroner for the disposition of the bodies of the victims.

The bodies were found in two trunks and a suitcase at the Southern Pacific Railroad station. The body of Miss Samuelson had been dismembered portions of it being found in one of the trunks and in the suitcase.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 21.—A jury which insists on office hours of from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., with two hours for lunch and no night work, to-day began its sixth day of deliberation in attempting to determine the guilt or innocence of W. B. Foshay and six aides on trial on mail fraud charges.

No word has come from the panel since Friday, when the case was assigned it for decision after seven weeks of testimony.

RED IS FIRED CREWS STRIKE

Ship Owners at Sydney Threaten to Replace Seamen on Three Vessels.

TROUBLE LOOMS.

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 21.—(C. P. Cable.)—A bitter dispute is expected when ship owners of Sydney carry out their threat to place volunteer seamen on board three Inter-state ships which have been tied up here. The trouble follows the replacement of a member of one of the crews, who was a member of the Communist party.

Col. Campbell, leader of the "guard" movement, declares thousands of his followers are prepared to give protection to the volunteer workers. If necessary the "guards" will man the ships themselves, he says.

In the House of Representatives at Canberra to-day Prime Minister James Scullin urged the striking seamen to return to their ships. He produced evidence that Communists were the cause of the trouble.

MRS. E. C. DRURY DIES IN BARRIE

Death Comes Unexpectedly to Wife of Former Premier of Ontario.

IN 51ST YEAR.

BARRIE, Ont., Oct. 21 (C.P.).—Mrs. Ella Albena Drury, wife of Hon. E. C. Drury, former Premier of Ontario, died suddenly in hospital here yesterday. She was in her 51st year.

Not thought to have been seriously ill, Mrs. Drury had entered the hospital for treatment, where death came unexpectedly. Besides Hon. E. C. Drury, she is survived by three sons and two daughters.

The daughter of the late James and Mrs. Partridge, of Oro Township, Mrs. Drury was born on June 13, 1881, in the Crown Hill district, where she had been a life-long resident.

The funeral service will be held on Friday from her late residence in Crown Hill. There will also be a service in the United Church. Burial will be at Crown Hill Cemetery.

Twenty-five Thousand Pass Bronze Casket in Edison's Laboratory.

SIMPLE FUNERAL TO-DAY.

List of Mourners Numbers Over 400 for Private Services at Glenmont.

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 21.—This is the fifty-second anniversary of the incandescent light—and the funeral day of the man who invented it.

With the first wisps of to-day's dawn, the body of Thomas Edison was moved from the vine-wreathed laboratory where in life so many masterpieces of his genius were created.

The bronze casket was taken, under escort, to Glenmont, the Edison home, for private funeral services at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon. Only the closest friends were invited to join the family, yet the list of mourners numbered more than four hundred.

The burial at Rosedale Cemetery was, like the service at the home, arranged to avoid ostentation or pomp.

President Hoover, pressed with affairs of state and with preparations for the arrival at Washington tomorrow of Premier Laval of France, was unable to attend the funeral of his friend. Mrs. Hoover, however, travelled from the Capital for the services.

ARCTIC WINTER FACING CREW

VILLAGE 30 MILES OFF.

NOME, Alaska., Oct. 21. (CP)—Seventeen men, the captain and the crew of the ice-locked ship Baychimo face a long and hazardous winter far north of the Arctic circle while the Baychimo's passengers, "rescued" by airplanes are far away to the south.

In a hastily built winter house on the beach the men will spend the eight or nine months until the sun again melts the ice in the far north. No village lies within 30 miles.

The plight of the little band, commanded by Capt. S. A. Cornwall, of London was described today by passengers brought out by airplane. The passengers will sail for the south soon on the last ship of the season to leave here.

"We are surely glad to arrive at Nome, "H G. Bonnycastle of Winnipeg said, on stepping from a plane a week after having left the Baychimo. "These fliers did great work, over hazardous lying country and in Arctic conditions."

He referred to Pilots Vic Ross and Hans Mirow of the Northern Air Transport Company, who began the rescue work soon after all hope was given up of freeing the Baychimo. It was caught in ice shortly after leaving Point Barrow, several weeks ago.

Bonnycastle said the Baychimo, a Hudson Bay Company trading ship, rests about a quarter mile from shore.

In addition to Bonnycastle, six other Canadian passengers arrived here yesterday.

Eight more men, several of them members of the crew, were at Kotzebue to-day and seven more hope to be flown from the ship.

Weather Foils Try For Sunken Treasure

BREST, France, Oct. 21 (C.P.).—Efforts of divers of the salvage ship Artiglio II. to reach the $5,000,000 gold treasure in the hold of the sunken steamer Egypt, off the Brittany coast, were deferred to-day because of unfavorable weather.

Divers have cut away the main deck of the Egypt and are ready to enter the treasure chamber as soon as the weather permits.

Ontario Liberals Pass Resolutions At Big Convention

WOULD HAVE ROYAL COMMISSION PROBE ADMINISTRATION OF HYDRO COMMISSION

Conservative Government at Toronto Has Created a "Political Machine" in Northern Ontario to Corrupt Electorate E. A. Lapierre. Ex-M.P., Says.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 21.—(CP)—Appointment of a non-partisan commission to take over unemployment relief measures in Northern Ontario was urged in a resolution passed by the annual meeting of the Ontario Liberal association here today. Moved by E. A. Lapierre ex-M.P. Nipissing, the resolution placed the association on record as deploring "the delay in starting the work in connection with highway construction in Northern Ontario, thereby depriving the settlers and unemployed workers in the north of much needed work at a season of the year when the work could have been carried on more profitably and with less hardship than in the winter time. This meeting also deplores the patronage system which continues to be practised in Northern Ontario, and recommends that a non-partisan commission be appointed to have charge of the unemployment relief measures.

The Conservative government at Toronto had created a "political machine" in Northern Ontario and using it "to corrupt the electorate" said Mr. Lapierre. The Legislature gave the government a "blank cheque" for the "alleged development" of the northern part of the province and its use of the money should be investigated, he added.

Probe Hydro

A Royal Commission probe of the administration of the Ontario Hydro Commission was demanded by the convention. It was in line with the stand of Mitchell F. Hepburn, Provincial leader.

Specifying the "gross over-payment for the assets of the Dominion Power and Transmission Company, the payment of huge sums to John Aird Jr., and the long term contracts for the purchase of power from private companies" as grounds warranting further investigation, the resolution declared only a non-political and judicial probe would suffice.

Blake Miller, former M.L.A. East Elgin, sponsored the Hydro resolution.

WAIT ON JAPAN FOR NEXT STEP

Reports From Manchuria Differ Widely on Activity of Troops

PROPOSALS EXCHANGED.

GENEVA, Oct. 21. —(AP)— The League of Nations Council was waiting today for Japan to take the next step in the effort to bring peace between Japan and China in Manchuria.

The Council hoped for a reply from the Japanese Government to the peace proposal of Aristide Briand, submitted yesterday to Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japan's representative here, and sent by him to Tokyo.

It was understood that some proposals and counter proposals were exchanged between Briand and the Japanese representative regarding the procedure for withdrawal of Troops from the Manchurian area, but the details of these discussions was not revealed.

Japanese sources here denied reports that troops had advanced at five points in the territory, but messages from China told of feverish activity by the Japanese troops for the purpose of consolidating their positions and aided in creating an atmosphere of pessimism around the council.

It was believed in informed quarters that Japan is seeking a guarantee from China to respect existing treaty rights of Japan in Manchuria and it was reported from a good source that the Japanese are objecting to fixing any definite date for completing the withdrawal of their troops.

SWEEZEY HAD HOPES OF SEAT

SENT $2,000 FOR CHEST.

LONDON, Ont., October 21 (By J. F. Sanderson, C.P. Staff Writer) —R. O. Sweezey, head of the Beauharnois Power project, was considering last February running as a Liberal candidate in an Eastern Ontario riding at the next general election.

This fact was made known to-day to the Ontario Liberal Association by W. P. R. Parker of Toronto, who was named in the report of the Parliamentary Beauharnois Committee as having received $2,000 from Mr. Sweezey as a contribution to the Ontario Provincial Liberal Party.

In explaining his actions to the Association, Mr. Parker said he was lunching one day last February with Mr. Sweezey.

Mr. Parker, who was vice-president of the OntarioProvincial Party, was explaining to the Beauharnois president the Provincial position of the Party.

"Mr. Sweezey," he proceeded, "told me he was considering standing as a Liberal candidate in an Eastern Ontario riding at the next Federal election. About two weeks afterward I received a cheque from him for $2,000 for the Party's chest.

"And that is how I happened to be named in the Beauharnois report."

DRUG TRAFFICKING IN CANADA DESCRIBED BY DR. A. J. VINING

LEGISLATION NEEDED.

Startling assertions and sensational disclosures concerning the growth of drug trafficking in the world and in Canada in particular, were contained in an address on social service delivered to this morning's session at the Baptist Convention here this morning, by the Rev. Dr. A. J. Vining of Toronto.

His address constituting a stern, bold denunciation of the narcotic menace, came towards the close of the session as a bombshell to awaken the consciousness of the delegates to the great responsibility which rested upon the church in the fight again the drug menace and its attendant evils.

"I want to make you hate this thing with every fibre of your being," he said with vehemence as he continued to recite almost incredible and ghastly details of the toils in which drug addicts were hopelessly enmeshed.

Greatest Menace

The reverend speaker, who is actively engaged in the work of the Social Service Council of Canada, stated that that body was not political but humanitarian in scope Among other things it had published a pamphlet on "Narcotics—One of the greatest menaces to the country; worse than the menace of strong drink."

In spite of Government surveillance, he charged that dope ped-

$200,000 Church Gutted by Fire

BROOKLINE, Mass., Oct. 21. —The Harvard Congregational Church, one of Brookline's most beautiful edifices, was gutted last night by a fire that caused $200,000 damage.

One fireman was seriously injured, two others were hurt and a score were overcome by smoke. Traffic was tied up for several hours and a general alarm summoned the entire Brookline fire fighting force.

To-day, nothing but the four granite walls of the building remained standing.

Van Kempen-Audy Gain First Place

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 21. (CP) A fast sprint by Piet Van Kempen and his partner, Audy, gained them first place in the six-day bicycle race at The Forum to-day. Lepage and Peden, the Canadian team, were a lap behind.

Lepage and Peden led all day yesterday and last night. During the night they had to increase their pace as the jams came thick and fast. Van Kempen started another jam this afternoon and moved into first place. Crossley and Baggio, eDmpsey and Fielding, and Gachon and De Fillipo all gained a lap on Lepage and Peden.

Purge Liberal Party Sifton Demands

FIERY OUTBURST FOLLOWS KING'S LONDON SPEECH

Leader Brands Beauharnois Probe Incomplete—Asks Campaign Fund Enquiry.

DEFENDS HIS STAND.

Sifton Calls for Cancellation of Ontario Hydro Beauharnois Contracts.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 21 (C.P.)—Ontario Liberals numbering approximately 5,000 last night heard Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, in his first speech since the prorogation of Parliament last August, review the Parliamentary Beauharnois enquiry and demand publication of all future contributions to campaign funds.

The Liberal Leader stamped the Beauharnois investigation incomplete and abortive, at the same time demanding a judicial investigation into all campaign funds for the last three general elections. He deplored the present condition of the party organization and threw out a hint that unless steps were taken to put the Liberal party in an effective financial position he might be compelled to consider resigning from the Liberal leadership.

Sifton's Demands

But if the speech of Mr. Mackenzie King created a profound impression on the delegates who crowded the Grand Theatre and overflowed into Hyman Hall nearby, this was greatly intensified by a statement issued by Harry Sifton at the conclusion of his leader's address, in which the young Liberal demanded drastic purging of the party. Mr. Sifton, who is a son of the late Sir Clifford Sifton, at one time Minister of the Interior in the Laurier administration, called for cancellation of Hydro Power Commission contracts with the Beauharnois Corporation, and a full probe into the Parliamentary Beauharnois investigation. In connection with the latter, his statement read: Liberalism believes and is humiliated to believe, that our leaders consented to a discreditable closing down of the committee investigation in order to save the disclosures which would be discreditable not only to the Liberal party but also to the leaders of the Conservative party. I am greatly relieved to hear Mr. King strongly deny the existence of any such agreement.

Firemen Are Called To Fight Fire In Mow

Fire broke out early this morning in the mow of James A. Young's barn in Centre Smith. Neighbors were called and the burning sheaves in the large barn were plentifully soaked with water. Later the chemical truck of the Peterborough Fire Department was called and the fire was wholly extinguished. Mr. Young is puzzled to know how the fire started, since the sheaves were not damp, and had been in the mow for several weeks.

Ship Burns At Sea Crew Believed Safe

HALIFAX, N.S., October 21 (C.P.). — Early this morning an unidentified schooner was reported afire six miles north-north-east of the Sambro Lightship off the mouth of Halifax Harbor. All dories it was said had got away in safety, but the hull was believed to be badly gutted.

Havana Property Damaged by Bombs

HAVANA, Oct. 21. — (AP) — Two bombs were thrown from automobiles in Havana streets this morning, causing some property damage, but injuring no one.

One of them wrecked the home of Dr. Rafael Rodriquez, mathematics professor at Havana university, and the house adjoining it. The second bomb slightly damaged a suburban police station.

COUNCIL SEEKS EMPLOYEES' AID

Those Refusing to Donate to Prevent Operating Deficit Get No Checks.

MAY CUT SALARIES.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 21.—City employes who have failed to co-operate in the Council's salary donation plan to prevent a deficit in operating funds went without their pay checks to-day.

The non-cooperating employes, among whom, Mayor William T. Jackson said, are three municipal judges, also may have their salaries reduced when the council meets to-night.

Acting under the Councils instructions, the Finance Department yesterday refused to issue salary checks to employes who have refused to sign waivers agreeing to the salary donation plan. The plan calls for donations ranging from five per cent for those receiving up to $2,000, to 25 per cent for those receiving more than $5,000.

WOMAN HUNTED

ney for Maricopa County, Arizona, arrived last night by plane from Phoenix.

"We have considered the woman's probable jealousy of her husband aroused by Mrs. Leroi or Miss Samuelson or both; jealousy between the women themselves over one of the trio, and the so-called narcotic and liquor angles, but they are all insufficient to prove a motive," said Andrew.

"The principal thing in the case now, as I see it, is that Mrs. Judd is missing, and a motive for the crime lacking. The first and most important thing is to capture Mrs. Judd."

Father Expresses Faith

The Rev. H. J. McKinnel, retired minister, from his home in Darlington, Ind., expressed confidence in the innocence of his daughter.

"I am worried, of course, but I know that my daughter could not be involved in such an affair," he said.

The minister's son, however, last night wrote a letter to his parents, which read::

"Dear Folks.—I suppose the greatest catastrophe imaginable has come across our lives. Ruth is accused of a great crime. Circumstantial evidence seems to be against her. She has told me nothing and I want to know nothing unless she is caught by the law and gives herself up and is brought to trial. I want you, Mom, to go back through letters you have of Ruth's which would be evidence to show her insanity. Many of the letters are incoherent and contradictory. The girl is mentally off balance. I am sure."

DROUGHT AREA IN CANADIAN WEST DESCRIBED TO BAPTIST GATHERING BY WESTERN MISSION SECRETARY

Mission Boards Report to Baptist Convention in Murray Street.

BAPTISM INCREASE

Present Hard Times Draw Eastern and Western Canada Closer Together.

Describing the drought area of the Canadian West as a veritable desert—an area in which not a particle of seed has yielded increase, and where farmers are utilizing thistles in place of hay for the feeding of their livestock; and where automobiles are being drawn by horses because of a total lack of the wherewithal to purchase gasoline, the Rev. W. C. Smalley, general secretary of Western Missions struck a grave note in the course of an address in which he spoke to the presentation of the annual report of the Western Mission Board at the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec at Murray street Church yesterday afternoon.

The gravity of his remarks were considerably tempered by the speaker's undisguised admiration for the fortitude with which the Western farmer is meeting his difficulties, and by the astounding revelation that in spite of such conditions the work of the Baptist Church especially from a spiritual standpoint is firmly entrenched and is bearing good fruit.

Mr. Smalley's address also included an appeal for financial assistance on the part of Baptist churches in the east, and for clothing supplies which were more urgently needed by the people in the stricken areas than food.

Yesterday afternoon's session of the convention in common with the preceding two sessions was

WITH NO QUEST NO CONQUEST SAYS SPEAKER

Personal Evangelism Subject of Address Delivered to Baptist Convention.

GRANDE LIGNE REPORT.

Power of Church of Rome is Declining in Quebec Audience Told.

Personal evangelism was the theme of the address by Rev. J. A. Johnston, B.A., of London, Ont., at Tuesday's evening's session of the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec at Murray Street Church.

Rev. Mr. Johnston's subject was "The Quest for Souls." The worst form of selfishness was not exemplified by Lazarus hungering at the gate of Dives, nor by the stranger who was passed by on the Jericho road, but by the contentment of those who enjoy the grace of God without making effort to communicate that grace to others.

"I would remind you," said Rev. Mr. Johnston, "that if there be no quest there can be no conquest. My soul rejoices that the promise of the future belongs to the people who will be the couriers of Christ's grace in the quest of souls."

Inspiring that quest is needed a verile conviction that God has revealed Himself redeemingly in our Lord Jesus Christ, and also the conviction that apart from Jesus all men are lost. We ought to indulge that conviction, Rev. Mr. Johnston said, and make dominant in our lives the 'savability' of men. Jesus reached out to all sorts of conditions of men in His mission, even to the Magdalene, and it behooves us of today to go after men for our Lord because without Christ they are lost. The task entrusted to the disciples and handed on to us is the evangelization of men by preaching. In the various methods of the quest for souls, Rev. Mr. Johnston urged the telling to others of God's grace, "gossiping the gospel," the speaker described it in a popular phrase: "telling what God has done for your soul. We can do it if we live close to our Lord. Without that fervor of quest the church might become an ecclesiastical dormitory, and instead of conquest there might be need of inquest.

Grande Ligne Report.

The report of the Grande Ligne mission board was presented by Rev. J. R. Webb, the convention's representative on the Board. Commenting on the report which was prepared by Rev. Aubrey W. Small, the new general secretary of the Mission, Rev. Mr. Webb pointed out that in 1936 the Grande Ligne will celebrate its centenary. The church in Ottawa of which the late Rev. Geo. R. McFaul was pastor is now administered by Rev. Mr. Wilkinson who with his wife was a missionary in French Equatorial Africa. The attendance at Feller Institute this autumn numbers one hundred and thirty-six students. Statistics for the present year show that there are fourteen French Baptist churches in the Grande Ligne with 1,008 members, and 63 bap-

Bennett Addresses Canadian Authors

OTTAWA, Ont., October 21 (C.P.). — Back from a short visit to Toronto, Premier R B Bennett was again immersed to-day in his official duties. The Prime Minister will call a meeting of the Cabinet Council later in the day.

Mr. Bennett left Ottawa yesterday afternoon to address a public meeting in the Convocation Hall of Toronto University where the Canadian Authors' Foundation was officially launched last night.

Prosecutions Cost $2,000, Not $50,000

OTTAWA, October 21 (C.P.). — Cost of actions against Bruce Freeburn and members of his family for violations of the Excise Act did not exceed $2,000, it was stated yesterday at the office of George W. Taylor, Commissioner of Excise, in connection with a despatch from Peterborough stating that it had cost the Dominion Government $50,000 for the investigation and arrest in the Freeburn case. The $2,000 included a seizure made a year ago, subsequent investigations, and arrest of Freeburn, his two sons and a nephew, it was stated. Fines totalling $1,800 had been imposed upon the two sons and nephew, but were not paid, the convicted men serving terms of seven to twelve months in jail.

MAJ. DOOLITTLE HANGS UP MARK

AVERAGES 204 M.P.H.

MEXICO CITY Oct. 21. (AP) — Major James H. Doolittle, noted American flier, was taking a day off to-day after having hung up a new mark for air speedsters yesterday by flying from Ottawa, Canada, to Mexico City, by way of Wash., D.C., in 12 hours and 36 minutes, linking three capitals.

Major Doolittle, landed his swift plane which he called his "Baby Powerhouse" at Valbuena Field at 3.16 p.m., Mountain Standard Time. He took off from Ottawa at 4.40 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, and made stops at Washington, Birmingham, Ala., and Corpus Christi, Texas.

He calculated his average speed for the flight at 204 miles an hour, and said he was making 235 miles an hour some of the time. The last 225 miles of the flight, from Tampico, were covered in 54 minutes.

A ground fog delayed him 40 minutes at Washington, he said. The fog kept him from landing at Bolling Field, where his supplies were waiting, and he was forced to land at another field and make emergency arrangements. If it had not been for this incident, he said, his time would have been about 11½ hours.

He said he planned to return to St. Louis to-morrow, after a rest.

FORD, FIRESTONE

the two survivors of a famous triumvirate, arrived late yesterday.

Twenty-five thousand persons passed by the bronze casket in the half-light of the laboratory yesterday. Other thousands had preceded them Monday. Mr. Firestone, come with Mr. Ford to say a last good-bye to their friend and crony, was among those who stood for a misty-eyed moment before the bier.

Mr. Ford did not enter the room in which the body of the inventor lay. He wanted no sight of death, he said, to cloud the memory of his last sight of his friend—there in the library a few feet away.

The Rev. Dr. Stephen J. Herben, a former Methodist minister and a friend of Mr. Edison, planned only an informal funeral service at the home. There was a prayer and the reading of the 90th Psalm—"The days of our years are three score and ten; and if by reason of strength they be four score years, yet is their strength labor and sorrow; for it is soon cut off, and we fly away."

There was nation-wide response to the suggestion by President Hoover, in a statement yesterday, that all electric lights be turned off for one minute at 10 o'clock Eastern standard time to-night—crystallizing the attention of 120,000,000 people upon the vital part in their lives of a single Edison invention.

Nearly 420,000,000 will be spent in building homes in Germany this year.

POPPY DAY IN CAMPBELLFORD TO BE SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7

Committees Appointed by Local Legion Branch to Handle Arrangements for This Day.

Wreaths in Store Windows.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 21. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — On Saturday, November 7, the Campbellford Branch, No 103, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., will have its organization out on the streets of the town offering to the citizens the red poppy, the emblem of sacrifice immortalized by the late Col. John McCrea in his poem "In Flanders Fields." For some years now the Canadian Legion from coast to coast has observed Poppy Day as a means to raise funds to take care of veterans and their families who are in distressed circumstances, and also as a means of enabling the public to support the handicapped veterans who make these poppies in the Vetcraft shops of Canada. Poppy Day is therefore a recognized institution not only in Canada but throughout the Empire and the Campbellford branch expect to have a large number on the streets on this day offering to the public the Vetcraft poppies.

With this day looming ahead the local branch had appointed a committee comprised of Comrades N. Alex MacColl, E. H. Lewis and G. H. Free to make all arrangements for the sale of poppies. An effort will be made this year by the whole Command to place poppy wreaths in every store and business houses in the district these to be displayed in the windows prior to Remembrance Day.

Another committee consisting of Mayor J. M. Bygott, J. D. McEachern and A. T. Linton has also been appointed to make all arrangements for the proper observance of Remembrance Day including the parade and service, which it is expected will be under the auspices of the local ministers. Every effort will be made to have all local organizations take part in the parade and service, which will probably be headed by the civic authorities. Arrangements are also being made for an outside speaker of note. It will also be arranged that the Campbellford branch will sponser a Remembrance service at Warkworth on Sunday, November 15, in connection with this observance.

The officers of the Campbellford Branch of the Legion find that they have great calls upon their relief fund at the present time, which will increase as winter descends, and for this reason they are hopeful that the public will support their appeal. They point out that this is an appeal in which every citizen can help, as the small contributions given in return for a poppy are just as welcome as the larger donations which come from those who are in a position to give more.

Trenton Parks Board Resigns As Protest

TRENTON, October 21. — At a special meeting of Trenton Parks Board, that body, by a unanimous vote, decided to resign from office as a unit in protest of an action of the Municipal Council in rescinding a by-law covering certain park land on the waterfront here. The Council, without consulting the Board, sold a portion of the softball park. The members of the Parks Board are: D. R. Purdy, chairman; H. F. Whittier, secretary; C. M. Richardson, J. M. Hennessey, D. L. Jones, and T. H. Jassett.

WITH NO QUEST

Within the past year the church property was sold, it being considered no longer suitable for our work. Since that time the church has been worshipping in the Y.M.C.A. hall, and comittees have been at work considering the question of the future. A new site has been secured in a growing district and a suitable building is now being erected thereon. It is modest, yet attractive, and has been designed with proper attention to the various activities to be carried on there. We hope that it will be ready for use in the fall.

While we do not rely on the material to accomplish spiritual work, it is true that God uses suitable equipment to Divine ends. In this case we are glad to think that the building will be used to the glory of God, for the preaching of evangelical Christianity, and will be an occasion of encouragement to those who worship within its walls. In this city the Rev. Emile A. Boisvert has been patiently and steadily at work. In spite of the handicap of being without a church building, the cause is keeping together, and the prospects are encouraging."

Rev. Paul Chodat, pastor of L'Oratoire, Montreal, who has lived and worked in Quebec since coming to Canada from Switzerland nineteen years ago, spoke of the work which is being carried on by the Grane Ligne Mission in that province. He stated that the minds and hearts of the Roman Catholic people of Quebec are kept in darkness by their priests, and the Grande Ligne work had not been in vain. The power of the Church of Rome, he declared, was declining, and what had happened in Spain in religious affairs would also happen in Quebec.

FIERY OUTBURST

intense interest in every word. Loud speakers were placed outside the theatre to carry his address to the thousands who vainly sought admission to the two buildings accommodating the delegates.

The Liberal Chieftain made a vigorous defence of his Government's relations with the Beauharnois corporation. The approval of Beauharnois plans was based upon the legal and engineering aspects of the application and upon no other consideration, Mr. King declared. There was no question of a consideration of any kind apart from those involved in the administrative obligation and the public interest

The Dominion was making a good bargain in the Beauharnois Canal, he said. It would secure a canal for nothing which would form a valuable link in the deep sea development. The Government might have been open to attack and censure had it not approved the plans, said the Liberal Leader, who added that adequate steps had been taken to safeguard the public interest.

Mr. King followed this up with the declaration that there was no gentlemen's agreement between parties or leaders or others, as far as he was aware, in connection with the closing of the parliamentary investigation into Beauharnois.

A probe into all party campaign funds for the last three general elections should begin at once, Mr. King said, with a report for presentation to Parliament as soon as it opens.

Hepburn Given Ovation

Mitchell F. Hepburn, M.P., the Ontario Liberal leader, was given a great ovation and at the outset paid tribute to the Dominion leader. He deprecated the increase in Ontario's debt and condemned the purchase of the Dominion Power and Transmission Company of Hamilton. Mr. Hepburn in this connection repeated his charge that $22,000,000 was paid for the assets of the company.

He reviewed a number of power contracts, referring to the Abitibi deal as the worst of all. Demanding a Royal Commission to investigate the Hydro the Ontario Liberal leader characterized Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, a member of the Ontario Hydro Commission, as a propagandist. The Liberal party would not be satisfied with a Hydro committee, he said.

Earlier in the day both men's and women's branches of the convention adopted resolutions endorsing the leadership of Mr. MacKenzie King and Mr. Hepburn. The resolutions were passed without discussion.

the reference shelves of our libraries.

"Canadian Literature" was the subject of an address by Adrian Macdonald, M.A., of the Peterborough Normal School, who is himself the author of several books dealing with great figures in Canadian history. In a sympathetic vein, Mr. Macdonald dealt with the limitations and faults of Canadian literature and its struggles from obscurity against great forces which have often threatened to overwhelm it.

The Public Library Institute is convening here for the first time in twelve years, completing a tour during the past seven years in which meetings have been open to representatives of libraries, large and small, throughout the province. The Institute is under the direction of the Department of Education, which bears all expenses. The convention here is under the chairmanship of S. B. Herbert, Acting Provincial Inspector of Public Libraries.

Mr. Morris paid great tribute to Catharine Parr Traill, who lived most of her life near Lakefield and who wrote the first book on Canadian wild flowers. The speaker stressed the difficulties of this early lover of nature because of the complete absence of any works on Canadian botany, which might have guided her in the identification of wild flowers.

Asa Gray, an American, one of the first scientific botanists of this continent, classified the plants of the eastern part of the United States and Canada in 1890, and this work Gray's Manual remains one of the best text books on wild plants for use in this part of Canada.

Catharine Parr Traill was the first to write a pleasing and emotional book on the love of wild flowers, although others followed and at the present time there are many books, which give a comprehensive and interesting review of this study, Mr. Morris stated.

The speaker said that he had identified 70 varieties of orchids. Forty of these varieties were found within 20 miles of Peterborough, but to get the other thirty he had to travel great distances.

Canadian literature has had its awakening due to the desire to voice Canada's national feeling and sentiments, stated Mr. Macdonald, and had really come into being following the Great War. He compared Canada's desire for a distinctive literature to a young man moving out into society and desiring to don a dress suit.

A work to belong to Canadian literature must have been written by a Canadian, although not necessarily one now residing in Canada since most Canadian authors have found it necessary to write in other lands, and most have Canadian characteristics. It must depict scenes and people that represent Canada.

The greatest difficulty for the advancement of Canadian Literature is the comparatively limited public open to Canadian authors, stated Mr. Macdonald. "Writing is an art but it is also a business," he said in emphasizing the smallness and disunity of the Canadian reading public. Not only is it small numerically but it is also broken up into English-speaking and French-speaking. The proximity to the United States is another great encumberance to the rise of a distinctive Canadian Literature.

The tendency, the speaker stated, is to merge our literature with that of the United States, and some Canadian publishers will not publish a work until it has first been published in the United States.

Faults of Canadian authors were stated to be: carelessness of craftsmanship or style; and the national weakness of too much imitativeness.

His Honor Judge Huycke declared that the two poets, Browning and Tennyson, had done more for the English-speaking peoples than any other dozen men who lived during their time. He said that Tennyson's greatest contribution had been the uniting of scientific and religious factions which were warring over the Theory of Evolution. He aimed in his latter poems, written In Memoriam, to prove that the views of the scientist and the beliefs of the church men had much in common. His work renewed the faith in God of the English-speaking peoples.

J. A. O'Brien, chairman of the local Library Board, was chairman of the meeting. The delegates were welcomed to the city by Mayor Denne. References were made by the speakers to the splendid work of F. De la Fosse, the local librarian, and the esteem in which he is held throughout the city.

An informal reception was held at the conclusion of the meeting.

Brilliant Wedding For Queen's Niece

LONDON, October 21 (C.P.). — The Royal Family is to be well represented at the wedding of Lady May Cambridge, niece of Queen Mary, to Captain Henry Abel Smith at Balcome next Saturday.

Queen Mary, who is now at Sandringham, will come south on Friday to be present at the wedding, and it was announced to-day that the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, the Duke of Gloucester, and Prince George also would attend.

The royal party will motor from London to Balcome on Saturday morning and attend a family luncheon party with Lady May and her parents at Branteridge Park before the wedding.

Princess Ingrid of Sweden, Princess Sybil of Saxe-Cobourg-Gotha will be among Lady May's bridesmaids. Princess Ingrid already has arrived in London.

Date Cream Pie
A light and flaky paste that you can mix in quantities and keep chilled for instant use in a fresh-baked pie, can be based on these quantities for a two crust pie or two shells:
1⅓ cups flour ½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening cold water
Sift the salt with the flour. Jewel shortening, especially if well chilled, will provide the fat in excellent form. Chop half the shortening into the dry ingredients, then mix quickly and lightly with enough cold water to make a paste that will roll. Turn on floured board, roll to quarter-inch thickness and dot half the surface with small pieces of shortening; fold the paste over, pat and roll out and chill if possible; again roll thin, dot with the remainder of the shortening, fold, roll and chill.
For the Date Cream Pie—bake a shell for this pastry and let it get cold.

Filling for Date Cream Pie
2 cups scalded milk
⅓ cup sugar
3⅓ tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped dates
¼ cup cold milk
2 eggs
½ tablespoon butter
¾ teaspoon vanilla
Scald the 2 cups milk. Mix the sugar, cornstarch and salt well and combine with cold milk. Stir mixture slowly into hot milk and cook, stirring constantly, until smoothly thickened; cover and cook 15 minutes. Beat egg yolks well, stir a little of hot mixture into them, then add to main mixture and cook, stirring for 3 minutes. Remove from fire, stir in butter, vanilla and chopped dates and when cooled, turn into baked shell.
Top with meringue made of the stiffly beaten whites and 4 tablespoons sugar and brown in slow oven, 275° F. or cover with sweetened whipped cream. A sprinkling of yellow sugar or grated chocolate, or shredded candied lemon peel, adds interest to the top.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1931

THE GOVERNMENT'S ACT.

The Government road-building program in Eastern Ontario, according to an announcement from Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Minister of Highways, is more ambitious than was at first intimated.

It is now officially stated that the whole section of No. 7 highway between Tweed and Perth, a distance of 70 miles, will be built on a fifty-fifty basis by the Provincial and Federal Governments, thus relieving the municipalities through which the highway will run of any share of the cost of the work.

The Examiner has advocated such a policy for some time, and it is gratifying to learn that the Government has recognized the justice of the claim that eastern portions of the Sarnia-Ottawa highway should be placed on the same basis as the Northern Ontario sections of the trans-Canada highway.

With the whole cost of 70 miles of construction work assumed by the two Governments, residents of the country traversed by the highway will escape the taxation increase that would have inevitable under the ordinary method.

The Tweed-Perth section, a considerable amount of work on which will be done this winter, will open up a country rich in tourist possibilities.

At the same time, the project will supply work during the winter months to some 1,500 men and will materially assist in taking up the slack of unemployment in the eastern part of the Province.

NO GOLD EXPORTATIONS.

The Federal Government has decided to deal with the gold situation by the expedient of an embargo on the export of the precious metal from this country except under license.

This action is expected to have several beneficial results.

First, the ban on exportation is intended to conserve the supply of gold required as a basis for Canada's monetary system and international exchange transactions.

Secondly, it is counted upon to prevent speculators, both here and in the United States, from manipulating gold exportations for speculative purposes.

In the third place, it is expected not only to maintain the prestige of Canadian securities, but because of the discount on the dollar to prove a stimulus to general export trade.

The latest move of the Government was not unexpected, and it is regarded in financial circles as a necessary and desirable method of dealing with the existing situation.

Certainly future financing should be materially aided by the decision that gold must not be exported from this country.

A SAFETY MEASURE.

The Examiner referred a few nights ago to the desirability of motorists so conducting themselves that pedestrians would be encouraged to cross streets at intersections, in line with a suggestion to that effect from the Ontario Safety League.

Since then several citizens have called attention to the fact that the practice followed by many drivers in making right turns at corners protected by lights is endangering the pedestrian who waits until the green light signals that it is supposed to be safe for him to cross.

This complaint is justified.

Often, just as the light changes and the man on foot steps out from the sidewalk, a careless motorist swings sharply round the corner, and the pedestrian who is not thoroughly awake is likely to be caught.

In this connection somebody has written a letter to the Ottawa Journal containing a suggestion that seems worth while.

He advocates that the yellow light shall be allowed to stay on for half a minute, showing in all four directions, and for that period pedestrian traffic would be allowed to cross in any direction.

"This plan," he writes, "is in operation in a city much larger than Ottawa, but the same narrow streets, and it seems to work well."

A CHANCE FOR TRADE.

According to the Vancouver Sun, a great friendly market awaits Canadian trade in the Latin statis of Central and South America.

At present there is a favorable balance of trade so far as Canada is concerned with these countries of some five million dollars, while the Dominion's annual trade with them, with imports and exports included, has attained a total of one hundred million dollars.

This sum, the Sun maintains, can be built up into a total of five hundred billion dollars a year.

If that estimate is even close to being correct it would seem good business on Canada's part to devote special attention to this matter of trade with Latin America.

It is true, as our Vancouver contemporary points out, that conditions are favorable because there is a pronounced feeling of friendliness toward Canada in the countries of South and Central America, and it is also true that greater trade will not come of its own account.

The Sun supplies the formula.

"Canada must find out what they want," it says, "and what they have that we want—then trade."

The advice is worth the attention of Hon. H. H. Stevens, the Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Any channel for trade development that offers such possibilities as these should be carefully searched.

There is only one way to eliminate crime news from the newspapers. Eliminate the crime.—Kitchener Record.

CARELESS HANDLING OF FIREARMS.

With the season for water fatalities drawing to a close, that for shooting casualties is opening. Already a number of hunters have been seriously, some fatally, wounded as the result of the careless handling of firearms. As it is impossible to make these weapons fool-proof, casualties will occur among the hunting fraternity. Careless people will continue to handle guns and rifles with possible injury or death to themselves or to others.

In a class with the man who rocks the boat is the fellow who pulls a gun to himself. It is a simple matter for the weapon to catch and discharge. Already this season men have been injured doing this foolhardy thing. If all men would only learn never to pull a loaded gun toward themselves, hunting fatalities would be materially reduced. It might take a minute or two longer to lift a gun properly and perhaps a chance to shoot a duck or a rabbit may be missed. But what is a duck or a rabbit to a human life?

Unfortunately, the careless handlers of firearms often wound or kill others rather than themselves. It is, of course, bad enough when they themselves are the targets, but it is much worse when others, often men who exercise the greatest care in handling their shooting weapons, are the victims. The careful hunters, when they are going gunning with others, should insist that all in the party display the utmost caution in the use of their death-dealing instruments. They should keep a special eye on those inclined to be careless, and, if possible, omit them from future forays. Loaded guns should never be turned in the direction of humans. They should always be carried with muzzles pointing to the ground. Check up on yourself to see if you are careless with your hunting arsenal. If you are turn over a new leaf before you turn up your toes.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

ADDING MORE POPULATION.

Beaudry Leman believes more population for Canada is the surest way out of present difficulties. Mr. Leman is president of the Banque Canadienne Nationale and is also president of the Canadian Bankers' Association. A gentleman holding such positions should be in a position to form an intelligent opinion, and for that reason his views can hardly be shoved lightly to one side.

Mr. Leman holds that there is lack of balance in Canada and in the world generally. Budgets fail to balance; trade figures follow in the same general direction, and in Canada there is lack of balance between our over-development and over-production and the number of consumers in the Canadian market. This condition he would remedy by bringing in more people—more consumers.

Mr. Leman spoke in a general way, of course, and a more accurate analysis of his plan can be made by localizing the idea. If he were to bring a large number of people into Canada now it is probable that Stratford or Perth County would get their share.

If Perth County were to get 100 more families they would start to farm the land we suppose. They would add to the sum total of the production now offered, much of which does not bring sufficient return to pay for the cost of production. Under such conditions these new-comers in the county would have little purchasing power. Their ability to buy would be governed by their ability to earn.

What would we do with 100 additional men in Stratford? That is a fair way to look at this question of increasing population. Could we put them to work, and if so, where. There are plenty of men now seeking an opportunity to work, and they include laborers and a number of skilled workers. This additional city population would have buying power only to the extent to which it could earn, and it could not earn while there was no chance for employment.

Mr. Leman did not go into minute details regarding the manner in which his plan would become successfully operative. It may be he could tell just how his idea for increased population would be worked out, but on the face of it there appears to be difficulties which are very apparent and tremendously stubborn.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

A THOUGHT.

THE RENDEZVOUS

I count that friendship little worth
Which has not many things untold,
Great longings that no words can hold,
And passion secrets waiting birth.

Along the slender wires of speech
Some message from the heart is sent;
But who can tell the whole that's meant?
Our dearest thoughts are out of reach.

I have not seen thee, though mine eyes
Hold now the image of thy face;
In vain, through form, I strive to trace
The soul I love; that deeper lies.
A thousand accidents control
Our meeting here. Clasp hand in hand
And swear to meet me in that land'
Where friends hold converse soul to soul!

THE JACKASS

To the Editor of The Examiner.
Sir:

There are said to be seventeen varieties of jackass and as I sat one day wondering which variety it was that I belonged to, I heard the voice of Hon. Dr. Manion say in his cheery, breezy way, "The deficit of the C.N.R. for this year (1931) will be one hundred and twenty millions of dollars." That makes eight hundred and seventy millions of deficits for that railway since Mr. Meighen took it over at its face value, that is at the value put upon it by Mackenzie and Mann. Shades of Beaubarnois! You are not in it. I voted against it in Parliament and infuriated the party jackasses at home.

But perhaps I am doing them an injustice. Perhaps they did not do all these things because they did not know better.

J. H. BURNHAM.

THE PROFESSOR IS RIGHT.

In a recent copy of The Examiner I see that Prof. ..... says a whistler is a moron. No matter what a moron is I agree with him. Marmots whistle. At least T. W. Burgess says they do. Ground hogs whistle, ducks whistle, lunatics whistle and bullets whistle from the fifth of November until the twentieth, each year. Then the hunters whistle on the dogs and explain it all away after supper.

I used to whistle myself — that was before I lost my teeth. Now I don't whistle any more. I used to whistle on the waggon, from the top of the straw stack, from the platform at the milkhouse, from the seat of the buckboard. But that's all done now, the dentist extracted my internal saxophone, after I had been ailing for months.

"You're poisoned," he said.

"Oh," I replied, "is that all?"

"No, it's not all. You'll die if you don't get them out."

"Well, I'll die then. I've got to do it sometime."

"That's a privilege you have," he returned as the tail of his white coat vanished through the doorway, but I got a glimpse of a wild looking woman in a big chair with her mouth open.

I went home and consulted the wife. "I told you it was your teeth," she said. "They'll have to come out, that's all."

"Oh daddy, let me go and watch you." This from the daughter, bloodthirsty young female.

"Gee daddy! that's nothin', I pulled one of mine out today. Here it is, look at it. Aint it a dandy?" And that was my son. No sympathy from that quarter so I ambled out to the shed. The old dog would understand at least. He looked up, grinning, with a mouth full of white ivory. I kicked him in the ribs and went to bed, whereupon the rheumatism kicked me in the ribs and other portions of my tortured anatomy. A week later I was back at the dentist's office.

"How much will it cost me to deprive myself of these teeth?" I inquired boldly.

"Twenty dollars," the dentist was a man of few words.

"And how much for the new ones?" My voice was somewhat timid this time.

"Forty dollars."

"Oh," I whispered. "I see. Oh well, go ahead."

"Which would you rather have, freezing or gas?" he inquired like the wife asks me 'will I have the potatoes squeezed or punched.'

"Gas?" I howled. This was insulting. "I've been troubled with gas for ten years. What would I want more gas for? I'm no blinkin' gas boat."

After that he took a knitting needle with a handle on it and started rooting for my Adam's apple.

"That will be enough for to-day," he remarked after a number of my molars were rattling around in the cupsidor. "Come back next week."

Eventually he got the last one and when I closed my mouth the lower jaw was on a level with both ears. It looked like a cross between a fish-worm and a sliding trombone. The wife snickered and the kids laughed. However, in due time I got the new plates and after ten months of mental and physical agony I could bite halfway through a soft-boiled egg and was feeling pretty good. Then I remembered my whistle. I'd whistle. That's what I'd do. The inspiration came as I was about to pass Mrs. Jones on our daily sprint for the car. I puckered up my mouth, inhaled deeply, and weiredly 'wheesh-pooed' in her ear. She brought up suddenly and I gained a half yard at the corner.

"What's the matter with you?" she demanded.

"I was going to whistle," I replied. "But—but something seems to have gone wrong."

"Something has always been wrong with you," she retorted unkindly.

"Zatso?" I came back at her. "This is a free country isn't it? I guess I can whistle if I want to. And I'm going to whistle, too." I muttered as I headed her in the last rush for the platform where the gang always collected to judge our morning speed contest. Once more I set myself and with a pair of full lungs 'wheesh-pooed' mightily. Something sailed through the air and rattled along the concrete in two pieces while the gang snickered in evil enjoyment. Sadly I chased after my lower plate and again visited the dentist.

PRODUCE GRAIN, CATTLE,

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—In comparison with the demand, there were practically no strictly fresh eggs on the local market yesterday. The few lots received by brokers brought 1c more per dozen, at 42c to 43c for extras, 37c to 38c for firsts, and 20c to 21c for seconds, graded and in free cases. Brokers were beginning to move storage supplies, and received 28c for extras and 23c for firsts on ordinary stocks, and 27c for extras and 25c for firsts candled out of storage. Wholesalers were moving storage stocks to the trade at prices steady with last week's advance of 2c per dozen.

Country shippers were quoted 39c for extras, 35c for firsts, and 19c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Retailers were offered extras in cartons at 47c, extras loose at 45c, firsts loose at 41c, seconds loose at 25c, and storage eggs at 30c for extras and 28c for firsts. Brokers were quoting a few fresh eggs at 42c to 43c for extras, and 37c to 38c for firsts.

Butter.

Brokers foud difficulty in moving any kind of lots of creamery solids, especially at the ¼c, but the general range of the day's trading was 20c to 20¼c for No. 1, and 19c to 19¼c for No. 2. There was no word of any shipments to the United States, though reports from Montreal stated that a few cars would likely go across the line this week. Prices in New York last week were 35c to 35½c for choice lots of high-scoring butter—92 score—and the Dominion Government reported three cars of Canadian butter sold at those figures. Local authorities state that 32½c to 33c would be top prices for shipments of the Canadian product to the American metropolis.

Cheese.

Trade in cheese was slow and new makes were quoted steady at 11¾c for large, 12c for twins, and 12¼c for triplets. Retailers offered new makes at 13c for large, 13¼c for twins, and 13½c for triplets.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 21. —(By the Canadian Press.)— Cattle receipts 811; left-overs totalled 2,000 head. No good or choice killing cattle were offered. Common to medium butchers sold solwly at $3 to $5.50 cwt. Good butcher cows sold up to $3.75. Choice fed calves steady at $8.25 to $9. Stockers were steady at $3 to $4.50 according to quality. Western calves ranged around $5.25.

Steers up to 1,050 lbs. good and choice $5.75 to $6.25; medium, $4.75 to $5.50; common, $3 to $4.50; steers over 1,050 lbs. good and choice $5.75 to $6; medium $5 to $5.75; common, $4 to $5; heifers, good and choice, $5.75 to $6; medium, $4.75 to $5.50; common, $3 to $4.50; fed calves, good and choice, $8.25 to $9; medium, $6.50 to $8; cows, good, $3.25 to $3.75; medium, $2.75 to $3.25; common, $2.25 to $2.75; canners and cutters, $1.25 to $2; bulls, good, $3 to $3.50; common, $2 to $2.75; stocker and feeder steers, good $4.50 to $4.75; common, $3 to $4.50; stock cows and heifers, good —; milkers and springers, $30.00 to $70.00.

Calf receipts 258. Calves were steady at $8.50 to $9 cwt. for choice with heavies downward to $4.50. Good and choice veal, $8 to $9; common and medium $4.50 to $7.50; grassers $3 to $3.75.

Hog receipts 886. Hogs were firm with salesmen holding for $5 f.o.b. for bacon or $5.60 off car. Off car basis, select bacon $1; premium bacon $5; butchers $5.20; heavies $4.50; lights and feeds $4.10 to $4.50; sows, $2 to $3.

Sheep receipts 1,138. Lambs were steady at $10 cwt. for good ewes and wethers and at $5 for culls and bucks. Sheep sold firm at $1 to $3.50 cwt. according to quality.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.— Prices of butter, cheese, eggs and potatoes were all unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

No. 1 Eastern Townships pasteurized butter, in cartons, was quoted at 19¾c to 20c a pound. In addition to New York, inquiries are now being made by Boston and Philadelphia with regard to buying butter from Montreal. A few cars of butter were being loaded here to-day for shipment to New York this week. To retailers solids and prints were both unchanged at 21c to 22c and 22c to 23c a pound, respectively. Receipts were 1,073 boxes.

Ontario cheese was unchanged at 11¾c and Quebec cheese was quoted at 11¼c to 11½c a pound. Receipts were 6,262 boxes.

Carlot prices of fresh eggs were unchanged, extras being quoted at 45c, firsts at 35c and seconds at 22c a dozen. Quotations to retailers were unchanged and receipts were 795 cases.

Quebec potatoes per 80-pound bag were quoted unchanged at 30c to 40c, and New Brunswick Cobblers were 45c to 50c, while New Brunswick Green Mountains were 50c to 55c per 80-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.— Wholesale realizing of profits on advances amounting to 9 cents a bushel from recent low levels pulled wheat prices downward yesterday. Market was also bearishly affected by surprising fluctuations in sterling exchange. An undertone of strength developed on downturns, however, a circumstance associated with reports that Germany, as well as France, is likely to make large purchases of United States Government-sponsored wheat holdings.

Wheat closed unsettled, ¼c to ⅝c lower; corn unchanged to ⅛c down; oats varying from ¼c decline to a shade advance, and provisions 5c to 12c up.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 21 —(CP).—Hogs 800; weights above 150 lbs. active; steady; lighter averages slow; 10-20 under Monday's close; bulk desirable 175-200 lbs., 5.85-6; lagrely 5.90; pigs and underweights, 5.25-5.50.

Cattle 150; mostly cows; slow; about steady; cutter grades 1.75-3; one load good steers 1,200 lbs. 8.50.

Calves 100; vealers unchanged; good to choice 10 to mostly 10.50; common and medium $6.50-$8.50.

Sheep 600; lamb trade at complete standstill; undertone weak on all grades; indications around 25c under Monday's average.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 21.—(CP)—The United Farmers Co-operative Company yesterday supplied the Canadian Press with the following quotations on produce delivered at Toronto:

Eggs, extras, doz., 39c.
Eggs, firsts, doz. 34c.
Cream churning, No. 1, lb., 18c to 20c.
Creamery buter, No. 1, solids, lb., 20½c.
Potatoes, No. 1, in bags, 37c.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 21.—(CP)—Wholesale prices on Canadian fruits and vegetables as reported to the Canadian Press by White and Co., are as follows:

Pears, 6-qt. basket, 20c to 30c.
Plums, 6-qt. basket, 25c to 30c.
Peaches, 6-qt. basket, 30c to 50c
Cucumbers, 11-qt. basket, 35c.
Tomatoes, 11-qt. bask., 25c to 40c.
Beets, 1-qt. basket, 15c.
Carrots, 11-qt. basket, 15c to 20c.
Wax beans, 11-qt. basket, 50c.
Apples, 6-qt. basket, 15c to 20c.
Cabbages, per doz., 40c.
Cooking apples, per bu., 50c to 75c
Eating apples, per bu., $1 to $1.50.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, October 21. — With one exception, wheat prices moved fractionally higher on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday. The close saw October, November, and December all slightly stronger, while May was ⅛c lower to unchanged at 61c to 61⅛c.

October closed up ⅜c at 59¼c, November ⅜c to ⅝c at 59¼c, and December ⅝c at 58⅝c.

Spasmodic constructive buying held prices buoyed in the face of Liverpool weakness and Chicago declines, though the morning high marks were reduced slightly toward the close. The price movement reflected a firm cash wheat situation in this market, and the morning quotations represented the highest value in some time of the actual wheat.

Demand for the various grades of cash wheat was indifferent, but offerings again were on the light side, and sales generally were confined to odd cars.

Jury Is Deadlocked On Foshay Verdict

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 20.—The efforts of jurors to reach a verdict in the trial of W. B. Foshay and six former business associates on mail fraud charges today entered its fifth day.

The jurors, eleven men and one woman, were informed by Federal Judge Joseph Molyneaux that he was prepared to wait a week or more if necessary, for the decision. With the panel evidently deadlocked, the trial judge said that every avenue looking toward agreement must be exhausted before he would discharge them.

The trial began eight weeks ago and each juror has pay due at the rate of $4 a day for the period.

Winter sports on Vancouver island include golf, riding, tennis, fishing and yachting. Golf has been played on Victoria courses every day in the year, a test that is possibly unique on the North American continent.

BRAZILIAN DROPS ACTIVE TRADING

Issue Shows 3-8 Loss at Midday on Montreal Exchange.

NICKEL ALSO EASES.

MONTREAL, Que., October 21 (C.P.). — Following a firm opening stock prices moved in a mixed trend on the Montreal Stock Exchange around noon to-day.

Brazilian was the active trading feature with a loss of ⅜ at 12¾ at noon. Nickel eased to 11 for a drop of ¼. Canadian Pacific was firm with a small fractinal loss at 17⅛.

Canada Northern Power made an appearance at 19½, down 2½ points from the previous sale some weeks ago. Cockshutt Plow sold up to 5 for a one point gain, and Dominion Steel and Coal B was up ¼ at 2.

Massey-Harris eased ¼ to 2. Other issues were steady at their pegged prices.

Two Barns Burned In Galt District

GALT, Ont., Oct. 21.—While police were centering their attention on the barn fire on the farm of Thomas Surerus at Greensville last night, the barn of John Betra on the sixth concession of Beverly, about ten miles northwest of Greensville, went up in smoke, the origin of which is said to be unknown.

The flames destroyed all the season's crop and 300 chickens trapped in the barn.

The loss was partly covered by insurance.

This fire was nearly opposite the barn of John Swinton, which was the first barn in the district to be destroyed by a fire said to have been started by the pyromaniac.

The Canadian Rockies, where scores of peaks rise over 10,000 feet in height, presents to the mountain-climber one of the world's most interesting and extensive fields.

WALL STREET ISSUES REGAIN EARLY MORNING LOSSES UNDER LEADERSHIP OF THE UTILITIES

Although Weakness Continues to be Felt in the Railroad Stocks.

IN ACTIVE TRADING.

Moderate Increases in Freight Rates Granted by Interstate Commerce Commission.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 21. — (CP)—The stock market refused to be downcast as result of the moderate and qualified increases in freight rates granted the railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The market was dragged down by a rather wide break in the carrier issues during the morning and speculators who had endeavored to clean up on the basis of a partial leak on the decision yesterday received burned fingers. After midday, the market started upward under leadership of the utilities. The rails rallied only partially, but several of the utilities and industrials more than regained early losses.

American and Foreign Power scon recorded a gain of 2 points, and such issues as American Can, American Telephone, U.S. Steel, Sears Roebuck and Consolidated Gas rebounded after selling off 2 to 3 points. In the rails, there were recoveries of 1 to 3 points, after losses of 4 to 8 in such issues as Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, New York Central, Baltimore and Pennsylvania. Trading grew active on the afternoon advance.

HARDY EXPLAINS PLATFORM BAN

Says Sifton Not Allowed to Speak Because of Lateness of Hour.

USED OWN JUDGMENT.

LONDON, Oct. 21 (C.P.)—Senator Arthur Hardy, chairman of the semi-public meeting last night which Harry Sifton unsuccessfully attempted to address after Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, to-day said there had been two reasons for refusing the platform to the Toronto Liberal. In the first place, the Federal leader did not finish his speech until 11.30 o'clock, said Senator Hardy, adding he thought the hour too late to permit another speaker to take the platform. Secondly, Mr. Sifton was not on the speakers' list and if one person secured permission to address the meeting, it would be difficult to refuse the same courtesy to another.

"I merely used my own judgment," added Senator Hardy.

In hotel corridors and informal gatherings, the chief topic of discussion to-day was the attack made by Mr. Sifton against Mr. King over Beauharnois, in a statement handed to the press after the meeting.

GLASGOW MAN WANTS AN ABERDEEN WIFE

Hasn't Time to Hunt One Up So Appeals to Lord Provost

Aberdeen, Scotland.—An astonishing letter has been received by Lord Provost Rust from a man in Glasgow, who describes himself as a captain and gives his full name and address.

He states that he is feeling very lonely and that he greatly desires to marry an Aberdeen girl. Owing to pressure of business he finds himself unable to visit the city to have a look round, so he has asked the Lord Provost to turn the town house into a marriage bureau for his special benefit.

He says he is 28 years of age, is of fair complexion, and has a business which brings him in a weekly income of from £10 to £15.

He adds that he would have no objection to marrying a widow.

The town clerk has formally acknowledged the letter, stating that steps have been taken to give his appeal the widest possible publicity.

PETROLEUM FIRM AT 11.

Brazilian Traction Makes Comeback While Nickel Holds Unchanged.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 21 (C.P.).—Toronto Stock Exchange Market turned stronger in the afternoon and turnover increased as stocks recovered from the morning set-back. The opening was soft with the price range lower until nearly midday, when the market firmed. The trend on the local market followed that of New York.

Oils were a standout in the afternoon, with B.A. Oil the most prominent. This issue rose to above 10, where it was nearly a point above last night. International Petroleum firmed to 11, though still slightly under last night, while Imperial showed a small gain just above 11. Turnover was comparatively heavy in the oils.

Brazilian Traction made a good comeback, rising to 13 to show a small net gain. International Nickel at the close was practically unchanged from last night, and Noranda wiped out a morning loss.

C.P.R. was firm at 16¾, about ½ point under the final of yesterday. Dominion Stores, Massey-Harris, Ford of Canada were down fractions but above their lows for the day.

HOLLINGER UP ON STANDARD

Lake Shore Recovers Early Recession to Record Gain of 25.

SISCOE IN DEMAND.

TORONTO, Ont., October 21 (C.P.). — After showing an easier tendency throughout the forenoon, prices on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange closing firm to slightly higher. General trade was dull, but attention fairly broad with lower-priced stocks showing irregular changes on end.

Lake Shore recovered an early recession and recorded a net gain of 25, while Wright-Hargreaves, Teck-Hughes, and McIntyre finished firm, and Hollinger was up 5. Noranda dipped below $15 in early sales, but rallied later to close with a small gain.

Siscoe met good demand on a favorable third quarter report and was up 3 on the day. Vickers sold up a like amount and Moss and Ribago registered small advances. McLeod River was under pressure and down 3, while recession ranging around one cent appeared in Kirkland Lake Gold and Macassa.

BRITISH EXPLORER DIES IN FAR NORTH

News Comes of Death of C. J. D'Aeth in Ungava

News has been received in England by wireless of the death on Akpatok Island, Ungava Bay, of Mr. Christopher J. D'Aeth of Liverpool, the organizer of the Oxford University expedition to the Hudson strait, north of Labrador

It is believed that Mr. D'Aeth was caught in a blizzard, lost his way and died of exposure.

Mr. D'Aeth was the originator of the expedition, of which Mr. H. Clutterbuck, an experienced arctic traveller, was the leader.

The party of 11 included biologists, botanists, a surveyor and a photographer. Mr. D'Aeth was an ornithologist. Their work had been completed.

ONTARIO LIBERALS PASS RESOLUTIONS

Danger of Third Party

"The farmers of this Province are in desperation," declared Dr. L. J. Simpson, M.L.A., Simcoe South, in moving a resolution deploring the absence of concrete agricultural policies from the Ottawa and Toronto Governments. Agricultural prices were the lowest in years and extreme dissatisfaction and unrest were noticeable among the farmers. There was a "grave danger" of a third political party appearing in the field unless the Liberals evolved some definite policy that would lift the industry from the economic slough," said Dr. Simpson.

"This meeting deplores," read another resolution passed, "the ruin which has fallen upon Canada's foreign trade with its consequent disastrous loss of business, industry and agriculture as a result of the present administration's tariff policy of excessive and prohibitory customs duties, obstructive tactics and vaccilating regulations and earnestly hopes for the re-establishment of Liberal policies of moderate and staple tariffs expanding trade and consequent property."

This resolution was sponsored by A. W. Roebuck of Toronto and R. J. Deachman of Ottawa.

Drastic Revisions

"In one year," said Mr. Deachman, "the Bennett Government made more upward revisions of the tariff than in all the history of the country. The British preference had been 'abolished by order-in-council'," declared Mr. Deachman, and in many instances United States offered Great Britain a wider preference than Canada.

Labelling the Bennett Government the "wreckers of Canada and the wreckers of national unity and progress" Mr. Deachman said lower tariffs was the only cure for Canadian and world conditions. The tariff against boots and shoes imported from Great Britain had been 17½ percent before the Bennett Government entered office. At the last session the rate was raised to 25 percent and when the regulations were adopted governing imports from Great Britain as a result of the depreciated pound, the rate shot to 40 percent.

"That means" said Mr. Deachman "a Canadian rate of 40 percent against British shoes. The United States rate is 20 percent, which means United States grants Great Britain more of a preference than Canada does."

Beating Out Train Costs Lawyer $25.60

SIMCOE, Ont., Oct. 21 (C.P.).—Because he failed to heed a watchman's signal at the Air Line C.N.R. crossing here when a train approached, Frank Wallace, Brantford barrister, was yesterday fined $10 and costs, a total of $25.60, on a reckless driving charge. His operator's permit was suspended for one day.

Wallace declared that he had ample time to make the crossing, and was 300 feet down the road when the train reached it. The watchman stated that when Wallace's vehicle passed the intersection, the train was but fourteen yards away. The incident took place at the same crossing and on the same day as that which resulted in the death of Judge Innes. Wallace has declared his intention of entering an appeal.

15 AIRPLANES

The Trans-Canada fliers have just completed a trip across the continent and back, the first time a large group of planes has ever crossed the Canadian Rockies. They have been demonstrating in all the large cities along the way. Their idea is to stimulate interest in Canadian aviation, and their visit here is expected to start things moving toward the demand for an airport, and the formation of a local flying club.

Chief Stunt Flier.

Captain Bernard Martin, who was the youngest pilot in the R.A.F. in the war, is the chief stunt flier, and he has made a name for himself in crazy air manoeuvres throughout the country. He will start the show off by taking a thrilling night flight over the city Friday evening, shooting off fireworks in the sky.

Mr. Foss said yesterday that at these pageants, the action is similar to a vaudeville show, one act following another, with no time lost. The shows each day will start at two o'clock, and run two and a half hours. Besides the exhibitions, the stunting, and the trick flying seen, anyone may go up for a flight by regular passenger pilots.

dlars were operating from coast to cosat in Canada. He said he spoke from a wide knowledge of his subject, which he had studied over a period of years.

"More than 50 per cent of the dope addicts," he also stated, "form the habit before their are 15 years of age. And then, relating how children first became acquainted with the habit of drug taking, he cited cases of fiendish dope peddlars who visit high schools in recess and distribute dope to students.

"Why are these peddlars after children?" he asked. It was because children would try anything once, and they only needed to try dope once to acquire the habit.

He further alleged that a large percentage of bandits were dope addicts, and that he could give facts that would keep his audience awake at nights concerning the manner in which girl dope addicts sold themselves body and soul, to provide the means of buying dope.

"I have never given an address in one town in Ontario," was another startling statement he made, "where I have not come across dope addicts."

Legislation Needed

He was of the firm conviction that a demand should be made to the Department of Education to insist that literature on the subject should be distributed in the schools of the Province and Dominion. He thought also that there was a demand for a Government institution for the reclamation of dope addicts.

Legislation was also badly needed giving magistrates and courts wider powers in the infliction of penalties on dope traffickers, whom he described as nothing less than murderers.

"What is the use", he demanded, "of singing 'O Canada, We Stand On Guard for Thee', if we are not prepared to stand on guard for Canada. "It is our duty to get after these poor human derelicts. That is merely applied Christianity".

Morning Session

The morning session opened with devotional exercises and a sermon by the Rev. J. H. Olmstead of London. The subject of his striking address was "The Son Incarnate".

The Rev. H. McDiarmid of Toronto reported for the Credentials Committee in the absence of the chairman of that committee. The duties of the committee have now been merged with those of the Ordination Committee.

The report of the Stewardship Committee was presented by the secretary of the committee W. C. Senior.

The personal appeal to the whole membership of the church in an effort to secure regular weekly contributions, met with a good response. From a questionaire sent to the churches reports were received of canvasses being undertaken in 119 churches".

Many of the churches were carrying heavy debts, the report stated, some of them, having special obligations to meet, while all the churches had increasing local demands to consider. In face of all this however, the offerings to the Boards had not been decreased. The fact was they had been considerably increased.

The committee expressed the opinion that the personal, individual work through the "Every Member Canvass' and the larger use of the "Weekly Offering Envelopes", had had much to do with the increase.

Tabled in the report were the names of 413 churches, comprising 55,000 members and contributing this year, $148,831.05 to the Convention Budget. The total amount contributed during the year by the twenty churches of Peterborough Baptist Association (not including contributions from Sunday schools, circles and bands or B.Y.P.U.) was $4,685.71.

Best Year On Record

Dr. C. H. Schutt moved the adoption of the report, stating the past year was one of the best financial years on record in view of the economic conditions.

He paid eloquent tribute to the work of Mr. Senior who is retiring from service as secretary to the board after fifteen years service in that capacity.

The adoption of the report was seconded by Dr. George T. Webb of Toronto.

Rev. Dr. H. E. Stillwell, foreign mission secretary read an address from the members of the convention to Mr. Senior expressing the regret of the convention at the resignation from the Mission Board on account of ill-health, and appreciation of his services in various capacities for a number of years.

Dr. Stillman intimated that the address was to be engraved and bound and presented to Mr. Senior at some future date in Toronto, where he has served with devotion and efficiency as Sunday School superintendent in Century Baptist Church for a full score of years.

Mr. Senior overcome with emotion rose to reply and the whole assembly rose with him in tribute of respect.

In the motion of Rev. G. M. Holmes of Lindsay, the address to Mr. Senior is to be published in the "Canadian Baptist", for which journal Mr. Holmes is reporting the proceedings of the conference.

Social Service Board

The work of the social service board during the year was ably outlined by Alexander Stark, secretary to the board. He spoke of the work performed outside the Baptist denomination in cooperation with other churches and social service organizations, which he described as a very important phase of the work.

Referring to the unemployment situation which presented the Board with one of the most difficult problems, he said in part:

Unemployment seemed to your board, to form the most pressing and the most baneful of social problems this year, and it has been to unemployment that most attention has been given. Your board has played an active part in the formation and operation of the Unemployment Research Committee of Ontario, and it is felt that much practical good will be accomplished by the work of this body.

The committee developed from a sub-committee of the Community Welfare Council of Ontario. But as the importance of the work developed, it was felt wise to place it entirely on its own feet, and its personnel consists solely of public-spirited citizens.

The committee has no specific panacea to advocate. It is committed to no creed or dogma of solution. It has no connection with the program of any political party. It exists merely to further honest, non-partisan and scientific inquiry. Its findings will be of inestimable service to those who must formulate and administer policies designed to ameliorate or solve the problem of unemployment.

Since the most immediate phase of the problem is that of meeting the present emergency with the provision of relief for the unemployed, the committee undertook as its first task to make a fact-finding survey of unemployment relief in certain selected Ontario cities.

Dr. M. F. McCutcheon, chairman of the board, said he felt it would help their work along if they committed themselves to definite principles and ideals in harmony with the Gospel of Christ in regard to their social service work.

He referred to unemployment as one of the most crucial questions, and the question of armaments as something that threatened the peace of the world. He would like to see the churches take a definite stand on these and other vital issues.

The financial report of the board presented by R. D. Warren, general treasurer, showed a credit balance of $145.43 as at September 30, 1931.

The Rev. M. C. McLean and Mr. Carl Farmer were re-elected to the Social Service Board, while the Rev. George T. Webb was elected as a new member to the board.

between Japan and China in Manchuria.

Moscow's deep interest in the Japanese occupation of parts of Southern Manchuria is unconcealed but thus far no official expression has been given to Russia's position in the affair, notwithstanding the realization that Russia's economic interests may become involved.

Observers agree that the Soviet Union is much too occupied with its own gigantic task of industrialization to desire any interruption which participation in the Manchurian situation might entail.

On the other hand, Japan's ownership of valuable Soviet coal and oil concessions in Sakhalin give rise to a belief in some quarters that Japan has very definite reasons to protect Russia's interests in Manchuria, including the Chinese Eastern Railway.

For these reasons no one here believes reports published abroad that Russian troops are being concentrated on the Manchurian border and these reports have been denied officially.

Meanwhile, the Japanese Ambassador has conferred frequently with the Soviet Government officials and at the same time the Soviet press is making vigorous attacks on what it calls Japan's Imperialistic designs in Manchuria.

MEMBERS OF LAKEFIELD W.M.S. PUT ON PROGRAM AT WARSAW

Several Fine Addresses Are Given on Interesting Subjects.

LUNCHEON SERVED.

WARSAW, Oct. 21 (Examiner Correspondence)—The postponed W.M.S. of the United Church was held in the Sunday school room at 2.30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. George Taylor was in the chair for the opening exercises. No business was done as group C, convenor Mrs. Thomas Cooper had arranged for the Knox Church Lakefield W.M.S. to come and give the program.

Mrs. Taylor welcomed the visitors and Mrs. Porter president of Lakefield branch took the chair. "Zion's King Shall Come," was sung. Chapter 13 of first Corinthians was read by Mrs. Porter. Mrs. Burgess offered prayer. Mrs. Bell sang "Jesus knows and cares." Mrs. Wesley gave a talk on power and work. She spoke of the things done by electricity and other power every day. And added we must think of the little things of our every day lives. Power from God is needed every day to enable us to say "I can." It is possible to do many things if we say "I can," where we would utterly fail if we nursed the idea "I can't."

W.M.S. means hard work, but it is the greatest work God has given us to do. Any one who belongs to the "I can't" class does harm. Even if shy and nervous we can overcome it by prayer, which gives power. We can go to church, and have the family go. We need to read the Bible and pray.

Foreign Field

Hymn, "We have heard a joyful sound was sung" and Mrs. W. Charlton gave a talk on conditions of the foreign field. We are thankful there are some to go, and obey Christ's command, "Go ye into all the world, but we sorrow because there are not enough. We forget dense populations of the other lands. Though there seem to be many missionaries, there are very few for the populations, and in some places, as in Persia, and South America one may go six hundred miles and find none. We fought the lepers, the blind, the 75 per cent of babies that die, the six year old children who work ten and twelve hours a day under overseers with a lash. Christ has called us to be co-workers.

Mrs. Charles Tanner led in prayer and Mrs. Bell sang "Thy Kingdom come."

Woman's place in Home

Mrs. Porter gave a few thoughts on woman's place in the home. Among them were that women seem generally to be the main factor in teaching the children in the home, in spiritual as in other homes. Sometimes it does happen the father is the more spiritually minded, but the ideal home is what father and mother work together. The idea of striving too much to save money for the children is sometimes carried too far. Religion must run through all in the home. Child is impressed wrongly if the mother loses her patience. An eye should be kept on school companions. Later comes community life, it is perhaps more dangerous. Mothers should band together to see that community life is clean, and healthy. Church life is very important. Then the speaker put in a very strong plea for furtherance of world peace, and for temperance.

Mrs. Burgess read a letter in which members were reminded of the prayer, the necessity of learning the names of missionaries, where stationed and their work, and the privilege of giving to missions.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Porter. The ladies of the group served refreshments, and a very pleasant time was spent as most of the Lakefield ladies were known to many of the Warsaw ones.

The ladies from Lakefield were: Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Wesley, Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. C. Tanner, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. W. Charlton, Miss Frankish, Mrs. Rose and Miss Young.

Those who served the refreshments were Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Mrs. G. Clements, Mrs. H. Dewart, Miss Charlotte Dewart, Mrs. O. B. McIlvena.

Mrs. John Sargent attended the sectional W.M.S. in Norwood on Wednesday afternoon and gave a talk on temperance.

Warsaw school children numbering about thirty went to the Plowing Match on Thursday afternoon in Joseph's Tedford's truck. The three teachers went also.

Trevor Watts, William Hayes and Alec Carlow are to be congratulated on winning the prizes they did.

Royal Newsboy

This youngster has the proud position of newsboy to the Royal Family. Each day, laden with copies of all London newspapers the lad skates to Buckingham Palace. At the gate of the home of King George and Queen Mary, he removes his rollers, parks them, and delivers the news of the day.

Norfolk, Essex and Kent, chief tobacco-growing counties in Ontario, planted over 40,000 acres to the weed this year, and the crop in Norfolk alone is estimated at 16,000,000 pounds.

"I'M going, anyway"

THE modern Miss needs no "time out" for the time of month.

If you've ever taken Aspirin for a headache, you know how soon the pain subsides. It is just as effective in the relief of those pains peculiar to women!

Don't dedicate certain days of every month to suffering. It's old-fashioned. It's unnecessary. Aspirin will always enable you to carry-on in comfort. Take enough to assure your complete comfort. If it is genuine Aspirin it cannot possibly hurt you. Aspirin tablets do not depress the heart. They do not upset the stomach. They do nothing but stop the pain.

Headaches come at inconvenient times. So do colds. But a little Aspirin will always save the day. A throat so sore that you can hardly swallow is made comfortable with one good gargle made from these tablets. Neuralgia. Neuritis. Rheumatism. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking a few of these remarkable tablets. So are the little nagging aches that bring fatigue and "nerves" by day, or a sleepless night.

Genuine Aspirin tablets cost so very little after all, that it doesn't pay to experiment with imitations!

Dark Prophecies —All Were Wrong

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 20 (AP) "They were all wrong" is the heading over a handbill reviewing gloomy prophecies of other days, being distributed in London. Here they are:

William Pitt said: "There is scarcely anything around us but ruin and despair."

Wilberforce in the early 1800's said: "I dare not marry, the future is so dark and unsettled."

Lord Grey, in 1819, said he believed "everything is tending to a convulsion."

The Duke of Wellington on the eve of his death, in 1851 thanked God he would "be spared from seeing the consummation of ruin that is gathering about us."

Disraeli (1849): 'In industry, commerce and agriculture there is no hope."

Queen Adelaide said she "had only one desire, to play the part of Marie Antoinette with bravery in the revolution that was coming on England."

Lord Shaftesbury (1848): "Nothing can save the British Empire from shipwreck."

But, concludes the circular, "We came through all right, and shall do so again."

EDWARD LESLIE IS FATALLY HURT BY HEAVY WAGON

Front Wheels of Tank Wagon Pass Over Body of 16-Year-Old Boy.

ENGAGED AS TANK MAN

Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young Orders Inquest for Thursday Night.

Falling from his seat on a tank wagon, while employed in the capacity of tank boy with a threshing outfit on the farm of George Howden, Chemong road, Edward Leslie, 16, received injuries to which he succumbed shortly after his admission to Nicholls Hospital early yesterday afternoon.

Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young who conducted an inquiry into the circumstances attending the tragedy has ordered an inquest to be held on Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Police Court.

According to The Examiner's informant the victim of the fatality was employed as tank boy by R. N. Scott of Chemong Road, owner of the threshing outfit. While taking the tank from the barn to the field the boy was sitting on top on a piece of wood and a cushion. While going down a grade the wood commenced to slip, and shouting a precautionary word to his team Leslie fell to the ground. The front wheels of the wagon passed over his body and the tank came to rest with the boy's body resting between the front and back wheels.

Witnesses of the accident immediately removed the body and rendered what aid they could to the injured boy. Meanwhile Dr. G. R. Scott was summoned and the boy was conveyed to hospital, where he passed away shortly after admission.

Dr. Scott stated that Leslie was suffering from internal injuries and died from shock and loss of blood.

The threshing outfit was in charge of Ernest Scott, who had with him as engineer, Caleb Millen. The boy had been employed with the outfit for the past two weeks and is described by Mr. Scott as having been a good worker.

The deceased boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Leslie of 403 Park Hill Road, this city. He also leaves one sister, Helen, at home. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 9 a.m. from D. Belleghem and Sons Funeral Home to Warsaw cemetery.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough due to a cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a 16 oz. bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make 16 ounces. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest medicinal agents for severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

ST. JOHN'S LEAGUE OPENING MEETING

Campbellford Young People Start Season's Activities With Citizenship Night.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 21.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent.)—The first meeting of the fall season of St. Johns United Church Young People's League was held on Monday evening in the church hall when a good attendance of young folks was registered and enjoyed a very happy and profitable evening. Miss Velma Runnells as the president occupied the chair.

The meeting was in two parts, the first session being given over to a short worship service, the talk being on "Little Things Made Great."

The last half of the program was given over to a Citizenship hour under the leadership of Lorne Scott. This included vocal solos by Miss Emma Meiklejohn, Albert Hazel and a saxaphone duet by Fred Dorie and Ronald Richardson, this demanding an encore.

At the conclusion of the program League games were played and a delightful lunch was served, cafeteria style, England, Canada, Japan and China being well represented by Gladys Stephens, Elsie Connor, Jerrine Malcolm, Florence Bibby, Nettie Ford, Merwin Malcolm, Lorn Scott and Vernon Abernethy, who were gaily costumed for the occasion.

LODGE OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED

Lindsay Rebekahs Journey to Havelock to Conduct Ceremony—Guest Honored

EDUCATIONAL WEEK.

HAVELOCK, Oct. 21.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Deputy-President Mrs. Davidson and her staff, all of Lindsay, were present in Havelock on Thursday evening last for the purpose of installing the newly elected officers of Havelock Dorcas Rebekahs in their various chairs.

The installation, which was conducted with a guard of honor consisting of eight of the visiting members, was faultlessly done and drew warm praise from the local members.

Afterwards Mrs. Davidson was presented with a beautiful silver flower basket, for which she expressed appreciation in a few well chosen words. Following are the newly installed officers:

Junior past noble grand, Mrs. Steve McQuigge; noble grand, Mrs. George Iles; vice grand, Mrs. M. Sexsmith; financial secretary, Mrs. Joseph Little; treasurer, Mrs. Jas. Diaper; recording secretary, Mrs. W. Woodbeck; R.S.N.G., Mrs. R. Green; L.S.N.G., Mrs. Roy Campney; R.S.V.G., Mrs. J. Wilde; L.S.N.G., Etta Crawford; chaplain, Mrs. A. McColl; pianist, Mrs. R. McCutcheon; inside guardian, Madeleine Armstrong; outside guard, Mrs. D. O. Post.

After the installation and brief addresses, a very pleasant evening was spent in progressive euchre and bridge, the first prize for euchre being won by Mrs. Easterbrooke and first prize for bridge won by one of the visitors from Lindsay. Afterwards a very dainty lunch was served.

The Ladies' Aid of St. John's (Anglican) Church served a sumptuous hot supper to over two hundred persons on Friday evening, when everything that goes into the making of a real meal was provided by the members themselves. This is an annual event in the church, and the ladies have won an enviable reputation for excellent home baking and all kinds of good things. All the regular patrons were present, and those who had to wait for the second table were entertained by Miss Jean Anderson, who gave a splendid organ recital.

Maple and oak trees all over the county are now in the full beauty of yellow, gold, orange, red, brown and green tints, and rejoice the heart of beauty-lovers wherever they be. Even the most prosaic person in the world cannot look upon such beauty unmoved. Perhaps never before have the trees attained to such perfection, the mild September and early October weather contributing in no small degree to their beauty. Wherever one turns there is real beauty. A leisurely drive along almost any highway or side road, with eyes opened to the beauty all around, especially in the morning or early afternoon, is a real treat. The variegated shades of the hardwood bush or single maple trees in close proximity to the stately beauty of the evergreen trees, which rise like cathedral spires, is beyond description, and those who have ont taken a walk or a drive and beheld their beauty will be well advised to do so before all this beauty has vanished. All too soon the cold rains and strong winds will set in, and the fleeting beauty of the leaves be gone. Before this happens get out into the woods or fields and enjoy the loveliness that is all around.

This week is education week in the Public School here, and parents of children in the local school have received written invitations to pay a visit to the school-rooms any day between three and four o'clock. A number of the mothers accepted the invitations and were present in the school-rooms Monday afternoon at the appointed hour.

Obituary

SAMUEL ARTHUR TUCKER

ROSENEATH, Oct. 21 (Examiner Correspondence)—The earthly pilgrimage of Samuel Arthur Tucker of this village came to a close on Thanksgiving morn, Oct. 14th, when his spirit took its flight to the realm of eternal day.

The end, while not unexpected came peacefully and well fitted the quiet life and deep strong character of Mr. Tucker whose death will be mourned by friends and citizens who looked to him as guide, counsellor and friend.

Not only in the village did Mr. Tucker serve so willingly and cheerfully, but for many years he was a faithful worker in the former Methodist and later the United Church of Canada.

The late Arthur Tucker was born January 23rd, 1860 in Haldimand Township, and in the year 1888, he married Miss Annie Brisbin of Alnwick township, who still survives him. Previous to their coming to reside in the village of Roseneath, they owned and worked a farm about two and a half miles from the village.

The funeral which was held on Wednesday afternoon and notwithstanding the very inclement weather a large number of friends and neighbors, many of them from distant places, turned out to pay their last respects.

The service at the house and graveside was conducted by the Rev. R. W. Paton, M.A., of the Roseneath United Church who was a close friend of the deceased man and in all sincerity gave a brief address, from the words, "And there was no more sea." Revelation 21, verse 1.

Many floral tributes paid silent but beautiful homage to the loved memory of the dead, among them were noticed tributes from the United Church, The Sabbath school, the Bible Class.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. M. D. Brown, C. Lockhart, W. Arnold, C. D. Harper, F. and E. Brisbin.

He is survived by his lonely widow and three sons, Leslie of Prelate, Sask.; Ernest of Traynor, Sask.; and Albert of Roseneath.

Interment in the family plot at Bethany (Macklin's) cemetery.

MRS. A. W. H. DOYLE

MARMORA, Oct. 21 (Examiner Correspondence).—On Monday of this week, Mrs. A. W. H. Doyle of St. Catharines passed away suddenly. She was born in Marmora, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wellington McWilliams. For about thirteen years the deceased lady resided in Peterborough before moving to St. Catharines nine years ago. She is survived by her husband and three daughters, Mrs. J. J. Cooke, Trenton, and formerly of Peterborough; Mrs. William Vrooman, Galt, and Mrs. Edward Sutton, Buffalo; also two sisters, Mrs. U. Pinner of Marmora, and Mrs. Edward Sutton of Buffalo. She was a lifelong member of the Anglican Church. Upon the arrival of the eastbound train at Bonarlaw on Wednesday, the cortege proceeded to St. Paul's Church for service, with interment following in Marmora Protestant Cemetery. The rector, Rev. A. B. Caldwell officiated.

About three-fourths of Canada's apples are grown in two provinces, British Columbia and Nova Scotia.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Trent River Friends of Miss Isabel Cook Are Entertained.

TRENT RIVER, Oct. 20.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Miss Isabel Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cook, celebrated her tenth birthday Saturday when she entertained a number of her girl friends for the afternoon. The time was spent in playing games, indoors, on account of the inclement weather. Dainty refreshments were served at the tea hour. The following guests were present: Mrs. Ridley Wood and grandchildren, Genevieve and Irene; Helen Brown; Vaughan Brown; Jirene Brown; Betty Ormiston. Other friends received invitations but were unable to come owing to weather conditions.

SOMETIMES WE ARE Surprised

BUT we try not to show it . . . This time a husband said his wife was arriving in 10 minutes, and could we help him arrange a surprise dinner party for her? Here was a list of 12 guests . . . would we telephone them and "fix things up" while he dashed to meet his wife at the station? There were 14 at that dinner . . . and his wife was really surprised!

It's our belief that a hotel should do more than have large, airy rooms, comfortable beds, spacious closets. Beyond that, we daily try to meet the surprise situation (without surprise), no matter what the guest wants.

Just 2 minutes from Detroit . . . across the street from the Windsor opening of the Detroit tunnel . . . stands The Prince Edward Hotel. Here you enjoy all the conveniences of a metropolitan hotel . . . with Canadian privileges. DROUGHT AREA IN CANADIAN WEST DESCRIBED TO BAPTIST GATHERING BY WESTERN MISSION SECRETARY marked by intense enthusiasm, and a business-like dispatch of all matters on the agenda.

Opening Sermon

The meeting opened with a sermon preached by the Rev. J. S. La Flair of Woodstock who took as his theme "Providence of God."

He pointed out that in all the opening devotional exercises at the convention, it was desired to bring before the assembly some of the outstanding attributes of God. Already he remarked we have thought of the love of God, and of the Holiness of God, and at this, the opening of the third period he wished to think of the Providence of God.

The annual report of the Western Mission Board was presented by the Rev. H. Elmer Green of Ossington Church, Toronto, and secretary of the Board.

The adoption of the report was moved by the Rev. Dr. C. B. Freeman of Kingston, chairman of the Board who spoke of the increased number of baptisms in the west. In 1931 baptisms amounted in all to 1,259 and the prospects for the present year were greater still. Baptisms from non-English churches outbalanced those from English churches.

In view of the serious situation obtaining in the west, he urged the necessity of the Eastern churches assuming greater financial obligations regarding the missionary and relief work in Western Canada. He discussed the importance of contributions from individual churches for the Western Relief Fund.

Better Times At Hand

The Rev. W. Daniel, B.A., Mount Dennis, vice chairman of the Board in seconding the adoption of the report, said he wished to express the belief that the Eastern and Western portions of Canada would be drawn closer together out of the present trouble. "I have faith to believe that better times are at hand," he said. He was, he said, judging from the community in which he worked. He could vision a great spiritual revival and an entrance upon better times in Canada.

R. D. Warren, general treasurer of the board in presenting the financial statement for the year ending September 30, 1931 showed a bank balance of $151.33. The total receipts for the year were $19,900.35 including a bank balance on hand as at 1st October 1930 of $217.79, while the total disbursements for the year were $19,749.02.

The appointment of three regular and two special members to the Board was proceeded with, to fill the vacancies caused by the expiration of the term of D. D. Gray, Rev. A. P. McDonald, and Rev. H. E. Green, and by the resignation from the board of the Rev. J. M. Smith and Holland Pettitt, the former owing to his removal from the boundaries of the convention and the latter for personal reasons. The election resulted as follows: Dr. H. H. Bingham, Rev. Elmer Green and D. Gray; also Rev. A. P. McDonald, Rev. Dougald Brown.

Rev. W. C. Smalley, general secretary of Western Missions, said: "You have been hearing a great deal about world depression and particularly as it applies to Western Canada."

He referred to the mistake of making general statements of the condition. "As far as the West is concerned, this year we have had good crops, bad crops and no crops at all, according to the district of which you are thinking."

Speaking particularly of the drought area in Southern Saskatchewan and which extends into portions of Manitoba and Alberta, he said, the desolation had to be seen to be realized. He described this area as a desert, with a large portion overgrown with thistles which is the only available fodder. "Thistleing," instead of haying, was a new word that had been coined in this section of the West.

No Money for Gasoline

He spoke of farmers without money for gasoline with which to fuel their automobiles, mentioning one farmer he knew who took the engine from his car, fixed a wagon tongue to it and converted his car into a buggy.

"There is evidence of spiritual results coming from out of the present depression," he remarked, citing numerous incidents in support of his statement in regard to increased baptisms and a growing fervour in the churches. "From a spiritual standpoint we have had a great year." The speaker remarked, however, that financially things concerning the church in the West were in a bad way.

He spoke of a farmer who took twelve dozen eggs into town and tried to trade them in. The storekeeper offered him a pound of tea in exchange. He would not take it. The speaker, in discussing the matter with this man asked him what he did with the eggs. He replied that he took them home and eat them and drank water to wash them down. "What a wonderful display of spirit," exclaimed the speaker.

Speaking of the immediate needs of the people in the drought area, Mr. Smalley said food was not so much in demand as clothing.

He read a letter from a Baptist church in the drought area, where automobiles are being drawn by horses; where thistles are being used as hay, and where the populace is utilizing the old clothes from their depleted wardrobes, with which to clothe themselves.

The letter gave evidence of a remarkable spirit of heroism in the face of difficult circumstances. "Our trust is in God," was one of the phrases in the letter.

In spite of the depression and distress, he remarked that contributions to missionary work in the West showed a decided increase over previous years.

Numerous questions were asked of Mr. Smalley by delegates concerning the shipping of food and clothing to the distressed areas of the West.

Home Mission Report

Dr. C. H. Schutt, superintendent of Home Missions, in presenting the report of this board, drew attention to the work that had been performed during the past year in evangelism, conversions, and the feeding of the needy. Baptisms for the year in the Home Mission Field surpassed that of any previous year. "In spite of hard times and unemployment," he stated, "we have pastors in charge of all our churches."

Referring to the finances of the Board, he said it was the second best year in all their history in the Home Missions Field.

He explained a deficit of $13,500, and spoke of savings that were to be effected in the present year without throwing the burden upon pastors or their churches.

"There is a call to sacrifice for the sake of the church and perishing men. We have had our prosperous times. We are now having our times of hardship. Prices are low. Money is scarce. Many are out of work. Everywhere wages are being reduced. Churches are finding collections lower, and missionary revenues are also threatened. Shall the cause of Christ suffer? Not if we are willing to follow in his steps. God help us to sacrifice together for the sake of Canada, the World, Christ and our Baptist Cause."

A Coincidence

The Rev. J. R. Webb of Kitchener, vice-chairman of the board and former pastor of Murray Street Church, in moving the adoption of the report, remarked upon a coincidence. Fifty years ago at the Baptist Convention at Montreal, the Rev. A. H. Munro, also a former pastor of Murray Street Church, rose to perform a similar duty, he observed.

He paid eloquent and sincere tribute to the members of the Home Mission Board, referring to them as a magnificent body of "statesmen." The motion was seconded by D. D. Gray of Ottawa.

A resolution was passed on the motion of Rev. J. R. Webb, seconded by Rev. Leichliter, authorizing the Home Mission Board to apply for a period of five years, the interest arising from the Parsonage Fund, in paying off the principal of the sums owing by the board to the several funds administered by it, or to the Church Edifice Board, as the case may be.

The following were elected to the Home Mission Board in the place of those who automatically retire this term: Rev. H. B. Coumans, Dr. Albert Matthews, and Rev. G. A. Leichliter.

"The Missionary Spirit," was the topic of an interesting and inspirational address delivered at the close of the session by the Rev. P. P. W. Zieman, B.D., of Ottawa.

He spoke of Jesus' commission to the disciples to go out into the world with the message of the Gospel. Christ, he averred, was the founder of the missionary spirit. The history of Christianity may well be called "The Tale of Three Cities"—Jerusalem, Rome and Antioch. No church in the world had a greater task in hand than the church of Antioch, which pushed forth the missionary spirit. Paul heard the call and pushed on, but he was not alone in the dissemination of Christianity. "The early church was evangelistic and missionary in spirit, and the world was won by the missionary zeal of those humble followers of Christ, who worshipped secretly in the catacombs, but who went forth to speak to others of their religious experiences. They were inbued with the real missionary spirit.

Coming back to present - day facts, he spoke of the great task of "selling" the missionary idea. He wondered why so many men thought missionaries a mere feministic proclivity, and expressed a longing for a return of the missionary spirit that dominated the early church. "The spirit of missions," he contended, "was one of the outlying principals of Christianity. The missionary spirit comes as a result of the belief in the sovereignty of Christ. We will have the missionary spirit if we take Christ seriously."

AT TRENT RIVER.

TRENT RIVER, Oct. 21.—(Examiner Correspondence).—There was a large and appreciative congregation gathered Sunday afternoon to hear a helpful and inspiring address from Rev. A. E. Moorehouse of St. James United Church, Peterborough. The order of service was as follows: Invocation in which the congregation repeated "The Lord's Prayer"; hymn, "Unto the Hills"; prayer; selection by choir; Psalm 24 read responsively; hymn, "O Lord Of Heaven."

Rev. Mr. Moorehouse chose his text from Psalm 37, verse 25: "I have not seen the righteous forsaken nor his seed begging bread," the minister advised his hearers to think over their life. Its a wonderful world in which to live, there may be dark clouds, religion never makes a man look sour or dull. Job wasn't forsaken. In the life of the Apostle Paul in real hardship Paul said: "God is love." The word inspires us to do righteously on account of eternal blessings; most of us want to be rich—that's the great difficulty, we are envious of the rich and we get discouraged. These are difficult days in many places just now, with one thought to get money. Oh, who hasn't met with difficult days? The kind of faith we need "Trust in the Lord." Brought in a Christian home we need never go hungry. God didn't forsake Saul. Don't be afraid to encourage men and women to put their trust in God. Keep the children in the church no matter how long the sermon. We need in this day to cut out a lot of things. The speaker said he had been in difficulties and asked the Lord to lead him out and "O wondrous lead."

The closing hymn "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go."

H. Oliver, M.A., D.D., Moderator of the United Church, spoke.

Efficiency League is cancelled for Friday night owing to the oratorical contest being held at the school house.

Rev. D. M. Stinson of Enterprise will take charge of the service Sunday afternoon, October 25. Rev. S. A. Kemp will preach anniversary services at Enterprise.

Rev. S. A. Kemp preached at the morning service at St. James United Church at Peterborough Sunday.

Centreton

A happy event took place on Thanksgiving Day when twenty-five relatives of Mrs. Eliza McBride met at her home to celebrate her birthday. Mrs. McBride is in her 84th year, and still blessed with good health and able to take an active part in helping her daughter about the home.

She still takes an active part in the conversation with callers. She is always ready to sympathize with those in trouble.

All her relatives had supper and spent the evening with her, all receiving a piece of the pretty decorated birthday cake. Mrs. McBride received telegrams of congraulations and many gifts from Vancouver, Calgary, Mount Green, Sask., Winnipeg, Hamilton, Lindsay, Rochester, San Bernadino, Cal. Mrs. McBride lives with her daughters, Misses Georgenia and Jean. Other living members of the family are, Miss T C. McBride, Winnipeg; Mrs. M Welton, Winnipeg; Mrs. A. Tamont, Edmonton; Mrs. John Honeywell, Mrs. Charles Blogett, Mr Stanley and John R. of Centreton

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Camel, Puslinch spent Tuesday with the latter's sister, Mrs. J. Merriam.

The Y.P.S. met on Tuesday night to plan for the Hallowe'en social to be held on Friday, Oct. 30th at 8 p.m.

Mr. Kay, Newark and Mr. M Creighton, Eddystone were guests a the home of Mrs. Eliza McBride on Sunday.

The members of the Ladies Aid held a quilting in the S.S. hall on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. E. Short and sons Billie and Jack, Oshawa spent Thanksgiving with Mr. T. Milgate and family.

Millbrook

Grace Presbyterian Church withdrew its evening service on Sunday October 18, because of the anniversary occasion in Saint Andrew's United Church, the pastor, Rev. H R Williams, leading in the opening prayer in the sister church and taking his place on the pulpit platform with the special preacher for the day, Rev. S. T. Tucker, B.A., B.D; of Dorchester, and the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D.

Colonel, the Honorable E. H. Kenney, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, with his cousin, Mrs. F. W. Burnham, and Mr. Burnham, of Peterborough were guests of Mrs. (Dr.) E. L. Burnham on Saturday at the noon hour.

Rev. S. T. Tucker, of Dorchester formerly pastor of the Millbrook circuit, who preaches anniversary sermons in Saint Andrew's Church on Sunday was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Burnham over the week-end and of Reeve and Mrs. Stinson at the tea hour on Sunday.

Miss Flossie McMahon, of Toronto spent the holiday week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. McMahon

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lounsbury, of Rochester, N.Y. were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reid for a few days last week, remaining over Sunday.

The W.A. of Grace Presbyterian Church will hold its October meeting at the home of Mrs. J. D Armstrong, Fourth Line, Cavan, on Wednesday, October 21, at 2.30 p.m.

Rev. S. C. Moore, B.A., B.D., of Oshawa who preached anniversary sermons at the Zion Church last Sunday was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hamilton during his stay in the vicinity.

Whooping-cough has been a comparatively light epidemic in the village and vicinity in recent weeks, the number of cases now growing less and few new ones reported.

BAR INCREASING OF FREIGHT RATE

U. S. Railroads Face New and Untried Proposals of State Commission.

MUST ACCEPT PLAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Flatly denied permission to raise freight rates 15 per cent, United States railways have before them new and untried interstate commerce commission proposals for pooling monies derived from surcharges on freight bills to aid the less prosperous lines.

The railroads were left with no apparent alternative but to accept the plan. They were told by the commission their 15 per cent proposal would be harmful to themselves because of the growing use of trucks and pipe-lines. Their executives were directed to submit a plan for handling the pool by December 1 and were informed it could not operate longer than Mar. 31, 1933.

The spectacular effort of the carriers, as a whole, was brought to a startling conclusion with announcement late yesterday of the commission proposal. Railroad men and attorneys had scoffed at the plan when shippers suggested it at hearings. It was unworkable, they said. The commission, however, today asserted it was workable.

List Outlined

At the same time the commission outlined the commodities on which it would permit surcharges and the amount of those surcharges. They were limited to a maximum of 10 per cent. Some commodities, including coal, ores of all kinds and forest products were limited to $3 a carload; some others to $6 a car and still others to one and two cents a 100 pounds. Major farm products—including wheat, corn, cotton, livestock, and most fresh fruits—are not to be levied against further.

The commission disclaimed any responsibility for keeping the income of the railroads up to the requirements of the New York and other state laws for investment purposes.

A yield from the surcharge plan of between $100,000,000 and $125,000,000 annually on the basis of present traffic was estimated by the commission. This would be pooled and the needs of the carriers unable to earn interest on their bonds cared for. Then the remainder would be returned to the more prosperous roads on the basis of the amounts paid in.

IDEAL COOKING; NO HEAT LOSSES

Northern Electric - Gurney Range Has Many Special Features.

AND NEW DESIGN

In recent years the electrical industry has presented to the world a succession of increasingly efficient and useful apliances and it would seem that the personnel of this tremendous organization is forever occupied with the development of devices which are amazing in their adaptability to the problems of the housewife. Meticulous care and precision in every principle of design manifests itself to a greater greater degree as each new development in electrical appliances is announced.

This week at the DeBoth Cooking School operating under the auspices of the Examiner, Miss Claire Andree, internationally famous Home Economist, is holding the interest of thousands of women with cooking demonstrations which make the culinary art seem simple as A.B.C. In the course of these demonstrations, Miss Andree is making use of the Northern Electric-Gurney Electric Range, and the consistently successful recipes which are produced for the huge gatherings of women at the Grand Opera House, are proof positive of the high efficiency and improvement of design embodied in this new model Electric Range.

One of the main features which guarantee the success of every recipe placed in the Gurney oven, is the exclusive feature of insulation against heat loss in the new Northern Electric-Gurney. Heat units are conserved and positively even distribution of heat is assured by the honeycombed asbestos insulation which completely surrounds the one-piece Armco iron oven lining.

When the specially shaped door is closed on the Gurney oven, a plug like fit is attained and heat losses completely guarded against. A slow receding heat, which as we all know is the ideal cooking condition, is thus acquired, and it is possible with this new type of oven to do a great percentage of the day's cooking with the switches or current turned off. Of course the oven is pre-heated before the recipes are placed in the interior, but under actual test it has been found that this type of insulation and design will provide a cooling time of approximately 7 hours after the heat has been turned off.

Superspeed elements on the cooking surface are a noted feature of the new Northern Electric-Gurney model, and a surprising economy is effected by the totally cast-in burners due to the fact that the heat is stored up in the cast plates, and after the first cooking or boiling has been completed on these burners, subsequent boilings, etc., may be accomplished in truly amazingly short time and much less current is required to complete the cooking. These elements are controlled by an entirely new design of electric switch which is of the toggle type action, and long life free of trouble is assured in the new switch due to the fact that mechanism is used in the operation of the switch which is practically the equal of three switches in one. A separate and individual spring mechanism is operated for each heat and it is not necessary to make or break any circuit other than the one being turned "on" or "of." This is an exclusive feature of the Northern Electric-Gurney Ranges.

Particularly striking is the rounded contour of the late models, with the absence of bolts, screws or hinges. It is easily appreciated that this feature is of untold help in keeping the range in perfect cleaning condition, there being no nooks or cranies for grease deposits or other stains.

Weddings

HUTCHISON—ARMSTRONG

MILLBROOK, Oct. 21 (Examiner Correspondence)—A pretty autumn wedding was solemnized in Christ Church, Bailieboro, on Monday, October 12, at 2.30 p.m., when Sara Isabel, R.N., daughter of Mrs. J. H. Armstrong, was united in marriage to Willan D. Hutchison, a younger son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hutchison, of Otonabee, the Reverend William Simpson, B.A., rector of the parish of Cavan, officiating.

The bridal party was preceded in its entrance into the church by the choir singing, "O Perfect Love," Miss M. L. Collins of Millbrook, a cousin of the bride, presiding at the organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Gerald Armstrong, looked lovely in a gown of Alice blue net and lace, with lace mittens and moire shoes in a matching shade; her hat was a darker shade of the blue in chiffon velvet, and she carried an arm bouquet of Madam Butterfly roses and lily of the valley.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Helma Armstrong, of Toronto, whose dress of pink georgette and lace, with hat of black velvet, shoes in a matching shade, and arm bouquet of golden chrysanthemums.

Little Patsy Staples, niece of the bride, and Shirley Hutchison, the groom's niece, were the dainty flower girls, their dresses being in Kate Greenaway style of green organdie, with hats to match, and they carried old-fashioned nosegays. Mr. Walter Thorne supported the groom, and the ushers were Mr. A. H. Armstrong, of Toronto, and Mr. J. Hutchison, of Otonabee.

During the signing of the register Mrs. William Lunney sang very effectively, "Until," and following the ceremony a reception, attended by a limited number of guests, was held at the home of the bride's mother.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison left on a motor trip to points east, the bride wearing a becoming dress in brown travel tweed, with matching accessories.

QUEENSBORO Y.P.S.

Miss A. Moorcroft Gives Fine Talk on Korea—Chicken Supper at Hazard's Corners.

QUEENSBORO, Oct. 21.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The Young People's service at Hassard's Corners was held in the church on Thursday evening, with Miss Marion Mutton in charge. The opening hymn was "From Greenland's Icy Mountains." Prayer was offered by Miss Hettie Trotter. Miss Ethel McKilligan read the Scripture lesson from St. Matt. 25:15-30. Mr. Everson gave a short talk on the lesson, which was the story of the talents. It was decided that the social and literary night, in charge of Miss Alma Moorcroft, should take the form of a Hallowe'en masquerade, to be held in the Orange Hall on Thursday evening, Oct. 29. Raymond Gunsolus gave a paper, entitled, "Jack and the Japs." This was the story of a boy who gave fifteen dollars to buy himself a bicycle and had only fifteen cents to give to missions, and who, through a chum, was made to think of the gross inequality of his actions.

Miss Alma Moorcroft, using the official map of Korea, gave an interesting talk on that country and people, and a synopsis of the first chapter of the study book, "Korea, the Land of the Dawn," by Van Bushirk. Korea comprises about 85,000 square miles of territory. Its climate is like that of Massachusetts. It is about one-third the size of Alberta. There is a population of over 20,000,000 people. In the past fifty years it has developed a Christian church of some 300,000 Koreans, a church that is almost unequalled in mission lands for the degree in which it is self-supporting, self-propagating and self-governing.

The subject for next week will be, "The Farmer's Place in Society" and will be taken by Mrs. Mark Howard.

"We have Heard the Joyful Sound" was the closing hymn. This was followed by the Mizpah benediction.

The chicken and meat supper served in the Orange Hall at Hassard's Corners on Friday evening, under the auspices of L.O.L. No. 1133, was a splendid success. The tables, spread in the basement of the hall, were prettily decorated and heavily laden with fruits, meats and viands, delightful to the eye and pleasant to the taste. People were present from Eldorado, Madoc and Queensboro.

After the supper a drama, entitled, "Eyes of Love," was staged by friends from West Huntington. The costumes were very becoming and each actor had the part taken well in hand. This is a splendid performance and goes to prove that honesty pays, that he who leaves God out of his reckoning makes a great mistake, and that there is such a thing as a pride of honor that will restrain a man even in his worst moments, and cause one to suffer wrongly for those he loves and adores.

HOTPOINT RANGE IS LABOR-SAVER

Designed by Women for Women—Every Feature Well Tested.

CLEAN AND EFFICIENT

Lower priced domestic current brings an army of servants into the home. So many new uses for electricity have been discovered in recent years that there is not a room in the house which does not benefit from some appliance or labor-saving conveniences.

Heading the lost of labor-savers, perhaps, would be a General Electrict Hotpoint Range, for the kitchen is one place where the housewife is able to realize how great is the transformation when electricity takes the place of other fuel, and she gets, through Hotpoint, clean, efficient, fast cooking, with all the other labor and time-saving features of a General Electric range which, most important of all, provides new hours of freedom from the kitchen and removes the drudgery from the task of preparing food for the family.

No range more adequately meets the needs of the modern housewife than General Electric Hotpoint. Designed by women for women, Hotpoint was for many years in the experimental stages before it was placed on the market for practical use, and every feature that makes for speed, efficiency, convenience and economy was thoroughly developed to a final point of perfection before the public had a chance to benefit by it.

QUAKER Flour and SAXON Flour milled in Peterborough

There is only one flour milling company in Peterborough . . . The Quaker Oats Company, millers of the famous Quaker and Saxon brands.

When you buy flour that is milled locally you give employment to local residents and ensure yourself a greater measure of prosperity.

And you can buy no better flour anywhere. Quaker Flour is our highest quality general household flour. It imparts to all baking a lightness and evenness of texture . . . a delicious and wholesome flavour.

Saxon Flour makes the highest quality pies and pastry. It is the favourite of Canada's best bakers.

There is no better household flour than Quaker . . . no better pastry flour than Saxon. And when you buy flour milled in Peterborough you help business in Peterborough.

THOUSANDS MADE HOMELESS

CALCUTTA, Oct. 21.—(AP)— At least 150 persons were drowned today, and 2,000 made homeless, by floods which reached a depth of 30 feet in the Vizianagram area of India. About 90 per cent of the cattle in the area were drowned and considerable damage done to the nute crop.

NOW! No Question about Home Ventilation

Cool and odorless is the ideal kitchen at the De Both Home Makers' Schools this week. A Northern Electric Ilgair Ventilator draws all cooking odors and grease-laden vapours away. It will do the same for your kitchen. You will also save many a dry cleaning bill on your curtains and tapestries.

An Ilgair Ventilator is easily installed—in a window or right into the wall. Its construction and performance is guaranteed by the Northern Electric SEAL OF APPROVAL—the seal of quality merchandise.

"BABY is STARTED on a GOOD ROUTINE."....

Said the Famous Baby Specialist

"HE TAKES his feedings well, and at the proper time. His weight is increasing nicely, and he is otherwise quite normal. As long as he continues that way, there is no need to be nervous about him. After that, the most essential thing is to guard him against skin infection. But if you never let it get started, you won't have to worry over curing it. I always advise the use of Infants Delight Soap. It is pure and mild. It gives a very rich lather, and for that reason is very cleansing."

Try Infants Delight for YOUR baby—ask your doctor to tell you how good and satisfactory it is. Its mildness is a guarantee that it won't irritate. Better still, the borecic in it is a gentle antiseptic, and heals chafes and incipient roughness.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

People in Peterborough usually consider toys from the viewpoint of little folks, but there is a valuable angle to think of them in connection with adults.

• • • • • • •

Unless parents expect their children to be constantly coming to them with the plaint, "What shall I do next?" they must provide the youngsters with toys and playthings which will give them pleasurable occupation.

• • • • • • •

What the things shall be depends upon the tastes of each individual child. Their preferences differ as decidedly as those of grown-ups.

• • • • • • •

One mother whom some of you might know, stopped the constant requests of her little girl for a frock in which to parade as an adult by making her a special dress of her own, fashioned after a favorite frock of her mother's.

• • • • • • •

She made it of inexpensive wash goods and it was the delight of the child who was the envied youngster of her group. Other mothers followed her lead and saved their clothes closets from being ransacked and themselves from continual interruptions about what was permissable to be used.

• • • • • • •

Another mother who had a little lad with a mechanical bent, saved her furniture from many a dent by supplying him with a little wooden mallet and a few boards from a wooden box from which the nails had been extracted.

• • • • • • •

Children must have things which will keep both mind and hands busy or their active brains and bodies will not be content. Variety is essential, toys to keep them quiet, and playthings to exercise muscles.

• • • • • • •

There are various groups of playthings—occupational toys, constructive toys, such as blocks with their never-failing appeal to all youngsters.

• • • • • • •

If parents would have time for work and diversion themselves, they must provide diverting toys of one sort or another for their children.

SEATING CAPACITY OF GRAND TAXED TO UTMOST TUESDAY

Home-making School is Being Sponsored by The Examiner.

OPENING SESSION

That "Homemaking and Cooking" have not become a lost art, was well demonstrated yesterday afternoon, when the seating capacity of the Grand Opera House was taxed to its upmost with eager women and girls of Peterborough at the initial class of the DeBoth Homemaking Schools.

Under the auspices of the Peterborough Examiner, this up-to-date school was introduced on Tuesday afternoon by R. M. Glover, managing director of The Examiner. Thanking the large assembly of ladies for their attendance at this opening session, he explained that such a school was made possible through the co-operation of the home-makers of Peterborough and that of the merchants and manufacturers interested.

Welcomed Audience

Mrs. W. R. Morris also welcomed the large gathering and introduced the lecturer, Miss Claire Andree and her assistant, Miss Alma Thomas, commending the undertaking of such a school in Peterborough.

With Miss Andree's first word keen interest was evident, and only reached its climax at the close of her splendid lecture.

Miss Andree possesses so charming a personality her audience was won at once as she wished them a "good afternoon" and a happy time at their own school. And, when one viewed the perfectly equipped home-making workshop it seemed quite easy to enjoy this first lesson.

"Neatness," said Miss Andree, "is the first requisite to a successful day in the kitchen," and she adjured the ladies never to come into their workshop with untidy appearance, with special emphasis placed upon the care of the hair.

She also believes in practicing what she preaches, for she began the day in Madam Merriam's studio, where she was given a perfect shampoo," which left her hair soft and smooth and lovely.

Next to neatness while at work, Miss Andree stressed "comfort in shoes." She highly advocated the "Blue Moon" shoes, supplied by Mr. A. Lillow, for both beauty and ease.

With these, the National Brand silk hose, carried by the H. E. Hodgens Company, are almost indispensable. Another great comfort to the homemaker is Lever Bros.' Lux soap, "the soap that fits the hand, and is kind to everything it touches."

To the accompaniment of a running commentary, Miss Andree demonstrated new and delectable recipes made from products obtained in our local stores.

Her cooking utensils were almost entirely of the old standby "Wear-ever Aluminum" which not only wears ever, but is ever pleasing to the eye. This necessity is supplied by the Aluminum Co. of Canada and through the Canadian Department Stores.

The finished article of her recipe for "mock chicken" looked almost too good to be true, but as she explained, "When one can buy steak from Joplings where they specialize in high grade meats, you know what to expect.

As she jauntily cracked eggs into a bowl, she assured the school they never need worry when they bought eggs from Boyle's.

Electric Range

The beauties and essentials of the Guerney Electric Range were pointed out, making every one hope to be the lucky winner of the range to be given away to some woman on Friday.

The Ilg Ventilator, which must be seen and used to be appreciated is a Northern Electric product carried by Grant & Thorpe.

Miss Andree's deftness and alertness in cake and pie-making were a marvel of efficiency. In this house hold task she was aided by the best products to be found. Among these were Jewel Shortening, from Swift's Canadian Company, Quaker cake flour, Royal Baking Powder and Silverwood's pure milk and cream.

The "Frigidaire" was also duly explained and eulogized for its many fine qualities and is sold by the Radio Sales and Service Company. The Canada Starch Company is responsible for the very successful supper dish of "Macaroni and Tomatoes" demonstrated.

To insure perfect digestion Miss Andrew maintained that the atmosphere of breakfast or dining room "must be cheery and pleasant". To this end, A. Comstock and Son added their share in the beautiful dining-room suite and rug with The Robert Fair Company contributing beauty by way of their fine table linens. The table was set with the best china from John Hill's, while Warne Brothers supplied the necessary silver. Gay yellow marigolds from the Peterborough Floral Company form... lovely centre piece and complete... the charming ensemble.

"Manufacturers" said Miss Andree," are learning that women are human and providing them with many labor-saving utensils. Especially is this true in the modern Electric Cleaners made by the Northern Electric Company.

The Laundry, the bug-bear of other days, has become a masterpiece with its equipment for eliminating dirt and was a feature of the lecture which elicited much interest. The chief accessories of the Laundry, the Playmayd Washer and the A.B.C. ironer you will find at Watson's Tire and Radio Supply Co. The delightful musical program enjoyed during the afternoon was due to the courtesy of Ye Olde Firme Heintzman and Company, who kindly loaned the Pictou Radio.

In the making of dainty sandwiches Miss Andree gave much praise to Stock's Vitos bread, while the delicious "spread" used on them was the contribution of Campbell's Dairy, as was also the ice cream which was served later with Hooper's cakes and rolls. T. Anthony Co. furnished the ripe fruit and vegetables used for demonstrating.

After completing the busy round of the homemakers' work shop and setting the place in order, all that one needed was the beautifying hand lotion (to clear up the evidences of kitchen work) found in Bond's Drug Store; and the pretty though soiled house frocks are made like new at the hands of Lansfield the Cleaner. The specially interesting feature of the afternoon was the presentation of many generous gifts by Mr. Glover, assisted by Miss Thomas, lucky numbers drew these gifts, except in the case of the lady married the shortest time, which proved to be a five-weeks' bride, and to a bride of fifty-seven years. Twenty-five baskets full of useful articles will be presented each day during the continuation of the School on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, when it is expected even larger crowds will

Fight in Movie Leads to Accidental Shooting of Small Boy

A Finger Print Said Who Did It

"Don't shut that window, do you want to smother us?" shouted John Brown as a man near him in a lower East Side movie in New York got up to close a window. "Shut up!" said the other. A fight followed and the two men exchanging punches, scrapped their way to the street where the fight was renewed with pistols.

Leo Parosso, a little boy playing on the sidewalk, fell with a bullet in the head and died. Brown was arrested and tried for murder but acquitted. The other man made a getaway dropping his gun as he ran. The police found finger prints on it which, when compared with records at Headquarters, identified a man named Nelker as the shooter. This was in 1922.

Nothing was heard of Nelker until this year when he was arrested on another charge altogether. His finger prints were taken. They quickly tied him in with the boy's death 9 years ago and he was tried and convicted of manslaughter. His finger prints betrayed him.

Your Prints on Foods May be Germ Laden

See how his finger prints were dangerous to Peter Nelker, a hot headed bad man. See how your prints can be dangerous to you too—business man, teacher, housewife, stenographer, whoever you may be. All day long you are touching things which other hands have touched. Hands which may be germ laden—hands whose owners may be ill or disease carriers—and YOUR hands pick up those germs. Then you touch an article of food—a chocolate or a biscuit—and disease germs are deposited on the food.

From your mouth the germs spread rapidly to your system and you may fall a victim of some deadly disease. Life Extension Institute records show that 27 diseases may be spread by the hands in this way.

You Can be Safe

How can one be safe from germs? They are everywhere, they infect the hands of all alike. There is one method which everyone can easily use to be safe. Wash the hands many times a day, and always before a meal, with Lifebuoy Soap. It contains a germicide.

Many other valuable qualities too! A Lifebuoy bath keeps you safe for many hours from body odour. Thousands make sure of not offending by this means. Children are safe from infection through the cleansing of little cuts and scratches which might otherwise become infected.

Aids Complexion Too

So skilfully is the germicide combined in the soap with two famous palm oils that the result is a smooth, luxurious beauty soap whose lather goes deep into the pores, lifting out all impurities and causing the skin to glow with health and beauty. You will learn to like the scent of safety which quickly vanishes after use, but tells you of Lifebuoy's protection.

Why not have the EXTRA protection in your toilet soap which only Lifebuoy can give you? Keep a cake on the washbasin and for the bath so that all your family can benefit from this world famous health soap.

"How many women in this audience use Rinso?" . . . up go a thousand hands!

The Peterborough "Examiner" expert
Miss Claire Andree
(of the DeBoth Home-Makers' School)
Will Give a Demonstration at Grand Opera House
Peterborough
Thursday and Friday
1.30 p.m. to 4.30 p.m.

Do you get snowy clothes in hard water—without scrubbing?

Don't miss this home-laundering demonstration!

Their neighbours have told them about this hard-water soap that soaks out dirt and saves scrubbing.

Their washing machine dealers have urged them to use no soap but Rinso.

And home-making experts everywhere are busy demonstrating these wonder-working suds that wash clothes snow-white . . . safely, easily.

See for yourself!

Never mind taking our word for Rinso's amazing help on washday. Come and see the demonstration by an expert! Watch how clothes are soaked bright and gleaming—without being scrubbed or boiled.

Don't miss it! You never saw such suds as Rinso gives—thick, creamy, lasting, even in hardest water. Real energy-suds—made for work and lots of it!

You'll be astonished to see how a little Rinso whips at once into a lot of lively suds . . . without the help of bar soaps, chips, powders or softeners.

No wonder the home-making experts of leading Canadian newspapers say that Rinso is a great work-saver—and very economical!

Safe for finest linens

Rinso is safe for the finest cottons and linens. You can be sure it is—otherwise famous experts would not recommend it as they do. And the makers of 38 leading washers recommend it as well.

Used for tub washing, Rinso actually saves the clothes . . . for they don't need to be scrubbed threadbare. Spares the hands, too. So many excellent reasons why experts recommend this famous hard-water soap for use in tub, washer, dishpan—and for all cleaning!

Come to the fascinating demonstration tomorrow and judge for yourself. We know you'll stop and buy a BIG package of Rinso on the way home!

Guaranteed by the makers of LUX—

Famous Home-making Expert
JESSIE M. DEBOTH
says:

"We discovered by laboratory tests that Rinso soaks out dirt and spots with very little rubbing . . . washes snow-white without boiling. Saves clothes and spares hands, too.

"As a result, we urge women to trust even their finest cottons and linens to its care. We also advise it for dishes and all household cleaning. Rinso is a great work-saver and its rich suds make it very economical.

"We tested it in washing machines, also—and are not surprised that makers of 38 leading washers recommend Rinso!"

For Hard Coughs or Colds That Worry You

A Super Help

Creomulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs or colds that worry you. It combines seven helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety.

But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold.

Creomulsion costs a little more than lesser helps. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it fails to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake.

Now two sizes 60c—$1.25.

CREOMULSION for Different Coughs and Colds

As One That Serves

Yes, she is the happiest mortal alive,
Young in heart and in soul, although three score and five.
For age is not reckoned by the years time has run
But by how we have lived, and the good we have done.

With no nearer ties, love's fond labours to claim,
To her neighbors and friends are devoted the same.
Her unwearied employ and best pleasures are found,
Like her Master, in helping the needy around

The sick and the sad, and the lonely to tend.
A helping hand ever ready and willing to lend.
As the sun and the rain which impartially fall
On the just and unjust, is her kindness to all.

We are taught in the Word that all mortals below,
In the great day of Harvest must reap as they sow
Then, shall her Christ-like sowing, a hundred-fold grown
Yield of blessing and joy, a rich harvest, her own.

For e'en the cup of cold water, benison shall brim,
When to His lowliest servant, 'tis given to Him,
And some day above, at the Shepherd's right hand
With His own blessed sheep, in the Kingdom she'll stand.

"What Captivates Hearts?"

That little thrill of the heart.... who has not felt it at the sight of smooth, glowing skin? Hollywood's discerning directors found out long ago how quickly the public responds to this fascination.

And since the great glare of the close-up magnifies every flaw, the stars must have skin that is naturally, beautifully smooth. To guard this priceless asset of theirs, nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap.

Forty-five of Hollywood's foremost directors say: "The most captivating charm a girl can have—lovely skin," and the great screen stars agree.

As fascinating Carmel Myers says: "Lux Toilet is so refreshing ....and it leaves the skin so softly smooth."

Piquant Dorothy Janis says: "I always use Lux Toilet Soap....it keeps my skin so wonderfully soft and smooth."

Of the countless Hollywood, Broadway and European stars who use this soap, some have the skin that is inclined to dryness; some the skin that tends to be oily; some the in-between skin.

Whatever your type may be, you, too, will find Lux Toilet Soap perfect!

THIS DOCTOR NOT AFRAID OF THE 'FLU

Dr. Robt. G. Jackson says positively colds, 'flu, pneumonia will not attack him. He says: "For everyone protection is only a matter of properly developing their natural defenses," as he directs in his book, "How to Be Always Well." Formerly, he had colds winter and summer, but he had his last cold in 1913 and declares he will never have another. He escapes by keeping his blood alkaline through eating alkali-forming foods, proper care of the skin, proper breathing, exercising, clothing, etc., but the chief thing is alkaline food. His chief protective food is alkali-forming Roman Meal (the only alkali-forming food made from grains), helped out by other alkaline foods listed in "How to Be Always Well." Eat Roman Meal and write for this free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and other literature also sample of Roman Meal and Kofy-sub, the new alkaline beverage, to ROBT. G. JACKSON, M.D., 502 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont.

Health Association

You would hate to think there would be little mounds in the cemetery this winter, little voices that were silent, little hands that were still, all because you failed to do your bit in the support of the Health Association. You would hate to think that little lives had been cut short, that little feet would no longer patter around a home, for lack of careful nursing. You would have to think that any little child in Peterborough had not only suffered but actually lost its life for want of proper nourishing food. Such things have seldom happened in the past, but if the work of the Association is curtailed for lack of funds, it is inevitable that they happen this coming winter.

Throughout all the year the members of the Association are giving their skill, time and energy as well as financial aid toward this so very necessary work. It is almost self supporting, but once a year is assistance asked for, but once a year are you asked to give, the time is now. Only a thousand dollars are needed to assure the continuance of the work for another year. Part of this has been subscribed. Please send your contribution to The Examiner or the Bank of Toronto. The following contributions are gratefully acknowledged:—

Frisch Named Most Valuable Player in National

FRISCH LEADS NATIONAL LOOP

Awarded Honors For Being Most Valuable Player With 65 Out of 80 Points.

KLEIN IS SECOND.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 21 (C.P.) — The National League's "most valuable player" for 1931 is Frankie Frisch, captain and second baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, champions of the world.

Frisch received 65 points out of a maximum of 80 in the vote of a committee of baseball writers, to win the award by ten points from Church Klein, Phillies' outfielder, with Bill Terry, first baseman of the New York Giants a close third with 53.

The Cardinal captain and Terry were the only players this year to score points on all eight of the writers' ballots with Klein placing on seven of them. Frisch was given only one vote for first place, but received five votes for second, one for fourth and one for eighth.

The vote for the first dozen follows:—

Frisch, St. Louis	65
Klein, Phillies	55
Terry, New York	53
English, Chicago	30
Hafey, St. Louis	29
Wilson, St. Louis	28
Jackson, New York	24
Grimm, Chicago	21
Adams, St. Louis	18
Brandt, Boston	15
Maranville, Boston	15
Cuyler, Chicago	14

Queensboro

The anniversary services held at Hassard's Corners United Church on Sunday, conducted by Rev. Merrit O. Price, of Bridgewater, were quite a success. There was a large congregation, both morning and evening. The church was prettily decorated with potted plants. The choir furnished special music for each service, and the offering received was above the amount asked for. Mr. Price, who was accompanied by his second son, was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. George Harris.

Miss Marion Hamm, of Madoc, spent the week-end with Misses Aileen and Jennie Sager.

Miss Helen McCaw was presented on Friday with a box of writing paper by her chums in the Queensboro Public School and Clifford with a box of chocolates. Helen and Clifford left on Monday for their new home in Elorado.

Miss Helen Tumelty, of Toronto, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Victoria Tumelty.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McMurray and Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander, Sr., spent Sunday visiting friends in Moira.

Mrs. Zimri Curtis has been on the sick list for the past couple of weeks, but it somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harris and Miss Francis and Miss Alma Keene spent the week-end with friends in Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sager and Mr. Bruce Leslie attended the supper and concert given at Hassard's Corners on Friday evening.

A couple of carpenters are busy putting a new roof of shingles on the dwelling belonging to Mr. and Mrs. James Cassidy.

Mr. Joseph McCaw, who has purchased the John Shaw farm at Fox's Church, Eldorado, moved from the village on Monday.

Mr. William Glover and Mr. Thomas Richardson, accompanied by a niece of Mrs. George Glover, left for Ottawa on Monday, where they will visit friends for a few days before going on to Montreal, where Mr. Richardson expects to take the boat for Liverpool on Thursday evening. Mr. Richardson came to Canada in March of 1929 and has been nearly all the time employed with Mr. George Glover.

Rev. J. F. Everson had charge of the work on Bridgewater pastoral charge on Sunday.

CORDOVA MINES

Mr. Herbert Chard of Timmins is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Chard here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wiggins of Belmont spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wiggins.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ellis of Pontiac, Mich., and small son are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ellis.

Mr. Harry Bowen of Picton was a recent visitor with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bowen.

Mr. Leo. Copp, inspector of public schools, visited the local schools on Wednesday and Thursday last.

Miss Evelyn Steenburg of Havelock spent Sunday at her home here.

Mrs. G. W. Steenburg and son Carmen, and Miss Valla Johnson spent Sunday with Mrs. E. Chase at Belmont Lake.

Mr. Walter Steenburg of Pennsylvania is spending a vacation at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. arry Petherick of Campbellford spent a day recently with the latter's mother, Mrs. John French.

Mr. W. L. Wannamaker and daughter Mrs. Ross Barrons and family motored to Oshawa on Monday.

Messrs. John Pressick and Calvin Chard were Sunday visitors with Mr. George Vilneff, at Malone.

Mrs. Jack Edwards and children visited Havelock friends on Thursday last.

Heximer Unsigned; Ordered To Report

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 22—Obs Heximer has received notification to report in Toronto, there to join the members of the Springfield and Rangers' hockey squads for practice.

Heximer's two-year contract with the Rangers expired at the close of last year's season. He does not, however, expect much difficulty in coming to satisfactory terms with the New York management, basing his claim on his point-scoring proclivities while a member of the Springfield Canadian - American League champions last season during which he amassed a total of 63 points to establish a record for that league.

MAPLE LEAFS LOSE TO ULSTER UNITED

Red Handers Extended in Night Game—Score Two to One.

TORONTO, Oct. 21—Ulster won their fourth consecutive victory in the Intercity Night Soccer League by defeating Maple Leafs by 2 to 1 at Ulster Stadium last evening.

The first half produced two counters for the Redhanders, with Simpson and Curry being the scorers. The Leafs, although only able to beat Fraser once, had much the better of the second half exchanges, and had it not been for Fraser's sterling display in the Ulster goal further success would surely have attended the Leafs' efforts. Johnston secured the Leafs' only goal in the opening moment of the final session, and from then on the Leafs predominated, but were unable to achieve further success.

HOME TOWNERS

VISITS INTERESTING AND HUMOROUS FROM CAMPBELLFORD

R. J. JARVIS is now operating his own barber business on Bridge street, Campbellford, four doors east from Front street. The latest equipment for carrying on a general barber business installed. The patronage of the public respectfully solicited.

Mr. J. Allan has accepted a position on the trans-Canada road work and has gone north.

Workmen are now busy working on the installation of the sound machine in the new Hollywood Theatre. The latest type Northern Electric machine is being placed and is said to be the best of its kind on the market. This should give to the people of Campbellford first class talkies.

The condition of the Rev. R. C. Tait who is sick in the Kingston hosuital, is reported to be greatly improved although it will be some time yet before he will be able to return to his home.

The Westside Shoe repairing shop and Ackerman's barber shop are respendant these days in a new coat of red paint adding greatly to the appearance of Tice street.

Mrs. J. P. Archer is visiting in Kingston for a few days.

The Rev. L. M. and Mrs. Smith are in Peterborough this week attending the 43rd annual meeting of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec being held in the Murray Street Baptist church.

Mrs. (Dr.) F. B. Brintnell was taken seriously ill on Monday night and rushed to the Belleville hospital by car. Dr. Brintnell accompanied his wife.

RING BRIEFS

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 21 (CP) —The New York State Athletic Commission has turned thumbs down on a heavyweight bout between Primo Carnera and Paulino Uscudun, on the grounds that it would be a "step-ladder" match.

Listen to William Muldoon on the subject:—

"In the future we will insist that heavyweights must be well matched physically as well as in other respects. Carnera should fight men his own size like Victorio Campolo, Arthur De Kuh, and Jose Santa. We don't want any more step-ladder matches, where one of the principals needs a soap box to reach the other's chin. I was against the Walker-Sharkey match for that matter and only approved against my better judgment."

Carnera and Uscudun were matched for a ten-rounder at Madison Square Garden Nov. 13 for a theatrical charity sponsored by Daniel Frohman. Uscudun, despite his lack of height, gave Primo a close battle when they met at Barcelona some months ago.

Jimmy Johnston, new general manager for the garden, now hopes to persuade Campolo to take Paulino's place against Carnera.

Air Mail Service Greatly Improved

The Postmaster General reports commencing at once that Air Mail posted at the Peterborough office up to 11 a.m. each day will leave Toronto at 6 p.m. for Windsor, Detroit and Chicago, arriving at Chicago at 11 p.m. the same evening, and if addressed to San Francisco will reach its destination at 9.20 p.m. the following day. Also mail for Winnipeg will be despatched via this air route, and will arrive in Winnipeg at 1 p.m. the next day, and in Calgary at 4.30 a.m. the following day. This is a greatly improved service over the present one.

CHANGES MADE IN TANKARDS

Toronto Clubs Grouped Together at Ontario Association Meeting.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

TORONTO, Oct. 21.—There will be no invasion of Scotland by a team of Canadian curlers this winter. The invitation from the Royal Caledonian Club to the Ontario Curling Association to send a team from Canada over to the land of the heather in 1932 was presented at the fifty-sixth annual meeting of the O.C.A. held at the Granite Club yesterday, but it was decided not to accept for at least another year owing to the present unsettled business conditions and the inability to gather together a team in time to make the trip.

The O. C. A. reported a slight decrease of membership over the past year. The present membership is 4,505, as compared with 4,754 members registered the previous year However, ladies' curling clubs affiliated with the Ontario Association were increased from six to eight, the Thornhill and Southampton clubs being accepted yesterday to boost the previous figure.

The meeting attracted a representative gathering of members, although President D. B. Duffield of Detroit was unable to be present owing to illness. In his absence Vice President Judge F. M. Field of Cobourg presided.

The secretary's report disclosed that there are now fourteen curling clubs equipped with artificial ice plants, and several more are preparing plans to be so equipped. Five of these clubs are in Toronto. The Lakeview Curling Club, Toronto's only club without artificial ice, notified the association that it decided to discontinue curling.

Tankard Groups Rearranged

A rearrangement of some of the Ontario Tankard and District Cup groups was made as a result of objections raised against grouping clubs adjacent to Toronto with clubs in this city who have artificial ice. The new arrangement provides that the first three Ontario Tankard groups will remain as announced some weeks ago. Group No. 4 will be made up entirely of Toronto clubs as follows: Toronto Club, High Park, Oakwood, Granite and Royal Canadian, Thornhill and Richmond Hill, who were originally placed in this group, will be included in Group 5, which will also embrace Hillsburg, Newmarket and Orangeville. Group No. 6 was not disturbed, but Group No. 7, originally divided in two sections, has been made into two groups, 7 and 8. The other group numberings are advanced, so that Group 8 becomes Group 9, and so on to make 16 complete groups. Groups 15 and 16 have been made into one, comprising London Curling Club, London Thistles, St. Thomas, Detroit, Chatham, Petrolia and Sarnia. They will play at Petrolia this coming season, with F. S. Ashplant of London as group convener and umpire.

Election of Officers

The following officers were elected; President, Judge F. M. Field, K. C., of the Waverly Club, Cobourg; First Vice President, D. A. McNab, Orillia; Second Vice President, H. J. Sims, K. C., Kitchener; Chaplain, Rev. J. W. Pedley, Toronto; Secretary Treasurer, G. S. Pearcy, Toronto.

Lord Bessborough was elected a patron of the association, and Hon. W. D. Ross, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, an honorary president.

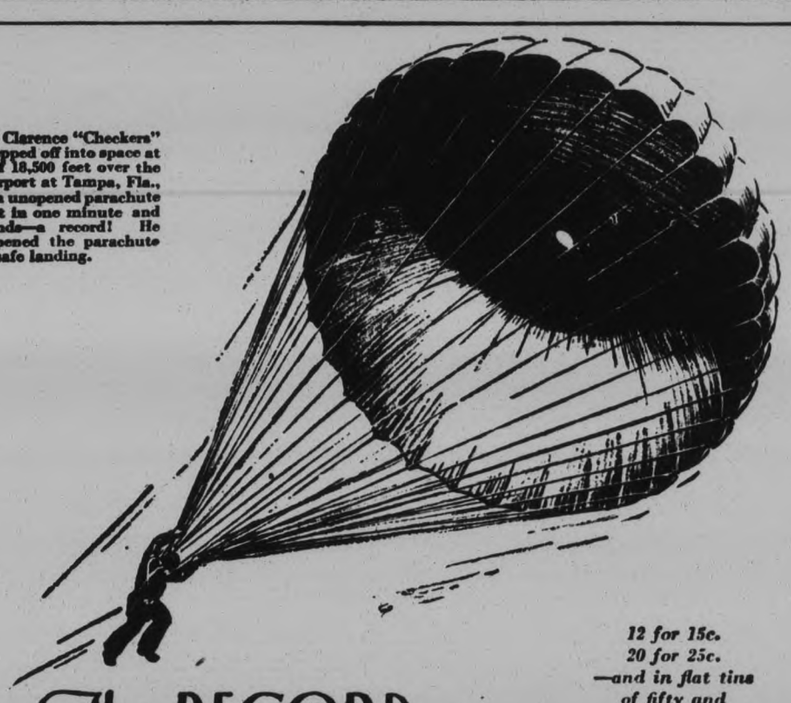
Boston Bruins Buy Houbregs At Seattle

SEATTLE, Oct. 21.—John Houbregs, defense man of the Seattle hockey team of the Pacific Coast League, was sold to the Boston Bruins of the National League on Monday.

The sale of Houbregs, who broke into professional hockey last season with Seattle, was the first step in the breaking up of the Seattle team as announced by Hugh M. Caldwell, President of the club.

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern



Last August, Clarence "Checkers" McArthur stepped off into space at an altitude of 18,500 feet over the Municipal Airport at Tampa, Fla., dropping with unopened parachute for 13,500 feet in one minute and twenty seconds—a record! He thereupon opened the parachute and made a safe landing.

The RECORD SPEAKS for ITSELF

THIS remarkable parachute jumping record establishes a mark to which others may aspire—just as Turret's record for popularity creates for Turret cigarettes an enviable record of popularity.

The high standards which have been maintained in the quality of tobacco and perfection of manufacture keep Turrets far in the lead.

After all, nothing can replace good, honest tobacco; grown and ripened right out in the field under nature's own sunlight—nothing artificial about that—and the high quality is "inbred".

VARSITY MUST TAKE VICTORY OVER MUSTANGS ON SATURDAY; ARGONAUTS FACE CRUCIAL TEST

Neither Team Has Yet Broken Into Win Column in 1931 Season.

OARSMEN ALSO NEED WIN.

Tigers-Wheeler Tangle Promises to be Feature Card for Week-end.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 21 (C.P.)—Facing possible elimination if they fail to come through with wins in Saturday's important football fixtures, four Toronto senior grid squads last night underwent stiff drills in preparation for their coming tilts. Argonauts of the "Big Four" and University of Toronto of the Intercollegiate Union have not yet broken into the win column, and if they drop their week-end games to Ottawa and Western University, respectively, they can be definitely counted out of the 1931 senior football race.

Two players who have not seen action in the past two weeks will return to University of Toronto's line-up for the game with Western. They are Jimmy Sinclair and Ken Peacock, two reliable players who are bound to strengthen the college aggregation. After a rest on Monday night the college gridders were put through a hard drill last night and Coach Hobbs has intimated he will field his strongest team against the conquerors of McGill in the opening game of the college union.

If Kitchener pull another surprise, Saturday, and hand Balmy Beach, Dominion champions, a setback, the will move into first place in the O.R.F.U. division. However, Coach Ponton of the Beaches, has announced he will not underestimate the Panthers and therefore will send a strong lineup against the Twin-city squad here in the week-end game.

Billy Bell, who played sensational rugby for the University of Toronto last season will see action for Toronto Argonauts Saturday, when the Scullers journey to Ottawa to meet the Rough Riders. As neither team has recorded a win to date, Coach McKenna hopes to keep the Toronto scullers out of the cellar by eking out a victory.

What may develop into one of the best games of the season is carded for Montreal, Saturday, when the "Big Four" champions, Hamilton Tigers, engage the greatly-improved Montreal Winged Wheelers. Advance talk has it that the Eastern aggregation will trounce the Ambitious City squad, but Coach Billy Hughes, mentor of the champions is of a different opinion and is sending his squad through an exceptional heavy week's training schedule. But the exhibition given in Toronto last week-end, when they defeated Argos, the Montrealers should travel a long way this season in quest of the Dominion football title.

Gordon Savage Will Join Syracuse Club

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 21 (C.P.)—The name of Gordon Savage, star defence man, was added to-day to the list of players being disposed of by the Seattle club, in the Pacific Coast Hockey League, in the break-up of the club.

Savage will accompany his two team-mates, Pete Bellefeuille and Hank Dyck, to Syracuse, where the three players are on option to the International League team.

MINOR CHANGES IN PRO HOCKEY

Teams of National and International Leagues Begin Training Activities.

NEW PENALTY RULES.

With the professional hockey teams in Canada and the States going into active training for their winter compaigns, the puck season is almost here. Several minor changes have been made this year in the rules governing play in the National and the International leagues. These, of course, have nothing to do with amateur hockey, which is ruled by the O.H.A. in Ontario.

The penalty for infractions of the blue line rule in pro. play has been altered to read: "The referee shall order a face-off at a point in the neutral zone five feet from the line dividing the neutral and the attacking zones immediately opposite where the infringement took place."

If a goal is scored while a player not in possession of the puck or taking a pass skates between his teammate and the goalie, the goal shall not be allowed, and the puck faced off at the defender's blue line. The goalie is not permitted to hold the puck with hands or arms, he must clear instantly. If he does not, a face-off shall take place ten feet in front of the net with no one but himself between the face-off and the goal.

As for ragging the puck, henceforth, no player can take the rubber back of his net more than once, and the puck must be kept moving toward the opposite goal at all times or a minor penalty may be imposed. Misconduct or injury through playing or carrying the stick improperly shall be penalized at all times by a major penalty, and a ten-minute penalty will be imposed on a player using foul, abusive language to an official.

Draws Suspension

Deliberate injury inflicted on a player or official will draw suspension the rest of the game, with the referee deciding if a substitution is permitted.

As for points given for assists; now an assist shall be given the player if he contributes directly to the scoring while inside the defending team's zone. If a goal is scored from a rebound off the goal or the goal-keeper, credit for an assist will be given the player whose shot caused the rebound.

These are the main changes made to the rules which were in force last winter; none of the new rulings being of major importance. The referee shall use his judgment on matters not thoroughly covered, and the teams must comply with his decisions, although they may always lodge a protest with the league executive following the game.

FAMOUS GRETNA HAS 2 MARRIAGE HOUSES

One Had Nearly 67,000 Visitors Last Year and the Other 3,500

Dumfries, Scotland.—Many interesting facts about historic Gretna Green were brought out at the recent session of the county valuation appeal court when the valuation of the Old Blacksmith's Shop was raised from £38 to £500 and that of the Toll Bar fixed at £100.

In the Blacksmith's shop, owned by Mr. Hugh Mackie, there are three rooms, one room with cases with antiques and souvenirs. Going in from the left you pass through a turnstile into the room where the marriages take place. There you have the anvil over which the marriages are celebrated, and in one corner King William's stage coach and a great many other antiques of considerable value. The number of admissions last year was 66,824, bringing in £1,670.

The Toll Bar, owned by Mr. Arthur Stevenson, is another house in which marriages take place. It is a shop selling post cards and other souvenirs, tobacco, etc. At the court it was brought out that the marriage room had an attendance book, and everyone who went to see the room signed that book. The number who signed it was about 3,500, and the takings £1,405, which also includes profits of the shop, a placard says that there have been over 10,000 marriages in the house.

One witness at the appeal court said, "Every house in Springfield and Gretna had a traffic in marriages at the height of this business."

LONDON POLYTECHNIC HAS 17,000 STUDENTS

And Registration Is Expected to Mount to 18,000

London.—Institutions and organizations founded to alleviate suffering, assist charity and promote education are scattered throughout London. One of the most important of these institutes is the Regent St. Polytechnic.

Now more than 17,000 men and women are attending day or evening educational classes at the polytechnic founded by the late Quinton Hogg, an old Etonian.

Last year 1,751 male and 290 female students attended its day courses and 8,107 male and 6,194 female undergraduates were enrolled in the evening classes. This year the registration is expected to approach the 18,000 figure.

The polytechnic is maintained by tuition and grants from the London county council and the board of education. Each group contributes about one-third and special endowments provide the remainder of the money needed.

RAPS THIRD INTERNATIONALE.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 21 (C.P.).—The Third Internationale is ranked by Dr. H. E. Woolever, editor of the National Methodist Press, as the most destructive international force to-day.

This force, Dr. Woolever told the Methodist Ecumenical Conference here yesterday, seeks in its great program of internationalism and secularism to destroy the religious foundation of youth. Financed by Marxian Communism, it is waging war in every land against God.

Lorne Duguid Joins Red-Shirted Squad

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 21 (C.P.)—Lorn Duguid, who jumped to the professional ranks with the Windsor Bulldogs of the International League last year, signed a contract with the Montreal Maroons of the National Hockey League, it is announced.

The 185-pound young defenceman will play with the Montreal club this winter.

Britain Greets First Boat Inaugurating New Hudson's Bay Route

A new chapter in the history of communication between Canada and the Motherland was opened when "The Farnworth," a grain carrier, completed at Victoria Dock, London, its trip from Canada's new port at Churchill, Hudson's Bay, and pioneered a trade route which will bring England six hundred miles closer to the great growing areas of the Prairie Provinces. The Farnworth is shown (inset) leaving Churchill with 227,000 bushels of Manitoba wheat, while the main picture shows Mr. Malcolm MacDonald (centre, wearing glasses), officially welcoming the boat on behalf of the British Government; Lt.-Col. P. Vanier, D.S.O., who represented Canada, is in the group along with officials of the Port of London Authority.

CASUAL COMMENT

Once again the pro boxing and wrestling show scheduled here this week has had to be postponed just a few days before the date. One of the boxers could not be obtained at such short notice, so Charles Hallat, Toronto promoter, has called the show off for the time being.

• • • • • •

This is the start of the busy season for the moneyed pugs and mat artists, and their services are in demand throughout the sporting world. In the summer, they are glad to get ham-and-egg handouts but not now. Of course, the champs can get big outdoor cards in the warm weather but they've all got to do their stuff indoors in the winter time.

• • • • • •

Well, regardless of the professional boys, we wont worry about boxing shows this winter as there are plenty of amateur scrappers here in training right now, more than there's been in Peterborough since they were staging shows at the War Vets, at Victoria Hall, and the Opera House. We'll have plenty of simon pure cards during the cold weather.

• • • • • •

According to the Toronto Globe, a few local boxers have signified their intentions of turning pro shortly with other boys throughout the province to participate in some of Playfair Brown's Shamrock Club shows which start next month. We don't know of any scrappers here that are ready yet for the higher class, especially in view of the small gates they'll get out of it now.

• • • • • • •

The home mittsters should take it easy and not dive into any sudden decisions because of big money dreams. Prelim boys are working hard these days, and taking the odd bad licking, and not averaging any more dough than the factory hand pulls down. If an amateur boxer is good enough to grab himself a real cut, he doesn't have to apply for jobs, fight managers will beat a pathway to his door.

• • • • • •

J. F. Devlin, world's champion badminton player has been demonstrating his prowess around Ontario on his way to Winnipeg where he is now making his home. On his appearance in Orillia last week, there was a flock of fans from Peterborough, Port Hope and Lindsay present.

• • • • • • •

"Biffer" Ranger left last week for Kansas City to begin training for another hockey campaign, and Bert McLeod will be going sometime next week. They received their contracts a short time ago with notice to appear for training, and evidently there is no argument over salaries as the two Kansas City stars have signed on the dotted line.

• • • • • •

The Sugar Bowl softballers got off to a flying start in the second half of the Lakefield league last night, trimming their old rivals, City Service, 9 to 6. Sturgeon opposed Montgomery on the mound, both going well. Long Tom had a flock of the Dormer crew waving their sticks feebly, but once they started, it was too bad.

• • • • • •

Manager Percy Harrison, of the City Service outfit, went in as a pinchhitter in the last frame much to the consternation of the Sugar Bowl rooters. However, the redoubtable Perce couldn't seem to get his eye on the ball, and he took a short cut back to the bench. He will avenge that again most likely.

IMPORTANT TO EVERY FAMILY!!

WHAT SHALL I GIVE THEM TO EAT

THREE meals a day—365 days in a year—what a lot of meals to plan—to cook—to serve!

And that isn't all of it. You have to buy food for those meals. Meat. Groceries. Vegetables. Fruits.

A big job! Not only does it take careful buying to keep within your food budget, but ingenuity to vary your menus so that they are nourishing, yet free from monotony.

However, you can simplify this feeding job by reading the advertisements that feature food products. In these times, food advertisements are most complete in information regarding the price of the product, its quality, its health value and its uses. Often the reading of the one advertisement can furnish you with ideas—not only for dinner to-night, but for your breakfast to-morrow, and luncheon the day after.

How often you say, "What shall I give them to eat?" Read the advertisements and you'll find the answer.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

THE BATTLE ON THE MOUNTAIN.

Faint heart will never in a fight
His adversary put to flight.
—Old Mother Nature.

Just at the edge of the opening on the mountain side stood a magnificent bull Elk. He had just stepped out from among the trees in answer to the challenge of Bugler the Elk, who stood in the middle of the opening, pawing the ground and blowing defiance and rage. Off to one side stood Mrs. Bugler, her usually soft eyes agleam with excitement. She knew what was about to happen. She knew that in that clear space a great battle was about to be fought, and that she was the cause of it. She knew that whichever won would claim her as his own, and she would be ready to go with him, for strength and courage were the way to her heart.

To Farmer Brown's Boy, hidden where he could watch all that went on, there was no apparent difference in the appearance of the two fighters. The one who had answered the challenge of Bugler appeared to be just as big, just as strong and to be armed with equally great antlers. That he had just as much courage was proven by the fact that he had not hesitated to answer the challenge that Bugler had bugled so boldly. He had not had to come. He had not had to even let it be known that he was on that mountainside. He had come because he was instinctively eager to prove that he, not Bugler, was the real lord of the mountain.

The hair along the neck of each was on end. Each pawed the ground for a moment. Then with heads thrust forward, eyes blazing, blowing defiance, they advanced. Suddenly their heads were lowered and they plunged forward, great antlers meeting equally great antlers with a crash that resounded through the woods. Head to head with antlers seemingly locked they dug their feet in the earth and each tried to force the other back, at the same time with mighty swings of the head trying to throw the other off balance. Both went to their knees and there continued to push and twist, snorting, their eyes red with rage.

The muscles stood out as they strained and pushed, and they drew their breath in whistling gasps. At last they had to stop for breath. The antlers were not locked after all, for they came free. Then the two backed away from each other for a short distance. Regaining his wind, Bugler suddenly plunged forward, hoping to catch the other off guard. But not so. The other was an experienced old fighter. The antlers met with a crash as before. Both came to their knees. Again there was a long shoving, pushing, twisting struggle, and as before they finally had to separate for breath.

The next time the stranger tried to get Bugler off guard and almost succeeded. So the great battle raged, while Mrs. Bugler and Farmer Brown's Boy looked on. Now one and now the other would succeed in forcing his opponent to give ground. The earth over much of that little open space became torn and trampled. Foam flew from the nostrils of the fighters. So far as Farmer Brown's Boy could see, it was anybody's fight; the honors were even. They seemed equally matched as to size, strength, courage and skill. Not once had one of the sharp points of those antlers touched flesh.

For perhaps half an hour the battle raged, with no advantage to either. Then with a mighty plunge Bugler forced the other to his knees, and before he could regain his feet disengaged his antlers and, by a lightning quick thrust drove a sharp point into the other's shoulder. He was on his feet in an instant, fighting with greater fury than ever.

Presently the effects of that wound began to show. It had weakened him, and that shoulder became lame. Bugler saw this and crowded in harder than ever. He got no chance for another thrust with those sharp points, but little by little he forced the other to give ground, until at last they had crossed the opening. There, at the very edge, they once more separated for breath. As Bugler prepared to charge once more, the stranger suddenly turned and disappeared among the trees. He was defeated and he knew it. But it was an honorable defeat. He had fought his best and lost. Bugler followed only far enough to be sure that the other really had gone. Then he returned to the opening and blew a mighty blast of triumph.

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 21st is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7:15 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., from 11:50 a.m. to 2:10 p.m., and from 6:15 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. The danger hours are from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 8:45 p.m. to 10:10 p.m.

There is evidenced on October 21st, according to astrological conditions, a pessimistic atmosphere. If caution is not observed, monetary loss will result. Investments should be gone over and revised. Health conditions will not be good, especially for the middle-aged. Curious experiences will occur, especially to those who take an interest in the religious, occult or mystical side of life.

Children born on this October 21st will be cleverer with their hands than with their heads. They will be frank and outspoken, but not in the least malicious. They will, unfortunately have jealous dispositions, and demand without always getting it, undivided affection and unremitting attention.

You, if born on October 21st, are rather a melancholy person and take life altogether too seriously. Imagining always the calamitous, never realizing that things might be worse, your lugubriousness chilly conviviality strangles all that is congenial. At times you seem to bear on your shoulders all the accumulated ills of humanity. Such an attitude deprives you of all incentive, as, in your mind you are quite content to believe that your efforts are doomed to fail. This unfortunate spirit characterizes your home life if a woman, and is ever present with you in business if a man.

You are, undoubtedly, clever—inherently so. You will have opportunities above the average. You will have those who are willing to help you. These conditions, which would conduce to another's success, will all be lost on you unless you learn to open your eyes and see that life is not as drab as you think.

Your horoscope is a dull one until you attain middle-age. At that period, it becomes bright and glowing. It can, therefore, be deduced that something will then happen which will bring about a complete change in your outlook, and from then on life will be pulsating and joyous, even though there will be regrets over many distorted fancies and lost opportunities.

PULPIT BIBLE GIVEN CHURCH

Anniversary Services Are Held in Millbrook United Church.

REV. TUCKER PREACHES.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 21 (Examiner Correspondence) — "The glorious gospel of the kingdom of God," was the subject chosen by Rev. S. T. Tucker, B.A., B.D., of Dorchester, a former pastor of the Millbrook circuit, who was the special preacher for the services marking the forty-ninth anniversary of Saint Andrew's United Church, observed on Sunday, October 18, at 10.30 a.m., and 7 p.m. large congregations being present on both occasions.

The choir, under the leadership of Mrs. H. W. Johnston, had prepared special music for the anniversary Sunday, singing two anthems at each service, those in the morning being, "Babylon" (Watson), W. H. Coombe and Mrs. Johnston being the soloists, and "How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me Lord?" (Ashdown), M. McDowell taking the baritone solo.

A feature of peculiar interest, preceding the public worship at the morning service, was the presentation of a large and well-bound pulpit Bible to the church by the officers and members of the Boneka Bible Class of the Sunday School, the president, Mrs. W. A. O'Brian, bringing the appropriate gift to the altar where it was received by Dr. A. Jemison, clerk of the session, who placed it in position on the sacred desk. Mr. T. H. Aiken, as the appointee of the session, removed the Bible that had been is use for several years, taking it to the vestry.

The dedicatory message, read by the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, as he opened the new Bible for its initial use, was as follows:

"The members of the Boneka Bible Class, and their teacher, would consider it an honor and a privilege if the Elders of our church would accept this Bible, and cause it to be placed on God's Holy Altar. Exemplifying, as we believe it will, the belief we have in His Holy Word, and the love we bear in our hearts toward Him."

Appropriately chosen, the first lesson was David's song of praise as found in the one hundred and third Psalm, in the reading of which the whole congregation rose and joined.

A message, rich in spiritual inspiration and blessing, was brought to the people at morning worship from the text found in 1 Timothy 1, 2, "According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God which was committed to my trust," Rev. Mr Tucker developing his theme along words of an essentially redemptive gospel; redemption, repentence, and reconciliation, emphasizing the key-fact that we are made in the image and likeness of God, and showing with clarity, and in striking detail the vast difference it makes when we re-act, as Jesus did, to human situations in the spirit of God, rather than in the spirit of evil.

The thankoffering asked by the trustees of the church was $600, and a very considerable part of this amount was placed on the plates as a free-will offering at the morning service, the Tuxis Square boys who acted as ushers being J. Stinson, E. L. Burnham, Nelson and Gordon Davis.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

SOCIETY PLANS GROUP SESSIONS

Much Business Discussed at W.M.S. Presbyterial Executive Meeting.

GENERAL REPORTS READ.

The executive of the Peterborough Presbyterial of the Woman's Missionary Society met on Monday afternoon in the board room of George Street United Church. The meeting opened with a short devotional service led by Mrs. B. L. Barnes and Mrs. Seymour.

Mrs. Burgess gave an account of the sectional rally held at Lakefield and Mrs. Metcalfe of that held at Hastings. Both were reported to have been quite successful and well attended.

Reports from the various secretaries of departments followed, Mrs. A. I. Cunningham reporting for the department of Christian Stewardship and Finance, Mrs. W. H. Morton for Y.W.A's and Circles, Mrs. A. Porteous for C.G.I.T. work, Mrs. L. B. Cunningham for Mission and Baby Bands, Miss F. Dixon for the department of Supplies, Mrs. Seymour for that of Literature, Mrs. Robb for the department of strangers, Mrs. W. W. Leonard for the Missionary Monthly, Mrs. A. F. Bookhout for the department of Associate Helpers, Mrs. J. A. Sargeant for Temperance and Mrs. John Bradbury for the Press Secretary's department. All reports showed the work of the Presbyterial to be progressing favorably.

Under the discussion of new business it was decided to hold the Presbyterial meeting the third week in January and to have a speaker on The Kingdom of God Movement. It was further decided to hold group meetings of the various departments of the work and to have the findings included in the reports of the secretaries of departments presented to the meeting. Mrs. A. C. Denike was appointed to take charge of the Memorial service to be conducted at the Presbyterial meeting.

A program committee was appointed composed of Mesdames A. I. Brown, S. H. Moyer, Wm. Watt, E. J. Wagar, B. L. Barnes and John Bradbury.

It was decided to send during her term of office, the Y.W.A. secretary and the Mission Band secretary to the summer school at Whitby.

In the absence of the treasurer, Miss A. Moir, B.A., the treasurer's report was read by Mrs. A. Porteous. It showed an increase in monies over the same period of last year.

The meeting closed with prayer offered by Mrs. S. H. Moyer.

At the conclusion tea was served by a group of ladies of George Street Church, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Squires, Mrs. Ridpath and Mrs. Hales acting as hostesses.

LABOR FORCES BATTLING HARD

Issue Speedily Narrowing Down to Conservatism Versus Socialism.

CLYNES DEFENDS CAUSE.

(By Thomas T. Champion, C. P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(C. P. Cable.)—More than ever, the issue in the present general election campaign narrows down to Conservatism versus Socialism. As this swiftest of campaigns draws nearer to the fateful voting next Tuesday, those leaders of the Labor party who went out of office when Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald formed the National Government last August, are increasing the ferocity of their attacks upon the National-Laborites and their colelagues, the Conservatives.

Rt. Hon. William Graham, former Labor President of the Board of Trade, was the spokesman for Labor over the National radio last night and he was bitter concerning the reductions in unemployment benefits effected by the National Government. At Blackley, Rt. Hon. J. R. Clynes, former Labor Home Secretary, declared Prime Minister MacDonald and those who remained with him, were the ones who had deserted their principles.

The charge against late Labor Cabinet ministers that they shirked their responsibilities by resigning office rather than carry through the economy program, arouses deeply resentful feelings. It is said we ran away, declared Mr. Clynes. It is a good card to play, and a fine election trick.

Clynes' Case

"I will put my own case in the homeliest way," Mr. Clynes continued earnestly. "I was once a little piecer (cotton piece worker) earning a few shilling a week. Through the goodwill of my friends and supporters, and good luck, I became Home Secretary with five thousand pounds a year. Clynes ran away, so they say, from five thousand a year. Can you believe that?

"I have told Mr. Snowden, and I say it now: 'It was you, Mr. Snowden, who ran away from your duty as a Socialist. It was you, Mr. Snowden and Mr. MacDonald, who should have led your party in the Commons.' The men who ran away were the men who deserted their Labor principles instead of facing up and telling the House of Commons how we should balance the budget."

Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, another member of the old Labor Cabinet, will got to Derby to reply to a speech which Prime Minister MacDonald is to make there on Thursday, on behalf of Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas. Mr. Thomas is the only member of the old Labor Cabinet campaigning for re-election alongside Mr. MacDonald.

Meetings in Derby have been turbulent, as elsewhere, with Labor electors bitter against the "National-Labor" minister. Mr. Thomas has heard the epithet "traitor" many a time, and even had the experience of having a woman Laborite kicking him and attempting to slap his face.

One of the stormy meetings last night ended in a candidate being carried out semi-conscious. It was at Birkenhead and the meeting was on behalf of Major J. S. Allen, candidate for West Birkenhead, a Labor seat. Although a large number of soccer and rugger players were in attendance they were unable to prevent a most violent exhibition of disorder. The meeting was in a school room, and desks were overturned and school slates used as missiles, one of them striking Allen. The police had to use batons to end the disturbance.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE NO. 9 By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

When the first frightened natives deserted the expedition of Erich von Harben to return to their villages with the alarming stories that had finally sent Tarzan of the Apes upon the young man's trail, the young explorer himself continued fearlessly on. But one morning he awoke to find himself completely deserted. Even his body-servant, Gabula, had left him.

A hasty survey of the camp revealed that his followers had stripped him of everything. All of his supplies were gone, and his gun carriers had decamped in the night with his rifles and all of his ammunition, with the exception of a single pistol and its belt of ammunition that had been in his tent with him. He was now alone on the slopes of the Wiramwazi Mountains.

He looked toward the rugged heights above him. He had come a long way to reach his goal, which now lay somewhere beyond that serrated skyline, and he was of no mind to turn back now in defeat. A day or a week in these rugged mountains might reveal the secret of the Lost Tribe of legend. There were known dangers behind him in the jungles. Ahead of him dangers that no man knew.

It did not take the young man long to reach his decision, and presently he turned back to his tent and, entering it, packed a few necessities that had been left to him in a light haversack, strapped his ammunition belt about him, and stepped forth once more to turn his face toward the mystery of the Wiramwazi. He felt as light-hearted as in the days when he had scaled the Alps.

Obituary

CHARLES TUFTS

The funeral of Charles Tufts, widely known throughout Central Ontario, who died suddenly at Cobourg on Friday, took place on Monday morning at Grafton. Requiem High Mass was sung by the parish priest, Rev. Father Scanlon, and in the sanctuary were Rev. Father Ferguson of Warkworth and Father Masterson of Peterborough, a cousin of the deceased. Mr. Tufts was stricken with a heart attack on Friday and died that evening in the Cobourg General Hospital. He was a traveller for the McLaren Company of Hamilton and was widely known throughout this district especially among the grocery trade.

Mr. Tufts was a member of the Cobourg Council of the Knights of Columbus. He is survived by his widow and three young daughters, and by two brothers.

THOMAS J. MOORE

The death occurred at two o'clock this afternoon at his home at 340 Reid Street after a short illness of Thomas J. Moore, well-known Peterborough contractor for many years. The deceased was 79 years of age and had lived in Peterborough County all his life, having a host of friends in this city.

Besides his sorrowing wife, he leaves to mourn his loss two daughters, Jean at home and Mrs. P. M. McCarrell of Saskatoon; and two sons, Clair and Burwell, both living here. Funeral announcements will be made later.

St. John's Choir To Give Concert

A very interesting program is promised for the concert to be given on Friday, October 30, in the auditorium of the Collegiate Institute, by the choir members of St. John's Church, under direction of F. G. Mann, L.Mus. A portion of the proceeds will be donated to the Cheer Fund of The Examiner and the balance will be used for choir needs. The program includes part songs by the choristers, solos by gold medal prize-winners, selections by the men of the choir, and also in conjunction with the lady alto singers, duets and solos, and the unaccompanied numbers which are always so effective.

Railway Cabin Is Removed From Brooklyn To Peterboro To Be Erected At Diamond

In fairy tales it was nothing to whisk a house or a princess through the air on magic carpet or on the south wind and seep them off to some glamorous lands Usually in these slower and more prosaic days we have to be content with the slow dragging of buildings on heavy wheels, except in such instances as that of the removal of a railway "cabin" from Brooklin, near Whitby, to Peterborough.

This "ducket" is about twenty feet square and two and one-half storeys high. Because of its height the two storeys were separated and loaded by derrick on a flat car, transported to Peterborough, set on the concrete foundation that had been prepared for it at the local junction of the C.N.R. and C.P.R. at what is known as the "diamond," and this morning C.P.R. workmen are restoring the original roof in the new position.

George Waymark of Havelock, who is in charge of the Divisional C.P.R. Department of Bridges and Buildings, was in charge of the work, which was practically completed on Tuesday. For the local hoisting operation, the steel boom of a pile driver was extended with heavy timbers, and first the lower storey of the building was lifted from the flat car to the new foundation, and then the second storey was picked up and swung over on top of it.

The old "semaphore" signal house will be dismantled, and the new semi-interlocking system will be operated from the building which was put together on Tuesday and will soon be ready for use.

DRAMATIC CLUB PRESENTS PLAY

"Tea Toper Tavern" Ably Presented By Members of Knox Church Club.

PARTS WELL ENACTED.

A comedy drama entitled "Tea Toper Tavern" was ably presented by Knox Dramatic Club in the Lecture Hall of Knox Church last evening.

The play, which is very modern, abounds in interesting situations and tender love affairs with the introduction of the wily fascinating young widow and her intrigues. Some tragic situations occur when smallpox breaks out and the inmates of the Tavern are quarantined and a fire breaks out. The parts are exceedingly well taken by these young amateurs all being remarkably well chosen for the parts they are depicting.

The three acts take place in the living room of Tea Toper Tavern a very beautiful and handsomely furnished room where in the opening scene Aunt Marion Day, a canny chaperon (Mrs. E. A. Huffman) and her nieces Rosamond Day (Jean McCannon and Dixie (Vera Gatfield) are conversing regarding the arrangements the girls have made for turning the house into a Tea Room. Aunt Marion is strongly opposed to the venture and to the modern idea of business girls. Other inmates of the home are Barry (Tom Wallace) their freshman brother, Ann Annesley (M. Donaldson) a social service fiend who is interesting herself in village problems and her young sister Harriet D. Kennedy.

Soon after the house has been arrayed with tea tables on the porch opening from the living room and signs out advertising the Tea Rooms a young policeman Mike Ryan, calls to demand that the young proprietress, Rosamond, procure a license. The situation was very amusing when Rosamond begins to flirt with the blarney tongued Irish man A. M. Wedlock). Other frequent callers at Tea Top Tavern are Rev. Archibald Peary, a very earnest young divine who is interested in Ann and her social service work and John Sedgwick an old flame of Aunt Marion's, who again proposes to her. These parts are well taken by D. Charlton and J. Daines respectively.

In the second act Dallas Thorn (J. Donaldson) appears on the scene in answer to an advertisement inserted by the girls for a hired man. He explains that although he has not been accustomed to that work he must have outdoor employment for his health's sake and is hired under the assumed name of Jack Daw. He is in reality the owner of Tea Top Tavern, a university graduate who has been disappointed in love and supposedly to have left for Europe longed for a sight of his old home. Seing the advertisement he applies and meeting Dixie he falls in love with her.

About this time Ann brings in a young protege from the village (Tess) A. Charlton who is suddenly taken very ill and is put to bed. Just then an automobile accident occurs near the Tavern and Barry who rushes to the scene returns with Mrs. Gloria Sherwood Jerome (Mrs. K. Baker) a beautiful young widow and her French maid Celeste (I Darling) who decide to remain for a few days. Tess becomes very ill and the doctor pronounces it smallpox, so all are quarantined, much to the dismay of the inmates, who are greatly alarmed and Barry, John and Mrs. Jercme develop imaginary symptoms at once and make plans to escape in which they are foiled by the policeman Mike.

When Mrs. Jerome sees the hired man she recognizes him as Dallas Thorn the man whom she jilted previous to her marriage and she immediately attempts to regain her power over him.

Fire breaks out in the house and Dixie who is in the library is rescued by Dallas through a secret panel learns the truth and all ends well with four engagements announced—Rosamond and her brilliant young lawyer lover Brian Pierpont, (N. Hughes) who appears on the scene just in time to be quarantined, Dixie and Dallas Ann and the preacher, young Barry and Harriet.

A very pretty and colorful part of the play was the fancy dress ball put on by the inmates in quarantine in which the girls wore costumes of Sheperdess, Gypsy, Spanish lady, Quaker, Victorian gown and Red Riding Hood. The men were dressed as pirates, soldiers and old fashioned courtiers.

Between acts Rev. Wm. McDonald made a few remarks congratulating the club upon their efforts and Miss Freda Kelcher contributed a brilliant piano solo and Miss Eleanor Dunsford a reading "A base ball game". Selections on the radio, kindly installed by Kenneth McCannon, filled the interlude.

The play which will be repeated to-night was directed by Mrs. H. McLachlan.

Good Program By George St. Y.P.A.

The Y.P.A. of George Street United Church held their regular meeting last evening in the Sunday School auditorium. The meeting opened with sing-song, after which Miss Ruth Millyard read the Scripture lesson and led in prayer. Games and contests in music were then enjoyed and a program relating to appreciation of music was continued from the previous meeting A. V. Lillow sang The Volga Boat Song accompanied by Mrs. D Howat and gave an interesting talk on its composer and Russian folk songs Miss Helen Ludbrook rendered several splendid musical numbers on the guitar. Mrs. J. B. Nelson gave a description of Indian music and related several legends. She sang two Indian songs, "Ghost Pipes" and the well-known Indian love song "By the Waters of Minnetonka." accompanied by Miss Musa Cox. The meeting losed with the National Anthem.

Program Presented By Choir In Apsley

The members of Mark Street United Church choir motored to Apsley last evening, accompanied by Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Daniel, to put on the program of the United Church concert there Solos were sung by Rev. Daniel, Messrs. Smith and Binks, mixed quartettes by Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Binks, Mr. Binks and Mr. Smith; male quartettes by Messrs. Binks, Greenslade, Smith, and Agnew. Miss Mabel Reynolds contributed several readings, and Mrs Bell of Lakefield rendered several delightful solos. Accompaniments were played by Mrs. W. A. Greenslade Rev. Wesley of Lakefield acted as chairman.

Varsity May Foster Box Lacrosse Team

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 21 (C.P.).—The athletic directorate at the University of Toronto to-day are being asked to approve the addition of five-man box lacrosse to the inter-faculty sports program. Games to be played indoors on the gymnasium floor.

The modified version of Canada's national game calls for teams composed of one goalkeeper, one defenceman and three forwards. If the idea proves successful an attempt will be made to place the five-man lacrosse game on the list of major inter-collegiate sports.

INTERESTING TOPICS

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 21.—With Mrs. S. T. Creet, of Hamilton presiding, the general meeting of the Provincial Chapter of Ontario, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, opened at the General Brock Hotel here to-day. Mayor Charles F. Swayze welcomed the delegates to the city and greetings were also extended by Mrs. E. T. Kellam, the first Regent of the first chapter organized in Niagara Falls. Mrs. S. B Clement, North Bay, responded. Louis Blake Duff, of Welland, historian and lecturer, will give an interesting talk on the history of the Niagara District during the afternoon session. This evening Colonel William Wood, F.R.S.C., president of the Army and Navy League, is talking on "sidelights of the bonne entente." And the guests at the function will include Mrs. C. D. Burton, National President of the I.O.D.E. and former National Presidents. The morning session was devoted to conferences on immigration child welfare, Navy League, Work in India, League of Nations and I.O.D.E. Girl Guides.

Fine Offer Of Northern Electric Co.

Have Donated Northern Electric Gurney Range as Major Prize for Home Makers' Schools.

Some one attending the DeBoth Home-makers' Schools is going to be the possessor of the fine Northern Electric Gurney Range that is on exhibition on the stage at the Grand Opera House during the sessions of the school being held under the auspices of The Examiner. This fine range has been donated by the Northern Electric Company to the school as the Grand Prize, and it is a model that might well grace any home in the city.

Everyone attending the school has the opportunity of winning this fine electric house appliance free of any cost; but if the winner has already an electric stove, the electric washer can be the choice, and if both an electric stove and a washer already are part of the household equipment of the winner, then the electric ironer can be accepted. In any event the prize is very valuable and the thanks of the lucky winner are to be offered only to the Northern Electric Company for their generosity.

PROMINENT BRITISH CANDIDATES FINE PHOTOGRAPHERS MATERIAL

Austen Chamberlain Snapped in Shirt Sleeves Wielding Mop in Washhouse.

INFANTS SMILED ON.

By Thos. T. Champion, C. P. Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 21.—(C. P. Cable)—In a hundred newspapers today appeared a picture of the aquiline-visaged Rt. Hon. Sir Austen Chamberlain, Conservative First Lord of the Admiralty, with his well-known monocle as firmly fixed as ever—but in his shirt sleeves industriously wielding the mop of a wash tub in a Birmingham municipal washhouse. And the dignified Mr. Chamberlain was exchanging smiles with half a dozen good women whose arms were bared for the same exercise.

The picture is only one of dozens in which the press photographers, among the luckiest people at election time, have captured prominent candidates and their supporters in all sorts of happy and unconventional poses.

Cause For Wonder

The older generation who remember Sir Austen's austere father, Joseph Chamberlain, may wonder what "Joe," the stern figure of the House of Commons and platform, would have though of this development of modern canvassing But "Joe" Chamberlain himself was caricatured more freely perhaps than any other Victorian parliamentary giant.

Today, too, Lord Borodale, Conservative candidate in Peckham, Camberwell, is seen with his mother, Lady Beatty—wife of Admiral Beatty—smiling down on an infant in a perambulator.

Rt. Hon. Margaret Bondfield, the first woman cabinet minister who lost her post when the Labor cabinet resigned, is seen discussing high politics with a street vendor of ice-cream.

Trails Footballers

Football and politics are going in harness pretty often on the picture page—as well as in the political meetings. All three of the South Leeds candidates, for instance, are seen today with members of the Leeds United team. Campaign managers are paying special attention to footballers, for they generally prove useful stewards and "chuckers-out" at turbulent meetings.

IN MEMORIAM.

FLEETWOOD—In loving memory of our dear Mother, who departed this life thirteen years ago today, October 21, 1918.

Often our thoughts wander,
To a grave not far away,
Where they laid our darling Mother
Thirteen years ago to-day.

Those who have a Mother,
Cherish her with care.
For there will never be another
To fill her vacant chair.

NEW YORK GIVES PREMIER LAVAL GREAT OVATION

Comes With Aim of Getting Two Great Democracies Together on Crisis.

HOOVER'S GUEST.

No Definite Agreements Likely—General Review of Situation.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 22. — Premier Pierre Laval, who worked from the driver's seat of a hack to the helm of France, arrived today to talk with President Hoover about methods of smoothing wrinkles of care from the face of mankind. New York gave him one of the greatest ovations in its history.

Thousands banked Battery Park cheering wildly, fire boats spouted, and the big guns of Fort Jay thundered.

The former peasant lad smiled calmly through it all, watched huge airplanes zooming overhead, and faced a great crowd of photographers and reporters with aplomb.

"Let me see the statue of Liberty," he said, in the midst of it all, then he craned his neck out of a window of the municipal tug Macom, which with pennants streaming about to land him.

"Ah—beautiful!" he said.

Pomp Of Heroes

At City Hall, where he was escorted with the pomp New York stages for its heroes, he said he came from a nation determined to cooperate with this country to help restore prosperity.

"A grave crisis has arisen which has interrupted your development as well as that of other countries," he said. "In a world torn with doubt our two great democracies together must search for and apply methods which will restore calm and re-establish equilibrium.

"It is through an affirmation of faith and confidence that I desire to come into contact with the American people. I know their enthusiasm. I know that they are capable of generous impulses combining their deep sense of reality with their noble idealism. They will respond, if necessary to calls which may reach them from the old world.

"I speak in the name of a country which is determined to join its efforts with yours to ward off the dangers which menace our civilization."

M. Laval brought with him no fixed or definite program on which to base his discussions with President Hoover. He was expected, however, to discuss several subjects which the French consider more or less inter-twining, yet in essense separate. Among these were disarmament, economic recovery, the gold standard, inter-governmental debts, national security, and cooperation among nations, particularly between France and the United States.

No Definite Agreements

As a guest invited to dinner by another self-made man, Premier Laval expects to permit his host to open the discussion and to give France's viewpoint only thereafter. It is generally understood that he does not expect to take back any definite agreement, on paper or otherwise, but merely to thresh out with the president preliminaries looking toward cooperation on the various subjects.

The reception aboard the Ile de France was saddened by the collapse of Henri Prince, hotel magnate and official interpreter for the mayor's committee. Overworked by the strain of preparation for the huge welcome, he fell unconscious on the deck during the handshaking. He was removed to the hospital, where physicians said that although he was suffering from a heart attack and a hemhorage, he would recover.

Pair Are Charged Attempted Murder

WELLAND, Ont., Oct. 22. — (C.P.)—Charged with attempting to murder Vito Perri, of Niagara Falls, Vito Delveccio and Louis Gatto, both of Niagara Falls, are now undergoing trial at Welland Assizes before Mr. Justice Logie.

The charge arises out of a wild shooting and stabbing fracas which occurred in the Italian section of Niagara Falls on October 1.

Late last night a jury found Pasquale Feratti, Niagara Falls, guilty of wounding Vito Perri, with intent to maim. He was remanded until the end of the sessions for sentence.

WHOLE DISTRICT ARMED.

Farmer in District Gets Shot at Prowlers—Motorists Patrol Roads.

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 22.—The fire fiend again struck terror into the hearts of district farmers today when two conflagrations occurred early this morning reducing a large barn and a house to ashes.

The first outbreak was on the farm of Frank Drong, Lynden road, the barn burst into flames shortly before seven o'clock, and in spite of the aid given by a fire truck from Brantford, neighbors were unable to check the blaze. The building together with 1,500 bushels of grain, a binder, mower, drills and smaller implements went up in smoke. There was no livestock in the barn at the time.

No cause for the fire could be ascertained, and in view of the OPERATING STILL.

Too Much Hospital Russel Hill Tells Examiner Reporter.

Enmeshing themselves in the net so cunningly spread for them by Detective Sergeant Zaneth in his well-timed clean-up drive against moonshiners and sellers of illicit spirits in this district, two more operators in the swamp whiskey trade, Thomas 'Yankee' Smith, of Belmont township, and Russel Hill, of Dummer township, appeared before Magistrate Langley this morning charged with breaches of the Excise Act.

Two Charges

Smith was charged with operating a still and with selling illicit spirits while Hill faced a charge of selling.

Telling the magistrate that he wanted to arrange his business before taking the "rap", Smith first refused to elect on the first charge. Later, however, he asked permission to return to court in order to change his plea. He pleaded guilty to both charges, but was remanded for sentence until tomorrow, when Bruce Freeburn, Sammy Hill and others will come up for sentence.

"Just too much hospitality," Russel Hill told The Examiner when questioned as to how he landed in the toils of the R.C.M.P.

Three mounties headed by Sergeant Zaneth, all garbed in rough tweeds, called at Hill's abode in Dummer this morning. They said they were duck hunters and queried Hill as to chances of getting

SHOWDOWN BETWEEN COUNCIL AND JAPAN OR COUNCIL AND CHINA PREDICTED BY HIGH OFFICIALS

Briand to Propose Case Be Taken Up in Three Weeks on November 12.

LITVINOFF RAPS LEAGUE.

Claims Lack of Precision in Decisions One of Causes for Situation.

GENEVA, October 22 (By P. I. Lipsey, A.P. Staff Correspondent).—Aristide Briand, veteran French Foreign Minister and acting President of the League of Nations Council, called a public meeting of the Council for 4 o'clock this afternoon to consider a resolution which will propose an adjournment of the present consideration of the Manchurian problem until November 12.

What else will be proposed in the resolution was not revealed but it was believed it would contain a demand that Japanese troops be withdrawn from Manchuria without fixing a definite time limit, and that the Japanese and Chinese Governments would be urged to begin direct negotiations looking toward a settlement as soon as the troop withdrawals begin.

In informed quarters it was predicted that the afternoon session would bring a "showdown" between the Council and Japan, or between the Council and China. It was considered possible Japan might decline to approve the proposal and probable that the Chinese representative would not be able to accept it without referring it to Nanking.

Dismay Prevails

Dismay prevailed in international quarters here to-day for the prospect that the League of Nations Council might adjourn without taking definite action on the Manchurian problem, which was believed to be becoming steadily more menacing to world peace.

A storm of criticism was aroused last night when it became known that members of the League Council despaired of being able to apply remedial measures at the present time and the criticism prompted M. Briand, the council's acting president, to seek to modify the form of the proposed resolution under which sittings are expected to be suspended before the end of the week.

Charges of weakness were made against the council for failing to demand withdrawal of Japanese troops by a specified date and failure to take an active part in mediation through a neutral commission on the spot.

League Criticized

MOSCOW, Oct. 22 (A.P.)—Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Commissar for Foreign Affairs, sharply criticized what he called a lack of precision and clarity in decision of the League of Nations in a telegram sent to the League Secretariat at Geneva to-day.

The telegram stated that Russia is willing to adhere to the armaments truce suggested by the League Assembly last September, provided other countries do the same.

"The absence of clarity and precision in the decisions of the League regarding international obligations," M. Litvinoff said, "is one of the reasons for the sad events now occurring in Manchuria.

"My Government is ready to accept when the necessary clarity and precision has been given to the outline of obligations, making it clear that all countries shall suspend armaments on an equal footing."

Gandhi's Goat Is Awarded 1st Prize

LONDON, Oct 22 (C.P.). —The goat which supplies Mahatma Gandhi with his daily draughts of milk was awarded first prize at the English Dairy Show to-day.

As the blue ribbon was tied about its neck, it was officially named "Mahatma." S. R. Whitley, an official of the show, told the judges at Royal Agricultural Hall that the price of goats has gone up in England since the Mahatma arrived.

MAJOR R. DODDS INSPECTS FIELD

Inspector of Airways Flew From Ottawa to Peterborough Yesterday.

PLAN BIG BANQUET.

Major R. Dodds, Inspector of the Airways Branch of National Defence, was a visitor in Peterborough for an hour yesterday afternoon flying here from Ottawa to inspect the landing field where the Air Pageant is to be held Saturday and Sunday. He made the trip in less than two hours, bucking a stiff head-wind most of the way, looked over the field, had lunch and took off again for the Capital. Eddie Grant and Leslie Knight of the Trans-Canada Air Pageant, lunched with him. The major intimated the field was satisfactory, but no official report could be made while here.

The Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the air show here, is tendering a banquet at eight Saturday evening at the Empress for the fliers and visitors, and a number of tickets will be available to the public. A night-fireworks' display in the sky will be put on over the city Friday evening, weather permitting, and three machines, in siren-ship formation, will circle the town Saturday morning, followed by a rat-chase—that is, a dozen or more planes flying fast in single file. Fireworks on the ground and in the air will be part of the entertainment at the flying field, out the Port Hope highway, on Saturday evening.

Something new in aviation will be seen in crazy flying by Bennie Martin at both shows. He specializes in low aerobatics which is forbidden by the Government except at sanctioned air meets. The stunt flying of Martin is all just clear of the ground, sometimes only twelve feet up, and the difficulty and danger attending such an act is thrilling in the extreme to spectators, as it must be to the pilot himself.

ATLANTIC FLEET CREWS CASTING ELECTION VOTES

Henderson Charges Premier is One Who Deserted Ship—Simon Gives Advice.

(By Thomas T. Champion, C. P. Staff Writer.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—C. P. Cable.) —The first votes are already being cast in the British General Election, though polling generally does not take place until Oct. 27. Voters who are with the Atlantic fleet, now manoeuvring in the North Sea somewhere between Invergordon and Hull are making their decision between the National Government supporters and Labor.

Directly after nomination day returning officers were notified of the names of the naval vessels and the sailors and officers aboard who were entitled to vote. They despatched ballot papers which are returnable before the close of the polls next Tuesday.

The sailors of the Atlantic fleet have been able to hear political speeches over the ship's wireless. No canvassing, of course, is permitted either in naval or military barracks.

MacDonald Replies.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has been constrained to reply to the charges from free trade platforms, that the Conservatives are harboring dark designs to secure an independent majority through the Nationalist label, after which they would oust their Labor and Liberal associates and introduce full-blooded protection.

Speaking at Tamworth, Warwickshire, the Prime Minister reported the action of the Labor Opposition and the "most unfortunate intervention" of Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George had brought such a possibility nearer than it would otherwise have been. The situation generally, he added, was much better than he would have thought possible a few weeks ago.

Crusaders See Victory.

Whatever doubts may exist regarding the possibility of early tariffs plus generous Empire preferences, they are not shared by the enthusiastic Empire crusaders, who are already shouting victory. Lord Beaverbrook, their vigorous leader, who is taking an exceedingly active part in the campaign on the Conservative side, told a Birmingham audience last night that Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain (Conservative member of the National Cabinet) had almost completed the work his great father, Joseph Chamberlain, undertook.

"We will soon see the accomplishment of a united British Empire," Lord Beaverbrook declared. He

GARAGE BURNS AT CARLINGFORD

Absence of Wind Saves Whole Village From Being Wiped Out.

CALL TO STRATFORD.

STRATFORD, Ont., Oct. 22.—The village of Carlingford was threatened with destruction by fire at an early hour this morning when a blaze broke out in the upper storey of Ed Babb's garage and workshop, badly damaging that building and causing a loss estimated at $2,000. No insurance was carried.

The cause of the blaze has not been determined.

The fact that no wind was blowing, giving the fire fighters an opportunity to confine the blaze, probably saved the entire community from destruction.

The fire was discovered about 5.50 o'clock by Mrs. Will Vanetta, who resides just to the east of the burned building. The Stratford fire brigade was called.

The entire upper part of the Babb garage was destroyed, together with the contents. This part of the building was used as a trimming room for autos, buggies and wagons.

A number of buggies and wagons were destroyed.

BAPTIST SEAT OF LEARNING HAS YEAR OF PROGRESS IN HAMILTON

Enrollments Have Increased Since University Went to Hamilton.

GOVERNORS ELECTED.

The work of the past year at McMaster University was yesterday afternoon brought under review in the report of the Senate and Board of Governors, which was presented to the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec in session at Murray street church by Chancellor Howard P. Whidden.

It was a year which, in spite of the removal of this seat of learning from Toronto to Hamilton, and the consequent disruptions caused by that removal, which marked a distinct advance over any previous years in the history of McMaster.

"Under the new conditions in the years which lied ahead," remarked the speaker, "it will be the earnest endeavour of the faculty and Board of Governors to maintain the splendid traditions of this university."

Increase in Enrollments

He reported an increase in enrollments of students, but thought that this condition might possibly be due to the fact that young persons were being kept at schools and universities by their parents due to a lack of outlets into the world of commerce and industry and in the professions, caused by the economic conditions.

In connection with the important problem of the Theological work he thought he could do no better than quote two paragraphs from Dr. MacNeil's report:

"In spite of the confusion occasioned by removal to the new location, the theological department has maintained throughout the year a continuity of interest and a creditable standard of work. Much has been attempted and not without some degree of success, in creating a sense of fellowship, inspiration, and earnestness of purpose among all students in the University look-

Farmers Are Urged To Cut Cow Herds

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 22 (C.P.).—Dairy farmers are urged to destroy one-tenth of the country's milk cows to prevent over-production, in a report submitted to the Farm Board.

The report, prepared by the Dairy Advisory Committee, an agency of dairy co-operatives, points out that herds have been increasing for four years, which will eventually lead to large surpluses and low prices despite recent increases in prices.

GUELPH MAYOR TO SEEK SEAT

Will Contest Conservative Nomination in South Wellington.

SURPRISE MOVE.

GUELPH, Ont., October 22 (C.P.) —Mayor R. B. Robson will contest the official Conservative nomination for the by-election in South Wellington, and will not be in the field as an Independent if he does not succeed in gaining it, it was announced to-day. T. J. Hannigan, well-known Conservative, stated that he would nominate His Worship and that W. M. Hortop would be his seconder.

W. P. Gable had been named as the Conservative choice, and announcement that Mayor Robson had decided to seek the nomination came as somewhat of a surprise. It was made quite definite that the Mayor's entry into the race in no wise indicated a split in the party ranks, and that whoever is chosen on Saturday will receive unanimous support.

Decision Upsets Ruling Laid Down By Ontario Court

Long-standing Dispute Between Province and City of Toronto Over $60,000 Fine for Sale of Provincial Bonds Finally Settled.

ATTITUDE TAKEN BY PRIVY COUNCIL UPHOLDS VALIDITY OF THE DOMINION LEGISLATION

Federal Gov't Backed City's Case on Grounds That Fines Shall be Paid to Municipalities Where They Bear the Expense of Administering Law.

LONDON, Oct. 22. —(C P Cable)— The long standing dispute between the Province of Ontario and the City of Toronto, as to which was entitled to the fine of $60,000 paid by Aemilius Jarvis in a case arising out of sale of provincial bonds, was finally settled today when the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council allowed the appeal of the city.

Their Lordships' decision today upsets the ruling of the Ontario Court of Appeal which had decided by a three to two vote in favor of the province. The Dominion Government took a hand in the battle, supporting the city's case because federal jurisdiction provides, that fines and penalties shall be paid over to the municipalities where the municipalities bear the expense of administering the law. The Privy Council decision therefore incidentally upholds the validity of the Dominion legislation.

Clean-cut Issue

The controversy between the Province of Ontario and the City of Toronto over the Jarvis fine, the judgment declared, presented a clean-cut issue. That the sovereign had the prerogative right to receive fines imposed on convicted persons might be accepted as a general principle, but it is not an absolute nor unqualified right. It is only those which are "unappropriated" which belongs to the crown and the disposition of which has not been by competent authority otherwise directed.

"Their Lordships reach the conclusion," the judgment continued, "that any right conferred on the Province of Ontario to claim fines as 'Royalties' extends only to such fines as have not been otherwise appropriated by a competent authority, and that the Dominion Parliament is an authority competent to direct how such fines may be otherwise appropriated.

"Their Lordships proceed on the general principle that any prerogative right to fines which as a 'royalty' passed from Canada to the Province of Ontario at union was a right only to such fines as might not be otherwise appropriated by the Dominion Parliament in the exercises of its exclusive right to legislate on all matters coming within criminal law."

Decision of Great Interest

The decision of Their Lordships is naturally of great interest to all municipalities. In the Jarvis case the court paid the fine to the province, although the city bore the cost of administering the law. The city won the first appeal, Mr. Justice Rose holding the federal law—directing payment of fines over to municipalities bearing the cost of law enforcement and administration—was valid. The Ontario Court of Appeal reversed this decision on a majority ruling.

FAIERS PASSED AS U'S' TOURIST IN LIQUOR STORE

North Monaghan Man Charged With Keeping Liquor for Sale.

CASE CONTINUING.

Definitely Identified as Man Who Purchased Liquor in Lindsay.

That Harry Faiers, of North Monaghan, passed himself off to T. H. Begley, liquor vendor of Lindsay, as an American tourist under the name of J. Maloney, of Detroit, securing on a temporary permit six bottles of Scotch whisky and eight cases of beer, on October 14 was the evidence submitted to Magistrate Langley this morning by Mr. Begley and N. J. Kennedy, manager of the Lindsay Brewery Warehouse.

Faiers is on trial on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. J. A. O'Brien is acting for him, and Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., is prosecuting.

Telling of finding eight cases of beer beneath the flooring of a chicken house at Faier's home, Provincial Constable Silvester stated that the beer was concealed beneath a trapdoor which was covered over with straw.

Showed Surprise.

Faiers showed great surprise when the beer was located, the constable stated, and affirmed that it wasn't his liquor, since he didn't have a permit.

Provincial Constable Warren, who made the search with Silvester, gave the same evidence.

Faiers was definitely identified by N. J. Kennedy as the man who called at the Lindsay Brewery Warehouse on October 14 and purchased eight cases of beer. Faiers gave his name as J. Maloney and had a liquor permit under that name.

His suspicious aroused, Kennedy said he took the number of the man's car. This number was later identified by another witness as that of Faier's car.

T. H. Begley told of giving Faiers a tourist permit under the name of J. Maloney. The witness was certain that Faiers was the man.

Detective William Meagher said that Faiers' car bore license plate number ED-962, the same as that taken by Kennedy off the car in Lindsay on October 14.

Same Brand of Beer.

The beer purchased in Lindsay was the same brand as that found in the chicken house at Faiers' place, the evidence showed.

Claiming that the evidence submitted by the Crown was of a startling and wholly unanticipated nature, Mr. O'Brien asked for an adjournment. He also argued that there had been no evidence that Faiers was keeping liquor for sale.

Magistrate Langley said that the testimony of the Lindsay men was of a nature to prove forgery and "another serious charge under the L.C.A."

With Crown's case concluded the trial was adjourned until 2.30 this afternoon, when the defence evidence will be submitted.

Car Strikes Trolley Essex Man Killed

WINDSOR, Ont., October 22 (C.P.) — J. Stewart Laird, of Essex, was killed this morning when the automobile he was driving collided with a street car on Howard Avenue Windsor. He was town engineer and assessor of the town of Essex for years.

According to statements made to police, Laird swung his car out into the car tracks to pass an automobile parked at the curb without lights. He tried to swing back but his auto was crashed into by the street car. Laird was dead when taken to Metropolitan General Hospital. His head had been forced through the windshield of his car.

Coroner Dr. H. Grasweller has opened an inquest.

JAPAN OUTLINES 5 MAIN POINTS ASKED OF CHINA

Wants Guarantee of One Another's Territorial Integrity —Non-aggression Pledge.

BATTLE AT TIEHLING.

Governor Chang Reported Seeking Soviet Aid to Protect Interests.

TOKYO, Oct. 22. (AP)—Having received and answered the note of the United States Government to China and Japan calling attention to their obligations under the Kellogg Peace Pact, Tokyo to-day awaited action from Geneva on the five fundamental points she wishes China to recognize in principle as the price of withdrawing Japanese troops from Manchuria.

It was announced that Japan had anticipated the United States note, which was formally delivered by Charge D'Affairs Edwin Neville, and already had sent a reply to Washington.

The Washington note was understood to be similar to that which the twelve other signatories of the Kellogg Pact previously had sent.

5 Main Points

The five fundamental points, which had been received in Nanking with indignation but were said to have been given consideration at Geneva where the League of Nations Council is studying the far eastern crisis, were announced here as follows:

(1)—Japan and China shall mutually pledge non-aggression and guarantee one another's territorial integrity.

(2)—All forms of anti-Japanese propaganda, including the anti-Japanese boycott, shall be abandoned.

(3)—China shall give assurances for the safety of Japanese lives and property in Manchuria.

(4)—An agreement shall be reached eliminating competition on the Manchurian railways.

(5)—China shall recognize existing treaty rights, including the question of Japanese and Korean land leases in Manchuria.

Tokyo heard reports that Governor Chang Hsueh-Liang of Manchuria had approached Moscow in the hope of interesting Russia in protecting his interests, promising

SHOOTING CASE WILL BE PROBED

Rum Runner is Wounded by Border Patrolman, Then Fined $240.

AFFAIR HUSHED UP.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 22—Prosecutor Harry S. Toy has announced that his office would investigate the shooting of an alleged beer smuggler by a U. S. Customs border patrolman on September 29.

The shooting, in which Frank Ramsay, of Ecorse, was wounded on Grosse Ile, was revealed by Col. Heinrich A. Pickert, Collector of Customs, yesterday, after Representative Robert H. Clancy had demanded of him a public report of the affair.

Prosecutor Toy said he wishes to determine why it was not reported to county authorities.

Picket said yesterday Ramsay was fined $240 without court action for being found with several cases of Canadian beer. The incident was suppressed, he said, because Ramsay was not a professional smuggler and was "from a good family."

DOMINION WINS FROM PROVINCES AVIATION CASE

Federal Government of Canada Has Jurisdiction Over Aviation.

FORMER RULING UPSET.

Appeal Was Taken to the Privy Council in England by Dominion.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(C. P. Cable) — The judicial committee of the Privy Council today allowed the appeal of the Dominion Government of Canada against a decision of the Supreme Court of Canada on the reference of the question of whether the dominion or the provincial authorities have jurisdiction over aviation matters in Canada.

The Supreme Court had decided the dominion may control such aeronautical matters as are involved in international affairs and such aerial activities as the dominion itself engages in, but ruled the provinces had jurisdiction to control and legislate on aviation matters within their own boundaries.

The supreme tribunal today however upheld the Dominion Government's contention to supreme jurisdiction over aviation matters in Canada. Their Lordships' decision incidentally upheld the validity of Dominion aeronautical legislation which had been challenged by the provinces.

Real Object Of Act

While the courts should be jealous in upholding the charter of the provinces, the judgment said, it must be no less borne in mind the real object of the British North America Act was to give the Central Government those high functions, almost sovereign powers, by which uniformity of legislation might be secured on all questions of common concern to the provinces as members of a constituent whole.

There may be cases of emergency where the Dominion is empowered to act for the whole, and there may also be cases where the Dominion is entitled to speak for the whole by reason of the plain terms of section 132 where Canada as a whole having given an obligation is given the power necessary and proper for performing such an obligation.

"Their Lordships do not think that aeronautics can be brought within the subject of navigation and shipping, although undoubtedly to a large extent in some respects they might be brought under the regulation of the trade and commerce or postal services," the judgment continued. "Their Lordships do not think aeronautics are a subject within the property and civil rights in the Provinces, although here again ingenious arguments may show that some small part of them may be so included.

Ruling Section.

"They consider the governing section to be Section 132, which gives the Parliament and Government of Canada all the powers necessary and proper for performing obligations towards foreign countries arising under treaties between the Empire and foreign countries.

"As far as Section 132 is concerned Their Lordships are not aware of any decided case of assistance in the present occasion, but it will be observed from the very definite words of the section it is the Parliament and Government of Canada

TRUNK MURDERS BAFFLE POLICE NO CLUE FOUND

Beaches, Hidden Cabins Searched for Mrs. Judd's Body.

INQUEST CALLED.

Phoenix Officers Believe Jealousy Over Men Prompted Slayings.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 22. — The strenuous police hunt for Winnie Ruth Judd, wanted for the Phoenix trunk murders, continued throughout the West to-day, but the belief grew that she either was hiding here or had committed suicide.

Although there were reports that persons resembling the hunted woman had been given rides by motorists near San Diego and at Central California points toward Sacramento, officers expressed the belief she might not have left the city.

The search was pressed while officers prepared for an inquest over the bodies of the victims, Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Le Roi, which were shipped here in trunks claimed by Mrs. Judd.

On the theory that Mrs. Judd's body might be found in some out-of-the-way place, police looked over the beaches and hills around Los Angeles. Volunteers peered into deserted cabins and looked through the brushy undergrowth in canyons near the city.

Jealousy Motive.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 22.—Officers delving into evidence of a party at the home of Winnie Ruth Judd the night of Oct. 16 assert jealousy over a man, or men, probably caused her to slay her former friends, Agnes Le Roi and Hevig Samuelson.

The locale of the murders the folowing night has been definitely fixed as the apartment of the victims.

Police said references in Miss Samuelson's diary which might be construed as indicating existence of a strange intimacy among the three women were not conclusive. The diary is in possession of County Attorney Lloyd Andrews in Los Angeles.

Corroboration of the theory that men were involved, detectives said, was obtained from a woman whose name was withheld.

The woman witness said she attended Mrs. Judd's party by invitation and that the hostess obtained two of the three men who were present only by summoning them, under protest, from the Le Roi-Samuelson apartment.

She and Mrs. Judd and one of the men drove from Mrs. Judd's house to the girl's apartment, she said, to get the other two men. Mrs. Judd refused to go in and asked the others not to tell Mrs. Le Roi and Miss Samuelson she was in the car.

Two Men Leave.

The girls argued the men should reamin there instead of joining the other party. Finally, the woman told police, it apparently was settled amicably, and she and the two men went out, one lingering for what she said apparently was an affectionate parting. The girls then followed them to the car at

Pawning Pants Cost Policeman His Job

BERLIN, Oct. 22 (A.P.)—Keeping his uniform trousers in pawn for nearly four months cost Police Sergeant Victor Lehmann his job.

He managed to get along by borrowing trousers from colleagues who happened to be off duty—until one day the whole police force was called out. The sergeant had to report in civilian trousers, and was dismissed immediately.

Motor Damaged In Doolittle Flight

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22 (A.P.)—Major James H. Doolittle, speed flier, was waiting to-day for repairs on the motor of the plane in which he flew here from Ottawa, Ont., by way of Washington, D.C., in 12 hours and 36 minutes Tuesday.

He was forced to postpone his returne to the United States until next week. One cylinder of the plane was damaged by the terrific pace set on the flight.

Aeroplanes Are Used In Election Fight

LONDON, Oct. 22 (A.P.) — Ramsay MacDonald has a fleet of 12 airplanes at his disposal during the campaign.

The machines are kept in readiness night and day at Heston Air Park, ready to fly to any part of the country with speakers and literature.

Six are intended to carry printed matter, the others important speakers.

BANK ROBBER GIVEN 5 YEARS

Junior Clerk Gets 3 Years and Accomplice Year on Same Charges.

HOLD-UP IN HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 22 (C.P.)—Five years in Dorchester Penitentiary on the charge of robbery, and three years for assault, to run concurrently, were the sentences imposed by County Court Judge W. J. O'Hearn this morning on Chipman Smith for his share in the looting of the Quinpool Road Royal Bank on August 27. Leroy Dickson, junior clerk in the bank, was given three years in Dorchester on the robbery charge. Richard Morse, an associte of Smith and Dickson, drew one year in the city prison for robbery and one year for assault, the sentences to run concurrently.

END PILES QUICK
No Salves—No Cutting.
Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this—ar. internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this city, that McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile agony or money back.

"Apartment 4,
"Comrade Ivan Mikhailov."

ADDRESS GIVEN ON EDUCATION

Lakefield Principal Gives Fine Outline on What Schooling Means.

AT A.Y.P.A. GATHERING.

LAKEFIELD, October 22 (Examiner Correspondence). — Mr. J. F. Harvey, principal of the Lakefield High School, gave an interesting address on Education at the regular meeting of the A.Y.P.A. on Monday night. This week has been set aside by the Secondary Teachers' Association of Ontario as Education Week, with the object of spreading a better understanding of what education means. We have Tomato Week, Fire Prevention Week, etc., and the teachers felt that they had better get in while the going was good. Our educational system divides into three parts—Public School, High School, and University.

The Public Schools naturally have the largest attendance, and the majority never go on to High School. Passing the entrance is very often the end of school for many pupils. Of late years since the age limit of compulsory school attendance has been raised from 14 to 16 years there has been a large attendance in the High Schools. If a boy or girl leaves school before 16 he or she is not equipped for the battle of life. Many young people drift away from school because they find the routine irksome, but many are coming back now in these days of industrial depression realizing the need of more education. The first men and women laid off in dull times are the unskilled; the skilled laborer is kept on even though his wages may be reduced.

The High School carries on the Public School work to a greater degree; it leads to university, to the Vocational School, and one can get a course which leads in to the teaching profession.

School's Increasing.

The Vocational Schools are increasing in number all the time and are filling a great place in our country. One can select any trade and get a thorough training and still get an academic education. The speaker advised every boy or girl to take vocational work if it is not possible to go to university. These advantages of education increases one's earning capacity and make it possible for the ambitious boy or girl to rise. These vocational or technical schools are supported by the Government and receive large grants from the Federal and Provincial Governments. Nearly every city and most large towns have these schools, and the number is steadily increasing. There are 1,100 students in the Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. This means a better class and higher type of citizens on graduation. The night classes which are open in many places have attracted thousands of men and women, boys and girls who are working during the day and who are taking advantage of evening classes.

There are twenty-three universities in Canada, which is wonderful for a country with a population of ten millions, and among the graduates are men and women who have won world-wide fame. It stirs our pride to think of it, and the universities are open to every boy and girl, man or woman in Canada. There is a man of 70 attending Queen's University at present; he is now in his third year in Arts. He was a business man and an M.P. He says when he graduates he is going to Osgoode Hall to study law. All these institutions of education spread a better understanding, and do not mean merely getting a living, but mean citizenship of the highest and best type. We are seeing results all through Canada.

Home and School Club.

An organization of comparatively recent origin which has done a great deal to make a better understanding is the Home and School Association. It means an increased interest and influence of the home in the school. If you want to have a happy home the parents must be interested in their children and take a kindly interest in their work; the teachers like the co-operation of the parents and when there are close relations between home and school the results are better. The Home and School Association is a fine thing as teachers and parents meet and discuss affairs, and if the parents show a genuine interest in the success and welfare of the children, it encourages the teachers and helps him or her to take a pride in the pupils, and nothing pleases the teacher more than to have a call from an old graduate. The speaker closed with a plea for greater union and co-operation between home and school.

A hearty vote of thanks to Mr Harvey was proposed by Mr. L. J. Charlton, and heartily endorsed by all. Rev. W. J. Creighton said a few words on the subject and spoke of the encouragement it meant to children to have their parents present on Sports Day and at the special features of their school career.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

MOVIE THEATRE WILL OPEN SOON

Aims to be Best of Kind in Province Showing First Class Pictures.

Northern Electric Machine.

CAMPBELLFORD, October 22 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The new Hollywood Theatre in Campbellford will, within the next two weeks, be ready for opening, the exact date of this event being announced later. This theatre, when finished, will be one of the finest of its size in the Province, and it is the aim of the manager, A. Rappaport, to have the best sound films that money can buy.

The theatre has been constructed according to the requirements of the Government and the Northern Electric Company, which type of machine is being installed. Air cushioned, velour upholstered seats are being placed, and the only neon-electric marque sign in Campbellford is surmounting the entrance.

The whole building is up-to-date in every respect, with a rest room for ladies and every modern convenience. Mr. Rappaport announces in an interview with The Examiner that he will have shown in Campbellford the same feature pictures that are shown in the largest Toronto theatres, and guarantees to the citizens and residents of the surrounding country and villages that they are going to get a hundred per cent. square deal for their money. He also has a plan by which ladies' auxiliaries of churches, charity institutions, or any other worthy organization in town or the surrounding country can raise a reasonable amount of money without any investment.

Battle Reported

The newspaper Jiji Shimpo which had the rejort from Mukden, speculated as to whether the reported arrival of a prominent Russian at Peiping was in connection with Governor Chang's new move.

News here of military developments in Manchuria included receipt yesterday of dispatches from Mukden stating Japanese reinforcements had been rushed 45 miles northward to Tiehling, where a hard fought battle raged between the Japanese garrison and 2,000 Chinese troops.

The battle was reported to have halted traffic over the South Manchurian railway, Japanese property.

who are to have all the powers necessary and proper for performing the obligations of Canada or of any Province thereof.

"It would therefore appear to follow that any convention of the character under discussion (the aerial convention at the Peace Conference) necessitates Dominion legislation in order it may be carried out. The terms of the convention include almost every conceivable matter relating to aerial navigation and we think the Dominion Parliament not only has the right but the obligation to provide by statute and regulation that the terms of the convenion shall be carried out.

"Their Lordships are influenced by the facts that aerial navigation and the fulfilment of Canadian obligations under Section 132 are matters of national interest and importance, and that aerial navigation is a class of subject which has attained such proportions as to affect the body politic of the Dominion."

ing forward to the Christian ministry.

"The task of securing candidates for the Christian ministry adequate in numbers and possessing the necessary high qualities, intellectual and spiritual, remains for McMaster as for all theological colleges at the present time, a pressing problem. While McMaster withstood more successfully and for a longer period than any other theological students during the war and post-war period, we are now sharing, in common with kindred colleges the acuteness of the need. Vigorous measures must be taken to revive the interest of our Baptist homes and churches in providing candidates for the Christian ministry. It is to he hoped that, along with the Christian parents and the pastors, the energy of the Senate and Board may be directed in a very definite way towards raising up a new generation of leaders."

Financial.

Albert Matthews, LL.D., chairman of the Board, presented the financial report.

Thus far we have spent on buildings, equipment and grounds $1,331,045.61, this being within the total alloted to the Building Committee. From general subscriptions there has been received $866,101.20, and from the Hamilton Citizens' Fund $414,000.000. Of the total amount subscribed there still remains to be paid $500,000.00. In spite of the unprecedented period of depression, we believe that nearly all of this can be counted on.

The University Financial Statement in Appendix "A" shows that, in spite of the many unusual expenditures made necessary in the opening year at Hamilton, we have come through with a very good showing. The deficit of $14,141.50, must not be repeated during the year ending August 31st next. Strict economy will be practised, but economy alone will not make this possible. The receiving of further payments on account of subscriptions to the New McMaster Fund is essential if we are to have increased endowment returns sufficient to give us the revenue we need. The further generous support of our friends in the churches is of prime importance.

Mr. Matthews, commenting on the work of the standing committees of the Board, said they had without exception pursued their work diligently and with a singleness of purpose.

Referring to the removal of the University, he remarked: 'A going concern was removed from one city to another. It closed normally at Toronto and opened normally at Hamilton and is proceeding to function normally."

"In these catastrophic times with world values rocking beneath us, anyone might be excused for asking what was going to happen to McMaster University," he stated, hastening to assure his hearers that there was not one single investment at the University in jeopardy at the present time.

Kept Well His Trust.

Eight years ago he remarked the University was handed over to the Chancellor with instructions to him to guard well its honor. "He had not failed in his trust." On behalf of the board of which the speaker was a member, he wished to again pledge the Board's continued support of the Chancellor and faculty.

The adoption of the combined report was seconded by V. Evan Gray, who paid tribute to Mr. Matthews in his capacity as chairman of the Board of Governors.

The Elections.

Albert Matthews, R. D. Warren and V. Evan Gray of Toronto and G. C. Edwards, M.P., of Ottawa, were re-elected to the Board of Governors, while J. B. McArthur was also elected to the Board by acclamation to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Messecar.

Miss Marjorie Trotter, the new principal of Moulton College was called to the platform by the president, and gave a very interesting address touching upon the work of her school.

She had discovered that girls were so varied in their needs and so changeable in their moods and dispositions that she was particularly glad to have a school like Moulton. It was a school which aimed at helping a girl to reach social development and to achieve her own best self. At Moulton a girl had a chance to make needed adjustments and to get the rough angles polished off. The valuable privilege of living with her contemporaries amidst a religious atmosphere was also another privilege of Moulton. She believed that the true definition of education to be for developing the free expression of every individual.

The president, Dr. McCrimmon, spoke of Miss Trotter as a worthy principal of Moulton and a worthy daughter of her distinguished parents, the late Professor Thomas and Mrs. Trotter.

At an earlier stage of the proceedings, it was decided on motion and after considerable discussion that at next year's convention program the devotional exercises would be confined to the commencement of the morning sessions only and that inspirational addresses were to be so governed with a view to allowing more adequate time for the consideration of reports of the various boards.

It was further decided that the convention sessions next year shall cover a period of four days, the same as the present sessions.

The Rev. B. W. Merrill presented outlining three important phases of the work of the society, namely the report of the Upper Canada Tract and Book Society, briefly the book shop on University avenue Toronto, the society's work among sailors and the distribution of religious tracts.

The Rev. S. T. Pinnock of Toronto was called upon by the president to give the report of the British and Foreign Bible Society. The speaker stated that the Society had distributed twelve million copies of the Bible throughout the world in one year. He spoke of the potentiality of each Bible so distributed and mentioned the fact that these copies of the Holy Word were printed in 644 different languages. "The Bible and the religion it teaches us," he remarked, "is lost if we don't share it with other people."

Greeting From U.S.

As delegate from the North Baptist convention of the United States to the present conference, the Rev. N. H. Rhodes, Jr., brought a message of greeting from "across the line." He said the Baptists of his convention were indebted for the type of Christian leadership which the Baptists of the Ontario convention were showing.

Mentioning a recent radio broadcast in which he heard H. G. Wells from England the speaker said he was in accord with Mr. Well's remarks that there must be a "world plan or disaster." He would go further and say that it was a question of a "Christ plan or disaster."

In perfect harmony with the entire sessions of the afternoon the Rev. C. R. Duncan, M.A., of Hamilton spoke on the "Centrality and Importance of our Educational Institutions." He spoke at length on the contribution made by Christian education, and stated that "we must maintain our educational institutions at the highest point of perfection." It was because educational institutions were at the centre of missionary enterprise that these matters had the attention of the meeting this afternoon, he observed.

He stated that the leaders of the Baptist Home and Foreign Missionary enterprises had been graduates of Baptist universities. Two-thirds of the ministers attending the convention, he said, were graduates of McMaster University or had been trained in Theology at the Baptist Training Schools.

FAR FROM BEING BROKE.

Increasing bank deposits indicate that despite hard times there is no lack of money in Canada.

The same story is told in another field.

The Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau has just issued a statement to the effect that up to the end of September of this year the people of Canada and Newfoundland had bought $367,223,000 of new ordinary life insurance.

The total of insurance in force in Canada at the present time is $6,500,000,000, or $550 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion. That is a per capita showing higher than any other country in the world, except the United States.

That total and the immense sums of money now in savings accounts in the banks of the country go far to show that Canada is a long way from going broke.

Any ten million people that can show billions in savings banks and life assurance should be able to weather a period of depression and get back to normal prosperity long before any other people on earth

UNEMPLOYED WOMEN.

Two of the women delegates to the Ontario Liberal convention at London brought into prominence a question that, while of marked importance, has been given too little attention, namely, the status of unemployed women in this period of depression.

Government and municipal plans for providing employment have completely ignored the unemployed woman worker; there is no machinery whatever for finding jobs for that section of our population, and yet as these champions of their sex vigorously pointed out in addressing the Liberal convention, many women are in dire straits because they are without gainful employment at the present time.

A good many women, especially those without relatives in Canada, are finding it a difficult matter to keep from starving under the existing conditions, and yet their plight has been completely overlooked in any plans that have been put into operation for the relief of the unemployed.

It is a matter that should receive consideration, and the women who invaded a political convention to bring this question before the public deserve thanks for indicating a very real need that requires to be considered.

WHY NOT A FINANCE MINISTER?

Approving the selection of a Cabinet sub-committee to assist Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, in his task of unemployment relief, the Ottawa Journal adds: "The next sensible step should be a Minister of Finance to relieve the Prime Minister of his too great and crushing responsibilities."

That expresses the general opinion.

The Canadian people generally believe that it would be in Mr. Bennett's interest, as well as in the interest of the whole country, if the Prime Minister were to turn over the control of financial matters to a Minister of Finance.

It is appreciated that Mr. Bennett has an abnormal appetite for work, and that he has not spared himself in trying to carry a load of responsibilities that would have crushed many a politician.

The public, however, can see no reason why he should feel it necessary to assume such a burden.

There must be some one in the Premier's confidence whom he would be willing to entrust with the task of looking after the country's finances.

It is difficult, therefore, to understand, and the failure of Mr. Bennett, after more than a year in office, to select an assistant capable of discharging the heavy duties of the finance portfolio.

It would be a good thing for the Prime Minister and an even better thing for Canada were he to stand from in under part of the work.

AN IMPORTANT CONFERENCE.

Great interest is being shown in the conference to be held at Newmarket on the last two days of this month, a gathering called together for the purpose of endeavoring to find a solution for the present economic problem, particularly as it affects the basic industry of agriculture.

The speakers are expected to include President Beatty of the C.P.R., Agnes MacPhail, M.P., Professor Urwick and other members of the University of Toronto and many others, but the oratory will only be a sideline, for the promoters of the gathering emphasize the fact that it is really a conference, "a getting down to actualities, with reliance upon our own people to build on new lines in our day as the pioneers did in theirs."

It is proposed to effect an "organization for prosperity" that will seek to unite farm and town together in the promotion of measures.

(1) To cause the rural population to realize its importance to the nation.

(2) To enable the urban population to realize the dependence of all industry upon the parent industry.

(3) To develop co-operation between the parent industry and all other producers of wealth so as to secure an equitable distribution of the fruits of their labor.

The committee points out that the work to be done on these three social and economic fronts involves a reconstruction of rural life, and an entirely new and co-operative relationship between country and town.

Everybody interested is invited to participate in this parent industry conference, the results of which will be awaited with much interest.

It is to be noted that Harry Sifton usually succeeds in saying something that will get his name into the headlines.

THE SCIENTISTS "ENLIGHTEN" US.

It beats us how anybody can remain ignorant when there are so many scientists loose telling us every day in such a simple way everything about mind and matter. For example, there was the cable from Rome in yesterday's paper informing us that myriads of cosmic rays pour down upon the earth from distances hundreds of millions of miles farther away than the sun, each ray carrying energy of 786,000,000 volts. And just so we'd be sure to get the thing straight, and not be confused about it, two scientists went on to tell us that experiments conducted this summer disprove theories that such rays proceed either from within the earth's atmosphere or from the sun or visible stars. The place of origin, they said, is in the stellar regions.

We're rather glad to have this point cleared up, as we hadn't been perfectly sure about it, and it had been giving us some worry of late.

And the scientists were even more helpful. They went on to say that when utilitarian science takes a hand in the researches, the tremendous energy contained in the cosmic rays may be harnessed and converted to man's use. Finally, just to make the matter so simple that none of us could fail to understand him, a Professor Millikan reported that he had divided the cosmic ray into four substances, helium, oxygen, silicon and iron, containing 27,000,000,100,000,000,216,000,000 and 443,000,000 volts, respectively, or a total of 786,000,000 volts.

Then while these scientists over in Rome were making so many things so clear to us, our old friend Sir Oliver Lodge arose to say a few helpful words in London. Sir Oliver assured us—and we suspected this ourselves—that the universe isn't running down. He said that we had only recently discovered that matter turns into energy, and then asked: "Why should we not in the course of years discover that energy turns into matter?"

Well, personally, we don't know of any reason why it shouldn't, though this may be due to the fact that we haven't looked into the thing too carefully. The trouble with most of us, we guess, is that we have been so obsessed with this depression, we've been entirely neglecting our cosmic rays. We'll have to pay more attention to the professors; they're as easy to listen to as the economists, anyway.—Ottawa Journal.

PRIVATE VS. PUBLIC BUSINESS.

After mentioning the fact that taxation in Canada is steadily growing and prediction that for 1930, 1931 and 1932 taxes collected in Canada will average about one-quarter of the national income (as opposed to only one-tenth before the war), the Financial Post proceeds to say that it is difficult to see how any substantial relief from this burden can be expected until there is a radical revision of the spending policies of the different Governments.

"All over Canada," says the Post, "business concerns are fighting hard to avoid bankruptcy and their approach to the problem is through the reduction of costs and the elimination of waste. But always they are faced with the fact that one of the most important items of cost is not going down, it is going up: the item of taxes, because the biggest business institution in Canada—government—which employs 385,000 people, is not ferreting out waste, is not giving due consideration to cutting costs, but is contenting itself with isolated moderate savings here and there, not to reduce the total bill but merely to find the money for new ventures and new items of expense.

"For example, the best the Federal Government has been able to do in the last six months by watching the pennies is to cut expenditures by $3,000,000, while twenty-five times that has been spent in capital account, railway deficits, relief, etc.

"The people of governmental authorities of Canada face the absolute necessity of drastic revision in the scope of governmental activity during the next decade; not merely a policy of careful attention to every small item and of frugal administration of activities already carried on. This is an obvious and essential need, but something further is required. Government has invaded to an alarming extent the functions of the private individual; has given him fatherly care and assistance in regard to many matters that should be left to each person and has penetrated deeply into the realm of business itself. The bureaucrats must hand back to the rank and file of the citizenry the responsibility for the conduct of many phases of the country's economic life that have been assumed by government."

It is indeed a serious situation when, as the Financial Post asserts, Canadians are obliged to work one day in four in order to keep the tax collector from calling in the bailiff. And the most distressing part of the whole business is that there is in evidence a constant tendency for the burden to increase, rather than to decline. Rather than curtail existing expenditures, Governments seem to prefer to explore additional sources of revenue, chiefly in the form of further taxation, and people, who cannot perceive that increased expenditures lead only to increased taxation, continue to urge upon them even larger expenditures, often in connection with projects that are not visibly in the general interest of the public.

There is not a little point to the suggestion advanced by the Toronto publication that while private business throughout the country is, in general, struggling through a reduction of costs and in other ways to avert insolvency, public business continues to be conducted very much on the normal plane of costs without noticeable declines being recorded.

Inevitably there must be a limit to this exaction of money from the people in the form of taxation and this piling-up of huge debts. Ratepayers are able to bear only a certain burden. When it gets beyond their ability to pay, the time of reckoning is at hand. And in some cases, where Governments have gone steadily ahead spending money without making much effort to do something, as private business has been compelled to do, in the curtailment of costs and the elimination of waste, it has already arrived.—Brockville Recorder and Times.

PRODUCE GRAIN, CATTLE,

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Oct. 22. — Though trade on the butter market yesterday was slow there were sales made at steady prices, which showed that buyers were gradually becoming interested. Brokers reported movements of creamery solids to outside points and also some transactions of fair size in the city. Trading generally was conducted on a basis of 20c to 20¼c for No. 1, and 1c to 19¼c for No. 2.

Cream prices held steady at 20c to 21c for special, 19c to 20c for No. 1, and 16c to 17c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points.

Cheese

Trading in cheese was slow, but the steady prices of last week were in effect on new makes at 11¾c for large, 12c for twins, and 12¼c for triplets. Wholesalers' prices for new makes were steady, but the trade was asked to pay more for old makes at 18c for old large, 18¼c for old twins, 18¼c for old triplets and 20½c for old stiltons.

Eggs

Fresh eggs, as local dealers know them, were very scarce yesterday, with the result that prices were higher to country shippers, and to retailers, and storage stocks found a steady demand. Local brokers quoted steady prices for fresh graded lots, with Tuesday's advances, and were moving fair-sized lots of storage supplies.

Prices

Country shippers were quoted 40c for extras, 35c for firsts, and 20c for seconds, delivered, ungraded cases returned, which was a cent better for extras and seconds. Retailers were offered extras in cartons at 47c to 49c, extras loose at 45c to 47c, firsts loose at 41c to 43c, seconds loose at 25c per dozen and storage stocks at 30c for extras, 28c for firsts, and 23c for seconds. Brokers sold fresh extras at 43c, firsts at 38c and seconds at 21c, and traded in short-held supplies at prices lower than these. Brokers offered storage stocks at 27c for extras and 25c for firsts, candled out of storage, and 25c for extras and 23c for firsts, ordinary lots.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22. — Cheese and butter prices were higher, while egg and potato quotations were unchanged on the produce and dairy markets here yesterday.

Quebec cheese gained ¼c at 11¼c to 11¾c, while Ontario cheese advanced an ¼c at 11¾c to 11¾c a pound. Receipts were 148 boxes.

Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized butter in prints, was up ¼c at 20c a pound. To retailers solids at 21c to 22c and prints at 22c to 23c a pound were both unchanged, unchanged, extras being quoted at Receipts were only ? boxes.

Carlot prices of fresh eggs were 45c, firsts at 35c a dozen and seconds at 22c a dozen. To retailers quotations held steady and receipts were 695 cases.

On the potato market Quebecs were unchanged at 30c to 40c per 80-pound bag and New Brunswick Cobblers were 45c to 50c, while New Brunswick Green Mountains were 50c to 55c per 90-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Broadening of North American wheat export demand, together with rallying power shown by the stock market, led to lively late upturns in grain values yesterday. It was estimated that 1,000,000 bushels of United States hard winter wheat had been purchased yesterday for overseas. A shortage of 100,000,000 bushels in 1931 Northern Hemisphere wheat production as compared with 1930, exclusive of Russia and China, was indicated by official reports, with the Russian crop also smaller, despite increased acreage.

Wheat closed unsettled, ½c to ¾c up; corn unchanged to ¾c higher; oats unchanged to ¼c advance, and provisions varying from 5c setback to a rise of 17c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, October 22.— Wheat prices continued to move slightly forward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday. Still further fractional advances were recorded over Tuesday's close. October finished ½c higher at 59⅝c, November ½c at 59⅞, December ⅝c higher at 59c and May ⅞c at 61¾ to 62c.

Speculative trade played a larger part in the advance than did the export business, but a moderate foreign trade was uncovered October wheat provided the feature, touching 60c at one point.

BRITAIN IS READY TO TRADE.

To The Editor of The Examiner:

Sir: This is from an Englishman, just returned to England, and is designed to let the people—both English and Canadian—who are readers of your paper, see what impression was made on my mind on returning. I had lived in Canada for quite a few years and most of that time was spent around Peterborough.

Need I say how I felt the pangs of parting, even to return to what is supposedly home. Canada had become my home; had worked her way right into my heart, and I felt I was going back to live with strangers in a strange country. That was only three weeks ago and now here I am, fitting myself in with English ways and trying not to long too much for Canada, my ideal home.

Well, the journey across was great. We had a calm sea all the way and as many of your readers will know, a great time was had by all on board.

To those who have never had a long sea voyage, may I say these few words: If you have the means to travel, then come and see the "Old Country," see Europe, enjoy yourself, and then thank God when you get back that you have the greatest country on earth!

But I am not over there and there is no possible chance of me returning for at least two years, and so I may as well carry on with my story.

After a very pleasant voyage, we sighted Greenock about ten o'clock on Friday, the 11th day of September. Going up the Clyde we saw scenery that would rejoice the heart of anyone. There were small islands dotting the river, islands that were just huge pieces of rock, and yet the beauty of them was astounding.

But there are always clouds to mar the joys of life and before we reached Greenock, it was—well, all you Englishmen know — raining. After that it was rain and fog until we reached Liverpool. At Liverpool I had to don overcoat and gloves, for not only was it raining, but it seemed to me to be very cold. That was my welcome home—cold and depressing!

The weather, combined with the aloofness of the English people, made me feel as though I wanted to turn right around and go back to Canada. During the time I had been away I had forgotten, or should I say, I had grown out of English ways and on my return I got something of a shock.

Anyhow, after two weeks I am beginning to feel my feet, for I have made some friends, and got a position as salesman. Many people think that England has "gone to the dogs;" that it is only a matter of time before she is obsolete. Don't believe it! England is still a power to be reckoned with in international affairs, and I am of the opinion that very soon she will be on her feet nationally.

The English are stolid, unimaginative people—people who believe nothing only facts. Especially is this true of the Yorkshiremen, amongst whom I am living at present, but for all thatnotot ethemth friends when you receive friendship from them. Hard-headed, hard-to-convince, but underneath this is a heart of pure gold.

These are now my friends, and I could not wish for better, and the only longing I have left is to see Canada once more. But we'll leave the sentiment out, and I'll try to put England before you as she appears to me to-day.

Times are hard, but to my mind, they are no worse than in any other country, and I think that the cause of England's troubles to-day is her big-heartedness to other nations' troubles in the past. Now, the English are beginning to see that for once they must see to home first and keep on that line until her troubles are gone, or at least so diminished as to be almost negligible.

Of course, so far as the Empire goes, I am in favor of and think most of the British people are in favor of Empire trading. This could be done, and the Empire as a whole would benefit, but it would take too long to expound theories on it. I'll say this, the majority of English people, at least so far as I can gather, are in favor of this, and if the Dominions would only send over their best, instead of inferior goods, they would get far more trade.

I'll just give an instance. Last Christmas I sent over here a forty pound box of McIntosh Red Apples. They were of choice quality, well packed, and I sent them express. By the time they had been delivered in Leeds, they had cost me, packing and freight included, sixpence, or twelve cents, per pound. Those apples were shipped from Toronto, and must have travelled more than three thousand miles before reaching their destination.

Well, my people tried to buy "Macs" over here, and so did other people who had tasted the ones I had sent. Everytime they were put off with apples that were supposed to be "Macs" but which could not be anywhere near to the grade I sent over, and every time they were charged double what it cost me to send mine.

Now, then, Canadians, get your salesmen to sell the right goods, and if they are right you can get your own price. I want to see Canada come along, for though I was born here, she is my country, and some day I'll return.

FENELLA, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence)—The members of the local Women's Institute held a quilting bee in the community hall on Tuesday afternoon, and quilted two quilts, to be donated along with a shower of fruit and pickles to a recent fire sufferer.

The hot dinner, and fowl supper put on by the ladies of Fenella United Church at Rosseneath Fair was a decided success. The sum of $242 was realized. This is a yearly event, requiring considerable forethought, and energy to make it the usual successful affair.

TERROR SPREADS

series of outrages in the nearby district. It is feared that the loss was the work of a firebug.

After nine o'clock this morning an alarm was turned in from Lynden in Wentworth County where it was reported a house was in flames.

Shots At Prowlers

Two suspicious characters were fired upon by a farmer and his son last evening, it was learned today. Richard Pollard, owner of a farm on the Governor's road, adjoining the area where the series of fires have caused so much distress, was guarding his barn last night, assisted by his son, Sam. About 8:30 they noticed two men crawling through the darkness towards their barn and when the pair did not answer a challenge, the father and son let loose with their shotguns.

The prowlers were evidently uninjured as they fled in haste and vanished in the gloom. An alarm was turned into Chief Clark at Dundas, who responded immediately. Farmers of the district formed a posse and searched the countryside but were unable to find the fugitives.

The Beverly Township area in which all but two of the fires have occurred was quiet last night, so far as further outbreaks was concerned. It would have been difficult for a firebug to have accomplished his purpose, however, as the whole area was up in arms, and provincial police had fairly poured into the district.

Farmers Lie in Wait

Instead of the usual rural stillness after nightfall, the district sparkled with lights last night. Every farm house was illuminated, and many of the owners had strung rows of electric lights to their barns. Not a few farmers sat hidden in some shadow with a shot gun across their knees, waiting to loose a hail of buckshot upon any intruder.

Curious city motorists did as much as any other factor to prevent any further outrage. Quiet lanes which usually see a motor car about once a week were glistening with the headlights and on the highways in the district, many Hamilton cars were seen moving along slowly, their drivers watching for the first sign of an outbreak.

No arrests have been made by the authorities, and as far as can be learned, no clues of importance have come to light.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO STANDARD.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 22 (C.P.).—Though price trend remained irregularly higher from the opening, volume on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange Market subsided as the session progressed to-day, afternoon sales holding at the lowest rate for the week. Interlisted stocks were, in the main, higher on end, while cheaper sections showed mixed and confined movements.

Hollinger, above $6 in the forenoon, closed at that level for a small gain. McIntyre was in better demand and up 65; Lake Shore gained 15, Teck-Hughes 5, while Wright-Hargreaves slipped a couple. Base Metal and oil groups were at a standstill, Noranda up 10 and Nickel off a like amount, showing the only changes.

Among the lower-priced issues, Macassa recovered 3, Vickers sold up 4, Kirkland Townsite a couple, and Brett-Trethewey, Moffatt-Hall, Buffalo, Siscoe, Howey and Kirkland Lake Gold closed a cent or so above last night. Chibougamau prospectors lost 3 of yesterday's gain and Bidgood was down a cent.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 22.—Narrow fluctuations marked trading on Toronto Stock Exchange to-day. The market left off just about where it opened and during the entire session varied but little. That the market was able to stage a recovery yesterday afternoon from the reaction of the morning and hold that position to-day indicated a firm undertone.

Ford of Canada was one of the bright spots on the list, rising to 14½ where it was ½ point above last night. Canada Malting, which was yesterday placed on the free trading list rose nearly 1 point to 11⅞ and held its gain.

Brazilian at 13, Nickel at 11 to 11⅛, Dominion Stores at 16, Massey-Harris at 2, Gypsum at 5, B.A. Oil at 10, Imperial at 11¼ were unchanged to a small fraction higher. Canadian Oil was strong at 10, and Service Stations moved up ⅛ point to 6½. Union Natural Gas sold at 7½. Walkers was unchanged at 3½.

C.P.R. was slightly easier at 16½.

WALL STREET CLOSE.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 22 (C.P.).—The Stock Market maintained a heavy tone throughout a dull session to-day. Rails sagged 1 to 3 points, but offerings were very light. In the industrials and utilities losses ranged from 1 to 2 points, with few exceptions. New York Central and Atchison dipped 3, while Northern Pacific, Baltimore, Ohio and Pennsylvania gave up 1 to 1¾. There were similar declines in U.S. Steel, National Biscuit, Westinghouse, General Electric, American Can, and International Harvester. American Telephone lost 4 and Eastman 3. Sales were under 1,500,000 shares.

Toronto Coffers Will Grow Rich

TORONTO, Ont., October 22 (C.P.). — The winning of the Jarvis appeal means a large sum of money for the City of Toronto, according to City Solicitor Colquhoun.

"The Jarvis fine amounted to $60,000, but in addition to that, there are other fines involved, including the one imposed on I. W. C. Solloway of $250,000, which, under the judgment of the Privy Council, will come to the city," he said.

"The Provincial Government has claimed all fines hitherto for breach of the Criminal Code and the city claims that they should come to it. Under this judgment the city is right," he added.

"What the city will do now, I would say, is simply render an account to the Province for the amounts due."

AMBITION TO BE AN AVIATOR UNDETERRED BY LACK OF PLANE

Builds Own Craft and Flies Successfully Without Lessons.

PASSES TESTS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., Oct. 22 (SNS).—It isn't necessary to study aircraft and aviation at close quarters, if Charles Pope, of Summerside, P.E.I., can be accepted as an object lesson.

Mr. Pope decided, several months ago, that he would be an aviation pilot. To anybody else, the lack of a plane would have been a stumbling-block, but not to this man. Unable to afford the purchase of one of the new modern pieces of aircraft, he arranged to build one. It didn't end there, either.

The work took him over two months, but, finally, he finished it. The finished product was a small monoplane, the first to be built and assembled in the maritime provinces.

He proved he had plenty of confidence in his own handiwork, when he piloted it from Summerside to Moncton, N.B., for his first time at the controls. At Moncton there is a civic airport, and his aim was to have his aerial product given a thorough inspection and test. He made the voyage from Summerside to Moncton in excellent time, and brought his machine down without a hitch.

Burton Trevice, pilot at the airport, took the little monoplane through a series of tests in the air, taking off and landing, and declared the ship was one of the best he had ever handled. He said the mechanism seemed to be perfect. Under the direction of the experienced pilot, the ship was put through the usual trial paces for over an hour.

The home-made monoplane is 20 feet long, 4 feet high, and has a wing spread of 15 feet. After the plane was tested, Mr. Pope, then with less than three hours flying time to his credit, made the return flight to his home town. The plane is said to be very sturdily constructed. The builder and pilot is planning on a winter flight to Magdalen Islands, and may also try for Newfoundland.

Eat Vegetables, Milk To Preserve Teeth

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Octobr 22 (C. P.). — It's th conviction of Dr. Percy R. How, Professor of Dental Science at Harvard University, that the diet is mightier than the toothbrush in keeping teeth sound.

The Professor was awarded the Vauchard Medal for his researches into the influence of diets on teeth at the convention of the American Dental Association here.

"Brushing teeth is to remove bacteria deposits," he said. "We've been brushing our teeth for fifty years, and we still have cavities. . . Tooth brushes aren't the answer. Diet is."

He recommended more vegetables fruits, and milk in the average diet along with less meats and cereals.

Exchange Rates

EXCHANGE RATES.

TORONTO, Oct 22 (By The Canadian Press).—Exchange rates on the British pound sterling and Canadian dollar were quoted to-day on the various exchanges as follows: Pound sterling at Montreal, 4.40; pound sterling at New York, 3.93½; Canadian dollar at New York, 89⅝.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, Oct. 22 (By The Canadian Press).—Cattle receipts totalled 37. There were 600 head of stale cattle left in the yard. But the quality was too poor to attract buyers. Two loads of choice heavy steers in the first offering brought $6.00 cwt. Prices on steers, butchers, and store cattle were about 25 cents lower for the week.

No calves.

No hogs. Hog settlements on Wednesday were from $5.60 to $5.75 off car for bacon and at $5.25 to $5.40 off truck.

Sheep and lamb receipts, 209. Good lambs closed steady at $7.00 cwt. Good light sheep sold up to $3.00 cwt.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 22 (CP).—The United Farmers Co-operative Co. today supplied the Canadian Press with the following quotations on produce delivered at Toronto: Eggs, extras, doz., 40c; eggs, firsts, doz., 35c; cream, churning, No. 1, lb., 18c to 20c; creamery butter, No. 1, solids, lb., 20½c; potatoes, No. 1, in bags, 35c.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

TORONTO, Oct. 22 (CP).—Wholesale prices on Canadian fruits and vegetables as reported to the Canadian Press by White and Co., are as follows: Pears, 6-qt. basket, 20c to 30c; plums, 6-qt. basket, 20c to 30c; peaches, 6-qt. basket, 30c to 50c; cucumbers, 11-qt. basket, 35c; tomatoes, 11-qt. basket, 25 to 40c; beets, 11-qt. basket, 15c; carrots, 11-qt. basket, 15c to 20c; wax beans, 11-qt. basket, 50c; apples, 6-qt. basket, 15c to 20c; cabbages, per doz., 40c; cooking apples, per bushel, 50c to 75c; eating apples, per bushel, $1.00 to $1.50.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 22 (CP).—Hogs, 1,700; slow; weights above 150 lbs. 10-15 under Wednesday's average; bulk desirable 175-225 lbs., 5.65-5.75; mostly 5.70; 160 lbs., 5.50; lighter averages; largely 5.25.

Cattle, 200; market slow; steady; common grass steers, 4.60-5.00; cutter cows, 1.75-2.25.

Calves 150; vealers unchanged; good to choice, 9.50 to mostly 10.00; common and medium, 6.00-8.00.

Sheep, 1,300; holdovers, 7.00; lambs steady at week's sharp decline; good to choice, 6.50-6.75; medium kinds and fat bucks, 6.00; strongweight throwouts, 5.00-5.25; fat ewes, 2.25-2.75.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 22 (CP). — Grain prices averaged lower to-day after an irregular start. Liverpool wheat quotations showed comparative weakness, despite reports that by the end of this month Italy would allow millers to use 25 per cent. admixture of foreign wheat compared with 5 per cent. at present. Opening ¼ cent off to ¼ up, wheat later sagged all around. Corn started at ⅛-¼ decline to ¼ gain and subsequently held near the initial limits.

Baby Moratorium Is Termed Absurd

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 22 (C.P.).—Dr. Eric Matsner, medical director of the American Birth Control League, in an interview to-day scored as "perfectly absurd" the proposal for a moratorium on babies made recently by "a prominent birth control advocate."

Mrs. Margaret Sanger recently was quoted as suggesting such a moratorium but Dr. Matsner did not refer to her by name.

"Certainly, even under the present stress, there are enough physically fit and financially able persons to give the child a proper birth right," he said.

"There is altogether too much hullabaloo against the birth control movement. The project has been misunderstood generally. It is not planed to reduce the size of the family."

Dr. Matsner explained that the movement was to help those who were unable financially to care for large families, and for those who were not physically fit.

added the suggestion that when imports from foreign countries had been limited, the pay of policemen, teachers and postmen would be restored to the rates prevailing before the economy bill of last month.

Henderson Defends Action.

Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, Parliamentary Labor Leader, took up the charge of National Labor men that the bulk of members of the old Labor Cabinet had run away in the crisis. Speaking in his own constituency of Burnley, Mr. Henderson said his most bitter reflection was that those throwing the mud had been colleagues of his for thirty years.

"Do you think I wanted to leave the Foreign Office, where with all my heart and soul I was working for sound international relations, peace and disarmament," he asked. "We did not desert the captain. It was the captain who brought in the pirates and then deliberately scuttled the ship. Mr. Snowden accuses us of being mad Bolshevists because we still stand for what he used to stand for.

"When Mr. Snowden goes on to suggest by innuendo that the Labor Party favors confiscation of everybody's savings and property, he ought to be ashamed of himself. No one but a sadly embittered man could possibly make such an incredible misrepresentation."

Simon Gives Advice.

Sir John Simon at Bradford declared, "I have given a great deal of advice in my life, but very little of it without being paid for." This reference to his activities as a jurist and legal light brought loud laughter.

"But this piece is quite gratuitous," Sir John continued. "To the Liberals I would say I put my trust in Stanley Baldwin for I do not believe he is the man to make a base use of a national victory. To the Conservatives I would say do not doubt the willingness of the Liberals to approach the issues of the future with an open mind. You will find their minds at least as impartial as your own. And to Labor men and women, I say you are bound to give due heed to the solemn advice of the men who themselves were the architects of the Labor movement, who have devoted their lives to building it up, and whom every Labor man and woman in the country three months ago would have followed to the world's end."

Communists Blamed For Seaman Trouble

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 22.—(C. P.—A mass meeting of 2,000 seamen, declared to have been swayed by Communists among them and by Communist agitators, decided to-day to give 24 hours' notice of strike. They are engaged on interstate vessels, three of which have been tied up here for some time. The trouble originally arose when a Communist seaman was dismissed.

Australia is watching the situation anxiously for the unofficial "guards" are prepared to take a hand in the situation, either by protecting volunteer seamen or by manning the ships themselves. Prime Minister Scullin has given the House of Representatives proof that Communists are involved in the trouble.

CONVENTION COMMENDS ACTION IN ALLEVIATING UNEMPLOYMENT

Resolutions Committee Commends Government for Its Action.

CONDEMN ARMAMENTS.

Several important resolutions, thre of which were international and Dominion-wide in character were unanimouly endorsed by the Baptists of Ontario and Quebec in convention at Murray street church at this morning's sessions.

The resolutions were introduced to the convention by Rev. Dr. George T. Webb in the absence of Rev. H. E. Allen of Aylmer, chairman of the Resolutions Committee who was taken ill at a meeting of the committee last evening.

The convention went on record as commending the Federal and Provincial Governments for their action in the alleviation of unemployment and distress, and expressed the conviction that the real solution to unemployment and kindred problems lay in the application of brotherly ideal of Christ, to replace the unplanned individualism that existed.

Expressing themselves on the question of disarmaments the convention also went on record, "that we do herby express our condemnation of the existing ruinous rivalry in armaments among the nations, that we affirm our belief in reciprocal disarmament as a necessary prerequisite to national security and world peace; that we regard with satisfaction the plans of the League of Nations for a world conference on disarmament in February 1932, and earnestly pray that it may make substantial progress toward the entire abandonment of war in international relations."

The Convention further endorsed the activities of the Social Service Council of Canada on the question of narcotic drug trafficking, and pledged its support in the fostering of educational work along these lines.

Confidence and support was also expressed by resolution in the Lord's Day Alliance.

Thank Murray Street

The following resolution moved by the Rev. G. W. Brooker and seconded by the Rev. E. D. Whan conveyed the thanks of the convention to the ministers and congregations of the Peterborough Baptist Churches, etc. It was worded as follows: "This convention hereby express intense appreciation of the warm-hearted and abundant hospitality of the Murray street Church, the Park street Church, Gilmour Church and Lakefield Baptist Churches, and to many members of sister denominations who entertained us in their homes. The delegates specially ackuowledge the valuable and unforgettable work of the Murray street pastor the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe and would make special mention of the work of the ladies who provided meals, of the help of the stewards and of the various committees who accomplished so much for the comfort and wellbeing of the delegates."

A resolution moved by Rev. Dr Geo. T. Webb conveyed an expression of sympathy to the Rev. Edgar Allen, chaidman of the Resolution Committee who was to-day confined to his bed under the care of a doctor, as a result of an attack of sickness at a meeting of the committee last evening.

Last Evening's Session

The song service which began last evening's session was led by the Rev. G. V. Crofoot, followed by a devotional service conducted by Rev. H. Bryant. The preacher's subject was "Christ's Sacrifice"—a sermon of much inspirational value.

The B.Y.P.U. report was presented by the secretary, W. Fred Reynolds. It was stated that 129 unions are using the special leaflets. In the Sacred Literature Studies, "The Fighters for Freedom," was being used.

It was reported that the various leagues were making good progress and they were heartily recommended to the Union.

Evangelism had been prominent and as a result an increase in baptisms was reported in the churches. A strong program in this work has been arranged for launching in the New Year. Numerous other important phases of the work were also briefly but capably outlined.

Rev. N. S. McKechnie, in seconding the report, assured his hearers that there was no cleavage between the general convention and the B.Y.P.U. Convention. There was a splendid development in Young Peoples' Work and workers were being fitted for larger service.

The report was adopted, after which Rev. W. T. Steven gave a stirring address on "Some Conditions for Baptist Youth." "That they all may be one as Thou, Father art in Me and I in thee"; he thought was surely Christ's concern for young people.

He stressed a need for the proper relationship of young people to God, to the church and its various interests, to the literature of the day; to the terrible sufferings existent in the world, and the great questions of world peace.

A duet by Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, pastor, and the choir leader of Murray Street Church was enjoyed at this juncture of the session.

"Life's Greatest Question," was the great subject presented in an address by the Rev. Dr. W. H. Langton of Brantford.

One of life's greatest questions, he averred, was that propounded by our Lord, "What think ye of Christ." The question, he said embodied many Christian doctrines.

Dr. H. H. Bingham brought the session to a close with prayer.

The morning session opened with a devotional address on "Christ's Victory" by the Rev. A. H. Jones of Belleville.

The several resolutions brought in by the resolutions committee were dealt with seriatim and were afterwards adopted in their entirety. In addition to the resolutions already mentioned there was one in appreciation of the work of the Upper Canada Tract and Bible Society.

The adoption of the report of the Committee on Associational Boundaries was moved by Rev. H. A. Green, and was received and adopted.

The report of the Rural Church Committee was submitted by the chairman, Rev. H. Vall, who gave an interesting and masterly address on some of the problems of the farmer.

He spoke of the farmer's "ducks" which he facetiously termed "Deducks" which tended to drain the farmer's profits. He referred to deductions on produce which happened to fall a point or two below standard. These "de-ducks" he said, were the last straw that broke the farmer's back.

Hed id not wonder that boys were leaving the farms for the city. He was not surprised at the committee reported an exodus from the farms and a growing exodus. He moved the adoption of the report, which was seconded by the Rev. H. McDiarmid.

Mr. McDiarmid stated that it was refreshing to see that country pastors were taking such a statesman-like interest in the charges. He opined that rural churches were the basis of supply for leaders of the churches.

Rev. L. F. Kipp, B.A., editor of the "Canadian Baptist" before beginning his address on "The need of Denominational Literature," thanked the convention for their expressions of sympathy to himself in his illness.

He spoke of how the printed word has supplanted the agency of the human voice. "The power of printer's ink is infinitely greater than the human voice" he said.

Touching upon the power of the press he mentioned how it had been wrongly used in Germany to say 'the day is coming."

"The printing press can be used for a good or a bad influence. The press can sow an idea and reap a war". It was he said the most influential power in the world apart from God.

From that point he went on to refer to a growth of questionable reading matter which could be see in hotels and other public places. "We need denominational literature to-day to inspire our people and teach our people."

The work of the Publication Board could not be properly done until it had some invested capital. The Board did not cost the convention a "nickle." He stressed the urgent need of the support of denominational literature. It was the most neglected thing.

A companion address was also delivered by the Rev. C. S. Smith, B.D., of Montreal on "The use of Denomenational Literature."

The denomenational literature of our forefathers was mainly the New Testament. The Baptist movement though in fact did not depend largely on denominational literature.

He thought that in that respect the present-day Baptists were running to form.

A supplementary report of the Historical Committee was presented by the Rev. C. J. Cameron. During the last fifty years the report stated a whole mass of historical data had been lost to the Baptist churches through failure in the past of many ministers to preserve records.

The committee requested posters to help in the conservation of historical data.

Mr. Cameron moved the adoption of the report. The motion was seconded by Rev. Dr. H. E. Stillwell.

Disturbances Heard Of In Cyprus Isle

CAIRO, EGYPT Oct. 22.—A.P.)—Two British cruisers are on the way to the Island of Cyprus in the Mediteranean Sea where fragmentary dispatches told to-day of Nationalist disturbances in which the Governor's House at Nicosia had been burned.

One report said the Greek orthodox bishop had proclaimed the union of the island with Greece on the grounds that it was the will of the people, and members of the Cyprus Legislature were said to have resigned.

Business Of Calling

This life is just a series of calls. Before we arrive Ma calls Pa and Pa calls central. They argue the point and call each other names. Then central calls the Dr. and he calls at the house. After which the new arrival calls and keeps on calling—for his Ma, for his bottle, for his Pa, for his hat and ball, for his school books, for money, for a car, for a companion in life, for the minister, for help (with a loud voice), for his pipe, his slippers, his daily paper, his cane. After a time his children call the Dr. who arranges for the 'grim reaper' to call. Then the undertaker calls, the hearse calls. Then the lawyer calls the relatives together and they call each other bad names for the remainder of their lives.

ENTRANCE DIPLOMAS GIVEN AT KING EDWARD SCHOOL GATHERING

Successful Event Carried Out Under Auspices of Home and School Association.

A. MOWAT GIVES TALK.

An annual event to which teachers, parents and pupils eagerly look forward to was the presentation of certificates to the successful graduates of King Edward School, held on Friday evening.

The Home and School Association held a short business session, after which all adjourned to the assembly hall where an excellent program, arranged by Mrs. H. Turner, was greatly enjoyed, with Mrs. Groombridge, the president, presiding throughout.

The following local artists took part after the opening chorus, "O Canada": piano duets, Misses Olive Prest, A.T.C.M., and Aileen Rose; reading—Miss Gwen Parnell; reading—Miss Isobel Young; vocal duets—Miss Annie Payne and Mrs. Reeves-Newsom, Miss Aileen Rose accompanying; report of Provincial Home and School convention held in Toronto—Mrs. E. Wand.

Speaker of Evening.

The Value of Education was the theme of a very interesting address delivered by A. Mowat, inspector of public schools, to the graduates. Mr. Mowat strongly stressed the opportunities afforded by our schools for secondary education.

Mr. C. Bolton, principal of the school, in encouraging and complimentary words, congratulated his students and presented to them their well-earned certificates.

The following are the successful candidates:

Frances Allen, Edmond Boyler, Annie Bromley, Bilnson Cox, Frank Cunningham, Maurice Dunkley, Florence Farrance, Doris Ferguson, Leona Foote, Eileen Gynane, David Hall, Marjorie Leether, Dora Lowes, Lavina Lowes, Sam Mackness, Roy McCabe, Fred McGovarin, Anna McKenzie, Carlos Palmer, Jack Patterson, Laura Payne, Bessie Reesor, Arthur Rose, Martha Sands, Aileen Smyth, David Smyth, Winnie Snowdon, Marion Stazicker, Max Taylor, Fred Todd, Alex Watson, Fred Watson, Keith Welch, Jean Whatley.

PROJECTS PLANNED BY CHURCH SOCIETY

St. James' X.L. Mission Circle to Hold Japanese Fete.

Miss Marion Wood was hostess to the girls of St. James X. L. Mission Circle, when they gathered at her home this week for their monthly meeting.

The president, Miss Jessie Martin, conducted the meeting which opened with a devotional period. Prayer was offered by Mrs. A. E. Moorhouse and the Scripture lesson, chosen from St John's Gospel 15:1-12, read by Zetta Wood. A pleasing vocal solo, "Was That Somebody You?" by Jean Rose, closed this part of the service.

The business session which followed was of interest to all the members, when many new projects were planned and reports on the work accomplished given. A committee was formed for the purpose of planning a Japanese fete to be held early in the new year, when the other city organizations will be the guests of the X. L. Circle. Much enthusiasm was evinced when the rules for winning the Presbyterial banner were read and discussed by the members. The next meeting was announced as being of special interest, since it is to be the occasion of the autumn thankoffering, with Miss Eva Elliott, guest-speaker, introducing the new study book.

Upon the completion of the business items, the study on Japan was brought to a close by Connie Wagar, who synopsized the last chapter of "The Fruits of Christian Missions in Japan," and gave a brief resume of the work already accomplished there and of the needs still to be met.

Jean Hammond, the assistant treasurer, gave a very promising statement of the finances, which have been entirely raised this year by systematic givings.

After the closing hymn, Mrs W. Rose led in prayer both for the work and workers, including Miss Jean Gillespie, our adopted missionary.

A pleasant social hour followed when refreshments were served by the committee in charge, consisting of Misses Marion Wood, Jennie Smart, Zoe MacDonald and Jessie Martin.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. M. Wood, Morrow St.

Through his coursel, J. A. O'Brien Hill pleaded not guilty, but Mr. O'Brien declared that this plea was only entered in order to gain time to raise money for the fine. "There'll be a change of plea on his next appearance I can assure," he stated.

Hill was somewhat taken aback when the Magistrate warned him that the charge besides a fine called for a month in jail.

He was remanded for a week. His wife, May, went his bond for $2,000 bail.

Get One Year

Remanded a week ago on a charge of stealing a car, Art King, smiling broadly, changed his plea to guilty this morning. Seeking leniency, King said, "I'm no angel, Your Worship, and I guess I've been about the worst possible, but I'd like another chance."

"Does this mean you're going to reform?" asked the magistrate.

"Well, you never can tell," King replied, hopefully.

"One year in the Ontario Reformatory with hard labor for you, King," said the magistrate concluding the dialogue.

REV. JAMES ROSS GUEST MINISTER

St. Andrew's Congregation Lakefield, Celebrates Anniversary.

MASONS PARADE.

LAKEFIELD, Oct 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—Rev James Ross of Peterborough was the special preacher at the anniversary service in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Sunday morning. Mr. Ross needed no special introduction as he was the minister in charge of the Presbyterian church in a Lakefield for several years and the very handsome church erected last year is due in a great measure to the labors of Mr and Mrs. Ross.

Mr. Ross took his text from the 18th chapter of the gospel according to St. Matthew verse one—"At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus saying, 'Who is the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven'."

Our Lord's answer that the one who became as a little child would be the greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven. This recalled to the mind of the speaker a children's service held here when he had taught the children the "Snow prayer" and asked the mothers to write it in large letters on a sheet of paper to hang up in their children's room. This is the prayer: 'Oh God, wash me from all my sins in the Saviour's blood; fill me with Thine own spirit and I shall be whiter than snow."

The gathering in of children and young people will mean a happier era in what is now a troubled world. Careful Bible students have already learned that many many passages of Scripture show clearly and without any doubt Christ's love for and interest in children. It is a pleasant and profitable thing for Christian people to find out these allusions in Scriptures and call the attention of the children and young people to them. If you are a student of the Old Testament you will have learned that God claims the children of His people. You are God's people, are you not? Well then, God claims your children. God makes provision for the teaching, training and education of children for Himself, this comes in a large measure through the Sunday School.

We learn both in the Old and New Testament how dear are children to the heart of God. Don't lose an opportunity for bringing little children to Christ; there are so many allusions to this in the Bible; find them and make use of them. In both gospels and epistles we have recorded the fact that when Christ was on earth He had a warm heart for children and that same Jesus Christ is now in Heaven and is looking down upon us now. A very interesting incident is recalled in the life and work of a man who stood head and shoulders above even his fellow ministers and whose work lay at one time in a large district peopled by very needy families who constantly called on him with appeals for aid. One day he felt so exhausted that he felt he must have rest and sleep and he told his attendant not to disturb him if any one called unless it was a child and he would not deny himself to a child. This was following the example of Our Lord, who was never too busy to care for children and their appeals to Him. He is the same, yesterday, to-day and forever.

Rev R. J. Burton pastor of the church expressed the pleasure he felt at having Mr. Ross for the morning service. He also paid a beautiful tribute to the memory of the late Rev. (Dr.) D. R. Drummond who was buried in Kingston last week and who was a personal friend of the speaker and whose example is an inspiration to those who are following after, for he always held before their eyes the message of the gospel, the message of cheer and encouragement.

Mr. Burton announced the fowl supper which will be held on Tuesday evening, October 20th in the Town Hall. The interior of the church was decorated with autumn leaves and potted plants. Mr. F. Chenhall of Peterborough presided at the organ and Mr. George Coleman, Jr., also of Peterborough, sang beautifully as a solo number a very effective setting of "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say."

At the evening service Rev. W. B. Walker, Rev. T. W. Wesley and Rev. R. J. Burton all had a part each taking a portion of the Beatitudes from the 57th chapter of the gospel acording to St. Matthew and speaking in a very interesting way and painting the lesson which is meant to be taken from these words of our Lord which opened the Sermon on the Mount.

Miss Etta Garbutt presided at the organ and there was a large choir with Miss Cullen and Mrs. G. Craig Bell, the guest artists. Miss Cullen sang very effectively "Nearer My God to Thee" and Mrs. Craig Bell and Mrs. Chaplin sang beautifully a special setting of "Come Holy Spirit" and Mrs. Bell's clear soprano was heard to great advantage in a solo number "Angels of Jesus". There was a capacity congregation and a hearty service which delighted every one.

The corner stone of St. Andrew's church was laid on October 16th, 1930 and the basement opened for services on March 22nd, 1931. It is hoped that in the near future the work will be completed on the auditorium.

Church Parade

On Sunday evening the members of Clementi Lodge No. 313 A.F. and A.M. paraded to St. John the Baptist church for service. D. H. Webster, Master of the lodge was in charge. Rev. W. J. Creighton spoke of the ideals of the craft which are indeed high and which if lived up to by all members would be a tremendous uplift to the community. There are traditions about origin of Masonry and some say it came into being at the time King Soloman built his temple but there is indisputable evidence that it was in existence long before that; there are Masonic symbols found among the relics of old Egypt so the origin of Masonry is buried in antiquity.

Some regard it as a secret society solely and think of it as a series of mysteries but they learn in time the secrets are merely the keys which unlock the doors and that the secrets are not of major importance.

In the days following our Lord's ministry on earth the apostles were carrying on the work He had left to them and the sick were brought to them to be healed and many were the miracles they performed. Some sick people were healed merely by the shadow of St. Peter falling on them. The influence of these men was an uplift to the whole community and so can it be with the craft. Every member of the lodge has a personal responsibility in the matter of holding the ideals and principals high, for as we do so are we judged and one member who fails in this regard can lower the whole lodge in the eyes of the community.

Mr. E. de C. Fletcher presided at the organ for the service.

TWO-SPEED VACUUM CLEANER

Cleans Them ALL

Miss Claire Andree
Lecturer at The Examiner's Cooking School

Miss Andree, of the DeBoth Home Makers' Schools, realizing the wide range of modern floor coverings, chose the Northern Electric Two-Speed Vacuum Cleaner for her demonstration. Modern rugs are made in varying depths of pile, different types of fabric, and various weights. The Northern Electric Two-Speed Vacuum Cleaner is the only cleaner that will clean all these coverings thoroughly and without injury.

At normal speed it cleans light rugs of average depth. At "High" speed it pulls all the embedded grit and dust from the heavy pile rugs.

Let Miss Andree's choice be your choice. Ask the dealer listed here to send one up to your home to-day for a demonstration. Convenient terms arranged.

Obituary

MRS. J. T. VOSPER

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 22.— The funeral of the late Mrs. J. T. Vosper was held on Wednesday, October 21 from the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. Roblin, Ottawa, the cortege coming by rail to Campbellford where interment was made in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, the Rev. F. G. MacTavish officiating. The pall bearers were: J. A. Anderson, W. J. Armstrong, G. A. Kingston, S. A. Maguire, John Gay and John L. Hoover.

Mrs. Vosper, who before her marriage was Miss Charlotte E. McKim of Selby, Ont. was for many years a resident of Campbellford, her late husband being editor and publisher of the Campbellford Herald.

The late Mrs Vosper died on Sunday at Ottawa after suffering a stroke. She was aged 81 years. While a resident of Campbellford she was a staunch member of the Methodist Church and an ardent church worker, being very popular in the community.

Surviving are two children, one son, Dr. L. L. Vosper of Kingston and Mrs. O. Roblin, a daughter of Ottawa. One daughter, Alice, died twenty years ago.

MRS. MARGARET DOYLE

MARMORA, Oct. 22.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Margaret Doyle took place on Wednesday afternoon. The cortege proceeded from Bonarlaw station to St. Paul's church upon the arrival of the midday train. The bearer's were Messrs W. R. Linn, G. Hartley, F. Pinner, A. Eggleton, T. Butler and J. J. Cooke. The Rector, Rev. A. B. Caldwell preached a consoling sermon from 1 Cor. 15 57.58. The hymns sung were "Rock of Ages", "I'm But a Stranger Here" and "The King of Love My Shepherd Is". Interment was made in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

The late Mrs. Doyle who was in her sixty-second year was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington McWilliams. She was a faithful member of the Anglican church and while a resident of Peterborough worshipped at All Saint's church. It was while she was getting ready to attend St. Thomas church St. Catherines last Sunday evening that she was seized with a stroke from which she never rallied. A short service was held at St. Catherines before the remains left for her native village.

Besides her husband, relatives from a distance attending the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cooke, Trenton; Mrs. W. Vrooman, Galt; Mrs. H. Clark and Miss Ann Rayburn, Tweed; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Butler, Toronto; Mr. Rayburn Cooke, Peterborough and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Martin, Oshawa.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain. How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestion aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

ARTICLES OF INTEREST TO THE FARMER

IS CANADA'S ROAD TO PROSPERITY ALONG THE ONE MINNESOTA TOOK?

Found Cure In Getting Away From Dependence Upon Cash Grain.

Tried Dairying, Livestock.

By DANIEL ROCHFORD

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (Special)—Canadian farmers and business men may well study the results of the Minnesota Plan which raised farm income in Minnesota, the Dakotas, and Montana by seven hundred million dollars in eight years, an average of $1,679 per farm, according to Frederick E. Murphy, sponsor of the plan and publisher of the Minneapolis Tribune, now directing an educational effort from New York to interest the business leaders of the country in agriculture.

"Canadian prosperity," said Mr. Murphy, "is as vital to us as our own because of her great volume of trade with us. In the United States industrial leaders are beginning to realize that the nation cannot prosper unless the 29,000,000 people living on our farms prosper. The lessons of the Minnesota Plan are now being studied in a number of states, Georgia, Washington, Texas, the Carolinas, Maryland, and New England. National magazines like the Outlook, and the Literary Digest, newspapers from the Atlantic to the Pacific, national agricultural officials and farm leaders have written and spoken of the results accomplished in the ten years since the plan was launched in the northwest.

The Cure

"Our particular cure in the northwest was in getting away from dependence upon cash grain, and into dairying, livestock, and general farming. Obviously this can not be the solution in all regions. But the gist of the Minnesota Plan can be applied to Canada as well as the several states where similar plans have recently been launched.

"We started in 1921 by studying the methods used on the 200 most successful farms in each region. Then we urged the spread of those methods to the rest of the farms. Because the farmers were unable to get money, we organized a ten million dollar loan fund and the government promised one hundred million extra credit from the War Finance Corporation if we needed it.

"In 1921 northwestern banks were failing in waves. The fund stopped the failures. Then it financed individual farmers in the purchase of cows, livestock, sheep and enabled them to shift over from old style cash crops to farming which paid them income every month through the year. We loaned the farmer money with the livestock and its increase as our sole security. Yet from the livestock the farmer earned the money to pay off the loan. Fourteen thousand farmers have been helped by loans already. And when the country banks saw the loans were safe, they began making them and thousands of additional farmers were helped over the hump to business-like farming."

"Mr. Murphy, himself operator of a 6,000 acre dairy farm in the Red River valley, formerly devoted to wheat, specializes in Holstein-Fresian cows and his herds hold world records for production. "One of our first steps in the northwest," he continues, "was to get the farmers to raise their own food. Thousands of our wheat farms were without cows, pigs, and chickens. And they didn't even have a garden. Yet the average grocery bill was $800 a year. That's all changed now.

Big Gain in Cows

"In eight years our four states gained 228,000 cows. The rest of the country put together only gained 283,000 cows. We've raised our dairy income 55% since 1921 until it's a three hundred million dollar income producer. Our cow-sow-hen income boosted farm profits 71% since 1921, an average gain of ninety-five million dollars a year. And in 1930, in spite of low farm prices, our farm income held 34% above 1921.

"To-day, in spite of grasshoppers and drought in 6.3% of our area, the farm prosperity of the northwest has held the whole business tone of the northwest high. The Federal Reserve Bank survey of retail business the first six months of 1931 shows the northwest second highest in the nation and only 2% behind the leading district centering at Richmond, Virginia. Out of 185,475 farmers in Minnesota last year, only 185 went bankrupt, according to the last year book of the Department of Agriculture. And industrial failures of firms worth $5,000 or more were only 0.96% in Minnesota, 0.39% in S. Dakota, 0.49% in N. Dakota as against such figures as 2.24% for Illinois and 3.70% for New York.

"Wheat is no longer the index of our prosperity. In Minnesota, known as the bread basket of America, our wheat acreage has been cut down for over four years so that wheat has only yielded one fourth of what the chicken crop brings in.

Skilled Laborer's Pay

"The beauty of the Minnesota Plan is that farmers, instead of being paid unskilled labor's wages, represented by wheat growing, get skilled labor's pay represented by proper breeding of livestock, scientific farming, and proper marketing. And instead of taking the beating which the varying price of raw crops such as wheat or cotton involves, they get the relatively steadier and much higher prices for finished products, butter, eggs, meats, fruits, vegetables, and general crops.

"Because our farmers own most of their creameries the farmer receives 91 cents out of every dollar paid for wholesale butter. Compare that with the wheat farmer who gets 28 cents out of the bread dollar.

"Just having cows, isn't the whole answer. There are 21,000,000 cows in the United States and if the farmers butchered 7,000,000 of them they'd save $350,000 a year in feed bill alone. Those cows don't earn their keep. Government statistics show that a farmer milking ten scrub cows giving 100 pounds of butterfat a year, earns only $135. If he milks one good cow giving 400 pounds of butterfat, that cow earns him $138.

"Dairying and scientific farming enrich the soils by natural fertilizers and crop rotation. So even where we still raise wheat and cash crops, we increase our per-acre production and cut per-bushel costs way down. So the farmer gets the break all around.

"In the northwest we've seen the results of this plan in the 300% increase of our market for automobiles and in increased sales of all manufactured goods. If the business leaders of North America but stop to realize it, this undeveloped purchasing power of our millions of farms offer them much bigger and more important markets than any export trade outside national borders. It's about time the country found the only real road back to prosperity. That road is on the farms of America.

ALFALFA SEED TO BE CHEAPER

Experiments Show It Gives More Protein Feed Per Acre Than Other Crops.

The rapidly growing importance of alfalfa as a source of protein feed for live stock makes the report of the Dominion Seed Branch as to the availability of Canadian-grown seed for the coming season of special interest.

Both experimental and practical work shows that alfalfa gives the farmer more protein feed per acre for live stock than any other crop and at the lowest cost. At the same time alfalfa usually brings a better price than other kinds of hay, and the manufacture of alfalfa meal, processed largely from the second cut, is a rapidly growing industry.

Alfalfa can be grown successfully on almost any well drained soil of a loam or clay type providing it is not acid in character. Even with acid soils a suitable application of ground limestone overcomes the difficulty.

The Dominion Seed Branch report an abundant supply of good domestic alfalfa seed in Ontario and Alberta, and state it is likely to be cheaper in the coming season than it has been for many years.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"

Growing, Selection, Preparation Of Grain, Seed For Exhibition

By HERMAN TRELLE
(Copyright 1931)

SELECTIVE FOR COLOR

Seed will ever remain "The Mystery of Life." It makes no difference how the appearance may be distorted or changed, it will still rear a recognized progeny so long as there is a spark of vitality to kindle the new life; and that new life may be made to reproduce as different as in daylight from darkness when the "miracle" seed drops into a different soil or is caressed by a changed climate condition.

This yearly change may go on indefinitely; then after years we may return the progeny of the original seed back to the soil and climatic conditions identical with that from which we started. Presto! True to nature, the "magic" seed will again reproduce true to the original, identical in kind and appearance for all practical seed and commercial purposes.

May we add a thought which suggests itself at this time, in our age of commercialization. This natural trait of reproduction in plant life may be taken advantage of, commercially and scientifically, to a far greater extent than at present. We know that an importation and planting of seed grown upon land of high vitality, and disease free, will control and, in some cases, when thought and research is centred on the solution of the destructive, pathalogical problems, will even wipe out a wide spread disease, or constitution weakness, in any defined plant life, in almost any extensively cultivated area.

Barriers

How sadly international boundaries, and man made laws ,and even lack of national initiative, form barriers among sections of our home land, as well as between us and lands which are foreign. There is no reason why these internal or international handicaps should not be removed. The benefits—pecuniary and social—are mutual, and what an advance this would be for agricultural betterment, especially for the seed trade the world over. Much should be given this economic and international phase of agriculture at the coming World's Grain Exhibition and Conference.

The eyes of the world will be focused on the results of this great world gathering as on an indicator. The distribution of prizes will be a business barometer pointing to those parts of the globe where reliable and quality seed production is at its best.

Nature never tells a lie. She is absolutely dependable, frank, and honest.

An outstanding or collective win will mark definitely any community, or any land area, in which the winner may live. It will also be a business stimulus and a lasting advertisement towards the marketing of the winning seed commodity.

An indivdual prize winner will receive greater benefit if associated with other winners for the same kind of seed from the same district. Organized effort has never yet failed to outshadow individual brilliancy.

First Occasion

The World's Grain Exhibition and Conference will be the first occasion in the history of agriculture where judgment will be passed upon recognized effort in mass production, open to the world.

At this time it is good advice for the prospective exhibitor to take his chances with a couple of the best kinds of seed which will identify his community and prepare them well rather than expend energy with a more varied assortment and thus, perhaps not get any place at all.

The writer started out with one exhibit which took five years to master, then three before he felt safe to launch out with more, and, in all frankness, he has never yet prepared a sample which could not be further improved.

Over enthusiasm is a dangerous weapon if not wisely handled at this time; and how much more careful one must be when under conditions of world competition.

The man never lived who had no equal.

What kind of seed is the most difficult to prepare? This uestion is often put to the successful exhibitor. The writer would unhesitatingly choose to prepare three samples of wheat to one of oats.

Considering the expenditure of nerve energy, and the range of manipulation and care required, from the time the seed is selected in the field up and until the sample is placed before the judges, the writer would arrange different kinds and varieties of seed is selected in the field up and until the sample is placed before the judges, the writer would arrange the different kinds and varieties of seed in the following order: Oats (early Alaska variety the most difficult), six rowed barley, timothy, rye, two rowed barley, alfalfa and clover, flax, winter and spring wheat, Durum wheat, hulless barley, Western rye grass, beans and peas, sunflower and, easiest of all, corn on the cob.

But arranged in order of economic and commercial importance, the line up would look much different. Wheat easily tops the list with spring wheat as king; and then the others would be arranged somewhat as follows: oats, corn, barley, rice, rye, alfalfa, clover, grass seed, flax, beans peas sunflower etc. etc.

Judging from the above graduated lists one may quite fairly conclude that the kinds of seed which are given the most spectacular recognition, at times, are not by any means those which require the most energy and patience to prepare.

Lucky Exhibition

Lucky is the World's Show exhibitor who combines color with purity and true type in a sample of strongest vitality.

Color is mostly a deciding factor in seed showmanship. There is, however, a marked difference between a display of grain prepared to create a dazzling effect, and a sample of apparently the same kind of seed carefully developed and selected, etc., along the lines of high test purity, and the very strongest vitality to pass on toward the reproduction of its own kind.

Therefore, one need not be surprised to find, when the awards are handed out at the World's Grain Show, that color is given a secondary consideration under certain conditions, in some classes.

For example, a sample of wheat may be ever so large in size, uniform in shape, and brilliant lustre, but still may be coarse in texture, too high in moisture content, lacking in weight per bushel, and very easily may be a mixture of varieties which cannot be easily singled out by the mere examination of the kernels alone, but may be brought to light plainly through the World's Show growing test.

Barley is widely used for many different purposes, and of all the coarse grain varieties, has perhaps the most extensive range of shape, and size, and variation in color rivalling the rainbow.

Here a sample may appear ever so spectacular but prove to be a type which is of only secondary importance in economic adaption.

For seed purposes, a malting barley for instance, need not necessarily appear starchy.

The more vitrous and translucent barley kernels appear when light is arranged to pass through a thin layer, the thinner the hull, the truer the color, the heavier the weight per bushel, and greater are the possibilities of vigorous germination.

A large, high colored oat may be lacking in agreeable proportion, or it may not possess that true shine which only goes with a thin skinned and well matured kernel, weighing high to the measured bushel.

The mass color of a sample may appear most attractive from a distance, but a close up examination of the individual kernels may show too great a variation, one to the other.

It is the balancing up of the distant appearance along with that of the close up kernel symmetry, one to the other, which evolves a winning color.

Color Control

Can color be controlled without extensive hand picking? Yes, in at least three important ways. First, by selection in the field at harvest time. For example, one may quite accurately tell in advance where wheat will be most free from starch, or color variation, by studying the color of the straw at the band line, in relation to the kernel, so plainly seen on the wall of the wheat fields as the binder cuts around the field. The writer hesitated to suggest this color control observation in an earlier article, lest some may go astray, as it takes more than a year of practice to enable the prospective exhibitor to make a success of a method such as this which will require much experience.

Second, by the control of fitting sizes in screens. After careful observation of any sample of seed, one may usually figure out some exact size of screening that will control an agreeable shade in color, or that will eliminate some off color due to blight, or disease, or other damage variations.

It is almost axiomatic—the oversize or the undersize shapes and sizes.

In coarse grains there is a very definite relation among plumpness, size, maturity and color. For example, when pie ball, or excessive starch is found in wheat, one may be assured that three-quarters of it is in the kernels below the average size.

Then again most coarse grains (oats for example) ripen from the top of the head down. The color changes with maturity, and the kernels are also graduated in size from the smallest on the top to the largest at the bottom.

So that if one cuts oats when the color is just right at the bottom, the smaller, off-colored kernels at the top may be sieved out.

Third, by controlled air velocity. In any case where there is an extreme variation in density due to under maturity, sterility, insect damage, blight, or other accidental abnormalties in nature, there is likewise a corresponding, objectionable variation in color.

A controlled air blast will get rid of most of these, and the result is more uniformity of color, and a surprising increase in weight per bushel. This applies to almost all seeds which retain their hulls.

The true and best color of any sample of seed is always found in the "happy medium" size.

The next article will include a discourse on hand picking.

LATE POTATOES ARE GOOD CROP

Mangolds, Turnips, Sugar Beets Above Average in Ontario.

PASTURES IMPROVE.

In all Southern areas of the Prairie Provinces threshing is practically completed, but in the Northern districts it has been delayed by rain, and grain there in consequence will suffer depreciation in grade. In the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec harvesting of late crops has been well advanced under exceptionally favorable conditions, and the promise of heavy yields of roots and fruits is being realized. In the Maritime Provinces, where harvesting was affected by prolonged wet weather, crops as a whole are a good average, while in British Columbia damage from continuous rain has considerably affected the yield of grain. Other crops are from good to fair.

In Ontario late potatoes are a heavy crop of good quality. Mangolds, turnips and sugar beets are above average. Gras pasture has shown a marked improvement and is now in a fairly good condition.

A good peach crop has been marketed and the harvesting of a very heavy grape crop of high quality is nearing completion. Late apples are more than bearing out previous high estimates of yield and quality.

A Swiss engineer is touring the world in a one-wheel motorcycle, the seat being mounted on the inside rim of the large wheel.

Railways of Great Britain are advertising that only one passenger was killed in railway train accidents in Britain last year.

Both the central government and municipalities of Spain are seeking measures to cope with the unemployment situation.

MUCH PLOWING IS BEING DONE

Hogs Shipped From Campbellford, Hastings Show None Underfinished.

POTATOES 35 CENTS.

Plowing in Northumberland is progressing favorably this fall and there is probably more late plowing done for the time of the year than is generally the case by quite continues to move. Hogs moved out last week at $5.25 f.o.b. shipping point to the producer. Of five car loads from Campbellford and Hastings, there did not seem to be an underfinished hog in the lot. A few of them had been held too long. Lambs were moving out at $5.50 for good lambs, calves did bring 7 and 7½c per lb.

Poultry is bringing moderate prices acording to grade. Potatoes are not moving to any extent, except by trucks which pick them up for nearby markets. 35c in the field has been paid in some instances, while some growers are getting 50c a bag selling them in small quantities. Apples moving out rapidly.

New Model ABC Washer. Washes, Blues, Rinses, Starches and Damp Dries.

DESIGN IS COMPACT.

The Northern Electric-ABC Washing Machine which is included in the model kitchen of the Be Right Home Makers' School at the Grand Opera House this week, is worthy of attention from the standpoint of its many features which so completely adapt it to washing problems of the modern home. Possibly we are too remiss in analyzing an electrical labor saving appliance intended for women's use, from the standpoint of mechanism, design and quality, but evidently the up to date manufacturer has considered the mechanical features from a woman's angle and as previously mentioned, it should prove interesting to us to view the product from a mechanical perspective to see also just how thoroughly clean the wash will be, and how long the consistently a laundry equipment will operate, are really the fundamental interests any woman should have when purchasing an electric washing machine.

Thoroughly clean washing is assured in the Northern Electric-ABC Washer due to a specially constituted six fin agitator providing 104 water impulses per minute and this vigorous action is made harmless by reason of the highly polished surface of the agitator and the smooth porcelain enamel finish on the tub interior. The agitator shaft is kept in perfect alignment by two aligning bearings which completely eliminate the possibility of clothes tangling or becoming caught between the agitator and the tub surface.

Long trouble-free life in operation is assured in this new model washer by reason of the fact there are but five moving parts in the mechanism and all metals are of anti-friction character which totally eliminate loss of power and makes machine silent and easy running. The design is particularly compact, requiring but little space for storing; and the height is adjustable from a minimum of 30 inches to a maximum of 35½ inches. A large capacity output of 60 lbs. of dry clothes per hour is an interesting feature of the new machine.

Northern Electric-ABC Washers may be obtained in three different models at widely varying price levels.

One of the most interesting of the new models is the model No. 77 Spinner—a machine which handles the complete job of washing; it washes, blues, rinses, starches and damp-dries. It is a modern complete home laundry unit. This wringerless washer is finding great favour throughout Canada, and the nominally increased price is justified by the added convenience and labour saving features of the new model.

Highest quality raw materials are used throughout the entire Northern Electric-ABC line, and it is stated that the greatest value per dollar to be obtained in the washing machine market is featured in this line.

An instructor is being sent by the Department.

Honor Departing Couple

On Tuesday evening last a number of friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Huggins to say "Goodbye" on the eve of their departure for Bailleboro. During the evening Mrs. A. E. Higgins read an address expressing the regret of their friends at losing Mr. and Mrs. Huggins from the neighborhood where they had made many friends. Mrs. Fred Boyce presented Mrs. Huggins with a very handsome silk bed spread and Mr. Huggins with a meerschaum pipe. Taken by surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Huggins were very much touched at the tribute of friendship and assured their friends of the happy memories they would cherish of their residence here and the friends they hade made.

Nine tables of euchre were played at the A.Y.P.A. card party on Thursday evening last. Prizes were won by Mrs. John Charlton and Mr. A. Windsor and the consolation prizes by Miss Riel and Mr. Lawrence Charlton.

Install Officers

Three car loads of members of Lodge 358, I.O.O.F., motored to Pontypool on Friday evening last and put on an installation of officers of Pontypool lodge. Following the ceremony a bountiful dinner with roast goose as the outstanding feature was served to about two hundred persons. The cup which Pontypool won in softball season last summer was presented. The local members had a very delightful time.

CARD PARTY

Successful Affair Held at Home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Maloney, Douro.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 22.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A very successful card party was held on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Maloney, Douro, under the auspices of St. Paul's church. The proceeds amounted to $22 and the result was highly gratifying to the host and hostess, the committee and all who attended.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Moher and Mr. John Delaney, while Mrs. F. D. Leahy and Mr. Joe Leahy won the consolation prizes.

A very pleasant evening was spent.

The anniversary services of the Selwyn Baptist Church will be held on Sunday, October 25, with Rev. C. H. Schutt, D.D., superintendent of Home Missions, Toronto, as the guest preacher. On Monday evening the ladies of the church are holding a cold meat supper with an illustrated lecture by Dr. Schutt on his trip to Palestine to follow.

The Wonders of The World

THE PHAROS OF ALEXANDRIA.

Even before the time of Alexander the Great, lighthouses of a sort were employed to warn sailors of reefs or shoals — not the blinking electric lights with huge reflectors that we of this day know, but huge towers with a fire pot at the top in which fires were kept burning without intermission. At the present time there are similar fires lighted in numerous places but the only danger is that they may be mistaken for stars as they burn without intermission. Acknowledged to the "father of lighthouses was the Pharos of Alexandria built during the reign of Ptolemy Philadelphus who reigned between the years 285-347 B.C., and it ranked as one of the wonders of the world.

Built on a rock at the north-east corner of the island of Pharos, the Pharos of Alexandria was constructed of white marble. A great causeway known as the Heptastadium was built between the mainland and the lighthouse to facilitate the maintenance and construction of the lighthouse. This causeway is now a heavily populated isthmus owing to the silt which piled up against either side during the years.

The cost of the erection of this lighthouse is said to have been eight hundred talents, about ten million dollars in Canadian money. The lighthouse was designed by Sostratus, a son of Dinocrates, the architect of Alexander the Great. On the side of the edifice he engraved the inscription: "Sostratus of Cnidus, the son of Dinocrates, to the Saviour of Gods, for those who travel by sea.

Fearing the wrath of the king for commemorating his own name instead of the King's he covered the inscription in with mortar and inscribed another which glorified Philadelphus, which was soon removed by the action of the sea and weather.

The height of the Pharos is said to have been 400 ells or about 590 feet. It was built in the Babylonian fashion, four storeys, one above the other, and each smaller than the one below. The lower stories were square and those at the top of the edifice round.

The blocks of stone were welded together, it is said, not with mortar but with molten metal. A broad, decorated balcony surrounded the foot of each tower.

A sloping platform was built up to the lower half of the building in order to facilitate the bringing of wood and coals to keep the fire burning in the brazier at the top of the building. This was built at so gentle a slope that laden horses and chariots could be driven up it. The fuel was carried by means of a windlass up a hollow shaft in the centre of the higher towers to the fire pot above.

After experimenting with metals for the foundation, including gold, silver and copper, Sostratus decided to use glass in huge blocks, according to Arabic tradition.

The reflector at the back of the fire was a huge mirror in which, legend asserts one could see all that was passing in the distant city of Constantinople.

This mirror is said to have been fashioned from transparent stone. It is probable, however, that glass was the material used. The mirror was of such a size that men who removed it from its settings one thousand years after it had been installed had not the skill to replace it. The Arabs, after their conquest of Egypt, continued to operate the beacon. An emissary from Constantinople was sent to destroy it and by telling a wonderful story of treasure buried under the Pharos to the Caliph, Al-Walid, succeeded in arousing his cupidity and having the tower destroyed. Half the tower had been dismantled before Al-Walid suspected a plot. The Arabs attempted to raise the tower to its former height by the use of bricks and when they tried to place the famous mirror they dropped it and it was broken into thousands of pieces.

After this attempt the tower was neglected, but, despite the centuries of neglect, the tower was still standing in the fourteenth century. In the year 1375 an earthquake precipitated the pile of masonry into the sea. In calm weather the alleged foundations of the Pharos are still visible beneath the sea near the present Fort Kait Bey.

RED CROSS SOCIETY ANNUAL MEETING

Apsley W. I. Seeking Nine Months' Daily Mail Service.

(Examiner Correspondence)

APSLEY, Oct. 22.—The annual meeting of the Apsley branch Red Cross Society was held in the Parish Hall on Monday evening, nearly the whole of the members being present. The Rev. C. A. G. Spence presided and gave an address on the work of the nurse during the past year, and also a detailed account of the financial statement.

The latter showed a balance on hand of $361.01, with expenditures during the year of $486.42, which included the cost of installation of a pipeless furnace. An appreciation of the services of the late nurse, Mrs. T. H. Lean (nee Miss Knaggs), was recorded in the minutes, and a cordial welcome extended to her successor, Miss Scott.

The following officers were unanimously re-elected: President, Rev. C. A. G. Spence; secretary, Mrs. W. Lean; treasurer, Mrs. J. Downing. Election of vice president and six executive members resulted as follows: Vice president, Mrs. T. H. Lean; executive, Messrs T. Tanner, F. Tanner, W. Lean, M. Emmal, Mrs. C. S. Windsor, Mrs. R. Tucker; representative to divisional council, Mrs. T. H. Lean; auditor, Mrs. Chas. Smith.

The Women's Institute is sponsoring another effort to secure an extension of the daily mail service, and a petition is being circulated through the townships, and meeting with general approval, for a nine months daily mail. This is a modest request and it is hoped the Post Office Department will grant the request.

Children's Day was observed in St. George's church on Sunday evening with special service and addresses. The Sunday school attended in a body and sang hymns and choruses. Rolly Tanner, the senior pupil sang very prettily "Now the Light Has Gone Away."

Mr. Samuel Carr conducted the service at the United Church on Sunday evening for Rev. W. H. Taylor who is not yet able to resume his duty.

"I don't mind your bristles Rex"

"MAYBE you're lucky, Rex boy. Your whiskers are cute, so you never need to shave. But there's a big difference between bristles on a dog and bristles on a man. Of course you don't enjoy being plucked, but that only happens once every few months and a man must shave every day and sometimes twice a day to look well. And I understand shaving is no joke. Many men seem to use this as an excuse for neglect. I'm sure they'd shave more often and more carefully if they knew how repulsive stubble is to most girls."

Most men, we feel, do realize that a growth of stubble, however slight, is repulsive to women. Bristles, in fact, are a drawback in every business and social contact. In the past men could possibly be excused for their neglect because razor pull and burn made shaving a distinctly unpleasant chore. Today Gillette offers a splendid new blade that removes the beard cleanly, entirely without discomfort.

Try it, and you'll agree with us that shaving can be a rather pleasant performance. Your razor fairly skims across your face, mowing down wiry beard as if it were boyish down. Prove this on our guarantee. Buy a package of Gillette blades and use a couple. If every shave doesn't measure up to your expectations, return the package to your dealer and he'll refund the purchase price.

BEAUTY TRIP IN NORTH COUNTRY

Peterboro-Marmora-Bancroft-Apsley Route Now Delightful Trip.

ROADS ARE GOOD.

HAVELOCK, Oct 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—A very interesting drive which can be taken at this time of year, and which is sure to please the motorist who is out to see his own country first, is the trip to Marmora, Madoc, Bannockburn, Millbridge, Dickie's Lake, Bancroft, Apsley, Mount Julian, Lakefield, Peterborough.

This trip could be taken rather hurriedly in one day, but the ideal way is to leave one day, and, stopping over night at Bancroft, return the following day, driving along leisurely and stopping to see whatever most appeals to the individual traveller.

The roads all along the way are good hard roads, but when nearing Bancroft from Madoc side, are winding and rather narrow, and consequently must be traversed slowly. For about thirty miles the road lies through a hardwood bush, where glimpses of lofty hills are to be caught occasionally.

The beauty of the maple and oak trees in their autumn dress is indescribable: all the shades of yellow, gold, red, brown and green, the clear blue of the sky, the moist brown of the newly ploughed earth, the placid waters of the lakes, the gurgling flashing waters of the rivers and streams all combine to delight the senses.

After passing Millbridge, the road leads ever upward in a winding course among deeply wooded hills, where the rugged rocks on either side of the road give one a taste of true mountain scenery. A great deal of work has been done along this road, the route straightened in some places, and broadened out, to permit of easy passing for vehicles bound in opposite directions. Not a single bad spot was encountered in this trip, taken by the writer during Thanksgiving week-end.

Very Pretty Spot.

Dickie's Lake is a very pretty spot lying at the foot of the hills after passing the spot known as "The hole in the wall." It is said to be teeming with fish and the hunter's cabin beside the water's edge, speaks eloquently of the game which abounds in the forest near by.

Partridge were seen to be quite numerous all along the way and if a deeply wooded spot near a small stream a mink was spied, sitting on a fallen bough not in the least afraid of the approaching car.

As one nears Bancroft he is conscious of having attained to a great height as the hills are seen to be rolling away in the distance. And still there are hills ahead, one particularly high one to the north of Bancroft which is known as "The Eagles Nest."

Bancroft is a good sized town, boasting two modern hotels and a couple of first-class boarding houses. There are a number of very good stores here also, and many fine homes. There is a fine Red Cross Hospital and a large brick school built this year.

The writer put up for the night at the Queen's Hotel and was delighted with the meals and accommodation. Mine host, Lebarge, proved to be the ideal host, the hotel was most comfortable, fortified against the chill of the night air by a good fire in the furnace, and the rooms were spotlessly clean.

The meals were particularly good, and one found upon inquiry that the cook responsible for the good things provided was Mrs. Lebarge herself. The rates proved very reasonable, meals fifty cents each and one dollar for bed.

The return trip was made by way of Apsley. This road proved to be not quite so good as the one going, but was a very good road even at that. There is also a good hard road very winding and quite narrow. The scenery along the way was quite as good but of a different character. Not so many hills were to be seen, but a great deal more water. Many partridge were all along the way, and one caught the scent of Bruin, who must have been close to the road probably watching the car passing. Here also there were many trails through the forest, which is said to contain many red deer. It is ideal country for conservation of wild life, the numerous lakes and rivers ensuring abundant water supply, and the dense growth providing a safe hiding-place.

After travelling through this wild and wooly country, and emerging on the road leading into Apsley, one is favorably impressed by the well-kept appearance of the homes near by. Apsley is not a sleepy little village on the edge of the wilderness, but a very wideawake-looking place. The buildings are all comparatively new, freshly painted, and well kept. There are three service stations with up-to-date equipment, and courteous wide-awake attendants. Just across from one of the gasoline stations your correspondent watched the comical antics of a four-month-old cub, which had been captured early in July, and which is now the playfellow of one of the youngsters there. He is a funny little fellow and was busy climbing a ladder and getting down again, altogether disporting himself like a young puppy. After leaving Apsley, the road is an improved one, similar to many others through Peterborough County.

The scenery, particularly at this time of year, with the leaves in their changing colors, is very beautiful. The floors of the forests are carpeted with the variegated leaves, which brighten up even the darkest spots, and enhance the beauty of the scene.

Lindsay Magistrate Intimates 2 Year Suspended Sentence Will Be Given.

LOG HOUSE BURNS.

LINDSAY, Oct 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—At a session of the police court yesterday Archie Jackett and Gordon Ellery, of Fenelon Falls, were remanded on the charge of stealing a quantity of wine from the summer home of Col. Phillips, of Oshawa, situated at Sturgeon Point. Police Magistrate Jordan intimated that sentence would be suspended for a two-year period providing certain conditions were fulfilled.

A log house on the farm of J. Pogue, situated near Sturgeon Point, was burned to the ground a few nights ago. It was unoccupied, and the fire is believed to be of incendiary origin.

The death has occurred at Cannington of Mrs. Henry Brandon, sister of Mrs. Routley, of Peterborough. The deceased, who was in her eighty-fourth year, is survived by her husband, three sons and four daughters.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Birchard, of Linden Valley, Mariposa Township, was observed on Monday. The bridesmaid of fifty years ago was Mrs. George Cruess, of Lindsay, and the groomsman, A. E. Birchard, of Peterborough. Many relatives attended the anniversary, and the gifts received included a purse of gold.

CHEESEMAKERS CLOSE SESSIONS

Alex Johnston, Springhill, Elected President—Social Evening Planned.

MEN'S CLUB RALLIES.

MARMORA, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—The fifth and final monthly meeting of the 1931 season of the Madoc District Cheesemakers' Association was held at the fire hall, Madoc, on Wednesday evening, with a splendid attendance of makers, over which John Finnegan, retiring president, presided.

The holding of a social evening at Madoc in a month's time was decided upon. At this meeting presentation of the association's prizes will be made and a number of speakers heard. It is hoped that a dance will wind up the interesting evening which is being planned. After a short adjournment, the election of officers took place with the following results: President, Alex Johnston, Springhill, Madoc; vice-president, Bert Demorest, Alexandria Madoc; secretary, Charles Spencer, Madoc, Queensboro; directors: John Finnegan, John Murphy and Bert Anderson.

Successful Event Held in Connection With St. Paul's Church Anniversary.

STIRLING, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—The fowl supper held in connection with the anniversary services of St. Paul's United Church was held on Monday evening in the church parlors and was very successful.

Following the supper, a short program was given which included: two selections by the choir; quartettes by boys "Sweet and Low" and "Have You Forgotten God?", trombone selection, "The Lost Chord," Tom Furnival; duets, the Misses Dracup, "Take Up Thy Cross" and "Until the Day Breaks"; piano selection, Miss L. Scott; dramatic reading, "David's Lament for Jonathan," Rev. E. W. Rowland; readings, Miss Davy; organ selections, Charles Allen.

The Sabbath offering was well over one thousand dollars. The Rosebush orchestra furnished music for the dinner.

The occasion of the anniversary services of St. Paul's Church on Sunday was an interesting event, when the Rev. Mr. Johnston was the speaker at both services.

The numbers given by the choir were particularly pleasing. In the evening Gerald Clute sang "Like as a Father," to which Charles Allen played a most sympathetic accompaniment. A quintette by Bob Patterson, Harold Way, Jimmie Bamforth and Will Jones sang "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow." Miss Bessie Conley taking the soprano part, to a humming accompaniment.

Mrs. J. Butler sang "The Voice in the Wilderness."

In the evening, the Rev. Mr. Johnston gave his message from Deut. 33:18, opening with a blessing by Moses to the children of Israel. They led the procession that crossed the Jordan into the Land of Promise.

FRIENDS HONOR FLEETWOOD GIRL

Members of W. A. Present Miss M. Werry With Lamp on Eve of Marriage.

FLEETWOOD, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—Over twenty ladies connected with the Fleetwood Women's Association gathered at the home of Miss Marjorie Werry on Tuesday afternoon to express their regrets in losing so valuable a member of their society, and to extend sincere best wishes in view of her approaching marriage.

When all had assembled, a short program was presented. Miss Hazel Jackson, of Bethany, accompanied by Miss Ida Shea, organist of the Fleetwood United Church, sang a touching solo.

With Miss Werry occupying a prominent position in the group, Mrs. Lavergne McKinley read a very appropriate address. Mrs. Tisdale, president of the association, then presented the bride to-be with a handsome electric lamp as a slight token of the love felt by the association.

Although taken by surprise, Miss Werry responded to the presentation of the gift in a most gracious manner.

Miss Margaret Hart and Miss Hazel Jackson favored the ladies with a pleasing duet.

The Rev. Mr. Scott, of Bethany, pastor of the Fleetwood Church, was present for the occasion and added to the interest by his well-timed remarks.

Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies and a social time enjoyed.

The bi-monthly meeting of the Men's Club of St. Paul's Church was held at the White hall on Wednesday evening with a large attendance. The president, C. H. Buskard, occupied the chair.

After items of general business had been transacted, W. J. Cottrell took the chair for the program.

Some community singing was followed by a trio (Messrs. J. F. Baker, W. A. Sanderson and W. L. Rigg) rendering "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes." J. F. Baker then sang "Shepherd of Souls," after which W. L. Rigg gave one of his interesting talks, South Africa being his subject, and a sketch of the various races which have populated that part of the Empire being given. The trio again obliged with another pleasing number "In the Gloaming." Refreshments were passed round before the gathering dispersed.

The euchre party and bridge party held in the library and veterans' room, respectively, on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Marmora Library Board drew a large crowd.

Prizes were won as follows: Bridge, lady's, Mrs. M. Loveless; gentleman's, Mr. E. D. O'Connor. Euchre, lady's, Miss Anna Shannon; gentleman's, Mrs. Joseph Doyle playing as gentleman.

A delicious lunch was served at the close.

OTONABEE COUNCIL BUYS SNOW FENCE

Weed Inspector's Report Found Satisfactory—Approve Accounts.

KEENE, Oct. 22.—The members of Otonabee Council met on Monday with all the members present when, on motion, the council decided to buy forty rods of snow fence to be used on the base line between the thirteenth and fourteenth concessions.

The printing of the financial statements and auditors' reports was on motion given to the Art Press Company of Peterborough.

The weed inspector presented his report for 1931, which was received and passed as being satisfactory.

The following accounts were passed for payment (work on roads): Robert Richardson, $125; William Torpey, $12.50; Thomas Heffernan, $17.50; Ambrose Doris, $186; James Shearer, $67.38; David Kempt, $64.63; John Edwards, $57.50; Stewart Richardson, $20; Joseph Manley, 90 cents; John Coward, $5; William Nelson, $25; James Bishop, $70; Harold Elmhirst, $90; Frank Elmhirst, $25.07; Harry Wood, $65; John Wood, $10; Myles Foley, $9; Harry Garnett, $6.25; James Shearer, $8.25; Harry Wood, $5; W. Crowley, $90; Richard Harrison, $9.63; Robin Thorne, $4.65; W. D. Robertson, sheep killed, $7; Walter Garnett, sheep valuer, $2; Gerald Adamson, express on cash book, 30c; The Planet Company, cash book, $6.39; Canada Ingot Iron Company, culverts, $102.46; Michael Walsh, weed inspector, $30; G. S. Taylor, town hall, account, $1.10; G. S. Taylor, roads and bridges account, $169.84.

The council adjourned to meet on November 16.

MARMORA.

A weiner roast was held on Tuesday evening by the boys of Miss Clara Phillips' Sunday school class.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Caldwell left on Thursday to attend the funeral at Barrie of Mrs. Drury, wife of the ex-premier of Ontario.

Gleaming white washes with this safe soap!

WHEN millions of women will use no laundry soap but Rinso . . . you can be sure there's a reason! And the reason is that Rinso washes clothes whiter, safely.

In Rinso's thick suds, the dirt soaks right out. Clothes come so snowy, even boiling isn't needed. This scrubless way of doing the wash saves hands from becoming red and rough.

Rinso is granulated, compact. One cupful gives more suds than two cupfuls of lightweight, puffed-up soaps. The makers of 37 leading washing machines recommend it. Get the BIG package. Try it for dishes, too.

RICHARD HALL LIMITED

Attacker Believed To Be Maniac

WOMAN BEAUTY PARLOR OWNER SLUGGED AND SHOT BY THUG

Following her words, "you wouldn't shoot a poor little girl like me, would you?" Miss Esther McCluney (LEFT), was first clubbed and then critically wounded by a shot from a gun in the hands of a thug in the back room of her beauty parlor in Toronto. The assailant left the apartment without apparently taking any money. The wounded woman later staggered along a passage in the rear of her apartment, to the door of an apartment occupied by Dr. Knapp, where she was given first aid by Nurse J. Williamson (RIGHT). The man is believed to be a maniac and a county wide search is being made for him.

CENTRAL ONTARIO COMMUNITIES ENCOURAGE HIGHWAY EXTENSION

Peterborough Chamber of Commerce Started Move Early in August.

PETITIONED GOVERNMENT

In deciding to proceed this season with the construction of highway No. 7 between Madoc and Perth the Department of Highways received every encouragement from Central Ontario communities, and especially from the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. A resolution passes on October 3rd requested the Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce to petition the Department of Public Highways to proceed with the completion of highway No. 7 east of Madoc, "it being believed that such action would open up new scenic territory, lessen traffic on Highway No. 2 and alleviate unemployment to a great extent in eastern Ontario."

On August 8th, 1931, a letter was forwarded by F. G. Stinson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, to the municipal clerks of Marmora, Madoc, Tweed, Perth, Bancroft, Havelock and Norwood, proposing that representations be made to the Ontario Government to have the work east of Madoc "gone ahead with right away." Replies from these municipalities indicated that the whole section was unanimous, and resolutions were individually sent to the Minister of Highways by the towns along the route.

The Norwood resolution on August 18, 1931, was as follows: "That the municipal council of Norwood desire to go on record as being strongly in favor of the government of this province continuing with the construction of that section of the King's Highway No. 7, eastward already designated, and respectfully call the attention of the possibilities for the relief of unemployment by the continuation beyond Madoc to its ultimate destination.

We would especially stress the importance of eliminating that very dangerous level crossing in this village, and earnestly press for the construction of the proposed high level bridge this fall and winter, which we believe would provide in great measure for the relief of unemployment in this vicinity."

Whether the Department was influenced by these resolutions is not known, but at any rate the Minister was informed of the sentiment of a large section of the urban population in centre Hastings and Peterborough, and presumably the recommendations emanating from the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce encouraged the Hon. Leopold Macaulay in the deliberations which culminated in the announcement this week that seventy-five miles of the road from Madoc to Perth would be extended as a measure of unemployment relief.

McMASTER MEN HOLD BIG DINNER

Judge Wearing is Chairman of Happy Re-union in the Paragon.

AWAKENS NEW INTEREST.

More than 120 members of McMaster University Alumnae, most of whom are in attendance at the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, last evening met in goodfellowship at a dinner in the Paragon tea rooms.

Judge Joseph Wearing, of London, was chairman of the meeting. Lloyd Jackson, president of the Alumnae Association, stated that a re-union of McMaster graduates was planned in May at the University. This was aimed to awaken new interest in the university and give graduates an opportunity to visit the splendid new building in Hamilton.

Dr. H. P. Whidden, chancellor of McMaster, briefly outlined the progress at McMaster and announced that Dr. Charles Burke had been made associate dean of Science. He also stressed the important work that Arthur Burridge was doing in athletics and physical training among the students of the university.

Weddings

AUNGER—ANDERSON

BANCROFT, Oct. 21.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jones, Bancroft, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Tuesday, October 20, at 2 p.m. when Mabel Josephine, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, of Turriff, Ont., was united in marriage to William Richard, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John L. Aunger, of Blairton, Ont., the Rev. J. M. Fraser of the United Church, officiating.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of white Indian silk direct from the City of Mandalay, Burma, India, with veil and orange blossoms tucked at the side and a Mosaic Crescent pin from Egypt. She also wore the gift of the groom, a string of pearls, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and fern. Mrs. Gordon Jones acted as matron of honor while Mr. Gordon Jones supported the groom. Mrs. J. M. Fraser played Mendellsohn's Wedding March.

Following the ceremony a dainty buffet luncheon was served following which the happy couple left on a motor trip to the Shanandoah Caverns, Virginia, U.S. At Ye Ale Susquehanna Trail to Washington, D.C., they will be joined by the groom's sister, Miss Lillian Aunger, returning via New York and Ottawa to Blairton, where they will reside.

Many lovely gifts were received showing the esteem in which they are held.

George R. Aunger, of Marmora, brother of the groom, was a guest at the wedding which was witnessed by only the immediate friends of the contracting parties.

GRANDMOTHERS DAY OBSERVED

Twenty-five of District's Older Residents Attend Lakefield Gathering.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 22. (Examiner Correspondence)—Last Wednesday was Grandmother's Day at the Woman's Institute in Lakefield but the weather was unfavorable alike for the grandmothers and the plowing match. However about twenty-five grandmothers were present and a very pleasant afternoon was spent.

In the absence of Mrs. J. W. Ridpath, the president, who is ill, the past president, Mrs. Davis took the chair. A vote of thanks was given to Dr. N. H. Sutton for his efforts in getting the health books and the exhibit for the fair.

Mrs. Howard Bullock, the treasurer, gave the report of the booth at the fair and the net receipts will be divided equally with the Junior Branch.

An appeal was received for children's clothing from the school inspector of Haliburton and East Simcoe.

A proposal was made to entertain the members of the Hall's Bridge and Young's Point branches at a social evening in the near future and to have a debate between Lakefield and Young's Point ladies as a feature the subject to be chosen by the two teams of debators and the committee on Education. Mrs. Davis, Mrs Yale and Miss Marjorie Frankish were named as the Lakefield team. A joint meeting to arrange the subject and rules of debate will be held shortly.

A sing song under the direction of Mrs. G. C. Bell was held and the ladies joined heartily in the familiar songs and choruses. Mrs. Bell sang with delightful effect one of Harry Lauder's songs "The Picnic" and as an encore gave a side-splitting pantomine of a small boy with half a dozen eggs in each pocket standing enraptured at a Punch and Judy show. Not a word was spoken and none was needed as the facial expression of the lady expressed much more than words. It was a very clever performance and was heartily applauded.

Miss Marjorie Frankish gave a very helpful and interesting paper on 'How to buy'. In this time of scarcity of money it is necessary to look after the extra dollar and to learn to spend to get the best value. Budgeting plays a strong part but there is no hard and fast rule for this, as it might be arranged to suit the individual needs. It is a good idea to keep a classified expense account for six months with a column for unwise purchases as in buying as in other things we learn by our own mistakes. Don't buy what you neither want nor need; buy on the installment plan only from the most reliable dealers. In marketing plan to buy your largest supply when the prices are lowest. Window shopping is a very good method. Shopping is an adventure; when buying at sales always remember that there is a reason for the reduced prices.

Asks Co-operation

Mr. Herbert C. Treneer, the travelling organizer of the Canadian Institute for the Blind was present and spoke briefly bespeaking the same co-operation this year from the Institute as was given last year to Rev. Arthur Pickering. Mr. Treneer suggested that instead of a tag day a benefit concert might be arranged this year in co-operation with the local churches. Mr. Treneer would give the programme himself and besides musical numbers would have lantern slides illustrating the work of the Canadian Institute for the Blind. Mr. Treneer will try to secure the Regent street church for the entertainment on account of the pipe organ and piano. On motion of two of the members it was decided to try to hold the concert.

By special request Mr. Treneer contributed a piano solo and sang with delightful expression "The Holy City." Mr. Treneer for two years conducted a choral class in Lakefield while he was residing in Peterborough and among the ladies present were several members of the class who were glad to renew his acquaintance.

A contest on old time photographs was held with prizes going to Mrs. Silas Pearson and Mrs. J. Reid. Afternoon tea was served.

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Preston celebrated their silver wedding on Saturday, October 10th, quietly at their home on Queen street. During the afternoon a number of friends called, including members of the Ladies Guild of Knox United Church, of which society Mrs. Preston is an active member. The Guild expressed with flowers their good wishes and the beautiful sheaf of rich red roses was an eloquent, if silent, tribute to the value of Mrs Prestons' services as a member. In the evening a number of relatives and friends gathered and spent a social evening. Mrs John Preston read an address which expressed very gracefully the felicitations of the friends on the happy occasion and an electric reading lamp was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Preston to mark the very happy occasion. Mrs. Tuck, who was bridesmaid at the marriage twenty-five years ago, assisted with the refreshments.

Bears Are Seen In Stanwood District

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 22.—Marking the approach of the winter bears have been seen in the Stanwood district near Campbellford and one cub shot. Three of these animals were noticed north of Stanwood this week and a party of men went out to locate them. Between the farms of Jack Rowe and Jack Dorie they came upon their bag a bear with her two cubs, and one of the party, Carman McAlpine, was able to bag one of the cubs, the bear and one cub escaping.

Pimples on Face Itched and Burned. Healed by Cuticura.

"I was troubled with pimples and blackheads on my face. The pimples were large and red and some of them festered and scaled over. They itched and burned, causing me to scratch, and prevented me from sleeping. The trouble lasted four or five weeks and caused disfigurement.

"I tried many different remedies but without success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and was completely healed after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) Frank H. Hadley, R. R. 1, Milton, Ont.

EFFICIENCY LEAGUE

Miss V. Robinson is Appointed Secretary of Havelock Group.

HAVELOCK, October 22 (Examiner Correspondence). — The regular monthly meeting of the Havelock Efficiency League was held in the basement of the United Church on Monday evening, when a goodly number of the leaguers turned out.

The meeting opened in the usual way by a hymn, and the Scripture reading was explained by Miss M. Redden. Gordon Denike asked that he be relieved of the secretary's duties. The members appointed Miss Victoria Robinson as the new secretary. A cafeteria lunch was discussed for the next regular meeting and the Misses Barbara Fennell, Alma Hagerman, and Miss Eliza Wright were appointed as a committee to look after the refreshments for the cafeteria tea. The committee in charge of the next program is Misses Edna Haig, Irene Craighead and Hildred Wilde.

Alma Hagerman had charge of the meeting and the topic was taken by Miss A. V. M. Howard. A delightful piano solo by Miss Barbara Fennell and a contest entitled "The Farmer's Love Letter" brough the meeting to a happy close.

DIRECT RELIEF FUNDS WILL BE TRIPLED

GOVERNMENTS OFFER TO BEAR TWO-THIRDS OF DIRECT RELIEF

Queen's Park and Ottawa Will Both Match All Local Contributions.

COMMUNITY EFFORT.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 22.—To encourage the raising of funds through other civic community organizations, to take care of direct relief, thereby lifting a heavy burden off the taxpayers next winter, the Federal and Provincial Governments will contribute each a dollar raised by such means. All expenditures from such moneys must be certified by municipal authorities.

This message was brought this evening to the campaigners for the Brantford Community League objective for $75,000 for Brantford, by Hon. W. G. Martin, Minister of Public Welfare for Ontario. It means that if Brantford raises $75,000 the total available funds for civic relief will reach $225,000. This considerably heartened the campaigners, who were further encouraged by announcement that subscriptions and pledges to last evening totalled $50,524.14.

The Government however, also will contribute, Mr. Martin explained to cities where moneys needed are raised by taxation.

Taking the Brantford Community League and the system devised here as a model, the Minister declared that the formation of such associations of citizens, acting though the municipal authorities and with their sanction, would be encouraged throughout Ontario. He heartily commended this effort to raise needed moneys without adding to the tax burden of the municipality as a whole.

In the present temporary crisis, Hon. Mr. Martin declared the Province was playing its part in dealy earnest as evidenced by the Northern camp project and the grants for relief works to 150 municipalities, totalling some $12,000,000.

Proud of Brantford Effort

Referring to the Community League plan, the Minister said: 'The Government is particularly proud of your effort here, and for the expenditures from this fund for direct relief the Province will pay its third. We hoped that the Federal Government, also, would agree to pay a third, on this basis and our hope has been realized. In telephone conversation with Ottawa this was confirmed. And as a Government, we are recommending to other municipalities that they organize as you have organized."

Quoting Right Hon. R. B. Bennett as saying that the present depression was but an interlude between past prosperity, the Minister pointed out that although an envied nation Canada too, had her burden to bear at this time, and made an eloquent appeal for those who were able to assist to the utmost the good citizens who, in the full clutch of circumstance, were unable to help themselves.

FINAL TRIBUTES PAID TO EDISON

Great Inventor Laid to Rest at West Orange in Simple Ceremony.

ONLY FRIENDS ATTEND.

WEST ORANGE, N.J., Oct. 22—At Rosedale cemetery a newly-filled grave marked to-day the resting place of he who was Thomas Alva Edison.

He was buried late yesterday as dusk closed in upon the mourners—the aged widow who kissed the casket as it was about to be lowered into the grave, then placed upon it a white rosebud; the wife of the President of the United States; close relatives and friends of the inventor, and a few of his long-time laboratory associates.

Four hundred of his friends crowded the drawing room—Mr. Edison always called it "the parlor"—of Glenmont, the Edison home, for the simple funeral services in mid-afternoon. The Rev. Dr. Stephen J. Herben read the service and spoke the prayer; and there was the music of Bach and Beethoven.

Mrs. Edison, Mrs. Hoover, Henry Ford and Harvey S. Firestone were in the family group in a room upstairs listening to the services which were carried to them by specially installed amplifying apparatus.

The streets leading from the home to the cemetery were crowded with people. State and city police cleared the way.

Mrs. Hoover returned at once to Washington. Mr. Hoover had been unable to attend, held in Washington by pressing affairs of State.

Two elderly mourners at the grave were William H. Meadowcraft, Edison's secretary and companion for fifty years, and Frederick Ott, a brother of Joseph Ott, one of the lifelong associates of the inventor.

Both had been to the funeral of Joseph Ott, but an hour earlier. Ott had died of shock on learning of Mr. Edison's death Sunday morning.

Bonifaz Is Elected Ecuador President

GUAYQUIL, Ecuador, Oct. 22 (A.P.)—Neptali Bonifaz, Liberal, was believed to-day to have been elected President of Ecuador as nearly complete returns from Tuesday's election gave him a lead which was thought safe.

The count showed: Bonifaz 26,062 votes; Larrea Jijon, 15,630; Ildefenso Mendoza, 12,628.

LEGION PLANS FOR POPPY DAY

Generous Reception is Anticipated by Officers of the Legion.

JUST KEEPING FAITH.

In keeping with the first observance of November 11th as Remembrance Day, as provided by the Parliament of Canada at its last session, the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Legion is this year making an extra effort to impress upon the people of this community the full significance of this occasion. One of the principles on which the Canadian Legion is founded is the belief that the heroic dead can best be honored by taking care of the disabled veterans and their dependents, and the widows and children of those who lost their lives in the service of the country and Empire. With this in mind, the local branch of the Legion is now organizing for its annual Poppy Day Campaign, in which it hopes to realize a substantial sum for its Poppy Fund, which is used by all branches of the Legion throughout Canada to take care of veterans and their families who are in special distress and need. By means of this fund, the Legion is able to take care of many families whose circumstances require special attention, thus not only making sure that the Legion is keeping faith with the comrades who did not come back, but helping to relieve the municipality to some extent from the financial obligation of taking care of war veterans. Within a few days, the plans of the Peterborough branch of the Canadian Legion for the Poppy Day campaign will be announced, and the officers of the branch are anticipating a generous reception of their appeal by the public.

Field Kitchen Feeds New Army

Not since the days of the World War has a field kitchen been established in expansive Hyde Park, London. In this case however, instead of feeding the King's army, the make-shift commissary is used to dole out rations to London's unemployed. Note the men with their cups, crowding about the distributing point for their issue of soup.

HUNDREDS OF WOMEN DELIGHTED WITH THE HOME MAKERS' SCHOOL

Miss Claire Andree is Followed Closely by Large Class.

OLD METHODS ALL SHOT.

Everybody remembers the story of the jealous musician who stood near a saxaphone player and munched a lemon, to make the poor saxaphone artist's mouth water sufficiently to spoil his work.

A lemon wasn't needed yesterday to make the collective mouths of about thirteen hundred women want to sample the delectable things that Miss Claire Andree manufactured so deftly on the stage of the Grand Opera House, in connection with the second day of the Homemaking and Cooking School conducted by the DeBoth Home Makers' Schools and sponsored by The Examiner.

How that red currant jelly did make friends with that creamy cottage cheese, before they blended harmoniously into a rolled-sandwich filling; how that super-sharp, gleaming knife slid gently through pure white bread; how that smooth white icing folded itself lovingly about the circular shape of a rich brown chocolate cake, and how that whipped cream rested so pleasingly on top of two mounds of ice cream that was enriched by butterscotch sauce! Charles Dickens would have revelled in the spectacle.

Old Methods Are Shot

Miss Andree's listeners sat entranced as she unfolded for them the inner secrets of the pleasant food she prepared so skilfully. The hot wife that turns out a cold supper would have all her methods shot to pieces, if she could see the coolness of this calm and capable young lady who works so easily and surely and quietly. Just why the "Miss" still remains before the lady's name is a mystery, when one remembers the old adage about the way to a man's heart, and the verse that says: "She might write many books and convert all the crooks; but if she won't cook, of her we would tire in a year."

The housewives of Peterborough, or a large number of them, listened to the lessons yesterday. Even the babies came in numbers, parking their carriages in a line that extended to King street. One of them evidently doesn't like waterless cooking of beets, because it protested very vigorously while a demonstration of this manner of cooking those vegetables, was given.

Gorgeous Display

On the stage where Ethel Barrymore has lifed a supercilious eyebrow and where George White's Scandals have intrigued the lowlier minded, the display of these shining and spotless symbols of woman's main contribution to the home-keeping world, made a brave and unique showing. There are kitchen pieces of equipment that come in pure white enamel, in pale yellow and in pale green, there are shimmering aluminum utensils, and there are silver and glass and pretty china on the table that recalls that kindergarten admonition to the house-keeping child: "Lay the tablecloth square."

There were three angles of vision; from the main floor, where the glance lifted upward; from the balcony, with the ladies and their ware just as spotless and attractive; and from the "gods," where the gallery looked down on the demonstration. And then there was the "crow's nest" at the side of the stage, where the electrical apparatus rests, and where a watcher might catch a very fine and delectable smell of cooking.

Sentimental Radio

Even the radio grew sentimental over the combined scents and sights of things that are good to eat. During the intermission, it sang: "I'm getting sentimental and wondering if you are getting sentimental too?" It said: "You're my suppressed desire, you're the sweetest girl this side of heaven," proving the power of good cooking, even on an inanimate object, and it fell into "blue" music later as the chance of a bite drifted into obscurity.

The enthusiasm and the genuine liking for their teacher that developed in the audience was apparent yesterday afternoon to a great degree. They evidently like the main lady, with her trim, pretty housefrock and her humorous methods. They liked her assistant, too, the expert and quiet Miss Thomas. Little ripples of pleasure moved over the house as the demonstration progressed and the teaching became animated.

The Earl of Sandwich, who invented the eatable that bears his name, so that he could get a convenient bite in between constant games of cards, would probably turn in his grave if he could see the care with which Miss Andree made the rolled sandwich of cottage cheese and red currant jelly.

But the pastel effect wasn't all. There were bundles of proteins and vitamins introduced into the comestibles, as well as the pretty color combinations that intrigued the sight, like the mixture of yellow cheese, green peppers and chopped red pimientos.

You give bland-flavored food to children, to make them happy, and you cut down on condiments if you live in cities. Then, if your husband doesn't like onion, you just slip in a bit anyway and let him get over being notionate. "I don't think George would eat it. He doesn't like onions," said one woman who looked like a bride and is probably catering to her husband's preferences a little more than some of the older women.

No time for Dreaming

And when you go to beating an egg, don't dream over it, because it might get too dry.

What would those older women who bent their backs and coarsened their skins over the hot suds of steaming tubs, and who stewed through summer and winter over the old-time stove, think if they could come back from a bygone day and look at this scene where a trim and efficient lady of apparent youth tells her seniors, who drink it in, just how to cook, by rule, rather than by thumb; where a megaphone broadcasts the wisdom of the cooking-table; where vitamin bread supplies children with sunlight for their insides; where an electric washer and an electric ironer merrily complete the work of the dread wash day; where a busy refrigerator sits clamly making its own ice, and where an obliging vacuum cleaner tones its voice down when it meets a thin rug.

The interest that the male element takes in the demonstration is evidenced in the extremely careful co-operation given by the trio of visiting representatives of the Northern Electric Company: Messrs. Davis, Craig and Cooper.

From the Bell Telephone Company's office, on enquiry, cames the information that telephone calls have increased to a great degree over those of the past week, even when the big Plowing Match sent them up beyond the usual percentage.

New Attacks

GREAT WALL PENETRATED

Map shows present China-Japan situation in Manchuria. New attack has been made on South Manchurian railway by Japanese troops, which destroyed huge lengths of it between Tungliao and Taona, as indicated on map in block black. Japanese aircraft soared over Luanchow, 400 miles south of Mukden, making first penetrations of the great wall since Japanese occupation began.

BAILIEBORO.

Among those from the district who attended the service in Knox United Church, Peterborough, on Monday evening when Dr. E. Oliver addressed a meeting of the laymen were Mr. and Mrs. J. Lockie, Miss M. Lockie, Messrs. F. Lockie, J and F. Barnard, J. Porter, Rev. E. F. Swayne, N. Earl, T. Bothwell, W. Hanbridge, and W. G. Waterman.

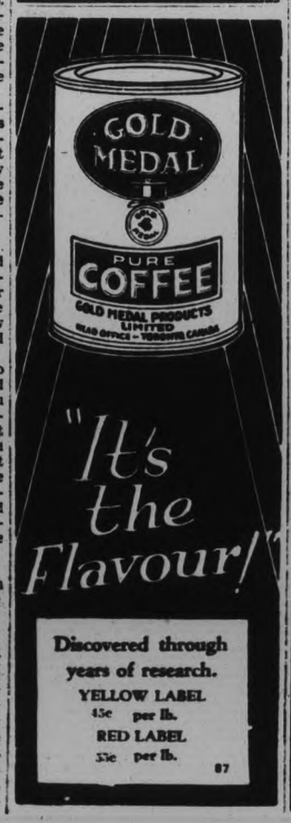
Mr. and Mrs. Goodfellow and daughter, of Philadelphia, were the guests on Monday of Mr. and Mrs. P. Barnard.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddy and Mr. F. Eddy of Niagara Falls, N.Y., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hibbard.

Mr. A. Jackson has moved his house to his farm east of the village, and is erecting a splendid farm residence.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Moncrief, Miss Helen Moncrief, Mrs. W. H Barnard, and W. Thompson motored to Beauharnois, Quebec, on Friday and spent a few days the guests of Mr and Mrs. R. O. Sinclair (nee Loretta Barnard).

A number of the boys from the district attended the junior Farmers' judging competition at Blackstock on Tuesday.



OIL PAINTINGS BY R. FARTHING ON EXHIBITION

Pictures of Outstanding Merit to be Seen in the Coleman Store.

LOCAL INTEREST.

A group of oil paintings by R. Farthing, George street photographer and artist, is on exhibition in the window of Coleman Brothers' store at 445 George street, north of Brock. They are all of outstanding merit, and four of them are of local interest by reason of the fact that they were taken of landscapes in this district. One is a view of Loon Lake, near Apsley; another of Telegraph Point, on the Otonabee River. A third is a view from the old Chemong Railway, and another was drawn at Nassau.

The Loon Lake picture is especially effective in the truth and balance of color, its depth of perspective, and in the clarity of its light notably the touches of sunshine on distant hills. Evidently a vernal scene its poplars and birches are vivid green, and one foreground tree carries a suggestion of motion as being gently blown by the wind, accentuating the pervading atmosphere of life and freshness. The entire group of paintings are splendid evidence of Mr. Farthing's art, and this lake picture is particularly striking.

The Otonabee river scene presents a calmer mood of nature, the quiet of a summer afternoon that is deepened by the reflections of the shoreline in the water. Its indwelling spirit of contemplation and inaction is strongly contrasted with the vital elements of the Loon Lake picture. Another painting of a fishing fleet becalmed off the coast of Cornwall brings out an excellent effect of the soft suffusion of mist dissolving sky in water in a setting for the vessels with their oak-tanned canvas, a contrasting color note that is repeated in their reflections in the sea.

Mr. Farthing's work is highly creditable to himself, and is an indication of a talent that should be more widely known and appreciated in Peterborough.

Telegraph Wires In Strong Demand As Native Trinket

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, East Africa, Oct. 22.—(AP)— Telegraph wire, in varying lengths attached here and there to otherwise scanty clothing means chic to the natives of Tanganyika and Kenya, and as a result the capital was without wire service to the coast for more than 24 hours.

The demand for wire for sartorial purposes exceeded the available non-commercial supply, so the natives cut telegraph lines about 24 miles from Mombasa and took what they wanted.

Cable messages had to be sent to Mombasa, and thence by train, until the damage was repaired. The delay was 16 hours.

MODERN KITCHEN SIMPLIFIES TOIL

Housewife Now Has Her Kitchen Operating on Business Basis.

MANY CONVENIENCES.

The modern housewife has her kitchen operating on a business basis. Her all-steel General Electric refrigerator, her Hotpoint Range, the porcelain sink and kitchen table, linoleum-covered floor, washable wall-covering, have equipped the kitchen as effectively as typewriters and steel filing cabinets facilitate office tasks. Yet there are other conveniences, too, smaller and costing very little, which the up-to-date housewife needs to simplify her daily work.

For instance, a small hanging book shelf is a convenient place to keep cook books and various booklets containing recipes. Also on the book shelf there should be space for an inexpensive note book. On this the modern time-saving housewife jots down not-to-be-forgotten ideas whenever they occur to her.

On either side of the sink a layer of shaped linoleum, green, blue or tan, cemented to the wood top, is easier to clean than the wood surface. Also its resiliency saves dishes from chipping.

A friendly helper in the kitchen is a General Electric Telechron clock. From breakfast on, the homemaker's day is systematically regulated by this accurate timepiece.

Another item interesting both to the man of the house and to the housewife is the rubber ice mold, which fits into General Electric refrigerators and which would save more than half the usual time for preparing cold drinks.

Last of all, there is the General Electric refrigerator itself. For, say what we will of the 'little helps' such as we have enumerated—and there are hosts of them—every homemaker knows that the major aids help most. Her laborious task is, three times a day, meal preparation for 365 days in the year. In that task the General Electric refrigerator is always at work, preserving food, safely molding delicate dishes keeping semi-prepared dishes for last-minute cooking, and holds a place as a silent worker which no other kitchen device, big or little, can possibly hold.

Milady's Autumn Evening Gown

STYLES GET BACK TO GAY NINETIES

(1) Frosty white crepe is the material in this gracefully simple gown featuring the becoming cowl line in the decolletage.

(2) Four jewelled pins hold the shoulder straps of this shaded apricot satin frock tucked attractively on bodice and about the hips. The skirt flares widely below the molded hip line.

(3) Of stiff green peau de soie is this bustled and ruffled evening gown, which with buttoned bodice might belong to the nineties.

BRIDGENORTH CIRCUIT

Selwyn United Church anniversary services were held on Sunday when the Rev. J. W. Wilkinson gave two very instructive addresses and Mrs. G. McIlmoyle with her choir of boys and girls gave special leadership in music which delighted the large congregations present at both services.

The supper and entertainment on Monday evening was well attended. There was an abundance of good things to eat and Mrs. Gordon Fitzgerald and her helpers were efficient waitresses. The tea was served in the community hall and the entertainment given in the church. The program included mouth organ selections by Bruce Fitzgerald, Harry Stalker, Wilford Northey and William Pavey; accordion selections, Harry Stalker and Bruce Fitzgerald; readings, Miss Olive Sidey, of Bridgenorth, and Miss Mabel Reynolds of Peterborough; vocal selections, Willie Pearson. Mr. and Mrs. W. Sidey, Beatrice, Doreen and Mildred McConkey and Jean McIlmoyle.

Rev. T. M. Wesley of Lakefield gave a very instructive and entertaining address. He told of a preacher of whom three hearers in discussing the sermon, one said: "Didn't he dive deep?"; another said, "Didn't he stay down long" and still another, "Yes and didn't he come up dry!" He especially appealed to all parents to see that many of the best and beautiful pictures be hung on the walls of the children's rooms. The influence of good, wholesome pictures has always had a powerful effect in molding thoughts and acts through life. Pictures are not necessarily expensive."

District Notes.

Mr. Bruce Fitzgerald's new barn is nearly completed. Mr. Andrew Miller has charge of the frame work while Mr. Richard Alford has charge of the cement work. The framework is of plank and not timber as was the custom to use in earlier days.

The Selwyn Cheese factory under the management of Rex Wilson has had a good season and the grade of cheese turned out has received favorable recognition by the Lindsay Cheese Board.

At the Lakefield League games on Friday evening, McWilliams' Bridgenorth team defeated Lakefield Business Men, 15 to 1.

Rev. R. J. Merriam and daughter, Eva, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. T. Bell of Selwyn.

On Sunday next, Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., of Millbrook will preach the anniversary services in Bridgenorth United Church at 10.45 a.m. and 7 p.m.

FASHION SERVICE

When you study this smart frock, you'll see it's really very simple to fashion. It's stunning, too. Diagonal seaming emphasizes the smooth fitting hipline. The bodice cuts in one until it joins the skirt.

It's so thoroughly wearable in dull black supple woolen, the smartest idea for town wear.

Crepe satin, flat crepe canton-faille crepe and wool-flecked rayon voile are exceedingly lovely ideas for its development.

Style No. 3068 comes in sizes 16, 18 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3 yards of 39-inch material with 1¼ yards of 1¾-inch lace and ½ yard of 18-inch contrasting.

Be sure to fill in the size of the pattern. Send stamps or coin (coin preferred). Price of book 15 cents. Price of pattern, 15 cents.

THIS DOCTOR TAKES HIS OWN MEDICINE

Leeds' Medical Mayor Has Swallowed 23,000 Tablets

Leeds, Eng.—In the last seven years, Dr. A. Hawkyard, the 70-year-old lord mayor of Leeds, has taken 23,000 tablets.

Dr. Hawkyard, who has only two meals a day, made this statement in opening a chemists' exhibition in the Leeds town hall.

"If that is not enough to cure anyone's stomach troubles I don't know what is," he observed.

"When I compare my condition in 1924 with that of to-day I am convinced that it is only by taking all these pills and medicines that I have been able to keep on my feet and to hold the position I do to-day.

W.M.S. RALLY IS HELD IN NORWOOD

Churches in District Send Delegates to Norwood Meeting.

NORWOOD, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence)—On Wednesday in the United Church, Norwood the third annual sectional rally of the Women's Missionary Society was held with a good attendance of delegates from Havelock, Warsaw, Cottesloe, Hastings, Westwood and Norwood. Mrs. Alfred Metcalfe of Hastings was in charge of the morning session which opened at 10.30. Mrs. Rev. Stillman led the devotional exercises with Mrs. R. G. Lawlor reading the scripture lesson.

Mrs. E. Hogg, secretary read the minutes of the last meeting which was held at Hastings. Each auxiliary reported on their year's work. Mrs. Wilson of Havelock then led in a discussion on "How to reach our allocation." Mrs. Hugh Cameron of Westwood took charge of the quiet half hour and Miss Comstock led in prayer. Lunch was served at noon in the dining hall of the church by the Norwood auxiliary, at which greetings of welcome were extended the visitors by Mrs. Harland Keefer and replied to by Mrs. Albert Webster of Cottesloe.

The Havelock auxiliary were in charge of the afternoon session which opened at 2 o'clock. Westwood ladies extended an invitation to the ladies of the district to meet there next year which was kindly accepted. Mrs. Brown of Peterborough, president of the Peterborough Presbyterial, was the special speaker for the rally and gave a most interesting summary of the Dominion Board meeting. Mrs. C. Renaud gave a delightful solo which was enjoyed by all after which Mrs. E. N. McDonald of Cottesloe gave a splendid report of the branch meeting held in Peterborough. Mrs. Sargent of Warsaw spoke on temperance after which brief addresses were given by Mrs. Denike of Havelock and Mrs. Lawlor, Norwood. The meeting was closed by Rev. Mr. Bell of Hastings after which afternoon tea was served to the ladies from a distance.

Auxiliary Meets

Miss Lila Kirk was hostess to the Young Women's Auxiliary of the United Church on Wednesday evening. Mrs. R. Packenham, president, took charge of the devotional exercises while Mrs. Pearl Gardner read the scripture lesson.

Miss Lila Kirk, convenor of the October group, then took charge calling on Miss Margaret Burgess for a solo and Mrs. Maitland Kirk gave a missionary reading.

Mrs. R. G. Lawlor gave a most interesting address about the home mission schools she visited while in British Columbia a year ago and of the great work that could be done in helping these home missions.

The meeting closed with the singing of hymn 434 after which the mizpah benediction was repeated.

A social half hour was then spent the hostess Miss Kirk and her mother serving lunch. A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Lawlor for her address and also to Miss Kirk for her kind hospitality.

Mrs. D. Burgess is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sanderson.

Mrs. Howard J. Ford was a visitor to Peterborough on Friday.

At the Young People's Convention of Peterborough Presbytery held at Bethany recently, Mr. Edgar Clarke was elected president for the coming year. Mr. A. Cleveland Robb of Peterborough was the president last year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Humphries were in Peterborough on Friday.

Mr. C. Gunstons was a visitor to Bethany recently, attending the Young People's Convention.

Mr. J. O. Fife of Peterborough was in Norwood on Wednesday.

Congratulations are due Master Glen Edwards and Garnet Wheatley who were among the winners of the $5 and $1 prizes in the Whistle and Vess Drq crown contest recently.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

PAIN IN STOMACH.

Your physician will tell you that more patients come to his office complaining of indigestion, dyspepsia, pain in the stomach, than any other ailment.

Now although the world seems to be filled with special foods and special diets, nevertheless your stomach, if in good condition, can digest practically all the ordinary kinds of foods. If your stomach is upset, ypou have pain, and some vomiting, you naturally blame the stomach, whereas the cause of the digestive disturbance may be at some distance from the stomach.

Dr. Alvarez of the Mayo clinic in an analysis of 500 cases of "indigestion" found that 175 were due to some organic trouble, but only 12 of these 175 were found in the stomach.

What does this mean?

That finding the cause of pain in the region of the stomach may require time and effort on the part of the physician, and the patient must not become restless or impatient if his physician seeks the cause instead of just giving him something to relieve the pain.

Sometimes a slowness in the movement of wastes in region of appendix gives rise to pain in the stomach.

Air swallowing is another frequent cause of stomach pain, the bubble of air becoming so large that it presses against stomach walls upward toward the chest. One of the commonest causes of pain in the stomach is some disturbance in the liver and gall bladder. There is usually much belching of gas and tenderness extending over toward right upper part of abdomen.

Not having enough grinders or molar teeth, not being able to chew the food properly, is a frequent cause of stomach pain.

Pain caused by "nervous" troubles—worry, excitement, hard, mental work—is simply due to the fact that the muscles of the wall of the stomach do not receive their nervous impulses from the brain, no churning is done, the food lies in the stomach for hours in an undigested state.

Pain from an ulcer stops when food is taken then in one to two hours returns and remains until food or some alkali is again taken.

Unfortunately in cancer the pain is not always very severe in the early stages, but if the person is approaching middle age, this should be the first thought as only early operation can save life.

Remember then that while pain in stomach is not usually due to organic trouble it should be investigated if it persists or occurs frequently.

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the Rebekah Lodge, I.O.O.F., was a very interesting event of Tuesday evening at the Lodge rooms. Decorations were carried out in pink and green, while the birthday cake, cut by Mrs. B. Watts, was also iced in the same colors and lit with twenty-five candles. At the opening of the ceremonies, Mrs. Eva Elliott, Past Grand of Olive Branch No. 1, Winnipeg, was introduced and given the honors of the lodge. Mrs. Watts also introduced Mrs. May Thomas of Lindsay of Lindsay, Mr. Thomas, and Miss Terry of Campbellcroft, who were here when the lodge was instituted, twenty-five years ago. The degree staff, dressed in white, and forming an arch, carrying roses, then sang a welcome song of Friendship, Love and Truth, and the last-mentioned trio of guests were presented with small tokens of appreciation by three junior members, the Misses Viola Martin, May Wilson and Margaret Watson. Then, marching past their officers, the staff presented them with beautiful roses. Charter members were introduced by Mrs. J. Londerville, past District Deputy, including Mr. and Mrs. Bert Watts and Mr. and Mrs. R. Murduff, who were presented with roses and tokens of appreciation by Miss Viola Martin. A pretty song was also sung in their honor. Mrs. Jackson sang "In the Garden of Tomorrow" and initiation took place of two new members: Miss Effie Goodrich and Miss Marion Armstrong. The new officers were then installed by Mrs. Charles Davidson of Lindsay, District Deputy president for District No. 22, with Mrs. R. A. McGahey of Lindsay, District Deputy Marshal, in charge of the ceremonies, assisted by the staff from Lindsay, including the District Deputy Warden, Mrs. Fleck, the Deputy financial secretary, Mrs May Thomas, and the Deputy secretary, Mrs. W. Brown. The staff carried pink floral strands which formed an arch for the ceremony. On vacating the chair, the immediate Past Noble Grand, Mrs. Hoston, was presented with a handsome Past Grand's collar and jewel, and also with another gift in appreciation of her services during the past year. Mrs. C. Davidson of Lindsay, District deputy president, was presented by the past president, Mrs. Elena Booth, with a gift in token of appreciation of the able manner in which the work was conducted, and Mrs. Booth was given, in turn, a present for her able assistance at all times. A parting gift by the resigning degree captain, Mrs. B. Watts, now resident in Toronto, was made to Mrs. J. Londerville. Regrets over Mrs. Watts departure were expressed by Mrs. R. Murduff. Mrs. Price and Mr. Walter Hooper, who has assisted the ladies over a long term of years, were also presented with gifts by Miss Dolly Brotherstone. The recipients all thanked the members for their gifts and Mrs. Terry of Campbellcroft, one of those present at the institution a quarter of a century ago spoke pleasingly of the growth of the lodge and the advantage from its membership especially to young people. Mrs. May Thomas of Lindsay, thanking the members for their gifts to herself and her husband, wished the lodge much success and happiness in future endeavors, and presented the ladies with a handsome silver basket. For the enjoyable banquet which followed, Mrs. Beatty acted as convenor. Guests present from Lindsay included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davidson, Mrs. W. Brown, Mrs. Fleck, Mrs. Pogue, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hannah and daughter Madge, and Miss Howe.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The season for entertaining during the fall and winter season is at hand.

• • • • • • •

Women who enjoy giving parties for their children or their own older friends and also those who feel it incumbent upon themselves to entertain in return for hospitalities previously extended them, do well to make their plans early.

• • • • • • •

By so doing, they can distribute their social activities for their families so that neither the work nor the outlay will be burdensome at any one time. These plans should be for the major entertainments and should not be expected to interfere with casual entertaining, such as having friends in for tea, the evening, or whenever the impulse dictates.

• • • • • • •

The fact that card parties are so popular is partly because the form of entertainment is already decided, and because most people enjoy the games of the moment.

• • • • • • •

The only puzzling thing is to provide refreshments which have some element of diversity. The ideas given to-day will prove helpful, if sandwiches are served.

• • • • • • •

While having the requisite elements of novelty, these sandwiches to be described are easy to make and inexpensive.

• • • • • • •

Cut buttered bread into sandwiches the shape and size of cards, for Deck of Cards sandwiches.

• • • • • • •

Cut enough aces from thin slices of ham and tongue for diamond and heart sandwiches. Cut aces for the remaining half quantity of needed sandwiches, using lamb and boiled beef for clubs and spade.

• • • • • • •

These aces are lightly buttered on one side and are pressed in the centre of the top slice of the card shaped bread.

• • • • • • •

The filling for sandwiches can be olive and cheese for the red group and lettuce salad for the dark meat group. Or any piquant filling might be chosen, especially for the lamb and bean sandwiches.

• • • • • • •

Four different fillings can be used. Chopped, creamed, mushrooms make a wonderful filling for the beef, while egg, capers and chopped boiled bacon is a novelty filling for the lamb.

• • • • • • •

Baked bean salad goes well as a filling for the ace-ham sandwiches. There are all sorts of filling that are delicious with the different meats. Each guest should have a sandwich from each deck.

EXAMINER'S HOMEMAKING SCHOOL DRAWS CAPACITY HOUSE TO GRAND

Women Are Delighted With the Demonstration and Lecture.

LUCKY NUMBERS WINNERS.

Interest is still at high tension at the Homemaking and Cooking School, as was evidenced by the line-up at the Grand Opera House yesterday long in advance of the opening hour. Every available seat was taken and many disappointed women turned away.

Much favorable comment has been expressed on the establishment of the DeBoth Scohol by the Peterborough Examiner, which is filling a long-felt want in the community.

For her large class, Miss Andree has lost none of her charm, and as a lecturer she was even more convincing than Tuesday.

The women of Peterborough are being educated in the use of the most modern kitchen equipment in a way that the most forceful sales talk would fail to do. In addition to this they are gleaning a wealth of new and intriguing recipes, with methods clearly demonstrated. The recipes covered so wide a range there is no monotony in their presentation and many clever hints were interjected throughout the lesson.

Again Miss Andree was assisted by Miss Thomas and a quiet but capable staff.

Local stores supplied the ingredients as well as the equipment used in the making of the savoury dishes, which were especially adapted to children's palates, this being their day at the school.

Who doesn't love chocolate cake? And as Miss Andree proceeded to make this delectable morsel, every ear and eye were attuned to her slightest word or movement.

We will vouch that there will be many chocolate cakes on the menus in Peterborough homes this week. The best thing about it all is that we know exactly where to obtain every single ingredient and feel sure we are getting the best on the market—baking powder, vanilla, soda, salt, eggs, chocolate and sugar. We can get it in one order at Haboca Stores; Jewel shortening comes from Swift's Canadian Company, while the Quaker Oats Company suppy the cake flour, and Silverwoods, the milk. Mixed in a large bowl and baked in a Wearever pan from Canadian Department Stores, the cake was popped into the oven of the Guerney electric range and baked to a turn.

Miss Andree's corn bread was a strong rival of old Mammy's southern hoe cake.

Such dishes as her spaghetti loaf, California mock turkey, rolled sandwiches served with a cup of Maxwell House coffee, were food for the gods, and every woman present envied the recipients of each of these drawn as a prize.

Another Wearever product demonstrated yesterday was the waterless cooker which did many wonderful things. The hermetically sealed motor on the General Electric Refrigerator, with the three-year guarantee, were strong drawing cards in its favor, and we are sure Watson's Tire and Radio Supply Company will have a heavy run on them from now on.

The lesson came to a successful close with Miss Andree's washing test on the A.B.C. washer, and the ironer demonstrated by Miss Thomas.

An interesting question drawer was conducted by Miss Andree, who gave definite help in response to every problem.

Another winsome young bride of four weeks was called to the stage and introduced, when she was presented with a beautiful set of kitchen utensils; while two ladies who had been happily wedded for 57 years were likewise pleased recipients.

Aside from the educational value of the DeBoth School, the prizes donated daily are well worth while. Yesterday these were received by the following holders of lucky numbers, and the presentation was made by R. M. Glover of The Examiner.

A SINGING SHIP

Each bird had a separate cage, and the consignment occupied accommodation sufficient for more than 150 passengers, and during the voyage they ate a ton of seed, 600 hard-boiled eggs, and a sack of roasted breadcrumbs.

COOKING THE GURNEY WAY

One of the reasons why Miss Andree has chosen a Northern Electric-Gurney Range for her demonstrations at the DeBoth School this week is that its oven is 400 cubic inches larger than any other electric range — it is large enough for all you need, and yet the range is not bulky.

This range has the famous Gurney rigidly insulated oven, which retains the heat. This permits cooking long after the electricity is turned off. There is not a nut or bolt projecting from any outside surface—the range cleans quickly.

After the DeBoth School to-day, go to the dealer whose name is listed below, and see this and the many other unique features of Northern Electric-Gurney Ranges which make cooking so much easier and better that it is a joy instead of labor.

MARMORA GIRL GUIDE TROOP PRESENTED NEW UNION JACK

Juvenile Orange Lodge is Donor—Several Fine Addresses Given.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED.

MARMORA, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence)—The presentation of a Union Jack to the First Marmora Company of Girl Guides at their regular meeting on Tuesday evening caused that meeting to be one of the most auspicious since the formation of the company.

The donor of the flag was Marmora Juvenile Orange Lodge No. 34 and the presentation was made to Captain Mrs. F. S. Pearce by Sister Eleanor Green in the unavoidable absence of the Worthy Chairman. The address was read by Sister Dorothy Shaw. Guardians Bro. W. J. Cottrell and Sisters Mesdames J. Hart and A. McInroy were also present with the lodge.

Prior to the welcome extended the visitors, the meeting opened with prayer and routine business. The presentation evoked a very gracious speech from Captain Mrs. F. S. Pearce, at the conclusion of which she asked a color party, comprising Lieuts. Edith Phillips and Muriel Leonard and Patrol Leader Anna Shannon, to accept the flag on behalf of the company. Upon request, W. J. Cottrell, Rev. A. B. Caldwell and Capt. Percy Gray addressed the company in turn, each striking a note of encouragement in their remarks. The company still in the horseshoe formation, which had marked the presentation then entertained the visitors to a delightful program.

Program.

Bernice McInroy commenced with a most appropriate recitation, "Children of Britain". Grace Hemphill cleverly played "The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" and, without piano accompaniment, Grace Prentice and Marion Sweet delightfully rendered as a duet, "The Japanese Love Song." A round of songs was given by the Guides before they took their seats. Then came the surprising feature of the evening. A wonderful birthday cake, almost resembling an artistic drum, was brought to view by Capt. Mrs. F. S. Pearce, and W. J. Cottrell, who was celebrating a birthday, was made the recipient.

While other good eatables were going the rounds, the arbitrary number of eighteen candles were lit, and, when they had waned, portions of this delicacy were naturally in demand. The eventful meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Meetings hereafter will be held on Monday evenings instead of Tuesday evenings.

PROPOSAL REJECTED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 22.—(CP)—The United States government has rejected a proposal by the Egyptian government for an international cotton conference.

MARMORA A.Y.P.A.

Officers Are Elected for Year With Miss Hilda Phillips as President.

MARMORA, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence)—St. Paul's A.Y.P.A. got away to a good start on their 1931-1932 season on Monday evening as an attendance of thirty-seven accepted the invitation to be present at the White hall for reorganization purposes. The Rev. A. B. Caldwell presided. The election of officers was proceeded with. Hilda Phillips was elected president, while the vice-presidencies went to Misses F. Crawford and L. Morton.

Annie Bailey was elected secretary and Roy Smith received the office of treasurer. Committees will be appointed at the next meeting convened for Nov. 3. Meetings are being held on the first and third Tuesdays of the month.

The Rev. W. L. Wright, rector of Tweed, who was present, addressed the meeting on the matter of the convention which is being held at Kingston on Oct. 30. Misses Hilda Phillips and Annie Bailey were appointed delegates from the local branch to this convention.

Fenella

Choosing as his subject, "The road signs of Life," Rev. R. W. Paton, M.A., addressed the Fenella United Church Sunday School on the occasion of the annual rally day service on Sunday morning, October 18. Mr. Paton's address was directed to the younger boys and girls, and he pointed out to them, that, just as the careful motorist observes the many signs along the highway placed there for his benefit, so must they, observe certain signs, the conventions, customs and proprietaries, if they desire to travel safely the highway of life. Jesus, set up these road signs, but He called them commandments, and the human wrecks and derelicts we see along life's highway are the result of carelessness, and neglect of the warning thrown out by these guide posts.

The service which was impressive throughout, was conducted by the superintendent, Mr. Fred Talling. The scripture lesson, Mark 14, 32-46 and Matthew 28, 1, 2, 16, 20, the story of the betrayal, crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus, was read by Miss Ruby Herrington. A reading, "Jesus blessing little children," was read by Miss Donna Lonsberry. A story of Jesus' love for the out-of-doors was read by Miss Bernice Murphy. Marvel Lonsberry read a story about "The Courage of Jesus," and a chorus by the Young Men's Class rounded out the program.

Mrs. S. Sharp, Hastings was a week-end guest of her daughter, Mrs. Marcus Lonsberry.

Several from this community attended anniversar yservices at Oak Heights United Church on Sunday.

Mr. Thomas Cowling of Millbrook and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cowling and family of Peterborough were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Cowling.

Mrs. Eric Sandercock was a recent guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Jewell, Dartford.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Smith, Dartford were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sherwin were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jibb, Cold Springs, recently.

Harry Macklin visited in Trenton on Sunday, a guest of friends there.

Mr. John Herrington was in Codrington on Sunday guest of his aged aunt, Mrs. Levi Herrington.

Mrs. James Curtis and small daughter Norma are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Porter, Oak Heights, for a few days.

Many friends of Mrs. Clarence Down, will be sorry to learn she is ill.

Miss Yvonne Sharp, Toronto was a week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. Marcus Lonsberry.

Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, Bethesda South, were Sunday guests of the latter's brother, Mr. Eldrige Sherwin and Mrs. Sherwin.

Born—On Wednesday, October 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boyle, Fenella, a son.

Queensboro

QUEENSBORO, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—The conference for leadership boys held at Tweed under the direction of Mr. W. S. Gordan was a real success and was attended by about fifty boys and young men. The Rev. H. B. Neil, of Belleville, chairman of the Bay of Quinte Conference Religious Education committee, was present and led the sing-song which immediately followed the sumptuous repast provided by the ladies of Tweed United Church. Mr. Neil also introduced Mr. D. R. Poole, General Secretary of the Religious Educational Council of Canada, who was the guest speaker of the evening.

Mr. Donald McRae, of Tweed, secretary of the Ontario Boys' Parliament, gave a short address outlining for the boys present the workings of the Boys' Parliament. He stated that plans were made and action taken that influenced the boy-life of the province for the ensuing year. Mr. McRae strongly urged every boy who could to attend the boy camps that he might get an insight into life.

Mr. Poole led the group for some length in a discussion of the problems that are interesting to boys. He read a list of problems he had gathered as a result of contact with boys in group conferences in the principal towns and cities across Canada. It was discovered that nearly every boy was interested in religion almost first of all and that from fourteen years of age boys began to have problems. They were faced with choosing their vocations, amusements, recreations, and were weighing life's values. Before twenty a young man had pretty well formed his character and chose his life God.

Mr. W. S. Gordan acted as chairman, and the Rev. E. B. Cooke, pastor of Tweed United Church, welcomed the delegates. A committee was appointed who will be given responsibility for a three-day conference to be held probably in Tweed in the course of a few weeks.

Five boys, accompanied by their pastor, the Rev. J. F. Everson, were present from the Queensboro pastoral charge: Norman Jones, Allan Ketcheson, Roy Moorcroft, Roy Rollins and Allan Sager.

LIBRARY MEETING BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Peterborough Library Board Thanked for Its Splendid Co-operation.

The convention at the Public Library, which forty-seventy representatives of the libraries in Central Ontario attended, was brought to a conclusion shortly before 12 o'clock to-day, with Miss Patricia Spereman, of Toronto, giving the farewell address. She thanked the local Library Board, the staff, and the librarian for the fine reception given the delegates, the use of the hall, and for the work which had made the convention such an outstanding success.

F. M. DelaFosse, the librarian, replied, saying that the Peterborough Library Board had been delighted to have the visitors here, and would be pleased to learn that they had enjoyed their stay. He concluded by thanking Miss Spereman and the delegates for the vote of thanks.

Following the final meeting, a number of the visitors were taken on a motor trip around the city and district in cars provided through the kindness of Mr. W. G. Morrow and Mrs. Waddell.

Enjoy the flavor famous in Canada for 50 years.

This coffee is rushed to your grocer by swift, "fresh food" delivery.

Its flavor is protected

by FRESH FOOD delivery system

Coffee delivered like a fresh food because it is a fresh food. This coffee comes to you at the Peak of its Flavor!

YES, coffee is a fresh food. Scientists now say that coffee, like cream or butter, is subject to rancidity. This rancidity develops when coffee is stored too long after roasting, no matter what type of container is used.

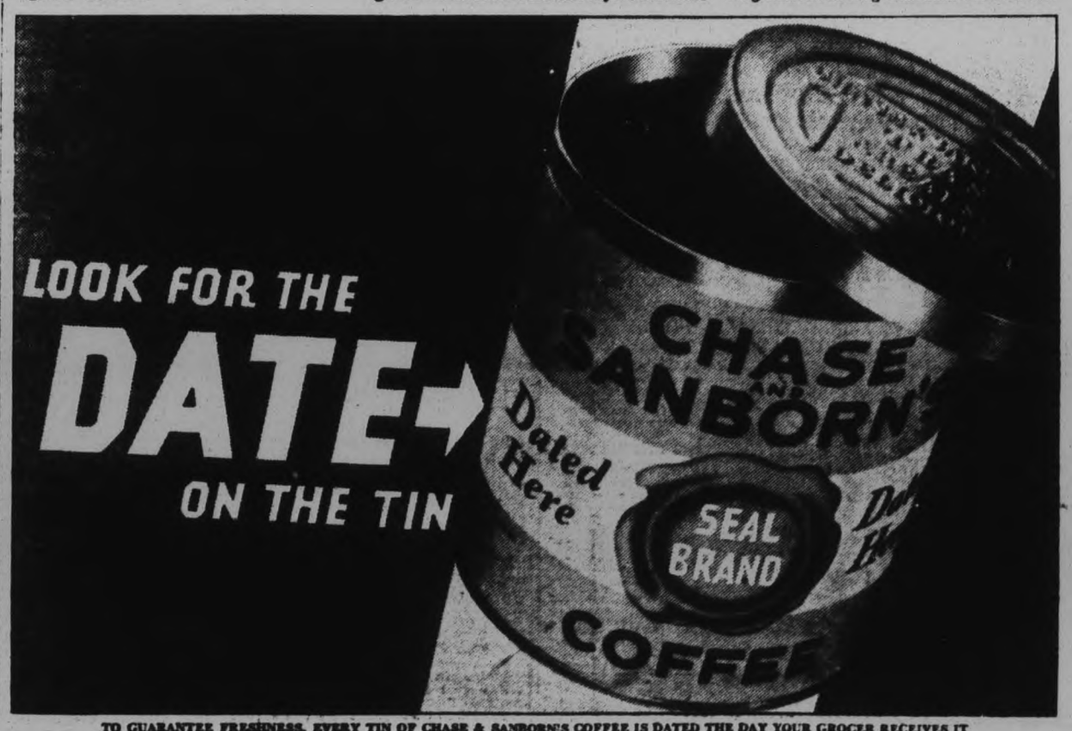
Chase & Sanborn's comes to you always fresh, at the peak of its flavor—guaranteed against staleness.

To ensure perfect freshness, this famous coffee is now rushed to your grocer by the same Dominion-wide delivery system which delivers Fleischmann's Yeast daily.

Every tin is dated with the day it is delivered. You can't buy a tin of dated Chase & Sanborn's Coffee which has been on your grocer's shelf more than ten days. Here is the explanation science now offers of the need for this precaution:

IN EVERY POUND of coffee there is about half a cup of delicate oil, scientists explain. Fresh, this oil carries the delicious flavor and aroma you love. Stale, it grows rancid—is often the cause of indigestion, headaches, sleeplessness.

For guaranteed freshness, buy a pound or half-pound tin of Chase & Sanborn's Coffee—DATED—today. Enjoy the flavor and aroma, long famous among Canadian coffee lovers.



TO GUARANTEE FRESHNESS, EVERY TIN OF CHASE & SANBORN'S COFFEE IS DATED THE DAY YOUR GROCER RECEIVES IT

SLASHING COPPER PRODUCTION PLAN FAVORED BY PRODUCERS

Canadian Magnates Range Alongside Other Firms in Curtailing Production.

CO-OPERATION SOUGHT.

NEW YORK, N.Y. Oct. 22.—(By the Canadian Press.)—A movement for drastic slashing of copper production is gaining momentum as producers from Canada, European countries and United States continued to-day their informal discussions.

According to the Journal of Commerce, Canada's producers like the Belgian, South African and United States' copper magnates, are willing to curtail production.

"Co-operation of the large Canadian producers in the plans for reduced world output will in all probability be forthcoming, it is reported to-day," says the Journal of Commerce. "The International Nickel Company of Canada has a large copper production, which it considers of less importance than its nickel output," the paper proceeds. "The company has been operating at a slow a rate as major United States' companies for the last few months, according to reports.

"Noranda Mines, Limited, also produces a large volume of copper and this company along with some smaller Canadian concerns are understood to be willing to do their part."

Officers Elected For Tweed A.Y.P.A.

TWEED Oct. 22. (Examiner Correspondence).—The opening meeting of the fall season of St. James' A.Y.P.A. was held in the Guild Room on Thursday when reports for the past year were presented and the election of officers took place, resulting in Earl Thompson being elected president.

Other officers are: Honorary president Frances Carleton; secretary, Keith Wilson; Treasurer, Elva Clark.

After the election of officers discussion took place regarding a Diocesan Conference of young people which is to be held in Kingston on October 30. The President urged all members and the branches in Prince Edward and Hastings Local Council to be present on that day.

After some musical selections, the Rector gave a description of the Passion Play and the evening closed with the service of refreshments.

During the winter season, meetings will be held every second Wednesday evening.

Winter sports which include skiing, skating, snowshoeing, tobogganing, hockey and curling, are practiced in Canada under ideal conditions.

Charles H. Davidson Undergoes Operation

Chas. H. Davidson, of Campbellford, underwent an operation for acute appendicitis at the Nicholls Hospital Wednesday. His condition was complicated by incipient peritonitis, but to-day's report was very encouraging. The members of his family were called to Peterborough yesterday. Mr. Davidson's many friends in this district will be relieved by the report of his physician, Dr. G. S. Cameron, and hope for his speedy recovery.

GRANT IS MADE TWEED LIBRARY

Arthur Street Waterworks Construction Program Discussed by Council.

TAXES REFUNDED.

TWEED Oct 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—At the meeting of the village council held recently, with all members present, Paul Rashotte asked the council if they intended to construct waterworks on Arthur street, and this matter was left over until the nex meeting.

F. B. Foster asked for a rebate of $6.49 for inside connection for sewer and water claiming he did not order same.

Messrs. Moffat, Morrison and McGuire asked for a grant to the Library and on motion a grant of $150 was made.

T. W. Beatty and F. Rashotte asked for a rebate on the Rink property and on motion it was decided that the percentage of the taxes be rebated as formerly.

H. A. Hughes of the Dunlop Rubber Company interviewed the Council re fire hose.

On motion it was decided that Engineer W. B. Redfern be asked to come and look over the proposed waterworks extension on Arthur street.

On motion it was decided that Mrs. Barber be refunded $1.19 on taxes paid.

On motion the $17 received from the Economic Distributors was accepted as payment in full of arrears of taxes.

It was decided to refund $1.65 to the Township of Hungerford on overcharge on frontage taxes.

The accounts presented were ordered paid and the council adjourned.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

HOOVER, LAVAL START PARLEYS

President Not Ready to Discuss Plan to Aid France in War.

WIDE RANGE TOPICS

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 22 (A.P.)—An expectant nation turned to-day toward the meeting in its Capital of two of the leading figures on the world's troubled stage—President Hoover and Premier Laval of France.

Before them lay a range of subjects varying from international debts to disarmament.

Primary among their conversational possibilities was the problem of how their countries could cooperate to relieve the economic strain on other nations.

The necessity for attention to pomp and ceremony to-day precluded more than a friendly greeting and a short chat in the stately Blue Room of the White House.

But tomorrow, ceremony will be laid aside and they will talk over cold facts.

President Hoover is not prepared to discuss an agreement for the United States to aid France in the event of a war against that nation. Previous efforts to involve the United States in security pacts of such a nature or to commit this country to boycott or blockade agreements have been rejected invariably by the Senate.

Laval to Take Lead

In looking forward toward the economic phases of the conversations, the President became more and more convinced that the Premier would be prepared to take the initiative.

The chief executive is fully prepared, however, to give the French statesman his well defined ideas on a wide range of possibilities in the situation. He has no definite word-by-word plan for the Premier, and he expects no overnight patching up of the world's economic fabric.

President Hoover believes that one of the major impediments in the pathway to recovery is the startling figure of $5,000,000,000 spent annually by the nations for the maintenance and increase of armaments.

One of his chief hopes, and it can be safely assumed he will impart it to the French Premier, is that France will scale down its program when it enters the General Disarmament Conference at Geneva next February. Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, who headed the United States delegation to the London Naval Conference, and recently toured the European capitals, has told the President that if France does this, the other nations of Europe would undoubtedly follow.

PLEASING PROGRAM BY SUNSHINE CLUB

Clarence Brenton Host to Norham Church Y.P.S. Members.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

NORHAM, October 22. — The Sunshine Clubs, the Young People's Class of Norham United Church Sunday School, held their monthly meeting at the home of Clarence Brenton. There were about 40 present.

John Bound, assisted by Leo Palmateer, led the devotional service. Gordon Mitchell, president of the class, took charge of the business of the evening. Miss Edythe Brenton presented the program, which was as follows:

An instrumental trio by Misses Dora and Lucille Palmateer, and Mr. Raymond Cole, on guitars and harp. A duet by Ronnie and Owen Hawkey.

A very interesting address on "The Best Things of Life" was given by Rev. R. A. Whattam, of Toronto.

After another instrumental trio Miss Brenton conducted a contest on "Great Men."

Mr. Frank Muggridge, convenor of the social department, also had a good "ring" contest, and a number of riddles to be solved. Later lunch was served and a hearty vote of thanks given to the hostess by the class.

W.M.S. Meeting.

The October meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society was held at the parsonage on Tuesday afternoon, and was led by the president. The treasurer, Mrs. R. Mitchell, gave the quarterly financial report.

The Mission Band leader, Mrs. Douglas Knight, gave an interesting report of the work of the Mission Band.

Mrs. Wilton, Missionary Monthly Secretary, appealed for subscrips for the paper.

Mrs. Stanley Brinton, leader of Group A had charge of the program.

Mrs. J. Diamond read the devotional leaflet, James, the Silent Man.

Hymn, "My Faith Looks up to Thee," was sung.

Little Fern Wilson sang "God Loves Me," in a very sweet manner.

An interesting missionary story, "The Misspelt Word," was read by Mrs. Clarence Brenton.

There was a discussion on the best way to use the study book in the meeting.

Mrs. Clare gave a report from the sectional meeting held in Hilton United Church on September 4th.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Wilton.

The annual church parade of the Seaforth Highlanders' Association, Edinburgh branch, took place at the Scottish National War Memorial, the Castle, Edinburgh. There was a large turn-out of members. The commemoration address was delivered by Rev. A. R. Yeoman, C.M.G. assistant chaplain-general.

National Observance Of Armistice Asked

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 22.—(CP)—"We who remain are inescapably the trustees of their memory and of the principles for which they fought. In this trust we must not fail," declares Major John S. Roper, dominion president of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. in a "message for Remembrance Day" which expresses the hope that all of Canada will join with them "when ex-service men and women gather together throughout the land to pay tribute to their dead."

The message makes public record of gratitude to the parliament of Canada for "a noble example in setting aside November eleventh in each year as a sacred national day of observance."

Portsmouth, Eng.—Two new ships for the royal navy, the cruiser Neptune and the flotilla-leader Duncan, have been laid down at Portsmouth dockyard.

The Neptune a new 6,000-tons cruiser on which £370,000 is estimated to be spent by March.

All details of these ships are being kept secret.

HEAD OF POOL DIES IN REGINA

A. J. MacPhail Passes After an Appendicitis Operation.

BORN IN BRUCE.

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 22 (C.P.)—Operated on two weeks ago for appendicitis and apparently well on the road to recovery, A. J. MacPhail, president of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool since its inception in 1924, died suddenly early yesterday when a blood clot formed in the bloom stream, affecting his heart. He had been in the hospital a little less than three weeks when the end came, and his family had made preparations to receive him home tomorrow for convalescence.

The foregoing brief details were announced by Dr. Hugh MacLean of this city, who had been attending deceased since the operation.

Outside of his activities in connection with the Wheat Pool little publicity came into the life of Mr. MacPhail. A farmer by vocation, he stayed close to the farm all his life, even when officially residing in Regina, and spent much of his time on his property at Ladstock.

Born in Bruce County.

Born 47 years ago in Bruce County, Ontario, Mr. Macphail came West in early boyhood with his parents to Minnedosa, Man., where the family took up a farm.

The late Mr. Macphail first came into prominence in connectioin with farmers' organizations when he was elected as a delegate and later appointed secretary of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association. Active in the early days of organization of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, he was eventually elected its first president on its inception in 1924 a post he held until his death this morning.

He is survived by a sister and a brother in Regina, two brothers residing in Elpha, Sask., his widow, formerly Miss Marion Baird of Regina, and a young son, Kenneth, aged two.

PROVINCES WIN INSURANCE CASE

Privy Council Rules Dominion Legislation Not Properly Framed.

QUEBEC LEADS APPEAL.

LONDON, Oct. 22 (C.P. Cable).—The Provinces of Canada are favored by the decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today, which answered, favorably to the Provinces, all questions submitted to it in a reference as to the validity of certain sections of the Federal Insurance Act.

The dispute was between the Provinces, with Quebec taking the appeal and Ontario being directly interested, and the Dominion Government, as to the question of jurisdiction over insurance.

The Province of Ontario in particular questioned the jurisdiction of the Dominion Government in regard to the licensing of English companies doing business in Ontario.

In the judgment to-day, Lord Dunedin remarked it might be hoped this case would be the last of the series of litigations between the Dominion and the Provinces regarding insurance.

After referring to four cases that had been heard before the Privy Council, Their Lordships' judgment declared the Dominion legislation in question had not been properly framed in regard either to alien immigration, taxation or criminal law, and was invalid.

SWIMS SOLWAY FIRTH

J. B. Humphrey of Preston a few days ago swam the Solway Firth from Scotland to England. He left Newbie, near Annan, Dumfriesshire and landed at Silloth, Cumberland. The distance was 12 miles. He used the breast stroke all the way.

At Airdrie, two men who have been frequently before the court on a charge of lodging with their wives and families in houses in the burgh that have been condemned as unfit for human habitation were again charged with that offence. The magistrate again fined them 10s. each, and said the only way to stop this persistent "squatting" was to take the roofs off the houses.

TAXES FORCE THE SALE OF MOUNTBATTEN HOME

Scene of Social Grandeur May Become Site for Hotel or Flats

BROOK HOUSE, the famous Park-lane home of Lady Louis Mountbatten, is for sale. This means that yet another of the great London mansions will probably disappear to make way for a hotel or flats.

The reason for Lady Louis's decision to sell is the high taxation. The wish was expressed in the will of the late Sir Ernest Cassel, Lady Louis's millionaire grandfather, that Brook House and its contents should never be sold.

It is clear, however, that Sir Ernest did not anticipate such a situation as exists at present, and the will stated expressly that he was not making a binding condition on any of his successors.

Brook House, in Lord Tweedmouth's time, was the rallying place of the Liberal party after its defeat in 1895.

It is filled with art treasures, collected by Sir Ernest, and among the most interesting of its rooms is Lord Louis's bedroom, which is built in imitation of a naval officer's cabin, even to the extent of painting a seascape outside its porthole windows.

Hundreds of thousands of pounds were spent on Brook House after Sir Ernest bought it. Several hundred tons of marble were used to make the grand hall and staircases.

Lady Louis is shortly to join her husband, Lord Louis Mountbatten, who has recently been appointed fleet signal officer with the Queen Elizabeth at Malta. He will be stationed there for two years, and upon her return Lady Louis may live in a London flat.

Spain's Pacifist Leader Is Military Authority

MANUEL AZANA, new president of Spain, is an anti-militarist who is a specialist on the organization, maintenance and operation of armies. First a liberal, then shifting to the more radical groups, he believed that the safest bridge from the monarchy to the republic would be a scientifically built, controllable army. Hence, he became an indefatigable student of military affairs. He wrote books and treatises and compiled mountains of data on this subject.

Senor Azana was a successful lawyer, a man of wide culture and a descendant of a distinguished Spanish family. During the years before the downfall of the monarchy he was president of the Madrid Athenaeum, a liberal debating society, and he himself frequently engaged in its weighty and sometimes dangerous polemics. The monarchy had no love for either the debates or the debaters and, a few weeks before King Alfonso started packing his trunks, Azana slipped underground. He emerged to hand to President Alcala Zamora not only a prospectus for the organization of the Republican government, but a minutely detailed plan for reorganization of the Spanish army.

In his military studies, his obsession had been fewer officers and more and better trained men. As minister of war he reduced the number of officers. His theory is that, in revolutionary epochs, the army is apt to become the tail which wags the dog. He believes this can be corrected by reducing the number of soft berths at the top. He is a daring radical with a capacity for compromise.

Arnold Bennett Story May Yet Prove True

JUST like in a story book come true. . . . It looks as though one more story in a book of adventure will come true—the story which Arnold Bennett wrote in "The Card"—if the prospective Conservative candidate, Mr. Harold K. Hales, wins the fight at Hanley at the next general election.

"H. K." is the original of the "Card." He was a schoolfellow of the great novelist, and the two of them sat together in the same classroom at the Buralem Endowed School.

Denry-the Audacious in "The Card" was "H. K." at the school—the free lance of romance and adventure, who finally won his way to parliament by way of a stiff election fight in the Potteries.

I met "H. K." in his office in Ely-place, off Holborn-circus. "I am the Card," he said gleefully, "and, believe me, I hold the trump card in this election when it comes along."

Imagine a human dynamo—a man of action, of quick-fire anecdote. He has roamed the world since his earliest years, and some of his real-life adventures are to be found in the pages of Arnold Bennett's romance.

Hanley is a Socialist stronghold, and "H. K." has a Labor majority of nearly 12,000 facing him in his fight to win the Potteries town on behalf of tariffs.

"Never mind that," said H.K." determinedly, "I'm going to smash that to atoms." The story of "H. K.'s" romantic life is bound up in a volume of 220 pages called appropriately "Harold's Adventures."

He has travelled America, Canada, Germany, China, Japan and Siam. He rode the first free-wheel bicycle in Staffordshire, and it was he who introduced the "all-black" enamelled machine to the trade.

Two weeks after war broke out "H. K." tried to enlist as a private in the North Staffordshire regiment, but he was forty-six, and the recruiting office turned him down. Time after time he tried to join up, and finally, not to be outdone, he came to London, said he had mislaid his birth certificate, and got into the Royal Naval Armored Car Division, and saw service at the immortal landing at Gallipoli.

"EVEN to-day there are merchant friends who contend that truth is inconsistent with business."

—Mahatma Gandhi

If you want to know the state of a country, look at its politics.—Mr. Lloyd George.

English Girls Rival Russian Ballet Stars

ROMANTIC girls make the best ballet dancers. Most English girls are romantic at heart, and that is why they are among the world's cleverest dancers.

These are the opinions of Mme. Karsavina, who leads the all-English ballet in their dances at the New theatre.

"An English ballet can be as good as any Russian," Mme. Karsavina said.

"Ballet dancing is a career within the reach of many more girls than formerly," she added. "A student is no longer obliged to learn her art abroad. There are good English schools, and a committee of operatic dancers who examine and advise aspirants.

"A strong physique is necessary to stand the strain of hard practice. Every detail, even of what seem unimportant exercises, must be learned.

"As broad an education as possible is essential. Dancing cannot stand alone. It is as necessary to know music, history, and costume as to master the steps.

"Just as all arts help the dancer, so dancing is useful in other phases of life. It helps to give poise and self-assurance in all circumstances."

Girl Fulfils Her Dream Of Grand Opera Fame

A 19-YEAR-OLD girl who three years ago pleaded for a ticket to hear a performance at the Metropolitan Opera House has arrived from Italy with a five-year contract with the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

Her name is Serafina di Leo. Born in Italy, she came to this country several years ago with her parents and four younger brothers and sisters.

Three years ago, overwhelmed by a great passion for opera, but without money to gain admission anywhere, she looked up the name of Giovanni Martinelli, the Metropolitan tenor, in the telephone book, and went to his home.

Mme. Martinelli received the girl and heard her earnest request for a ticket. Serafino told her she hoped some day to sing in opera. Impressed by this determination, Mme. Martinelli called in a pianist and had the girl sing. Her talent was recognized at once.

A few weeks later, through the interest of Mme. Martinelli and a group of patrons, she left here for three years' training in Italy.

Her debut was made last February at La Scala, Milan, when she sang in "Forza del Destino." A representative of the Chicago Civic Opera heard her and offered her the five-year contract.

Three Wee Princesses LadyMay'sBridesmaids

LADY MAY CAMBRIDGE, the queen's niece, will be attended by three princesses as bridesmaids when she marries Captain Henry Abel Smith at Balcombe, Sussex, next month.

It has been definitely arranged that Princess Elizabeth, Princess Ingrid of Sweden, and Princess Sybilla of Saxe-Cobourg-Gotha will be bridesmaids.

Lady May's wedding gown will be of plain cream satin, cut on simple lines, with a fairly full skirt, and a long train.

There will be eight grown-up bridesmaids altogether, the others being Lady Alice Scott, the Hon. Imogen Rhys, Miss Cathleen Alington (daughter of the headmaster of Eton), Miss Wenefryde Taber, Miss Verena Seymour, and Miss Phyllis Seymour Holm.

Other child attendants besides Princess Elizabeth will be Lady Mary Cambridge, Miss Jennifer Bevan, daughter of Lady Barbara Bevan, and Miss Rosemary Fraser, a niece of the bridegroom.

All the twelve bridesmaids will wear silk velvet in Lady May's favorite shade of soft powder blue, which has been specially dyed for the occasion.

The children's dresses will be cut in Early Victorian style, with pointed bodices, ankle-length skirts, and necks cut to a point. They will each have old-fashioned hanging pockets, suspended by ribbons from the dress, and their headdresses will be Julie caps with blue ribbons.

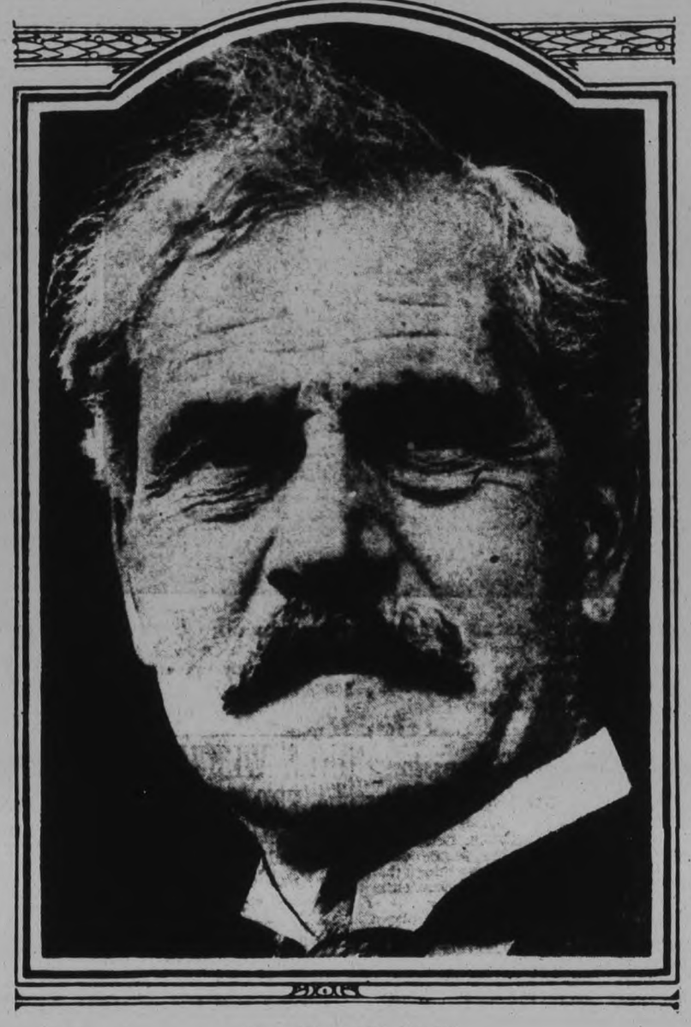
Dresses for the grown-up attendants will have long, very full skirts, with a slight "train" effect, fitting tightly round the hips and flowing outwards at the hem. The long tight sleeves have a puff at the shoulder.

The bridesmaids will wear in their hair bandeaux of twisted velvet to match their dresses, and they will have silver shoes.



James Ramsay MacDonald

BRITAIN'S "IF" MAN

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good or talk too wise;
. . . . . You'll be a man, my son.

—Kipling.

HE was born in low estate; he was educated in humble surroundings; he earned his bread as a stableboy; he arrived in London with less than a half-crown in his pocket; he worked as a postal clerk for fifteen shillings a week; he never went to war; but stayed home to be called traitor and coward and pro-German. He has been cursed and praised, sorrowed and heartened, defeated and victorious.

But he has retained a character unsullied by the harshness of the very people he sought to lead.

Such is the man James Ramsay MacDonald.

Sixty-five years ago this month, in a little two-roomed, thatched-roofed cottage in Lossiemouth, on the shores of the North sea in Scotland, Ramsay MacDonald was born. The loving care of his mother succeeded in sending the child to school until the age of twelve, when circumstances forced him to go to work to support the poverty-stricken family.

But Ramsay had ambition; he worked and studied. He became proficient in science; he read Sir Walter Scott and Henry George's "Progress and Poverty." From these, it is said, came the germ of his socialistic ideals.

Every ambitious young man in Great Britain has a desire to go to London, and Ramsay MacDonald was no exception. His start as a postal clerk only encouraged him to greater things. His early ideals were becoming matured; he listened to Keir Hardie with rapturous attention—Hardie being that great-hearted Scotch miner who was practically founder of the Labor party in England.

He became secretary of the party and later member of parliament. He foresaw that the Labor party in England could only be established by politics, and by no other means. He became leader of the Labor party and a powerful factor in Great Britain's political horizon.

Then came the war.

To stick to his ideals, or do what others did in that time of stress?

Without hesitation, MacDonald chose the way of his ideal. He was a pacifist; he was against war and all that it implied.

He was scorned on all sides. His own friends forsook him, his party broke up. He was called a coward, a traitor to his King and country. The Germans called him a second Daniel. But he did not flinch. A man less strong would have yielded to the flattering offers made him during that period, for despite his reputation he was feared by those in power. He even refused a cabinet post.

It was a tremendous battle for any man to fight. And he fought alone. Previously he had had his wife—a woman of angelic loveliness—at his side. But her death in 1911 left him alone with his family of five children. It is said that Ramsay MacDonald's beautiful black hair turned white almost overnight at the death of his wife.

But the war ended. And Ramsay MacDonald was still uncowed. He fought for his principles and won. In 1924 he and his party were elected to power in England, and James Ramsay MacDonald, once a penniless lad, became potentially the most powerful man in the British empire.

But his battle was not over. He was defeated at the next election and again his fight to build up his scattered party again, to end in success in 1929 when he was elected prime minister for the second time.

And since that time he has remained at his post and pursued the carrying out of his ideals for peace.

Now, in this present period of stress, a period unequalled in the history of the world, with millions roaming the streets, unemployed—some starving, with a serious war threatened in China and Japan, and India further complicating an already strained world situation, he, of his own free will, resigned his leadership to the Labor party, to form a National government, because he thought it in the best interests of his country.

Political suicide, his critics said. His party broke again, and forsook him, leaving him with only a few of his staunch standbys.

And did he quit?

He did not. To-day he is seeking election for the National government; during the day he looks after the weighty affairs of state, and speaks on the platform and over the air at night. He has many times had to stop his campaign to rush back to London on some urgent matter.

Here is a man. A man of iron will, of generous heart, of unfailing principle. He is a man of honor, an orator, a statesman.

Whatever one's political principles, one must warm to Ramsay MacDonald as a man who has given his all to the country of his birth, a man of intense sincerity—an upholder of all that is morally just and upright.

He is, indeed, the fulfilment of all that Kipling's famous poem "If" demands.

Schoolgirl Complexion Is Perfectly Natural

MISS MEGAN LLOYD GEORGE of Mynddednyfed, Wales, steps right into the British government with no make-up. At 29 years of age her schoolgirl complexion has carried her far and, campaigning in Wales, she attacks the ruling British triumvirate without even a dash of powder on her small, upturned nose. Smartly tailored, with no foolishness except a pair of Frenchy looking shoes, she is the foe of cosmetics.

With all this, she had no trouble in rounding up the flapper vote in 1928 and getting herself elected to parliament. Just a mite of a girl, she has looked after Papa Lloyd George for years. He calls her "my counsellor." In parliament she takes the humanitarian drift, concentrating on welfare and social betterment measures.

"THE sins of middle-age are the sins of the mind, the passion for power and possession."

LAUGHING, we read, is very healthful exercise—providing the fellow you are laughing at is quite a bit smaller than you are.

Titled British Girl Buys Valuable Colt

THE Hon. Dorothy Paget, a daughter of Lord Queenborough, created the greatest surprise of the famous Doncaster yearling sales to-day, when a half-brother of the St. Leger winner was bought on her behalf for 6,600 guineas.

The purchase was made on her behalf by another young enthusiast, Mr. Basil Briscoe, who has made such rapid progress as a trainer near Newmarket since he gave up riding as an amateur.

Miss Paget probably prevented Sandwich's compact young relative from going to France, for Mr. Frank Carter, the noted Anglo-French trainer, was the underbidder for this colt by Spion Kop out of Waffles. Mr. Carter had previously this week paid a high price on behalf of Mr. Ernest Esmond.

Miss Paget, who is only twenty-six, blossomed forth in the sporting world a year or two back by running her own fleet of superfast cars and retaining some of the best riders at Brooklands.

It was said at the time that the venture cost her £40,000.

Then she gave it up as suddenly as she had started, and burst into horse racing by buying last December the costly Breadcrumb from Lord Astor. He has, so far, been able to run only once on the flat in Miss Paget's colors.

Senator Recalls Days of Stokehold Trip

RADIO chains have banned Senator Robert F. Wagner's unemployment address from the air, in the interest of co-operation with the administration relief plan, while President Hoover himself has thrown a switch on his relief bills. He carries on.

Senator Wagner, nurtured in the wigwam, is a Tammany leader who draws on Nicholas Murray Butler and the Harvard law school for needed information. His brother, Gus, fished him out of the stokehold when he landed in America from Germany, eight years old. His father was a janitor and the family subsisted for weeks on pickled pig's head. He knows about unemployment.

Bonar Law Portrait Work of Two Artists

THE curtain has fallen on one of the most moving dramas of modern art—the moment when Bonar Law's daughter and two sons stood before a painting of their famous father, which was begun after his death by one artist and completed by another.

It was the first private view of the portrait. Lady Sykes, Mr. H. R. Law, and Mr. Richard Law stepped into the committee room of the Constitutional Club, and there, on an easel, was the picture of their father.

After the death of Bonar Law in 1923, Sir James Guthrie, formerly president of the Royal Scottish Academy and one of the best Scottish artists, was asked to undertake the commission.

He started at once, but had just sketched the outlines on his canvas when he died, aged seventy-one, in his home at Rhu, Dumbartonshire, within a mile of the house where Mrs. Bonar Law was born.

Mr. J. B. Anderson, a Glasgow artist, who had been an intimate friend of Sir James, was asked recently to undertake the unusual task of completing the unfinished portrait.

Sir James Guthrie had frequently recommended Mr. Anderson for commissions which he was unable to undertake himself, and so Mr. Anderson agreed to carry out this last commission for his dead friend.

The Late Bonar Law

He used a fresh canvas, but adopted the pose indicated by the outlines sketched by Sir James, and for the details he used the picture in the statesmen group.

So the portrait was completed. It was also viewed in the Constitutional club by Lord Bayford, chairman of the club, Lord Wargrave, members of the committee, and many M.P.'s.

There is a wonderful expression in those gray-blue eyes, which have in them more of the calm of the philosopher than of the astuteness of the politician. The folded and delicately sketched hands add to this impression.

CHINA'S LONE WOLF NO LOVER OF ENGLISH

Eugene Chen Dared to Seize the British Concession at Hankow

FIERY, agile little Eugene Chen, lone wolf of Chinese politics, is an important "X" in the new equation which may blend the Nanking and Cantonese governments. If he emerges with any considerable degree of power, it will mean a long swing to the left for China. He has been seriously mentioned for foreign minister, the job refused by Dr. Alfred Sze.

Far away and long ago, in the island of Trinidad, Mrs. Bernard Acham, Chinese, ran a little shop. Her son, Eugene, was a prodigy. He romped through the schools and became a lawyer, even then denouncing "British imperialism." On his father's side there was a touch of Latin blood. He married a negress and had four children. One girl, beautiful and a genius, became a dancer and appeared successfully on the London stage. His son became a lawyer.

Eugene Chen learned four languages and acquired the best library in the West Indies. Then he went to China and ran the Peking Gazette. It was he who seized the British concession at Hankow in 1927, the only seizure of British property dared by the Chinese intransigents.

In the West Indies, he was fastidiously tailored in European dress, cultured, facile and assured in western ways. In China, he wears an embroidered robe and has small thimble on the little finger of his right hand, the mark of gentility.

He holds many strands of China's tangled skein of destiny.

To Do His Exploration In Million-Dollar Yacht

MUCH wistful imagining will follow Eldridge Johnson to the South Seas. His new $1,000,000 yacht, second only to J. P. Morgan's Corsair in magnificence, has just been taken to Philadelphia to be readied for its voyage to Easter Island, 2,000 miles off the coast of Chile. There is evidence of a strange, lost civilization there and Mr. Johnson with a scientist, will explore it.

In his earlier days, Mr. Johnson, earning an average of $2.50 a day in his machine shop, made a talking machine which squawked "Telegraph My Baby." He borrowed $5,000 and built a plant. It burned down and he borrowed more money and built another one. "My word, how the money rolls in," sang all the phonographs.

In 1927 he sold control of his talking machine company for $28,175,000. A later exchange of stock shares showed that Mr. Johnson would have received $86,914,396, had he waited a while.

He was not downhearted and has worried along with his handful of millions—buying the original manuscript of "Alice in Wonderland," Rembrandt's portrait of his mother and other famous paintings.

He says he wants one of those fifty-ton images on Easter Island and that he may have to send a freighter for it.

China's War Marshal Is Expert at Poker

MARSHAL CHANG HSUEH-LIANG, an expert poker player, has been for several years the wild deuce in Northern Chinese politics. As the Japanese bomb his Manchuria capital on the Peiping-Mukden railway, the frail, hollow-cheeked young war lord finds destiny whispering in his ear. His counter move may touch off war or peace.

Chang's father, Chang Tso-lin, a retired bandit, was bombed to his ancestors in 1928. Young Chang, now 30 years old, succeeded him as military governor of the province of Fengtien and revealed extraordinary ability and fighting prowess. Late last year he made an alliance with the Nanking government, promising much for the unification of China. Facing responsibility, he began a gallant fight against the drug habit, to which he had all but succumbed. Tommy Lee, athlete and graduate of Columbia, was engaged to play tennis with him and to serve as his companion and mentor on the road back. Long tournaments on the court and hot sessions of poker, bridge and mah-jong got Chang out of the dream mists and kept him out. He and Tommy Lee staged the big poker games with a few adventurers and generals between the two great stuffed Manchurian tigers in Chang's throne room in the palace.

Chang is a born fighter, but never calls a full house on a pair of treys—witness his strong disinclination to take on Japan for a real war.

'Beautiful Not Dumb' Says Author of Women

BEAUTIFUL women are not dumb. Ministers' sons usually don't go wrong. Brilliant persons are not subject to nervous breakdowns.

If you disagree with these assertions you are merely one of the millions who have been deceived by popular fallacies, Albert Edward Wiggam, author, said in an address here.

The belief that gazing at the back of a person's head makes him turn around, that there is such a thing as an undertow in a body of water, and that you can read a man's character by looking into his face were also listed as notions which have no basis in fact. Wiggam said:

"Experiments at Stanford College have shown that the concentrated gaze of a hundred persons on another person has failed to affect that person. The marine department of the United States government has made thousands of experiments to determine if there is such a thing as an undertow. But never has been able to find one.

"There are thousands of men employed by big corporations to judge the character of employees by studying their faces. It has been proved conclusively that a man's character has nothing to do with his face."

Varsity May Lose Arnup For Saturday's Game

TORONTO TEAM NEEDS VICTORY

Clever Little Half-back For Blues Laid Up With Infected Foot.

CONCENTRATE ON PASS.

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—It begins to look as if Varsity has lost Harold Arnup, the clever little halfback, who has been laid up with an infected foot since last Saturday, for this week's game against Western Ontario at Varsity Stadium. With Don Wood out for the season and Arnup an absentee yesterday, Coach Harry Hobbs had Art Snyder working at flying wing for quite a time after the scrimmage against the Orphans.

The Orphans showed a lot of pep in the scrimmage last evening, defeating the Intercollegiate team by 10 to 2, but the result would have been reversed except for a couple of fumbles by Hal Richardson. Early in the clash Richardson dropped a kick behind his own goal line and an Orphan wing fell on the ball for a touch. On the final play of the scrimmage Richardson was away around the Orphan's right end and dropped the ball after being tackled behind the line. The ball rolled out for a touch in goal, but the two bobbles made a difference of nine points.

Both squads gave the forward pass a real test, with the Intercollegiates concentrating on this method of advancing the ball. The Orphans pulled off a pretty forward, which gave them their second touch, the receiver taking the ball between the goal posts. Jack Sinclair was tossing the passes for the Blues and he was shooting short and long ones, with Johnny Keith and Bill Twaites being the most successful receivers. It looks as if the locals plan to loosen up the strong defensive line of Western by frequent use of the forward pass, which will permit the Blues to cross up the opposition with the odd plunge through the line.

PRO FIGHTS HERE FOR THE WINTER

Jack Johnston, Canadian Featherweight Champion, Billed to Give Exhibition.

The combined boxing and wrestling show that was to have been held at the Brock street rink on Saturday night has been postponed to a week from the coming Friday, October 30th, when the same high-class program as announced, will be staged. Jackie Johnston, recognized as Canadian featherweight champion, has asked for another week to get into condition, indicating that he has high respect for Knute Christener's prowess.

It is likely that from the next show on, these affairs will be staged regularly, and the Peterborough Boxing and Wrestling Club matchmaker, Charles Hallat, is kept busy these days signing up celebrities for forthcoming shows.

Indications are that outstanding boxers and wrestlers will display their wares here before another spring rolls around.

BOWLING NOTES

The team captains of the Men's Five Pin City League held a business meeting in the Duffus Bowling Academy last night and decided to stage a banquet in the Downeyflake Tea Rooms on Monday next when more than seventy-five pin spillers will assemble to do justice to the usual splendid spread which E. M. Austin will supply. This banquet is being held instead of the annual trip to the Canadian Bowling Association tourney at Toronto which the winning team in the league were permitted to attend with all expenses paid and it is generally felt among the bowlers that the feed will be much more appropriate as every man comes in for a share. The gang, of course, are the guests of the management of the Duffus Alleys.

Every player who bowled in either the first or second half of the league last season are invited to attend and it is the duty of the team captains to supply Bert Duffus with a list of the names of all those who will be able to be present, not later than Friday night, in order that all the necessary arrangements may be made. The banquet starts at seven o'clock sharp.

Chief Gimblett and Ab Delahaye two of last year's heavy hitters in the City League were seen on the alleys last night enjoying a friendly game, but judging from the scores chalked up, these two are badly afflicted with a pre-season slump. Tom Cupoli, who piloted the Westclox team last season, has been noticed holding several quiet talks with most of the prospective managers for the coming year and the reason for all these mysterious pow-wows is clearly evident now that we know that this bowler has made the statement that this year he is going to perform with the champions.

Red Moncrief, whose nimble fingers has a way of producing so much tuneful melody, showed a few of his boy friends how to tumble the maple last night when he clipped off a single of 263 to start the evening.

General Williams Inspects Policemen

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 22. — Forty Provincial constables and members of the motor traffic patrols gathered in Belleville yesterday and were inspected by Major-Gen. V. A. S. Williams, Commissioner of Police (Provincial) for the Eighth District, which included Bowmanville on the west, Kingston on the east, and north to the furthest boundary. The district is under the direction of Inspector W. H. Lougheed. After the inspection the Commissioner addressed the men privately, and later left for Ottawa to carry out the inspection of that district.

JACKSON'S ARM INJURY IMPROVES

Youthful Leaf Wing Player Discards Sling—Conacher "Raring to Go."

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 22. — Barring injuries, Charles Conacher should enjoy a great season with the Toronto Maple Leafs. The coming campaign will mark his third season in professional company, and according to Trainer "Tim" Daly, he is in better condition than ever. Two pounds over his reporting weight of last season, Conacher is "rarin' to go" this winter. He is the first player out each morning, travels at top speed with a lacrosse stick, can manhandle the entire squad at football and rugger, and is to date the best golfer in town.

The fractured wrist during midseason last winter was a sad blow to Conacher. He was going great guns until forced out for four weeks The "Kid" staged a successful comeback, but the weeks lost spoiled a chance for a record scoring season. "Chuck" is anxious to make up for lost time, and end for all time the scoring argument with Nelson Stewart.

Harvey Jackson surprised the squad this morning in reporting at the breakfast table minus the sling for his injured arm. Special sunray treatments have taken down the swelling and Jackson has been ordered to work the injured arm slowly. The dashing left wing of the "Kid" line should be ready for serious training next week.

No Ball Depression On Pacific Coast

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22. — Baseball in the Pacific Coast League was one thing that wasn't hit by the depression in 1931.

This year the league played to 1,637,595 paid admissions, as against 1,673,123 during 1930. The decrease of 35,528, however, was blamed on the fact that the league played 28 weeks in 1930, as compared with 26 this year.

League officials said if the season had been the same length as the previous year a heavier record probably would have been established for 1931 than for 1930.

TECUMSEHS HOLD WORKOUT ON ICE

Ottawa Asks $4,000 for Services of Eric Pettinger, Former Leaf.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 22.—Twelve hockey players took part in the second practice of candidates for the London Tecumsehs, entrants in the International Professional Hockey League, at the Arena yesterday.

The workouts so far have been made up entirely of plenty of skating, terminated by target practice. Stuart got into his armor yesterday and stood between the goal posts while the boys bounced the rubber off him.

Light training is about all they will be taking part in until next week when the squad is intact. Leo Quenneville, the flying Frenchman, is not expected in until Friday, and then, according to Manager Loughlin, he'll be "rarin' to go." Quenneville doesn't believe much in this preliminary stuff. He's ready for hard work as soon as he dons his skates.

Eric Pettinger, who is the property of Ottawa, arrived here this morning. He was late for the practice with the rest of the squad, but put on a pair of skates and an old sweater for a brief few moments on the ice. Pettinger is a little heavy but, according to him, "that's just what you need." Whether or not Pettinger will be staying with London this year depends on what the directors think about the $4,000 Ottawa is asking for his services.

Skips Are Elected At Lindsay Meeting

LINDSAY, Oct. 22.—Local followers of the roaring game met Tuesday night in the Peel street rink in their annual meeting, for the purpose of electing an executive executive and skips for the coming season. President J. M. McLennan was in the chair, and the meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic in the history of the club, which shows signs of entering a most successful season.

The new executive is made up of the folowing members: Patron, J. Boxall; President, W. J. Carlisle; Vice-President, F. W. Moynes; Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Holling; Treasurer, S. A. Flavelle; Assistant Treasurer, E. Gregory; Secretary, J. M. Knowlson; Assistant Secretary, W. J. McMahon; Managing Committee, officers of club, less the chaplain and Patron, together with F. J. Carew, R. Butler and W. E. Reesor; Tankard skips, F. G. Carew and R. Butler; District Cup skips, J. E. Anderson and A. W. Carew; Represetnatives to O.C.A., R. Butler and W. J. Carlisle.

The German government has decided to proceed slowly in its salary cuts.

U.T.S. WIN EASILY FROM PICKERING

Blue and White Now Alone at Head of Interscholastic Squad.

TORONTO, Oct. 22—University of Toronto Schools gained sole possession of first place in the local Interscholastic Football Union group when they smothered Pickering College by 17 to 0 at Varsity Stadium yesterday. The team from Newmarket, who outweighed their conquerors, tried hard, but in every department of play they had to concede superiority to the Blue and White.

U.T.S. gave a masterful exhibition in plunging and end-running, and failed only in forward passing because the uniforms were so alike in color that it was almost impossible to distinguish foe or friend. Naturally, Pickering were also handicapped, and not one of sixteen passes was completed. The visitors made ten attempts, and were almost successful on several.

CUBS COP EASY SOFTBALL WIN

Decks Take 16-9 Decision from Dominion Woollens in Third Game.

OF LAKEFIELD LEAGUE.

HORSESHOE TOURNEY.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 22.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The Cubs reversed the decision of their first game with the Business Men in the Softball League by defeating them with the lopsided score of 17-3. A feature was Morrison's home run in the second innings. E. Briant and Connors at the plate and B. Blewett at bases handled the game. There was a good crowd of very much interested spectators. The line up was as follows:

Cubs—McCarty, p; Wingett, c; Wanamaker, 1b; Stewart, 2b; Morrison, 3b; Lancaster, rss; White, lss; C. Payne, rf; F. Payne, lf.

Business Men—C. Northey, p; Hamblin, c; Blewett, 1b; Allen, 2b; Charlton, 3b; O'Neill, rss; Loyst, lss; Chittick, rf; V. Payne, lf.

On Friday evening the following is the schedule:

7 p.m.—City Service vs Canucks.

8 p.m.—Selwyn vs Warsaw.

9 p.m.—Bridgenorth vs Cubs.

Horseshoe Tourney.

A horseshoe tournament was held in the Curling Rink on Tuesday night runing simultaneously with the softball games. Eleven teams entered and a real evening's play at this popular sport kept dozens of spectators entertained till nearly midnight when Nicholls and Gravelle of Bridgenorth with nine wins and one loss walked off with first prize. Osborne and Allen, a local team, were tied with Clements and Bedore of Norwood for second place so the tie was played off and the latter team won by a score of 52-29.

The tournament was capably managed by a strong committee of the members of the Canada Cement Athletic Association.

Penetang H.S. Beats Orillia C.I. 13 To 7

PENETANGUISHENE, Oct. 22—Penetang H. S. jumped into the lead in their group of the C.O.S.S.A. series on Tuesday by handing the Orillia C.I. a 13 to 7 defeat.

Penetang displayed the same brand of football against the Orillia huskies as they did when they defeated Midland and Collingwood. With the score 2 to 0 in the first quarter in favor of their opponents they jumped into the lead by scoring a touchdown and led at half time by 5 to 2. In the last half, Orillia jumped into the lead again by scoring a touchdown, making the score 7 to 5. Then Penetang kicked for a point and made the score 7 to 6. In the last quarter Orillia scored another point, while Penetang scored a rouge and a touchdown, making the final score 13 to 7.

Havelock Council to Start at Once on Drainage, Sidewalk Program.

ASKED FOR $10,000.

HAVELOCK, October 22 (Examiner Correspondence) — The Provincial Government having approved of $3,000 expenditure for relief purposes in this village, the local Council start to-day on a drainage and sidewalk program. The village submitted a requisition for aid in an extensive program, whereby $10,000 would be used on local improvements, but like all other Councils they were forced ot cut it down considerably.

The drainage work will be mostly confined to George and Mathison Streets, while sections of sidewalk in different parts of the town will be repaired. Only those who have been resident here for at least six months will be employed, and married men will receive the preference over single men.

The anniversary services held in the United Church here on Sunday were conducted by the Rev. A. E. Moorhouse of St. James' United Church, Peterborough, and were well attended. The church was appropriately decorated for the occasion, by the ladies of the congregation.

The large choir had arranged for special music and rendered two anthems in the morning and a solo by Miss Edith Roberts was sung with much expression. One anthem was sung in the evening, a duet by Mrs. G. W. Chiles and Mrs. Williams, and a solo by Mr. Henry Campney were all deserving of high praise.

The minister was prepared with strong inspirational messages which were delivered with the snap and sincerity characteristic of Mr. Moorhouse, and altogether the event was pronounced a real anniversary occasion. Instead of the annual fowl supper, which usually follows the anniversary services, the ladies decided to canvass the congregation for voluntary offerings.

ARRIVE IN VANCOUVER.

VICTORIA, B.C., October 22 (C. P.). — The steamer President Jefferson, returning Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh from the Orient, arrived here at 3.55 o'clock this morning.

Pointer, a dog, gave chase to five men who broke into a garage at Clapton, England, and brought one of them to the ground.

Montreal Winged Wheelers Is Team To Beat

In Toronto last Saturday, Montreal Winged Wheelers smothered Toronto Argonauts under a 32-10 score and not only put a sad crimp in the Sculler's aspirations for a Big Four title, but sold themselves to 7,500 local fans as the team to topple Hamilton Tigers from the Interprovincial Union Throne. Twice during the afternoon the Montreal forwards either broke through and blocked Turville's punts or Turville punted into his own men. The cut (ABOVE) however, shows in No. 1 the Argo defence holding off Montreal men while Turville got one of his high ones safely away. In the action picture No. 8 is Babarino of Montreal. No. 26 is Stark of Montreal and No. 15 is Jotkus, the sub who turned out to be the wing line star of the game. No. 2 is Warren Stevens, ex-Syracuse University quarter, who turned in such a sensational game for Montreal on Saturday. Stevens lived up to advance notices. His forward passing was a feature of the game, while as a quarterback general and a line plunging or running ball carrier he had no superiors on the field. No. 3 is Bernard Gilmour the Argo outside wing who dove under Tuck Welch, Montreal halfback for the Argos' touchdown. Welch had muffed the ball and Gilmour beat him in the plunge for the rolling ball.

RING VETERANS PLAN COMEBACK

Benny Leonard and Jack Dempsey Attempting to Break Old Adage.

CHANCE FOR LEONARD.

An old adage of the prize ring has it that "they never come back" and no champion has ever done it although most of them have tried. Right now two prominent ringmen and former world's champions are in the throes of a comeback campaign. Benny Leonard, who retired undefeated lightweight champion of the world, has started the long climb back but in a different class, the former Hebrew flash having ate himself into the welterweight division. Jack Dempsey is the other champ who thinks he can do it again.

In the case of Leonard there is a fair chance of his getting somewhere as Benny retired while yet young and unbeatable. His legs are good yet and as he has always kept in perfect shape, he may not find the going so tough. Benny was one of the smartest pugs who ever laced on a glove, and one of the classiest boxers in the ring's history, and his comeback efforts will be watched by fans all over the States and Canada.

Not So Good

Jack Dempsey has started out by upsetting a flock of pushovers on his tour which is supposed to get him in shape and put him up in the contender's class once more. But the old Manassa Mauler is finding the underpinning not so good, his legs having lost the speed and spring that once carried him across the the ring before his opponent could get set. He can still sock or take it, and could give any man in the game to-day a tough three or four rounds, but if they can stay away from him for a while, Jack would fight himself out. That is the opinion of boxing experts generally, although they don't like to come out and say it, thereby injuring the popular former titleholder's chance of a few big purses.

Corbett tried a comeback and nearly succeeded against Jeffries only to slow up in the twentieth round. Big Jeff took a bag licking from Johnson on his try, and old Fitzsimmons found he was too slow when he made his last attempt. Neither Johnson or Willard were any good after a few year's absence, while the same applies all the way down the line in every division of the fight game.

In his prime the scowling Dempsey could have kayoed Max Schmeling, Jack Sharkey and Primo Carnera one after the other on the same night, but he couldn't lick Father Time. Of course, there may be just enough of the old fire in him to take him to the top again, between his wallop and his experience, but it is very doubtful if the man who slaughtered Williard Firpo, Carpentier, and the others, will prove an exception to the rule: "They never come back."

CASUAL COMMENT

The P.C.I. seniors entertain Lindsay here at Stevenson Park Saturday afternoon, and we hope the weather is better than it was the last Saturday. The Petes handed their rivals a sound thumping in Lindsay two weeks ago, and the Scugog crew didn't like it nohow, and are figuring on upsetting the dope by reversing the score. That's their story, if they don't get stuck with it.

The Collegiate Intermediates have their toughest game of the schedule in Bowmanville the same day, as the Rubbery rugby squad is the one to lick for the group title. The way the local second team has been going lately, it's just possible they may grab the win away from home.

* * * * * * *

According to the Oshawa paper, the senior P.C.I. boys are sure adept at forward passing, the Motor City sports writer saying that Oshawa was on the run and in fear and trembling of this aerial attack all through the game last Saturday. The Petes completed no less than thirteen out of fourteen passes, and had he play screened most of the time.

* * * * * * *

And the boys in that town know their rugby, all right. In fact four former Oshawa Collegiate players are playing on the Queen's University Collegiate team this year in competition with players from all over Ontario. One is captain and wing, two are outsides, and the other fellow is quarterback, showing that the class of rugby in Central Ontario is just as high as anywhere else in the province.

All women's sport meets are forbidden in Italy in the future, just in case that interests local girl athletes. The Olympic Committee over there has cancelled an athletic meet scheduled for November 1st on the principle that woman's place is in the home. Only "educational gymnastics" may be indulged in by girls in Italy. What do you know about that?

With Remembrance Day being a public holiday, there will be war veterans' parades and ceremonies in the morning, so the Y.M.C.A. road races will probably have to be staged in the afternoon. The times will be announced within a few days.

The first game of the Public School Football League for the championship takes place at King Edward Park to-morrow evening, with the King George team, winners of Section A, meeting King Edward, who led Section B this year. The second and final game will be held in Nicholls Oval some night next week.

* * * * * * *

Goals count for the title, and last year's champs, King Edward, will put up a mighty battle to retain the Alex. Kay Trophy which they won last year. These two finalists are extra well matched, and being old-time rivals, a swell play-off series should result.

The City 5-Pin Bowling League banquet takes place at seven at the Downyflake next Monday evening, with the Duffus Alleys entertaining about a hundred guests. The feed is put on in place of the annual trip for bowlers to the C.B.A. tourney in Toronto which didn't go through last spring.

Seven big door prizes will be given away to-night at the annual meeting of the C.G.E. Social and Athletic Club at seven-thirty at the Legion Hall. There will be the election of officers and general business in connection with this Association which takes in about a thousand members and embraces every type of sport.

Lacrosse players are asked to be at the Brock at 6.30 this evening for a box lacrosse workout on the sawdust floor, and as there are prospects of a game of the hemmed-in sport with an out-of-town team next week, there should be a good turnout this evening.

The Foster Club boxers are working hard every night now and the way they are showing in the gym., we have no hesitation in saying they should put on the best amateur smoker that has been seen here in years. The show will pry off the lid for the winter here two weeks from to-morrow night at the Brock.

SPORTS BILL ON SATURDAY

Sunday School Groups in City and County Will Be Represented.

UNDER TUXIS RANGERS.

The sports field day sponsored by the Peterborough Boys' Work Board will be held Saturday afternoon at the Exhibition Grounds with most of the Sunday school groups in the city and county represented, the ages ranging from 12 to 18 years. Each participant will be scored individually according to the table for Tuxis and Trail Rangers, with every boy contributing to the group score.

Following are the events for boys 12 to 14: 75 yard dash, 60 yard potato race running high jump running broad jump, 6 pound shot put, and throwing the baseball. Boys 15 to 18: 100 yard dash, 60 yard potato race, running high running broad, 8 pound shot put and throwing baseball. Junior section will start at one o'clock and the older boys at three.

Groups wanting to take part should get in touch with John Hunter at the YMCA this evening, and the information required, is the name of leader, total number of class roll, name, age and weight of each probable contestant.

REPAIRS ARE MADE TO MILLBROOK RINK

Seating Accommodations for One Hundred Persons Added—Two Waiting Rooms.

MILLBROOK, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence). — The improvements which the Cosmos Rink Company is making to its open-air rink property are almost completed, and includes a covered seating space for spectators with accommodation in the three graduated rows of seats for approximately one hundred persons and two waiting-rooms, one for general purposes, and one for ladies, at the east end of the structure, which is seventy feet long, on a cement foundation.

The old building which used to do duty, inadequately for waiting-room purposes, has been torn down, the money received from the street dance in August with George Wade and his Cornhuskers as the chief attraction, making possible the new building and the accompanying improvements.

In previous seasons spectators were obliged to stand and look over the enclosing fence to view hockey matches, carnivals etc., the difficulty of collecting entrance fees being obvious, under such circumstances, as well as the discomfort for onlookers.

This will be corrected this season, and the rink company is to be congratulated on its enterprise in continuing the rink privileges since the undertaking was carried through and the opportunity for open-air skating made an actual fact.

Douglas Sheppard was manager last season; C. B. Sutton, secretary; B. B. Dawson treasurer, and J. T. Deyell, caretaker.

GARWOOD PLANS BOXING BILL

Local Sports Promoter to Put on Show Early Next Month.

WILL BE GOOD PROGRAM.

Several amateur boxing shows are in the offing and fans will have an opportunity, probably within the next two weeks, of seeing all the local boxers in action. Fisticuffs has seen great progress here within the last two years and at the present there are three clubs training boxers many of whom have developed a smart style.

Gord Garwood, who managed the shows in the armouries last year, announces that he will stage a first class amateur show in the Brock street arena early next month. He expects to have his squad of mitt-slingers in fine fettle by that time and they should supply plenty of action.

THEATRES

AT THE REGENT

"ROYAL REMEMBRANCES."

To see a woman riding a bicycle is a unique spectacle; to see 50 women, in unwieldly Victoria attire, riding bicycles, and racing at that, is decidedly amusing, so the audience will think who attend the matinee "Royal Remembrances," at the Regent Theatre on Monday afternoon next, at 4.30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Women's Music Club.

Scenes from the days of Queen Victoria, her funeral, in which were photographed King Edward VII., the Kaiser, identified by his paralyzed right arm, and the Duke of Connaught; the coronation of King Edward in England; his coronation in India, where trains of elephants, bearing Princes to pay tribute to their new monarch, made a dazzling picture; the funeral of King Edward; the coronation of King George, in England and in India; the marriage of Princess Mary; the marriage of the Duke of York; the Prince of Wales immediately after he had received his title in Wales; and numerous other incidents that have been so outstanding in history, were pictured vividly to the eager spectators, when "Royal Remembrances" was shown recently in Toronto, under the auspices of the Local Council of Women.

Grandfather brought grandson and grandmother brought granddaughter to see the picture, taking delight and pride in explaining to the children the incidents which were so vivid in their own memories.

"That's only his body, grandfather?" a little boy of four questioned as he saw the coffin of Edward the Peacemaker taken to its final rest. "And he's in Heaven now?" "Yes," he was told.

This splendid historic production, which is put out by the British Film Corporation, is the first news reel ever taken, and is something every one should make an effort to see.

Young's Point

On Thursday evening Mrs. F. M. Young entertained the Women's Institute and friends at her home for a social evening. After several games of cards and music, Mrs. Young served a dainty lunch to the ladies, which was very much appreciated.

On Thursday evening, Oct. 29, Mrs. Adrian Brooks will entertain the Institute and any others that care to come to her home.

Mr. Cephas Stinson of Peterborough spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Duggan.

Mr. John Harts of Toronto is the guest of Mr. M. Cleary.

Miss Daisy Wilson is visiting friends in Windsor and Detroit.

Messrs. Clarence Lytle and Grove Lavier of Toronto were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Duggan.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil of Toronto are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnston.

Mrs. Winnifred Lytle of Toronto was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Arthur Duggan over the week-end.

WETTEST SEASON IN BRITAIN SINCE 1815

Only Five Summer Days Were All Sunshine

The past summer was among the dreariest of the last 150 years.

Rainfall during August, Britain's holiday month, was 6 1-4 inches, the greatest since measurements were begun in 1815. Three and a half months' rain fell at Boston, Lincolnshire, on one August day.

Only five summer days yielded twelve hours' sunshine, and only the summers of 1860, 1879, 1888, and 1903 were worse than the summer of 1931.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

THE WISE YOUNG BULL.

The reckless boldly have their fling
But wisdom doth discretion bring.
- Old Mother Nature.

Farmer Brown's Boy and Mrs. Bugler were not the only ones who saw the battle on the mountain between Bugler the Elk and his great rival who had not hesitated to answer and accept the challenge to fight. A young bull Elk, full of pride in the largest antlers he had yet grown and in the strength and fine appearance which he believed to be his, had started out to woo a mate. Now, among the Elk folk to woo a mate is usually to fight for her. The young bull knew this, but in his youthful pride and conceit believed that he was quite equal to a successful wooing of this kind.

"I may not be as big as some who are older than I," thought he, "but I am quick, and some of these big fellows are rather slow. Quickness often wins over strength. But I am strong, too. I am not afraid of anybody."

He threshed the bushes with his antlers and snorted and blew as he boasted to himself. And then he heard far in the distance the challenge of Bugler, the great Elk whom Farmer Brown's Boy was watching. The young bull stood still, listening. Again he heard the challenge.

"That is an old fellow," thought he. "He probably has a mate, but perhaps I can win her from him."

He filled his lungs and answered the challenge, but though he did his best, his voice lacked the full clear notes of Bugler. It was more of a squeal and whistle than a bugle-like call. That was because he was still young and not fully developed, although he felt so big and important. Again he heard the challenge, and again he prepared to answer it, but didn't. You see, he had heard it answered from another ridge, and that answer was as full and clear as the challenge. He didn't need to be told that it came from another big fellow. So instead of answering he remained listening.

"That fellow means to fight," thought he. "To judge by his voice he is as big as the other. I'll go over and watch that fight. Perhaps that first one has not yet won his mate, and while they are fighting for her I may be able to steal her away. She ought to prefer a handsome young fellow like me. Anyway, I want to see that fight."

So, moving quietly that none might suspect his presence, he made his way towards the opening in the woods from which that challenge had come. He got there just after the great battle had started, and when he saw the size and strength of the two fighters he suddenly felt small and was glad that it was the other fellow, and not he, who had accepted that challenge. But he did not forget the purpose of his visit and soon discovered Mrs. Bugler watching the fight with eyes that gleamed with excitement. He stole around near her and did his best to attract her attention, but she would not give him so much as a glance. Her attention was wholly on the raging battle.

"Perhaps," thought he, "the winner will be so used up that he cannot fight more, and then I can drive him away and she will come with me." So he turned his attention to the fight.

When at last the fight ended and he saw the defeated one leave hurriedly, he turned his attention to Bugler. Now was his chance before the latter could rest and regain his strength. He took a step forward, then stopped. Bugler was standing with head proudly thrown high, his sides heaving, his nose flecked with foam, but his eyes still blazing with the lust of battle. Seen alone that way he seemed bigger than ever.

The young bull was not without wisdom. Born of it was discretion. For a moment he looked on, then turned and sneaked noiselessly away, and he hurried. His pride was hurt. He no longer felt big and important. He was not a coward; he was merely wise. He had no chance to win in a fight with Bugler and he knew it. He had nothing to gain and much to lose. To fight unless forced to against hopeless odds is the height of foolishness.

WARSAW.

The dance given in the Town Hall on Friday evening was very successful in spite of unfavorable weather conditions. Rock Burns and his Hawaiian and Old-Time Orchestra supplied excellent music.

Miss Anna McMurray motored to Toronto on Sunday, where she will remain for several weeks.

Local winners at the International Plowing Match were Alex Carlow, Allan and Robert Leahy, Trevor Watts, Ed. Kennedy and William Hayes.

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 22nd is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 a.m. to 11:55 a.m., from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger hours are from noon to 2 p.m., and from 5:30 p.m. to 8:10 p.m.

October 22nd, speaking astrologically, will be the most propitious day of all the week. More by good luck than by management or foresight, business will prosper. The home will be free from contentions and misunderstandings. Marriages on this date will turn out extraordinarily well. Love affairs will go smoothly ahead.

A child born on this October 22nd will be winsome, kind-hearted, and affectionate—but secretive. It will be a loyal friend. Its intelligence will be marked, and its life will be a success, unmarred by jealousy or malice. It will possess a charming personality and always be on the level.

You, if born on October 22nd, have a very versatile nature. You are interested in many things and capable of doing several things well. You do not believe in putting all your eggs in one basket. You have clear judgment and careful discrimination. You take a real joy in life, and are not content to merely exist. You are a fighter and if things do not come your way you, by your will power and indefatigable energy, make them do so. Your mind is a keen one and you are a great reader—and a quick one.

In your horoscope, extensive travel is denoted, and it will only be later in life that you will prize the comforts and tranquillity of home life. You are fond of luxury, but can do without it, and never miss it when the occasion arises. Your emotions are very strong, and you give free expression to them, regardless of convention and in spite of appearances.

You are a hard worker, and possess exceptional concentrative powers. You can switch your concentration, however, from one subject to another with great facility. The one weakness in your make-up is your trustfulness. You should learn to love all whilst trusting a few.

FACTORY FARM HEAVILY SCORED

Destroys Individual Farm Family Says Farm Bureau President.

NOT ON 8 HOUR DAY.

CHICAGO, Ills., Oct. 22 (C.P.).—President Edward A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation, to-day told the annual convention of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers that agriculture in the United States was not adopted to the eight-hour day and factory whistle.

Protesting against development of corporate farms, tilling huge tracts through use of mechanical power, the farm bureau said such factory basis farming tended to the destruction of the "individual farm family."

A system of co-operative endeavor embracing the machinery makers and the farmers was suggested by Mr. O'Neal as an alternative.

"I believe," he said, "that a plan can be developed for pooling the intelligence, man power, credit resources and possibly the actual acreage which will make possible all the economies to be derived from farming large units by using the most efficient mechanical power without destroying the farm home."

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE NO. 10 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

A mountain rill furnished von Harben pure, cold water to quench his thirst, and he carried his pistol cocked, hoping that he might bag some small game to satisfy his hunger. Nor had he gone far before a hare broke cover, and as it rolled over to the crack of his pistol, von Harben gave thanks that had devoted much time to perfecting himself in the use of small arms.

On the spot he built a fire and grilled the hare, after which he lit his pipe and lay at ease while he smoked and planned. His was not a temperament to be depressed or discouraged by seeming reverses, and he was determined not to be hurried by excitement, but to conserve his strength at all times during the strenuous days that he felt must lie ahead of him.

That night from below there came the noises of the jungle subdued by distance—the yapping of jackals and faintly from afar the roaring of a lion. Toward morning he was awakened by the scream of a leopard, not from the jungle far below, but somewhere upon the mountain slopes near by. He knew that this savage night prowler constituted a real menace.

Sane and phlegmatic as he was, von Harben forgot the menace of beasts or death from starvation in his eagerness to go on. At last he scaled the final barrier and stood upon the crest of the first ridge. Before him stretched a rolling plateau, dotted with stunted wind-swept trees, and in the distance lay the next ridge. Within him surged the eager thrill of discovery.

TENDERS.

TENDERS, addressed to The Peterborough City Trust, will be received up to Noon on October 28th next, for Repainting all the Wood and Iron Work on the outside of the Fire Hall heretofore painted; and for the Cleaning Off and Revarnishing all Woodwork heretofore varnished. LOCAL IMPROVEMENT NOTICE.

TAKE NOTICE THAT:

1.—The Council of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough intends to construct as a Local Improvement a Cement Sidewalk on the North side of Lansdowne Street from Park Street to a point 1,140 feet Westerly, and intends to assess a part of the cost upon the land abutting directly on the work.

2.—The estimated cost of the work is $1,725.00, of which $753.00 is to be paid by the Corporation. The estimated cost per foot frontage is $0.90. The special assessment is to be paid in Twenty Annual Instalments.

3.—A petition to the said Council will not avail to prevent its construction, but a petition against the work or the manner in which it has been undertaken, may be made pursuant to Section 8 of The Local Improvement Act, to the Railway and Municipal Board, by a majority of the owners representing at least one-half of the value of the Lots which are to be specially assessed therefor.

4.—A By-law undertaking the work will be considered by the Council at a Meeting thereof to be held on the 7th Day of December, 1931, at 7.30 o'clock p.m., or at a Regular or Special Meeting thereof to be held thereafter.

Dated October 22nd, 1931

S. R. ARMSTRONG,
Clerk.

Weddings

McCARRELL—WIDDIS.
A very pretty wedding was quietly solemnized yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the United Church in Bobcaygeon, when the Rev. G. W. Gardner performed the marriage ceremony for Iva Pearl Widdis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Widdis of Victoria Road, and Harry McCarrell, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben McCarrell, of Emily township.
Miss Margaret Widdis was her sister's bridesmaid and Richard Sutherland, of Kirkfield, acted as groomsman.
Immediately after the ceremony, the wedding party motored to the bride's home, where supper was served. They left for a motor honeymoon, to reside on their return at the bridegroom's home in Emily.

McCORMACK — O'LEARY
A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at nine o'clock on Monday at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, when Kathleen, eldest daughter of Mrs. O'Leary and the late John O'Leary, became the bride of James McCormack, son of Mrs. McCormack and the late Jerry McCormack. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dean O'Sullivan.
The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother John O'Leary, wore a lovely gown of poudre blue satin, with matching hat, blue moire slippers and long white kid gloves. She carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses.
The bridesmaid, Miss A. O'Leary, sister of the bride, was in green georgette with matching hat and slippers and bouquet of Butterfly roses and carnations.
Lex McCormack acted as best man for his brother.
The wedding music was played by Miss Lenna Hummell and Miss Stella Brady sang several times during the progress of the Nuptial Mass.
After the ceremony, a dainty wedding repast was served at the home of the bride. Included among the guests was the Rev. Dean O'Sullivan and the Rev. C. Begley.
The bride and bridegroom left later for a trip to points west, the former travelling in a navy blue tailored suit trimmed with cinnamon fox fur. She wore a black felt hat and matching accessories.
On their return, Mr. and Mrs. McCormack will reside on Hunter street west.

Obituary

THOMAS J. MOORE.
The funeral of the late Thomas J. Moore will be held at three o'clock Saturday afternoon from his home at 340 Reid street to Little Lake cemetery, with the Reverend David Wren officiating.

MRS. L. E. KILLORAN
The funeral of the late Mrs. L. E. Killoran left the family residence at 499 Albert street at 8.45 a.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 20th and proceeded to the Sacred Heart church at 9 a.m. Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father J. J. O'Brien, assisted by Rev. Father Maloney and Rev. Father Masterson. Rev. Father Galvin of Downeville delivered the funeral oration and spoke very eloquently on the efficacy of leading a Christian life and the resulting happy death of the deceased. He also spoke of the active part she had taken in the charitable and religious activities of the community and of the love and respect in which she was held by all those with whom she came in contact.
The funeral procession left the Sacred Heart church and proceeded to the Catholic Cemetery at Hastings, where interment took place in the family plot with Rev. Father Kelly officiating at the last rites. Five sons of the deceased and her nephew acted as pallbearers.

EDWARD LESLIE.
A very impressive funeral service, with military honors, took place this morning at Belleghem's Funeral Home when the remains of Edward Leslie, who died in Nicholls Hospital Tuesday as the result of an accident, was taken to his last resting place in Warsaw cemetery. Twenty-five of the deceased boy's fellow members of the 4th Battery, Canadian Artillery, took part in the services and the funeral, with Lieut.-Col. D. J. Lawrie representing the Artillery Brigade. Many of his friends attended and numerous floral tributes testified to the esteem in which he was held.
Members of the 4th Battery were pall-bearers, and the Reverend E. R. James of St. John's Anglican church, officiated. The funeral started at nine o'clock and a long cortege of cars followed to the cemetery. The Last Post was sounded at the grave.

Prisoner Makes Escape From Police Car

YOUTH ESCAPES AT STOP STREET LATER CAPTURED

Fergus Mongraw Was to be Sentenced for Theft of a Car.

IN BACK SEAT.

Captured in Ashburnham By Sergeant Thomas and P. C. Puffer.

Escaping from the police car which was bearing him to the police station where he was to be sentenced on a charge of car stealing, Fergus Mongraw, local youth of 18, eluded pursuing police for more than five hours today.

Mongraw made his break for freedom at the corner of Hunter and Water streets at 9:15 this morning. Running through the business district, closely pursued by Constable Jack Thompson, the youth outraced the burly constable, and was able to keep out of the hands of police, who combed the city for him, until 2:40 this afternoon when he was captured in the outskirts of Ashburnham.

Caught In Chicken Pen

Sergeant Art Thomas and Constable Gordon Puffer made the capture, Mongraw was in among a pen of fowl on the Hubbs' farm on Armour road, just below the Westclox plant, when recaptured. He was holding a large goose, apparently with the intention of killing it, as the two officers entered the pen.

Covered by a revolver, Mongraw, submitted peacefully to arrest. Handcuffed, he was taken to the police station where he was later charged before Magistrate Langley with breaking from police custody. He pleaded guilty.

Mongraw appeared tired and worn from his mad attempt to flee justice. He had had no food and his clothes were muddy and dirty from clambering over fences and hiding in sheds and outbuildings.

Police learned about noon that the fugitive was in Ashburnham and capture followed after a thorough search along the canal bank.

With Mongraw in the back seat of the car when he made his break were three other prisoners. Two constables, Puffer and Thompson were in the front, the former having his attention engaged in operating the vahicle.

With Mongraw in the back seat of the car were three other prisoners. Two constables, Puffer and Thompson, were in the front, the former having his attention engaged in operating the vehicle.

Lights Against Car

As the car swung down Water street the signal lights at Hunter street turned red on traffic moving north and south. Constable Puffer brought the police car to a stop for the red lights. It was then that Mongraw made his break.

Flinging open the door on the right side, he leaped out. He almost tripped in taking his first stride, but steadying himself he gained the sidewalk. Running like a sprinter, he headed West on Hunter street toward George street.

Constable Thompson jumped from from the front seat before the escaping prisoner had taken five steps. He took up the pursuit.

Others Taken To Station.

The other prisoners in the car did not follow Mongraw's example, although with Thompson away they had a great opportunity. Hastily, Constable Puffer drove them to the Police Station and locked them up.

Reporting the escape to Sergeant Thomas, Puffer, with other constables, took up the hunt.

Mongraw raced west on Hunter Street to Chambers Street, and then up Chambers Street, Constable Thompson following closely. Wheeling around the corner of one of the buildings, the prisoner fled down a laneway.

When Thompson gained the laneway, Mongraw was nowhere in sight. Reinforced by other constables, the search among the low sheds and buildings that cluster the Chambers Street neighborhood continued.

For several minutes, Mongraw hid in a shed behind H. Dunford's garage. The hunt becoming too hot for him there, he made another break.

Egg-Laying Bluff Is Over for Hens

OAKLAND, Calif., October 23 (C.P.). — A contraption on display at an inventors' congress here will, if its designers are correct, cause a hen to tell whether she has laid an egg.

It is a trap nest with double exit. If she enters and does not lay an egg, the hen must go out through the exit leading to a pen set aside for non-layers.

If the egg is forthcoming, the second exit opens and allows her to depart to a pen for the laying hens.

CAR HITS TRUCK WORKMAN DIES 6 OTHERS HURT

Ottawa Driver Piles Into Repair Gang in Preference to Approaching Car.

NEAR WATERTON.

Aged Lady May Die of Injuries—Inquest to be Opened.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Oct. 25 (C.P.)—One was fatally hurt and six were injured, five of them slightly, when a car driven by Harvey Pulford, Ottawa, former well-known athlete, struck a parked truck half a mile west of Waterton in Escott Township on King's Highway No. 2, at four o'clock yesterday afternoon. James Craig, of Lyn, employed with a road repair crew working near the truck, died in the General Hospital at 7.15 o'clock this morning, after having sustained fractures of both legs and internal injuries. Mrs. M. E. Pulford of Ottawa, in her 82nd year, mother of Harvey Pulford, is in the same hospital with a fractured femur, while both Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pulford sustained superficial injuries.

Other members of the road gang hurt were: Robert Hodge, Mallorytown, slight head injuries; Samuel Nowlan, Mallorytown, injuries to the foot; and Robert Latham, Mallorytown, bruises. After having received treatment at the hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Pulford were able to leave that institution, the latter returning to her home in Ottawa. Mrs. Pulford Sr., is considered to be seriously injured, and, in view of her advanced age, may not recover.

On Way Home

The Pulford party had motored to Kingston for the day and were returning to Ottawa by way of Jonestown when, on rounding a slight curve near Watertown, according to the story told by Mr. Pulford, he perceived a large truck parked beside the road and another car approaching from the east at a speed of from 40 to 45 miles per hour. Pulford declares that he was travelling at not more than 30 miles per hour and immediately had to choose between striking the car or the truck. He chose the latter course. A road repair crew in charge of D. S. Clow, Mallorytown, was at work in rear of the truck, four of them being injured and Craig so gravely that his life was despaired of after he had been admitted to the hospital for treatment.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ADJUSTMENT TO 'NEW WORLDLINESS' REQUIRED

Baptist Convention is in Its Final Day of Conferences.

REPORTS ENCOURAGING.

An adjustment of the church to what was termed the "new worldliness", was pointed out as one of the religious objectives that must be kept in mind, in the report of the special committee on the State of Religion presented at the Baptist Convention at this morning's session by Professor P.G. Gilmour, Hamilton.

The report stated that the "old worldliness" which had often been identified with certain amusements, had been dealt with fairly faithfully if not always wisely. The "new worldliness" was evidenced by men's interest in social problems in the regulation of population and marriage, in child welfare and the rehabilitation of the poor and underprivileged.

The final day of the convention opened promptly with a devotional period under the leadership of the Rev. Gordon M. Holmes. Lindsay, his subject being, "The Holy Spirit and Christian Service." The Holy Spirit is God's great agency to serve men with the Gospel. The Holy Spirit is present in the world to serve men's highest interests. He seeks men and women through whom to bless the world. Only those yielded to Him can render acceptable service. Christian service in the Holy Spirit would exhibit loyalty to Christ, pursue the program of Christ, manifest the

Cowboy Loses Argument Over 15 Cents As Officer Shoots Him Through Heart

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 23.—A cowboy who went taxi riding lost his life early today in an argument with a policeman over a 15c cab bill.

Owen Crosby of Carlsbad, N.M., resented Patrolman John Quigley's order to pay the bill. He struck the policeman across the face with a riding crop. Quigley tapped him on the head with his nightstick and two more cowboys ran out of a nearby restaurant and rallied to Crosby's aid.

The policeman drew his gun and fired once, striking Crosby in the heart.

Joe Rock, 31, of Fort Worth, Tex., appearing with Crosby at a rodeo in Madison Square Garden was held by police for questioning.

WORLDLY THINGS LACK THE PEACE THAT MEN SEEK

Rev. G. A. Leichliter, of Toronto, Discusses External Values at Kiwanis Lunch.

SUGGESTIVE THEME.

Dr. Ray Scott Pays $4.35 for a Canadian Silk Tie.

"Always Something Lacking" was the provocative subject of an address by Rev. G. A. Leichliter of College Street Baptist church at to-day's luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel. Rev. Mr. Leichliter is a delegate to the Ontario and Quebec Baptist convention here this week.

In our actual experiences these days we are all discovering that something is lacking, Rev. Mr. Leichliter said.

"We should like to shake ourselves loose from it, and to be out in the open with the old equipment, the old supplies, and going somewhere. In respect to things possessed there is always something lacking. For example, how much money must we have until we don't want any more. Is it the things we have that satisfy us? Do the things we possess give us that satisfaction and content which we know as peace?"

Rev. Mr. Leichliter posed his question in respect to the number of persons we may know and the number of places we visit. How many persons must we know until we don't wish to know any more? In developing this theme he cited instances of each of these experiences, indicating their lack and failure to give us that serenity which we seek, but which is not built upon possessions, human contacts and the ephemeral attraction of new places. Is among the things that a human and temporal we find expression of the eternal, in love, friendship and service, in which we catch a consciousness of God that binds us to our fellow, prompting us to make his task ours and sending us back to share in the world's difficulties. There is one place, regardless of denominational expressions, in which nothing is lacking. And it was not surprising, Rev. Mr. Leichliter remarked, that many of the books that are coming from the presses to-day treat God as a reality.

In that one source where nothing was lacking men would find the courage to take the burdens and difficulties of life and to go forward unafraid. "Once a man reaches God's side of him, then you have a life for which you will neither be ashamed nor afraid."

John I. Allen presided at the luncheon, and received from Charlie Saunders of Richard Hall, Limited, three silk ties, and those first to be made ... Canada. Mr. Allan presented one of them to Rev. Mr. Leichliter, another to Rev. Dr. Huntley of Hamilton, who was also a guest, and the third which was knocked down to Dr. Ray Scott for $4.35.

John I. Marshall, representing the Chamber of Commerce, reported that the week-end air pageant would be confined to Saturday afternoon's program so as to avoid a Sunday afternoon demonstration and its conflict with the Lords Day Act.

500 Tons Holly Coming From B.C.

VICTORIA, B.C., October 23 (C.P.). — Five hundred tons of holly, mostly from Vancouver Island points, and several times that weight of Christmas trees will be shipped out of the Province to Eastern Canada and points in the United States during the next six weeks. Yesterday with its seasonable touch of cold brought sharp reminders of arrangements for the festive season, the commercial end of which annually brings a tidy volume of business to producers in British Columbia.

ENGINEERS HEAR BELL OFFICIALS

Trans-Atlantic Telephone Communication Sketched to Engineers.

TRANS-CANADA ROUTE.

Comparatively recent advancements in the speed and efficiency of long distance telephonic communication were sketched by H. A. Wilson and H. H. P. Johnston of the Bell Telephone Company at last night's meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada in the Paragon Tea rooms. A reel of motion pictures graphically traced the course of a transatlantic telephone call from Montreal to Plymouth, England, and suggested to the audience of technicians something of the engineering problem involved in the transmission of the electric impulses by radio from one continent to the other.

A. B. Gates was chairman of the meeting. As a parenthesis to the main subject, which was supplementarily discussed by Mr. Johnston and Mr. Wilson, it was stated that the Peterborough office of the Bell Telephone Company handled 165,000 long distance toll calls last year. Two of them were hooked up with Europe, one from Peterborough to an hotel in Paris and the other from London to Lakefield.

The present course of transatlantic communication by telephone as shown in the motion picture followed the wires from Montreal to New York and thence also by wire to the radio transmitting station at Rocky Point, L.I. There it was transferred to the ether, and was picked up by the receiving station at Cupar in Scotland, whose aerials are three miles long. By wire it was sent to London, and finally reached its destination at an imaginary business house in Plymouth.

The return route is from London to Rugby, the site of one of the world's great radio stations with a tower higher than any building in New York and huge generators which increase the electric energy carrying the original message from London one billion fold, sputter it into the air, and on the cisatlantic coast it is received at Houlton, Maine, and carried by wire 600 miles to New York. Ministers Approve Of Chamber's Action

Approving the action of the Chamber of Commerce and officials of the air pageant in cancelling the aviation demonstration scheduled for Sunday afternoon, the Ministerial Association to-day in an announcement urges all citizens to give air pageant their solid support and attend the big meet Saturday afternoon in overwhelming numbers.

JAPAN IS READY TO MOVE TROOPS IN TIME LIMIT

Be Out in Three Weeks if Anti-agitation Ceases Outside Railway Zone.

DEPENDS ON GUARANTEE.

Move is Regarded as Important Concession in League Circles.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Dr. Alfred Sze, China's representative on the League of Nations Council, informed his colleagues this evening that his government accepts the draft resolution presented yesterday by Aristide Briand as a basis for restoring peace in Manchuria.

TOKYO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese delegate to the League of Nations council at Geneva, was instructed by the Government today to inform the council that Japan will do her best to complete withdrawal of troops from outside the railway zone in Manchuria within three weeks if China agrees to cease alleged anti-Japagitation there.

It was emphasized here, however, that although Japan is conditionally prepared to make a concession over the question of withdrawal of troops in Manchuria to within the railway zone it would be impossible to give a definite promise that the evacuation would be completed by November 16, when the council next meets.

Up To China

The progress of the withdrawal it was pointed out would necessarily be dependent upon China's willingness and ability to guarantee and maintain peace and order after the withdrawal.

It was also emphasized that these instructions to Ambassador Yoshizawa do not represent a new formula but are merely a further concession to the first of three formulas drafted by Sir Eric Drummond of Great Britain.

These instructions, however, which it was hoped would reach Geneva in time for today's council session were looked upon here as an important concession on Japan's part because she hitherto refused to consider any question of a time limit.

SENATOR CURRY TAKEN BY DEATH

Passing Creates Third Vacancy in Upper House—Second for Nova Scotia.

LIBERALS IN MAJORITY.

AMHERST, N.S., Oct. 23 (C.P.).—Hon. Nathaniel Curry, a member of the Canadian Senate since 1912, died at his summer residence, at Tidnish, N.S., this morning. He was eighty years old.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 23 (C.P.)—The death of Hon Nathaniel Curry to-day creates the third vacancy in the Upper Chamber, and incidentally the second for Nova Scotia. Hon. E. M. Farrell, Liverpool, N.S., died shortly after the prorogation of the last session of Parliament, and a successor, who will probably be Dr. J. A. Macdonald, former Conservative member for Richmond-West, Cape Breton, remains to be chosen. The third vacancy is in Quebec Province owing to the death several months ago of Hon. G. G. Foster, Montreal.

While Liberals now have a majority of one in the Upper House, appointments to the three vacancies, likely to take place before Parliament again opens, will give the Conservative forces a majority of two.

The party standing in the Senate is now:

Liberals	47
Conservatives	46
Vacancies	3

Stiff Sentences Are Handed Out To Moonshiners

Sammy Hill and Hector Weaver Are Each Sentenced to Six Months in the Reformatory and Fined $500 — Failure to Pay Means Extra Six Months.

YANKEE SMITH, FOURTH MEMBER UNDER ARREST, SENTENCED TO ONE MONTH IN GAOL AND $200

Conviction of All Four is Result of Work of Detective Sergeant Zaneth of the R.C.MP., Who Outwitted Men in Their Carefully Concealed Stills.

In an attempt to effectually clip the wings of the main operators of the moonshine ring which has been manufacturing and selling swamp whiskey extensively throughout the northern part of Peterborough and Victoria Counties, Magistrate Langley this morning handed out stiff sentences in heavy fines and imprisonment to four men who came before him for breaches of the Excise Act.

Bruce Freeburn, of Bobcaygeon, master mind of the moonshine trade, was sentenced to ten months in the Ontario Reformatory and ordered to pay a fine of $1,500. In default of payment of the fine he will serve an additional ten months in the reformatory.

Twice previously Freeburn has been before the local court on charges of operating stills, but this is the first time he has been convicted.

Gets Six Months

His 17-year-old nephew, Sammy Hill, who had been found in company with Freeburn at a still in Harvey township, was sentenced to six months in the reformatory with a fine of $500. Failure to pay the fine will bring him an additional term of six months.

The youth has spent two terms in Burwash for similar offences last year. "Don't let this man make a monkey out of you again," said the magistrate in advising Hill not to be led back into the moonshine business by Freeburn.

Charged as a second offender under the Excise Act, Hector Weaver, of Burleigh Falls, was fined $500 and sentenced to six months in the reformatory. An additional six months will result on his failure to pay the fine.

In 1928, Weaver had been found guilty of operating a still.

Changes His Plea

Pleading that he had not understood the charge of selling illicit spirits to which he had pleaded guilty on Monday, Clarence Weaver, a brother, was allowed to change his plea to not guilty. He was remanded until Thursday for trial.

Thomas "Yankee" Smith, the other member of the quartet, who had entered guilty pleas to operating a still and selling moonshine, was sentenced to one month in the county goal and to pay a fine of $200 on each charge. Default of payment of the fine will bring him an additional term in the reformatory of six months. Both sentences are to run concurrently.

The conviction of all four is the result of the work of Detective Sergeant Zaneth, of the R.C.M.P. who outwitted the men in their carefully concealed moonshine dealings in the north.

"Nigger" Young was remanded on a charge of selling illicit spirits. The remand was granted on the ground that an important Crown witness is in hospital and could not attend court.

LESLIE'S DEATH IS FOUND DUE TO OWN NEGLIGENCE

Inquest is Held Into Death of 16 Year Old Tank Boy.

16 WITNESSES.

None Were Able to Describe How the Accident Really Happened.

His own carelessness in arranging his seat on top of the water tank wagon, which he was driving, caused Edward Leslie to fall from the wagon and roll to his death beneath its heavy front wheel, the coroner's jury, inquiring last night into the circumstances of the fatal accident to the 16-year-old boy, found in returning a verdict of accidental death.

The jury's verdict reads:

"That from the evidence submitted, Edward Leslie came to his death by falling off a water tank in front of the wheels, the left front wheel passing over his body causing injury which proved fatal in a few hours. This accident happened on October 20, 1931, on the farm of Mr. George Howden in the Township of Smith, County of Peterborough. There is no evidence that anyone is to blame except the deceased who arranged his own seat on the tank and who was warned by a fellow workman that it looked dangerous."

16 Witnesses

None of the sixteen witnesses called to testify before Coroner Dr. T. W. H. Young could describe how the accident really occurred, although several offered theories which all had to do with the rolling

GORDON DEFENDS KING'S ADDRESS

Liberal Leader's Hands Were Tied During Beauharnois Investigation.

QUESTION NOT STUDIED.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 25 (C.P.).—Speaking before the Women's Liberal Association here yesterday, Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., who was once Minister of Immigration in the Dominion Liberal Government, pointed out that Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, Dominion Liberal leader, lacked the power to force a judicial enquiry into the source and disposal of party funds. Mr. Gordon was discussing the statement of Harry Sifton last Tuesday, criticizing the remarks of Mr. King on the Beauharnois matter, at the Liberal convention in London, Ont.

Did Not Study Matter.

"When Mr. Sifton says he listened with disappointment to the remarks of the Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King in his explanation of the Beauharnois matter, I may submit to you he has not given the matter sufficient study," said Mr. Gordon.

Mr. Gordon said no better enunciation of Liberal principles could be given than those set forth in Mr. Sifton's statement, but declared Mr. Sifton had not appreciated the difficulties of leaders of a party out of power. Mr. King's hands were tied, he said.

60 YEARS EACH FOR KIDNAPPERS

Mulatto Girl Implicated in Holding of Wall Street Broker is Freed.

RANSOM WAS $50,000.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 26—Four men convicted of kidnapping Charles M. Rosenthal, youthful Wall Street broker for $50,000 ransom, were sentenced to-day to terms of sixty years each in prison.

A Mulatto girl, known as Betty Green, was tried with the kidnappers, but was acquitted by the jury which found the four men guilty. The girl acknowledged that she brought Rosenthal into the hands of the kidnappers, but insisted that she had no knowledge of the reason why they wanted him.

The kidnappers are: Marcus Blumenthal, alias Jack Markham, New York; Alberta Sileo, alias John Rocco; Theodore Adanolfi, alias Harry King, the latter two both from Newark, N.J., and Nicholas Rutigliano, manager of a local hotel.

REBELS IN CONTROL OF CYPRUS AFTER ROUTING POLICE FORCES, BURNING HOME OF GOVERNOR

Break is Climax of Resentment at Imposition of Traiffs Council Had Rejected.

ASK UNION WITH GREECE.

Foreign Women and Children Rushed to Ships as Danger Spreads.

LARNACA, Island of Cyprus, October 23 (C.P.). — The military and naval forces of Great Britain are hastening today to quell a revolt in Cyprus, ancient Mediterranean island over which Alexander the Great squabbled with an Egyptian Ptolemy, and where St. Paul, St. Mark, and St. Barnabas preached early Christianity.

For more than a day most of the island has been in control of revolters who are demanding union with Greece, which aided Cyprus in the struggle against Alexander 2,000-odd years ago.

The revolt developed after weeks of growing resentment against a British Imperial order imposing tariffs which the Cyprian Legislative Council had rejected.

Late last night a group of revolutionists stopped motor trucks carrying rations for British soldiers at Limasol, the ancient town where Richard the Lion-hearted married Berengaria of Navarre in 1191. The drivers of the trucks were forced to abandon them. The mob then overpowered the police and attacked and burned the District Commissioner's house.

Council Resigns.

On Wednesday night, when the rioting began, several members of the Council, after addressing a large meeting at Nicosia, led a group of revolters to Government House to present their resignations and demand union wih Greece.

They rushed the guard and stoned the building, breaking windows and tiles. Six automobiles, including the cars of the Governor and the police, were burned, and finally the Government House itself was set on fire and burned to the ground.

Several policemen were injured in the melee. Their comrades fired into the crowd and 10 or 12 persons were wounded.

Meanwhile the revolt spread to every town and village on the island. Detachments of Royal Welsh Fusiliers were ordered out. At Famagusta they stood guard while women and children were taken out to ships in the harbor.

At Paphos, where mythology says Aphrodite, th Goddess of Love, was born of sea foam, mobs roamed through the streets.

Troops Rushed By Sea, Air

CAIRO, Egypt., Oct. 23. (AP)—Sea and air transportation were in use to-day carrying British forces to Cyprus to put down the revolt there.

Two cruisers the London and the Shropshire, and two destroyers, the Achates and the Acasta with more than 1,400 men and officers, were on their way from Crete.

Soldiers were landed on the island by airplanes and a company of the King's Rifles was sent to Port Said to proceed to Cyprus by trawler.

The dispatch of war vessels and troops followed appeals from the Cyprian Government for assistance.

BOWMANVILLE MAN WINS CAR

R. D. Whitmee Draws Lucky Ticket Number 3442 at Pontypool Carnival.

IS HUGE SUCCESS.

PONTYPOOL, Oct. 23—The street fair last night featured one of the largest events known in the history of Pontypool. Young and old alike enjoyed the bingo, wheels of fortune and other games of skill and chance which afforded amusement during the evening.

At 10.30 p.m. the tickets on the car were placed in a large churn and the lucky ticket was drawn. Number 3442 won the car which went to R. O. Whitmee of Bowmanville.

Following this the draw was made for the lucky ticket on a chair donated by Morris Bros., Bowmanville and was won by Mrs. William Webb, Pontypool. A pair of trousers donated by The Porter Tailors, Toronto went to Mr. Strong of Lotus.

Bert Johnston helped greatly in making the evening a success by a demonstration given on the Hotel platform and their music on the street and at the dance was enjoyed by all. The amazed crowd also stood by as Mr. Johnston drove blindfolded through the crowd at 45 miles per hour.

In building its $1,700,00 aqeduct water system, Ravena, Italy, laid 65 miles of cast iron pipe and used 9,170 tons of lead to close the pipe joints.

College Freshmen Scorn Marriages

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 23.—Weddings are going to be scarce in the future insofar as college girls are concerned. A questionnaire answered by 750 freshmen entering a local college revealed only one who had intentions of marrying following her graduation.

The balance declared they prefer earning their own living. Many expect to start working while in college. Professions most popular with the freshmen seemed to be, according to their answers, general tutoring, piano and violin teaching, clerical work, drama writing saleswomen and journalism.

Questions as to selected home occupations, only 15 students favored household arts, which include cooking, sewing, knitting and the care of children.

The favorite major subject listed was French.

TO-DAY MAY BE JUDGMENT DAY FOR AL CAPONE

Racketeering Overlord Presents Himself Before Judge for Sentence.

MANY AXES HANGING.

Prosecutors Busy Seeking Ways of Halting Further Dodges by Gangster.

CHICAGO, Ills., Oct. 23. (CP)—To-day may be judgment day for Al Capone convicted tax dodger.

The reputed overlord of racketeering, bootlegging, and gambling presents himself before Judge James H. Wilkerson to hear the penalty pronounced for his evasion of the income taxes. And he does so with a veritable battery of axes hanging over his head.

As his attorneys jockey for an arrest of judgment and stay of sentence while he appeals to a higher court, there will be many things to consider.

17 Years Maximum

For one thing, Capone was convicted on three felony counts, carrying a maximum of five years in the penitentiary and $10,000 fine each, and two misdemeanor counts, each carrying a year in jail and $10,000. Maximum possible sentence, therefore, is seventeen years and $50,000.

For another Capone faces the possibility that he may be prosecuted with his bodyguard, Phil D'Andrea, who toted a pistol into Federal Court Oct. 10. D'Andrea has been cited for contempt. The case, after various continuances, comes up next Tuesday. Yesterday when Judge Wilkerson saw D'Andrea before him he asked: "Is there evidence that the defendant Capone had knowledge of D'Andrea being armed?"

Federal prosecutors have been busy the past week searching through law books for precedents to stay the arguments of Capone's counsel for a stay of sentence, an arrest of judgment, or a new trial. But even if prosecutors win every tilt, Capone may delay entering prison as much as two years by appealing.

Another Threat

Nevertheless, there hangs over his head a six months term pronounced for contempt of court of the federal court because he dodged a federal grand jury subpoena on a false affidavit. That conviction soon will be reviewed by the circuit court of appeals.

And, too, he faces trial on charges of conspiracy of having violated the Prohibition Act 5 000 separate times.

The government, throughout prosecution for the income tax evasions, carefully guarded its prohibition violation allegations. It can call the liquor charges up on five day's notice.

HUNGER STRIKE DECLARED

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 23 (A.P.)—A hunger strike has been declared here by 104 teachers, men and women, who have been without jobs for more than two months. The teachers struck two months ago, demanding back payment of salaries, and they were dropped off the payrolls.

Pontiff Inaugurates Telephoto System

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 23.—(C. P.)—Pope Pius XI will inauguratae a radio telephoto service from the Vatican broadcasting station at 1 p.m., tomorrow when a picture of himself and a group of church officials will be transmitted to Paris.

Telephoto tests have been conducted at the station for some time, but on this occasion the picture will taken and developed while the Pontiff waits to see it transmitted and to receive an acknowledgment of its receipt from Cardinal Verdier at Paris.

Huge Cartoons Feature Campaign

STRIKING POSTER IN BRITISH ELECTIONS

This is one of the posters issued by the Conservative central office in connection with the opening of the British election campaign. It is interesting to know that the poster was originally sloganized as a straight Conservative poster but this was blotted out to make way for the National policy. John Bull, as the cartoon portrays, "bails out" safely from the Socialist craft.

RE-ELECT PROF. McCRIMMON HEAD OF BAPTIST CONVENTION

OFFICER RE-ELECTED.

Greater Need For Temperance Education is Stressed.

Despite his reluctance to accept the responsibilities of the presidential chair for another term Professor A. L. McCrimmon was yesterday afternoon unanimously returned to office by the delegates in attendance at the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec.

The vice-presidents and secretary were likewise re-elected to office. On the motion of Rev. Dr. George T. Webb the office of secretary-treasurer which was formerly been combined was split, and R. D. Warren was elected as treasurer. It was felt that the combined duties of secretary-treasurer had grown to such proportions as to render the task too onerous for one man to undertake.

Officers 1931-32 Convention.

The officers of the convention for 1931-32 was elected yesterday afternoon stand as follows:

President—Professor A. L. McCrimmon, Hamilton.

Vice-presidents — Rev. J. A. Johnston, B.A., London; Rev. W. B. Merrill, B.A., Toronto.

Secretary—Rev. C. E. McLeod, Toronto.

Treasurer—R. D. Warren.

The nomination of Professor McCrimmon for re-election to office was made by the Rev. J. A. Johnston, who referred in eulogistic terms to the president's statemanship along denominational lines, and his remarkable qualities of leadership. The nomination was greeted with a fervent outburst of applause, and the re-election was made by a unanimous standing vote.

The Rev. M. C. MacLean of St. Catharines presented the report of the ordination committee at the afternoon session following the opening devotional address by the Rev W. T. Stevens, B.A., Toronto, on "The Holy Spirit and the New Birth." Mr. MacLean moved the adoption of the report. It was seconded by the Rev. H. McDiarmid, Toronto, and was adopted after considerable discussion.

The Rev. B. W. Merrill, Toronto, presented and moved the adoption of the report on the Board of Religious Education in the absence of the chairman, Harry L. Stark. The adoption of the report was seconded by the Rev. George McLean.

Cigarette Battle Is Waged By Co-eds

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 23.—Northwestern University co-eds who desire to smoke in their sorority ..houses apparently won't be permitted to do so. The Women's Quadrangle Association denied the request of a petition for smoking rooms, signed by a majority of the co-eds.

It was stipulated that the request would be reconsidered if all fifteen sororities, by unanimous action of their boards made a demand for smoking rooms. The girl students pointed out, however, that this was impossible because two of the houses are denied smoking rights by national sorority rules.

QUEEN'S NIECE WEDS SATURDAY

Wedding of Lady Cambridge and Capt. Smith Most Important of Season.

FOUR-YEAR ROMANCE.

BACOMBE, England, Oct. 23 (A.P.)—This little southern English town was ironing out its best bib and pinafore to-day in preparation for becoming the centre of the stage of British society tomorrow, when Lady May Cambridge, 25-year-old niece of Queen Mary, will be married in the old church here to Captain Abel Smith, of the Royal Horse Guards.

The wedding will be one of the most important of England's 1931 season. It will be quiet, but Royalty will lend it atmosphere.

The romance of the blue-eyed, blonde daughter of the Earl of Athlone, only brother of Queen Mary, and the tall, 32-year-old captain, who is a member of a wealthy English banking family, began in South Africa four years ago. Captain Smith was aide to the Earl when the latter was Governor General there.

Met on Hunting Trip

Lady May went to South Africa on a hunting trip in 1927 and met Captain Smith there. She and her uncle, with Princess Alice, her cousin, daughter of the Earl, camped in uninhabited country near the margin of Lake Estoba, far from civilization. Lady May did most of the cooking.

She found a diamond during her stay in Africa. While she and her mother were touring the famous Lightenburg diggings in West Transvaal, the rough stone, weighing 4½ carats, was seen gleaming from a pile of gravel.

False reports that Lady May was to be engaged were circulated several years ago. One of them said she would marry the Prince of Wales, but it was quickly discredited. Another predicted her engagement to the Duke of York.

Twelve little choir boys and girls have been rehearsing special music for the wedding for some time.

Most of the Lady May's trousseau was made in a convent and a great deal of the work was done by crippled girl workers. Her wedding gown is of simple design, with much beautiful handwork.

The Prince of Wales again is taking up cycling.

Outlook Is Bright For Moose Factory

COCHRANE, Ont., Oct. 23 (C.P.)—Returning to Cochrane last night after a short visit to Moose Factory on the shores of James Bay, Premier George S. Henry expressed unbounded faith and optimism in the future of the north at an informal gathering given in his honor by the Mayor and residents of this northern centre.

Commenting on his trip to the northern seaport, the Ontario Premier expressed the belief that there was a bright future in store for the territory between Cochrane and Moose Factory.

After spending the night here, Premier Henry and his party will leave for Timmins some time today.

Chifon handkerchiefs, tied to the waist and long enough to reach almost to the ground promise to be an evening-dress fashion in London this winter.

FAIERS IS GIVEN TERM IN JAIL

Leonard Tobin is Also Found Guilty of Having Liquor in Illegal Place.

PLEADS GUILTY.

Leonard Tobin has discovered that it doesn't always pay to act the role of Good Samaritan.

Tobin strode jauntily into police court yesterday afternoon to help a friend by giving testimony. Now he will either pay $100 into the court or spend the next three months in jail.

And, sadder still, Tobin's sacrifice failed to save his friend from a term of two months.

The friend was Harry Faiers, of North Monaghan, on trial on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Eight cases of liquor had been found by Provincial Police beneath the flooring of Faiers' chicken house.

Tobin swore before Magistrate Langley that it was his beer and that he had placed it beneath the chicken house unknown to Faiers. He was Faiers' one and only witness.

Stepping from the court room, Tobin was taken in charge by Provincial Constable Silvester. Wheeled back before the magistrate, he was charged with having liquor in an illegal place.

"Guilty," he said.

"One hundred dollars fine or three months," replied the magistrate.

Carrying the scene out to its finale, Magistrate Langley found Faiers guilty on his charge and sentenced him to two months.

WHOOPEE TRIPS ARE GIVEN RAP

Use of British Liners for Trips "Nowhere" From New York Protested.

BREAK COASTWISE LAWS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 23. (CP) Hitting at the use of the British ocean liners for "nowhere" or "whoopee" cruises from local ports, Captain John F. Milliken, secretary of the Neptune Association, has written to Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon protesting the continuance of the trips, which are sponsored by the International Mercantile Marine Company.

He said the vessels violated the coastwise laws because they did not call or stop at any foreign port before returning to New York. He also believes it is a violation of the prohibition amendment as the vessels bring liquor into the port for beverage purposes.

The Red Star liner Belgenland and Homeric made such cruises Columbus Day, and the White Star liner Majestic went out yesterday on such a trip.

The Wonders of The World

THE TEMPLE OF DIANA

Ranked among the Seven Wonders of the World and acknowledged by several writers to be first on the list, The Temple of Diana at Ephesus was said by the traveller Pausanias to have surpassed every structure ever raised by human hands.

For several centuries the building disappeared from view and all trace was lost of it. It was only in 1869 that an Englishman, J. T. Wood, on behalf of the British Museum after a search of six years, found an inscription in a wall marking the boundary of the sacred precinct around the temple. The precinct proved to be of enormous extent, and it was only after a search of several months that Wood struck a marble pavement which proved to belong to the Temple. Excavations were continued until 1874, by which time a number of fragments of architecture were in the hands of the British Museum.

It was very obvious that the greater part of these fragments of masonry belonged to the last temple, built in the time of Alexander the Great, at which time Greek art was at its highest point; but some fragments were more primitive and were said to be of the preceding temple, that built by King Crossus.

Excavations carried out in 1904 and 1905 revealed no less than three earlier temples, one on top of another. The ground on which the foundations were laid is very marshy and it is probable that through the years its own weight forced the temple down into the morass.

An assortment of over three thousand objects of very early style of art was found in the foundation, where it had evidently been placed as a "foundation deposit."

Tradition has it that a small tree shrine first stood on the site of the Temple and that a stone building was erected around it in the seventh century, B.C.

It is not known for certain whether this was a temple or just a platform and altar. When this was destroyed in 660 B.C. by Cimmerian barbarians from Europe, the temple was hurriedly re-built, the masonry which was found during excavations being of a very inferior character.

This was replaced later on by a third temple, built of limestone and having a porch of two columns facing west. The marsh ground of the river delta gave some trouble as the foundations were constantly sinking in the mud. All three of the earlier temples are now permanently under water level. When excavation was being carried on, steam pumps were employed to pump the water out of the hole.

At the height of its power and wealth, the City of Ephesus decided to rebuild the temple. Neighboring states sent contributions of money and building materials. The temple was rebuilt sometime during the reign of Croesus, King of Lydia, who was in power between 560 B.C., and 546 B.C. Croesus donated the supporting columns.

This magnificent temple was built of white marble and covered four times the area of any of the preceding temples that had stood on its site. It was surrounded by Ionic columns with a portico of eight columns at each end. At the base of each column was a band of sculpture, a rarity in Greek architecture. This temple was burned down by a man whose object was to make his name immortal, Herostratus, in 356 B.C.

Reconstruction on even a greater scale was undertaken, and even the ladies of the court sold their jewels to raise money. Other kings in emulation of Croesus donated columns. The new temple, finished about 323 B.C., was reported to have been 425 feet long, with 127 columns sixty feet in height, thirty six of them sculptured. The restored temple stood for some centuries, growing wealthier both in reputation and in money with each year.

Despite numerous small earthquakes and fires it was not until A.D., 260, when it was plundered and burned by Goths that the temple needed any extensive repairs. It is doubtful if it ever was restored after this. Later a church was built over it, but this was destroyed by a change in the course of the river which covered the remains of the temple, obliterating all trace of it, until 50 years ago.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

ONE MAJORITY FOR DEMOCRATS

Outnumber Republicans in House for First Time in 13 Years

5 ELECTIONS UNDER WAY.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 23 — (C.P.). — The Democrats for the first time in thirteen years to-day outnumbered the Republicans in the House.

The death yesterday of Representative Fletcher Hale of New Hampshire, a Republican, left the line-up of the House as follows:

Democrats, 214; Republicans, 213; Farmer Laborite, 1; vacancies, 7.

Not since November, 1918, when Woodrow Wilson appealed dramatically to the country for a return of a Democratic Congress and saw a Republican majority elected, have the Democrats been in the ascendancy, even temporarily.

The present line-up, however, will not last until Congress convenes in December.

Five special elections have already been set for November 3 to fill vacancies caused by death.

Alleged Bail Jumper Is Captured In Barn

COBOURG, Oct. 23 — Gordon Londsberry of Fenella, who left a note pinned to a fence stating his bones would be found in the quarry, and disappeared last week while under bail, was re-arrested by Constables Carey and McBrien. The two officers visited the farm of Frank Chapman, near Colborne, and hid themselves in the barn. Londsberry, it is alleged, had previously been heard to say "he would not be taken alive." When he entered the barn Carey got between him and the door and Londsberry gave up. He appeared before Magistrate Floyd on four charges of theft and was remanded in custody until Oct. 29.

Navy Man Suffered

Had Terrific Backaches. Says Dr. Williams' Pink Pills (tonic) did the trick.

"Not a Pain or Ache Since."

"During the war," writes Albert E. Fletcher, now of R. R. No. 1, Burford, Ontario, "I was in the navy doing heavy duty and sleeping in a hammock. Sometimes my back troubled me very much . . . A good friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which I did. . . . I became completely well, and I have not had a pain or ache since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain iron and other elements which increase the amount of haemoglobin, or oxygen-carrying agent in the blood. That is the secret of the benefits which result from this famous remedy.

If you suffer from indigestion, anaemia, nervousness, backache or rheumatism, get a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. 50 cents a package at any druggist's. Be sure to say "Dr. Williams' ". 133

LLOYD GEORGE BITTERLY RAPS CAUSE OF GOV'T

Claims Record of Baldwin-MacDonald Does Not Justify Return to Power.

MERELY A TORY RAMP.

Points to Controversy Between Chamberlain and Snowden on Tariffs.

CHURT, Surrey, October 22 (C.P. Cable). — Rt. Hon. David Lloyd-George, veteran Liberal Leader, in a strongly-worded speech to-day declared there was nothing in the past record of the members of the National Government to justify the electors in returning them to power in the general elections of next Tuesday.

Mr. Lloyd-George, chafing at his inability to make a public speech because of ill-health, specially prepared the speech which was released to-day. It is being placed on phonograph records for country-wide distribution.

He declared the Government had no set plans for stabilization but that the election was merely a Tory "ramp."

"Is there anything in the past record of the members of the Coalition Government to justify a free hand being given to them for another five years," Mr. Lloyd-George asked. "In the seven years of the Baldwin and MacDonald administrations no impression has been made on the grave problems of unemployment and trade depression. What do they intend to do now?

The Doctor's Mandate

"Prime Minister MacDonald simply asks for a 'doctor's mandate.' If the doctors in charge of the case have taken seven years between them, and utterly failed to effect an improvement, would you give the same doctors a free hand to do what they like with the poor fellow for another five years?

"The Coalition Government was formed for the sole purpose of saving the pound. Parliament and the nation gave them a free hand. Instead of working out measures for the appointed task they started a pure party ramp to manoeuvre a general election. The first result was the pound collapsed. Its purchasing power to-day is 20 per cent less than when the coalition was formed.

"They are not even agreed as to a free hand. Witness, for example, the strange controversy between Mr. Snowden and Mr. Chamberlain. Mr. Snowden in a broadcast said the Government could not in the next Parliament impose a general tariff without another appeal to the country. Mr. Chamberlain promptly challenged this statement.

"The question for the electors is not which of them is right, but which will be in the best position to enforce his views after the election. Mr. Snowden is retiring, and even if he were not he has only a handful of followers to support his views. Mr. Chamberlain on the other hand will have the whole of the Tory machine behind him.

SERVICE HELD AT ALDERVILLE

Rev. L. S. Throop, B.A., B.D., of Demorestville, P.E.I., Addresses Large Congregations.

ANNUAL FOWL SUPPER.

ALDERVILLE, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence) — We would see Jesus, St. John 12, 20 to 24 verses, was the text chosen by the Rev. L. S. Throop, B.A. B.D., of Demorestville, Prince Edward County, for sermon at the harvest home service at the Alderville Indian Church on Sunday night.

The church was beautifully decorated with grain, fruit, flowers, vegetables, autumn leaves and a huge puff-ball was a curiosity for many. The windows had branches of the maple in various colors, while streamers of apples decorated the choir alcove. Very artistically were the letters of "Harvest Home" in large size made with the maple leaves and hung near the pulpit. The entire interior sent forth a spirit of Thanksgiving and gratitude toward God, Who gave us the bountiful harvest.

In Rev. Throop's address he dealt first of all with Jesus' attitude toward the past. Then His attitude toward war, slums and humanity in general. Last of all he spoke of Jesus' attitude toward pleasure — Man's question should always be, "What would Jesus do?"

Finally the speaker commented upon the attitude our Lord would take toward present day conditions, employment, extreme wealth, poverty, profiteering. Rev. Mr. Throop also made reference to the noble work of Kagawa, the Japanese exponent of Christianity. In every way the speaker gave a very helpful and practical sermons which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The appropriate harvest hymns made up the musical part of the service, including two anthems rendered by the choir and a solo "Abide with Me," by Mr. Ted Cusworth.

Fowl Supper

Alderville Church held a very successful fowl supper in connection with its anniversary on Tuesday evening. Judging by the fine attendance, when the ladies of Alderville catered again to the appetites for chicken, the venture is on where the hard work entailed is forgotten in the knowledge of the attendant success. The revenue exceeded upwards to fifty dollars, and nothing but unstinted praise could be heard regarding the bill of fare. Supper was served in the Council Chamber from six o'clock until eight-thirty.

After the supper an excellent program was given in the church, with the following numbers: selection by Alderville choir, with Mrs. Ernest Crowe at the organ; instrumental music by Alderville Orchestra; solo by Mr. Ted Cusworth of Camborne; duet by Marjorie Marsden and Lorne Simpson; instrumental trio by Camborne friends, Messrs. Shaw, Ford and Cusworth; duet by Mrs. Edgar Marsden and Mrs. Chester Beaver; monologue by Mr. Cusworth; selection by Alderville Orchestra; vocal duet by Gordon Blaker and John Loukes; a chorus, "The Cat came back" given by four boys brought down the house with laughter and they cheerfully responded with an encore; duet by Olive Lake and Charlotte Marsden; comic song by Mr. Shaw of Camborne and responded to his encore; instrumental trio by Camborne friends; violin solo by Albert Crowe; selection by Alderville choir; selection by Alderville Orchestra; duet by Olive Lake and Charlotte Marsden; monologue by Mr. Cusworth; selection by Alderville Orchestra; duet, Mrs. Black at organ and Borden Crowe with saxaphone; vocal solo, Mr. Cusworth; comic song by Mr. Shaw; an instrumental solo worthy of special mention was given by Francis Beaver when he played on an ordinary handsaw using the bow of a violin and sent forth sweet music that amazed the crowd.

The Alderville Indians are talented with music and song that one is never disappointed in hearing a real good concert.

Keene

On Friday evening the ladies of St. John's Church, Keene, held their annual card party. Quite a large number played cards in the first part of the evening and others came in later to enjoy the dance. Music was furnished by the Keene boys' orchestra. The prize winners in the card games were Miss Annie Bolin and William Chapman, while the lucky number prize fell to Harold Wilson. Mrs. James Foley and Michael O'Keefe were the committee in charge of the entertainment.

Mrs. Barnes of Millbrook has been with her brother, Michael Kennealley for a week.

Miss Mable McCarthy came up from Marmora, and Miss Peggy and Master Owen McCarthy came from Millbrook for the card party.

Miss Eliza Doris and her niece, Miss Margaret Hurley of Peterborough, were in town on Friday night.

Miss Amy Bull of Peterborough, visited Miss Agnes Cameron over the week-end.

Born — In St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on Saturday, October 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davis, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mollison, Jr., Mrs. Mollison, Sr., and Janet, passed through the village last week, en route to Belleville. They spent one night with Mr. and Mrs. John Renwick.

The W.M.S. of Keene United Church held their Thankoffering meeting on Sunday night. The speaker for the evening was Mrs. J. C. Griffith, a returned missionary from Honan, China.

ANNIVERSARY AT BURNBRAE

Rev. C. K. Nicoll of Trenton Speaks in St. Andrew's Church.

SPLENDID ADDRESS.

BURNBRAE, Oct. 22 (Examiner Correspondence).—The 91st anniversary of historic St. Andrew's, Burnbrae, was celebrated on Sunday, October 18, when Rev. C. K. Nicoll of Trenton, Moderator of Kingston Presbytery, addressed large audiences at both morning and evening sessions. In the evening especially was the church crowded to capacity. At the morning service Mr. Nicoll took as his sermon theme the famous words of Jesus to his host at the feast, "I have somewhat to say unto thee." He stressed the point that Jesus invariably has something to say to everyone and upon every subject. No one can deny the very personal application of this text.

At the evening service, he preached a very eloquent and inspiring sermon, taking as his topic "The King's Highway." Mr. Nicoll has the happy faculty of putting much into few words and a short space of time, and his audiences were greatly pleased with his messages.

The service of song under the leadership of Mrs. G. V. Taylor was an inspiration to the occasion. The choir rendered a special anthem at each service, and in the morning Mrs. Charles Milne of Campbellford, a former choir leader at Burnbrae, rendered a beautiful soprano solo. A quintette, Miss Fern Wetherall, Mrs. G. V. Taylor, Mrs. G. Craighead, Messrs. George Donald and G. V. Taylor, delighted the audience.

In the evening, a male quartette, Messrs. G. V. Taylor, Malcolm Hutcheon, George Donald and George Fry gave a pleasing number. Miss Wetherall also made a fine impression with her solo. Miss Wetherall is a young singer and musician of parts from whom much is expected in the course of time, as she is showing more than usual ability in the musical field. The choir was ably assisted by Messrs. Alex. McDonald and James Dickson of Campbellford.

The occasion was also the seventh anniversary of the induction of the minister of the congregation, Rev. D. A. McKenzie. In his enforced absence, Mr. Nicoll read a communication thanking the congregation for the fine spirit they had shown in the years past and looking forward to greater work in the future.

Seymour West W.I. To Stage Programs

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 23. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Fostering the oratorical contests in the township the Seymour West Woman's Institute will co-operate with the Schools of Seymour township by staging a series of programs to be held in different schools of the district.

The object of this arrangement is to assist all the children in oratory and to lessen the difficulty in choosing the two pupils who will speak at the Seymour finals at Campbellford on the evening of October 29. Programs will be put on at these gatherings including a play entitled "A Love of a Bonnet" choruses by the institute and songs and recitations through which the speaches will be interspersed.

These meetings will be held at the following places and dates: Trent River Friday, October 23; West's, Monday, October 26; Fleming's Tuesday, October 27; Connonlly's Wednesday, October 28.

LESLIE'S DEATH

of the pieces of wood which the boy had placed under his seat, an automobile cushion, atop the wagon.

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., conducted the investigation which lasted for an hour.

It was in descending a slight hill in the field that the accident took place, lending further strength to the common theory that the logs rolled, causing the seat to fall from the wagon and throwing the boy beneath the wheel.

Provincial Constable Silvester said that the field in which the accident happened was sloping. The boy was on the water tank, being seated on some cedar posts with a motor car seat as a cushion. As the tank, drawn by a team of horses, descended the slope, the boy fell off. One of the wheels ran over him.

Dr. Herbert Young and Dr. Raymore Scott, who performed the autopsy on the boy's body, together stated that death was due to a large rupture of the liver.

George Howden, owner of the farm at which the accident occurred, said that Edward Leslie was working with the threshing outfit. In the hospital the boy had indicated that the wheels had run over his stomach.

Ernest Scott, owner of the threshing mill, said that the boy was employed to keep the tank wagon full of water and look after fire wood. As a rule, witness said, Leslie had the automobile seat at the front of the tank. There was a place there prepared specially for it. Leslie was driving the team himself. The firewood was piled on the top of the tank.

Wood Moved Forward

Right after the accident the boy had told witness that the wood had moved forward knocking him off and the wheels had rolled over him. Witness said that the boy was a good teamster and one of the most reliable boys who had ever been employed by him.

Robert Scott, who also has a partnership in the mill, offered the theory that the boy had automobile seat placed on top of wood and as the wagon came down the grade the wood rolled, throwing him off.

Cephus Heard said that when he came upon the scene of the accident the automobile seat and five sticks of wood were on the ground. The injured boy was sitting up between the wheels. Knute Christenson gave the same evidence.

Charles Bullick said that he had seen the wood on the tank wagon before the boy drove away. The wood was placed in a row from the front with the automobile seat on top. Witness said he warned the boy that the wood might roll and throw him off. Witness said there was plenty of room on the tank wagon for the wood without placing it under the seat.

William Clinton said that he was first to reach the injured boy. The boy told him that the wheel ran over him.

Others called but who could give no evidence concerning details of the accident were Caleb Milne, Archie Bulmer, Albert Bulmer and James Howden.

If Your Ears Ring With Head Noises

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 oz. of Parmint (double strength) and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Trent River

The oratorical contest for R. W. Umphrey's classes will be held Friday night at the school house. The preliminary contest for Seymour township will be held on October 29th at Campbellford high school, cups being donated by W. A. Fraser, M.P., members of the council and the Seymour West Woman's Institute.

REMEMBRANCE DAY.

An Ottawa dispatch states that Remembrance Day should be observed as a public holiday just as Labor Day, Dominion Day and other holidays designated by statute. When the Dominion Parliament established Remembrance Day as a holiday separate from Thanksgiving Day, it was the full intention of the legislators that the distinct holiday was to be observed. At that moment the entire country approved of the new holiday.

But now when the first observance approaches, we find this idea of paying proper tribute to the country's heroes losing favor. Businessmen declare that they cannot afford to lose another day's revenue. In other words, Remembrance Day is a wonderful thing, but business comes first.

Such a situation should not exist. Canadians in favor of observing the day must without delay make known their attitude. A trifling sacrifice of business as a tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice will harm no one. Practical patriotism means sacrifice. Hence the first Remembrance Day in Canadian history must be observed generally as a public holiday.—Kitchener Daily Record.

SENSIBLE ADVICE.

Public opinion will be solidly behind Sir Henry Drayton, head of the Liquor Control Board, in his warning, "Don't buy a permit unless you can afford it."

Under present conditions there are a good many people who cannot afford to spend money on such an expensive luxury as liquor, and the Control Board is perfectly right in issuing instructions to the vendors in all its shops that "liquor must not be sold when the financial standing of the purchaser is such that the sales must be followed by a diminution of the comforts of life in the family."

When it comes to a matter of men who have to depend upon unemployment relief work for what income they receive buying liquor permits, the Liquor Control Board is justified in doing everything possible to check the practice, and municipal authorities would do well to back up this action by requiring all persons who apply for work under the relief scheme to turn in their permits.

Certainly the men who are dependent upon what work can be furnished them at the expense of the municipality and of the Government, or rather at the expense of the public, must have other and more sensible use for their money than to throw it away for alcoholic beverages, and until they are self-supporting they cannot reasonably quarrel with the authorities for insisting that liquor permits shall be surrendered.

THE EXAMINER RELIEF FUND.

It has come to the attention of The Examiner that the statement has been made by several citizens that The Examiner Relief Fund is being administered chiefly for the benefit of one section of the community; in other words, that distribution of relief from the fund raised and administered by this paper is merely a matter of religion.

Nothing could be further from the truth.

From the inception of the fund, there has only been one thing considered when relief was being furnished, and that was the need of the applicant.

The Examiner has not paid the slightest attention to the race or creed of those who stood in need of assistance; it has mattered nothing to us what the nationality or religion of any particular person might be; all that counted was that he or she required a helping hand and that there was something The Examiner's fund could do to make the battle against want a little easier.

Why anybody should circulate such irresponsible statements is a matter for amazement, for never has assistance been given with less strings to it than in the case of this fund, which The Examiner is glad to know has helped hundreds of Peterborough people of different religions and nationalities but alike in their need.

CANADA'S FRUIT PRODUCTION.

While it is generally realized that fruit growing makes a notable contribution to the national wealth of Canada, a report just issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in collaboration with the fruit branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture throws fresh light upon this feature of Canadian production.

The total value of commercial fruit production in Canada during 1930, according to these figures, was $17,689,835, a reduction from the 1929 total, which was $19,591,240.

Quebec leads the Dominion in the value of fruit produced with a total of $8,020,765, while British Columbia is second with $7,056,556. Returns for other Provinces are: Nova Scotia, $2,977,862; New Brunswick, $159,500, and Ontario, $6,475,150.

Of the individual fruits, pears, peaches and cherries showed an increase in 1930, while white plums and prunes, apricots, strawberries and raspberries registered a decrease.

From an export point of view, of course, apples are the most important Canadian fruit, and last year the bureau reports that of the $10,401,267 total of fruit exported from Canada apples accounted for $8,405,596.

Great Britain was Canada's best market, absorbing over 25 per cent. of the total Canadian export.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR.

The announcement from Hon. W. G. Martin, Minister of Public Welfare, that both Dominion and Ontario Governments will give dollar for dollar in direct relief with the municipalities, whether the latter's share is raised by taxation or by voluntary subscription, is of much importance.

What it means is that where a community sets itself the task of raising, say, $25,000, to supply relief to its unemployed both the federal and provincial administrations will grant similar sums so that a $25,000 fund would thus be increased to $75,000.

It is not possible for every centre to provide work for all its unemployed, and necessarily, unless there is a quick turn of the tide, a large amount of direct relief will have to be provided to feed and clothe and keep warm the families of the unemployed during the winter months.

The burden will be very materially lightened by the action of the two Governments in providing two-thirds of the amount required for this relief—and the way is now open for an adequate relief fund in every Ontario centre.

In the United States the people of every city are being called upon to raise all the money needed for relief work—the task of Ontario municipalities is a great deal easier, in view of the Government relief available.

ANOTHER WESTERN DEFICIT.

Premier Brownlee now comes forward with the news that Alberta has a deficit for the year of something like $2,000,000. That, all things considered, isn't a bad showing, and it is a particularly good showing in comparison with the accounts of Saskatchewan and Manitoba, Provinces whose financial position is anything but enviable.

Many people are wondering why our dollar is at a discount in New York. Well, one answer is that our Provinces, and particularly our Western Provinces, have for years been borrowing and spending with a reckless abandon, and that at the present time some of them are not in too good a position to take care of their debts.

The plain fact is that when this country emerges from its present difficulties, one of the first things it will have to do, or one of the first things it ought to do, will be to try and place some check upon the unbridled borrowing propensities of our Provinces and municipalities. It is all very easy, when times are good, and there is a boom on, to borrow money for expenditure on fads, but when hard times come, and the spending spree is over, and the collector calls around, it is a far different proposition. It is a particularly different proposition when the collector happens to be in the United States and the bonds which he holds are marked payable in gold.

There are a lot of these bonds over in the United States at the present time. There are so many of them, indeed, that between now and the end of the fiscal year, something like $150,000,000 of Canadian borrowings (Dominion, Provincial and Canadian National) fall due in New York. These borrowings, or these bonds, are payable in gold, and it takes a lot of gold to make up $150,000,000.

No purpose would be served by too much of recrimination over this country's past sins in the way of borrowing and spending. But there ought to be, and there will have to be, some concerted national action along the lines of greater caution. A country, no matter what its resources, can only stand so much of overhead. And Canada has been perhaps a little spoiled by its close proximity to the United States. We see our rich and powerful neighbors, with their vast population, doing certain things, and we feel that it is up to us to "keep up with the Joneses." We go on imitating them in extravagant ideas about transportation, about highways, about air mail services, about other things. Go on piling up expenditure and debts, and costly overhead.

It is an absurd policy. Canada, after all, has only ten million people, and ten million people, no matter how well off they may be, can only stand so much of taxation. They may feel that they want good roads, for example, want the best in highway and rail transportation. But we wonder how many Canadians realize what this country paid out last year for the construction and maintenance of highways? We wonder, also, whether they know the amount of the combined cost of our highways and our railways? Well, last year the cost of building and maintaining highways in Canada fell little short of $50,000,000, if it didn't exceed that amount; and on top of that there was all that we had to spend for other forms of transportation—our new railway construction, our railway deficits.

The cold truth is that, in many respects, we have been simply living beyond our means, buying things that we couldn't afford. Highways, of course, are a very desirable thing, and, in the case of a country like Canada, an almost necessary thing and a good investment besides. But, admitting all this, there is a possibility, as a distinguished visiting British engineer has just pointed out, that even in highway construction we have gone a bit too fast, have exceeded the capacity of our pockets.

In any event, little justification can exist for reckless borrowings to finance public undertakings, many of them of questionable value. That, undoubtedly, is what has been happening, and it is something that will have to stop happening if this country is to achieve a reasonable prosperity. This notion that a country, unlike an individual, can go on spending more than it earns, borrowing the balance, and trusting to the future and to what our after-dinner orators call "our mighty resources" to see us through eventually, is a dangerous business. It is one of the things which, more than anything else, is responsible for our troubles at the present time.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The city of Toronto is doubtless more certain than ever that appeals to the Privy Council should not be abolished.

Wentworth County's reign of terror caused by the activities of a fire fiend shows no sign of coming to an end. Strangers would do well to keep out of the district for the present.

The Privy Council has decided that the Dominion Government has full control over aviation. That it should have is so obvious that it is amazing that there should have been any controversy about the matter.

Mr. Bennett should have no trouble in floating the domestic loan that is to be launched shortly. Canada does not lack ready money.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald is using a fleet of 12 airplanes in his election campaign. There is a point for Canadian politicians to take under consideration.

A CURVE LAKE COMPLAINT.

Editor Examiner: I want to give the people a little news about Curve Lake. One of the Commissioners told us that we would be paid not less than $5 a head, and now we are only getting $3. The Indian Department must be getting poor, like the Indians. All the other reserves but Curve Lake, got $5.

THE BOOB

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Sir,—We mustn't run away with any idea that strong party men are all "boobs," blind to everything but the joy of loving their side and hating the others while the country falls to the ground between them.

The real party man plays his party for all it is worth to him and if it does not do what he wants—we know where he says it may go to. Meanwhile he works up the good loyal party man and keeps him finding loop-holes for his leader. We make a mistake also when we think education gives brains. That is the delusion of the uneducated.

We should all know as much as we can but not more than we can use or hold—which about stops at the entrance with most of us. The rest is simply spoiling the market supply.

J. H. Burnham.

A THOUGHT.

THE STUFF OF LIFE

All men are born unequal.

The equality of humans is limited to one thing—time. The Prince of Wales and the tramp asleep on the park bench both have twenty-our hours to use each day, no more and no less.

Every man has so many years to live—some a few more than others—but when the end approaches, the machine wears out, and neither power, fame nor wealth can add a year.

The only equality is equality of time—time to work, time to struggle, time to achieve.

No one will be held accountable for not becoming a millionaire, but he is accountable for not making the best use possible of his time.

Benjamin Franklin used the years of his life so well that from a humble begining he rose to be one of the wealthiest and wisest men of his age.

He aptly defined time as "the stuff of life."

A man's fortune depends on how he invests his money; his character on how he invests his time.

Radiator Building Bought By Council

HASTINGS, Oct. 23 (Examiner Correspondence)—The village Council bought the old "Radiator" building at the arrears of taxes sale held this week.

The building which is located on the south side of the river west of the C.N.R. station would make an ideal place for an industry looking for a site. For the past few years a portion of the building has been the home of the local curling club. Previous to this the National Cooperage Co. made some alteration to the building but failed to ever manufacture any barrels.

The council at the present time are in touch with factory interests and it is to be hoped that they will secure another industry for the village.

CATTLE, GRAIN AND PRODUCE

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—Fresh eggs continued to be a scarce article on the local market yesterday and dealers who demanded this quality had to pay several cents more than previously, per dozen. Brokers were offering a few cases of fresh eggs and receiving higher prices, while storage supplies moved at levels steady with those quoted earlier in the week. Quotations to country shippers were about steady, with firsts up 1c per dozen and retailers were offered both fresh and storage supplies at unchanged levels.

Prices.

Brokers quoted fresh eggs, graded, in free cases, at 46c for extras, 39c to 40c for firsts, and 21c to 23c for seconds. Country shippers were offered 40c for extras, 36c for firsts, and 20c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Retailers were buying fresh eggs at 47c to 49c for extras, in cartons; 45c to 47c for extras, loose; 41c to 43c for firsts, loose, and 25c for seconds, loose, and storage supplies at 30c for extras, 28c for firsts, and 23c for seconds. Country shippers were also quoted on pullet extras, 25c to 27c. Brokers were dealing in storage supplies at 27c for extras, and 25c for firsts, candled out of storage, and 2c lower for ordinary storage stocks.

Poultry.

Poultry prices were steady, with the list issued last week, ducklings excepted. White ducklings were 1c per pound higher for dressed weight.

Butter.

The butter market was quiet, buyers taking only choice lots at prices steady with previous quotations at 20c to 20½c for No. 1, solids, and 19c to 19½c for No. 2.

Cheese.

Brokers' prices for cheese were steady, but wholesalers' quotations to the trade on new makes were ½c higher at 13½c for new, large, 13½c for twins, 13¾c for triplets, and 15½c for stiltons.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.— Reversing the conditions which had prevailed of late, sellers outnumbered buyers in all the grain pits yesterday. The wheat appeared unable to digest freely the immense load of profit sales put forward in the last week. Besides downturns of securities, together with Russian wheat exports larger than expected, gave at least a temporary advantage to bears.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅝ to ¾ cents lower; corn, ⅜ to ⅝ off, oats a shade to ¼ to ⅜ down, and provisions at 2 to 5 cents advance.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Oct. 23.—Egg and cheese prices advanced, while butter and potato quotations were unchanged on the produce and dairy market here yesterday.

A car of British Columbia eggs arrived today, and was snapped up immediately. Though there were no extras, fresh firsts sold at 38c, and pullet extras at 35c a dozen. On the general carlot market, fresh extras advanced 3c at 45c to 48c, while fresh firsts were up the same amount at 35c to 38c a dozen. Pullet extras were quoted at 35c, and fresh seconds advanced 1c at 23c a dozen. Storage extras, in carlots, were quoted at 26c to 27c, firsts at 23c to 24c, and seconds at 20c a dozen. Quotations to retailers were unchanged, and receipts were 1,224 cases.

Ontario cheese gained ⅛ at 11¾c to 12c, while Quebec cheese was unchanged at 11¼c to 11¾c a pound. Receipts were 2,041 boxes.

Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized butter, in carlots, held steady at 20c a pound. To retailers, solids at 21c to 22c, and prints at 22c to 23c a pound were both unchanged. Receipts were only 23 boxes.

Quebec potatoes per 80-pound bag were unchanged at 30c to 40c, while New Brunswick Cobblers held steady at 40c to 50c, and New Brunswick Green Mountains were 50c to 55c per 80-pound bag.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, October 23. — Influenced by a dwindling export trade, wheat prices worked lower on the Grain Exchange here yesterday. Values at the close were ⅛c to ¾c lower.

October closed ¾c lower at 59¼c, November ⅝c lower at 59c, December ⅞c lower at 58¾c, and May ⅛c to ⅝c lower at 61⅝c.

The support side of the market revealed only a small commission house interest, and practically no foreign buying. Black Sea ports again cleared more than 6,500,000 bushels of wheat, 4,000,000 of which originated in Russia. This heavy movement doubtless slackened the pulse of export trade.

Unofficial advices from Italy stated that the quota in that country may be changed at the end of the month or permit of the use of 25 per cent. of imported wheat instead of 5 per cent., as at present. Reports from France also indicate millers are urging a modification of the quota owing to poor quality of native wheat.

Cash wheat and coarse grain trading generally was draggy and unchanged.

Four Arson Charges Bring 5 Years In Jail

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Oct. 23—Harold Prentice was yesterday sentenced to five years in penitentiary on each of four charges of arson, the sentences to run concurrently.

Prentice was responsible for the fire at Clarksburg, 30 miles east of here, on Wednesday, Sept. 30.

Prentice was caught on Thursday morning when he tried to set fire to the business section of the neighboring village of Thornbury.

Appearing in police court here before Magistrate E. C. Sperman on Thursday, Oct. 1, he pleaded guilty to the arson charges.

Sentence was passed yesterday.

Two Salters Hurt In Car Accident

W. B. Salter and son Briant, of Peterborough, were injured in an automobile collision Thursday night near Greely, fourteen miles south of Ottawa. Two cars crashed as they both attempted to pass two large trucks that were parked on the highway.

W. B. Salter's home is at 497 Donegal street. The injured in the accident, four of whom were removed to an Ottawa hospital are W. B. Salter and son; Mrs. W. F. Salter, Mrs. W. L. Salter; and Leo Lavigne and Noel Brunet of St. Albert.

Many Nationalities To Enter Big Meet

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 23—Athletes of Great Britain, Canada, most European countries, Syria, Egypt, Australia, South Africa and the United States will take part in the Jewish Olympiad at Tel-Aviv, Palestine, from March 28 to 31.

Headquarters of the World Maccabee Association, sponsoring the Olympiad, announce that in addition to numerous track and field athletes military and police teams of Great Britain will compete.

To date more than 2,000 Jewish entries have been received. The British Government is keenly interested in the programme and has donated ground for the erection of a mammoth stadium.

Dr. S. Rosenfeld, vice-president of the association will arrive here shortly to stimulate interest in the games in Canada and United States.

Among the sports on the programme are field hockey, swimming, tennis, boxing and wrestling, fencing, horseback riding and soccer.

Vatican City Refuses Spanish Ambassador

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 23 (A.P.)—Vatican officials said to-day that it is not likely that Luis Zulueta will be acceptable as the Spanish Ambassador to the Holy See and that, moreover, under present conditions in Spain, it is "impossible to consider the nomination of anyone as the Spanish Ambassador.

There has been such marked hostility to the Church in Spain, it was said, that, "it is even uncertain whether diplomatic relations will be maintained at all."

LEADING AIRMEN

three miles out the Port Hope Highway. Busses will leave the corner of Simcoe and George every half-hour to-morrow, starting at noon. Parking arrangements have been made at the grounds, and tickets may be purchased there or at the Empress Hotel. The show is sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Captain Bernie Martin will fly over the city at twilight this evening shooting off fireworks, and to-morrow morning a siren-ship flying stunt and a rat-chase will be seen over the city and district. Starting the show, will be individual aerobatics by Capt. Parkington, one of Canada's outstanding stunt pilots, flying the Curtis-Reid biplane. Bugle call, National Anthem and addresses of welcome will follow and then inverted flying and more aerobatics by Captain Sanderson, flying the same special Fleet biplane in which he crossed the continent twice with the Pageant.

Captain Bernie Martin, "Peck's bad boy of the air," will then put on a novelty act marked with thrills, surprises and amusement. The De-Havil and novelty air act, portraying the modernizing influence of air travel, has been endorsed by flying experts throughout Canada. But the most thrilling stunt is likely to be the low aerobatics staged just a few feet clear of the ground. An anti-aircraft display and a balloon-bursting exhibition follow in rapid succession, with a bombing competition also bringing thrills. Various formation flights will be shown, the Toronto Flying Club's team being particularly clever at this, while passenger flights, fireworks and stunts of all kinds in every type of ship will make every minute of the two-and-a-half hour show unusually entertaining.

MEXICANS TO HONOR DOOLITTLE

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Oct. 23 (A.P.)—An aerial festival including numerous racing events, stunting and parachute jumping will be staged Sunday at the Military Aviation Field here in honor of Major James Doolittle, who is visiting Mexico City following his speedy 12½-hour trip from Ottawa, Ont., Tuesday.

Invents Fog Penetrating Light

RESULT OF MANY YEARS OF EXPERIMENT

A light that can really pierce fog has been sought by lighting engineers for many years and Harold G. Fitzgerald has finally perfected and demonstrated a light which can be seen through a heavy fog for a distance of eight miles during tests. The secret of the light lies in an applinatic reflector, which is composed of many small surfaces resembling the eyes of a fly. This, through some reason known only to the inventor, has the power of reflecting the rays of light through the fog for great distances. ABOVE photo shows Fitzgerald, the inventor, with his light invention.

GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION PAYS 25 CENTS COMMON SHARE

One-third of Dividend Requirement for Third Quarter Period.

POSITION IMPROVED.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 23—(CP)—General Motors Corporation to-day reported third quarter income equivalent to 25 cents a common share, or one-third of the dividend requirement for that period.

Net earnings for the three months totalled $13,333,214 compared with $25,470,697, or 53 cents a common share for the same period last year, and with $55,122,767, or $1.22 a share, in the quarter ended June 30 last.

Third quarter earnings of automobile manufacturers usually fall off substantially from those of the second quarter.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president, said net for the nine months ended Sept. 30, including equities in undivided profits or losses of subsidiary and affiliated companies not consolidated, were $97,455,390, equal to $2.08 a common share.

13 TONS OF GOLD

Brought to London One Morning From Scottish Banks

While London was asleep one morning recently, over thirteen tons of sovereigns and half-sovereigns, worth more than £1,800,000, was transported from King's Cross Station to the vaults of the Bank of England.

The gold came from Scotland. Under the Currency and Bank Notes Act of 1928 the Scottish banks are obliged to surrender the gold in their possession when a request for the metal is made by the Bank of England.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH ADJUSTMENT TO 'NEW WORLDLINESS' REQUIRED

temper of Christ and display the power of Christ, he said.

The report of the committee on the State of Religion was presented by Professor G. P. Gilmour, Hamilton and stated in part: "There are many encouraging features about the year just closed. Seldom has the news from the foreign field been better and the revivals incident to the year's work abroad are doubtless in part the result of the sacrificial giving of our churches in the campaign of 1929 and 1930. At home the results have been greater than for some years, and although full statistics will not be available until next spring, we know that the increase in baptisms is significant of renewed vigour in many churches."

The contributions of the churches had been well sustained despite the depression, and there was encouragement also in the continued strength of B.Y.P.U. work.

Neglected Great Issues

Rev. O. C. E. Elliott, Mimico and Rev. E. T. Newton of Niagara Falls were of the opinion that the report of the committee had neglected some of the great issues. The former expressed the fervent conviction that the church's prime duty was to help mankind to an understanding of God through the Holy Ghost.

It was moved by the Rev. E. T. Newton of Niagara Falls and seconded by S. J. Moore, Toronto "that the committee on the State of religion consider one of the primary duties in the coming convention was to establish the need of a family altar in every one of the churches in the convention".

Open conference on the subject "How to be More Effective" was conducted with S. J. Moore of Toronto in the chair. Mr. Moore thought that the delegates to the convention should go back to their churches with a fresh endowment of grace from the Holy Spirit.

Discussion on this theme was engaged by a large number of delegates, many of whom gave personal experiences of religion and conversion. Included among those who entered the discussion were: Rev Dr. J. A. Gordon, Montreal veteran Baptist pastor; Rev. J. Gordon Jones, of Parkdale Toronto, one of the youngest Baptist ministers in the convention; Rev. J. A. Johnston, London; and the Rev. Dr. M. F. McCutcheon.

Mr. Johnston bore witness to a conversion of a Chinese to the Gospel, while in Peterborough for the convention. He was brought into touch with the convert in a Chinese restaurant where he had ordered tea and had for three times in succession been provided with coffee.

A message touching upon the question, "How to be More Effective," was received by mail from James Ryrie of Toronto. His main advice was, "Try to do everything to the glory of God."

The Rev. Dr. Bowley Green of Toronto, in a ten-minute address, traced the rise and fall of successive empires and kingdoms throughout history to the present day in which he said the world found itself engaged in an unprecedented struggle. He contended that all human governmens and institutions had failed and were destined to pass away for ever.

Every civilization in turn has failed, he said, mentioning the fall of Egypt, Babylon, Greece, Rome, etc., and in our age "from the depths of fermenting substrata rises the cry of pain and woe."

"There shall be no more want, no cry of oppression. All down the ages had men dreamed of a brighter, happier world. It was prophesied by Daniel and by Moses, and after four centuries of silence the Jewish world was startled by the cry "Repent ye, for the Kingdom of God is at hand." That, he thought was the central theme in the teaching of Christ, and a return to which was the only hope for the world."

"Our Baptist Heritage" was the theme of the closing aldress of the morning period delivered by Rev. M. C. MacLean, B.A., St. Catharines. "The purest form of Gospel propaganda was to be found in the first three centuries of the Christian era," said the preacher, who traced the course of Christianity through the ages. He spoke ably of the condition that existed in Europe in the sixteenth century, and of the deeply entrenched wrongs against which the Protestants prevailed. Following the Reformation the new reformers were needed and in this connection he mentioned the names of Smith, Bunyan, Robinson, and Williams, and many others who carried on the work left uncompleted by Luther.

"If any people in the world," he said, "were committed to preach the Gospel message, they were the Baptists, who had received a wonderful heritage from their fathers, and they could not rest until they had given this Gospel to 'the last and least and the lowest and lost.'"

WOMEN AT GRAND BY 9.30 FOR CLASS

As early as 9.30 this morning, women and girls started gathering around the Grand Opera House for this afternoon's class of The Examiner's homemaking and cooking instructions. Close to a thousand had to be turned away this afternoon, and nearly as many yesterday, as huge crowds lined up and down the street near the entrance. This was the final day of the four-day classes.

They Hold Germany's Fate

In the hands of these five men a great share of the fate of Germany now rests. Heinrich Bruening (upper left), Chancellor and Foreign Minister, charged with the formation of a new Cabinet, selected Hermann Dietrich (lower left), as Vice-Chancellor and Finance Minister; General Wilhelm Groener (lower right), as Minister of War and Interior, and Dr. Kurt Joel (upper left), as Minister of Justice. If this group of men fail before the Reichstag, Adolf Hitler (centre), National Socialist leader, may take over the reins of government at the request of President von Hindenburg.

2 CRIMES LAID TO 16 YEAR BOY

Charged With Murdering Woman in 1930, Attacking Another Tuesday.

CAUGHT NEAR SCENE.

CHICAGO, Ills., October 23 (C.P.). — A 16-year-old boy was charged by police to-day with fatally shooting Mrs. Agnes Levander 35, on February 18, 1930, and attacking Mrs. Jane Meyers, 53, last Tuesday night.

Both crimes, to which police said the boy, Vernon Royals, confessed, took place on lonely spots near Forest Glen Railroad Station.

Royals, a six-foot lad, who weighs 170 pounds, was arrested on Wednesday night near the scene of the crimes. He stubbornly maintained his innocence, police said, despite the fact that Mrs. Meyers, who is under the care of a physician, identified him yesterday.

ADDRESS SYSTEM IS APPRECIATED

Added Much to Comfort of Those Attending Cooking Lectures.

The large gathering which thronged to hear Miss Claire Andree lecture on the most modern methods of homemaking appreciated the Public Address System (P.A.S.) chosen by The Examiner to enable those at remote parts of the theatre to hear every word of the speakers. It enabled weak voices to be heard plainly.

No one enjoys going to a gathering of any kind and having to strain to catch the speaker's words. In order to avoid this, the Northern Electric Public Address System was selected because it had demonstrated its success at many gatherings indoor and outdoor such as the Canadian National Exhibition, Royal York Hotel, Royal Winter Fair, Empire Games at Hamilton and numerous others.

Entire Air Program On Saturday, Oct. 24

The entire program of the Peterborough Air Meet will be put on on Saturday, Oct. 24 was the announcement this morning of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. This decision meets the requirements of the Lord's Day Alliance Act, and while week-end programmes appear to have been popular this past summer in other centres, there will be no attempt in Peterborough to violate any section of the Act. The air meet therefore, will officially end Saturday evening with the public dinner to be given to visiting fliers from all parts of Ontario.

SUCCESSFUL FOWL SUPPER IS HELD BY MILLBROOK CHURCH

Entertaining Program Presented by Members of St. Andrew's Church.

HALLOWE'EN ATMOSPHERE

(Examiner Correspondence)

MILLBROOK, Oct. 23.—A large attendance, ideal roads and weather, an abundant service of roast goose and other items on a menu replete with good things to eat, a delightful program, and financial success, were all features of the annual fowl dinner served by the Ladies' Association of Saint Andrew's church on Tuesday evening, beginning at 5 o'clock and continuing until all comers had been satisfied.

A Hallowe'en atmosphere was created by the decorations in orange and black carried out in the runners on the long tables, the hollowed-out pumpkins used for flower holders, and in other details; long tendrils of vine, and autumn foliage, depending from the lights and arched spaces between the pillars, being other items that added greatly to the attractivenessof the Sunday School auditorium and adjacent class-rooms where the supper was served.

A small army of helders was required for the service of the hot meal, the usual plan being followed of having the workers pay the full price of admission, Mrs. Russell Howe acting as cashier for this section, W. G. Hetherington selling tickets to the general public in the hall upstairs.

The pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, and Mrs. Jones, assisted the president, Mrs. C. C. Garside, in welcoming the incoming people during the hours the supper was in progress, car-loads driving from Port Hope, Cobourg, Omemee, Bowmanville, Peterborough, and other points for the good meal provided, and the evening's entertainment. Many of the men of the church helped the ladies by pouring tea, looking after the seating of the new comers as places were vacated at the tables, taking tickets at the doors, etc., and in many ways giving ready and capable assistance with the big task on hand.

Entertaining Program

Rev. Mr. Jones occupied the chair for the program which was supplied by the choir of Trinity church, Peterborough, under the supervision of Miss Mable Clarry, organist and leader, the audience thoroughly enjoying every selection presented.

Assisting the choir was Miss Gwen Parnell, of Peterborough, who gave two readings, "Mrs. Gallop's Woes", and "Tit for Tat", the latter a recall; and Stanley Northrup whose violin selections were insistently encored until a recall number had to be granted. Harry Northrup accompanied his brother at the piano, the selections played including, "Sardis" by Monti, with "Souvenir" as the recall and a medley of Scotch airs for which also an encore was demanded.

The choir's opening number, after chanting the Lord's Prayer following the invocation by the pastor, was the Thanksgiving anthem" "O Give Thanks" (Smart), Mr. Park taking the solo. "Bless the Lord O My Soul", from the Russian Liturgy, the words by Tolstoi, and the music by Ippolitoff-Ivanoff, was a particularly lovely selection, the wonderful harmony of the several parts, the inflection and emphasis of the voices making it outstanding among the offerings of the evening.

Mr. Park's solo, "Mary of Argyle", won the hearts of his listeners, the recall, "I Love a Lassie", bringing prolonged applause. The concluding anthem, "The Lord is My Light" (Fletcher), with obligato by Mrs. Richmond, and the solo, "Up the Hill in the Morning", by Mrs. R. Cowan, together with her encore, "It Was a Lover and His Lass", continued the pleasure which the audience had experienced throughout the entire program, many warm personal expressions of appreciation being accorded Miss Clarry, and the members of her choir, after the concert and before the several car-loads of visiting artists left for their homeward drive to Peterborough.

A sale of baking unused for the supper, as well as a number of uncut fowl, added considerably to the amount taken in from the tickets sold, the treasury of the Association profiting to a satisfactory degree as a result of the evening's activities.

The Insular government will aid new industries in the Virgin Islands.

Judge Wants Chair He Can Sit Upon

WELLAND, Ont., Oct. 22.—Reporting to Mr. Justice Logie at the fall assizes, the Grand Jury in its report recommended that the high chair on the dais to which His Lordship took exception at the opening of court, Monday, be upholstered to make it more comfortable. "Take the chair away," ordered Justice Logie at the court opening. "Give me a chair I can sit on."

DENY PARLEY BREAKING UP

Mac Donald Claims Indian Conference Will Be Carried On to Finish.

GANDHI MAY LEAVE.

LONDON, October 22 (C.P.). — Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald at the meeting of the Federal Structures Committee characterized as "disgusting falsehoods" reports that the Indian Round Table Conference was on the verge of breaking up, it was officially stated today.

"There has been no change in the Government's policy to carry the Conference to a close," he said. "It is the duty of everyone concerned to work for the successful outcome of the Conference."

Sir Samuel Hoare, Secretary for India, described a statement credited to Mahatma Gandhi that the Conference would adjourn on November 12, as "ridiculous."

"We are perfectly prepared to continue the Round Table Conference as long as delegates believe a useful purpose can be served by our deliberations," he said. "We have not the least intention of bringing the Conference to a premature close."

Gandhi made steamer reservations several days ago to return to India next month on the grounds that Great Britain is not prepared to grant the demands of the Indian Nationalists and that he was wasting his time here.

who expressed his personal appreciation of this phase of the church work.

Discussion of the report was led by the Rev. Dr. Webb.

The report stated in part: "The Sunday School derives its worth from its work, and the Sunday School is the self-giving of the teachers and officers in the schools, large and small, all across the land, for our own convention it mans 408 schools with 6,515 officers and teachers. These are persons who without thought of gain, fame or prominence are giving themselves to helping boys and girls throughout these Provinces to know Jesus as Saviour and to learn to live nobly in this present world.

The Sunday School work and workers deserve the commendation and more for the church school is also a church asset. The church membership of today is about ninety per cent won to Christ and the church through the Sunday School," the report stated.

There was a greater need for temperance education in Canada today than there had been for a great many years, the Board believed. The traffic in intoxicating liquors was so related to the corporate life of the people of Canada that it had had its effect on the thinking of growing boys and girls. To counteract that there should be a fuller use of instruction in the Public Schools about the effect of alcohol on the human system, but on the church rested a responsibility that was even greater.

Finances.

The year had been a trying one financially, it was reported. It was clear from the beginning of the year that the whole work of the denomination with others would face difficult experiences. The Board had, however, striven to conduct the work as economically as possible without seriously impairing its efficiency.

The Board carried heavy expense in connection with the promotion of temperance education. It was the opinion of the Board that there was never a time when the work of the Sunday schools was more needed than in the present hour, and the Board looked forward to stronger and more aggressive work in the future and appealed to the denomination for its continued sympathy and financial support in order to make possible a realization of the plans.

Dr. A. J. Madill, superintendent of Murray street church Sunday school and Principal of Peterborough Normal School; E. Frank Wright and the Rev. Lloyd M. Houlding were re-elected to a further term of office on the Board.

Following very appropriately on the presentation of the Board's report was an address delivered by the Rev. O. D. Priddle, Ph.D., Hamilton on "Religious Education of the Young."

Earlier in the day the report of the Church Edifice Board was presented by the secretary, W. E. Hodgson, and was adopted on the motion of H. B. Coumans, chairman, seconded by Olive Master.

The Rev. Joseph Janes, Chatham, the Rev. H. W. Wright, Beamsville, and the Rev. H. F. Veals, Hamilton, were re-elected to the Board.

Holland Pettitt, chairman of the Board of Publication presented and moved the adoption of the report of his Board. It was seconded by George Matthews, Brantford.

Paying tribute to the editor of The Canadian Baptist the Rev. Dr. Webb referred to him as a great hero who had labored throughout the year despite the handicap of ill health.

The report read as follows:

We believe that at no time during that long period of service has a call been made upon the Convention for financial aid. Whether that record can be maintained in the days to come depends upon both the future Boards and the Convention. Without you, we cannot continue. We hope, on the other hand, you realize that the work of the Convention would suffer without the paper, and that you will respond to the special appeal which has already been set before you.

Financially, the results for the year are not pleasing although not wholly unexpected. We show a net deficit for the year of $2,555.67. The causes are not far to seek. We received from Subscriptions, $1,683.46 less than in 1930; from Job Work, $2,985.80 less and from Rentals, $1,265.00 less than last year. On the other hand, our Advertising Receipts increased $980.50, a net decrease in Total Receipts of $4,953.86. We prefer to lay the blame of decreased subscriptions upon the financial depression, rather than to lack of interest throughout the convention. Perhaps both had a share. Our Job Work Department suffered by the removal of the University to Hamilton and by the necessary economy of all our Boards, while competition among printing firms has been very keen throughout the year.

"We do feel that with all its shortcomings the paper has been throughout the years a no considerable factor in the building up of the Convention of Ontario and Quebec. The denomination owes the dear old paper a staggering debt which may be paid only by unswerving loyalty to the cause of Christ and the paper. The paper has furnished our preachers with much of their inspiration. It has answered many hard problems of the church politely and theologically. It has been one of the strongest friends and supporters of the Sunday School. It has never sounded a note of neutrality where the best interest of our Baptist people were involved, and it has contended without compromise where moral issues were at stake, since the day of organization till now."

"In closing we wish to pay tribute to the many excellent qualities of our editor and manager, Mr. Kipp, and again to ask for your support during the coming convention year, which will present many trying problems to our Board as well as the Companion Boards of the Convention."

The evening session opened with a song service conducted by the Rev. Don Cameron, Wallaceburg, with the full surpliced choir and organist in attendance.

In addition to the delegates there was a large number of general members of the church present, which filled the church to its capacity.

The devotional sermon on the theme, 'Holy Spirit and Christian Growth" was preached by Rev. Dr. J. A. Huntley of Hamilton. It was characterized as indeed have all the sermons been throughout the convention, by a depth of inspirational meaning and eloquence of presentation.

An address on the Baptist World Alliance was given by Albert Matthews, L.L.D., Toronto, who spoke of the world-wide influence which the Alliance wields. "Our Dr. MacNeill, the president, is completing his world visitation of Baptists," he remarked, "thus Baptists in the 55 nations are encouraged in their labors. The executive committee met annually, when many problems affecting the denomination were discussed, he said.

He spoke of the plans which had been laid for the 1933 Congress of the Alliance in Berlin, Germany.

Towards the expenses of the Alliance the Baptists of all Canada are asked to contribute $750. It was hoped that many Canadians may be able to attend the meetings in Berlin. "Baptists are the descendants of a body of Christian martyrs," he stated.

The speaker called attention to the fact that the state of religion in Russia will be a subject of discussion at the Congress, and by 1933 it was hoped to have definite information regarding the Baptist brethren in that sad land. It was also expected that the Russian authorities may see that Baptist teachings and practices were not incompatible with the ideals at which Russia is aiming. Russia had set up as her ideal that of Communism in which she hoped to demonstrate the true principles of brotherhood. "We in Canada are also in need of a new vision," said the speaker, "to meet present conditions."

He was not one who thought that capitalism had failed, but he pointed out that the greatest armies and navies and expenditures on warfare and armaments were made by Christian capitalists. Russia had discarded her outworn religion by which she had been oppressed and for the time being had turned to Communism, but the speaker thought true Christian Socialism was preferable to Communism.

Speaking on the question of disarmaments, he said that the pioneers of disarmament would also be the pioneers of a warless world. "If you are against war you must encourage men to resist it at all costs," he said, "and if the church neglects these and other problems she will fail in her duty."

The secretary read the resolution on hospitality which was adopted at the morning session, and ordered to be read in the evening. The Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, pastor of Murray street church, replied.

With an established reputation as an orator of high order the Rev. G. A. Leichliter, M.A., Toronto, brought to the assembly a challenging appeal to higher service particularly in the foreign mission fields. He termed the subject of his address "What reason for the church?" and in the course of a striking sermon proceeded to provide an answer to his comprehensive question.

One of the prime reasons for the existence of the church was that the manifold wisdom of God might be made manifest by or through the church, he said.

At a later juncture in his striking address the preacher said that although the church was often told to mind its own business, her opportunity was not done. "When the day declines and darkness approaches, when peace is precarious, when most of life is behind and the mystery beyond is before, what then? The Bible, the Church, the Christ and the Prophet of God' Somehow when man faces the inevitable there creeps upon him the inescapable suspicion that the church has an aim; although weakly pursued it has an aim and a hold on God."

He said that the church's aim was to make God accessible. Nothing more, nothing less. But it was large enough and glorious enough. "And that is where the missionary projects comes before us," he said.

The Reverend speaker went on to offer stern criticism of the lack of interest and enthusiasm that was evinced by the Baptists of this country in the missionary undertakings in India, Bolivia and Canada.

MADOC W.C.T.A.

Mrs. Rivers Gives Interesting Report on Annual Convention at London.

MADOC, Oct. 23 (Examiner Correspondence). — The W.C.T.U. meeting for Madoc section was held on Thursday, 15th, at the home of Mrs. G. W. Rivers. After the devotional period, matters of business were discussed, the President, Mrs. J. McCaffrey, commenting with pleasure on the fact that two of the winners of provincial prizes in temperance are from this district, Misses Phyllis Reid and Jean Nickle.

Mrs. Rivers, delegate to the 54th annual convention of the Ontario W.C.T.U. held in London gave a most interesting report. The delegates to this convention placed themselves on record as disapproving of the extended hours of the sale of liquor and the indiscriminate issue of permits.

After singing and prayer, a social half-hour was spent.

HOLIDAY DATES ARE CLEARED UP

Thanksgiving Date Will Be Set Each Year By Order-in-Council.

REMEMBRANCE DAY FIXED.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 23 (C.P.)—Some confusion has arisen in the public mind in regard to the observance of Remembrance Day and Thanksgiving Day. This year Thanksgiving Day was celebrated on Monday, October 12, while Remembrance Day will be commemorated on November 11.

These separate observances have their present basis under legislation passed at the last session of Parliament which deleted the section in the Armistice Day Act to the effect that Thanksgiving Day, whenever proclaimed, should be observed on Armistice Day. The effect of this amendment was that if Thanksgiving Day was to be proclaimed thereafter it must be done by order-in-council specifying the date of observance.

An order-in-council was passed by the Dominion Government during the first week in October proclaiming the observance of Thanksgiving Day for this year on October 12, which date will be a moveable one from year to year whenever proclaimed by order-in-council. Remembrance Day—which name replaces Armistice Day under the legislation of last session—is commemorated each year on November 11.

Amending legislation passed at the last session of Parliament followed considerable pressure from various organizations for the change made

HOPE IS HELD OUT FOR COTTON TRADE

Lancashire Man Claims Industry Picked Up Since Gold Standard Dropped.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 23.—Hope for improved conditions in the cotton south was held out here yesterday by James Duckworth of Lancashire, Eng., who said textile manufacturing in his community had improved 10 per cent since Great Britain abandoned the gold standard.

Mr. Duckworth is attending the Ecumenical Methodist conference as a lay leader in the United Methodist Church of England. He is a justice of the peace at Lancashire and a shareholder in several textile mills there.

"It is not the fault of you people in the south that conditions are as they are in Lancashire," Mr. Duckworth said. "You are not to blame because cotton is selling around 6 cents. Our people wish the market would return again to at least 15 cents a pound and 30 cents if possible, because if this was the case there would be a greater demand for manufacturing and we, like you, would benefit.

"The fault in the instance of Lancashire and in fact with cotton manufacturing in all of the island, is that we have sold much machinery to the other countries, such as India and Egypt and Africa which formerly sent us raw cotton and now are making their own textiles. The machinery people have profited, we in the cotton centres have lost.

Dollar Is Firmer After Weak Opening

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 23 (CP). The pound sterling and Canadian Dollar held firm after opening weaker on local foreign exchanges to-day. At noon sterling was quoted at $3.93½ in United States funds. This was its opening quotation which showed a loss of three cents over the previous close.

The dollar, after opening at 89¼ cents gained ½ cent at noon. It closed yesterday at 89¾.

JOHN JOSEPH BARNES

Niagara Falls, Ont.—"For some time I suffered from nervousness and could not sleep at night. My stomach was bad, my head was dizzy and heavy. I felt so tired and sick in the morning and after I had eaten my breakfast I was so filled up with gas," says John Joseph Barnes of 991 Huron St. "Let me tell you I felt so discouraged I just gave up everything almost. One day I saw an advertisement to send 10c for a trial package of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and so I tried the sample and it did me so much good I took three bottles of these wonderful tablets and now I am real well."

PLAN TO REVISE FEDERAL TAXES

Conservative, Progressive Heads Both Parties to Act Regardless of Hoover.

SURVEY UNDER WAY.

(By Cecil B. Dickson; Copyright, 1931, by the A.P.)

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 22.—Conservative and progressive leaders of both political parties in the House are planning an upward revision of Federal taxes regardless of what President Hoover recommends to the next Congress.

The Chief Executive is expected to base his proposals for meeting the Treasury deficit on an exhaustive study being made of the budget and revenues by the Treasury department. Results of this survey probably will be made public next months before his annual message to Congress.

Months ago, however, it was larned to-day that both Republican and Democrat Members of the House Ways and Means committee that formulates all revenue raising legislation, began a quiet investigation of taxation problems.

Gathering Information

With the assistance of the joint committee of Internal Revenue taxation, Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democratic member of the Ways and Means Committee, accumulated information from the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board, and court decision bearing on the revenue situation.

Garner's study, made last spring with a view to offering a concrete plan for the stabilization of the revenue flow and for more equal distribution of the taxation burden, was undertaken about the same time Represenative Hawley, of Oregon, Chairman of the last House Ways and Means committee, announced he was surveying taxation legislation.

While the Texan, recognized as one of the outstanding tax legislators in Congress, has not divulged the scope of his study, it is known that he directed it toward increasing the inheritance tax, levying of a gift tax and raising income taxes in the higher brackets.

In addition, Garner has made a complete scrutiny of court decisions on big tax cases with a view to offering amendments to the income tax law to stop evasion of payments by the wealthy.

'blue coal'---the greatest step forward in the history of the coal industry!

'blue coal' is not a new fuel, only the 'blue' color is new. It is the same famous D.L.&W. Scranton anthracite (hard coal) that you know so well, tinted with a harmless blue coloring to enable you to recognize it at a glance.

'blue coal' is economical. Gives the maximum heat with the least amount of waste. Burns right down to a fine flaky ash.

'blue coal' is convenient. It requires little attention. No running up and down stairs at odd hours.

'blue coal' is clean. No dust or dirt, to sift through the house. No smoke---no soot.

'blue coal' is safe. No dangerous fumes or gases. No fire hazard. No spontaneous combustion.

'blue coal' insures healthy heat, cleaner air, an even temperature. Plenty of heat when you need it . . . . or a slumbering fire for milder weather.

'blue coal' never varies. It is of uniformly high quality.

SOUTH AMERICA'S IMPORTANCE IN WORLD COMMERCE STRESSED

Chief Industrial Countries Striving to Gain Trade in S. A. Market.

ADDRESS AT KINGSTON.

(Special to The Examiner.)

KINGSTON, Oct. 23.—Professor J. H. Brovedani, of Queen's University, speaking on "South America" at the Rotary Club luncheon, Wednesday, said:

"South America's importance in world commerce is fully realized from statistics relating to its part in the international exchange of goods, and also from the struggle going on among the chief industrial countries to conquer the South American market. There is at the same time going on an ever-increasing exchange of cultural ideas by means of lecture tours, the exchange of university students, the foundation of foreign libraries in South American countries, propaganda for the teaching of Spanish, the sending of special commercial missions, such as that headed by Sir George Perley last March on behalf of the Canadian Chambers of Commerce and the Manufacturers Association. During the four months which I passed in South America—particularly in the Argentine and Chile as a university representative and director of publicity—I was able to form an estimate of the increasing inter-relation between Canada and Latin America.

"Last spring, in Buenos Aires, there was held a week called Canadian week, not only from the number and the quality of the persons taking part in the various reunions and functions, but also on account of the part that the press, without distinction of party, joined in doing honor to Canada with articles and information to an extent that it rarely accords to any native interest. These articles dealt with not only matters of industry and commerce but gave a conspectus of all Canadian activities, educational, artistic and cultural. From that date and for the next two months, the demand for information about the Dominion was so great that every newspaper had to publish articles generally contributed by the most distinguished Canadian specialists on every field, for which, be it said, the Dominion is deeply indebted to them.

"The press of South America is both high class and influential. Such treatment then should be put down not only to a realization of the mutual commercial advantages involved but also to the genuine feeling of sympathy and interest that had been aroused.

On Best Relations.

"The prospects of an active commercial relation between Canada and the various South American countries are of the best. Much has been done already by increasing the number of trade commissioners, the weekly bulletin issued by the Canadian Government, the establishment of a direct G. N. S. service between Canadian ports and South America. Much, however, remains to be done by the penetration of the southern continent by Canadian publicists, academic men and associations of all description.

"The integrity of our industrial and commercial firms is fully appreciated and their methods are considered as being the best and most up-to-date. The good intentions of the Government are fully realized. It is necessary to round off and complete those relations by the introduction to South American society of representatives of our men of learning, of culture, the best of our writers, historians, artists and orators. Without this, a Latin country does not feel that it knows it through and through."

Plans have been started for the growing of hemp on more than 4,000 acres in Colombia, and it is hoped to produce 1,00,00 bags a year.

Hollywood Lends Cupid Helping Hand

Dorothy Mackaill, the English-born actress (1) who is undoubtedly one of the most engaging of Hollywood's players, has just announced another engagement, this time of Neil Miller, Stanford University graduate and son of a Hawaiian planter, whom she met in Honolulu while on vacation trying to forget a shattered romance. (2) Peggy Shannon, the little girl from Broadway who stepped into film stardom and Clara Bow's shoes when the "It" girl suffered a nervous breakdown, seems to grow more lovely every day. (3) There's no more "hush, hush" about it since Johnny Farrell the golfer, proudly announced his engagement to Miss Catherine Hush of Old Greenwich, who recently appeared with him in a series of golf talkies.

Madoc

Mr. W. K. Ellis of Madoc had the misfortune to sustain a fractured wrist when cranking his car Tuesday.

Children's Day was observed in St. John's Anglican Church on Sunday, 18 1, with special lessons on the boyhood of Jesus for the Sunday School and a special address by Rev. P. Gatley Reynolds, rector, at the morning service, emphasizing the great importance of the teaching and training of the children in the home and school, but especially in the church and Sunday school. Special collections were taken for the General Board of Education.

Mr. George Burnside of Madoc township was seriously hurt, this week when he was struck by the blower on a threshing machine on his farm. He was holding the blower when he slipped and fell, having his head badly cut. He was attended by Dr. P. Nickle of Eldorado.

At the Eldorado Institute meeting a very interesting and instructive demonstration was conducted in useful and warm clothing made from the good portions of used garments. Articles were displayed and a lively discussion as to the possibilities of re-making and re-modelling garments for children's needs, resulted. The roll call was answered by "How To Remove Stains."

Mr. and Mrs. Bannister and two children are leaving next week to return to their former home in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brooks were Sunday visitors at the home of their daughter, Mrs. A. Smith in Madoc.

ENGLISH LINES GIVE LOW HOLIDAY FARES

To Encourage Short Trips to Country in Beautiful Autumn Weather

To enable holiday makers and foreign visitors to enjoy the finer and warmer weather which Great Britain is experiencing this autumn, the railway companies are extending the issue of "holiday return" tickets until November 1, and these are available for the outward and homeward journeys by practically any train.

"Holiday return" tickets are issued, with few exceptions, on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays every week to many hundreds of places throughout the country at single fare-and-a-third for the double journey.

During this period, holders of Great Western railway return tickets may travel by any train, except the famous Cornish Riviera Express. Such trains as the Torbay Limited Express, The Cheltenham Flyer, and other famous expresses thus become available to the travelling public at fares at 33 1-3 per cent. below the ordinary return fares. These "holiday return" tickets are issued from Paddington to all places in England and Wales, the Channel Isles, the Isle of Man and to 78 Irish stations.

Rush Point

Almost all the summer cottages in this vicinity have been closed for the winter.

Mr. George Cook left Round lake early this week. Mr. Cooke expects to return early in the spring after spending the winter months in Toronto.

Mr. Talbot and family closed their summer cottage here for the the winter and left for Toronto on Sunday last.

The threshing outfit owned and operated by Mr. Frank Barton and sons pulled for home on Saturday last having completed the job of threshing the crops on most of the farms in this locality and in quite a wide range of adjacent territory.

Mr. L. Copp, I. P. S. visited Rush Point school on Tuesday of this week.

Quite an enthusiastic evangelistic meeting at the School House on Sunday evening completed the three weeks meetings held here recently.

A Round Lake resident recently recounted a remarkable cure which took place a number of years ago in these parts. Several boys were chopping ice with a dull old axe to get through to the water for the cattle to get a drink. One younger lad stooped down to claw out the ice telling the older lad to wait. The axe however never halted in its rythmic swing and descending full force, cut off four fingers of the young brothers' hand. Nothing but the under skin held the four fingers to the rest of the hand, the bones being completely severed. When the terrified lads reached home there was no doctor summoned— the father himself, a resourceful man, shaped shingles to fit the injured hand, and neatly bound the fingers in place. It was really a remarkable piece of work and the lad's hand healed so that the break was scarcely noticeable. However the fingers remained stiff and when an old Indian friend happened along in the spring the father asked his advice.

The Indian told him to wait till the fish worms first came to the surface of the ground that spring then to catch a good handful of these and put them in a bottle in the sun. As soon as the sun had extracted the oil from the fish worms the father was told to massage the boys' fingers thoroughly and regularly using this oil. The cure was wonderful.

Miss Claire Andree
At the Grand Opera House This Week

is Demonstrating many receips which can be successfully made with Jewel Shortening.

Miss Andree Chooses Jewel Shortening Exclusively

Miss Claire Andree, lecturer De Both Home Makers' School.

CHOCOLATE CAKE

½ cupful of Jewel shortening.
2 cupfuls of brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cupful of cocoa
½ cupful of boiling water
½ cupful of sour milk
1½ cupfuls of flour
1 teaspoonful of soda
½ teaspoonful of salt

Cream the shortening, add the sugar gradually and continue the creaming. Add the beaten eggs and beat thoroughly. Dissolve the cocoa in the boiling water, add the milk and combine with the first mixture. Sift the flour, measure and sift again with the soda and salt. Add to the other mixture and beat thoroughly. Bake in a square cake pan, in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 50 to 60 minutes. Cool and cover sides and top with fluffy icing.

FLUFFY ICING

1 cupful of sugar
⅓ cupful of water
1 egg white
½ teaspoonful of vanilla

Boil the sugar and water until the syrup spins a thread (245 degrees). Pour slowly on to the beaten egg white, and continue the beating until the mixture will hold its shape. Spread roughly on the cake and allow to cool. When cold and set, pour over the cake 3 squares of melted chocolate.

You can be successful with this and many delightful recipes, by using Swift's Jewel Shortening. Clip out the recipe given in the panel at the side, and remember to be sure you have Jewel Shortening.

Swift's Jewel Shortening creams readily, is exceptionally fine in texture and mixes easily with flour—is odorless and tasteless. In 1 lb. cartons—3, 5 and 10 lb. pails.

BERNARD PLAYERS VISIT MARMORA

Excellent Program of Wide Variety Draws Large Crowd.

MARMORA, Oct. 23. (Examiner Correspondence).—In making their first appearance at Marmora on Thursday evening, the Bernard Players furnished a program of high class vaudeville and melodrama.

Billy Williams radio novelty pianist played striking individual numbers and proved an ideal accompanist to their numbers. Graham and Estelle, styled America's leading classical dancers gave an outstanding exhibition. Their first team number was the Oriental "Adezio" and as the second they exquisitely exemplified the Argentine tango. Estelle also gave a tap dance, while for his individual number Graham chose the buck dance. These numbers drew great applause.

Anthony Chaitka, celebrated Bohemian violinist showed great accomplishment as he played Sicilienne and Rigaudon as arranged by Francois-Kreisler and "Souvenir." Ardia, Elsie Bernard, English and American Screen star and Henry Richardson English producer with other members of the troupe showed clever acting powers in their parts in the skit "Nothing happens to Jones" and the one-act melodrama "The Monkey's Paw." Mr. Richardson also gave two dramatic readings from Shakespeare "To be or not to be" and 'O that these two too solid flesh would melt.'

The program was given under the auspices of the Men's Club of St. Paul's church and the announcements were given out by the Rev. George B. Seymour who was in charge of the arrangements of the Bernard Players.

CONVENTION IS HELD AT COOPER

Encouraging Reports Read at O.R.E.C., Madoc and Elzier Townships Gathering.

GOOD PROGRAM

QUEENSBORO, October 23 (Examiner Correspondence). — The annual O.R.E.C. convention for the Townships of Madoc and Elzivir was held in Cooper United Church on Wednesday afternoon and evening. The attendance was large and all the department superintendents presented a report either personally or in proxy, all but a couple being present. The reports, although not all that might be hoped for, were encouraging, showing the Sunday School workers of the district were active and interested in their task. All the schools had made an offering to the O.R.E.C. funds and the county claims were all met excepting the amount of $1.03 which was later made up. The devotional exercises in the afternoon were in the hands of Mrs. John McCaffery, superintendent of Hart's School. She was assisted by Mrs. Egbert Demorest, Mrs. Allan Holmes, Mrs. J. F. Everson, and the Rev. Mr. Everson, who offered prayer. The township president, Mrs. Fred Sager, then took charge. Mrs James Keene of Madoc, secretary, read the minutes of the last annual meeting and these were approved.

Following the reports a round table was conducted by Rev. Milton Sanderson of Toronto, representative of the O.R.E.C. department. Several questions of vital interest were asked and discussed, such as, What are the qualifications of a good teacher? with such answers as consecration, faithfulness, desire to grow spiritually, tactfulness, and readiness to know his work and put his best into it. The matter of mixed classes was taken up and it was considered that after the later 'teen age it was more profitable to hold separate classes for young men and young women. There was a lengthy talk on Why adolescent boys and girls drift away from attendance at Sunday School, and it was decided that the lack of fathers at the service had much to do with this. A good superintendent was described as one who was punctual, with a God-approved character, who chose hymns and Bible lesson carefully that they might centre around a theme. Many suggestions were given on how to get scholars to study the lesson at home, one of the best being an attempt to interest them in the coming lesson on the present Sunday. It was though that advancement could be made in the matter of memorization work in the classes.

Rev. J. R. Trumpour, pastor of the Cooper church, conducted the devotions in the evening. George Ketcheson presented the report of the Nominating Committee, and Rev. Mr. Marshall of St. Peters, Presbyterian Church, Madoc, installed the following officers: President, Mrs. Fred Sager; vice-president, George West, Madoc; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Herbert Bailey, Madoc; superintendent of Children's Work, Mrs. Edith Hamm, Madoc; Girls' Work, Miss Frances Keene, Hassard's Corners; Boys' Work, Rev. J. R. Trumpour, Eldorado; Adult Bible Classes, Mrs. William Blair; Home Department, Mrs. Stanley Rollins, Cooper; Young People, Mrs. (Dr.) Fred Nickle, Eldorado; Missionary, Mrs. George Robinson, Union; Temperance, Mrs. John McCaffery, Harts; Teacher Training, Rev. J. F. Everson, of Queensboro.

In the evening Rev. J. F. Everson gave an address on "Youth's Challenge to the Church," in which he brought home to parents and Sunday School teachers a vivid sense of their responsibility. Mr. Everson put forth the claim that with few exceptions if parents and teachers did their full duty by the children we would have a different kind of citizen in our communities. Rev. Mr. Sanderson also gave an address on 'The Rights of a Child" which were discussed under the following heads, The right to be well born, To a wholesome home environment, To a pure community atmosphere, To a good education, and To know God and Jesus Christ as Saviour. Mrs. Everson sang "I come to the garden alone," and Mrs. Arthur Wyatt sang "I hear them tell of a wondrous country." Two young men from Cooper sang a duet which was much enjoyed. The next convention is to be held in Hart's United Church.

ENGINEERS HEAR

these various stations give special attention to the quality of the message, by controlling the power medium, in order that the essential element of audibility may be as nearly perfect as possible.

This present stage of telephonic intercourse has progressed from the initial experiments in 1876 when a one-way telephone message was conveyed a distance of eight miles, and in 1878, September, when a two-way conversation was carried on between Montreal and Quebec, a distance of two hundred miles. Forty years later, February 14th, 1916, the long reach from Montreal to Vancouver was spanned, and in the near future this route will be completely laid within Canadian territory.

Mr. Wilson explained that a transcontinental message, under the old routing, had to cross the border at Windsor, thence to Chicago, and finally terminated at Vancouver by way of Seattle. If the call was for Calgary, it went through Windsor, Chicago, Helena Montana and returned from that station over the border to Calgary. In 1928 Toronto and Winnipeg were connected over Canadian soil, and the completed all-Canada lines extend from Winnipeg to Calgary, and continue on to the Pacific coast. When completed this long span will cover 4,263 miles with the provincial links as follows: Nova Scotia, 142 miles, New Brunswick 385 miles, Ontario and Quebec 1,952 miles, Manitoba 242, Saskatchewan 465, Alberta 418 and British Columbia 659.

This system, which Mr. Wilson described as a great national achievement, will include twenty-two repeater stations along its route. Repeater stations may be popularly compared to refueling stations, re-energizing successive links of the system, with this difference that there are no stops on the way. The re-energizing is continuous, and is required to maintain the electric force, against the natural wire resistance, over the entire system.

Mr. Wilson said that in 1930 the transoceanic telephone rates were reduced from $45 for the first three minutes of conversation and $15 for each succeeding minutes to $30 for the initial charge and $10 for each additional minute. This reduction resulted in even a greater volume of business than was experienced in 1928 when the rates were first cut.

Mr. Johnston touched upon the accomplishment in telephony as illustrated by the greater speed in present day service. By 1925 the average speed in completing communications was seven minutes. In some instances the time may have amounted to half an hour. Today the average is less than two minutes. This was effected by the increase in the number of circuits and also by improved operating and training methods. For example, in 1928 Peterborough had only five circuits to Toronto. Now there are eleven.

Details of the work of the operators were explained by Mr. Johnston, and also the time-clipping changes that had accelerated communications.

DAYS GONE BY IN CAMPBELLFORD REVEALED BY OLD COPY OF PAPER

Herald of 1902 Shows Campbellford Had Strong Junior Hockey Team.

VACCINATION OPPOSED

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent.)

CAMPBELLFORD, October 23. — Looking back over the years one often wonders if "those good old days" were really as angelic as they are quoted, or if it is that the softening of time made the older folks forget the hardships, and only remember the pleasures and friendly associations that belonged to their early life. A sidelight on the life of Campbellford has been revealed by the unearthing of an old copy of the Campbellford Herald, dated Thursday, January 23, 1902, edited and owned by the late John T. Vosper, who started this week'y news sheet, which since that time has grown into a standard weekly.

Glancing over the paper we see that the same things were being done and said then as now. Murders and suicides were being committed despite the fact that those days were "good," and one write-up by a Professor Krause of Germany tends to show that the human race in 1902 was not degenerating, as was being proclaimed by many ministers of that day, a like parallel to the many accusations hurled against modern youth today.

Echoes of the Boer war are also seen in a despatch from London, England, dated January 21, 1902, which reads: "Lord Kitchener reports that since January 18, 31 Boers were killed, 13 were wounded, 170 were made prisoners, and 41 surrendered." This record, after the large fatality list of the Great War makes a very interesting comparison.

Interesting Features.

In the editorial column many interesting features are seen and in many cases extracts taken from the old "Peterborough Review." One feature of interest is the urging of a road system through the County of Northumberland, which is now a fact, and here is one item that will interest readers, taken in the light of present day scientific knowledge: "Peterborough has insisted on public vaccination, and its people are now having their blood poisoned with the rotten pus from the festering sores of diseased calves, or will be that some will never recover something as bad, and the result from its effects. Vaccination as a from its effects. Vaccination as a preventative against small pox is the greatest of all frauds, and as one writer says, a libel on Providence. This statement is supported by the best medical authorities in England and Scotland."

Campbellford news is also very figuring in it have passed on, but interesting and many of the people again still many are alive and working for the community, while some have moved to other centres.

The Campbellford Board of Edfication is featured quite prominently with W. W. Armstrong as president. Other members were R. A. Paterson, R. Lowery, F. M. Dinwoodie, Thomas Oulton, A. L. Colville, D. J. Lynch (still a member), and W. W. Cummings. It was in this year that a fourth teacher was added to the teaching staff of the High School in the person of J. Nelson Robertson of Toronto.

It was in this year also that the hockey and skating fans of the district got a set back when the roof of the old Victoria rink collapsed, owing to the heavy snow. Campbellford was in the forefront of the hockey games away back then, and the report is given of a clash between the Home Towners and the Peterborough Colts, the latter losing 11-4. This game which was played in a junior group, was classified as a lively exhibition of the winter sport and very clean. The Campbellford team consisted of F. Shaw, H. Townsend, W. Tait, Tom Blute, H. Lowery, P. Shannon, Lazore Shea, with Jim Blute as referee.

Local lodges and societies are also in evidence, the True Blues reporting favorably after a chicken spread and Mr. and Mrs. E. Skiteh giving an "At Home" to the Royal Templars, while the Daughters of the Empire are reported as observing the first anniversary of the death of the late Queen Victoria. One order which is now non-operative, the Independent Order of Foresters, seemed to have been very active in Campbellford in 1902.

An Important Factor.

And back in those days the Agricultural Society was then as now an important factor. A. A. Mulholland was president that year, and the late Dr. George A. Hay, the secretary-treasurer. The slate of officers as elected at the 1902 annual meeting was: President, A. A. Mulholland; 1st vice-president, R. C. Rowed; 2nd vice-president, F. J. Golden; secretary-treasurer, G. A. Hay; Board of directors, E. C. West, E. Denmark, C. H. Cassan, Wm. Cock, Chas. Bonnycastle, Geo. Dunham, Wm. Stewart. It was in this year that land was purchased from Mr. John Oliver to enlarge the fair grounds and extend the track a full one mile.

And it is a noticeable fact that looking at the advertising the business men of that generation did not come far behind the merchant of today along that line. Many of the old firms that are recorded are still in business, some under different management, but a few such as the Rathbun Lumber Company and the clothing store of P. Corkery, are now out of business.

Liberals Fail to Contest 313 British Seats

LIBERAL VOTERS FACE ELECTION SADLY DIVIDED

Even Among Laborites View Prevails Gov't Will Boost Majority.

TARIFF KEYNOTE.

In 313 Constituencies Liberals Will Coose Between Tory and Labor Aspirants.

(By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Five million Liberal electors approach election day, next Tuesday, with bewilderment. In the last Parliament the Liberals held the balance of power. In the new Parliament, their vote may largely determine the character of it, and its attitude toward the vital issue of tariffs.

Yet there never was such a confusion of Liberal voices as in the campaign now rapidly drawing to a close. There are the National Liberals, definitely pledged to support the National Government. There are Liberals who are either definitely hostile to the Government, or else reserve freedom of action in regard to supporting it. There are some Liberals on Sir John Simon's list of Liberal Protectionists. Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, titular leader of the party, compelled by ill health to campaign by radio and records, is left with little more than his family group.

Tory or Labor

In 313 constituencies Liberals—of all shades of opinions as to tariffs—will have to choose between Conservatives and Labor candidates in straight fights. Even among the Labor party the view is prevalent to-day that the National Government will considerably increase its normal majority, owing to elimination of so many three-cornered fights. In the last House the Government majority in the new House was around 60. But how will the Government's majority in the new House be composed? Will the tariff supporters have a clear majority over all? Or will the Government still be dependent on Liberal support, which is against tariffs as a permanent policy? There, to many observers, lies the great problem of the election.

LINDBERGHS NEARING NEW YORK

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Oct. 23.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from the Rock Springs Airport at 6.12 a.m., Mountain standard time to-day on another leg of their trip from Victoria, B.C., with hopes of reaching New York to-night. There was a light wind, but skies were clear.

100,000 Apply For 6,000 Jobs

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 23.—(CP) — The Amtorg Trading Corporation, the commercial agency of Soviet Russia, says that 100,000 persons here have applied for 6,000 jobs open in Russia.

S. S. Shipman of the Amtorg information bureau said that of the 6,000 already hired, 85 per cent are United States citizens. From 500 to 600 a day still continue to seek work in Russia, he said, but all are being turned away as the full quota has been hired.

PRIEST IS SHOT DUCK HUNTING

Sturgeon Falls Priest Fatally Wounded While Hunting in Boat.

COMPANIONS GIVE AID

STURGEON FALLS, Oct. 23. — Rev. Father Clarence McHugh 30 years old, parish priest of Sturgeon Falls, died about 11 30 a.m. yesterday as the result of a gunshot wound in the thigh received when a 12-gauge gun lying in the bottom of the boat in which he and two companions Rev. Father Bourassa and Joseph Poirier, were duck hunting on Lake Nippissing was discharged accidentally.

The three had been out hunting since Wednesday afternoon. Yesterday morning, while putting out decoys, the gun was discharged in some unexplained manner, and Father McHugh, sitting in the centre of the boat, received the full charge in the thigh. Their boat a light skiff with an outboard engine, was about four miles from shore and between ten and twelve miles from Lavigne. Everything possible was done by Father Bourassa and Poirier to relieve Father McHugh's sufferings. He was taken from Lavigne to the Brebeouf Hospital, Sturgeon Falls, a distance of about fifteen miles, by automobile and Dr. Palement examined the injury. In his opinion, Father McHugh had died before reaching shore. There will be no inquest.

Father McHugh had served in Sturgeon Falls about two years. This was his first charge. Solemn High Mass was celebrated in St. Joseph's Cathedral here at 8 o'clock this morning. The body then was sent to Sault Ste. Marie for burial. The burial service will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning with Bishop Scollard officiating.

The Kiaochow-Tsinan Railway of China plans to extend its line into Honan Province.

Features Of Generl Election In England

HIGHLIGHTS OF OPENING OF BRITISH ELECTION CAMPAIGN. Here are a couple of flashes from the opening of the general election campaign in Great Britain. LONG LINE AWAITS OPENING OF DOORS FOR COOKING LECTURES

Hundreds Are Unable to Gain Admittance to Thursday Afternoon's Session.

HOME FURNISHINGS.

"Daughter takes a turn at Cooking" was the theme of Thursday afternoon's lecture by Miss Claire Andree, at the Grand Opera House where the DeBoth Schools are in session.

To the uninitiated, the huge crowds wending their way to the school are a source of wonder and amazement, but to those who have attended since Tuesday the attraction is self evident, for:

"We may live without poetry, music or art;
We may live without conscience and live without heart;
We may live without friends;
We may live without books;
But civilized man cannot live without cooks."

"To reach school on time" seems to be the chief object of Peterborough's homemakers, who very often find the last seat taken long before the clock strikes the appointed hour. Again to-day, hundreds were unable to gain admittance.

To the fortunate ones, the lecturer was introduced by Mrs. F. L. Robinson, although with most of her audience she was already on intimate terms.

Miss Andree's culinary art and vivacious manner of demonstrating still hold their fascination, and each day has added a new dignity to the commonplace tasks of the housewife. It will surely be the aim of every woman in attendance to fashion her own home on the plan outlined by Miss Andree, with furnishings which may be obtained right at home by going to Comstock's.

That elusive note of charm may be captured in the dining room by a bowl of gay marigolds from the Peterborough Floral Company. And linens! Beautiful hemstitched white tablecloths, such as were demonstrated may be purchased by the enterprising buyer at "Fairs', the Home of Fine Linens."

The keynote of the lecturers operations in her modernly equipped kitchen, was daintiness combined with the ease and facility of the true artist. This, alone, is a lesson which well repaid all the time and effort expended by the large class.

Toothsome Concoctions

Flowing from her agile hand in quick succession came such toothsome concoctions as Cherry Roly Poly, Cornucopia Sandwich, Marble Angel Food, and Orange Banana Cream. Even an inexperienced daughter, after Miss Andree's definite instructions, could manage any of these, as well as the Veal Stew with sour cream.

More than this, she will know just where to shop, for not only the necessary groceries, but the utensils for making and baking.

It may just be possible that the beautiful Hotpoint C.G.E. Stove should be drawn to-day by the daughter who has decided to "take a turn at cooking."

"Reducing" had no place in Miss Andree's recipes which called for such generous quantities of Silverwoods milk and cream; The Campbell Dairy's butter and ice cream, and Swift's Jewel shortening, in pies, pastries and cakes.

Speaking of cake—one of the students was heard inquiring at Hooper's for an angel cake "like Miss Andree displayed"—and she got it.

The Examiner, who sponsors the DeBoth School, has won for itself the gratitude of every Peterborough housewife, old and young, for making this class possible. And they were all there, every day.

Miss Andree's inimitable versatility in demonstrating the many pieces of kitchen equipment—electric appliances from Grant and Thorpe's, and Watson's; cabinet and work tables from the Canadian Department Stores—brought to her class in each lesson something new and interesting, as did her repeated advice regarding Anthony's fresh fruit and vegetables; the lotions and drugs put up by Bond's Drug Store; the perfection of Boyle's groceries; the many products of the Canada Starch Company, and the high grade meats sold at Joplings.

She gave Rinso and Lux a decided preference for the laundry, while her test of Lansfield's as expert cleaners was satisfactorily shown by actual results.

Comfort was assured every housewife, as well as beauty, in Dillow's "Blue Moon' shoes, and Madam Merriam, as a beauty expert, was highly endorsed.

The "staff of life" by Stocks in their "Vitos" loaf, and Quaker Oats Flour, held a strong place in the experimental kitchen.

Hame making and cooking are taking a new lease of life through the lectures given this week.

Great interest is daily added by the information so graciously given the question drawer in which she dispels many doubts relating to the kitchen.

Miss Thomas, her colleague, was an excellent foil, in her quiet, unassuming efficiency, to the lecturer's brilliant and executive tactics.

The gifts to members of the class yesterday, while not the chief feature, created a furore of excitement, especially when every lady whose birthday it was received a valuable gift.

An announcement was made by Mr. Glover, managing director of The Examiner, that several requests had been sent to him that a collection be taken at to-day's school for The Examiner Relief Fund. Great applause greeted the suggestion.

The ladies made happy for the day's drawing of prizes included the following::—

Twenty-five prize shopping bags were won by the following:

Mrs. L. W. Meredith, 172 Lansdowne street; Mrs. C. Corbett, 125 Fradette avenue; Mrs. A. Roberts, 255 Lake street; Mrs. D. J. McLeod, 257 Lake street; Mrs. R. BUS, WATERWAY COMPETITION PROBLEM NEXT TO BE STUDIED Interstate Commission Lays Plans to Oppose Helpful Legislation.

TOO MUCH AID ALREADY.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., October 25 (C.P.). — Having decided to study the possibilities of the interstate Commerce Commission's plan to turn increased freight rates to the benefit of the weaker roads, with important modifications, the Association of Railway Executives to-day turned to the problem of bus, waterway, and pipe line competition.

The roads have designated their Advisory Committee to confer with the Interstate Commerce Commission with a view to pooling increased revenues from the freight rate rise under the administration of the railroads.

The rail executives believe the funds should be lent to the needy systems not given, and that railroads accepting the loans should not be allowed to pay dividends.

But despite these modifications, the executives feel they are evidencing a willingness to co-operate with the commission. They regard the requested changes as an effort to keep Socialism and paternalism from completely changing the character of present road management.

Opposition.

Some executives from the East whose roads carry much of the freight that would be affected by the rate increases, individually oppose the Commission's plan, feeling that Eastern shippers will have to pay extra for the benefit of Western systems. They have, however, decided to abide by the wishes of the majority on the ground that rail bonds must be guarded if future needed loans are to be obtained from bankers.

The association to-day wished to prepare to push bills in Congress which would require interstate regulation of buses, waterways and pipe lines as the rails now are regulated. They also wish to consider plans for opposing legislation seeking to aid even further these forms of competition which they believe have been helped too far.

Accident Victim Dies In Hospital

Cornwall Lawyer Is Sought By Police

CORNWALL, Oct. 23.- (C.P.) — Missing for a month, George A Stiles, K.C., prominent barrister, and one of Cornwall's leading citizens, is sought by police throughout Ontario and Quebec to-night. Yesterday it was revealed that he had left his home here in September, and that, following investigation by the Crown Attorney, warrants charging theft, misappropriation of funds and false pretenses, involving $6,000, have been sworn out by three of his clients.

Stiles handled large sums of money for his many clients in Cornwall and district, and his extensive practice included the handling of estates, money to loan on mortgages, private transfer and money for investment.

Falls 15 Stories Lives To Tell Tale

VANCOUVER, Oct. 23 (C.P.)—A. E. Austin, prominent real estate man of Vancouver, died yesterday from injuries suffered a few hours before when he fell fifteen stories from a fire-escape on the Medical-Dental Building. He was conscious for some time.

Mr. Austin told hospital officials he had gone to the top floor of the building to have some dental work done. He found his dentist had moved. Feeling ill and dizzy, he went to the fire-escape to obtain fresh air, and there lost his balance and fell.

A.Y.P.A. MEETS AT LAKEFIELD

President's Report Shows Society Has Enjoyed Successful Year.

SOUND FINANCIALLY

LAKEFIELD, October 23 (Examiner Correspondence) — The regular meeting of the Peterborough District Council of the A.Y.P.A. was held on Tuesday evening in St. John's Parish Hall, with members present from St. John's, All Saints', St. Luke's, and St. George's, Peterborough, St. Thomas', Millbrook, Christ Church, Omemee and St. John's, Lakefield. Rev. W. J. Creighton, B.A., rector of the parish welcomed the visitors and opened the meeting, after which Jack Cuffe, president of the District Council took charge of the meeting.

As this was the annual meeting, reports were given showing that despite the industrial depression which has paralyzed progress along many lines, the A.Y.P.A. was holding its own financially as well as spiritually. Morgan Perry gave the treasurer's report, showing total receipts of $120.14 and expenditure of $113.35, leaving a small working balance on hand. Miss Florence Hutchison, the secretary, reported an average attendance of 58 at the district meeting. At the annual banquet held last year at St. Luke's there were 132 present; the Lenten Rally was also held at St. Luke's with a good attendance. The picnic was held at Wallace's Point this year and the sports banner was won by All Saints'. The dramatic contest was won by St. Luke's. Mr. Cuffe, in the president's report, spoke of it being a gratifying year; there were excellent results such as genuine interest, enthusiasm, and agreeable environment. The four-fold platform is being developed well. Debating has lost ground, and it would be well to revive it, and as a means of progress the speaker suggested a program committee to ensure a well-balanced year's program. The president thanked the officers and members of the various committees for their co-operation during the year. As Miss Stella Graham of Lindsay, convenor of the Dramatic Committee, was absent, Horace Hill reported that while the contest was not as large as usual, it was successful and it was felt that it would be more general this year.

The following were elected officers for the year:

Hon. president—Rev. A. T. Weir, Omemee.

Past president — Miss Dorothy Worboy.

President—Jack Cuffe (re-elected).

First vice-president—Horace Hill, Omemee.

Second vice-president—Miss Edith Blackwood, Lindsay.

Secretary—Miss Florence Hutchison (St. John's), Peterborough.

Treasurer—W. E. Bonniville, Millbrook.

Chaplain—Rev. W. Simpson, Millbrook.

Dramatic Committee — J. Price, All Saints'; Miss Stella Graham, Lindsay, Mr. Hepburn, St. Luke's, Mr. Charlton, Lakefield, Miss Hutchison, St. John's, Mr. Bonniville, Millbrook, Mr. Hill, Omemee.

Publicity Secretary—Miss Rose Puddick, Peterborough.

The annual banquet will be held in St. John's Parish Hall on Wednesday, November 4, and the arrangements were left in the hands of the executive.

St. John's branch, Lakefield, served refreshments and a social hour was spent.

Church Anniversary.

The anniversary services of Knox United Church will be held on Sunday, October 25, with Rev. C. V. McLean, Ph.D., of St. Andrew's Church, Peterborough, the guest preacher. The choir has prepared special music.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR WOHELO CLUB

Program of November Meetings Planned—Masquerade Party.

The Wohelo Club of the Y.W.C.A. met last evening and enjoyed a taffy pull between items of business. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Desire Vivash; vice-president, Stella McMann; secretary, Loraine Coursey; treasurer, Margaret Simpson. The officers, with Myrtle Elcombe and Jear Black, form the Program Committee, and submitted the following outline of meetings for the next month: October 29, Hallowe'en party, the club joining in the annual big Y.W.C.A. masquerade party; November 4, Swimming night; November 11, the club will put on a World Fellowship play, entitled "Mother Earth." There will also be a program of games and songs of other countries. This program will be open to all Y members and friends. November 18 the club will enjoy a travel talk. New members will be welcome at all club meetings. Announcement was made of the Gym. Frolic night on Thursday, October 22, and also of Dr. Loche's lecture on Monday, October 26, in the Collegiate Hall.

Millbrook

MILLBROOK, Oct. 23 (Examiner Correspondence). —Mrs. Bonneville was hostess for the October meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Thomas' Anglican church, the president, Mrs. C. M. Westmacott, taking the chair, and the attendance and reports of officers being alike encouraging.

Mrs. H. W. Jordan, superintendent of the Junior W.A., had an inspiring list of activities for that organization well under way, as her report revealed, as had also Mrs. G. Howson, whose special care is the Little Helpers; Mrs. J. E. Allen, treasurer of the W.A. and also of the Women's Guild, an organization within the Auxiliary membership, told of the collection of the voluntary giving now in progress, the freewill offering plan having been adopted for the current year.

Mrs. Bonneville, who is acting as social service secretary, reported one bale of clothing last week to the W.A. House, Toronto, for relief work in Saskatchewan, and two others being prepared in the near future.

The secretary, Miss Rose Macnamara, gave an interesting account of the recent W.A. Deanery meeting at Bobcaygeon, and the president reminded the members of the money pledged for the local church appropriations, the envelopes to be placed on the plates at the special service held in W.A. interests on St. Andrew's Day, in November.

Mrs. Howson read an interesting letter from the Living Message describing the need, and the relief measures, in the province of Saskatchewan, and Mrs. Jordan took up the second chapter from the new study book, "Out of Bondage", dealing with conditions in India.

The hostess served dainty refreshments during the pleasant social hour at the close, the president announcing that the place for the November meeting will be made known before the date, the third Monday in the month, arrives.

Golden Hours of Restful Sleep

FOR ensuring golden hours of restful sleep in a perfectly natural way "Ovaltine" is the recognised best "night-cap" all over the world. The easily-digested nourishment it contains soothes and restores the nerves, allays digestive unrest and builds up the system with new stores of energy and vitality.

No other food supplies in a concentrated and correctly balanced form the rich nourishment extracted from malt, milk and eggs — Nature's best foods. Every particle is digested with ease and completely assimilated. It contains all the vitamins in correct ratio.

Although "Ovaltine" is of such supreme value, it is moderately priced and most economical in use. No special mixing is necessary in its preparation for use — you simply stir the golden granules into a cup of hot milk or milk and water.

No malt or cocoa drink is in any sense a substitute for "Ovaltine". The process by which "Ovaltine" is made is the result of years of scientific research. Refuse so called "just as good" preparations.

"Ovaltine" is sold at all stores in air-tight tins, at 50c, 75c, $1.25 and $4.50 (special family size).

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The fact that work in the home is never really finished; that is always has to be done over again in the routine of the next day's tasks is often cause for discouragement, but there is also a constructive way to look at these recurrent duties.

• • • • • • •

The day's work is, to be sure, impermanent, but the standards which are kept up in the right way are permanent. To maintain high standards of living is part of the housewife's privilege.

• • • • • • •

Standards are not fluctuating when there is a love of cleanliness, a love of beauty, a desire to have the home represent the fine things of the mind as well as the comfort of the body.

• • • • • • •

If the housework is done on this basis it gains a dignity and importance as a matter of genuine worth. Without such an attitude, the tasks performed are inclined to lose their significance in the making of a home.

• • • • • • •

All the lesser tasks are like small coins, which, when taken together, make a sum of value. There is much talk at the moment of money itself being upon "The Gold Basis," that is, whether or not money has "backing" in this kind of metal.

• • • • • • •

Housework needs "backing" too—the "backing" of high standards permanent and valuable.

• • • • • • •

It is interesting to realize how outsiders, entering a home, detect whether or not there is the finest kind of standard or backing behind the doing of routine tasks, and the management of it.

• • • • • • •

A usually well kept house, temporarily in disorder, made necessary from some unusual circumstance, has quite a different "feel" than one which subscribes to disorder in its routine.

• • • • • • •

Any sensitive person can tell the difference. Some of it is manifest in the very system by which the person in charge goes about the job of dismantling or of setting to rights the disordered place.

• • • • • • •

It is difficult to think of any branch of the home where the upkeep of the standards it represents are not of prime importance. By the accumulation of days with small duties well discharged is the standard of the home set by the homemaker.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

TEETH.

One of the discouraging things a mother frequently meets is to have a youngster to whom she is giving every possible care, begin to have early decay of the teeth.

Knowing that diet is a factor she persuades the youngster to eat the various foods containing lime and phosphorus, has him take cod liver oil and also plenty of milk. In some cases this will stop the decay, but in other cases this is not sufficient and the youngster loses his first set of teeth years before they should be making way for the permanent teeth.

Now what should be done to prevent the decay of teeth in youngsters, and to save those already attacked?

That too much starch may cause trouble is true to some extent, because a youngster filling himself up on bread, candy, sugar, potatoes, pies and cakes is not going to have the room for the other kinds of food that are rich in minerals. A youngster needs starch food to give energy for play, and it hardly seems right to deny him sugar, bread, and potatoes. However, the precious vitamin C, as well as vitamin D (in cod liver oil) is necessary for the growth and development of the teeth and so the strachy foods must be cut down somewhat to make room for fresh ripe fruits, oranges, and grapefruit. The minerals, lime and phosphorus, found in fruits and vegetables are equally necessary to build teeth and prevent their decay.

Another point is that if the youngster sees the dentist every three or six months any little cavities will be discovered and, if these are filled, decay is prevented.

The mouth and teeth should be washed out after every meal, as particles of food resting on the teeth can actually start a tiny crack or cavity in the enamel, and, as the slogan goes, "save the surface and you save all," applies as far as the outside or enamel part of the tooth is concerned.

Dentists tell us also that a youngster will sometimes chew on just one side of the mouth for various reasons, and the teeth on the side on which he doesn't chew are therefore likely to begin to decay early.

These little suggestions from doctors and dentists should be remembered by parents.

MOURNING WARDROBE

"A death occurred in our family and I had to go in mourning. I could hardly afford to buy all black clothes, so decided to dye what I had. I consulted our druggist and he advised using Diamond Dyes. Everything came out beautifully; coats, wool dresses, stockings and all. I have since learned to appreciate the excellence of the black Diamond Dyes. I tried another black dye and the results were impossible. I had to get Diamond Dyes and do the work over. Recently I have tinted my curtains a beautiful raspberry shade and dyed a rug a lovely garnet with Diamond Dyes. They are real money savers—the finest dyes money can buy—I truly believe."

ENGLISH HOTELS TO HAVE GAY CHRISTMAS

Programs Issued for Usual Festivities at Twenty Historic Inns

One of the cheeriest signs of the times in England is the issue of the programs of Christmas festivities at twenty historic hotels in different parts of the country.

In the list are the Royal Albion at Broadstairs, where Charles Dickens spent his holidays, sleeping in a room which had "for night-light the light of the North Foreland lighthouse"; The Crown at Amersham, a sixteenth-century house, with inglenook, dancing in the old barn, and Christmas food in the old style; the Moorland on Dartmoor, where hunters and hacks can be hired for the Boxing Day meet of the South Devon Hunt; the Brudenell at Aldeburgh, where golf on a famous course can be varied with wild-fowling; the White Swan at Stratford-upon-Avon, which is a real Shakespearean inn in Shakespeare's own town; and King Arthur's Castle hotel at Tintagel, the most romantic spot on the Cornish coast.

Music, dancing, games, good golf and tennis, hunting and other sports add to the attractions of all these Christmas holiday hotels.

PROSPERITY IS CERTAIN IN 1932 SAYS STEVENS

Facts Justify Optimism, Believes Minister, Decrying Gloom.

CALLS FOR CONFIDENCE.

His Effort is to Make Dominion View Future With Assurance.

MONTREAL, October 23 (C.P.)—A message of confidence and optimism was brought to a Canadian Manufacturers' Association banquet here last night by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

Prosperity, based on more permanent structures than those which had collapsed in the hectic days of 1928 and 1929, awaited the country in the new epoch which opens next year, he declared.

The Minister was given an eager hearing as he pointed to certain facts and figures to support his conviction that optimism was justified. He hoped these figures would be by way of contrast with the constant comparisons published on the financial pages of daily newspapers which, he said, depicted little but the worst side of conditions.

Instilling Confidence.

Things were undoubtedly bad at present, but there was a silver lining, the Minister stated. His purpose was to seek to instil confidence in the country, in the people, and in the future, for confidence was needed to-day throughout the world more so than any other element in the human makeup. There was a great deal of apprehension rife. There was a lack of trust apparent, unfortunately, and decidedly unnecessary.

"A genuine effort to stimulate internal business is liable to bring more definite results than efforts spent in external trade," Hon. Mr. Stevens said. He pointed to the year 1929, one of high prices, in which total production in this country had been disposed of on the basis of 20 per cent. for external trade and 80 per cent. for internal trade would mean an increase of $50,000,000, whereas 1 per cent. increase in external trade would mean only $12,000,000.

"I am not seeking to diminish the need for expanding export trade, but what I am seeking to impress upon your minds is the opportunity you have of making a fairly rapid expansion of the business of the country by stimulating internal trade."

Reports appearing constantly in the newspapers showing differences between to-day and the same day last year had a bad effect on the human mind, leading to an impression that all was bad, the Minister said.

Here's good news

lessens shaving irritation

MEN with tender skin discovered this luxury shave. They found that after it their faces felt cool and smooth, and that their razors never pulled. They passed the idea on to their friends, and now there's quite a group of "Vaseline" shavers. They are not all men with tender skins and tough beards, either. ANY man's face, normal or sensitive, shows its gratitude for this simple, soothing treatment.

Wouldn't you like to join this comfort club? Membership is open. All you have to do is spread a thin film of "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly over the beard before you shave. Lather as usual. Your razor strokes quicker and closer and your face looks and feels better. The "Vaseline" Jelly heals any little nicks or scratches, too, and softens dry or chapped skin.

Try it once and you'll never shave without "Vaseline" Jelly. You can buy it in jars or tubes at all good drug stores. Chesebrough Manufacturing Company. Consolidated, 5520 Chabot Avenue, Montreal, Canada.

TO GIVE THANKS FOR HARVEST OF THE SEA

Billingsgate, Famous Fish Market, Soon to Have Annual Festival

Billingsgate Market, where the fish is handled for London's teeming millions, gives thanks for the Harvest of Sea each year at the ancient Church of St. Dunstan-in-the-East near by.

Some say that the 39 varieties of fish which the merchants of Billingsgate send to this Harvest Festival represent its 39 articles of religion. To these the traders of Leadenhall Market add gifts of fowl, and the brokers of Mincing Lane, where tea is sold, and Great Tower St. send other produce.

This year the Harvest Festival services will begin on Friday, Oct. 30, when the Lord Mayor of London and his sheriffs attend and the Dean of Windsor preaches. The Fish Harvest sermons will be preached by the Dean of Cork, and the "Master Parson" of St. Dunstan-in-the-East, the Rev. Arthur G. B. West, the only English clergyman holding that old title on Sunday, Nov. 1.

St. Dunstan-in-the-East, in Idol Lane, between the Monument and the Tower, was restored in 960 A.D., and again in 1666 A.D., when Sir Christopher Wren rebuilt the spire and tower after the great fire.

FAMOUS OLD CHURCH TOWER IS IN DANGER

Dampness Has Affected Shaugh Prior on Dartmoor

One of the landmarks of Dartmoor, the noble tower of Shaugh Prior church, is imperilled through dampness. As the people of the parish—which has a population of only 650—are nearly all china clay workers who are at present on half-time, an appeal is being made for £400 to ensure the safety of this notable example of architecture in the perpendicular style.

The church dates from about the 13th century, and is dedicated to the Martyr King St. Edward. The registers go back to 1563. The fine embattled western tower, which is the subject of the appeal made by the bishop of Plymouth and the vicar, the Rev. R. C. Alexander, is a conspicuous feature of the landscape on the western edge of Dartmoor.

LADY MAY'S BANNS CALLED IN CHURCH

Published With Those of Village Laundry Girl

Balcombe, Sussex, Eng.—The banns of marriage between Lady May Cambridge, the Queen's niece, and Captain Henry Abel Smith, of the Royal Horse Guards, were called here to-day with those of a Balcombe laborer and a Chichester laundry girl in the 16th-century Balcombe church, which stands half-hidden by tall firs and holly hedges. The rector, Rev. D. L. Secretan, read:

"I publish the banns of marriage between Henry Abel Smith, bachelor, and May Helen Emma Cambridge, spinster, of this parish; also between James Henry Comber, bachelor, of this parish, and Ellen May Davey, spinster, of the parish of Singleton. If any of you know cause or just impediment why these persons should not be joined together in holy matrimony, ye are to declare it."

SERGEANT'S STRIPES ON WOMAN'S GOWN

Oddities Seen at Recent Fashion Shows in London

Dress models at London shows include short fur coats, tunic skirts, very modified bustles, tiny hats with no brims or upturned brims and no large plumes.

With regard to colors, dark bottle-green, dark nigger-brown, bright violet, scarlet and black and white predominate.

Trimmings show a decidedly military trend. There are epaulettes achieved by corded bows; "sergeant's stripes" in gold braid appeared on the sleeves of one afternoon gown, and numerous models were finished with "sword sashes" of silk with fringed ends.

The Wonders of The World

THE COLOSSUS AT RHODES

Imagine a statue 105 feet high, with fingers on the hands as large as an ordinary statue and thumbs that could hardly be spanned by the arms of an ordinary man. Such was the famous Colossus of Rhodes.

The Colossus was an immense statue of Helios (Apollo), the sun god and protecting diety of Rhodes. Twelve years were needed to complete the figure, designed by Chares of Lindus from 292 to 280 B.C. It stood at the entrance to the Harbor of Rhodes and was destroyed in the year 224 B.C. by an earthquake.

The belief that the Colossus straddled the narrow harbor of Rhodes is most certainly false as it is not very probable that a Greek sculptor would place the figure of a God in such an undignified position.

It is very likely that the statue, an immense nude form with outstretched arms, stood, feet together, at the end of the long pier which divided the old harbor into two parts.

Made of bronze cast in moulds, the statue was raised upwards, section by section. The huge legs were strengthened inside by masonry and up the centre of the statue ran a spiral stairway from feet to head. Some accounts have it that a light was kept burning in the eyes of the statue as a warning beacon to ships entering the harbor.

Persons who saw the figure claimed it was the largest and most perfect model of a human body ever fashioned by man. It is said that Chares, the designer, after he had nearly finished the work of construction discovered an error in his calculations and committed suicide.

For what reason or purpose was the Colossus erected?

The answer to that question contains a story of heroism hard to match. In the sixteenth century Rhodes came under Turkish rule and while the island to-day is a poor, unprogressive, sparsely populated place it has not always been that way. Years ago it played a big part in the affairs of the world. The people of the island were famed as workers in metal from the Euphrates to the Nile.

After the power of Cretes had declined, the Greeks colonized Rhodes and a great harbor, now filled with sand, was built at the north eastern end of the island. With a city to rival Athens and a large harbor the Rhodesian seamen and merchants were for many years the richest people in the Aegean.

The Rhodesians were next conquered by the Carian king Mausolus. Then the Persians captured the Island. In 340 B.C. Alexander the Great freed Rhodes from the Persians and on his death, they regained their freedom. At that time Alexandria was the chief centre of trade on the Mediterranean.

In 312 B.C. Ptolemy, King of Egypt and once a general in the service of Alexander the Great became involved in a struggle with Antigonus, the ruler of Macedon. The people of Rhodes rallied to the side of Ptolemy and the valour of their seamen contributed to the defeat of the Macedonians.

Resolved to punish for the part they played in the battle, Antigonus sent an expedition against the island in 307 B.C. under the command of his son, Demetrious. With 40,000 men and seventy ships, Demetrious laid seige to the island.

For one year the Rhodesians held out and then Ptolemy, mindful of the service they had been to him arrived and forced the Macedonians to withdraw from the island. To commemorate their delivery from the enemy, they raised the famous Colossus in honor of their protecting diety, the sun-god.

The statue was made entirely of the metal taken from the engines of war left behind by Demetrious. The Colossus stood for a short time only for in 224 B.C. the huge metal figure crashed to earth during an earthquake, a twisted mass of metal and stone. In later years engineers tried to re-erect it but they had not the skill. It is said that the metal was sold to a Jew as scrap metal—three tons of bronze.

SOCIETY PLANS ARMISTICE TEA

Much Business Discussed By Members of 57th Regiment Chapter, I.O.D.E.

OCTOBER MEETING.

The regular October meeting of the 57th Regiment Chapter I.O.D.E. was held in the Armouries yesterday afternoon with a very good attendance considering the many other attractions of the day. The Regent, Mrs. T. W. H. Young presided and after the opening ceremonies and the routine reports a great amount of correspondence from Provincial headquarters was read by the secretary, Mrs. F. Miller relating to educational work, immigration, work in India and child welfare work.

Mrs. G. Helson reported 36 calls made since the last meeting and a quantity of fruit given out to hospital patients.

It was decided to have a bridge party in the Armouries on the evening of Nov. 27 when the officers and members of the Peterborough Rangers would assist. The funds realized to be used for relief purposes. Mrs. Young, Mrs. J. Clegg and Mrs. W. G. Hall to act as general convenors with Mrs. S. Newhall convenor of refreshments and Mrs. G. Melton in charge of the Telephone Committee.

Plans for an Armistice tea were discussed and it was decided to have it at the home of Mrs. H. M. Yelland, Hunter street west on Armistice Day. It was also decided to have a sale of home-made cooking. It was decided to sponsor the Tag Day for the blind in the spring in conjunction with the other I.O.D.E. Chapters of the city, Mrs. S. Newhall and Mrs. J. S. Fanning to act as convenors.

Arrangements were completed for the regular monthly bridge in the Armouries the day to be changed this month to Tuesday, Nov. 3rd, Mrs. C. H. Amys to act as convenor assisted by Mesdames W. H. Andrews, W. Ashby, W. H. Bradburn, J. Bell, T. Birdsall, R. G. Cottrell and R. J. Bolton.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem after which tea was served by Mrs Melton and Mrs. Skinner and a social half hour enjoyed.

Monthly Meeting St. John's C.W.A.

The regular monthly meeting of the C.W.A. of St. John's church was held in the Parish Hall on Wednesday afternoon with a very large attendance. The President, Mrs. J. Comstock, occupied the chair and devotional exercises were in charge of Dr. R. C. Blagrave. Encouraging reports were received from the different committees. At the short business session it was decided to hold a congregational supper on Tuesday Nov. 24th and the ladies were urged to do their utmost to make it a success. A report on the series of teas which have been held at several of the member's homes showed a fine social time enjoyed and a very material addition to the funds of the Association.

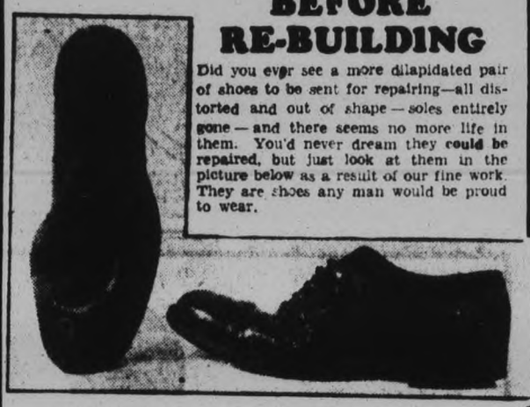
Examine the two illustrations, and note the transformation in the shoes after being repaired by us. These pictures are from photographs of a pair of shoes left with us for repairing, and in them you see AN EXAMPLE OF OUR FINE WORK from the before and after angle.

BEFORE RE-BUILDING

Did you ever see a more dilapidated pair of shoes to be sent for repairing—all distorted and out of shape—soles entirely gone—and there seems no more life in them. You'd never dream they could be repaired, but just look at them in the picture below as a result of our fine work. They are shoes any man would be proud to wear.



AFTER RE-BUILDING

When shoes—both ladies and men's—are rebuilt by us like these they are practically new, not only in appearance, but also in wear and comfort. No danger of break in shank of shoe. They are re-lasted to restore their original shape. Heel lining taken care of and uppers restored. This class of best work carries our trade mark guarantee stamped on the soles. See picture.

Wilson and Malone of Cubs on Auction Block

WRIGLEY AND HORNSBY PLAN SEVERAL CHANGES IN ROSTER

Elmwood and English Only Two Sure of Positions on the Infield.

HOT STOVE GOSSIP.

By Herbert W. Barker, A. P. Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Football holds the sports page headlines these days by right of ancient precedent but baseball rumors are bound by no particular season of the year.

More trades and lineup changes have been made—on paper—in the last month or so than the sixteen major league managers actually made all last season.

Perhaps with good reason, most of the Chicago Cubs who acknowledge Rogers Hornsby as boss. Picked to finish one-two in the National League race last season, the Cubs finished a disappointing third behind the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants.

Hornsby and the Cubs' owner, William Wrigley, already have announced that Hack Wilson has played his last game in a Cub uniform and the pudgy outfielder has been on the block ever since his suspension without play for breaking training rules. Pat Malone, the big right hander from central Pennsylvania, is another whose welcome in Chicago has worn a bit thin. Both probably will figure in trades before the 1932 season begins.

Bill Herman is slated to cover second base and Elwood English will stay at short but otherwise the Cub infield is uncertain. There have been persistent reports that Charlie Grimm will not be at first base next year although he had one of the best seasons of his long career in 1931. Third base is another weak spot but Hazen Cuyler, Vince Barton and possibly Danny Taylor will be fixtures in the outfield.

Hornsby has his eyes on Chuck Klein and Pinky Whitney of the Phillies but he has small hopes of landing either one. The Phillies have announced definitely that Klein is not for sale. Hornsby would take Babe Herman for Wilson if he could get him and he'd jump at a chance to get Ed Brandt of the Braves for Malone. There's been talk of a trade involving Malone and Dazzy Vance but indications are the Cubs aren't keen about it.

In addition to Brandt, the Braves have another pitcher several clubs could use—Fred Frankhouse. The Giants particularly are interested and so is Hornsby.

The champion Cardinals apparently are pretty well set for another year although third base may prove a problem before long. The Cardinals are grooming Burgess Whitehead from Columbus as an eventual successor to Frankie Frisch at second base, and the pitching staff won't be harmed by the addition of Dizzy Dean, Tex Carleton and Ray Starr who, among them, accounted for 66 victories in the minors in 1931.

One of the most interesting prospects in the American League is Frank Crosetti, who batted .345 with San Francisco. He'll try to land the shortstop berth with the New York Yankees.

Washington is looking for a hard-hitting outfielder and might be willing to use Bumps Hadley or Joe Judge to get him. On the other hand, Johnny Gill from Baltimore may fill the bill.

If Charley Gehringer's arm fails to return to normal he may be shifted from second base to first, with big Dale Alexander going into the outfield, where more punch is needed.

Still searching for batting punch, the Boston Braves have picked up Oscar Eckhardt from the Missions, where he hit a tidy .366. Art Shires also will be wearing a Brave uniform next season and probably will be the regular first baseman in place of Early Sheely.

New Style Golf Tourney Planned

NE WYORK, N.Y., Oct. 23.—(C.P.) — The unemployed of New York are to benefit from the ever-rising hope of the golf "dub" to do better next time. LINDSAY HERE ON SATURDAY

P.C.I. Seniors Will Play Last Scheduled Game in James Stevenson Park.

LEADING THE GROUP

After two successive Saturdays away from home, the local Collegiate senior gridders will play their last regular scheduled contest at James Stevenson Park this Saturday when they meet the Lindsay Collegiate squad.

The locals, fresh from their recent triumph over the classy Oshawa team in the Motor City last week, are now in the best shape that they have been in this year and should finish their group schedule without a loss. However, Coach Legon is not by any means underrating the Scugogville outfit as the latter handed Cobourg a beating a week ago and the Garnet and Grey boys will be on their toes all the way.

With the exception of Vern Armstrong and Grant Breckenridge, the entire squad will be intact for the fray and after several hard scrimmages this week, the boys will be in tip-top shape. The presence of Dick Greene added considerable strength to the crew in their game in Oshawa and the former U.T.S. star will be more effective every time out as he swings into the style of the local team.

The return of Ralph Clark, who has been out of the game for several weeks with injuries, will also bolster the line to no small degree as the regular line men will not have to travel the entire sixty minutes without a rest.

Saturday's fray will be a tidy battle, with the 'Petes' favored to win out, and a large crowd is expected to see the Central Ontario champs in their last game before they start in quest of further honors.

P.C.I. Line-Up

The Peterborough line-up for the P.C.I.-Lindsay game Saturday afternoon, at James Stevenson Park, will be as follows:—

Snap, Marsh 5; Insides, Waddell 7, Clayton 10; Middles, Kirkwood 8, Lord 17; Outsides, Reynolds 18, Gardiner 11, Flying Wing, Greene 19, Thirnbeck 12; Halves, Young 14, Richardson 9, Quarter, Fraser 1; Spares, Sloane 15, Denneson 2, Wilson 6, Jopling 16, Clark.

Senior Standing To-date

	Won	Lost
Peterborough C.I.	4	0
Oshawa C.I.	2	2
Cobourg C.I.	1	3
Lindsay C.I.	1	3

The intermediates will travel to Bowmanville for their game this week to meet the group leaders who have yet to be defeated and the P. C.I. boys will have to topple them in the Lakeshore town as well as here the following week, to take the championship.

Everything depends on their game in Bowmanville as a loss will give the homesters the title as P.C.I. have already one set back against them.

SUGGESTIONS FOR BADMINTON

Many Followers Do Too Much Running and Not Enough Stretching.

SAYS ENGLISH CHAMPION.

(Special to The Examiner)

TORONTO, Oct. 23—Joseph Francis Devlin, all-England badminton singles champion and holder with G. S. B. Mack, of both the English and Irish international double championship, has adopted Canada as his country, having taken the position of professional and coach to the winter club of Winnipeg.

This is Devlin's third visit to Canada. He came here previously with the team of British internationalist badminton players under the captaincy of Sir George Thomas Booth both in 1924 and in 1930. Since that first visit the game has made remarkable strides in Canada. Nowhere in the world is the game played under such ideal conditions as in the clubs which exist in all the leading cities while in Winnipeg, Quebec and locally are the finest badminton halls existing. Steadily year by year the game has increased in popularity and this year already promised to be a record one. The arrival of the British champion will give the game an added fillip and is certain to result in a great improvement in the quality of the game throughout the Dominion.

En route to the west, Mr. Devlin, who was all England singles champion for many years said:—

"I hope that I may be of real help to the game of badminton in Canada. That is why I have come and that hope more than makes up for the regret I felt in relinquishing my amateur status.

"I find the game greatly improved in Canada, but there is still room for study of doubles strategy. During our last visit we found the Canadian men's doubles teams made up of players who were brilliant individually but whose lack of combination made their team work poor. At the beginning of the season my first advice to players is to make a special study of that most fascinating and important feature of the game, footwork. It is as important in badminton as in boxing and very similar in the two pastimes.

"Body balance and effortless moving are absolute esssentials in the make-up of a badminton player. One must be able to stop and start very easily, and to change from backward to forward movement rapidly. To do this perfect footwork is necessary.

"I have noticed that the large majority of players do too much running. They start too soon and run too long. As a consequence they are caught flat-footed when, running forward, they find it impossible to stop and run back after a bird that has been returned over their heads.

"In badminton it is necessary to stretch the body, serpent-like, to its fullest extremity. Shots should be taken as far away from the body as possible. If the bird cannot be reached by stretching, then one must run. But reach first.

"Correct footwork means good anticipation and this is of course the secret of success in all games."

TITANIC STRUGGLE IS EXPECTED WHEN MONTREAL - TIGERS CLASH

Winged Wheelers Called to Win, But They Are Meeting a Great Team.

ON M.A.A.A. GROUNDS

(By W. John Stewart)

TORONTO, Oct. 23—To-morrow should witness one of the greatest struggles in Canadian gridiron history, when the far-famed Tigers from Hamilton meet the Winged Wheelers of Montreal on the latter's home field.

Dope, which is very often misleading, if one takes a look at the standing of the Ontario Rugby League, calls the M.A.A. to win. The records of the season to date shows that Montreal is apparently a stronger team than the Tigers. But don't let that argument make you take more than even money!

Montreal's first game this season was in Ottawa. They defeated the Senators, or roughriders, depending on their mood, 32-6, which is a fair score for any team. When Hamilton visited the same city, the best they could do was a 9-5 score, and a lucky touch at that. Of course it was raining. The Tigers could only score twelve points against Toronto Argos, whereas Montreal ran up the same total as they did against Ottawa.

There is little doubting the strength of the Wheelers. For four years, now, they have been building up a championship football team, and from the looks of it, they have at last succeeded.

Their backfield of Perry Welch and Whittey, cannot be equalled by any team in Canada this year. At quarterback they have a man whose equal has yet to trod a Canadian grid. And he is an American, formerly of Syracuse University. All season the fans and scribes have been raving about this man and his forward passes.

Reports from both Hamilton and Montreal camps would lead us to believe that both teams are going to be victorious. These two teams always give their best against each other.

In the other leagues, Queen's take on Shag's McGill boys at Kingston and should defeat them, although they'll have to show more than they did against Western last week. Despite her many losses through injuries, the Red and White are a dangerous team and Harry Batstone will have to be mighty careful.

Toronto Varsity and Western, who play at Toronto are each eager for a win to keep in the league race. Another loss for Toronto would put them definitely out, while Western have only one defeat so far chalked up. It looks as though it will be the third straight defeat for the Toronto students. The game that's going to bear watching is the Kitchener-Balmy Beach struggle in Toronto. Last week the Panthers surprised everybody by knocking some of the cockiness out of the Varsity Orfuns, who had previously defeated them, as well as the Beachers. What a crack on the head it would be if Kitchener should take Beaches after having already absorbed a 19-1 defeat from the same team. But Beaches should win in a walk; those boys can play football if they want to.

An interesting game will be the exhibition match between Varsity Orphuns and Sarnia Imperials from the other group in the O.R.F.U. It will serve as a comparison of the two sections, as both are still in the running.

Argonauts, still with a dim hope of getting into a tie in the Interprovincial travel to Ottawa to take on the Senators. This will be the first "easy" game for the luckless Toronto team this season. They sure had the tough ends of the schedule. It should be a win for the Argos.

In all, both Toronto and Montreal are in for a big day's football, and a whole lot will be decided from to-morrow's games.

27 Players Report To The Boston Teams

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 23.—Twenty-seven candidates for the Boston Bruins and Bruin Cubs hockey teams reported yesterday to Managers Art Ross and Eddie Powers at the University Club. The opening program consisted of a long gymnasium workout.

Both squads will go through the preliminary training as one unit and the players will have several practice sessions on the ice before being divided into National and Canadian-American League squads.

Among the newcomers to Boston hockey were Bill Touhey, from the Ottawa Senators; Joe Jerwa, with the New York Rangers last season; Tom, his younger rbother from the Pacific Coast League; Sutherland, Conn, McGoldrick, Downey Jackson and Filkin, all with the same circuit last season, and "Bud" Cook, youngest member of the famous hockey family, who served with the Providence Reds last year.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Dover, O.—Patsy Peroni, Canton, O., knocked out Primp Ubaldi, Italy (8).

Evansville, Ind. — Billy Frick, Huntingburg, outpointed Cyril Hardesty, Evansville (10.

McKeesport, Pa.— Loy Petrone, Boston, won on foul from Eddie Brannon, Pittsburgh (1).

Sacramento, Cal. — Midget Ad Wolgast, Philadelphia, outpointed Chato Laredo, Mexico (10); Ernie Peters, Reno, outpointed Young Hosky, Santa Rosa (4).

King Clancy's "Townies" With The Maple Leafs

Conny Smythe's smart puck-chasing crew are working hard at St. Catharines, where they will condition themselves for the N.H.L. campaign which opens locally on Nov. 12 when the Chicago Black Hawks will be the Leafs' opponents at the new Arena. Among the newcomers with the squad are the three smart-looking youngsters shown ABOVE. They are: No. 1, Sid Howe; No. 2, Harold Darragh, and No. 3 Frank Finnegan. Howe played with the now defunct Philadelphia club last season, and the other two played with the late lamented Senators. All three are residents of Ottawa and with King Cancy in the line-up the Leafs will present quite a Capital City aspect.

Mandell Planning Chicago Come-Back

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 23 (C.P.)—Sammy Mandell, former lightweight champion of the world, will return to the Chicago Stadium, where he defended his title in 1929, as a preliminary boxer.

Mandell has been signed to meet Ralph Lenny, clever Jersey City welterweight, in a ten-round preliminary to the championship battle between Bat Batalino, world featherweight titleholder, and Earl Mastro, Chicago's contender.

Wrestling Last Night.

KANSAS CITY.—Joe Savoldi, 204, Three Oaks, Mich., defeated Wong Bock Chuang, 210, China, two out of three falls (Chuang 2.10; Savoldi 3.45 and 2.10); Wlade Zbysko, 234, Chicago, won on a foul from Darna Ostopavich, Lithuania; Abe Coleman, 200, Los Angeles, threew Eddie Worth, 188, Chicago, 17.00.

DAYTON, O. — John Kilonis, Dayton, defeated Mustapha Pasha, Turkey (Kilonis won first Fall in 9.30, Pasha unable to continue). Light heavyweights: Joe Stecher, 220, Kansas, defeated Joe Komar, 232, Cleveland (Komar 11.00; Stacher second 27.00; Komar unable to continue).

TIGERS AT WHEELERS.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 23. (CP)—With the two major football attractions of the week-end carded for the east, when the mighty Hamilton Tigers tackle the greatly improved M.A.A.A. aggregation in Montreal and the strong McGill college squad move to Kingston to battle Queens, rugby enthusiasts of Toronto and district will have to be content to watch less important fixtures Saturday.

Hamilton Tigers wound up their training for Saturday's fixture in the eastern city last night when Coach Billy Hughes sent his stalwarts through a gruelling two hour practice drill against the Hamilton O.R.F.U. entry. One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be on hand to watch the Winged Wheelers battle the champions for the Big Four leadership. Twenty-three players will make the trip with the Bengal city squad and Coach Hughes has intimated he will field his strongest team against the easterners.

Must Win Saturday

A number of familiar faces will be missing from the Toronto Varsity line-up Saturday when the local college aggregation tackle Western University of London. No less than three of the blue and whites regulars will be missing when Coach Harry Hobbs marches his team on the field. Harold Arnup will be out with an infected toe, Don Wood will not be seen in action again this season and Jimmy Sinclair is unlikely to get into the game. The Toronto gridders must win Saturday's game in order to remain in the running for the college title.

Twenty-eight players were in uniform last night when Coach Alex Ponton halted the Balmy Beach, dominion champions, squad workout under the floodlights, in addition to a couple of regulars who were watching the drill from the sidelines. Captain Ike Cumming will be the only absentee when the Beaches meet Kitchener-Waterloo Panthers here Saturday.

Joe Breen mentor the the Western Ontario Mustangs aggregation sent his team through a three hour workout last night in an effort to round the squad into excellent shape for Saturday's game in Toronto. A light signal drill this evening will conclude the Londoner's workouts before they meet Toronto Varsity.

Satisfied that his players are in excellent shape following a still week's training program, Coach "Buck" McKenna, of Argonauts will entrain for Ottawa to-night with 25 players for Saturday's game with the Rough Riders. Both teams have failed to break into the win column this season and a battle to keep out of the cellar of the inter-provincial standing will be staged by both teams.

CANADA'S WINTER PASTIME FIRST PLAYED IN MONTREAL

Believed First Originated By Making Field Hockey Playable on Skates.

CREATION DISPUTED.

Despite the fact that ice hockey is only fifty odd seasons old, there has always been violent dispute as to the creation of the game. Some advance the explanation that the Indians were responsible for it, while French Canadians claim they originated the game, pointing to the name which is derived from the French word "hoquet," pronounced "ho-kay." Still other factions have the idea that the sport was stolen from the games "shinty" in Scotland, or "hurley" the Irish winter game.

But facts seem to bear out R. F. Smith's assertion that hockey was created by making the ancient game of field hockey playable on skates, and that it originated in Montreal in 1879. Mr. Smith, a hockey authority living in Montreal, drew up the first rules and played the first game with fellow-students at McGill University.

He said that a friend who was a skating enthusiast saw a game of field hockey in England and on his return to Montreal, asked Mr. Smith to arrange rules to cover a similar one on skates. Field hockey rules, rugby rules and several of his own making were drawn up and the first game played on the river with a square piece of rubber and canes, lacrosse sticks and crooked branches off trees. During the winter of 1879-80, several class teams were organized, with nine men on a side usually playing, the games generally lasting two hours. The next winter the McGill Hockey Club competed against the newly-organized Victoria Rink Club, and later a Quebec team.

Seven Men Used

In 1886, seven men were used in games, continuing at that number some thirty years. The American Hockey Association was formed the following year, and in 1890, the O.H.A became the dominating association in amateur play. Four years later, several professional teams toured the country, but met with poor success, and the same was true when it was first introduced to the United States. The original National Hockey League, which had struggled along since 1908, was disbanded in 1916, and the present National League organized the next winter.

Amateur and pro hockey have been curiously interwoven for years, up until recently. Proof of this is the Stanley Cup, one time emblematic of the amateur championship of the world, and now an annual professional trophy. The trophy was bought for fifty dollars sent to Lord Kilcoursie, a Canadian hockey enthusiast, by his friend Lord Stanley of England, and this old battered and tarnished cup is the most treasured of sporting prizes.

At one time, every amateur team of any account had one or more paid players connected with it and no one objected. They always competed for the Stanley Cup, and gradually the winning teams became more and more professionalized, until finally they had no amateur players at all, and so the cup has since remained in the pro ranks. However, the Allan Cup, donated by Sir Montagu Allan of Montreal in 1908, is also a coveted trophy, though strictly amateur for senior and intermediate teams. The Memorial Cup was given in 1919 by the O.H.A. for the junior amateur champions of the world.

Unique Distinction For Soccer Player

....MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 23.—(CP)—The distinction of being the only Montreal-born player in British professional soccer and possibly the only Canadian will go to James Kenneway who sailed to-day for Glasgow to join the famous Glasgow Celtic club.

Kenneway who has been playing goalkeeper for United States teams returned to Montreal this week to visit his parents before leaving for Scotland. He is recognized as one of the best soccer goalkeepers on this continent and has received a year's contract from Celtic.

THOMPSON DEFENDS HIS TITLE TO-NIGHT

Boston to Have First Championship Ring Show Since 1920.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 23. (CP)—Boston's first championship bout since 1920, slated for the Boston garden to-night, appeared to-day to resolve itself into a battle between stamina and luck and experience and clever boxing.

Young Jack Thompson of Chicago, welterweight champion of the world, had the experience and cleverness on his side of the ledger. The challenger, Lou Brouillard of Danielson, Conn., seemed physically the more fit.

Brouillard, who has yet to take part in a 15-round fray, was the favorite before the weigh-in. His victory over Thompson here several months ago had much to do with the way the odds went, but "lady luck" who always seems to stick by the challenger in Boston championships played no small part in the betting. Then again, Brouillard has nothing to lose and everything to gain.

Thompson has been bothered with his weight and has had to work hard on the road to take it off. To-day he appeared capable of putting on a fast battle, however, and seemed in fine condition. His boxing is excellent but he has taken his gym work rather lightly during the training period.

Those who claim to know believe that Thompson will find Brouillard easy to hit but hard to knock out and there lay the advantages of each other.

All Saints' A.A.C. Meeting To-Night

CASUAL COMMENT

Considerable interest will be centred on the two P.C.I. rugby games this Saturday, with the Intermediates drawing the tougher assignment having to play Bowmanville on the latter's stamping grounds. The seniors meet Lindsay Collegiate at Stevenson Park at 2.30, and they are looking for another win. It's a pretty safe bet that they'll try a lot of forward passing again.

• • • • • • •

An exhibition junior game was staged at the Oval the other night, with St. Peter's Juniors handing the third team from the Collegiate an 11 to 2 walloping. The Saints have learned quite a bit about the game this fall under the coaching of C. Dinsdale and they'll be playing Grove School one of these days. Hickey and Sweetman scored touchdowns for them in their victory over the collegians.

• • • • • • •

One more harness horse race meet has been arranged for here before winter sets in. It will be at the Exhibition Grounds Saturday, October 31st, under the direction of the Fair Board, and there'll be a bunch of well-known trotters and pacers from the district entered.

• • • • • • •

The oft-postponed professional scrap and grapple card at the Brock is now dated for a week from to-night. The two headlining wrestlers will be Frankie Hart and Trader Horn—not the be-whiskered Trader from Africa, but a good mat artist from Washington. Jackie Johnston, former Canadian featherweight champ, is billed to fight Knute Christener in one of the bouts, and there'll be a couple other good matches.

• • • • • • •

We understand that Charles Hallat will stage several more pro cards through the winter here if the fans come out as they have been doing. He says he can bring some real popular athletes down from Toronto from time to time, but of course the bouts will soon have to be held in a heated hall. Evidently local fans like the moneyed fellows.

• • • • • • •

The senior ball club meeting had to be put off when the president, Hugh Campbell, left the city for his new position. But it will be held shortly, although some of the officers hope Mr. Campbell will be in town at the time. He was a big factor in putting the club across this past summer.

• • • • • • •

The Cement Mixers of Colborne are the intermediate men's softball champs of Ontario, getting the title by default when Sudbury refused to round up their team which was disbanded two months ago. Then there was the expensive southern trip that the Northern leaders weren't fussy about, so they dropped out.

• • • • • • •

It's too bad that such play-offs, baseball and softball, can't be arranged so as to finish up earlier in the fall. When a finalist, such as Sudbury was this year, finishes early in September, it is too much to expect them to keep practising for two months during the cool fall weather to keep in trim for the last play-off series.

• • • • • • •

"Dit" Clapper, of Hastings, has left to join up again with the Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League. The hub city Britin star spent the summer in and around this district, and is in his usual fine condition for another winter on skates. "Dit" is a popular boy with Boston fans, and one of the most reliable goal-getters in the loop.

• • • • • • •

St. Moritz sportsmen have offered all expenses for half a dozen hockey players to go over and play at the Switzerland resort for two and a half months. They will have no difficulty in lining up a good team, as Canuck puck-chasers like these jaunts, and the people over there seem to like the game better every winter.

• • • • • • •

Two pickup teams staged a snappy game of box lacrosse at the practice at Brock last night with six players to a side, one team winning out 5 to 3. If the rink can be obtained the local club hopes to stage three or four exhibition games with out-of-town teams here before the hockey season starts.

• • • • • • •

Outside of hockey, there is no more thrilling game than the fenced-in lacrosse sport, as the boys keep going hard all the time, with short passes, dodging and bodychecking, keeping both fans and players on their toes. We'd like to see a few good exhibition games staged here.

O.H.A. Bulletin

The Executive Committee of the Ontario Hockey Association held a meeting in the Daily Star Building last night, to deal with players' change of residence and other business. A complete report of the decisions made will be issued at a later day.

BOX LACROSSE WINS APPROVAL

Local Club Plans to Hold Exhibition Games in Brock This Fall.

PRACTICE TO-NIGHT.

A box lacrosse practise was held last night at the Brock Street rink, and two teams were chosen for an exhibition game. The play was snappy and exciting all the way, the game making a big hit with the players and the few railbirds who turned out to watch it.

The winning team was composed of Pete King, Ira Dundas and Doug Hatton on the attacking line, Reynolds and Firth on defence with Staunt in goal. All played a bang-up game, winning out 5 to 3. On the other team were McGee, Jones and Bannon on home, with Goodfellow and Miller defence and Creighton in goal. While many of the players had never tried the new type of lacrosse, they looked good. Bud Fisher's presence was missed, he being called away at the start.

Another practise is called for to-night at six and the following players are asked to be out: Creighton, Hatton, Goodfellow Shaw, Miller, King, Fisher, Dundas, Firth, McGee, Jones, Staunt, Meagher, Reynolds Palmer, D. Miller and Bannon. The club hopes to get three or four exhibition games with out-of-town teams at the Brock this fall.

Master Of Ballyhoo To Manage Garden

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—The old fight fever is welling again in the veins of the faithful. People have taken again to arguing about boxing, and it appears a surprise "bull market" may develop for the heavyweights.

There is a ballyhoo man—Jimmy J. Johnston—in the driver's seat again at Madison Square Garden, bell-wether of the boxing flock, for the first time since the death of Tex Rickard and the beginning of the decline three years ago.

Black-haired, small dapper, a derby perpetually cocked over one eye, Johnston is a dynamo, born and bred to the fight game, as contrasting a figure as could be compared with them emory of the tall silent Texas .Their likeness begins and ends with a complete knowledge of the psychology of the paying customers.

TRENT VALLEY HOCKEY LEAGUE SUSPENDS OPERATIONS FOR YEAR

Disagreement Over Residence Rule Leads to This Decision by Moguls.

NEED OUTSIDE PLAYERS

The Trent Valley Hockey League will not function this winter, it was decided at the annual meeting held in Stirling last week. Disagreement over the residence rule and the importing of players were mainly responsible for the decision of the loop to suspend operations for 1931-32.

Formerly the residence rule called for players to reside in the town or village in which they were to play from January 1st to October 1st of the preceding year, with two outside players allowed to a team. Five teams Campbellford, Tweed, Madoc, Stirling and Frankford, made up the league. At last week's annual meeting, one of the delegates requested the residence rule to be put back later than Oct. 1st, to which some of the representatives objected. Some of the stronger teams insisted on each club using only "homebrew" players. Madoc, Tweed and Frankford claimed they could not get strong enough teams without using outsiders to compete with the other teams, and when nothing could be agreed upon, it was decided for the league to suspend operations for the coming season.

The Stirling team will join the Rawdon Township League this winter unless something occurs to change the decision of the T.V.L. to withdraw from hockey for the winter. Many of the delegates are still hopeful that an agreement may be reached so that the formerly successful Trent Valley Loop will again function in 1931-32.

The National Union of Railwaymen of the Irish Free State have voted to boycott firms who have their goods delivered by highway transport.

QUEEN LENDS LACE FOR LADY MAY'S VEIL

Traditional English Wedding Gown for Her Majesty's Niece

Lady May Cambridge, daughter of Princess Alice and the Queen's brother, the Earl of Athlone, has chosen the traditional English wedding gown for her marriage at Balcombe, Sussex, on October 24, to Captain Henry Abel Smith—white satin and lace.

Folds of the softest and richest satin, specially woven for the occasion, are being fashioned by a London dressmaker into a beautiful creation which will suit the petite slenderness of the royal bride.

Pale ivory in tone, the gown will depend for its loveliness on its absolute simplicity and the artistry with which its draperies are designed.

Never very fond of ornamentation on her dresses, it is likely that she will choose to have no decoration whatever on her wedding gown but a diamond buckle or a clip set with a favorite precious gem.

The Queen has offered to lend her niece some of the priceless old lace in her magnificent collection at Buckingham Palace for a bridal train and veil.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

WISDOM IS BETTER THAN STRENGTH.

Wisdom is the greater need,
Not strength, of those who fain would lead.
—Old Mother Nature.

Long after Farmer Brown's Boy had returned to his home in the East the great Elk whom he had watched fight and whom he called Bugler, because of his buglelike challenge, continued to be lord of the mountain, proud of his strength and his great antlers. No other was able to defeat him in battle, so after a time none tried. Gradually his desire to fight ceased. He had gathered about him a band of cow Elk and youngsters not yet equal to facing the Great World alone, and for a time he was their leader, or thought he was. He was ever ready to fight in their behalf, and prowling enemies, seeing his great antlers, wisely hunted others not so well protected.

The snow came early up on high ridges and gradually the band of Elk moved down where they were sheltered and where the food was better and easier to get. It was then that Bugler lost his leadership almost without knowing it. From being leader of the band he became the rearguard, still looked to for protection from prowling enemies, so that his pride in his great strength and courage received no hurt.

But the one who led the herd wore no antlers. It was Mrs. Bugler. She was the one to whom all the others looked for leadership in search for new food supplies and sheltered places wherein to rest and to find protection from storms which now came more and more often. She knew just where the best food was, the shortest, best trails to get to it, the safest places for rest. She knew better than any others how to tell when a storm was coming and whether or not it was likely to be a bad one. There wasn't a foot of that mountain that she didn't know, for out of long experience she had gained knowledge of all these things so important to the Elk people, and the wisdom to profit by it. The other members of the band knew this and so followed her lead without question.

Now, Mrs. Bugler was not at all vain. She didn't take the leadership from Bugler by intent. It was given to her little by little by the others, and for a time Bugler was not even aware of it. He still thought himself the leader long after all the others knew he was not. If he started one way and Mrs. Bugler another way, they simply followed her, and presently Bugler would find himself alone and, wanting company, would tag along in the rear. This happened over and over again, until at last he accepted this and took his place as rear guard.

You see, Bugler had spent so much time fighting to hold his place as lord of the mountain, and when he was not fighting, looking for possible rivals and showing off for the admiration of his followers, that he had paid little attention to the important matters of food and safety. In the glory of his strength, he was unafraid. But the others of his band, the cow Elk, without fighting weapons save their sharp hoofs, and the youngsters, whose antlers were mere spikes, had always to think of safety, and it didn't take them long to discover that wise old Mrs. Bugler had this always in mind and knew just where and how to avoid danger. So whenever she moved they followed, and thus it was that leadership was given her without the asking.

"He is wonderful, but she is wise," said one young cow to another.

"True," replied the other. "Now that winter is coming I follow the one who will lead where I may be sure of a full stomach and a whole skin. It is better to avoid danger than to be rescued from it, and what she doesn't know about these things isn't worth knowing."

So it was that wisdom was preferred to strength and Mrs. Bugler became the leader of the band.

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town, and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

What To-day Means To You

"LIBRA"

If October 23rd is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:10 a.m. to 1:05 p.m., from 4 p.m. to 6:10 p.m., and from 9:20 p.m. to 11:10 p.m. The danger hours are from 7:40 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., from 2:20 p.m. to 3:40 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 8:55 p.m.

The planetary aspects of October 23rd are complex, but in the main beneficial. An optimistic frame of mind should be cultivated, as the stellar influences make for unnecessary worry and vague fears. Various changes, as well as advantages, are denoted. Financial difficulties will disappear. Those, however, of the home and of a personal character will be accentuated.

A child born on this October 23rd will, as a result of its temperament, form permanent habits in early life, and as the years roll by will at no time show adaptability. It will be set in its ways. It will be steady and ploddingly persevering, and will often be successful whether others more impulsive would fail.

You, if born on October 23rd, are fond of travel—and this is the most distinguishing characteristic of your nature. No description—either printed or oral—of other places will ever satisfy. You must actually see them yourself. This same spirit is indicative of your general attitude towards life. You take little or nothing on faith, and "have to be shown." You are, by no means, an adventurer. You do not allow your wanderings to interfere with your career, and use them as an aid, rather than allow them to be a deterrent, to success.

You are materialistic, and are not naturally religious—or, at least, not orthodox. You evince a natural interest in science, particularly in those outlying fields which contain phenomena of an unsettled and unknown character.

If a woman, you possess strong intuitions and powerful emotions. You are, too, quite impressionable, and take instant likes and dislikes to people. Your temper is rugged and uncertain.

Men and women born on October 23rd are all capable of a strong and passionate love, tinged with jealousy. They rather incline to what is mystical, and are superstitious beyond the average. Their horoscope, in a general way, indicates extensive travel, happiness and unhappiness in about equal proportions, and rewards commensurate with their intelligence.

DR. SCHNITZLER DIES IN VIENNA

Was One of Greatest Modern Literary Figures—Novelist, Dramatist.

IN 70TH YEAR

VIENNA, Oct. 23 (A.P.)—Austria mourned to-day one of its greatest modern literary figures, Dr. Arthur Schnitzler, novelist and dramatist, who died suddenly yesterday at the age of 69.

He had not been ailing and was about to dictate a new drama when death overtook him. He went to the theatre the evening before and took his customary walk yesterday morning, but when his secretary arrived at his study shortly before noon she found him slumped unconscious over his writing table. He did not regain consciousness.

Dr. Schnitzler was a physician in his early life, adopting the profession of medicine to please his father, a fashionable doctor of Vienna during the city's pre-war days of gaiety. But literature was his real love. He abandoned his medical practice 30 years ago. His novels and plays have been translated into most of the languages of the world.

In his father's drawing room, as a young man, he met many of Vienna's eminent authors and dramatists of the earlier days. When he was 28 he published his first book of verse. It was followed by a volume of short stories and from then on there came from his pen in quick succession a number of comedies of the modern German school.

"The Green Cockatoo"

Most of his dramatic works have been performed in English. One of the best known in the United States is "The Green Cockatoo," in which Alexander Moissi, one of Schnitzler's chief exponents, played.

His "Lieutenant Gustl," which was translated into English under the title, "None but the Brave," is his most popular novel.

Dr. Shnitzler had some noted brushes with the censor in various parts of the world. His "Reigen" was banished from the stage in several countries for a time, and his "Casanova's Homecoming" recently won out in a tilt with censors in New York.

John Barrymore played the leading role in Schnitzler's "The Affairs of Anatol" in New York in 1912, and later the play was adapted for the movies, with Wallace Reid playing Anatol.

Dr. Schnitzler's grandfather could not read nor write. He was a carpenter and changed his name from Zimmerman.

He leaves a son, who is a stage manager and actor in Berlin. His daughter, who was married to an Italian actor, committed suicide a year ago.

APPEAL ISSUED TO WINNIE JUDD

Husband Promises Best Legal Defense if She Will Surrender.

TRUNK MURDER CASE.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 23.—A renewed appeal to Winnie Ruth Judd to surrender and face charges of murdering the two women whose bodies were found in trunks here Monday night was broadcast today by her husband, Dr. W. C. Judd, who promised to provide legal defense.

Two attorneys were engaged by Dr. Judd to represent his wife in the event she is found alive. They are Richard H. Cantillon and Louis P. Russill. Cantillon was an attorney for William Edward Hickman, who was convicted and hanged for the murder of Marion Parker.

Has Every Confidence.

In revealing the engagement of the two attorneys, Dr. Judd said he had "every confidence" in his wife.

"I want to assure her that if this comes to her attetnion that she will have every support and assistance I am able to give her," he said. "I am in deep fear that she is no longer living, but if this comes to her attention I earnestly beg and implore her to return and that she will be protected in every possible way."

The inquest into the deaths of Miss Nedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Ann Le Roi, both of whom, police charge, were slain by Mrs. Jud din Phoenix, Ariz., was called for to-day. It promised to be a perfunctory affair, concerning principally the identification of the bodies.

Police said it was their belief Mrs. Judd was still in Southern California. A search of the sparsely populated country in Beverly Glen Canyon, where Mrs. Judd's brother, Burton J. McKinnell resided in a cabin, failed to give trace of the woman's whereabouts. Some authorities, however, were still inclined to the theory that Mrs. Judd had taken her life.

In Phoenix, the authorities concerned themselves with events in the lives of the three principals in the case, but they admitted the result of their investigation was but conjecture.

Platonic Friend.

J. J. Halloran, wealthy Phoenix lumberman, who Dr. Judd said was a "platonic friend" of Mrs. Judd, was questioned regarding an embrace he allegedly gave Miss Samuelson in the presence of Mrs. Judd and Mrs. Le Roi.

Mrs. Judd was reported to have become enraged at Halloran's actions. This, however, was regarded by police as being insufficient a motive for the brutal killings.

The Los Angeles Times posted a $1,500 reward for information le ding to Mrs. Judd's arrest, and The Examiner posted a reward of $1,000.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE NO. 11

(Metropolitan Newspaper Service) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The hills in front of von Harben seemed to rise out of a great void, and it was as though between him and them there existed nothing. He might have been looking across an inland sea to distant hazy shores—a waterless sea, for nowhere was there any suggestion of water—and then, suddenly, he came to a halt, startled, amazed.

The rolling plateau ceased abrutly at his feet, and below him, stretching far to the distant hills, lay a great abyss. Perhaps a mile below him lay the floor of a sunken canyon, the further wall of which he could but vaguely estimate to be somewhere between fifteen or twenty miles to the north, twenty-five or thirty miles from east to west.

Almost below him was a large lake or marsh that seemed to occupy the greater part of the east end of the canyon. He could see lanes of water winding through what appeared to be great growths of reeds and nearer the northern shore a large island. Three streams, winding ribbons far below, emptied into the lake. He saw moving figures of what he thought to be grazing game.

The sight below him aroused the enthusiasm of the explorer to its highest pitch. Here, doubtless, lay the secret of the Lost Tribe of the Wir-amwazi and how well Nature had guarded this secret with stupendous barrier cliffs! The cliffs seemed impossible of descent, and yet he knew that he must find a way—that he would find a way down into that valley.

IN MEMORIAM.
ALTHOUSE — In loving memory of Floris E. Althouse, who fell asleep in Jesus just one year ago today, October 23, 1930, age 20 years.
Growing in the upper garden
That flower this earth so rudely pressed,
In that land shall reach perfection
By the Heavening Gardener dressed.
Where the flowers bloom forever
Death can find no entrance there,
All is life and light Eternal
All is joy beyond compare.
There that bud from earth transplanted
For my coming shall watch and wait,
In that upper garden growing
Just within the Golden Gates.
Tho our hearts may break with sorrow
By the grief so hard to bear,
We shall meet you some glad morning
In the upper garden there.
—Sadly missed by her lonely Mother, Mrs. A. Althouse.

IN MEMORIAM.
ALTHOUSE — In loving memory of our dear sister, Floris E. Althouse, who died October 23, 1930.
Oh for the touch of a vanished hand
And the sound of a voice that is still.
But only a haunting memory of you
Our hearts now fill.
—Sadly missed by brothers, Clarence and Colin.

Weddings

YOUNG—McKECHNIE.
The Church of the Epiphany Toronto, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, when Myrna Ilene, youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth and the late Hugh McKechnie, was united in marriage to Percival Douglas McDougall, second son of Col. and Mrs. T. W. H. Young, of Peterborough, and grandson of the late Judge McDougall, of Toronto. Rev. Dr. Hague officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. H. C. Phair, looked charming in a gown of blush pink satin fashioned on princess lines with jacket of rosewood chiffon velvet. Her hat and shoes were pink satin and she carried a shower bouquet of pale pink talisman roses and lily of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Helen McKechnie, who wore a frock of apple green satin with hat and shoes to match. She carried a bouquet of deep pink Ophelia roses and baby's breath. Mr. Karl Orn was groomsman. During the signing of the register, Miss Ballantyne sang O Perfect Love. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. C. Greig, 63 Parkdale Rd. The mother of the bride received in a gown of brown chiffon velvet and ecru lace with hat to match and corsage of orchids. Mrs. Young, mother of the groom, wore black chiffon velvet with ecru lace. Later the happy couple left on a motor trip for points east, the bride travelling in a smart biege coat with fox collar. Her dress and accessories were brown. Mr. and Mrs. Young will spend the winter in Arizona.

IN MEMORIAM
BROWN.—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Wilfred who died October 22, 1922.
Gone, dear Wilfred, gone to rest,
Resting those hands which did their best.
To a beautiful life that came to an end;
You died as you lived, everyone's friend.
How often there comes before us
Your face, so kind and dear;
Loved, remembered, thought of always,
Often wishing that you were here.
We have only your memory, dear Wilfred,
As we journey our whole life through,
But that memory will last forever
As we treasure it always of you.
Calm and peaceful he is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that follows pain;
We who loved you sadly miss you
But trust in God to meet again.

PLANE CRASHES AT AIRPORT, ONE DEAD

Four Inmates Escape in Prison Break

TWO OVERTAKEN ONE SHOT DOWN OTHER SUICIDES

Officer Killed in Duel as Pair Are Seeking Car After Wrecking One.

TWO ELUDE CAPTURE.

Break Comes as 'Phone Repairmen Have Ladder Against Wall.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 24—A mid-afternoon prison break followed by the slaying of a policeman and one convict and by the suicide of another, had police hunting today throughout Northern New Jersey for two other prisoners who got away.

Four convicts, armed with two pistols, scaled the walls of the State Prison yesterday, commandeered two motorcars and fled in opposite directions, two men in each car. The two who headed north had evaded capture early today, despite the wide-flung police line stretched across their supposed path.

The other two met death when cornered by police at Oxford Valley, Pa., less than two hours after the prison break. A police officer of the Philadelphia bandit squad—Joseph Campbell—was wounded in the exchange of gunfire that immediately preceded the end of the chase. He died several hours later.

The convicts killed were James McGrath, who was mortally wounded after he had fired the shots that dropped the policeman; and Jack Wierman, who shot himself as officers closed in upon him.

Guard Wounded

John D. White, a prison guard, had been wounded earlier when he attempted to block the break for liberty.

The men still at large today were Frank Siebert, 25, who was serving a 15 year term, and James Stoddard, 35, a three-year man.

The four convicts timed their break at a moment when a ladder was leaning against the wall for the use of telephone repairmen. Bowling two workmen from the ladder, the convicts opened fire on the prison guard, White dropping him with slugs in the chest. From the guard tower in which White was stationed they took a revolver and a riot gun, then dropped over the wall and got away in the two cars parked nearby.

The automobile which McGrath and Wierman used was wrecked in a collision at Oxford Valley. The convicts were attempting to seize another car to continue their flight when policemen on motorcycles caught up with them.

McGrath resisted firing the shots that dropped officer Campbell. Wierman, facing capture, pointed the muzzle of a riot gun at his head and pulled the trigger.

Farmers In Arms Check Fire Fiend

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 24. (CP) All was quiet on the Wentworth front last night. With lights blazing in farm yards from one end of the county to the other, the fire bug, if he planned any incendiary activities during the hours of darkness, was thwarted in his intentions.

Elaborate precautions had been taken to bring to an end the reign of terror which has gripped Wentworth for a fortnight and resulted in no less than fourteen conflagrations. County police were on the alert, waiting to respond to any alarms that might be turned in. Provincial officers, with deputy Commissioner Cuddy and Inspector Miller on the job, were in the area in full force, prepared to pounce upon any suspicious character that might be noticed.

Court Case Opens To Find Plaintiff Acting as Juror

SYDNEY, Australia, (AP)—(By Mail)—Consternation was created in divorce court here when it was found the plaintiff was calmly sitting in the jury box.

By an accident he had been summoned as a juror and was waiting to try, as it happened, his own case in which he claimed $20,000 from his uncle on a charge of alienating his wife's affections.

It was the uncle who drew the attention of the judge to the presence of his nephew on the jury.

A new panel was drawn.

Hoover, Laval Confine Parleys to Policies for Aiding Economic Recovery.

(By Robert S. Pickens)

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 24 (A.P.)—Premier Laval of France and President Hoover have agreed that their conversations here deal "solely' wwith policies their governments can develop to expedite world economic recovery.

In their first joint expression they wrote an emphatic "No" across any implication that the discussions had to do with subjects which might be classified as "demands" or calls for "terms of settlement."

"Happily," a statement issued yesterday through the White House said, "There are no controversies to be settled between France and United States. None such exists."

With Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, Under Secretary Ogden Mills of the Treasury, and Jacques Bizot, a French financial expert, present, the two men had conversed for three hours before the statement was issued. They continued their talk for four more hours be-

HUNTED WOMAN TIRED, WOUNDED IN POLICE HANDS

Winnie Judd Gives Up Fearing Lockjaw From Shot in Hand.

PLEADS SELF DEFENSE.

Claims She Shot Two Friends After They Attacked Her in Argument.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct., 24—Murmuring a story of self defense, Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, 26, physician's wife and minister's daughter, surrendered here last night to face a charge of murdering Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Le Roi, whose bodies were sent to Los Angeles from Phoenix in trunks last Monday.

The frail, attractive young woman, after hiding for four days eluding one of the greatest army of police searchers ever organized here, emerged to give herself up to her attorneys and to receive treatment for a bullet wound in her left hand.

Surrenders to Attorneys

By prearrangement she took refuge in the funeral atmosphere of an undertaking parlor, where she gave herself up to her attorneys and was conferring with them about her defense when the police rushed in. They had been informed of her intention to surrender.

Fear of lockjaw developing from the bullet wound, she said, led to her surrender. It is on that wound, she intimated, that she will base her self defense plea—that she shot the two women to protect herself.

At the Georgia Street Receiving Hospital, Mrs. Judd underwent an operation for the removal of the bullet.

"I had gone to the girls' home to remonstrate with Miss Samuelson for some nasty things she had said about Mrs. Le Roi," Mrs. Judd was quoted by attorneys as saying.

Miss Samuelson got hold of a pistol and shot Mrs. Judd in the left hand, according to the woman's story.

"I struggled with her and the gun fell," Mrs. Judd's story, as related by her attorneys, continued. "Mrs. Le Roi grabbed an ironing board and started to strike me with it.

"In the struggle I got hold of the

CANADA NEEDS MORE PATRIOTISM BAPTIST CONVENTION IS TOLD

Country on Threshold of Prosperity and Nothing Can Keep Her Back.

CONVENTION CLOSES.

That Canada had arisen to her present status among the nations of the world not by the road of evolution, but by the peaceful highway of evolution; not by enstrangement from the Mother Land, but through co-operation with the Mother Land, and that she was destined to rise to still greater heights of fame and glory was one of the expressions voiced by the Rev. Dr. H. H. Bingham of Toronto, who last night delivered the closing address at the forty-third annual Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec.

Delivered to a large congregation at Murray street Baptist church the speech full of patriotic fervor created a profound impression. While containing a clarion note of optimism, it also sounded a note of warning of the great responsibilities that rested upon the church in the building of Canada.

"We are on the threshold of a tremendous era of prosperity. It may not come in the lifetime of many people who are here tonight, but there is nothing can keep Canada back. The resources of our land are indescribable and illimitable," he declared. "In fifty years from now the younger people of here will remember my words and will then realise that Canada has crossed the threshold of a new era We need a patriotic passion for Canada," he said, remarking, "you would almost think I was born here but I was not. I was born in the heart of England."

He proceeded to relate that when he was but a child his father sought for a place where he could raise his family so that they might make their contribution to the

Twilight Programme Had To Be Cancelled

The introductory twilight program which had been planned for Friday in connection with the air pageant was cancelled on account of the absence of Capt. Bernie Martin, who was forced down near Kingston on his way from Ottawa to Peterborough. It was a minor disappointment caused by engine trouble.

Although Sunday's program has been withdrawn, there will be passenger flights at the air field on Sunday afternoon. Several planes will be on hand to take up passengers, an activity that does not conflict with the Lord's Day Act.

North Monaghan Asks For $5,000 For Relief

Application to the government for $5,000 to be spent on relief work in the township was made by a deputation from North Monaghan this week.

Reeve McIntosh, Deputy-reeve Waterman and Bruce Johnston, township clerk, interviewed J. A. Ellis, secretary of the Unemployment Relief committee. They were informed that they would not receive the full amount for which they asked, but their application would be carefully considered. The North Monaghan program includes $1,000 for direct relief, $1,000 for wood cutting and $3,000 for the construction of sidewalks.

The township has a substantial problem on its hands, and its Council declared that it would need assistance if suburban unemployed were to be helped through the winter.

U.S. Steel President Sees Turn For Better

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 24—United States business is looking brighter to James A. Farrell.

The President of the United States Steel Corporation, speaking before the fortieth annual conference of the Iron and Steel Institute, said.

"Here and there are industries which have already experienced requickening impulses of consumer demand. There has been a slowing down of the declining trend of our export trade, and a reversal, last month, of the unfavorable balance of trade of August.

"These faborable indications, while not as pronounced as we would wish, tend to strengthen the conviction that the resources of the nation are be ng mobilized in an effort to shake off the despondency which has hampered enterprise and the lack of confidence which has curtailed consumer demand."

11 YEARS IN JAIL FINE OF $50,000 FOR AL CAPONE

Sentence More Than Double Largest Passed in Tax Evasion Case Before.

BAIL IS DENIED.

Jack Guzik, Gangster's Business Manager, Gives 5 Years on Same Counts.

FEDERAL BUILDING, Chicago, Ill., Oct. 24. — Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today sentenced Al Capone to 11 years imprisonment for evasion of the income tax laws.

Capone also was fined $50,000 and ordered to pay the costs of his prosecution.

Judge Wilkerson ruled that Capone might be given credit on his six months contemp of court sentence, passed last February and now under appeal when he had served that amount of time in the Leavenworth Penitentiary.

The sentence was more than double the largest ever passed in an income tax evasion case. Jack Guzik, Capone's business manager, was sentenced to five years on similar charges.

Before sentencing Capone, Judge Wilkerson denied the defense motion in arrest of judgment.

Capone was denied bond and remanded to the custody of the U. S. Marshal.

His attorneys fyled notice of an appeal.

5 Years On Each Count.

The penalty assessed by Judge Wilkerson was five years and $10,000 on each of three felony counts and one year and $10,000 on each of two misdemeanor counts. Sentence on two of the felony counts is to run concurrently, however, as are the two misdemeanor sentences.

Judge Wilkerson, in ordering the defendant to prison immediately, said if the higher courts should reverse the verdict on the felony counts, which charge evasion of income taxes for the years 1925, 1926 and 1927, Capone could be given credit for whatever time he had

Well-Planned Jail Break in Winnipeg Leaves Dog Catcher 20 Empty Cells

WINNIPEG, October 24 (C.P.). — Winnipeg police yesterday were puzzled and annoyed about an obviously well-planned "jail break" in which 2 inmates made their escape during the early hours of the morning. Outside aid was given the prisoners, police say, because the door had been unbarred from the outside.

The most annoyed man who is participating in the search for the score of culprits is the chief dog catcher, who, after days of untiring energy, had rounded up 20 unlicensed dogs, and just when the pound was filled some unknown persons unlocked the pound door and 20 empty kennels confronted the collector when he arrived on duty.

CRACK ORATORS SPEAK TO-NIGHT

French-Canadian Youth, 19, Upholds Canada for International Championship.

SOUGHT BY 7 COUNTRIES.

WASHINGTON, D.C., October 24 (C.P.). — Crack boy orators of seven countries are ready for the contest to-night which will make one of them international champion.

To the one who best delivers a six-minute prepared speech on institutions of his own Government, supplemented by the best extemporaneous speech of a kindred theme, will go a silver trophy.

The contestants include:

Gerard Cournoyer, French-Canadian, aged 19, who will compete for Canada in the French language on the subject "Why the French Race Has Survived in Canada." While a senior at St. Hyacinthe's Seminary, Quebec, he was cadet corps colonel, president of the school courts, member of the hockey and tennis teams He will study law.

John Thomas Lumsden, upstanding 17-year-old representative of Great Britain, whose subject is "Disraeli." Preparing for a pedagogic career, he attends Deacon's School, Peterborough, and serves as secretary to the literary and dramatic society of his school.

Thomas Shillington, 18, who will speak for the Irish Free State and the "Irish Free State" will be his subject. At St. Columbia's College Rathfarnham, Dublin County, he plays football and cricket.

Pierre Henri Courtade-Cabessanis, 18 son of the Director of the Government Telegraph of France here simultaneously with his Premier all primed to tell about "The French Colonial Empire." Scholarly, he has specialized in the romance languages and science.

Cyprus Rebel Heads Arrested By Marines

NICOSIA Island of Cyprus, Oct. 24. (AP)—British marines put ashore from warships which arrived yesterday have arrested half a dozen leaders of the disturbances which occurred here early this week.

The prisoners, including the Greek Orthodox Bishop of Lanarka, were taken aboard one of the British vessels and will be removed to a foreign port.

The situation is quiet and a censorship has been established by the island governor.

Japanese Delegate Casts Only Vote Against Council's Thirteen.

LIMIT SET NOV. 16.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 24. (AP) — By a vote of 13 to 1 the Council of the League of aNtions to-day called upon Japan to retire its troops to the Manchurian railway, zone by November 16. The single opposing vote was cast by the Japanese representative.

The council took this action after rejecting Japan's counter-proposal by a similar vote.

The counter-proposal contained "mysterious fundamental points" which Japan insisted should be settled in advance by direct negotiations with China. Exactly what these "fundamental points" were was not explained.

Camp Borden Plane Strikes Tall Tree In Making Landing

Large Fairchild Cabin Plane is Badly Smashed at Peterborough Airport When Wing of Plane Strikes Elm Tree—Pilot Overshot Landing Mark.

SERGEANT JOHN HAND, HAMILTON, DIED AT 2.45 FOUR OTHERS ARE IN NICHOLLS HOSPITAL

Pilot Was Putting Into Peterborough Port for 15 Minute Stop Before He Continued Air Journey to Toronto — Two Other Planes in Fleet.

Sergeant John Hand of Hamilton, a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force died in Nicholls Hospital this afternoon at 2:45 from internal injuries and a possible fracture of the skull.

Five members of the Royal Canadian Air Force were injured, two seriously, at the Peterborough airfield at 10:20 this morning when a large Fairchild cabin plane crashed in landing.

The plane was piloted by Flight-Lieut. Mason Apps, of England, who now lies in Nicholls Hospital in a critical condition, suffering from internal injuries. Apps is one of the ace birdmen of Camp Borden, having had much flying experience in Northern Ontario, R.C.A.F. officials told The Examiner.

Others injured when the plane took its nose dive to earth after striking a tree top are: G. M. Gillespie, Newcastle, N. B.; John Hand, Hamilton; H. Madden, Trail, B. C. and C. Keating, Moncton. All are student pilots at Camp Borden.

The condition of those injured are:

Flight-Lieut. Apps, severe shock, leg and head injuries, condition critical.

Sergt. Humphrey Madden, arm broken, shock.

Sergt. C. Keating, head lacerations, bruises.

Sergt. G. Gillespie, minor abrasions.

Three large cabin planes carrying a squad of R.C.A.F. student pilots took to the air from Camp Borden this morning and winged their way to Peterborough. Shooting out of the north, two planes circled the local field about 10 o'clock and landed.

Out of the Autumn haze and grey sky came the last of the yellow-painted planes. It roared down on the field, which has a large white cross painted near its centre as a mark for the pilots.

Overshot His Mark

Lieut. Apps overshot his mark but brought his plane to earth in a smart landing. He rolled down the gentle slope of the field at a speed estimated at 40 miles an hour. A row of trees, at the end of the field, loomed dangerously before him.

Apparently choosing to take off again rather than run the risk of smashing up against the fence and tree trunks, Apps gave his engine the gun. The engine roared and the plane lifted into the air.

The distance was too short to vault the big machine over the trees. The left wing tip flicked the top of an elm. The plane swung around, then dived to earth, landed 50 yards into the next field, and buried its propeller in the sod. In the crash it flattened out and then spun on its nose over onto its back.

The wings folded up like paper. The cabin was smashed to kindling wood.

Three of the men leaped from the wreckage, practically uninjured. Difficulty was experienced in moving Apps and Gillespie, who were pinched in by smashed control apparatus. Part of Apps' clothing had to be cut away to get him.

All five were rushed to Nicholls Hospital immediately.

The three Camp Borden planes were not coming here for the air meet, but were out on long distance navigational work. Their stop here was scheduled to last only fifteen minutes, when they were to take off for Toronto, returning to Camp Borden before evening.

Dr. A. G. Howson and Dr. S. Y. Walsh are attending the injured airmen in the hospital. It was impossible to take an X-ray this morning of Lieut Apps so that the full extent of his injuries are as yet unknown.

The row of trees which caused the crash are at the far end of the field. For one-fourth of the way across the tops of the trees had been cut off but the remaining distance they were left standing, prov-

Newcastle Wins First Game at Home, Defeating Manchester City 2-1.

EVERTON ALSO VICTOR.

Rangers and Celtic Are League Leaders in Scottist 1st Section.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—(C. P. Cable)—By a great victory today over Aston Villa the Everton club got into the lead in the championship averages of the English football league, first division. Everton won by 3 goals to 2, a very fine performance seeing the match was on the Villa's own grounds. Everton were able to pull out into a clear lead over West Bromwich Albion, with whom they were tied after last Saturday's games, because the Albion were beaten at Bolton. They must drop to third place, Huddersfield Town taking the runners-up berth by virtue of the points gained in a win today over Sunderland. Arsenal are bracketted with the Albion. They beat Leicester City.

In the second division, Leeds United got into a tie at the top of the table with Bury. Leeds beat Carlton Athletic, while Bury, who led last week by one point, could only draw with Burnley.

Southend held on to their unbeaten record, though they had a narrow shave, drawing with Norwich City. Southend are leading the third division, southern section, clubs. Lincoln City were still out in front in the northern section. Today they defeated Rotherham United by the one goal scored.

In the Scottish first division games Motherwell made an impressive showing when they beat Cowdenbeath, winning by five goals to one. Rangers held second place, winning from Hamilton Academicals by the odd goal in three. Celtic follow Rangers. They had no trouble beating Ayr United, being on the long end of a four to two score.

SUNDAY LABOR IN DISTRICT CENTURY AGO

Interesting Facts Brought to Light Regarding Workings of Blast Furnace.

IN MARMORA PLANT.

Covers Period From December 15, 1825, to May 25, 1826 —John Jones First Founder.

MARMORA, Oct. 24. (Examiner Correspondence) — From a statement of the expenses incurred in the working of the iron furnace at Marmora for the five months commencing Dec. 15 1825 and ending May 25th, 1826, some interesting information is to be gleaned.

John Jones was the founder and he received 152 days' pay at 15 shillings per day. The fact that he and the other employees worked 152 days indicates that industrial Sunday labour was known in this district oper a century ago.

John Jones the founder is probably to be identified with the John Jones, native of South Wales who died March 10th, 1862 aged 90 years and is buried in Marmora Protestant Cemetery. There were two firemen at the works during that five month period. Their names were Campbell and Dyer. Their daily rate of pay was 6s 3d.

The name of the ballast moulder was Seagriff and he received five shillings a day for his work. Two top men or tillers, one banksman and one ore trimmer were paid by the month, their rate being 6 pounds each. Then there was the gutter man who received 5 pounds a month. The cast of the ballast was 1914½ pigs or approximately 273½ tons.

In those days, pig iron was largely used as ballast for ships of war for which purpose it was cast into lengths of about 3 feet with a hole at each end through which a cable was slipped to make a connection by easily shifted weight. This explains the term "ballast moulder" as given to the workman, Seagriff.

Description Of Works.

The following detailed description of the works was given by the commissioners in their report:

"The works consist of two furnaces for smelting pig iron ore connected by a casting house common to both, with the wheel house and bellows house attached to each, having in the same file of buildings several capacious rooms and lofts usefully occupied in the purposes of a foundry—the whole forming one solid mass of building of limestone, constructed on the face of a bank of the same material forty feet high to the level of the bank. On this bank (an area of five acres, of which is enclosed with a dry wall) three substantially framed coal houses are built, sufficient to contain each 35,000 bushels of coal; another portion of the same bank has hitherto been occupied as a coal and ore bank where the ore has been usually roasted on log heaps, to free it by that process from the intermixed sulphur and upon the unoccupied part of it, much if not all of the charcoal required for the uses of the furnace could be most profitably made as will be hereafter shown.

The furnaces as conducted formerly by private enterprise, were found capable of making four tons

Brighten Shops Is Soviet Motto

MOSCOW, Oct. 24.—Soviet Russia is experimenting with flowers in its factories to improve the air and brighten the shop.

Barrels containing palms and various flowers have been placed in the magneto department of the large Moscow electrical works by certain authorities who believe that the plants will increase the oxygen supply as well as to make the surroundings more cheerful.

The effect of factory air and temperature on various subtropical trees and plants from the southern Caucasus is being studied with a view to installing them in every shop and factory in the country.

PROTESTS MADE AGAINST WORK

Four of Work Allotments Ruled Out on Application of Property Owners.

AT CAMPBELLFORD.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 24 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Meeting in special session last evening to draft the works by-law for relief work under the Local Improvement Act, the Campbellford Town Council met with serious setbacks to their program, four of the work allotments being ruled out on application of the property owners. Mayor J. M. Bygott presided over the meeting.

Two applications were made to the Municipal and Railway Board to stop the work. One from a majority of residents on Portage street, with an application signed by Frank Jones and others, and another for the stoppage of the work on Margaret and Naseby streets, signed by C. W. Palliser and others. Both these portions of the work were ruled off the proposed by-law.

A letter was also read regarding the sewer extension on Front street, from Mrs. Macoun, who if this work went on would have the larger portion of the frontage tax to pay. After discussion, this work was also discontinued. Regarding the Raglan street sewer, no action was taken, as compaints from C. W. Boyd regarding the construction were read.

Coal Classification Seen As Desirable

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 24.—Classification of coal, while extremely difficult, has great commercial values, Prof. Edgar Stansfield, research professor on fuels, University of Alberta, Edmonton, emphasized last night in his lecture on "The Composition and Classification of Canadian coal," at McGill University. The second lecture of a complete public symposium of the coal and fuel situation as it actually exists in the Dominion, the address brought to the fore the fact that world agreement on the classification of coal would be most desirable, but is improbable in the immediate future.

LONE GUNMAN ROBS THEATRE

Grabs Receipts in London Office as Girl Cashier Rings Alarm.

NO TRACE FOUND.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 24.—A lone gunman last night held up the Grand Theatre on Richmond street and escaped with an unestimated amount of cash in one, two and five dollar bills.

The man approached the box office which faces out on to the street with his hand on his gun in his coat pocket. He ordered the cashier Miss Isabel Gowle, to pass over all bills.

The young woman immediately pushed the bell alarm connected with the manager's office. The gunman grabbed the cash and ran to the opposite side of the street. At a late hour last night no trace of him had been found.

J. R. Minhinnick, manager of the theatre, refused to reveal the amount of cash stolen.

BRAY ACQUITTED ON THEFT COUNT

Prosecution "Just Good Material for Novel" Judge Comments.

WAS FORMER ALDERMAN.

MONTREAL, Oct. 24. — (CP) — Former Alderman J. Allan Bray was acquitted yesterday on a charge of stealing city playground effects by Judge Cusson, who dismissed prosecution argument with the remark that it was "just good material for a novel."

The charge of stealing city property to the value of $2,000 was laid by Adrien Arcand and Joseph Minard, newspaper proprietors, against whom the former president of the city executive committee has placed a counter-charge of conspiracy. This charge will be argued later.

'I am convinced," His Honor said in rendering judgment following the prosecution argument and without waiting for the defence side, "that he (Mr. Bray) did not steal the effects, because he intended to buy them from the beginning." There had been perhaps a little indiscretion on Mr. Bray's part, he said, but never any intention of theft.

16 Youths Arrested For Rousing Strikers

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 24—Sixteen boys, whose ages ranged from eight to 17 years, alleged members of the "Young Pioneers," were taken into custody early yesterday by police who have patrolled the mill districts of this city during a strike of 22,000 textile operatives in the past two weeks. The "Young Pioneers," police said, is a juvenile Communist organization.

The boys were creating a disturbance with dishpans, horns and other noise making devices, police said, ostensibly for the purpose of arousing strikers for picket duty at the mills.

More than 50,000 houses and flats were built in the London district last year.

In Manchurian Theatre Of War

These graphic pictures aptly illustrate the hostilities that have been holding the spotlight of world attention along the Manchurnan front. A detachment of Japanese troops (lower) is shown marching into the ancient walled city of Taonan following the capture from the Chinese defenders. Japanese officers (upper right) are inspecting some of the thousands of guns taken from the Chinese troops at Changchun. The photo in upper left depicts a throng of refugees crowding the railway station at Changchun as they fled from advancing soldiery of Japan. So hastily did some of the people leave that many of them traveled only in dainty house gowns, instead of their usual garments.

POWER COMPANY ASSESSMENT AT CAMPBELLFORD IS REDUCED

Cut From $78,750 to $18,000 at Court of Revision Sitting.

OTHER APPEALS HEARD.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 24 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—After a long discussion and a cross current of questions, the assessment of the Quinte Power Company was, last evening, reduced by the Court of Revision, sitting in Campbellford at an adjourned meeting, from the present assessment of $78,750 to $60,000, this sum being made up of $25,000 on the land and $35,000 on the buildings and machinery. Mayor J. M. Bygott presided over the court.

Making his appeal for the company, J. G. G. Kerry stated that the whole assessment was too high, based as it was on the cost of the property and not on the value of it. The court did not take into consideration, he thought, the fact that the company was not a local concern and carried on a highly competitive business.

And even placing the assessment on the cost it was much too high, he said, pointing out that the Act allowed a ten per cent. depreciation on all machinery and a two per cent. depreciation on buildings after which only eighty per cent. of the value should be assessed. He also stated that the fact was overlooked that there were other power rights in the town for which a nominal tax only was charged, asking that the same assessment as last year stand. He wanted to see the plant running, he declared, stressing the fact that it was not a matter of importance to the company whether they got $1,000 or not so much as the fact that they obtained the co-operation of the municipality in their endeavor to carry on. Mr. Kerry stated that industries were all being driven into the larger centres to-day owing to the excessive freight rates and that it was up to the municipalities to make operation of plants as easy as possible and living as reasonable as it could be made to induce plants to locate outside the larger centres.

Allow For Depreciation.

In moving the resolution for the reduction, Deputy-Reeve N. Alex. MacColl declared that the court ought, in fairness to allow for depreciation, especially on machinery. Reeve J. N. Stone, seconding the motion, said that he felt that everything in reason should be done to help industries to operate in town and also to satisfy the ratepayers. Mr. Kerry reserved the right of appeal.

Speaking informally regarding the Canadian Paper Board Company, Mr. Kerry pointed out that the receiver of this concern only had limited powers and was bound to operate the plant to the best possible advantage. He stated that business was not good partly owing to the fact that during 1928 and 1929 three large new mills had come onto the market, which had strong American connection, and partly to the excessive freight rates. He pointed out that the municipality could help greatly in the establishing of these industries by pressing strongly for the completion of the Campbellford-Brighton road to take heavy traffic and by keeping down the general expenditure and taxes of the town.

NEW RAILWAY QUEEN IS FACING A REVOLT

Is Daughter of Non-Unionist and Officials Won't Attend Coronation

A girl of 13 has agitated the minds of the railwaymen of Great Britain.

It nas been discovered that the girl, recently selected as the "Railway Queen" for this year, is the daughter of a porter who is not a trade unionist.

In consequence of this it was announced that no officials of the three railway unions would attend the "coronation" and functions connected with it in Manchester.

The girl, Patricia Eileen Annie Clark, is the daughter of a porter employed by the Southern Railway at Sheerness.

Mr. J. Bromley, M.P., secretary of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, said: "The committee which runs the carnival is composed of trade unionists, and when the child was selected it was never thought that she was not the daughter of a trade unionist. As she is not we cannot recognize her."

OLD HIRING FAIRS IN WALES NEXT MONTH

"Parting of Ways" Celebrates End of Contract Between Farmers and Hired Hands

Wales retains many old customs which are well worth the attention of student and stranger. Among such are the two Hiring Fairs of Aberystwyth on November 15 and 23, preceded by the quaint homely fun of the 13th known as "Parting of the Ways."

"The "Parting of the Ways" celebrates the ending of the yearly contract between the farmer and his hired hands. Aberystwyth is a seaside resort and university town on the coast of Cardigan Bay, and for the "Parting" fun the visitor must seek the villages of the romantic mountain country which forms its landward side. Here old and young celebrate "the freedom" in their own manned.

MANY NEW RECORDS IN HIGHLAND GAMES

Thirty-Four Made During Season in Weight and Hammer Throwing

An unprecedented outbreak of record breaking has brought the Highland games season to a triumphant termination. Thirty-four heavyweight records were made.

The records of George Clark (Dundee) for the past season show that he is the greatest hammer and weight thrower in Scottish athletic history, while Edward Anderson (Dundee) holds a similar pride of place in putting, and must be the equal of any past caber tosser. Clark has made ten 16 lb. hammer records, three 22 lb. hammer records, seven 28 lb. weight records, and three 56 lb. weight-for-distance records. Anderson has another five 16 lb. and three 22 lb. ball-putting records to his already formidable record.

Records have been made at Cowal, Aboyne, Pitlochry, the Argyllshire gathering, and the Northern meeting.

Marmora Township Farmer's Barn Burns

MARMORA, Oct. 24 (Examiner Correspondence).—About 3 a.m. on Friday, the barn of Thomas Nobes, farmer residing in the 5th Concession of Marmora Township was destroyed by fire. It is understood that a considerable portion of this season's crop as well as some hens were also consumed by the flames.

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

For coughs due to colds, the best remedy that money could buy can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes the inflamed membranes. At the same time, part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which follow cold epidemics, are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs and bronchial irritations.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

LABORATORY IS GIFT TO SCIENTIST BRIDE

In Two London Weddings All Contracting Parties Are Chemical Experts

London. — Two girl scientists are marrying scientist husbands here, and both are to continue to take active interest in scientific research after marriage.

The wedding gift of one of the scientists to his bride-to-be is a well-equipped laboratory.

The first wedding is between Miss Margaret Esther Maurice, daughter of Major-General Sir Frederick Maurice, and Dr. Eric Boyland, of Kensington, who met as students at Heidelberg University.

Miss Maurice is a brilliant Girton girl. She secured honors in science there and a research scholarship enabling her to go to Heidelberg. Her fiance also worked at scientific research and, since his return from Heidelberg has joined the staff of the Cancer hospital, Chelsea.

The second scientific romance concerns Miss Rosalind Venetia Henley, daughter of the Hon. Mrs. Anthony Henley, who marries her cousin, Captain George Pitt-Rivers on Oct. 14.

Miss Henley is an authority on chemical research, for which subject she gained a government grant at Bedford College.

The laboratory which Captain Pitt-Rivers has given to Miss Henley has been installed at their Dorsetshire home, the Manor House, Hinton.

Captain Pitt-Rivers is especially interested in anthropology, and recently addressed the British Association on "The Anthropological Approach to Eugenics."

PAUPER'S COFFIN FOR SCHNITZLER

Requests Modest Burial With None Wearing Mourning.

MANY FRIENDS ATTEND.

VIENNA, Oct. 24 (A.P.)—Arthur Schnitzler, who died on Wednesday leaving the world richer for his writings, was buried yesterday in a pauper's coffin like a man without a friend.

It was at his own request expressed in a codicil to a will written twenty years ago, directing that no one wear mourning and that the funeral be of the "very last" or pauper class.

There were no wreaths, no obituary announcements and no honorary pallbearers. Only a bouquet, of blazing chrysanthemums relieved the stark simplicity of the rough, wooden coffin.

But it was not, after all, a pauper's ceremony, the writer's friends came from far and near. Literary, artistic, diplomatic and official circles were represented and their luxurious cars blocked the roads outside the cemetery.

Looking Forward

MANY people find it difficult not to brood over the past, but to the extent that one does this the forward vision holds no interest.

In the Bible we read how the children of Israel went out of Egypt with their flocks and herds, and "jewels of silver, and jewels of gold and raiment," for the Egyptians "lent unto them such things as they required." Their children were with them, and they must have been a joyous multitude as they left behind them the land of bondage. Then we read how the Pharaoh and his army pursued them, filling them with fear. Looking back they decided that, hard as their toil in Egypt had been, it was preferable to what might be before them, and, indeed, such a state of thought as theirs could suggest only disaster and failure. We then read how Moses turned to God, and of how clearly there came to him the divine command, "Speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward." Going forward, they were led safely through the Red Sea, and saw their enemies "no more for ever."

Such experiences come in different forms to men and women of the present day. Though Christian Scientists may have been delivered from many evils, they may still persist in looking back, brooding over certain dark shadows that dim their sunshine, although obviously the way of wisdom is to forget all past gloom.

A mother once went through an experience concerning her son that seemed overwhelming in its sorrow. In the midst of her anguish she clung to her understanding of God's goodness and love, and could declare, if tremblingly, "If it had not been the Lord who was on our side . . . then the waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul." In what seemed a miraculous way, the mother and all those nearest and dearest to her were lifted out of a deep grief that seemed imminent. Was she not joyful? Indeed, her gratitude was great, but not great enough to keep her from sorrowful brooding over the past. However, her desire to leave the land of bondage forever behind her was sincere, and she began to perceive that never, at any time, had sad events held any place in God's glorious kingdom. She realized that, because God is good and fills all space, therefore evil is unreal. On page 250 in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mrs. Eddy writes, "Mortal existence is a dream." In the spiritual understanding of these words, it is seen that all that mortality includes is shown to have no more cause, reality, or substance than the shadowy imaginings of a dream. God being all, evil has no foundation on which to rest, therefore has no continuity, and no power. It is based on a lie, the assumption of the absence of good. If evil were real, it would be impossible not to fear it or sorrow over it; but that Paul saw its unreality is evident, for in the long array of evils that he sets forth he declares that not one of them is able to "separate us from the love of God."

Paul, who as Saul assented to the martyrdom of Stephen, had much to forget in the past; yet he perceived that progress can be made only by forgetting that which is behind, in other words, forgetting that which is not the truth. What a joy to remember only the good!

When Moses told the children of Israel to stand still, it was surely to prevent their rushing forward in a panic, or rushing back in surrender to the Egyptians. To stand still was to induce a calm state of thought which denoted no inactivity, for by so doing they were to see "the salvation of the Lord." Next came the command to go forward. These stages of spiritual progress are set forth by Mrs. Eddy in the following words (Science and Health, p. 323): "Beholding the infinite tasks of truth, we pause,—wait on God. Then we push onward, until boundless thought walks enraptured, and conception unconfined is winged to reach the divine glory."

Touchstone Of Peace

IT is too late to discuss whether disarmament is, in itself, as important as it is held to be in some quarters: and how far the nature and the quantity of weapons possessed by the respective countries determine the prospects of war and peace. These have become theoretical speculations. The problem has been placed irrevocably upon a different plane.

Even were it proved—as it is not—that nations less heavily armed would be just as inclined to fight in given circumstances; even were it proved that—absurd as it sounds—the abandonment of competition in armaments would make no difference in the relations of the peoples, this demand for disarmament, and the danger of its refusal, would have to be regarded from the standpoint of world promises and expectations.

The peacemakers in 1919 promised to reduce their armaments. Indeed, long before 1919 they affirmed their intention of placing armaments on a totally different basis once the war was over. It is doubtless possible to quibble about texts—about the precise words in the documents of 1919, about geographical position, about national and international duties, about the legal obligation of the Allies to follow the imposed example of Germany—but it is not possible to quibble about the general sense of world opinion. During the war it looked forward to the day on which it could lay down its arms and take them up no more. After the war it believed that the enforced disarmament of the vanquished powers was intended as a preliminary to a general disarmament Since then it has persistently looked to the governments for the fulfillment of this desire.

It would seem impossible for anyone of good faith to deny these expectations. Yet twelve years have elapsed and no serious comprehensive measures have been taken. Accordingly, world opinion, making every allowance for the necessity of a thorough study of the situation and for the practical and contradictory difficulties, has set February, 1932, as the utmost limit of time when a sincere attempt must be made to reduce drastically existing armaments, which are, as a whole, as great as those of 1914.

We have, it is asserted, improved the machinery of peace. There is to-day a stronger will to peace. Doubtless these assertions are correct, whether they are applied to peoples or to governments. But it is time that some earnest were given of their authenticity. We cannot at the same time preach peace and prepare for war. Disarmament has become the touchstone of peace. If at last we consent to disarm in some degree, the peoples will believe in peace. But if we decline to disarm in any degree, belief in peace will be shattered.

That is the plain fact. Our professions are now to be tested. No excuses will suffice, no arguments will get us out of that dilemma. Germany, not illogically, says that if there is no disarmament, then the world is not at peace, and in a world where peace is not assured it must be accorded the same rights as others to defend itself. Italy is likewise anxious to put the issue to the proof, and is ready to reduce if others will reduce. The English-speaking countries are also impressed with the necessity of postponing disarmament no longer. France calls for no further delay, but appears apprehensive and not convinced that peace is assured.

No amount of special pleading, then, will avail against the popular instinct which regards early disarmament as the touchstone of peace. If there is a continued reluctance to disarm, it will appear that the various pacts and institutions have brought no real assurances. If, on the other hand, the nations resolve to disarm, the world will be convinced of the sincerity of its rulers. Disarmament has become, and has rightly become, the touchstone of peace, and upon the results of the forthcoming conference will depend whether all that has been done will be considered void, or will be the starting point for further progress.—Christian Science Monitor.

Religion in Period of Depression

WHAT can religion do in a period of depression? First of all, it may refuse to be depressed! Churches may reduce their budgets, funds may diminish, and all the irritating and discouraging elements of financial worry may assail the church. But the church is more than its finances. Christians ought to be able to see something more in life than the gloom of Wall Street. A financial depression ought to be a call to religious faith.

And religion ought to be a minister of sanity and hope. God has not forsaken his world because men have lost paper profits. Nature is doing the best it can for man, and it is time that men act sensibly and hopefully. We have discovered that the world is not as disintegrated as we thought. Poverty, like prosperity, is not national. The church has the great opportunity of driving home the fact of human solidarity and the community of human needs. When men are creditors and debtors one to another, they need to learn that they are also brothers.

The church has the opportunity of showing that civilization must recognize the worth of human beings if it is to succeed. It has no special economic or political program, but it does have in the gospel a power of God unto salvation to those who believe it. At the heart of this message is the fact that God will certainly help men who are brotherly to find an intelligent expression of their brotherliness. We are something more than a world of material wants and animal instincts. Let the church bring God to the world and believe that all things will work together for those who love their God. Faith, hope and love—let the church be the herald of these in a day when credit shrinks hope weakens, and love is not always seen to be the greatest treasure in the world!—Dean Shailer Mathews, in the Church Federation Bulletin.

SCRIPTURE.

Psalm 32.

MEDITATION.

Psalm 32:8: "I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go." The other day we saw a native of India, clad in saffron robe and turban, engaged in the study of an Ontario road-map, under the direction of a passer-by to whom he had appealed for aid. In these days of extensive motor travel most of us have had to seek instruction and teaching in the way we should go. We are not always so anxious to seek Divine guidance as we travel the journey of life, yet such guidance is absolutely necessary if we are to travel in safety. God has made ample provision for the necessary instruction. It is our responsibility to avail ourselves of it.

WORK AND RELIEF.

The suggestion from Attorney-General Price that "where an able-bodied man is given direct relief he should be called upon to do an amount of work somewhat equivalent to the amount of relief given," is one to which Ontario municipalities should give earnest consideration.

Furnishing direct relief may be a necessary step in dealing with the situation, but it is in no sense of the term a solution for the unemployment problem, and it presents a very obvious danger that it may have a demoralizing effect upon the recipient unless he is given some opportunity to work for what he gets.

Even a metropolis like New York is finding it desirable to establish a municipal wood-yard where applicants for relief can be given a work test, and all centres dispensing relief funds would be well advised to follow the Government's recommendation and endeavor to see that useful work is furnished those who have to be assisted.

Municipal councils should keep that angle of the problem in mind, and strive to provide opportunities for those in need of direct relief to make a contribution of labor in return.

It may be a difficult matter to arrange this, but at least it will be well worth the attempt.

OSHAWA'S EXPERIMENT.

The ratepayers of Oshawa are to have an opportunity, most probably at the municipal elections in January, to say by their ballots whether they favor a reduction in the size of the municipal council and a difference in the method by which it is elected.

At present Oshawa is governed by a council of fifteen aldermen, who are elected under the ward system.

It is proposed to substitute a council of ten aldermen elected by the general vote of the whole city, or, in other words, to adopt the same system of municipal government as is in force in Peterborough.

This city's experience would go far to show that the citizens of Oshawa would be making no mistake in voting for the change.

Ten aldermen can handle their responsibilities just as easily and probably more efficiently than fifteen, while the election of members of the council by general vote rather than under the ward system usually results in aldermen of superior calibre being chosen.

Peterborough has had experience under both methods, and the absence of any agitation to return to the ward system is the best possible proof that the present plan is giving general satisfaction.

HERE IS A NEW ONE.

In regard to the protection of pedestrians at street intersections, an Examiner reader comes forward with an entirely new suggestion.

Apparently most motorists do not care to be bothered by stop signs, electric signals or anything of the sort, he says in effect, so why not let them do as they like at the intersections?

To protect the pedestrians he suggests that the lights be moved from the corner and placed a short distance away from the intersection where they could be operated so as to let the man on foot get across the street in safety.

In other words, the cars would have to stop before crossing these safety zones in order to let pedestrian traffic across, but on reaching the intersections the motorists could make their own rules—as many of them seem to want to do in any case.

There is at least the merit of novelty in that proposal, and as it would give drivers a chance to tear across intersections at their own sweet will, it might compensate motorists for the inconvenience of having to stop at the safety zones.

The pedestrian at any rate would get a break, which he is not always certain of under the present arrangement.

THE COST OF THE HIGHWAY.

The decision of the Ontario Government to take over the Tweed-Perth section of No. 7 highway and to assume the full cost of this 70 miles of highway has naturally aroused other counties not similarly favored.

If three counties along the highway are to be relieved of sharing in the cost of the Ottawa-Sarnia road, why should other municipalities have to contribute 20 per cent.? is the question that is being raised by the counties that have not been included in this early Santa Claus gift from the Ontario Government.

Ex-Warden W. A. Anderson calls attention to this situation in a very interesting communication to The Examiner, coupling with his review of the case the suggestion that a public meeting should be called to press for similar relief in the case of Peterborough County.

His views will doubtless be echoed by rural ratepayers whose tax bills are already crushing, and who can see no reason why three counties along the route of No. 7 highway should be favored at the expense of other municipalities.

More will likely be heard of this question in the near future.

EDGAR WALLACE.

Announcement that Edgar Wallace is a candidate for a seat in the British House of Commons will be received with peculiar interest by many readers of Edgar Wallace fiction. British parliamentary politics is a puzzle to most people; if anybody is able to clear up whatever mystery there is, this candidate is the man. The author of "The Fourth Plague," "The Secret House," "The Council of Justice" and "The Man Who Bought London," not to mention numerous other books and plays, should be able as a back-bencher, a Lloyd George Liberal, a supporter of the (present) Opposition, to work out something readable and snappy.

Of one of his stories, "The Devil Man," Wallace once said it took him four years to collect his facts, four months to construct the plan, and four days to write the book. In Parliament he may find this process reversed; he might make in forty minutes a speech that would take forty days to explain and forty years to understand, and then be not so clear after all. His literary practice of bringing the villain to book toward the last chapter is in violation of the basic principle of parliamentary forensics, which requires that each particular villain must be properly tagged and labelled from beginning to end.

In a burst of confidence, Mr. Wallace once said that in a busy day he wrote two short stories, a racing article, attended a full rehearsal of a play and made a luncheon speech. He asserted that when interested he was able to dictate 1,200 words in twenty minutes. He said that in the busiest day he could recall he wrote an article of 36,000 words, summarizing events of the world war. In the light of that record, it may appear that, after all, he is wasting his talent trying to represent one constituency; he should syndicate himself and stand for at least half a dozen. He could even be a one-man Parliament all by himself.—St. Catharines Standard.

GOOD THING FOR NO. 7.

The announcement that No. 7 highway is to be extended from Madoc to Perth, there to connect with highway No. 15 to Ottawa, is good news. One of the troubles with No. 7 for some has been that it seemed to lack finality in the matter of destination. In a general way folk knew that it passed through Stratford and went on toward Kitchener, Guelph, Georgetown and Brampton, but it seemed to peter out some place north and east of Toronto.

With the completion of the road from Madoc to Perth No. 7 will become identified as the main road from Sarnia to Ottawa. In a general way it comes from Sarnia to Elginfield, St. Marys, Stratford, Kitchener, Guelph, Georgetown, Brampton, Woodbridge, Thornhill, (where it travels 1¼ miles north on Yonge street of Toronto) to Langstaff, Brooklin, north to Sunderland and west to Lindsay, Peterborough, Marmora, Madoc. The new link of 70 miles between Madoc and Perth will go through a lake district which has hardly been touched by tourist travel, and we imagine that right in there, in the Rideau Lake tract, should be a splendid piece of territory to attract those who delight in outdoor life of the more rugged variety. From Perth the highway will connect with No. 15, which is the existing road reaching from Kingston to Ottawa, the capital of the Dominion.

We believe that No. 7 highway, once established as the connecting link between Sarnia and Ottawa, should be a popular route. It will give the tourist a splendid opportunity to see a cross-section of Ontario under favorable auspices. Between St. Marys and Kitchener there is a series of hills, ups and downs that make delightful motoring; on the route are pleasant cities and towns and villages, and a panorama of agricultural development equal to anything which the Province has to offer. Add to that the Rideau Lakes district and a direct connection with Ottawa, No. 7 will have a great deal to offer to the tourist who wants to see a representative portion of Ontario. And it is a fact that there are many in this district, apart from tourists, who will be attracted to explore the eastern portion of No. 7 when the new connections have been completed.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

MORE INTERFERENCE.

Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, in session at London, have passed a resolution asking investigation, by a commission, of "the unseemly conduct in the streets of Windsor during the recent convention of the American Legion in Detroit."

Why is it that so many out-of-town people are always worrying about Windsor's morals? Surely men and women can find plenty of things to take their attention in their own home towns without pushing their noses into the affairs of Windsor, as did, for instance, the Hamilton Ministerial Association a week or two ago.

There will be no commission investigation of the "unseemly conduct in the streets of Windsor," for the excellent reason that Windsor, principally concerned, is not asking for an investigation. More than that, unseemly conduct, if it existed at all, was at a minimum during the Legion meeting. The London resolution infers a terrible state of affairs in Windsor during convention week. As a matter of fact, it wasn't anything like that. We had something like 50,000 visitors and the city was tickled to death to entertain them. Everybody had a good time, a great deal of money was spent locally and no harm resulted. A large amount of liquor was sold, it is true, and some persons naturally became intoxicated. To insinuate, however, that the Windsor end of the convention was nothing but a drunken brawl, is to get a long way from the fact. The people of Windsor and district saw the convention at close range and they were not at all disgusted.

We appreciate the good work the W.C.T.U. has accomplished in its lengthy career, but we think the provincial convention should have been a great deal more conversant with the Windsor situation than it evidently was before passing such a drastic resolution.—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Judging from recent police court cases, the making of moonshine will soon have climbed into the luxury class.

It is easier to prescribe remedies for the cure of the present economic problems than it is to put them at work. Resolutions never yet gave a man a job or raised the price of farm products.

Summer is not so far away. The House of David baseball team is already seeking to arrange a game here next season.

With the Privy Council getting an assist on the play, Toronto has scored a record by being the first municipality to get some money away from the Ontario Government.

Doubts are now expressed as to the accuracy of the unemployment registration conducted some time ago. Unquestionably there were many repeaters, transients registering at half a dozen points.

News of Our Own Village

Our esteemed former fellow citizen, Judge Joe Wearing, who is doing well on the bench up London way, west of here, was busy shaking hands in the berg this week.

Many villagers has been short on their meals this week, the fraus being down to the Homemakers' School in the Orpy House, sponsored by this enterprising sheet.

Geo. Gordon was among the Grits who gathered at London, west of here, this week, to hear Mitch Hepburn and Billy King and to refuse to hear Harry Sifton.

A flyin meet is scheduled for these parts over the week end at Ham Burnham's flying field, just to the west of the village. Life is just 1 thing after another here these days.

Librarians from far and near come together here Tues., and some of the village men of letters give them quite a talk, your scribe hears. Nice work, Judge. Ad and Fred, say we.

The village hockey teams aint started training as yet, the lads as usual having to wait until the canal freezes over, if ever.

Life is normal round the village ice box now the Welsh Brothers having moved their horses and cattle to Ottawa, east of here. Bum steers oughn't to be a novelty down there, many opine.

So far this week Geo. Henry's Government aint sliced any more off the village unemployment relief scheme, your scribe is glad to report.

Another industry in these parts seems to have hit on tough days. The moonshine business is likely to pass up dividends this year, owing to a bunch of mounted police fellows being busy hereabouts.

BREAKING SUNDAY

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—That this world is in a chaotic state is known by all thinking people. Great crops, wonderful machinery and yet vast numbers near starvation and wars and revolutions imminent.

Can you wonder at this? The Christian nations lead the world, but if we were really Christian, this wonderful earth would be a heaven.

One of the marks of Christian nations, as of Christians, is that they keep the Sabbath that day advanced from Saturdady in commemoration of our Lord's triumph over death and destruction, and set apart firstly for worship, secondly for rest and thirdly for recreation, at once the protection and salvation of the worker.

Our Anglo-Celtic-Saxon people have been the stronghold of the Sabbath. What a battle the sanctity of the day is having. If we remove ourselves from the protection of Almighty God, it can only be because of our own unbounded self-assurance and we can take the consequence.

About a year ago, the great airship waited until Sunday to begin its journey. Disaster and loss of 150 lives occurred shortly after.

Sincerely yours,
Joseph S. Bell.

PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY NO. 7

To The Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—Last Tuesday morning, Toronto papers heralded the announcement of a million dollar relief scheme from the office of the Minister of Highways of Ontario.

The 70 miles from Madoc to Perth are to be constructed to complete Highway No. 7 from Sarnia to Ottawa.

This 70 miles cannot and will not be completed for $3,000,000, and the counties of Hastings, Lennox and Addington, Frontenac and Lanark are not to contribute the usual 20 per cent, which would be $600,000 for the five counties.

On March 13th, 1929 during the debate on the Budget in the Legislature of Ontario the writer asked the Hon. Geo. S. Henry not to take over that part of Highway No. 7 in Peterborough County from the city of Peterborough to the Hastings County boundary until the Government was prepared to bear the full cost of the work. At the same time I drew the attention of the minister to the fact that as the Highway was projected further east it would pass through miles and miles of country where no tax collection for the construction of it would be possible. A large part of that area is of so little value taxes are almost nil.

Hon. Mr. Henry did take over and commence altogether unnecessary construction in Peterborough County in so far as PePterborough County farmers are concerned and up to the present time the County of Peterborough has not been assured that it will not be asked for 20 per cent of the cost of the work on this highway.

When completed from the city to the east side of Peterborough County the cost will not be less than $1,400,000 and 20 per cent will mean $280,000 plus interest, at any rate not less than $300,000 more taxes for the county in the next few years.

Has the Hon. Leopold Macauley seen the light, and started out to do that which should be done—the province pay the whole cost of provincial highways? Or is it only to apply to these five counties? Surely if $600,000 is to be clipped off the taxes of the ratepayers of these five counties, the $300,000 should not be charged to Peterborough County.

The time has arrived for the farmers of Peterborough County to get together and demand that their representatives request the Hon. Minister of Highways of Ontario to make a pronouncement to the effect that Peterborough County will not be asked to contribute to Highway No. 7, from the city to the Hastings County boundary. This road building business under preseNth methods is piling up on the farmer too fast—first like all others who use motor vehicles, he pays his gasoline tax. Then, he pays 20 per cent of the cost of the road whether he even uses it or not, and here let me say that this 20 per cent and the 20 per cent the cities have paid on small portions of the highways near the different cities is about all that has been paid on the Provincial Highways.

So in addition to his gas tax, his highway t...; he is continually having the Government of the province of Ontario borrow against his property for the 80 per cent which the province was supposed to be paying for the roads.

The total borrowings for the people of Canada by their Governments and municipalities, have mounted to a total so great, that were the share outstanding against a farm, to be collected, it would be as great or greater than could be realized from the sale of the farm.

Unemployment! People poor! Why? The whole of the production of gold from the gold mines of Canada about $50,000,000 a year is being conscripted by the Dominion Government to pay interest on a $1,000,000,000 of debt the Dominion and the provinces of Canada owe in New York, and the interest must be paid in gold.

And we borrow a few more millions to build more high priced roads so we can all become poorer. Sending more gold to New York to pay more interest on more debt. And they call it relief. Is it time to stop? If it is not, then it is time the farmers drew the line at paying taxes for provincial highways. The gasoline tax and the credit against his farm is surely enough for him to put up with. I would suggest that the Warden of the County of Peterborough call a public meeting of ratepapers at the county buildings in the near future, to give the farmer a chance to say whether he wants to continue to pay for provincial highways when the five counties immediately east of Peterborough are to have 70 miles of road without being directly taxed for it.

Taxes in Peterborough County are up about 14 per cent from 1930 and when the whole cost of the road from Peterborough to Marmora has been determined this one item will be as great as the taxes for 1931 are. When the Hon. Mr. Macauley has a $1,000,000 to spare to shorten the distance from Toronto to Ottawa a few miles and lets five counties out, of their share; ($600,000) it is time for Peterborough County to make a solid stand against the paying of $300,000.

Sincerely yours,
W. A. Anderson.

PRODUCE GRAIN, CATTLE,

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Oct. 24—Trading in butter on the local market was not very active this week, and with continued good weather and good pasturage stocks were of sufficient size to cause dealers some concern. There were reports of sales to outside points, but there was no news of shipments to the United States. Some local dealers were of the opinion that business would be better in the near future, due to the fact that buyers for large organizations had not overstocked during the past few weeks. Prices governing sales in the city and to outside points were steady with last week's levels at 20c to 20¼c for No. 1 and 19c to 19¼c for No. 2 creamery solids.

Cheese Higher

Brokers' prices for new cheese were unchanged at 11¾c for large, 12c for twins and 12¼c for triplets, and trading was slow. Wholesalers' prices to the trade were higher than last week for both old and new makes, old cheese being quoted at 18c for large, 18¼c for twins, 18½c for triplets, and 20½c for Stiltons, with new cheese at 13¼c for large, 13½c for twins, 13¾c for triplets and 15¾c for Stiltons.

Eggs

Prices to country shippers for ungraded eggs, delivered, cases returned, were slightly higher than last week and quotations to retailers were up 2c per dozen, but prices for graded eggs at the end of the week were about 5c per dozen better than last week-end. The demand for fresh supplies was strong, but receipts were very light and brokers and wholesalers were moving considerable quantities of storage supplies, especially the latter.

Prices

Country shippers were offered 40c for extras, 35c to 36c for firsts, 26c to 27c for pullet extras, and 20c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Retailers were quoted extras, in cartons, at 49c; extras, loose, at 47c; firsts, loose, at 42c to 43c, and seconds, loose, at 25c per dozen, also storage eggs at 30c for extras, 28c for firsts and 23c for seconds. Brokers sold fresh eggs at 46c for extras, 39c to 40c for firsts, and 21c to 22c for seconds, graded, and in free cases, and candled out-of-storage supplies at 27c for extras, 25c for firsts, and ordinary storage stocks at 25c for extras and 23c for firsts.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Oct. 24 — For the first time in months spring wheat flour prices were advanced 10c a barrel here yesterday, due to recent upturns in the wheat markets. First patents were quoted at $4.70, second patents at $3.90, and bakers' patents, or straight, at $3.80 per barrel, less 10c for cash.

The domestic demand for flour is fairly good; the advancing wheat markets bring in an inproved inquiry. Export sales for the past week were not as good as the previous week, but were fairly large.

Winter wheat flour, which has already been advanced twice this months, ruled steady. Carlots were quoted at $3.80 to $3.90 per barrel, while broken lots were $3.20 to $3.40 per barrel.

The millfeed market continued firm, due to sustained export inquiry from both the United States and overseas.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Big export sales of United States Government sponsored wheat, together with curtailed estimates of domestic winter wheat seeding, gave a hoist to all grains yesterday. Broad general buying took wheat prices to about 10½ cents a bushel over recent bottom figures. As much as 2,000,000 bushels of Federal Farm Board wheat was estimated to have been disposed of to exporters, and the farm board was also credited with having sold wheat to Liverpool direct.

Wheat closed strong at virtually the day's top level, 1⅝ to 2⅜c above Thursday's finish; corn ½ to 1⅝ up; oats ¼ to ⅝c advanced, and provisions unchanged to 5c off.

LIVERPOOL QUOTATIONS.

LIVERPOOL, October 24.—Closing quotations were as follows:

Wheat, spot, No. 1 Manitoba, 71⅜c.

Hams, long cut, 12 to 16 lbs., 96s.

Short cut, 12 to 14 lbs., 83s.

Extra skinned, 88s.

Picnics, 5 to 8 lbs., 51s 6d.

Bacon, Cumberland cut, 32 to 40 lbs., 60s 6d.

Canadian Wiltshires, 94s.

Clear bellies, 14 to 20 lbs., 52s.

Long clear middles 28 to 35 lbs. 69s.

Short clear backs, 20 to 25 lbs. 64s.

Shoulders, square, 12 to 16 lbs. 50s 6d.

Lard, prime Western, in tierces 53s.

American refined in boxes, 36s.

Cheese, Canadian finest white and colored, new 70s.

Linseed oil raw, 21s.

Petroleum, No. 1, 10d; No. 2, 11d.

Rosin, types "F" and "G" 15s 6d.

Turpentine, spirits, 36s 9d.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, October 24. — Short covering on a report that winter wheat acreage in the United States will be reduced 16 per cent. caused wheat prices to surge upward in the waning minutes of the wheat market here yesterday. Prices at the close were 1¼ to 1⅝ higher than Thursday's finish. October closed at 60⅝ up 1¼, November at 60¼ up a like amount, December at 59⅝, and May at 62½. Each up 1⅛ to 1⅜.

Belief that a statement by the Farm Board to be issued to-day would show larger sales than anticipated also had a bullish effect.

Traders who had taken the short side and liquidated their holdings earlier in the day due to disappointing export trade, joined in the scramble for supplies and give impetus to the upward movement.

Foreign markets displayed a firm tone. Shipments of wheat from Australia this week amounted to 1,714,000 bushels of which 1,247,000 bushels went to non-European countries. The new crop is estimated at 174,000,000 bushels, compared to 215,000,000 bushels last year.

There was no feature to the cash wheat and coarse grain trading. Prices generally were unchanged.

Norwood Company Buys New Machine

NORWOOD, Oct 24 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Norwood Milling Co. has recently purchased a 100 horsepower Marshall oil engine through the Lister Co., Toronto. This engine weighs over ten tons and is twelve feet ten inches long, five feet six inches wide and six feet eleven inches high. The fly wheel is five feet six inches in diameter and will possess a speed of 275 revolutions per minute. The cost of this engine will be between seven and eight thousand dollars and is made in England and will be the largest industrial instalation of its kind in Canada. The engine will burn fuel oil and will have two cylinders. The cost of operation is claimed to be very low and much less than hydro-electric power which the company has been using. With this very latest milling equipment and a low power cost which this new engine will give, the Norwood Milling Company expects to be in a very favorable position for business in the near future. This plant is already giving employment to several men.

Couple Celebrates 45th Anniversary

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Nix, of Menie, celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary on Sunday, when friends from Stirling, Brighton, Wooler and Bloomfield were present to join in the celebration of the happy event and to congratulate them.

Two sons and one daughter were born to Mr. and Mrs. Nix, two of whom are living and are Mrs. John Allison, of Baulter, Ont. and Clayton, of Brighton. There are also two granddaughters and one grandson.

District Churches

AT SPRINGVILLE

Springville W.M.S. observed their annual thank offering service on Sunday evening, October 18, with Rev. Mr. Kemp of Havelock in charge. The Scripture reading was taken from Psalms 103 and II Chronicles 7. The sermon was in keeping with the occasion, the theme being Thanksgiving. Mr. Kemp clearly illustrated by common examples the sin of ingratitude and stated that if the church has lost its power it is because it has lost its gratitude to God.

Beautiful solos, rendered by Miss M. Wolstenholm of Peterborough and Mr. B. Preston of Springville added to the impressiveess of the service.

The number of persons receiving Poor Law relief in England and Wales is decreasing.

GAINS SHOWN CHICAGO CURB

New Developments Looked for With American Government Holding Report.

4 1-2 CENT ADVANCE.

(By John P. Boughan, Associated Press Market Editor.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 24.—Suggestions are numerous that the forthcoming official report on American government-sponsored holdings of wheat is likely to prove a bolt out of the blue. Some trade authorities indicate that the amount of such wheat now available for export is less than 100,000,000 bushels, a quantity well below any estimate heretofore accepted. Talk is also current that the world's carry-over of wheat on July 1 next will be probably 200,000,000 bushels less than was the case in 1931, and may be much smaller still should anything serious happen to the new Argentine or Australian crops.

Compared with one week back, wheat this morning showed 2¾-4⅜ cents a bushel advance with corn 1¾-2⅝ up, oats at 1⅛-1⅜ gain, and provisions higher by 12 to 40 cents.

Notwithstanding the wheat market had recovered about 10½ cents from recent low levels, it was yet comparatively near to-day to the bottommost figures in a great many years. Wheat experts say that even with 10½ cents a bushel recent advance, the producer is not getting anywhere near what it costs to raise the grain.

Unsatisfactory husking returns are being received from some of the largest corn producing areas in the chief commercial states. On the other hand, new corn is already moving in fair volume to terminals. The oats visible supply is only about half as large as a year ago, and rural holders show little disposition to sell.

Provisions keep readily in tune with general uplifting factors.

When seven-year-old James Ashcroft fell on the live rail of an electric line at Aintree, England, two men tore wooden pailings from a fence, pushed them under the boy, and threw him to safety.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 24 (C.P.)—Very Rev. Canon Lapointe, prominent member of the Roman Catholic clergy of Ottawa diocese, is in a critical condition in hospital. At his own request, the last rites of the Church were administered Friday by Archbishop J. G. Forbes.

WALL STREET ENDS WEEK IN QUIET TRADING

Tinge of Bullishness Makes Itself Felt During Later Trading.

LARGE TURNOVER

(By Claude A. Jagger, A. P. Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, N.Y. Oct. 24.—Security markets ended the week quietly but with a tinge of bullishness to-day.

The stock market was dull until the last half hour. Speculative interest was kept alive by the bidding up of a few of the merchandising and specialty issues. Most of the net gains were fractional, but a few shares were pushed up 1 to 4 points. The turnover was about 800,000 shares for the two-hour session.

The foreign issues featured the bond market rising moderately, possibly in expectation of a constructive international program eventually developing out of the conversations between Premier Laval and President Hoover.

'Commodities maintained their recent gains well, in spite of weekend profit taking. The cotton market closed barely steady, recessions of 10 to 35 cents a bale.

Foreign exchanges were generally steady to firm McKeesport Tinplate was a strong feature in shares, rising more than 4 points. U.S. Industrial Alcohol, which rose sharply under bullish stimulation yesterday, fell back more than 1½ points in profit taking.

Two Girl Fliers Plan To Set Distance Mark

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 24.—(CP)—Two girl pilots leave Toronto today for St. Louis where they will obtain a Lockheed Vega aeroplane for their proposed attempt to establish a long distance flight record for women. They plan to start their flight from Toronto in about two weeks time.

The two are Miss Debie Stanford of Guelph and Miss Ruth Stewart of St. Louis, Mo., commander of the Betsy Ross Aviation Corps in the United States. Miss Stanford sold the plane which won her fifth place in the Santa Monica-Cleveland women's air derby and is using the proceeds for the purchase of the new craft.

Judge Deprives Orphan of Estate

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 24.—(CP)—Elizabeth Baker Patterson, 15-year-old orphan of Victoria, B. C., is deprived of any share in her great-grandmother's $3,500 estate by a judgment of Mr. Justice Wright at Osgoode Hall today.

The judge holds that she forfeited any share because her mother pre-deceased her grandmother. He rules that her two aunts E. Beatrice Holmes and Jane I. A. Holmes are entitled to share the estate.

WINNIPEG WHEAT IS MUCH HIGHER

Price is Highest Since July—Climbs Above the 60-cent Level.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 24 (By The Canadian Press)—Not since July has the Winnipeg wheat market been as price-high as to-day. During a week that yielded more bullish news of variety than in many months, wheat climbed over the 60-cent level and held steadfastly to its gains.

At the close of pit trading yesterday, futures values were 3⅞ to 4½ cents a bushel higher than a week ago, the strength reflecting a tight cash situation and a broader export demand. Foreign news was particularly encouraging to uneasy speculators.

October wheat finished the week at 60⅜ cents, up 4½. November moved up 4⅝ to 60¾ cents and December scored an extreme gain of 4½ to 59¾ cents. May closed at 63 cents, 3⅜ cents advanced.

Steady accumulation by traders with direct continental connections featured pit trade in the early part of the week, and this was followed by a broadening of the speculative demand which prevailed until mid-week when a pause in export buying caused profit-taking and brought a little uneasiness into the market. Reports of a curtailment in acreage in the United States winter wheat belt brought a return of bullish enthusiasm that lifted values to the peak.

Coarse grains business was limited except in barley which sold in fairly large quantities early in the week. Barley was 70⅜ cents for the week and oats advanced two cents. Rye and flax also scored gains in light trading.

LEADING GOLDS ARE IN DEMAND

But Base Metals and Oil Sections Inactive in This Morning's Session.

ON STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 24 (C.P.)—Gold stocks met brisk demand in to-day's short session on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market. Turnover was brisk in a number of issues and gains were practically general among changes on end. Base Metals and oil sections were inactive.

Minimum price restrictions were withdrawn from Mining Corporation, Granada, Chemical Research and Sherritt Gordon, and official advices were to the effect restrictions would be withdrawn from the entire list Monday. Mining Corporation declined around 15 cents, but Sherritt Gordon held firm and Chemical Research and Granada recorded advances, the latter receiving unusually strong support.

HUNTED WOMAN

gun and Sammie (Miss Samuelson) got shot.

"Mrs. Le Roi was still coming at me with the ironing board, and I had to shoot her."

Beyond that point, the attorneys said, Mrs. Judd was unable to continue.

"We ask that her case be not prejudged," read a statement issued by her attorneys, Louis P. Roussill and Richard Cantillon. "It is our opinion she has a defense well recognized in law."

Hiding in Vacant House

Hunted throughout the nation since Monday when the bodies of the two women, one of them dismembered, were found in trunks at the Southern Pacific Railroad station, Mrs. Judd said she had been hiding in a vacant house in Los Angeles.

Officers said they learned that Mrs. Judd had dyed her dress a green shade while she was being sought. She was said to have done this in the dressing room of a downtown store, mixing the dye in a washbowl and swinging the dress around her head until it was sufficiently dry to wear again.

"The thought of suicide was never in my head," she said. "I thought I had nothing to die for, that I had been perfectly justified in what I had done. But I wanted my husband's help and advice before I surrendered."

Story Doubted

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 24—Branding as "inconceivable" the self defense story of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, murder suspect arrested last night in Los Angeles, Deputy County Attorney G. A. Rodgers charged the woman had made "one fatal error in her story". That, he said, was in regard to the wound in her left hand. Rodgers said he had witnesses who would testify that Mrs. Judd carried her right arm in bandages last Saturday and Sunday. The slaying of Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Ann Le Roi occurred here Friday night Oct. 16.

"The wound in Mrs. Judd's hand for which she was treated in Los Angeles last night was self-inflicted," Rodgers charged. "She apparently forgot which hand she had bandaged when she was in Phoenix and when she inflicted the wound herself, she made the error of changing hands."

Dr. H. L. Franklin of the Grunow Memorial Clinic, where Mrs. Judd was employed as secretary, and where the victims of the trunk slayings also worked, said he saw her when she arrived at the clinic Saturday morning, the day after the killings, with her right hand bandaged.

Neither Hand Bandaged

Another refutation of Mrs. Judd's story that she was shot by Miss Samuelson was seen in the statement of Dr. Louis B. Baldwin, for whom Mrs. Judd worked as secretary. He said he was positive the woman had neither hand bandaged when she entered his office Saturday.

On Sunday, however, Dr. Baldwin said, she arrived at the clinic with her left hand swathed in rough bandage, saying she had burned it with an iron.

"If her story of being wounded in the hand the night of the slayings should be true," said Rodgers, "that fact absolutely would preclude her having disposed of the bodies without the aid of an accomplice."

Immediate steps to extradite Mrs. Judd to Arizona to stand trial were to be taken by County Attorneys Andrews, who is in Los Angeles taking an active part in the investigation.

It will require several months more for flood waters to be drained from the Yangtze Valley of China.

served, the credit to apply on the misdemeanor counts as well as the contempt of court sentence.

The misdemeanor counts charge that Capone failed to file a return on a taxable gross income of more than $5,000 for the years 1928 and 1929.

No Time To Finish Business.

Judge Wilkerson formally denied a writ of supersedeas which would have given Capone freedom while his attorneys were appealing the case, and he denied a motion for bail. He also said he would not get the defendant time to wind up his business affairs.

Defence Attorney Michael Ahern argued that perfection of appeal should automatically serve as a supersedeas. Acting Judge Wilkerson to instruct the marshal to delay taking Capone to Leavenworth Penitentiary. The court refused.

Capone appeared stunned by the verdict. He stood before the Judge, watching him intently as the sentence was read, his hands behind his back. After the application for a writ of supersedeas had been denied and Capone apparently realized he would soon be on his way to prison, the bulky gang chief walked over to his attorneys, shook their hands, and said, "I guess it's all over."

PIVOT ISSUES HOLD STEADY

Toronto Exchange Trading Turns Dull for the Week-end.

SOME SPECIALS ACTIVE.

TORONTO, Ont., October 24 (C. P.). — Stocks were irregularly strong on Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. The usual pivotal issues were inclined to settle back into dull trading with activity limited to a few specialties.

Massey-Harris again accounted for a goodly portion of the turnover. Heavy liquidation was absorbed at the curent level of 2 and 2⅛. Loblaw A from the pegged price restrictions were removed last night slipped off fractionally under the first wave of selling, but later recovered to 11 where it was only ¼ point under the minimum price.

Brapilian closed firm at 13¼ and Nickel unchanged at 11¼. Noranda was up a fraction and the gold stocks were strong.

Dominion Stores made a new high on the recovery when it sold at 20. Ford of Canada advanced about ½ point to 14¾. Union Natural Gas sold at 5, Walkers at 3½, Canada Bud at 10.

Imperial Oil was slightly higher at 11⅝. International Pete unchanged at 11½, and B.A. Oil unchanged at 10.

MISSION GIVINGS SHOW INCREASE BAPTISTS TOLD

World is Now One Physical Unity That Has Been Pinched Together.

REDS TAKE ADVANTAGE.

Foreign Mission Work in Baptist Church Reported to Convention.

Stating that the world was now a physical unity; that it had been "pinched together" and that the destiny of the races was "bound up in one bundle" by the virtual annihilation of space and distance through the medium of the radio and the aeroplane, Professor M. L. Orchard, M.A., Hamilton, spoke of the significance which this "shrinkage" of the world had in God's plan of spreading the Gospel message and of the great responsibility of missionary enterprise that rested upon the churches.

His stirring, challenging address followed on the presentation of the annual report of the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board at yesterday afternoon's session of the Baptist Convention here.

Communism, he said, had taken advantage of the shrinkage of the world and was out for the complete eradication of religion. The Communists were going at the proposition of spreading their doctrines with a zeal and intensity of purpose which made the efforts of the churches in their missionary work, look puny by comparison.

There had to be an all round increased giving by members of the denomination; higher sacrifices tha there had been in the past in order that the missionary work in the evangelisation of the world should not go backwards, and that in Christ one great fellowship of love should be established throughout the earth.

God, he declared, had not only opened the doors to three thousand million people. He had also opened their hearts and minds for the reception of the Gospel message.

The Press.

During the course of the afternoon session a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered to The Peterborough Examiner on the motion of the Rev. C. E. MacLeod of London, seconded by the Rev. M. C. MacLean of St. Catharines. In moving the resolution Mr. MacLeod said: "the local press has given us good service in the reporting of the convention.'

The report of the Foreign Mission Board was presented and its adoption moved by the Rev. Dr. H. E. Stillwell, general secretary of the Board, while the adoption of the report was seconded by acting-chairman F. Inrig of Toronto, in the absence of the Rev. John MacNeill who is at present on a world tour with the Baptish World Alliance.

The report was adopted with the addition of a recommendation moved by the Rev. G. A. Leichliter of Toronto that the convention place itself on record as favoring the appointment of an associate-secretary and that the matter be considered without undue delay.

Mr. Leichliter's motion was seconded by the Rev. G. S. Farmer of Owen Sound, who believed the convention had been asking Mr. Stillwell to assume an almost impossible burden for many years past.

The work of Foreign Missions was carefully reviewed for the past year in a lengthy and comprehensive report, and on the whole a satisfactory state of affairs was in evidence.

The convention was addressed on missionary work in Bolivia by the Rev. Fred Bennett, a graduate of McMaster University who has recently returned on furlough from that field. He was situated at Peniel Hall Farm where there had been a large number of baptisms during the past year.

The Rev. P. G. Buck, another missionary from Bolivia, reminded the convention that Peterborough had two missionaries in Bolivia in the persons of the Rev. A. and Mrs. Haddow.

Discussion on the report was led by the Rev. J. E. Chute, B.Th., a retired missionary. He thanked the Board on behalf of the missionaries of India for the support of the Convention and for the intimation of Dr. Stillwell that the India missionary estimates would not be cut.

The speaker was referring to an announcement previously made by Dr. Stillwell that a saving of $12,000 on India mission work had been effected as a result of a favorable rate of exchange in currency. The announcement was greeted with the singing of the doxology. After which it was announced that the good news was to be cabled to the secretary of missions in India.

The retiring members on the Board were all re-elected as follows: Rev. Dr. John MacNeill, Mr. J. N. Shenstone, Dr. J. W. Brien and Mrs. H. H. Ayer.

The Board in concluding their report stated that it could not end a recital of the year's achievements without grateful thanks to subscribers to the Keeping Faith Fund who had so faithfully redeemed their pledges at a difficult period. The Board was equally grateful for the loyal support of church members in maintaining regular budget receipts upon which the cause in the ultimate depended.

The nomination committee reported upon further appointments to committees as follows:

Committee on Obituaries—Rev. W. F. Spidel, Rev. J. H. Boyd, Rev. O. D. Priddle.

State of Religion—Rev. W. A. Cameron, Professor G. P. Gilmour, Rev. A. N. Firth, Rev. Harold Lang, Rev. P. P. Zeimann.

of iron daily on the average; statements in which respect they are entitled to submit by the politeness of Hon. Peter McGill, the proprietor. In connection with the furnaces is a large and substantial building containing two trip hammers and four forge fires for the purpose of making bar iron with two wheels which trip the hammers and four wheels that propel the bellows, one to each fire. This factory put in action and kept in constant operation, is capable of making five tons of bar iron per week of all sizes and descriptions and is now in a state requiring only moderate repair to fit it for immediate use. On the forge bank, a clear area of two acres, is another well built coal house of equal size with those belonging to the furances; attached to the forges is a convenient carpenter's shop sufficiently capacious to accommodate five workmen with a lathe and grinding stone impelled by water, the upper loft of this shop forming a convenient and spacious moulding and framing room for moulding, planning and putting together large patterns and moulds; opposite and a a convenient distance between the furnaces and forges stands the general pattern store and occupied besides as a casting and bar iron sale and deposit store, a good frame building on a solid foundation at the water's edge.

Next on the falls occur in their order the blacksmith's forge suited for two smiths, with benches and utensils complete, a bakery, the baker and miller's house adjacent to a respectable grist mill, the under storey of stone, the upper handsome, substantial, well-finished frame work, one run of stone and a smut machine; contiguous to which is a superior saw mill, newly built, with two pit saws and circular saws, and near thereto on a small island, a situation admirably adapted for the purpose, is a substantial two-storey building, under storey stone, upper part frame work, fitted into a most complete tannery with vats, utensils, and bark mill complete; added to these are several very valuable dwelling houses, some of them stone, a stone store and offices, a barn, barnyard and sheds, forming in the view of the commissioners a more complete and substantial establishment than on its scale of magnitude can be met within all North America.

Convict Employment.

This report, as may be seen, brought out only the bright side of the shield. In 1837 ideas were entertained concerning the Marmora Iron Works that do not seem to have come to the knowledge of any of the present residents of Marmora through being passed down like other old history, from generation to generation. In that year, a commission was appointed to ascertain upon what terms the lands and works of the Marmora Iron Works might be acquired by the government for the purpose of employing the convicts of the penitentiary in the production and manufacture of iron at Marmora. Their report showed that the quantity of land held in fee in the two townships was 10,935 acres, besides the 1,800 acres of fuel reserve. Twelve hundred acres of this land in fee had been purchased from a private owner, C. A. Hagerman and the rest was acquired by grant from the Crown.

Two members of the Commission, Anthony Manahan, then Conservative M.P. for Hastings, and George N. Ridley, signed a favorable report. Isaac Fraser of Ernestown, however, brought in a minority report and his views with the representations of the warden of the penitentiary were effective in halting the project. The warden drew attention to the difficulty of maintaining discipline over the convicts, the necessity which would arise for employment of extra keepers to prevent their escape, the unsuitability of men with constitutions impaired and destroyed by intemperance and other excesses for hard labor, and the greater cost of maintaining a penal institution whose inmates would thus be employed in an isolated location.

Nothing further seems to have been done with the works until 1847 when the property was purchased by Joseph Van Norman of the Charlotteville furnace. Mr. Van Norman spent a considerable sum in repairing and improving the works, and began making iron in the summer of 1848. He, however, had no skill in treating hard, magnetic ores, and all his efforts were attended with disappointment and loss. Shipments of product were made at first over a rough wagon road to Belleville, a distance of 32 miles; but by cutting nine miles of road from the mine at Crowe Lake to Healy Falls on the Trent River, a new land and water route was obtained thereby. Although bulk was broken three times, pig iron could be delivered at Cobourg more easily and at less cost than at Belleville. Sales were made for a short time at $30 to $35 a ton, but after the construction of the St. Lawrence canals, British iron could be brought up the country and sold at a much lower rate, which caused Mr. Van Norman to close his works with the loss of everything.

Lands Transferred.

In July, 1849, Mr. McGill conveyed the lands at Marmora which he had acquired from Mr. Hetherington in 1834 to the Marmora Foundry Company. In 1853 this company was reconstructed under an amending charter. Among the new directors were A. T. Galt, Peter McGill, Alexander Simpson, William C. Evans and James B. Greenshields of Montreal; William Rhodes and Edward Burstall of Quebec and W. A. Matthews, Mayor of Sheffield, England. Through a deed, signed Dec. 28, 1866, this company amalgamated with the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway Company under the title of the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora Railway and Mining Company, and in the following year, mining operations were resumed at Big Ore bed (changed by the new company to Blairton) and forty cottages were built for housing the employees. Shipments of ore began to be made to Cleveland and Pittsburgh, via Cobourg. A section of railway nine miles long was built from the mine to the narrows on Trent River, whence the ore was taken by boat to Harwood Station, and again put on cars for Cobourg. This enterprise lasted until 1883, when the whole property with its closed down mine was purchased by the late T. P. Pearce.

world. "God led my father to Canada," and he continued "when I go back to England on occasions the time that is not taken up in preaching the Gospel is used in preaching about Canada."

"We need more patriots for Canada. We have enough people who are trying to exploit her." Patriots were needed in a political as well as a spiritual sense.

The speaker paid tribute to the pioneer men and women of Canada who had left a greater heritage for succeeding generations to carry on the work where they had left off. He took his hearers in imagination from coast to coast dwelling on the wondrous Peace River territory and land which lies beyond. He also analyzed the remarkable developments that had taken place in Ontario and Eastern Canada generally and a recent marvel that had grown in the north country, the establishment of a port at Churchill.

"Why do I give you all these impressions," he asked. It was, he said, that his audience might get a larger vision of the greatness of their country. He then dealt with the question of future growth in population that might be expected in Canada, and asked who was to evangelise these great tracts of newly settled country.

With all the vastness of Canada, he opined, she needed national unity. "We are too parochial in our outlook on national problems." Unity was needed in denominational life—a unity that would extend from the Maritimes to the Pacific.

Another need was that people rededicate themselves to the message of regeneration and repentance and yield themselves to Christ the Lord.

Pointing out some of the dangers that exist today, the speaker believed there was a great onslaught against the home life of Canada. In this regard he spoke of the wide dissemination of salacious literature dealing with free love and other similar topics and which offended against the sanctity of marriage. And he stressed, "our national life is not greater than our country's home life." He deplored the great increase in the number of divorces in Canada. But he said, "we have a message to meet these needs."

Continuing to deal with the problems facing the country he stated that gambling had been a big factor in the present economic depression in Canada. It had been a decade of gambling—gambling that was a perversion of the human soul.

Yet, he continued, our service clubs and lodges foster the gambling spirit under the cloak of charity. "You cannot help the underprivileged child by such wrongful means or at best only at the expense of the moral welfare of the country."

He concluded by stating that he believed that the Baptist people along with Christian people of every denomination could be reckoned upon to mould the spiritual and social welfare of the country and so make Canada through its Christian citizenship a big force in the evangelising of the whole world.

An address was given following the opening song service conducted by the Rev. T. E. Newton, B.A., Niagara Falls, and the devotional service conducted by the Rev. H. W. Stewart, M.A., Stratford, by the Rev. Dr. A. J. Irwin of the Ontario Prohibition Union.

There had been an advance in the quantity of liquor sold under Government control, he stated, and he was of the belief that the system lent itself to continued increased sales of liquor. Futhermore he was of the opinion that Liquor Control strengthened commercial liquor interests of the land, a point he stressed by the quotation of figures of greatly increased capital tied up in the production of liquor and which sum amounted to millions of dollars. "Commercial interests act regardless of human interests," he charged.

The Government had made the use of liquor a respectable thing in society. The speaker dealt with the need for increased education in schools against the use of alcoholic liquors, and its evil effects upon body and mind.

But how long, he asked, would it take to educate the commercial liquor interests. Only legislation could do that, he said in answer. In conclusion he urged, "let us shake ourselves loose, raise a new standard and go forward to battle."

Peterborough Male Voice Choir was present for the final session of the Convention, under the leadership of Thomas Phillips. They were highly praised by the President, Professor A. L. McCrimmon, on their performance.

Obituary

JAMES CARROLL

The death occurred at his home in Lindsay yesterday afternoon of James Carroll, aged 67. He was in his usual health in the early morning but about eight o'clock suffered a stroke and died at three. The deceased was born in Downeyville where he resided all his life until three years ago when he moved to Lindsay.

Besides his sorrowing wife, he leaves six sons, Lorne, William, Phillip of Rochester, N. Y., Charles and Walter of Detroit, and Martin on the homestead at Downeyville; five sisters, Mrs. John Skuse, Mrs. Timothy Driscoll and Miss Elizabeth Carroll, of Rochester, Mrs. Peter Murtha of Lindsay, and Mrs. Edmund Herlihey of Downeyville; and two brothers, Martin and Henry of Downeyville. The funeral will be held from the homestead just north of Downeyville Monday morning at ten to St. Luke's Church and thence to the Downeyville cemetery.

WALTER O'BOYLE.

HAVELOCK, October 24 (Examiner Correspondence). — The funeral of the late Walter O'Boyle of Bowmanville, whose death occurred at Private Patients' Pavilion, Toronto General Hospital, on Sunday last, took place from his mother's residence at Bowmanville, and was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends from Havelock, Peterborough, Myrtle, Brantford Toronto, Islington, Bowmanville, and Cobourg.

Mr. O'Boyle, who was in his fortieth year, was a telegraph operator in the employ of the C.P.R. for a number of years at Cobourg, Perth, and latterly at Bowmanville. He was president of the Lawn Bowling Club and a member of the Oddfellows' Lodge of that place, having occupied the various chairs in that organization. Oddfellows to the number of about one hundred and fifty from the several lodges of which he was from time to time a member were present in a body and gave their departed all the honors of an Oddfellows' funeral. There were also present a large number of railway telegraphers from stations all over the division, as Mr. O'Boyle was perhaps one of the most popular employees of the C.P.R.

Rev. Mr. Laidlaw of Stouffville conducted the funeral services, assisted by Rev. Mr. Armstrong of Bowmanville and Rev. Dr. Boyle of Cobourg. Mr. Armstrong in his funeral oration paid splendid tribute to the sterling worth of the departed man, taking for his text the words "And the King said, 'He was a good man.'" He said the tribute paid by the attendance of so many of his fellows who had came from far and near was most eloquent, and the testimony of those who had come in contact with him in a business way as well as those whom he met in the social life could best be expressed in those words, "He was a good man."

Besides his widowed mother he leaves to mourn his loss two brothers, John and Norman, both of Stouffville, and two sisters, Mrs John Elford of Islington and Mrs. Donald Wells of Toronto.

HOME TOWNERS

TIDBITS INTERESTING AND HUMOROUS FROM CAMPBELLFORD

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McEachern and family have moved from their former residence on Raglan street and will in future reside in the Dunk property on Front street.

Mr. Andrew Hay and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rutherford were guests on Sunday of Mrs. J. S. Whitehead at Stirling. Mrs. Hay has been ill for some time at her daughters home but is making a slow recovery.

Mrs. Chas. Nadoo left on Friday for Allentown, Pa., to visit her daughter, Mrs. E. F. and Mr. Mosthof.

The condition of Ex-Warden C. H. Davidson who is in the Peterborough hospital recovering from a serious operation is reported to be as good as can be expected.

Mrs. T. Seaborne is now a resident in her house on Raglan street.

Mr. John Hurd of Peterborough will be the operator at the new Hollywood theatre in town. He arrived in the district on Friday.

Mrs. Agnes Anderson was a recent visitor to Stirling for two days the guest of her sisters, Mrs. R. W. Meiklejohn and Mrs. Andrew Hay.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Linton, Mr. and Mrs. R. McLaren, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ernest Birk and Mr. J. Linton were among the many visitors from town to Belleville on Thursday.

BORAH SUGGESTS

fore the lights were turned out after midnight in the quiet Lincoln study on the second floor of the White House. The Premier then went to rest in the Lincoln bedroom.

Hoover Summons Mills

To-day, President Hoover summoned Mr. Mills for a conference directly after breakfast before going into further details with the Premier, as to just what policies their Governments were willing to follow in "the promotion of constructive progress in the world."

In the meantime, Chairman Borah, of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had added spice to the situation by advocating revision of the Versailles Treaty. He gave the interview at the behest of French newspaper men while the conversations were in progress at the White House.

To-night the Idaho Senator will confer with Premier Laval at the latter's request. They will talk in the study of Secretary Stimson's home, where the Premier will spend the night.

Any cancellation of war debts by United States, Borah said, would be predicated on the Allies cancelling Germany's reparation payments. Such a move, he said, would have a "tremendous psychological effect on the people of the world."

That the weighty question of war debts and reparations entered into the conversations of President Hoover and the Premier was generally regarded as certain.

What effect the Borah statement had or will have on the attitude or conclusions of Mr. Hoover and Mr. Laval was a matter of widespread conjecture here. That the subject of war debts would come up in Borah-Laval talk to-night was a foregone conclusion.

PROTESTS MADE

Before this portion of work is continued with, the town engineer was ordered to obtain all particular relating to the work, and report to the council.

This left the matter marking time until the engineers' report is to hand, with only two work programs to continue with without opposition: the Havelock road extension and the Kent street proposition.

Direct Relief

The question of direct relief from the Government was also brought up in correspondence from Mr. Ellis, and it was decided to obtain this. Regarding the matter, however, the clerk was requested to write the authorities to see if this relief could be obtained as well as assistance for work to be done for relief purposes.

Reporting on the Campbellford-Brighton road work, Deputy Reeve MacColl stated that the resident engineer had informed him that the $10,000 grant given for this work would only last about another three weeks and that he expected to employ about twenty men on the job. He pointed out, however, that the money was really being spent at points were most men could be employed.

A proposition from the Cobourg Sentinel Star asking the council to sponsor a special edition of the paper featuring the opening of the new Hollywood Theatre was turned down.

POWER COMPANY ASSESSMENT

Cloth Company against their assessment, which was $142.70 divided; land $89,300, business tax $53,000 was reopened on motion of the court and finally reduced to $96,000, this sum being divided as follows: land tax, $14,000; buildings $46,000; business tax, $36,000.

Presenting the appeal for the company, Mr. Cunningham the superintendent stated that he has been notified that if something could not be done the mill could not continue to operate saying that the Cloth Company was expecting some relief from the town in the matter of taxes. He said that approximately $115 000.00 had been paid out for the year ending September 26, 1931 in wages, which was an increase over last year and that also in the vicinity of 330,000 yards of cloth had been woven, this also being an increase over the previous season. During the past year the mill had employed an average of 155 hands and during the past three years had spent in the town approximately $22.000. This year he said that a little over the average for the past two years had been reached.

Deputy Reeve MacColl stated that he was impressed with these figures and was glad the court had been given them. Questioning Mr. Cunningham regarding the depreciation on the building he stated that there was depreciation but that he could not say how much nor would he care to value the property. Mr. Cunningham also stated that he thought that the Toronto plant was giving the Campbellford end of the concern a fair share of the business despite the fact that in regard to the manufacture of woollens Toronto had the more up-to-date machinery. He thought that if concessions were made to the company the mill would continue to operate but had no assurance to give of this fact.

Richard McKelvie asked for a reduction of his taxes on the flour mill stating that he would like the same concession as was granted him last year, being payment on an assessment of $8 100. This was granted. Regarding the saw mill appeal, based on the grounds that it was burned down in June of this year, the assessment was lowered from $1,150 to $950 for the half year.

Appeal Not Granted

The appeal of Mrs. C. W. Turner for exemption of one year's taxes on her store property was not granted. In making the appeal Mrs. Turner stated that the store had been empty for fifteen months and now only the ground floor and basement were rented at a very low figure. If she sold the property she was willing to pay half the year's taxes she stated. Councillor H. N. Carr pointed out that although he appreciated the difficulties Mrs. Turner was under and was in sympathy with her he felt that owing to the fact that so many people were in the same predicament in regard to their property an exception could not be made. No action was therefore taken.

In regard to the re-adjustment of the assessment of the Canadian National Railway property, the assessor, Robert Lowery reported that he recommended that this property be assessed for $13,700, $10,540 for land and $3 160 for the station building and sheds. This on motion was ruled as the basis of assessment.

J. Farrell was granted two year's rebate of his water main tax amounting to $12.72. This was in connection with a double assessment for work done under the Local Improvement Act.

Adjustments were made in regard to the property of Alfred Burgis on Rear street for which George Richardson had also been assessed and in the matter of the Dan Black property on Raglan street Richard Cook being assessed for this in the place of Ray Thompson.

The clerk was also requested to write Dr. E. F. Richardson of Oshawa informing him that the assessment on his property in Campbellford was increased to $50 this year and not $400 as he claimed in a letter to the assessor.

Miss Blanche Tweedle recently flew from London to India to take up missionary work.

APPEAL IS MADE TO HELP LEGION

Poppy Day Campaign Plans to be Announced by Campbellford Branch Soon.

RELIEVE MUNICIPALITY.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 24. — In keeping with the first observance of November 11 as Remembrance Day, as provided by the Parliament of Canada at its last session, the Campbellford Branch of the Canadian Legion is this year making an extra effort to impress upon the people of this community the full significance of this occasion.

One of the principles on which the Canadian Legion is founded is the belief that the heroic dead can best be honored by taking care of the disabled veterans and their dependents, and the widows and children of those who lost their lives in the service of Country and Empire.

With this in mind the local branch of the Legion is now organizing for its annual Poppy Day campaign, in which it hopes to realize a substantial sum for its Poppy Fund, which is used by all branches of the Legion throughout Canada to take care of veterans and their families who are in special distress and need.

By means of this fund the Legion is able to take care of many families whose circumstances require special attention, thus not only making sure that the Legion is keeping faith with the comrades who did not come back, but helping to relieve the municipality to some extent from their financial obligation of taking care of war veterans.

Within a few days the plans of the Campbellford Branch of the Canadian Legion for the Poppy Day Campaign will be announced and the officers of the branch are anticipating a generous reception of their appeal to the public.

4,855 Cars In Week At Havelock Corners

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 24. — A very interesting experiment has just been concluded on the Trent River-Norwood county road when a check-up was made of the number of cars passing a given point during a given period. For one week, from six in the morning until ten in the evening Oliver Pomeroy and Harry Watson counted the passing cars at the Old Havelock Corners and checked up for the seven days. 4855 automobiles, ten of these being registered in the United States.

A similar experiment was staged last July when the figure registered was 6036 with a far larger proportion of non-Canadian cars.

MORE FREIGHT MOVING IN CITY

Month of October Has Shown Increase in Freight Movements.

GOOD BAROMETER.

A substantial improvement in railway freight business since the first of October is reported by Alpine MacNab, local agent of the C.N.R.

Car loadings afford a reliable barometer of business conditions, and the local index is said to reflect the general autumn trend throughout the country.

"Our own business shows a very favorable increase this month in both in-coming and out-going trade" Mr. MacNab told The Examiner. "The imports have been slightly higher than the exports, largely due to the volume of supplies that have been received for delivery to local factories. Freight movement here has not been as heavy as a year ago, but October shows a marked improvement over the other months of the year. This increase has been gradually mounting up, one month being ahead of those before it.

Officials here this week state that there has been a big jump in the amount of fruits and vegetables that have been moved this season. In this respect business has exceeded last year's, and there is a decidedly brighter outlook over the sytem."

Mr. MacNab remarked that, if more emphasis were given to the present realities of business and to the tangibles that encourage optimism, the way back to normal conditions might be hastened.

WEATHER PROPHET FOR FORTY YEARS

Samuel E. Stone, Prophet of Weather Gods, Dies at Age of Seventy-five.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 24. — Forty years of what some said were accurate prognostications of the weather gods' intent are done. For Samuel E. Stone, veteran weather prophet, is dead.

Seventy-three years old he was when he lay down his instruments and his mathematical formula by which, he always insisted, he could tell from one to twelve months in advance what the weather gods intended to send to earth by way of wind, heat, cold, snow, rain, sleet and hail.

Every year the prophet made his "probs" and many set great store by them. Mr. Stone's mathematical formula of weather forecasting was the "product of a perfected plan" built up on the teachings of "my old friend and teacher, Andrew Hopkins of Foster," the prophet once said. From what Mr. Hopkins told him, Mr. Stone developed his own system which, he used to explain, was based on the weather conditions of the twelve days following Christmas, each day governing a month of the succeeding year.

Thus, the weather of December 26 held "signs" which "accurately forecast the weather of January"; the weather of December 27 would indicate "something" of the weather of February, and so on.

Mr. Stone learned his "weather work" in Foster, where he was born, and after some years he came to Providence. Wherever he went he became known as the "weather prophet." But he was active in other fields, too. He was a lay preacher in the country districts of Rhode Island, and he was an active temperance worker who frequently appeared on the lecture platform.

Because the house was too small to accommodate the crowd who attended the funeral of Color-Sergeant A. Sayers of Sheerness, England, the coffin was placed on trestles in the street and the service held there.

ESSEX HIGHWAY BEING PLANNED

Road Linking Leamington and Windsor Via Leamington to Employ 800.

MACAULAY PAYS VISIT.

TORONTO Oct. 24.—Plans for the construction of a new highway linking Leamington and Windsor via Kingsville and Harrow and providing employment for 800 men are being prepared by the Ontario Department of Highways, Hon. Leopold Macaulay Minister of the Department, announced yesterday.

Following a visit to Essex County during which he discussed the unemployment situation with industrial leaders of the Border Cities and reviewed the roads system of the county, Mr. Macaulay stated yesterday that the route of the new highway had not been decided but would be anounced within a few days. The work is planned as a measure of relief approximating the plan announced recently of a 70-mile highway linking Madoc and Perth.

Three Routes

Three alternate routes are being considered for the highway, two now being county roads and one a township road. Improvements of either would accomplish the reason for the construction, it being desired to provide Southern and Western Essex with a first-class highway for all-year travel. Whichever route is chosen will be developed by the department on the 80-20 plan; 80 per cent. of the work being carried out by the province.

The new plans which will provide Kingsville with a position on a provincial highway—a long'-cherished desire of that community—replace an original scheme by which Stoney Point in Essex County would have been linked with Wallaceburg in Kent. This would have had the highway traverse Lambton, touching several communities. But when Kent County declined to take any part in the plans they were abandoned for the present scheme.

As a result of the change, it was stated yesterday, about 800 instead of 1,000 men will be employed. Work, it is hoped, will be underway within a few days and relief provided for unemployed residents of Essex County and border points.

Legion Branches Decide To Carry On

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 24 (C.P.)—Toronto branches of the Canadian Legion have decided to carry on, in spite of cancellation by the Ontario Command of their charter. Represenatives of 26 men's bodies and 20 women's auxiliary organizations, meeting last night, declared absence of the official charter did not interfere with the usefulness of the organization.

On motion of Allen Ford, it was decided to ask officers of the late Toronto and District Command to meet in an effort to devise a means of carrying on as a joint branch executive.

20 WOMEN'S EXHIBITS AT INVENTORS' SHOW

Include Alarm Clock That Starts Kettle Boiling and Makes Tea

London.—There were 400 men and 20 women exhibitors at the International Exhibition of Inventions at the Central Hall, Westminster.

Among the exhibits shown by women was a new knitting machine and a portable wire crockery rack.

There was an improved golf club, which will be welcomed as much by the groundsmen as by the golfer. It has no sharp edges.

There was also an alarm clock which by a device was linked to a gramophone, and the sleeper awoke to music instead of the clang of an alarm bell.

There was a clock "that wakes the sleeper, switches on the electric kettle, makes the tea and then rings again—just to make sure that the sleeper is really awake."

FILM SHOWS PRINCE IN ROLE OF FARMER

Seen in Cornwall With Herds of Devon Cattle

A film record of the Prince of Wales's activities as farmer, industrialist and philanthropist has been made

It will be shown to the Prince's tenants and staff in the Duchy of Cornwall, at Princetown, Dartmoor, the centre of an important part of the estate.

The film opens with "shots" revealing the Prince engaged in official duties, and then changes to the Duchy, where he becomes the Duke of Cornwall.

Home Farm, in Cornwall, with herds of Devon cattle, a silver fox farm, the oyster farm in Helford river and historic features of Restormel Castle, where the Black Prince, first Duke of Cornwall, lived, are among the scenes.

BACK TO SIMPLE LIFE IS CURE, SAYS BISHOP

"World Paying for National and Personal Financial Orgy"

The bishop of Winchester, speaking at Winchester diocesan conference, said: "The orgy of easy finance, both national and personal which followed the war, is now presenting its account. It had taken a financial earthquake to open the eyes of the people."

"The reduction in the scale of insurance benefit was perhaps inevitable, but can you wonder that its necessity is not so obvious to poor mothers who know that the cost of one party in the London season, or the jewels, worn on one evening, would keep their families for a year.

"We say, of course, that these things are explainable. So they are. But I doubt whether the explanation would have satisfied Isaiah or Amos. "You should read Isaiah on women's fashions and Amos on luxurious living.

" THE CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT"
By W. R. Morris

The complications of modern business are bringing the profession of the Chartered Accountant into greater prominence and his work into greater usefulness to the public year by year.

The scope of his work comprises:—

(a) The devising and installing of systems of accounting suitable to a particular business.

(b) Auditing and verifying books and statements of account.

(c) Analyzing and correcting accounts that have been improperly or wrongfully kept.

(d) Consulting and advising in connection with business consolidations, amalgamations or mergers and preparing statements for same.

(e) Acting as Trustee, Administrator or Arbitrator in Estates or in connection with matters of dispute.

(f) Acting as Chief Accountant, Comptroller or Manager for large business organizations or Government Departments.

To the young man starting his career the work of a Chartered Accountant offers much of inducement but as in other professions the reward is commensurate, not only with the efforts to attain the goal but depend upon natural ability or adaptability and personality.

The first essential to being accepted as a Registered Student by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, is that a young man must be at least eighteen years of age, then that he must be a holder of a Junior Matriculation Certificate or what the Council of the Institute may consider its equivalent, that he must furnish a certificate of good character signed by two members of the Institute and that he must procure employment in the office of a practising Chartered Accountant.

Practical Experience: A registered student with matriculation standing must continue in the employment of a practising Chartered Accountant for at least five years, not necessarily, however, in the same office throughout, there being reasons satisfactory to the Council for a change of employer. A term of employment for a registered student who is a graduate of a Canadian University, or any other University approved by Council, is four years and the term of employment for a registered student holding a Bachelor of Commerce degree from a Canadian University or any other University approved by Council, is three years. Employment in a Chartered Accountant's office must continue until such time as the student has passed his final examination.

Instruction Course: The Institute has provided courses of study designed to cover the range of technical attainments which it is considered desirable that a Chartered Accountant should have. The first year course is intended to prepare the student for the Primary Examination and must be completed before sitting for that examination. The second year course must be completed before sitting for the Intermediate Examination and the third and fourth year courses before sitting for the Final Examination. It is required of the student that he pursue such study concurrently with his practical experience. The instruction is given by correspondence and takes the form of directed readings from text books of standard authorship supplemented by problem and test work.

The actual work of instruction is conducted for the Institute by the faculty of commerce of Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, one of the oldest of Canadian Universities and the first in Canada to undertake extra-mural or correspondence instruction. All matters of business, including enrollment, payment of fees, etc. must be transacted with the Registrar of the Institute. The text books are supplied by the Registrar and become the property of the student. It is deemed highly important that every chartered accountant have a personal shelf of approved books which will have permanent value as books of reference.

The fee for each year's instruction, including the text books, is seventy-five dollars and is payable in full on or before the fifteenth of January. A further fee of five dollars is payable when the work is not completed within the prescribed periods.

There are now nearly five hundred members of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario and nearly four hundred students Many members of the Institute are not in public practise, but in the employ of large corporations or of the Government in various capacities and upwards of one hundred are resident outside the Province of Ontario

As to the personal qualifications which would tend to secure success for a young man seeking admission to the Institute of Chartered Accountants, I would say that he should rank high in his mathematics, should have his analytical faculty well developed and be able to express himself clearly and fluently. In addition his integrity must be beyond question and he must possess infinite patience and be painstaking and thorough.

Any member of Institute of Chartered Accountants will be glad to advise a young man at any time and to give him further information as to the work and course of study.

Two Long Distance Birdmen

Captain Kingsford-Smith (left), who tried to break the time record for the flight from Australia to London, but was not successful, is here seen borrowing a suit of clothes from Mr. Mollison, the Britisher, whose record Kingsford-Smith tried to beat. Mollison covered the fifteen thousand miles in eight and a half days. Kingsford-Smith did not finish owing to illness.

NEW BRIDGE OVER SCUGOG RIVER TO START INSIDE FEW DAYS

Lindsay Citizens Breathe Easier as Well Drillers Get on Job

BOAT THIEVES ACTIVE.

LINDSAY, Oct. 24 (Examiner Correspondence).—It has been announced that work on the construction of the new bridge over the Scugog on the Lindsay-Peterborough highway will commence in a few days. The present narrow structure has been in a dangerous condition for some time, and is at present trussed up with heavy chains. Trucks are not allowed to cross it. The government has been paying two men on night and day shifts for some time diverting heavy traffic by way of a detour. The new structure will cost between $30,000 and $40,000.

Citizens are breathing a sigh of relief as a result of an announcement that the Brantford Drilling Co will start work in a few days drilling wells to supply the citizens with water for domestic purposes. The water at present supplied from the river is in such a condition that the citizens hesitate before using it even for washing purposes.

The sudden death took place yesterday of a well-known resident of the town in the person of James Carroll. The deceased was a former resident of Emily and has relatives in Peterborough.

Boat-house thieves are becoming active in this section, and recently thefts of boats, etc , have been reported to the police. The latest theft was that of an outboard motor and other articles from the boathouse of George Calder, of Fenelon Falls situated on Cameron Lake. Recently an outboard motorboat was stolen at Lindsay and another at Omemee.

The Best Remedy For Bad Backache

"Several times I have had severe pains in my back," writes Mrs. N. Yearwood, R.R. No. 3, Madoc, Ont. "Three or four doses of Dodd's Kidney Pills always help me at once. That is my only remedy for a Backache. Nine times out of ten your Backache is caused through faulty Kidneys and Dodd's Kidney Pills are a wonderful Kidney remedy."

Dodd's Kidney Pills have become a household remedy all over the world, because people have tried them and been more than satisfied with the results.

CHURCHES TO BE OPEN SO VOTERS MAY SEEK SPIRITUAL GUIDANCE

Many Scenes of Interest as British Election Draws to Climax.

BOXER HOWLED DOWN.

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION

LONDON, Oct. 24 (C.P. Staff Writer)—With the British general election drama approaching the climax, the spotlight darting over all parts of the stage finds scenes of interest.

At Barnet, near London, clergy of all denominations have issued a joint statement announcing all places of worship will be open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on polling day, Tuesday, so the electors may seek divine guidance "on the momentous choice they have to make."

At Whitechapel last night Ted "Kid" Lewis, well known pugilist and a Mosley "New Party" candidate for Parliament, was shouted down. He was unable to make his speech. And there were only fifty persons in the audience.

"I am having a very happy honeymoon among you," Mrs. McCorquodale told the mill girls of Sowerby, Yorkshire. She is the wife of the Conservative candidate in that riding. They were married only two weeks ago.

"I ran away from my two thousand pounds a year because I would rather eat dirt than be dictated to by the bankers," said Rt. Hon. George Lansbury, one of the Labor Cabinet Ministers who was left out when the National Government was formed. "If I had joined the National party I should deserve to have my throat cut," he added.

Hand of Friendship

At Penistone, the wind-swept town in South Yorkshire, Clifford Glossop, Conservative candidate, spoke during the weekly cattle market. He derided the long absences from the riding of Rennie Smith, Labor member of the last house seeking re-election. Then he saw Smith on the fringe of the crowd. Glossop promptly invited him to speak and the invitation was cordially accepted.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will endeavor to seek rest over the week-end with Lord Kirkley at Kirkley Hall in Northumbrland. The Prime Minister has to speak over the radio on Saturday night, so a microphone is being specially installed there. Lord Kirkley is the former Sir William Noble, head of the Cairn Steamship Line and a personal friend of Mr. MacDonald for many years.

Another member of the National Government has joined in the intimations that if it is returned to power efforts will be made to strenghten intra-imperial bonds. Rt. Hon. Sir Samuel Hoare said one of the first acts when it is returned will be to ask the Dominions to arrange an imperial economic conference.

Father Loses Faith In Hunted Daughter

DARLINGTON, Ind., Oct. 24.—(OP)—A letter written Oct. 4, by Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, 27, accused of slaying two women friends in Phoenix, Ariz., and packing them in trunks and suitcases, was revealed here to-day. The letter was mailed to a Darlington physician and asked that the latter "take good care of my father."

The father is the Rev. W. H. McKinnell, who until last night had expressed complete faith that his daughter was not guilty of the murder charges. He declared last night, however, that he had lost the faith he had had and that should his daughter return home he would surrender her to the authorities.

Hastings C.W.L. Hold Euchre Party

(Examiner Correspondence)

HASTINGS October 24. — The first progressive euchre party of the season under the auspices of the Catholic Women's League, was held on Wednesday night, in Lynch's hall.

The ladies' first prize, a pair of blankets, was won by Miss McMahon; second prize, a pair of pepper and salt shakers, was won by Mrs. G. L. Hay. The gent's prizes were won by first prize a silk scarf, by William Coveney; second prize, a pair of cashmere socks, by Bernard Collins. The chair prize was won by Miss Mary Crowley.

The arrangements for the evening were in charge of Mrs. A. N. Bailey and Mrs. Hugh Wilkins.

The members of the Catholic Women's League are very grateful to Messrs. W. W. Knight and John Condon of the local orchestra who supplied the music free of charge.

Rev. Father P. J. Kelley acted as chairman in his usual capable manner.

SEYMOUR INSTITUTE ATTENDS MEETING

Guests of Percy Branch of Society—Pleasing Program Provided.

(Examiner Correspondence)

WARKWORTH, October 24 — One of the finest Institute meetings was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hermiston, when the Percy Branch entertained the Seymour Institute to a social afternoon. About fifty of the local society, together with 25 guests, enjoyed a pleasant afternoon.

In the absence of the President, Mrs. Greenly took charge of the business part, after which she called on Mrs. Clarke the visiting president, who presented the following program:

The first item on the program was the singing of the Maple Leaf by all present. This was followed by an instrumental solo by Mrs. Stevens. Mrs. McCullough gave a very interesting paper entitled "The Sunny Side of Life." The next item caused much fun when each member was asked to give a minute speech on the different topics given them. A contest was February group, which was a box of candy, which all enjoyed. At the close the hostess and her assistants, served a dainty lunch. Mrs. McCoun on behalf of the Seymour branch, thanked the ladies for the pleasant afternoon, and all joined in singing the National Anthem.

Beauty Parlors Well Off In Depression

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 23.—Beauticians enjoy nothing better than a good financial depression. Brows furrowed by care provide work for masseurs and manufacturers of facia. creams; hair grown prematurely gray or thin requires constant skilled attention; fingernails chewed to the quick by watchers of a falling stock market bring cries of delight from the manicurist.

All this is revealed by A. Lincoln Bender, secretary of the Beauty Industries Manufacturers' Association, who said that the beauty industry, despite the depression, will show a greater profit this year than last and that a survey of members of his organization showed that a 75 per cent increase in labor forces is planned next year.

HEADACHE

A hard day at the office, and a headache homeward bound. All for the want of two little tablets of Aspirin! Don't be helpless when you suddenly get a headache; carry Aspirin with you. The pocket tin doesn't take up any room, but what a comfort when it's needed!

Fatigue will frequently bring on a headache. It lowers the vitality and invites a cold. Take Aspirin and throw it off! Don't wait until you are miserable. There is nothing in Aspirin to hurt the heart or upset the stomach or harm the system in any way. Your doctor will tell you that! But, get Aspirin—not a substitute!

Follow the proven directions to be found inside each package. They cover colds, sore throat, headache, toothache, neuritis, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago or rheumatism, muscular pains, and other pains and aches for which these tablets are a positive antidote. Keep your pocket tin filled from the bottle of 100 tablets. Every drug store has Aspirin in bottles, as well as the familiar little box.

Aspirin is made in Canada.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE IN CAVAN HEARS TALK ON MENTAL HEALTH

Miss Aikenhead, of Whitby, is Special Speaker in Community Hall.

ARRANGE FOR BANQUET.

CAVAN, Oct. 24.—(Examiner Correspondence)—A very interesting meeting of the Cavan Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon in Cavan Community Hall, when Miss Aikenhead of Whitby was the special speaker. The president, Mrs. J. W. Perrin, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. J. E. Whitham presided at the piano for the opening number. A short business session was held before which the roll-call was answered by an Apple Recipe. Many delicious methods of using apples were contributed. Communications were read and discussed. It was unanimously decided to cater for a banquet to be held some time in November. Mrs. Albert Tinney, Mrs. Lloyd Sutton, Mrs. Herbert Seeney, Mrs. A. B. Kennedy with the secretary, Mrs. R. S. Staples, and the president, Mrs. Perrin, were named as a committee to look after the menu and all arrangements for the banquet. Miss Helen Kennedy sang a solo, beautifully, her mother playing her accompaniment.

Mental Health.

Mrs. Perrin then introduced the speaker, whose subject was "Mental Diseases." Miss Aikenhead said that we are all helping to produce good citizens and that the "Mental Clinic" was a great factor in the work. Mental health covers a big field. Anything not purely physical is mental.

We may have all kinds of intelligence, but unless we have the right kind of feeling we are all wrong.

Actions, morals, work, play, thoughts, conversation all come into the field of mental health or disease. Our work should be called "social adjustment" rather than "mental clinic," because social relationships are at the bottom of all our mental trouble.

The brightest, most intelligent people are the most sensitive in their social relationships. Mental defectives are indifferent to their surroundings. Highly intelligent persons are more likely to become a mental tragedy than duller persons. Health is all the parts working smoothly together, an adequate facing of life's problems.

Childhood, from the mental health standpoint is the most important stage, and mother is the most important factor in the life of the child. A sense of security is a necessity for comfort, mentally and physically.

Regular routine habits are the foundation for all successful living. The mental clinic is prepared to give help to the mother to establish the child in good habits of eating sleeping and elimination. The clinic can be a big asset to the mother. We are all social beings and love the approval of those around us. Very often in life we get a sense of failure. Adults are apt to be impatient with children's failures.

If a child is not developed in every way, it needs help. Some signs of not being developed along all lines is: A child that is the teacher's pet clings to the teacher for protection; a child that is afraid to face the hardships of companionship of other children; the child who always wants to read. Our clinic is out to help such children. School is often a place of failure; for this reason there should be vocational schools in every district.

The clinic was formed to help the children, that they may have a chance to be the very best. There is a great increase in mental diseases. 2,000 annually enter the clinics, 1,000 return to their communities as normal citizens. The government is trying to bring the clinic to the people and has established them in different places. It is better to try to prevent mental diseases from becoming incurable. If they continue to increase as they have recent, no government will be able to finance their maintainance. There are three in the Whitby Clinic. Dr. Montgomery, especially trained for the work, is at the head. He was a medical missionary in Africa for some years.

We must get over the feeling that it is a disgrace to be mentally ill. It is just the same as to be physically ill. Something or somewhere we are out of order and must have treatment.

When these patients return to to their communities, they should be trusted, respected and loved. We are looking to the Women's Institutes to arrange homes for children who should be given a change, to tell us of cases that need our help, to co-operate with us and stand behind us, and help us to put it over, just to help us to help others.

A hearty applause testified to the interest taken in Miss Aikenhead's address.

Mrs. A. B. Kennedy and Mrs. R. S. Staples sang the duet "Soft As the Voice Of An Angel," which was much appreciated. Miss Tinney played their accompaniment.

Miss Aikenhead told the Institute that their nearest clinic is Peterborough at St. Joseph's Hospital the first Thursday and Nichols Hospital the third Thursday of each month at two o'clock. There is no fee, it is a government service the same as education.

Lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

Alleged Slayer Hunted By Police And Citizens

Mrs. Agnes Le Roi (LEFT) and Miss Hedvig Samuelson, who have been identified as the two victims whose dismembered and mutilated bodies were found in two trunks recently shipped from Phoenix, Arizona, to Los Angeles, where the contents of the trunks were discovered by a station master, precipitating the greatest woman hunt in the history of California. Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd (TOP RIGHT), aged 27, wife of a Los Angeles doctor is the woman sought and so far has eluded thousands of police searchers.

WOMAN BUILDS MODERN FORT

Congresswoman Nourse Establishes First Infantry Post in Massachusetts.

AT CAMP DEVINS.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 24 (C.P.)—This is the story of an army fort built by a woman. It is also the story of Camp Devens of wartime memories at Ayer—once ten thousand acres of upstate countryside; six months later a cantonment of 1,600 buildings and 50,000 citizen soldiers; four years later a city of deserted buildings about to be abandoned; now the newest and most modern fort in the United States. Officially it is still Camp Devens and will be until it is designated a fort in general orders. Unofficially it became Fort Devens with the arrival of the Third Battalion of Infantry from Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont.

Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers is the woman who built the fort. While many other persons, including Senator David I. Walsh, assisted her, it is Mrs. Rogers who fought persistently for its construction. Out of economy Congresses she obtained, bit by bit, enough to build several buildings a year during the past five years. She obtained $500,000 for a barracks one year; $400,000 for a hospital another year—in all, over $4,500,000 for permanent buildings. Although the post is now in use, she has not finished her task. There are other hundred thousand dollar appropriations to be obtained in the next few years before this first infantry post ever built in Massachusetts is completed.

From temporary war-time housing, captains and lieutenants will step into $14,500 homes, completely electric refrigerators; with a garage electri reprigerators; with a garage under the house; a laundry in the basement; tiled bathrooms and all the conventients of a modern home, including hot-water heat with thermostatic control. Non-commisisoned officers have brick bungalows with two bedrooms, a living room, bathroom, kitchen and a dinette.

The hospital has an unusual operating room, narcotic vault, X-ray room and diet kitchens, and the wards are so arrange that it is an easy matter to establish an isolation ward in case of contagious diseases. There is a dental laboratory with two chairs and all equipment, as well as an eye and ear testing room.

A bakery has been built and here among the huge ovens a cooks' and bakers' school will be started next month, with an enrolment of 120 men. There is a fire station. A signal corps' centre has been established and a radio station for the fort put into operation.

There is another battalian barracks to be built and complete the quadrangle; there is a guardhouse, a gymnasium, chapel, post headquarters, post exchange and a unit ofe eight more non-commissioned officers' houses to be built. In addition, there are quartermaster buildings, utilities shops, garages, and other smaller buildings to be constructed, as well as new roads. With the arrival of Fort Devens, Camp Devens becomes a memory.

Thieves stole a half-million razor blades in a recent haul at Hoborn, England.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass
No envy sour the mind
But each shall seek the common weal,
The good of all mankind

MILLBROOK

Loose-leaf note-books which are in use at each regular meeting of an Institute in Middlesex county, are referred to as "The Homemaker's Ready Reference Library," and the information copied down every month is certainly put to good use in the several homes represented at the gatherings.

For cleaning a silver filagree pin one member gave this recipe from her own experience: Take a small brush (soft) and moisten it with water and cream of tartar; rub and polish and your pin will be like new. Card cases, or anything in silver may be cleaned in this manner, and if the article is much discolored it may be advisable to make a paste of the water and the cream of tartar and allow it to soak for half an hour before brushing.

An effective tea-pot stand was the contribution of another worker, who told of her plan: Take two pieces of glass, round or square, and of the size desired, placing a lace (paper) doily between, then bind the edges with white passepartout binding. Over this, if you wish, put another binding of ribbon to harmonize with the color of your dining-room, or your table decorations. These stands are also very pretty and effective as rests for flower vases.

A use for discarded rubber rings from fruit jars is often sought, and this one is simple and very useful: Tie any number of the rings together and make a flat mat of them; try using this in the sink under your hot pots and pans, and see how much time you will save yourself in scouring and cleaning off black spots.

A question as to how best to cut marshmallows from a young housekeeper brought the information to use scissors, first dipped in cold water; "and for eggs (hard-boiled) use a knife that has been dipped in boiling water, and do not dry before doing the cutting." The same questioner wanted to know how to prevent her food-chopper from slipping and was told to try putting a piece of sand-paper under the part screwed to the table, and the difficulty would be solved.

"In these days of necessary economy, some of you may want to learn how to bleach a faded colored blouse, or housedress, white," said the president. "I boiled one in water to which I had added one teaspoon of cream of tartar, and found it bleached perfectly. One quart of water is the right quantity for the other ingredients mentioned."

A smile went around the meeting as one very busy mother told of her recent discovery that a board large enough to hold her scrub-pail, with two inch wide strips nailed round the edges, then castors put on the under corners, had proved a great strength-saver. "Your son, or husband, can make such a 'truck' and you will bless the invention many times when you have floors to wash and are tired even when you start on the job."

Still another unusual idea was that of making old furniture "look like mission-oak," by taking a package of green dye, adding one quart of water, boil, and then apply with any common paint brush. The result will be a rich mission color.

NEED OF WOMEN LEADERS IS STRESSED BY JUDGE MURPHY

Alberta Juvenile Court Judge Welcomed by Montreal Women's Club.

EQUALITY IN SENATE.

MONTREAL, October 24.—(C.P.)—Judge Emily Murphy, Alberta police magistrate, and juvenile court judge, received a royal welcome from the Montreal Women's Club recently at its opening meeting.

Judge Murphy declared roundly that for 65 years women of the Dominion were illegally kept out of the Senate. She added, "I say right away there should be an equal number of women appointed." Women leaders in all spheres were needed more to-day than ever before, she added. In a good-humored though trenchant phrase she gave her opinion on the question of women's place in public affairs and deplored in serious accents the voteless condition of her sisters in Quebec.

"We owe a great deal to the fairness and generosity of men, was one of Judge Murphy's comments. Although she belonged to a Conservative family she was appointed police magistrate by a Liberal government, and continued to hold this office under a Farmer administration.

Speaking of the decision of the Privy Council regarding the eligibility of Canadian women for senatorships Judge Murphy urged — "Don't give up your right to appeal!"

When women got the franchise in Canada there was no opposition from any government excepting that of Quebec. "I can lay my hand on my heart and say it will come to you," she asserted.

The question of whether this civilization is to disappear, as others have done before it, next occupied Judge Murphy's attention. She felt that its preservation depended largely on the efforts of women who in this country own nearly 50 per cent. of the capital and do 85 per cent. of the spending, and where they constitute a 300,000 majority in voting power.

"If England leaves India to-day there will be no white race left in the Orient," was one of the comments made.

"We want women leaders to-day as never before; leaders who are not afraid of being called names, and who are willing to go out and fight. I think women can save civilization. Peace cannot be left to the world's diplomats or politicians," Judge Murphy said.

Grenville County Loses Magistrate

BROCKVILLE, Ont., October 24.—After a long illness John A. Connell, police magistrate of Grenville County, president of the Leeds and Grenville Independent Telephone Company, and active in many other directions, died yesterday morning at his home in Algonquin. He was a native of Grenville County and spent all his life in this district as a farmer. Besides his wife he is survived by one son and one daughter, as well as his father, Martin Connell, Spencerville.

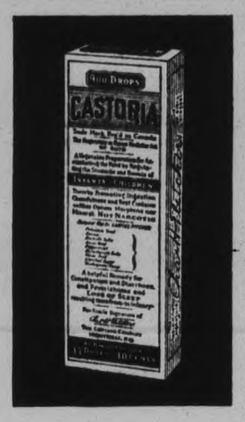
ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY EXAMINER

Made specially for BABIES and CHILDREN



Physicians tell us that one condition is nearly always present when a child has a digestive upset, a starting cold or other little ailment. Constipation!

When little bowels get clogged, body wastes accumulate, and poisons and infection find a fertile breeding place.

The first step towards relief is to rid the body of impure wastes. And for this nothing is better than genuine time-proven Castoria!

Castoria is a pure vegetable preparation made specially for babies and children. This means it is mild and gentle enough for their delicate organs. Yet it is always effective.

And of course it contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.

You never have to coax children to take Castoria. They like its taste! The genuine Castoria, you know, always has the name, Chas. H. Fletcher, on the package.

The Gravenhurst Banner contains the following references to the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brennan of Gravenhurst, formerly of Ashburnham: "Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brennan of town were married sixty years on Saturday, October 10th. Their marriage took place in Toronto, October 10th, 1871. Mrs. Brennan, whose maiden name was Catherine Burke, was born in Dover, England, and Mr. Brennan was born in New York State.

Of a family of thirteen children, ten are living, seven sons and three daughters. There are also twenty-five gandchildren and one great grandchild, living descendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Brennan quietly celebrated their wedding anniversary in the presence of the members of their family and relatives. They are both enjoying good health and are exceptionally active, both mentally and physically, are well known and highly respected citizens of this town for more than thirty years. Before taking up residence in town they had resided in Peterborough for over a score of years.

The Banner, on behalf of its readers, wishes to convey to Mr. and Mrs. Brennan our sincere congratulations and good wishes on this very especial occasion. It is not often we have the opportunity of reporting a wedding anniversary among our citizens who have been married for such a long period of time.'

Curtains and hangings for windows dress up a room so decidedly that it pays to give special attention to home window decoration.

• • • • • • •

The effect reaches beyond the inclosure of the four walls, since every passerby who looks at the house glimpses this much of the room's decoration.

• • • • • • •

From both inside and outside the house the curtains and hangings must look well. For this reason some homemakers have curtains alike throughout the house, and supply variety through the hangings.

• • • • • • •

Other decorators have the color of these inner or glass curtains, all alike although the style of the curtains may vary, some being ruffled and tied, while others are plain and hang straight.

• • • • • • •

It is wise to retain the same style of these curtains on one floor at least, simply for outward appearance.

• • • • • • •

A clever way to distribute the war and tear of sheer curtains, those which come closest to the panes and so get the most dust when windows are open, is to reverse them each year.

• • • • • • •

For example, let us suppose you have smart, ruffled curtains with perhapx a band of color in the ruffles, or possibly entire ruffles of contrasting hue.

• • • • • • •

One season have the ruffles in the centre of the window, and the next have this ruffled side next the widow frame.

• • • • • • •

It is amazing how differently the window treatment appears, and puzzling to decide which way is most attractive. When the ruffles come next the wall, they frame the window delightfully.

• • • • • • •

They give the inner finishing note which is generally supplied by over-draperies. If these latter are used, the curtains look like regulation straight edged curtains with ruffles at the wall edge.

• • • • • • •

The same method is a good one to follow with hangings. The edges along the pane side will fade much sooner than the side by the wall. Reverse the hangings so that the left-had one becomes the right and vice versa.

• • • • • • •

Even though the textile will not fade, the wear comes most on the window edges of the hangings, and it distributes the wear to alternate he sides as described.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D

STILL ANOTHER JOB DONE BY THE LIVER

If you were asked which was the most important organ in the body you might say that it was the brain because it directed all the work of the body; or perhaps the heart because it pumped the life-giving blood to all parts of the body, or again the lungs because they keep you alive by supplying oxygen. Even the stomach and intestine, which hold and digest the food might be considered most important. And yet from the standpoint of work the liver has been well named the 'king of organs.'

First we learned that it manufactured bile which breaks up fats so they can be digested, is a natural antiseptic, and is also a natural purgative.

Then we learned that the liver took starches from the blood and stored them up as sugar to be used when needed. Then we learned that the liver not only helped in the formation of the blood, but it actually took harmful substances from the blood, thus preventing trouble throughout the whole body.

And now another discovery has been made at Stanford university the Mayo clinic, and elsewhere, that the liver in addition to handling starches also is a big factor in handling any of the proteids—meat and eggs—which have not been used or built up into other tissues. The cells of the liver acting on the products of meat and eggs give out a great amount of heat and energy for use in the body.

It was formerly thought that most of the meat and eggs were used up in the building of muscle and other structures. It would seem that the tructures. It would seem that the iver is capable of so acting on them that further energy is derived from them.

When we remember the size of the liver the largest and heaviest organ in the body remember that it holds one quarter of all the blood of the body and all its different jobs we can readily believe that it is entitled to be called the king of the organs.

And all you need to do to keep itin good condition is not to eat too much but bend and twist the body so that by squeezing the liver you will help it to do its work more effectively. Taking long deep breaths is also helpful because this pushes the floor of the chest against the liver.

Cavan

Mr. Ross Carr, Toronto, is convalescing at his home in Cavan, after a serious operation.

Miss Aikenhead was the guest of Mrs. C. Carr and Mrs. R. S. Staples during her stay in Cavan.

Mrs. G. Thorne and little Phyllis Hutchison, Otonabee, were guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Grace Sisson, recently.

Rev. G. E. and Mrs. Whithame motored to Peterborough on Wednesday and visited Mrs. Margaret Staples, who is seriously ill in Nicholls Hospital.

Mr. Louis Pudsley attended the street dance in Pontypool on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. M. Sutton, Millbrook, attended the W.I. meeting in Cavan Community Hall on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Milton Carr, Indian River, was the guest of Mrs. Leslie Pritchard over Thursday night.

On Wednesday afternoon a delightful afternoon tea was held in the Parish Hall, Ida.

Each member of the W.A. had the privilege of inviting a friend.

Cards and social conversation filled in the time happily until tea was served for which the menu was delicious.

A small fee was paid by each one present which added a nice sum to the treasury of the W.A.

Mr. Herb Syer, South Monaghan, was a visitor in Cavan on Thursday.

Seeks Control Of Hoarded Money

FIGHTS FOR CONTROL OF WEALTH OF AGED RECLUSE

Layout shows (1) Mrs. Blanche Wood Shields, step-granddaughter of Mrs. Ida E. Wood, 93-year-old recluse, who has lived alone in a New York hotel for many years, hoarding nearly a million dollars in her room. Mrs. Shields will begin a fight in New York courts for control of the aged woman and her wealth on the grounds that her nephew, Otis Wood, who has been appointed her legal guardian, has mistreated her. No. 2 shows Mrs. Wood as she appeared many years ago when she was a young married woman. It is the last photo that she has had taken.—(Photo of Mrs. Wood by Acme.)

CAMERA CLUB EXHIBITS WORK

First Meeting of Season of Art Association Held in Conservatory.

COVERED WIDE RANGE.

The first meeting for this season of the Lyceum Women's Art Association was held yesterday afternoon in the studios of the Conservatory of Music, and took the form of a reception and an exhibit of work by members of the Toronto Camera Club. There was a good attendance.

The pictures were very interesting, with a wide range in the type of subject. There were some lovely scenes, with an outstanding example in "Springtime," with an old stone bridge in the background and two swans preening in the foreground. This was by Thornton Johnston.

There were two studies of trees, one, entitled "Scotch Mist," by Stanley Harrod, showing Center Island, Toronto, being a very beautiful composition, with a companion in "Misty Morning," a landscape of trees, streams and mountains, by Ernest Hoch.

Other fine examples of work by Thornton Johnston were "Stormy Breezes," a lovely study of white birches, "The Empty Pitcher," which was a study in still life, and "A Summer Stroll," a study of a child with her parents. "The Family" by John Morris, was another good example of family life.

"Muriel" was a portrait in sepia, by Charles Glassey; "Deep Rooted in the Granite" was by A. T. Roberts, a weird study of a pine tree on a bare rock, lit by a peculiar stormy glow. "Three Trees" and "Black Rock," by the same artist, were interesting studies of rugged nature, while Mr. Roberts also showed "Moonlight in the Desert."

"The Judas Tree" was a peculiar thing in varying light and shade, and "The Child Prodigy" by Charles Aylett, F.R.P.S., was a charming representation of a small child in a white evening dress, playing a baby grand piano.

A charming family group called "The Story," was by Thornton Johnston; A. T. Roberts showed some lovely views of the eastern entrance to the Government buildings and the Prince's gate at the C.N. Exhibition, also "An October Evening," with a group of friends gathered under leafy trees.

These pictures were all from the fortieth annual Toronto Salon of Photography, under auspices of the Toronto Camera Club, of which Thornton Johnston is secretary.

HOW frequently we hear people complain of "indigestion." And how seldom there is actually anything wrong with the digestive organs!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali to neutralize the acids. But don't use any crude helps. Use what most doctors would advise; use what your own doctor prescribes in his daily practice for just that condition.

The very best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. You will find nothing else so quick in effect, so harmless, so efficient. One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Results are immediate, with no harmful after effects to follow your relief.

This pleasant way to alkalinize your system is so much better—so much quicker—than attempting to accomplish the same thing by a diet! But you cannot do this with any form of magnesia. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is the formula; it is the one preparation that gives you magnesia in perfect suspension. It is alkaline, its action is thorough, and there is nothing more soothing to an ailing stomach or more helpful to sluggish bowels. Druggists throughout the dominion have Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in 50c bottles.

The best way to whiten teeth is with Phillips' Dental Magnesia —the ideal dentifrice. Try it and see for yourself how white your teeth become. At drug stores everywhere.

King Edward Wins First Game of School Finals

EAST CITY SQUAD LOSES 4-0 DECISION IN SCHOOL TILT

King George Fails to Hold More Experienced Players in Soccer Game.

CLEVER COMBINATION.

Experience was the deciding factor in the success of the King Edward school soccer eleven, against the King George quota in the first game of the play-offs for the public school soccer championship, when the former won by four clear goals, on King Edward Park.

The winners played as a perfect unit in every department and each player confined his activities to his alloted position which completely baffled the non-experienced finalists. The front rank combination, along with the individual play of the outside wing men, backed up by excellent co-operation of the inside player resulted in a great improvement of the code from other years.

King George will have another chance to redeem themselves on Wednesday afternoon, at Nicholls Oval.

The winners will be presented with the Alex. Kay Trophy, along with an eversharp pencil from the Peterborough and District Soccer Association, to each player. King Edward are holders of the cup.

King Edward adopted the right tactics at the start, and had their opponents on the defensive. The East City boys tried to break down the movements of the forwards, but their efforts were in vain. Then the halves of the south-end school checked closely to give their energetic front rank opportunity to score. At last, the right wing of the winners travelled down the wing to evade the defense cleverly. Heal slipping the ball over to Castle, at centre, who headed past the East City custodian. From the centre, Burton, King George, led a seige by narrowly missing from close range. They kept up the bombardment upon the goal until Field tackled in the goal area to gain possession. He carried the sphere to the centre where he passed it to Post, who in turn developed all the speed of a veteran down the touch-line and with th accuracy of a left footer, his shot connected with the foot of Heal, to lift the ball in below the cross-bar out of the reach of the goalie. With greater confidence in every department, the King Edward boys added pressure upon the visitors' goal to confine the activities to that area until the half time period. Edward 2, King George 0.

Clever Football

In the second half both teams served up excellent soccer, and goal to goal play was the order. At length, a fine run on the East City right had the south-end defence in a quandry. The full back conceding a corner kick. Earl placed a perfect shot into goal, where it hit the outside of the upright and went out to Hopcroft, who connected with a first timer, to skim the cross-bar. At this stage, the visiting team lost their usual pep which enabled the King Edward halves to play combination to perfection. The opposing halves falling back to aid their over-worked and none-too-reliable full backs, as Field landed the ball into the goal, in front of the custodian. The winning front rank indulged in the long swinging passes to make the full back leave their charge open. From a throw-in, Post beat three men in the corner and slammed a hot drive across the goal mouth. Heal rattled the upright with a terrific right footer. The ball went back out into the other corner, where Castle baffled the defense as he touched it back into the corner that the goalie had just left. Another breakaway by Post terminated in Heal heading in the fourth tally. No matter what the East City boys instituted, they met a stubborn defence at every opening presented, in which Field, at centre half, demonstrated his versatility as a roving commissioner in all the throw-ins or nullifying dangerous raids at the logical moment to hold the visitors scoreless. King Edward 4. King George 0.

Scorers—Castles 2; and Heal 2.

King George—J. Legon, goal; N. Hewett and O. Gardner, full backs; A. Chartren, G. Bousfield and E. Smith, halves; J. Hopcroft, R. Wood, L. Burton, W. Lee and F. Earl, forwards.

King Edward—G. Gross, goal; F. Vilneff and H. Fife, full backs; L. Gross, A. Field and N. Jobe, halves; W. Conners, A. Heal, H. Castle, L. Detler and V. Post, full backs.

Referee—Harry Hotson.

New Division Named By William Muldoon

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Victorio Campolo of the Argentine and Primo Carnera, Italian giant, tentatively have agreed to meet in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden Nov. 27 in the first possible series of bouts for the "dreadnaught championship" a new class, invented by William Muldoon venerablem ember of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Muldoon, who thinks the boys around 230 pounds ought to have a division of their own, named Campolo Carnera, Jose Santa, Ray Impeleteri, Walter Cobb and George Godfrey as eligibles.

COOK BROTHERS ARE UNSIGNED

Several Others on Ranger and Springfield Squads Are on Hold-out List.

SOME NEWCOMERS.

TORONTO October 24. (C.P.) — The non-arrival of the famous Cook brothers, Bun and Bill, is a source of worry to Manager Lester Patrick of the New York Rangers, National Hockey League entry, now in their pre-seasonal training activities in Toronto.

It is reported the contracts offered the first string forwards of the Rangers has not met with their approval, and it is expected considerable dickering will be necessary before they affix their signatures.

Several others, both of the Rangers and Springfield squads have not yet signed their contracts, but are expected to do so before long. In all fifteen players of the Rangers and their Canadian American League farm team, worked out yesterday.

Among the new-comers to the Rangers were Art Somers and Vic Des Jardines, acquired in the sway that sent Paul Thompson to Chicagi, and Hib Milks, Tom Barton and Bud Jarvis last year with Philadelphia, which will not operate this season.

Obs Heximer, who led the Springfield team in scoring last season, has not yet signed. His two year contract calling for $11.000 has expired, and it is thought likely he will be traded or sold.

No Decision Is Made With Tiger Holdouts

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 24 (A.P.) —Charles A. Hughes, president of the Detroit Hockey Club, announced at noon yesterday that a two-hour conference with Alex Smith, Hec Kilrea and Alex Connell, Ottawa hockey players, terminated without a decision as to whether the trio would accept contracts offered them for positions with the Detroit Falcons this season.

Hughes said he had given the players the "best terms" he could offer ,and added that he did not know when they would advise him whether they will accept or not. He expressed the opinion, however, that they would accept after due consideration of the offer.

Max Carey to Manage Brooklyn Club

Inside Sportin' Dope--By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, hockey, like prosperity, is just round the corner. Locally I ain't got a line on nothing about the coming campaign, but I ain't heard of no influx of star hockey players, so I guess we'll hafta worry along as long as we can with the local crop, so that right off the reel I may say I ain't claiming no championships for this neck of the woods.

The National Hockey League doings is beginning to crowd into the sporting page, Mac, and right now the most interesting thing is the big show is going to stick to the same system of play-offs this year, although the loop will be without the Ottawa Senators and the Philadelphia outfit. With only 8 teams in the league, 6 of them is going to figger in the play-offs. Ain't that something? The cash and carry loop is going to operate from November to March for the purpose of eliminating 2 outfits. If that's not something for the book I ain't never heard nothing. A 44-game schedule, and when it's all over 6 outa the 8 clubs will still be strictly in the running. If the fans stand for that kinda bunk very long they'll probably amend the rules so that after the regular schedule has been run off the whole mess of teams will still have a chance to cop the mug. That wouldn't be much more foolish than the racket they're working now.

I see where Mister Lou Marsh is boosting for the single point for a rouge or a dead-liner to be cut outa the scorning in Canadian football. Put me down as voting the same ticket. The rouge point ain't thrilling, and when, as often happens, a team facing a strong wind gets bottled up in its own territory and the opposition boots the pigskin time after time to the boundry without a chance for a come-back, it robs the game of a lotta action. I listened to that Varsity-McGill game last Sat. and heard the story of 14 pts. being kicked without a major score, and it was about as exciting as a game of casino. Then, I switched to the Harvard-Army battle and got more action outa the 4 minutes remaining in that battle then I did out of the whole hour of the Canadian fixture. Cut out the rouge, give the ball to the defenders, say, on their 20-yard line, when the leather is booted over their goal line, and then the teams will hafta battle for touchdowns or goals from the field, and then we'll see something.

Our P.C.I. seniors practically cinched their group last Sat., Mac, when they tossed Oshawa for a loss on their own grounds. Them Oshawa lads was tough opposition, and to take them twice shows Mister Legon's lads is a real football squad.

Well, Mac, that seems to be all for now.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

LOU BRUILLARD OF WORCESTER NEW WELTERWEIGHT CHAMPION

Southpaw Battler Defeats Young Jack Thompson in Boston Bout.

UNANIMOUS DECISION.

BOSTON, October 24 (C.P.). — Lou Bruillard, 20-year-old French-Canadian youth from Worcester, today occupied the welterweight throne, and he appears capable of infecting new life into that division, which has lost considerable standing in recent years.

This rugged youngster ejected the apparently burned-out Jack Thompson, who gained the title from Jackie Fields two years ago, with a wild and furious barrage of left hooks that dropped the negro champion twice during last night's 15-round battle in the Boston Garden. The title passed on a unanimous decision.

The championship bout, the first held in this state in 11 years and the first such welterweight contest since Honey Mellody, a Boston product, defeated Joe Walcott, one of the outstanding negro ringsters of all time, drew a capacity attendance of 18,500. Boston Garden officials estimated the gate receipts at $55,,000, but the internal revenue checkers totalled it as $44,543..

Thompson's contract called for 50 per cent. of this amount, and Brouillard received 10 per cent. in addition to the championship.

Champion Claims Foul.

Thompson allowed himself to be chased about the ring during 12 of the 15 sessions, Brouillard pounding his head and body with lefts as he gracefully digested but few of the many straight rights aimed at him. The negro was beaten to the canvas in the 10th and 13th, staying down for nine in both rounds. He forced the fighting only in the third round and gained the edge in two other sessions with a counter-attack that surpassed Brouillard's aggressive tactics.

Thompson tried to claim a foul in the sixth, when Brouillard landed a dubious hook that was described as a foul by several observers who had an excellent view of the blow. Thompson and his handlers protested, but Referee Johnny Brassil refused to heed them, during which Brouillard was able to batter him for as long as 90 seconds at a time without a return. Brouillard was equally decisive here several months ago when he outpointed Thompson in a 10-round nontitle affair.

SEVERAL YEARS' FEUD ENDED AS WILBERT ROBINSON OUSTED FROM MANAGERSHIP OF ROBINS

Brooklyn Club Now Able to Face National League Campaign With United Front.

CAREY OF OLD SCHOOL.

Believed Settlement Brought About Through Efforts of Walter Carter.

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 24—Max Carey has succeeded 64-year-old Wilbert Robinson as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers and for the first time since the death of Charles H. Ebbets in 1925 the Dodgers can face the rest of the National League with a united front. The ousting of Robinson after 17 years' service, decided upon unanimously by the directors, brings to end the most violent club war in baseball history.

Nowhere in the annals of the game can be found any feud to rival, in intensity, that which raged for half a dozen years between Robinson and Steve McKeever, half-owner of the Dodgers.

It was a feud based entirely on personal grounds, but it reached a point where the two men, genial and affable enough by themselves, dared not to meet for fear of trading rights and lefts in the best pugilistic fashion. They couldn't agree on anything—on players, on policies or on how the club's money ought to be spent.

McKeever openly has sought Robinson's baseball scalp for years, but during most of that time a deadlock existed on the board of directors, with McKeever interests holding two votes and the Ebbets heirs, supporters of Robinson, also two. Robinson thus could not be removed.

Brings Peace to Camp

Two years ago, the National League stepped in and sought to pour oil on the troubled waters. The net result of the league's efforts was the appointment as a fifth and neutral director of Walter (Dutch) Carter, former Yale pitcher. To Carter was given the credit in some quarters of arriving at a solution to the Brooklyn problem which troubled the league for years. Carter, the balance wheel among the directors, was credited with settling the dispute and selecting Carey as the logical man for the manager's post.

What brought the Brooklyn situation to a head was the Dodgers' disappointing showing last season. After they had finished fourth in 1930, Brooklyn fans, perhaps the most loyal in the country, had visions of another pennant after 11 years of waiting, but the Robins faltered badly and again finished fourth.

Carey, 41 year old, and one of the greatest outfielders and base stealers of modern times, is expected to reorganize the Dodgers with a view toward developing the speed that use of the new ball demands. Carey said he planned "several changes" in the Dodger line-up next season, and although he did not specify where the alterations were to be made it was expected he would attempt to find replacements for such veterans as Glenn Wright, Rube Bressler and perhaps Frank (Lefty) O'Doul.

Robinson was informed of his removal by newspaper men at Brunswick, Ga., but "Uncle Robbie" had little to offer in the way of comment. "If the directors want Carey as manager, it's all right with me," he said.

There seemed to be little question but that Robinson could catch on with another club as coach either in the American or National League. But there was a distinct question as to whether he wanted a new job. He indicated some time ago at Brooklyn that he woul dwelcome a rest after 17 years, suggesting that a new manager be brought in and that he be retained as "general supervisor." This offer was declined by the board.

Robinson, one of the old-time school, began his major league career with Philadelphia, then in the American Association, in 1886 at the age of 19 as a catcher. Later he was one of the big cogs in the famous old machine of the Baltimore Orioles, along with John McGraw, Willie Keeler, and others. After nine years at Baltimore and a period in St. Louis he retired from the majors in 1904, but came back as coach of the New York Giants in 1911. He went to Brooklyn as manager in 1914 and won pennants in 1916 and 1920, losing both World Series, the first to the Boston Red Sox and the second to the Cleveland Indians.

Carey established his reputation with the Pittsburgh Pirates, his best base-stealing year wa sin 1916 when he was credited with 63 thefts, but he was still active enough in 1925 to be one of the big stars in the Pirates' victory over the Washington Senators in the World Series.

The Motion Picture Theatre Association of Czechoslovakia has appointed a subcommission to find ways of averting riots in protest against films in German, such as occurred in Prague last fall.

CONACHER FIRST LEAFS' HOLDOUT

Member of Kid Forward Line Refuses to Sign Contract for Season.

WANTS MORE MONEY.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., 24 (By the Canadian Press) — The first holdout in the camp of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League was reported yesterday when Charlie Conacher flatly refused to sign the contract offered him by Conny Smythe, the Leafs manager, without a substantial increase in the sum named.

The details of the contract were not made known or the sum demanded by Conacher but it is understood there was a wide variation in the two figures. Seven others have not yet signed their contracts but manager Smythe expressed the belief they would be straightened away this week.

It remained for the irrepressible "King" Clancy to spring a new one. Approached by Smythe to sign a contract, the star defense player suggested a cut of $500. Although Smythe was taken by surprise he managed to accept the offer with the understanding however, that if the Leafs enter the play-offs, Clancy will retain the $500.

Bowling Notes

The C.G.E. Shop Five Pin League is hitting on all fours and three nights a week the Duffus Academy is in an uproar due to the keen competition and noisy style of the two hundred odd pin spillers who comprise this organization. Enthusiasm is running very high and taken all round this season promises to be as successful at least as any of the previous years. On Monday night ten teams out loose and these will be augmented soon by four teams of girls. On Wednesday six more quintets crowd the alleys while the remaining ten teams pepper the maple on Thursdays.

The Stores team in the above league who have been consistent winners during the past few seasons are in the fight again this season but strange as it may seem in six games they have failed to procure a single point and if this slump continues they will be hovering around the bottom of the list in the first half. One of their number amassed a total of 330 in three games and a few minutes later in a practice game knocked off a single of 311 so it looks very much as if they were kidding the gang along. The personnel of this team is as follows: Bud Weese, Fred Martin, John Bell, Jawn Playford, Perry Kitchen, and Vern Beavis.

In the first league encounter of the season the Stores team clashed with the Switchgear but their hopes were skidded into the gutter by Joe Marsden who spilled a triple of 759 and in the second week when they met the Drafting Room, Walter Jackson put on the screws by securing 752, which included a single of 330.

Jim King of the Tool Room team set up the first record of the season in the initial game of the year when he clipped off a single of 336 and W. Murphy was right at his heels with 328.

The C.G.E. Office team let loose the heavy artillery last night in the regular league battle when Fred Reed made 707, Tom Glover 688, which included a single of 304, and Fred Somerville copped 658 in three.

The executive of the C.G.E. Bowling League will hold a meeting in the near future to revise last year's rules and to determine what the prizes for this year will be, but it is generally understood that most of the rules will remain as they are.

It is generally understood that in times of economic stress the places of amusement are patronized to a greater extent than in normal times and assuming that this is true there is no reason why the local bowlers should not combine a little charity with their amusement, and the following is a suggestion which might help the dyed-in-the-wool fans to spend a few more cents. Start a head-pin fund, that is to say, in a league game every bowler who picks a head-pin is fined one cent and this money is collected at the end of the games and the total receipts turned over for relief at Christmas. This plan is followed in some of the larger cities and works out quite satisfactorily.

TUNNEY HAS NO USE FOR BOXING

Former Champoin Admits Ring Was Just Means of Making Quick Money.

WILL HE EVER RETURN?

Is Gene Tunney ever likely to return to the ring in an attempt to bring back the heavyweight crown now resting on the German Max Schmeling's head. The question still persists among followers of the fight game, despite repeated denials by James Joseph Tunney who retired undefeated champion of the world to marry an heiress.

The former champion, who was never too popular, admits that the ring was just a means of making money in a hurry for him, otherwise he has no use for prize-fighting. He likes boxing and has always taken the best of care of himself physically, but Gene always felt he was below his class while he was a scrapper. That very attitude is what has made him so unpopular with fighters, fans and sports writers, but Gentleman Gene doesn't worry about that in the least.

In a recent interview with the editor of the Ring Magazine, he again denied any intention of ever returning to the fight business. He was sitting at his desk in his spacious New York office where he is now connected with a business, after trying vainly to make a name for himself in literary circles, and his interviewer marvelled at the finely developed athlete who rose to greet him.

Tunney retired at the peak of his career, and right now he is bigger and stronger than ever with not an ounce of superfluous flesh on his brawny frame. But as for returning to the game that made him wealthy and famous, he says no. With plenty of money, his business and other interests in life the conqueror of Dempsey will never climb in through the ropes again. As for fighting for the honor of America in trying to bring back the championship from Europe, Gene laughs and says is isn't a matter of patriotism, but of big purses. The pro game is strictly business with no sentiment attached to it.

Recently, Tunney is given credit for being a clever boxer whereas a few years ago, the majority of fans couldn't say a good word for the man who humbled the popular Jack Dempsey twice. It is true that Dempsey wasn't in his prime when Gene beat him, but is that the latter's fault? And while it is true Tunney received a long count when Jack floored him in their Chicago fight, yet he pulled through the bad beating in miraculous style to continue winning on points. Gene was never one of the "immortals" of the ring and he never will be, but at least in his short reign, no man in the world could beat him. And wouldn't he have a great time with the bunch of pugs in there today?

Ninety-year-old Sir Alfred Yarrow was among 40 who recently flew over London in a new airliner.

Ottawa Club Profits By N.H.L. Agreement

OTTAWA, Oct. 24—An agreement putting into effect the resolution adopted at the National Hockey League meeting permitting the Ottawa Senators to suspend operations for one year, has been signed by Frank Calder President of the N.H.L., and Frank Ahearn, Fred Burpee and Redmond Quain of Ottawa Hockey Association. The agreement was signed at a conference here on Thursday.

By the agreement Ottawa retains full membership in the N.H.L. shares in any profits the circuit makes, and has the right to send delegates with full voting power to any of the league meetings.

The agreement gives Ottawa $25,000 for the rental of their players and the notes which Frank Ahearn endorsed to pay off last years debts were taken over and endorsed by the N.H.L.

"The satisfaction one experiences when, and after, smoking a pipe of Turret is most gratifying. In Turret pipe tobacco you have been unusually successful in preparing a blend which suits all discerning smokers, both in quality and price—therein, undoubtedly, lies the cause of its popular approval and demand. After an arduous session at the 'daily round' I find few pleasures to equal the fragrant, mellow smoke of Turret pipe tobacco. FRANK HART MATCHED AGAINST BANASKI FOR WORLD'S TITLE

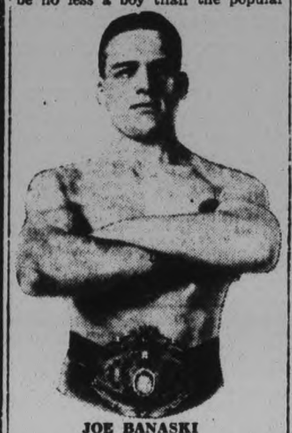
Promoter Charles Hallat Planning Ambitious Next Show Here.

ON FRIDAY, OCT. 30TH.

The news that wafted along the highways and byways of sportland yesterday, that Peterborough is to have a real world's championship bout brought more than a flutter of excitement from the dyed-in-wool fans, this world's light-heavyweight champion Joe Banaski, is the much-talked-of and colorful Columbus, Ohio, wrestler who took the Cincinnati wrestling world by storm when he defeated the sensational Clarence Ecklaud in a world's championship elimination, almost two years ago. Since this time, this rasslin' luminary has been covering himself with glory and winning over some of the best heavyweights in the world, having to go out of his class on several occasions to meet suitable opponents. However, he is not going out of his class here in Peterborough, for his opponent will be no less a boy than the popular



JOE BANASKI

Frankie Hart, superlatively clever Hollander, who wrestles under the sobriquet of the "Flying Dutchman," and recognized among the sporting profession as one of the greatest prospects in the Dominion. The contracts have been signed, sealed and delivered at the Ontario Athletic Commission offices, and large weigh and appearance forfeits have been deposited by both parties.

Charlie Hallat, well known Canadian promoter, who will be remembered by the fans as being instrumental in putting on the world's flyweight championship at Toronto in 1921 between that great little British, Jimmy Wilde, and Patsy Wallace, a title bout that drew in the neighborhood of $55,000. With the co-operation of the astute Jack Corcoran, the big league Toronto promoter and matchmaker, and director of the famous Queensbury Club in the Queen City, and who is promoting the world's heavyweight wrestling championship battle between Jim Londos and Gino Garibaldi early in November, and possibly at the new Maple Leaf Gardens, the magnificent new sports Arena, with a seating capacity of 16,000 people.

There is no doubt that this being the most important sporting event ever arranged here, and it is likely that extensive alterations will have to be made to accommodate the large and cosmopolitan crowd. The world's title match will take place here on the 30th of this month, at the Brock Street Arena.

Charlie Hallatt will probably be in town to-day with a retinue of helpers for this pretentious promotion.

SKIPPER HAS STIRRING TIME

Dowdy Probably Last of Skippers of Famous "Tea Clipper" Races.

IS 85 YEARS OLD.

LONDON, Oct. 24 (By The Canadian Press).—How he ran away to sea at the age of 13, later commanded the Kaisow, a fine racing clipper rushing the new season's tea from Foochow to London, and finished in command of a Union-Castle liner is the romantic story of the life of Captain John Dowdy, of Hunstanton, Norfolk, who claims to be the last of the skippers engaged in the tea clipper races of 60 years ago. He has just celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday.

During his many years on the sea he has encountered many harrowing experiences, one of which stands out as a most heroic effort. He Was first officer of the "Seagull," when she struck a reef in the Maldive Group of Islands in the Indian Ocean and was wrecked. The crew reached an island, but starvation threatened the whole ship's company and Dowdy volunteered to reach Point de Galle (Ceylon), some 400 miles distant, in an open boat to bring help. It took him four days to complete the journey in bad weather but he returned with a steamer and rescued his shipmates.

Later when he was commanding the "Ada," he narrowly escaped capture by cannibals when his ship struck a reef. Sixteen boats of hostile savages set out from an island and were about to board his ship when the vessel was refloated and steamed away.

At the time he started his seafaring career an able seaman was paid $10.24 a month or 40 cents a day.

Many of his greatest thrills were experienced in the ocean tea races. He, with his brothers, Joseph and Samuel, each commanded racing clippers, and bonuses were awarded for the first ship reaching London with the new season's tea. They made quite a reputation for themselves, and the then Prince of Wales invited them to dinner at the Fishmonger's Hall.

His one great asset is punctuality. He demonstrated this when at Cape Town, three foreign diplomats, who had visited Government House, stayed talking on the quay and did not go abroad when requested. Orders were given to withdraw the gangway. The diplomats tried to jump on board and missed and were seen struggling in the water.

When queried by Sir Donald Currie as to what he meant by nearly drowning three important foreigners, and reminding him that it was an international and extremely grave affair, Captain Dowdy replied: "You said the mails were not to be delayed on any account, and my ship does not wait for debates to end."

A company to inaugurate a new passenger and cargo steamer service between New Zealand and Australia is being organized in Dunedin, N.Z., with a capital of $250,000.

CASUAL COMMENT

The residence rule has caused the disruption of the Trent Valley Hockey League for this winter unless some sporting Solomon can solve the difficulty soon. Formerly, outside players—no more than two to a team—had to be on the spot nearly a year ahead, on January 1st. Then it was changed to October 1st, and now some of the moguls want it moved back even later.

• • • • • • •

Perhaps the date could be moved back to about November 1st which should suit the weaker teams, but we understand two of the clubs are satisfied with their own players and don't want any outsiders for themselves or the other teams. Well, they threshed it out at their annual meeting and couldn't get anywhere, so we suppose nothing will be done. But we hope some of the sports down that way get together on it.

• • • • • • •

About fifty bowling teams are at it now on the Duffus alleys and it wont be long until the real winter rush is on again. Two leagues from the C.G.E., the Caledonian League, and a men's and a girls' league from The Examiner all believe in getting an early start.

• • • • • • •

The Foster A.C. gymnasium has been fixed up with punching bags, and the usual ring paraphernalia, if you know what that means. The gym is at 172½ Hunter street just west of Chambers, and is a good-sized place for the boys to train in. Nine or ten boxers were working out last night, and Jerry Coughlin makes them work, too.

• • • • • • •

Following setting-up exercises, boxing, skipping, etc., they take a run around town for their wind and legs, and right now nearly every one of the scrappers is in good shape. After another week they'll start tapering down on the hard work so as to keep their energy for the amateur show at the Brook November 6th.

• • • • • • •

"Shiner" Johnston, the Petes' veteran third baseman last summer, will manage the Paisley House in Stirling this winter, the hotel taken over by Art Johnston. It's a pretty safe bet that "Shiner" will be up to his neck in sports down there this coming year, hockey and baseball, anyway.

• • • • • • •

At the All Saints' Athletic Club meeting last night, a team to take part in the open relay race, November 11h was decided upon for sure, and arrangements will be made next week for a hall in which to run the boxing smoker in about two weeks' time. A dozen or so boxers are working out regularly and coming along okay.

• • • • • • •

The club expects to go into hockey in a big way this year, with a team in the City League or the E. P. L., depending on the class of players and which loop they will best fit into. There are some smart puck-chasers on the A.S.A.A. books.

• • • • • • •

The executive committee of the O.H.A. held their session in Toronto, the night before last and they had a flock of business to clean up. Percy Bond, first vice-president represented Peterborough. The changes of residences by players will be the biggest item to settle, and the results of the meeting should be announced by Monday.

• • • • • • •

Big George Godfrey has left these parts for California where he meets Max Baer shortly. He gets $7,500 for this bout which is better than the few hundred berries he worked around Ontario for as a grappler. The huge colored fellow doesn't worry whether his next bout is boxing or wrestling, or how much he gets, just as long as they keep him busy.

• • • • • • •

He certainly attracted the fans when he wrestled here at the Brock in August. Incidentally, George thinks that his appearance in Toronto recently had much to do with Larry Gains' hurried return to the Old Country. Be that as it may, Godfrey is hardly in the set-up class yet.

RETURN TO OPTIMISM REFLECTED IN MARKET

Stock Trend Generally on the Upgrade as Leaders Point Towards Way Out.

GOLD A FACTOR.

(By A. D. O'Halloran. Special to The Examiner. Copyright.)

TORONTO, Oct. 24 (SNS). — Sentiment toward the Canadian security exchanges has taken on a rosier hue in the past few weeks with the public, which could see and hear nothing but bad news a short time ago, inclined to take a lenient view of adverse developments and pay more attention to matters of a constructive nature. This has been demonstrated time and again in the actions of the security market in recent sessions and prices have recovered materially from the extreme lows of October 5. While not holding all the ground gained in the advance which received its first impetus in the announcement of the huge credit corporation to relieve banking pressure in the United States, reactions have been minor and followed by a resumption of the advance. The market has not gone ahead too rapidly, however, and the advance has been interrupted at intervals by profit-taking and selling, but on each occasion the list has come through to again make progress.

During the present week there were two factors—one Canadian and the other American—that might have been construed bearishly had the public been so inclined. Announcement made from Ottawa of the prohibition of gold exports from the Dominion under the pessimistic atmosphere of less than a month ago would have been reflected in the stock market, but on this occasion passed unnoticed with no apparent influence on prices. So far as the stock market is concerned any bad effect would have been purely psychological, or reflection of the state of mind of traders in seeing all that is bad and nothing good. In banning exports of gold the government had in mind conserving of the metal for the Dominion's requirements and the action gives assurance to foreign holders that Canada intends to live up to its contracts and meet obligations in gold in the money markets of the world when called upon to do so.

Mid-week Decline Checked.

The decision handed down by the Interstate Commerce Commission in the plea for a 15 per cent. increase in freight rates for United States roads naturally concerned American securities more than Canadian. However, local markets have been moving sympathetically with Wall Street and what has disturbed or encouraged the New York exchange has had repercussions here. Immediately following announcement of a denial of the plea for a 15 per cent. increase and a suggested raise in the rates for certain commodities and pooling of the increased revenue to help the weaker roads the market sold off. The decline was checked before going very far and the industrials once again made headway.

All this suggests an improved sentiment and if further evidence is required one has only to look at the decision of the Toronto Stock Exchange in making substantial additions to the free list and the movements of securities once the trading restrictions were removed. Restrictions were placed against trading when Britain went off the gold standard to prevent panicky selling and heavy liquidation by holders of securities who might have thrown them overboard. Minimum prices as of September 19 were the rule and in the interval the committee has placed a majority of the active listed issues on the free list without resultant heavy selling and drastic price reductions.

Not only is this improvement to be noted in the stock market but business leaders and executives are inclined to be optimistic when discussing general business conditions. Commodity prices are rising and higher quotations for wheat are encouraging to the Canadian west. Figures published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa show wheat to be in the best statistical position since 1927 with stocks on hand the lowest since that year. Canada's foreign trade again declined in September but a favorable feature was the excess of exports over imports amounting to $3,612,000. For the first six months of the current year Canada's adverse trade balance of $22,704,000 compares with an adverse balance of $81,396,000 for the corresponding period of 1930.

DECIDED STRENGTH IN FOREIGN ISSUES

But Movement Taking Bond Market as a Whole is Sideways.

(By J. H. Turnpenny.)

TORONTO, Oct. 24, SNS. Special to The Examiner).—Movements still were largely sideways on the Canadian bond market this week. There was some weakness at the beginning of the week, with recovery later and the list as a whole leaving off approximately at the same level as the week previous. The slight increase in volume was of no consequence.

Utilities are turning over slowly, but the bulk of activity is in the high grades, Dominions and provincials. Any movement in corporations will have to be preceded by a strengthening and widening of interest in the first-class securities. Dominions are now selling on approximately a 5 per cent. basis.

Foreigns were decidedly stronger at the end of the week. The improved sentiment in continental markets and the pickup in trade in other countries having depreciated currencies has benefited their American dollar obligations. Germans are at a new high on the recovery. Decision of Brazil to meet interest obligations in scrip resulted in a firming of that government's issues. Japs broke sharply the first half of the week, staged a recovery and held their position as the week closed.

Difficulty of placing new issues is reflected in the absence of bids by investment houses for new municipal financing and the fact that flotations of this class this week amounted to not more than a few thousand dollars.

PRODUCE LIGHTER ON LOCAL MARKET

Eggs Range From 25 to 45 Cents Per Dozen—Butter Brings 25 to 35 Cents Per Pound.

Supplies were at a lower ebb at the farmers' market this morning. The bumper Saturdays of some time past are gradually lessening.

Chickens were 25 cents a pound; eggs ranged in price from 25 cents a dozen for pullet specimens, to 45 cents for regular sizes. Butter was 25 to 35 cents a pound. Cream was 30 cents a pint.

Potatoes were 50 cents a bag; lamb was 13 and 17 cents a pound; russet apples were 20 cents a peck; pears, 50 cents a basket; grapes 25 cents a basket; carrots, 25 cents a peck.

Little pigs were $6 a pair.

LAST MINUTE SCARE WARNINGS BEING ISSUED BY BOTH SIDES

New House to Meet November 3—Speaker's Election Only Business.

NATIONALISTS CONFIDENT.

(By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer).

LONDON, Oct. 24. — The new House of Commons, to be elected on Tuesday, will meet on Nov. 3, but its only business on that day will be election of the Speaker. Rt. Hon. E. A. Fitzroy, Conservative member for Daventry, already returned by acclamation, is expected to again occupy the Speaker's chair.

The House will then adjourn until the following day, when the Royal approval will be signified and the swearing-in of new members will commence.

The State opening has been fixed for Nov. 10. His Majesty will read the Speech from the Throne and debate on the address in reply will begin.

The electorate, however, is little concerned at the moment with the program of the new Parliament. It is the composition of the new house that is taking the attention of upwards of thirty million voters.

Three Days Left

Only three days of campaigning, including Sunday, remain before the people register their decision for or against the National Government. It seem to be taken for granted in London to-day that the National Ministry will be returned to power; the question occupying the party leaders and organizers is how big its majority will be. And in what relative proportions will its different wings be in the new House. Only the electors can decide.

Meanwhile the Labor Party fights staunchly against its united enemies. Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Prime Minister MacDonald's successor as Parliamentary Labor Leader, had his turn over the National radio last night. He took pains to explain the Labor party's policy of public control of the banking and credit structure of Britain—the policy termed "mad Bolshevism" by Rt. Hon. Philip Snowden—was in essentials the policy drawn up by Mr. Snowden himself three years ago.

Last Minute Scares

As the fateful day approaches, both sides are warning their followers to beware of sensational last-minute roorbacks.

Lord Arnold, Labor Peer, declared the National Government forces probably would make "an attempt to scare the people" with something like the notorious "Zinovieff letter," the alleged Russian document which appeared late in the 1924 campaign and to which the Labor party attributed its defeat.

And there were whisperings on the other side that the Labor party had up its sleeve a disclosure of "secret financial correspondence" which would be aimed at blasting the hopes of the National Government and its followers.

All over the country candidates of all groups and parties continue to have running battles with the busy heckler. Hundreds of meetings are conducted with little disturbance, but a great many are being broken up in disorder. At Bristol chairs were used as clubs and two stewards were injured. The police were called in when Rt. Hon. Tom Shaw, who was Labor Minister for War, faced a rowdy gathering at Preston. A free-for-all raged in the body of a hall at Great Garwood. Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, National-Labor lieutenant of the Prime Minister, was jostled when he arrived at Nottingham last night, and fists wee shaken in his face.

Mrs. Snowden Active.

Mrs. Philip Snowden, the brilliant wife of the retiring Chancellor of the Exchequer, has entered the fight at Darwen on behalf of Sir Herbert Samuel, whose free trade principles have led to the appearance of a Conservative opponent, although Sir Herbert is chief Liberal member of the Government. Mrs Snowden told a Darwen audience the Chancellor himself, a strong free trader, would have come had he been fiit, but he was still in the charge of doctors and trained nurses.

"Although chafing at the bit he is not permitted to travel any distance or address any public meetings yet,' 'she added.

Amid the confusion of Liberal voices in this most confusing of campaigns, Viscount Grey of Fallodder is heard taking direct issue with Rt. Hon. David Lloyd-George, titular head of the Liberal Party. Lord Grey has had a strong following of his own, the old Asquithian Liberals, for many years. Mr. Lloyd-George advised Liberal voters that where the choice lay between a protectionist Tory and a Labor free trader, to vote for Labor.

"I say exactly the opposite," Lord Grey declared. "I say the issue is so grave, the policy of the Labor Opposition is so fraught with certain disaster for this country, that where there is a Labor candidate in the field who is not supporting Mr. MacDonald it is in the interests of every party that they should not only not vote for him, but they should make a point of going to the poll to see that a National candidate who supports the National Government is returned."

CLUB OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED

C.G.E. Social and Athletic Association Commence Activities for New Year.

STABLE FINANCES.

The C.G.E. Social and Athletic Club started the ball rolling for the coming season this week when the annual meeting was held in the Canadian Hall. A resume of the activities of the past year showed that the Association had been active and successful in almost every branch of sports common to this city while the financial statement indicates that the club is enjoying the largest bank balance attained since the birth of the organization. This condition reflects considerable credit on the ability and energy of the outgoing executive who were unanimously returned to office in a body and will again pilot the club for the next twelve months.

The stable financial condition of this club is due in a large measure to the revenue obtained from the sale of chocolate bars, milk and tobacco to the employees during working hours although several of the sporting and social ventures financed by the club were self-supporting which left a substantial balance from membership dues.

The following is a list of the officers who were re-elected:

President, Robt. Cotton; vice-president, B. I. Burgess, and an executive committee composed of Bert May, W. G. Shiner, S. J. Hayes, H. A. Cranfield and Fred Baterson who replaces Frank Robinson, the latter having resigned. C. E. Newman and N. E. Crowe who were secretary and treasurer respectively last year were appointed by the executive and their splendid work augurs a return to office. W. G. Swanger was elected auditor.

Winners Announced For Y Sports Hour

The Y.W.C.A. Sports Hour last evening again attracted a large group of swimmers and spectators.

The Senior Speed Race was won by Ruby Milburn; the Junior race by Frances Bestard, and the Babies' by Frederick Fowler. Winners of the back stroke were: Senior, Elein Bowler; Junior, Jean Nichols, and Babies' Frederick Fowler. In the fancy diving Isabel Duffus held first place in the Seniors', and Dora Doukas in the Babies'.

A very exciting relay race was the feature of the evening. Many of the swimmers are improving their speed and judging from last night's races the coming swimming exhibition in November promises to be very interesting.

Miss Littlefield announced that the pool will be open for swimmers all November, and urged the girls to get swimming tickets or take advantage of the 15c and 25c dips. All were invited to the Hallowe'en parties, Juniors, Saturday morning, October 31, and Seniors, Thursday evening, October 29.

WESTERN RETAINS FIELD DAY TITLE

London Students Win Intermediate Inter-Collegiate Track-field Meet.

HAMILTON, Oct. 24. — Four records were shattered, all by considerable margins, as athletes from University of Western Ontario, Toronto University, McMaster University and the Ontario Agricultural College staged their third annual quadruple battle under the heading of the Western intercollegiate intermediate track and field games in the Civic Stadium here yesterday afternoon.

As Western University again swept to an overwhelming triumph, with an aggregate of 61 points against 44 for Varsity, 25 for McMaster and five for O.A.C., it furnished the individual champion in Don Wright, who held a first and two seconds for an aggregate of 11 points and furnished three of the four record-breaking performances for the day. The other standard toppler was Stewart, wearing the Varsity colors.

Jobless Second Best In Melee With London Police

London's mounted "Bobbies" are using strong medicine to disperse this fleeting mob of unemployed men who staged a protest parade against a proposed cut in the dole. One of the unfortunate men is shown being trampled under the hoofs of one of the police mounts as others flee the charging officers.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

BUGLER BECOMES HUMBLE.

Beware the arrogance of pride;
An humble spirit be your guide.
—Old Mother Nature.

Bugler the Elk was arrogant, and his arrogance was born of his pride in his great size and strength and the magnificent antlers that crowned his head. He wore them proudly. His pride in them was evident in every toss of his head. For months they had been the admiration of his followers. He was lord of the mountain, and it was chiefly due to those great antlers that this was so. There was none to successfully oppose him, and but few had even tried. So he had gathered a band of followers, and all through the early fall had been their leader. Not even when at last with the approach of winter Mrs. Bugler quietly took that leadership from him and he became little more than a rear guard for the band, did he lose that arrogance.

There was no more fighting to be done, so he spent much time in standing in commanding positions where he could be seen to the best advantage and fondly believed that he was being admired. So great was his self-esteem and pride in his appearance that he failed to notice that Mrs. Bugler and the others hardly ever glanced his way. Was he not Bugler the Elk, lord of the mountain, fearing no one?

But the snows came and Mrs. Bugler, wise with the wisdom of long experience, led the band down to the lower slopes where there was food and shelter, and without realizing that he was following instead of leading, Bugler went with them. No one paid him the least attention now. The one concern of all was to get food, and it was Mrs. Bugler who knew where the best food was to be found and the best way of getting to it. So it was she whom the others watched and whom they followed. Sometimes Bugler grumbled a protest, but no one gave it the least attention. He could go with them or remain where he was so far as they were concerned. Still he remained arrogant, tossing his head in pride and admiring himself when no one else even glanced at him.

And then, near the end of winter, there came a day when the great Elk was shorn of his arrogance and pride and became as humble as the smallest member of the band. Indeed, he became more humble. For a day or two he had felt that something was wrong, just what he did not know. His head felt uncomfortable. Those great antlers seemed a burden. Then that morning one of them had become loose just as you have had a tooth become loose. Bugler had lagged behind the band. He felt miserable and out of sorts. He had given his head a vigorous shake and the tip of one antler had touched an overhanging branch. A moment later he was staring stupidly at that great antler lying in the snow at his feet. It had broken off just above his head.

Now with but one antler his head felt out of balance, weighted down on one side, and he was more miserable than ever. The band had moved on, but Bugler did not try to catch up. His pride would not allow him to. With one of his great weapons gone he felt humiliated. He did not want to be seen. So he lingered behind. A few hours later the other great antler fell at his feet in the snow. His crown was gone. Only two raw, sore places remained where those great weapons had been. It was unbelievable but true. He was as weaponless as Mrs. Bugler. There was nothing about him now but his size for any one to admire, and without his weapons, his crown of glory, his arrogance was swept away. There was no pride in him.

But he was lonely. Hours later he rejoined the band in a sheltered valley, but even then he remained a little back where he would not be noticed. He was very humble, was Bugler the Elk. There was no pride in him. Not even the knowledge, born of past experiences, that in time that great crown would be replaced with perhaps an even finer one, served to comfort him. With the dropping of those great antlers had dropped all arrogance, all pride, and meekness and humbleness of spirit had taken their place. He was content to be just one of the band, with Mrs. Bugler the accepted leader.

What To-day Means To You

"SCORPIO"

If October 24th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:15 a.m. to 10:20 a.m., from 1:15 p.m. to 3:10 p.m., and from 6:15 p.m. to 9 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and from 4 p.m. to 5:50 p.m.

Health indications are not propitious on October 24th, judged by the Stellar Signs. If care be taken, however, there is no occasion for worry, and ailments will be of a minor variety. Business conditions will remain unchanged. A sunny atmosphere will prevail in the home. Cupid's amorous darts will be active and the little god will score many bull's-eyes.

A child born on this October 24th will be energetic, forceful and ambitious. Endowed with much natural ability, and possessing a large measure of adaptability, success will attend its efforts. It will, to its advantage, marry early in life, and much happiness is foretold.

You, if born on October 24th, lack the aggressive qualities that make for material success. You are more of a dilletante. Fond of the good things of life, you prefer to dabble in art, music and poetry. To a certain extent, you suffer from an inferiority complex. This militates against you and is to be deplored. Such a condition is not warranted by your intelligence and all-round ability.

In any career that you may adopt, you should associate yourself with one whose self-consciousness is not as great as your own, and who possesses a dogged and determined character; one, unlike yourself, who does not look upon a rebuff as a slight, or criticism as damning.

If a woman, you are liable to attacks of despondency, and subject to fits of melancholy. These are caused by thinking too much about yourself and lack of consideration for others.

October 24th men and women are not destined to enjoy much happiness in married life, and this will be their fault, and not that of their respective partners. Their natures will be complex, and it will be difficult to understand them. When, too, things go wrong, they will sulk, rather than fight it out. Better to have a storm and then sunshine, than an impenetrable mist.

Sunday, October 25th.

If October 25th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., and from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. The danger hours are from 9 a.m. to 10:50 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., and from 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

October 25th is, according to the Stars, under destructive and unfortunate influences. An irritable and a combative frame of mind will be in evidence, and embroilment in disputes is inevitable, unless self-restraint is exercised. Molehills will look like mountains and there will be a tendency to take everything the wrong way. Very little contentment and peace is foretold.

Children born on this October 25th will be attractive, and will develop strong and charming personalities. They will be dreamers, more than doers, and dilatoriness will clog their steps. They will be retentive and assimilative readers, good conversationalists, and have bright dispositions.

You, if born on October 25th, have exceptionally good judgment and clear vision. You never allow yourself to get rattled, nor do you wear tinted glasses. You think quickly and correctly. You view all things in their true perspective. You are self-reliant. Always ready to hear what others may have to say, you act on your own conclusions, and are never swayed by the "what-might-have-beens."

Your mind, even if you are a woman, is a strictly logical one and you never lay claim to any intuitive gifts. You judge facts as they are concretely placed before you, and never allow your imagination to run riot, nor do you overstep what you consider to be your own limitations.

Responsibility, once accepted, does not scare you. Rather does it serve as an incentive to do your utmost. Self-disciplined, you lead a careful life, and are not so wedded to your job as to preclude necessary exercise and congenial recreation.

Your horoscope presages a considerable degree of success, gained slowly by steady and plodding effort, whilst on the other hand your "one" love affair will bring to you that joy and happiness that you have envisioned, and will make of your home "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

Warsaw

John Clydesdale's sale of stock on Thursday afternoon was well attended. Prices were good as stock has been selling. Pigs between six and seven weeks old brought $3.75 each, cows averaged $41.25 each, the highest was $59.50; calves brought $14.25 each; year olds went at $16.50 to $20 each; two year olds averaged $29 each; hens were 50c each. No horses were sold.

The Presbyterian W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. David Rose on Thursday afternoon with a good attendance. Mrs. Borland, president was in the chair. The meeting was one of Thanksgiving. Mrs. Greystock read the Scripture lesson, Psalm one hundred. Circle of prayer was Mrs. R. W. Payne Mrs Greystock, Mrs. Richard Tedford Mrs. Munro and Mrs. Frank Davis sang "God is Love." Mrs. Borland gave a short sketch of the life of Dr. Caroline McDonald, who was a Presbyterian, but did interdenominational work, much of it among the prisoners and downcast. She was an elder in a church in Japan. Dr. McDonald died last summer and the funeral services at Wingham were conducted by a Presbyterian minister.

Mrs. Charles Tighe gave a paper on the life of Mary Slosson, a Scottish girl, who early in life determined to be a missionary, had many difficulties to surmount, but did, and spent many years doing a noble work in Africa.

The meeting closed by all repeating the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Hill's baby won second prize at the big baby show at the Roseneath Fair. Fine babies from all over the district were entered in the competition but the Hill baby came through with the blue ribbon.

Theatre attendance at Sydney, N.S.W., is greater than at any time this year.

FOWL SUPPER AT BURNBRAE

91st Anniversary Celebration of St. Andrew's Church Brought to Successful Close.

GOOD SUM REALIZED.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BURNBRAE October 24. — The 91st anniversary celebration of St. Andrew's church here was brought to a fitting conclusion on Tuesday evening, when a multitude of people were fed in the basement of the church, at another of Burnbrae's famous fowl suppers. Supper was served continuously from before six until after nine o'clock, and thanks to the energy of the ladies of the congregation there was lots and to spare. Both the supper and the service was of the highest order, and everyone came away with a more than satisfied feeling.

Financially the anniversary occasion was a marked success. The proceeds of the Sunday services and the supper amunted to over eleven hundred and twenty dollars.

A splendid program was given in the auditorium of the church, following the supper. Addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Reid of Stirling, and Rev. Mr. Joblin of Rawdon, also Rev. Mr. McKenzie, who acted as chairman for the occasion.

Greetings were sent by Revs. Robinson and MacTavish of Campbellford and Seymour, who were unable to be present.

Mr. Charles Allen of Stirling was heard in two fine piano solos, and also accompanied Mr. Arthur Duncan, tenor soloist of the same village, who rendered two fine numbers. Miss Dorothy Watson, piano, and Misses Hazel Watson and Susan Atkinson, guitars, were heard in two numbers. Readings by Miss Hazel McKenzie and Donald Lloyd were much appreciated.

Delightful vocal solos were rendered by Miss Fern Wetherall, Mr Albert Gifford and Mr. Malcolm Hutcheon. Accompanists were Mrs. Windrim, Miss Hall and Miss Helen Addie.

During the supper hour Mr. Joe Wilson of Stirling entertained the audience with motion pictures depicting the Life of David Livingstone. This was both interesting and inspiring and brought forth much favorable comment from the speakers.

Guests were present from Peterborough, Havelock, Campbellford, Stirling, as well as all the surrounding communities.

FAIRMOUNT

The Pumpkin Pie Social and Hallowe'en concert held in the Sunday School room on Wednesday was very successful, with a good attendance. The program, suitable to the occasion, was provided by local talent followed by contestes of various kinds after which a splendid lunch was enjoyed.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

Princess Is Making First Bow To Society

BALCOMBE, England, Oct. 24 (A.P.)—In tiny silver slippers and a quaint blue velvet dress, little Princess Elizabeth, grand-daughter of the King and Queen, is making her first step to society here to-day as one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of the Queen's niece, Lady May Cambridge, to Captain Henry Abel Smith.

The Princess is only 5½ years old, and she is rather excited about the day.

She is in line for the throne under present circumstances, and is a favorite of the public. Any appearance draws hundreds to see her and the crowds that throng this Sussex village came as much to see her as the rich wedding.

The little Princess, blue-eyed and golden haired, is one of the four little girls who will be all dressed alike. They have had specially-made silver slippers and blue velvet gowns of Empire design, specially selected for them by the bride.

Each little maid carries a bouquet of anemones.

ST. JOHN'S CHOIR PLANS CONCERT

Part of Proceeds Will Go to The Examiner Relief Fund.

ON FRIDAY NIGHT.

In the concert to be given by choir members of St. John's Church in the auditorium of the Collegiate Institute, on Friday evening next, October 30th, four gold medallists and five silver medallists will take part. The choir itself, with its thirty boy voices, eight lady altos, eight tenor and nine bass singers, holds four first prize shields; two for the full choir, won at Peterborough music festivals, and two for the boys' choir, from Stratford and Peterborough festivals. The boys' choir has twice broadcast from CKGW, Toronto.

The Heintzman Piano Company is kindly donating the piano for the concert and is also making a gift of the programs.

The proceeds are for the choir fund and for The Examiner Cheer Fund. Tickets for adults, at 35 cents each, may be purchased from choir members, from Kent's drug store, Coleman's confectionery and McWilliams' hat shop. Children will pay 25 cents at the door.

The program will be as follows: "I Know a Bank" (two-part chorus), by the choristers; "To a Hill-top," by Gerald Perks; "Sweet Evening Bells," by two gold medallists, Victor Coleman and Roy Pitchford; "Sweet is the Hour of Rest," by Gerald Perks, Roy Pitchford, and Messrs. L. Dyer and A. Bacon; "Flow Gently, Deva," by J. Trotter and S. Roberts; "Keep on Hopin'," by six small choristers; "Laughing Song," by Donald Perks; "God Shall Wipe Away All Tears," by Victor Coleman, Gerald Perks and Roy Pitchford; "O Ye That Love the Lord," by the choir (unaccompanied); "The Heavens are Telling," from Haydn's "Creation," by the choir; "Hark, the Curfew Stealing," by the choristers and lady altos; "The Son of the Muses," by Victor Coleman; "Song of the Sea," by Gerald Perks and Roy Pitchford; "Hob a Derry Danno," by the gentlemen of the choir; "Alexander," by Gerald Perks, Roy Pitchford and Messrs. A. J. Hayter and S. Roberts; "Lullaby," by Roy Pitchford; "Come Again, Sweet Days (unaccompanied), by the choir; "Hark, the Merry Elves" and "The Bells of St. Michael's Tower," by Victor Coleman, Roy Pitchford and Mr. E. Quilter; "Old King Cole," by the choir, and "The Long Day Closes," by the choir (unaccompanied).

SEVERAL VISITORS REGISTER AT CAFE

Unique Record Contains Signatures of People all Over North American Coinent.

Throughout the past summer Louis Yeotes proprietor of the Elite Restaurant, has kept a register of visitors to this city, particularly those coming from great distances. This unique record contains the signatures of people from all over the North American continent.

Mr. Yeotes' claim is that visitors were not indiscriminately asked to sign the register. The request was made only of persons who had commented on the service at the restaurant or who had made complimentary remarks concerning Peterborough City and district.

A perusal of the register shows that it was apparently commenced on July 9, this year. The following names and places of origin are quoted as representative of the wide territory which the register represents:—

Mrs. Edwin C. Ginger, Steubenville, Ohio; Mrs. George Low, Beverly Hills, California; Mrs. W. J. Hickey, Rochester, New York; E. M. Barringer, Warren, Ohio; Mrs. V. Stronach, Toronto, Ontario; Mildred Cascadden, Detroit, Mich.; Patrick Murphy, Rochester, N.Y.; Helen Seidel, Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. W. Pepper, Vancouver, B.C.; Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Weaver, Alliance, Pa.; Emily Johnston, Toronto, Ont.; Andy Darling, Duluth, Minn.; N. Doughty, Burleigh Falls, Ontario; Edward Cummiskey, Buffalo, N.Y.; Elizabeth Payne, River Forest, Ill.; John Jordan, Erie, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Munn, Cleveland, Ohio, etc.

You will find many things in the Classified Ads. of The Examiner.

WOMAN COACHES SOCCER TEAM

Women and girl workers, as seen in (2), have been busy in recent weeks harvesting Hampshire's tobacco crop. (2) Kay Hammond, English film actress, is appearing in "Fascination." (3) Miss Dorothy Miller, headmistress of Crawley Down school, trains her boy pupils at soccer and cricket. She is a former hockey and cricket captain at London university. (4) One of Oxford's thousand women undergraduates, wearing academic cap and gown, goes cycling through streets of ancient university town.

TENDERS.

TENDERS, addressed to The Peterborough City Trust, will be received up to Noon on October 28th next, for Repainting all the Wood and Iron Work on the outside of the Fire Hall heretofore painted; and for the Cleaning Off and Revarnishing all Woodwork heretofore varnished. The large doors are to be Burnt Off, Grained, and Revarnished on both sides. One coat of Paint will be given to all the Wood and Iron Work, with the exception of the Window Sashes, which shall receive Two Coats of Varnish. All materials must be the best procurable and satisfactory to the City Trust. No Tender necessarily accepted. 4d-98-3228

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE NO. 12 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

(Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

Moving slowly along the rim von Harben sought some foothold, however slight, where Nature had lowered her guard, but it was almost night when he discovered a narrow fissure in the granite wall. He could see that below him the cliffs rose in terraced battlements to within a thousand feet of where he stood, and if the narrow fissure extended to the next terrace below him, he had a chance.

Hungry and cold, he sat beneath the descending night, gazing down into the blackening void below. Presently, as the darkness deepened, he saw a light twinkling far below and then another and another and with each his excitement rose, for he knew that they marked the presence of man. What sort of men were they who tended these fires?? Would he find them friendly or hostile?

What was that? Von Harben strained his ears to catch the faint suggestion of a sound that arose out of the shadowy abyss below—a faint, thin sound that barely reached his ears, but he was sure that he could not be mistaken—the sound was the voices of men. And now from out of the valley came a roar that rumbled upward like distant thunder.

The next morning he was ready for an attempt that seemed little better than suicidal. Young, self-confident and enthusiastic, he rejoiced in the test of nerve, but just as he was about to lower himself over the edge of the fissure to face the unkown perils of the towering cliffs he heard the sound of footsteps behind him. Wheeling quickly, he drew his pistol.

IN MEMORIAM

WEAVER—In loving memory of our dear Father and Husband, who died October 24, 1923.

Gone, dear Father, gone to rest;
Resting those hands which did their best.
To a beautiful life that came to an end;
You died as you lived, everyone's friend.
How often there comes before us
Your face so kind and dear;
Loved, remembered, thought of always,
Often wishing that you were here
We who loved you, sadly miss you
But trust in God to meet again.

Radio Sales & Service Appointed Rogers-Majestic Dealers

Radio Sales and Service here announces to the people of this city and district that they have made another addition to their line, in adding Rogers-Majestic radios.

Since taking over the premises formerly occupied by the Green Music Co., Charlotte street some two years ago, this firm have handled McLaren ranges with Frigidaire and DeForest Crosley radio as their leading lines. It is only after most careful investigation and earnest consideration that they have decided to add another line of radio; and in making this decision the Rogers-Majestic were selected by Radio Sales and Service as radios promising sales possibilities with hundreds of thousands of satisfied users. Rogers' being the first makers of electric radios, made more famous through their use of Rogers tubes, noted especially for their long life and one full years guarantee, no wonder Majestic "Mighty Monarch of the Air" has overtaken several old timers and won a leading place in the world's radio industry.

Mr. Lillico, when interviewed by The Examiner gave a very cheerful opinion concerning radio possibilities. He stated it was his policy to offer only machines backed by the oldest, most reliable and most wide-awake makers of radio and build up a dealer service that will give the utmost in satisfaction.

In adding the famous Rogers-Majestic radios to the popular DeForest-Crosley line, Mr. Lillico considers Radio Sales & Service entitled to earnest consideration from anyone thinking of buying a radio. This firm is now showing over twenty models in all, and again reminds Canadians that there are two radio sets 100 per cent Canadian and there are the Rogers and DeForest Crosley.

Y.W.C.A. BRINGING DR. LOCKE TO CITY

Old Peterborough Boy to Address Audience in Collegiate on Monday Night.

Dr. George W. Locke of Toronto, who will lecture on Russia in the hall of the Collegiate Institute on Monday evening next, under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association, is a most interesting speaker who made a very favorable impression on his audiences during previous visits to the city.

Dr. Locke was formerly professor at Harvard, Chicago and McGill Universities, he is past president of the American Library Association and an honorary fellow of the Library Association of Great Britain and Ireland. He holds the degrees of M.A. and LLD. from the University of Toronto and has been chief librarian of the Public Library, Toronto, since 1908.

Dr. Locke's father was a former minister of George street United Church and his mother was one of the original founders of the Y.W.C.A. He was a member of the party of twelve men chosen to go to Rome, two years ago.

Flood-lighting of Big Ben, famous clock in the English House of Parliament, has been discontinued because it attracted such crowds that policemen could not keep a way open for M.P.'s to go to and from the House.

GREATEST HOME MAKING CLASS IN HISTORY OF PETERBOROUGH BROUGHT TO SUCCESSFUL CLOSE

Mrs. C. S. Lambert of Simcoe Street, Wins the Northern Electric Range.

SPECIAL AWARDS MADE

Friday afternoon brought to a most successful conclusion the Homemakers' Cooking School, which everyone agrees is the best of its kind in the world, and Peterborough will be for ever indebted to the vision of The Examiner who sponsored it. At this last day's class the record for long line-ups was reached when the waiting pupils nearly spanned the square, taking in King, Charlotte, and Water Streets. The crowd began to gather as early as ten o'clock several ladies declaring they had sacrificed luncheon to be on time.

Seldom has an enterprise gained such popularity in Peterborough, and Miss Andree, the conductor of the class, has been unanimously invited to pay a return visit.

Mrs. C. S. Lambert, of Simcoe Street, was the winner of the Northern Electric range, and during the class other major prizes were presented.

In introducing the lecturer to the largest audience that has yet greeted her, Mrs. C. J. Ray spoke of Miss Andree as an expert specialist in this greatest of all work, that of the homemaker. Everyone was delighted at the privilege offered in to-day's lesson, "Party Suggestions," at a season when parties abound, and it is a real delight to watch Miss Andree in the demonstration of these, which included mock turtle of beef, pineapple meringue cake, confetti layer sandwich sponge cake delight, and a delicious cup of coffee. It was discovered to-day that not only the De Both School, with Miss Andree and Miss Thomas, had been introduced to our Homemakers, but our local merchants and manufacturers had been presented in a new and favorable light, which will have a good and lasting effect.

Products Aid Success

In the great success which attended the making of her recipes Miss Andree did not hesitate to attribute a large share of it to the stores where her products were obtained, and who had co-operated so heartily in making her school possible. These have a wide range in the field of homemaking and are composed of our best business establishments. The Canadian Department Stores, H. E. Hodgens Company, Robert Fair & Company, provided a fine line of kitchenware, linen, and hosiery to which Mr. A. V. Lillow added the Blue Moon shoes. Electrical supplies such as were demonstrated and shown to best advantage, may be obtained from the Canadian General Electric Company or the Northern Electric Company through their dealers Grant & Thorpe, Radio Sales and Service Company, Watson's Tire and Radio Supply Company, and the Peterborough Utilities Commission. The beautiful array of Wearever Aluminum used in modern cookery is the product of the Aluminum Company of Canada, Limited, while for serving no china can excel that found at John Hill's. The silver which adorned the table was through the courtesy of Warne Bros., and the floral decorations came from the Peterborough Floral Company.

An appropriate background was arranged by A. Comstock & Sons with their dining-room furniture and rug. The "good things to eat" were made from the contributions of T. Anthony, fruits and vegetables; H. J. Boyle & Company, groceries; Canada Starch Company, salad oil, corn syrups, corn starch and potato flour; T. H. Hooper, bakery goods; and Jopling's, high-grade meats. Other cooking essentials were those found at Campbell's Dairy Products, Silverwood's Dairies, and Swift's Canadian Company. Pastry flour and Vitos bread are distributed by the Quaker Oats Company and Stock's Bakery re-

Lever Bors.' products, Rinso and Lux, were advocated for the laundry, while dry cleaning of the best can be done at Thomas Lansfield's.

Every housewife if interested in beauty culture too, and is invited to go to Bond's for the best aids, and to Madam Merriam, who is an expert in the art.

In this modern day we have learned to combine pleasure and work by installing a Picton Radio sold by Ye Olde Firme Heintzman and Company.

It was with real regret that the women of the DeBoth Class saw the departure of Miss Andree and Miss Thomas from Peterborough. This regret was alleviated in a small measure by the distribution of prizes which were exceptionally fine yesterday, when the grand prize, a Northern Electric Gurney Range delighted the heart of the lucky winner.

Address From R. M. Glover.

After Miss Andree had said goodbye to her many warm friends, an address of appreciation from R. M. Glover, of The Examiner, who was unavoidably absent, was read by R. T. Taylor, which speaks for itself:

"We have just about concluded the series of four sessions of the De Both Home Makers' School under the direction of Miss Claire Andree, and her assistant Miss Thomas.

To the Examiner staff it has been a delightful week, and we hope that all who have been present on any one, or all of the four afternoons, feel now at the close, the time and effort spent in attending the school has already been amply repaid.

You have been entertained, while the knowledge of better homemaking has been explained to you by Miss Andree, who I feel you will agree with me, is an artist in her profession, and if the school comes to Peterborough next year, I am of the opinoin that you would not be disappointed if Miss Andree was here again, as lecturer and demonstrator and Miss Thomas as her assistant. I do not believe there could be any more efficient directors of a school than these two capable young ladies.

As we get along in life, we see things from a different angle. It is quite a while since some of us were school boys and school girls, but can you imagine any one of us in the days gone by bolting or missing a meal to attend a school of any kind.

Then again, I have come to the conclusion that if the teacher of my day had engendered some of Miss Andree's sparkling humour into the classes they would have been more interesting.

Just as long as I am talking, everyone in the audience is a potential winner of the Northern Electric Gurney Range, and consequently everyone is happy. In a short while the scene will change and for the next few minutes, just imagine you are the owner of the stove without any cost to you. Before drawing and announcing the winner I feel I must briefly thank those who helped to make this event one of the most popular of its kind ever staged in this city.

First of all to the ladies of Peterborough and surrounding country who have turned out in such numbers, to the guest hostesses, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Ray, to the young ladies, (and I am using this phrase advisedly) who have assisted with the distribution of the programs, to the local merchants who took the chance on the success of the school by participating in it without any previous experience, in the co-operation of Grant & Thorpe with the Canadian General display and gift toaster; Swift Packers Company for shortening; Lever Bros., manufacturers of Lux, Rinso and Chipso, Canadian Department Stores, A. Comstock & Sons, Warne Bros., Robt. Fair & Company, John Hill, the Wear-Ever Aluminum Company, for many gifts, E. Lillico, for the Frigidaire Company; to Messrs. Cooper, Davis and Craig personally of the Northern Electric Company in guiding us and assisting in the operation of the school, which we were just as ignorant, up to a few days ago, as any one in the audience.

I want to thank particularly the Northern Electric Company for their fine co-operation and the gift of the wonderful range which is the grand prize of the school.

On ou rown behalf, and as well as you will permit me, on behalf of the ladies of Peterborough, to thank Miss Andree and Miss Thomas for all their efforts and enthusiasm which has resulted in such a successful school, and to hope that they too, will have pleasant recollections of their school in Peterborough.

Throughout their stay in Peterborough, no adverse word of criticism was heard concerning the school or its conductor and staff, but a feeling of real camaraderie existed and each day was eagerly looked forward to by the members of the classes.

R. D. Taylor, of The Examiner, took charge of the School yesterday on only a few minutes' notice, and handled it in a most successful manner in the absence of R. M. Glover.

The final list of prize winners is enlarged by the presentation of many pieces of the equipment and is as follows:

Asta's Opened Up New Store To-Day

Frank Asta, the popular dealer in Fresh Fruits and Fish, is in his new premises to-day, 202 Charlotte street, just three doors east of his old stand. The new store has been renovated and fully equipped on sanitary lines, equal to conditions in his former premises, so that the same high standard of quality can be maintained. The past two weeks Astas' have been operating a delivery by phone service only, and the fact that they had had all they could do to keep up with their orders speaks volumes for Asta's efficiency.

Arrangements Made For Moose Parade

Final arrangements have been completed for the big Mooseheart parade to be held on the streets of the city at 7.30 Monday evening. At an opening meeting later, speakers from Toronto will make addresses on the benefits of the Moose Order. The Salvation Army Band (boys) will lead the parade and route will be from the Moose Hall, 136 Hunter street, to George, thence to Murray, Aylmer, Charlotte and George to Moose Hall.

MAGISTRATE'S BROTHER PASSES IN MONTREAL

H. G. Langley Dies Suddenly While Going to Address a Masonic Banquet

The funeral of H. G. Langley, brother of Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., is being held in Toronto to-day.

Mr. Langley's death came with remarkable suddenness on Thursday evening in Montreal. Attending a Masonic dinner, he rose to his feet to reply to a toast when he was seized by a heart attack and passed away at once.

The late Mr. Langley was associated with the Consumer's Gas Company of Toronto, having retired several years ago. In his younger days he was well-known as a sportsman and aided materially in fostering amateur sport.

He neglected his battery too long!

He had to stop to change a tire. When he tried to start the car nothing happened—the battery was dead. It had been neglected and like most batteries gave no warning before it quit entirely.

Don't let battery trouble spoil your motoring pleasure. Why take a chance with an old battery when you can actually enjoy the long, dependable service of a new USL for no more than your present battery may cost you in delays, repairs and service?

Is your battery only "half there?" Don't take chances! Let us test it today.

Bank Head In City During Convention

Unostentatiously mingling with the citizens of Peterborough and with the delegates to the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec for the major portion of this week was a man whose picture is widely distributed throughout the Dominion—whose picture has at some time or other been carried in the pockets and handbags of thousands of people from coast to coast in Canada.

He is Samuel John Moore, president of the Bank of Nova Scotia whose likeness is imprinted on every bill of five dollar denomination issued by that bank. He is a leading figure in the Baptist world, and was a member of the executive committee Baptist World Alliance 1911. President Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec 1920, and he chaired the open conference of the convention yesterday morning delivering a bright optimistic message "How to be More Effective."
